The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

They were discussing bedtime for children and after the conversation swayed from certain hours to certain TV programs, one father of some experience, said: "Frankly, the best time I've found to put our children to bed is while we still have the strength to do it."

A woman, waiting at the door ready to go to the super-market for the weekly supply of groceries, had her hands full of toys and four little children at her side. Her husband, coming down the stairs, asked why she was standing there. "Open the door, let's get going," said the head of the household. She turned and glared at him: "This time, you handle the toys and the children—and I'll go honk the horn." And you could have cut the knife that followed with a dull knife.

The underlying cause of so many traffic accidents is that the car of tomorrow is being driven on the highways of yesterday by the drivers of today.

We understand that a certain member of the highway patrol who specializes in giving drivers' tests, when he advises the applicant for a license that he has passed the qualifying tests, adds: "Just because you have passed your driver's test doesn't mean that you have a license to pass anything on the road." But he says the warning doesn't do any more than get a smile in return in most cases.

Last week, the good wife brought home two new fall hats—and the fact is she seldom wears hats. So, naturally, we asked, very foolishly: "What do you want with two new hats?" The answer was simple: "Two new dresses." And so it goes.

The Bible was the subject of a very interesting living-room discussion recently when one fellow, a good student of the Holy Writ, remarked that it was strange that there is no mention of any marrying in heaven. His wife, who had said little, remarked in a rather loud whisper: "Guess it is due to there being not enough men to go around."

In explaining the beginning of the human race to her little son, a mother said: "God made Eve out of one of Adam's ribs." A few days later, the youngster went to his mom with tears streaming down his face and his hand pressed to his side. When his mother asked him what was the matter, he sobbed out: "Oh, Mommy, I got a pain in my side and I'm afraid I'm going to have a wife."

The bachelor, who had had numerous close calls as to marriage entanglements, explained that he always proposed to the girl of the moment seated in his car parked in her garage—so that he could back out.

It is a failing with those of us who have lived more than a few years to tell how wonderful things were in our youth. However, when we start such reminiscing it is certain that, at least for the moment, we have forgotten the times it was necessary to break the ice on the wash basin before we could wash the sleep out of our eyes.

After you have heard two eyewitness accounts of an auto accident, you begin to wonder about history.

If you must be blue, the least you could do would be a bright blue—it's less depressing on your associates.

With the fall season now approaching at a rapid pace, most women are pulling out their last year's wardrobes to see what to do with them. And, we might add, a goodly number of these women would like, most of all, to be able to get into last season's dresses—the style is another consideration.

Court Rejects Delay In Little Rock Integration

Judge Lemley's Order For 'Cooling Off' Period Is Rejected By Six-to-one

The Little Rock school board announced Tuesday that it would appeal the decision of the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals setting aside a district judge's order suspending integration at Little Rock Central High School for two and one-half years. The six-to-one decision came 16 days before the opening of school in the Arkansas capital where school integration was enforced with federal troops last year.

The court's decision reversed the ruling given by U. S. District Judge Harry J. Lemley of Hope, Ark., who suspended integration for a "cooling-off" period. The dissent came from Chief Judge Archibald K. Gardner of Huron, S. D.

The school board's attorneys said plans are already under way for appealing the ruling to the United States Supreme Court and added that research in the case was already under way.

Board Comments
The superintendent of city schools in Little Rock, Virgil T. Blossom, said the board would "pursue promptly any and all legal remedies it has," adding that the reversal of Judge Lemley's decision in the matter was a disappointment.

In writing the majority opinion, Judge Martin C. Matthews of St. Louis, said the issue boiled down to whether public resistance, including mob violence, constituted sufficient cause "to nullify an order of the federal court directing the school board to proceed with the integration plan."

Continuing in his written opinion, Judge Matthews said, "delay of integration at the high school would amount to an open invitation in other school districts to oppose integration with violence."

In the spotlight was Governor Orval E. Faubus, who said he had an alternate plan in mind in case of a reversal.

Gov. James E. Folsom has appointed Rankin Fite of Hamilton to membership on the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway Development Compact, it was announced Wednesday. Earlier the governor had named Sen. ## TVA Bill Is Scuttled By Rep. Smith

The much debated TVA self-financing bill which had strong backing by southern Democrats was scuttled for this session of Congress this week since it was not reported out by the House Rules Committee. The Rules Committee is headed by Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) who personally opposes the bill.

Smith said he expected no action on the TVA bill at this session since he had scheduled no further meetings of his committee before adjournment and Congress is expected to adjourn later this week.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) said Tuesday he hoped the Congress would pass a TVA Self-Financing bill early next year. He told a news conference that he is strongly in favor of the measure and that Rep. Clifford Davis (D-Tenn.) had done a fine job in getting the bill out of the Public Works Committee.

"I hope he reports the same bill next year and that we pass it," Rayburn said.

The measure would allow the Tennessee Valley Authority to issue revenue bonds to finance construction of new power generating facilities and make possible further expansion of the agency to care for future power needs.

Last week a large number of Valley congressmen sent a letter to Smith's committee urging action on the TVA bill but it was without avail. The letter bearing 30 signatures was decided on as the best means of letting Smith know of the sentiment of the southern congressmen fighting for the measure but Smith indicated he would take no action.

Youth Files Suit Seeking $475,000

A 15-year-old Florence youth is seeking damages of $475,000 for injuries he claimed he received when a ship manufactured by Don River Mills and sold to him by J. C. Penney Co., at Florence, ignited and exploded, severely burning him.

Howard D. Baskin filed the suit through his father, entering the action in the Circuit Court of Jefferson County. He is represented by the Birmingham law firm of Hare, Wynn and Newell and Pounders and Wilson, Florence attorneys.

In his suit young Baskin charges that the ship became a torch when it came in contact with a flame last April 20, and he was burned over most of his body and also suffered internal burns that prevent him from eating normally.

U.S. Backing Norwegian Resolution For Pull-Out

UN Secretary-General Asked To Set Up Force To Protect Lebanon, Jordan

The United States this week sought to bring the West's allies in the UN line against an Asian-African move to demand speedy withdrawal of U. S. and British forces from Lebanon and Jordan.

The United States is backing a Norwegian resolution asking UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold to make arrangements to secure the safety and independence of both Jordan and Lebanon so that forces may be withdrawn.

The Norwegian resolution made no formal demand for the withdrawal of U. S. and British armed forces from the two countries but does cite the declaration from the two countries that troops will be withdrawn when the UN decides they are no longer necessary to protect the peace. The American-British idea is that Hammarskjold arrange for some sort of UN force to replace the troops now in the trouble zones.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles conferred Tuesday night with representatives of some 20 Latin-American nations and some of them were said to be fearful that the Norwegian resolution could be used to justify UN intervention to keep some unpopular Latin-American government in power. Dulles held that such fears were groundless as far as this nation is concerned. He assured the nations that the U. S. has no intention of keeping troops in Lebanon. A spokesman for the

Minister, Brother Drown In Creek

Tragedy Overtakes Pair While Swimming; Death Held As Accidental

Elvin Cottengin, 22, who recently became pastor of the United Pentecostal Church in Florence, and his younger brother, Glenn, nine years old, who came here to make his home, were victims of drowning in Shoals Creek on August 13 at about 7 p. m., according to Lauderdale County Coroner W. R. (Bill) Chisholm, who said the accident occurred about a half-mile north of Emerald Beach.

Coroner Chisholm said he believed the boy was swimming in an innertube when he slipped off into deep water and both were drowned when the older brother went to his aid. The bodies of the young minister and his brother were recovered by divers at about 8 and 10 o'clock respectively after a search by nearby residents and members of the Florence and Sheffield fire departments. Both victims were former residents of Kinder, La., and were making their home with the Rev. Robert McKeithen, pastor of the United Pentecostal Church on Park Lane, Florence.

Funeral services for Rev. Cottengin were held Friday at 10 a. m. from the United Pentecostal Church, Sheffield with Rev. R. J. Underwood, pastor, assisted by Rev. Robert McKeithen, officiating. The body was removed to Kinder, La., for burial.

September Draft Call Increased

Tougher Mental Exams Account For Larger Quotas Next Month

State Selective Service Director James W. Jones said today that Alabama service calls during the next few months will be almost twice as high as they have been in the immediate past, although the number of inductees will remain about the same.

Jones explained that this will be caused by the fact that the armed forces have boosted their mental standards, and it will be necessary to call more men in order to get the number actually needed.

The state director said that during September, 685 selectees would be called, of whom 10 will come from Lauderdale County. Of the total, 400 have already been examined, while 285 volunteers have not yet taken physical examinations. This compares with a quota of 408 men for August and 318 in July.

A national boost of 1,000 inductees is also scheduled for September, when 11,000 men will be inducted, as against 10,000 for August.

Alabama's list will be made up of volunteers and registrants from Class 1-A, or 1-A-O, who are 23 years of age and older, and without children.

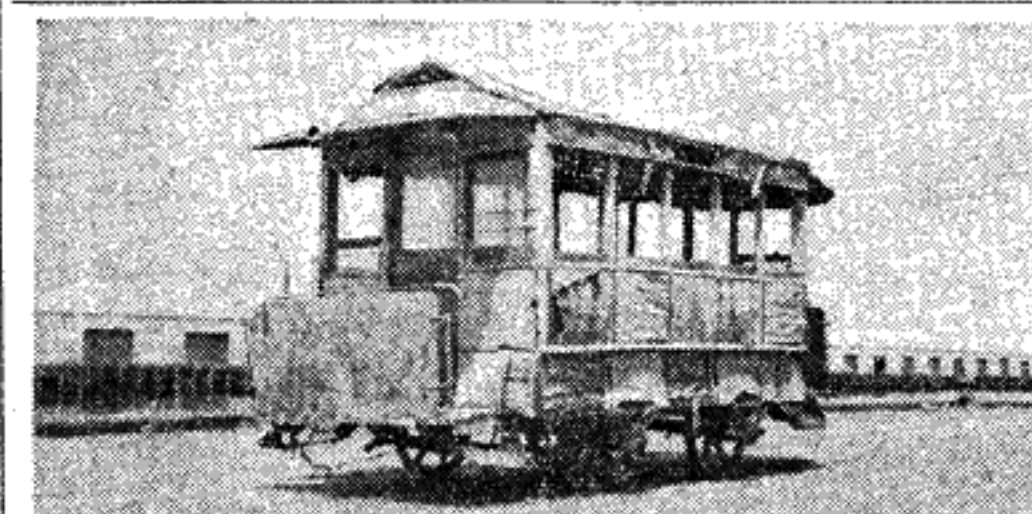

The Congress recently altered the draft law, at the request of Selective Service, in an effort to cut down on military spending. In the past, many draftees had to be taken who were later found to lack job potential. Ordinarily they were discharged after some six to eight weeks of service, after considerable expense to both Selective Service and the army. Some 44,000 men were discharged last year, after some eight weeks in uniform. The army has calculated that each of these men cost $1,600—or a total of around $70,000,000.

Cotton Acreage Cut Is Averted Two-Year Period

The omnibus farm bill cleared the Senate Monday night and was sent to the White House for the President's signature.

The Senate debate took only 50 minutes after the House had returned the measure at the Senate's request. The Senate Agriculture Committee, in session on Saturday, cleared the way for the previously disapproved bill so that a vote could be made possible on Monday.

Speaking on the bill, Senator Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said the bill will increase surpluses and reduce the prices paid to farmers. He called for a "new approach" to farm legislation next year.

Passage of the measure averted a 22 per cent cut in cotton acreage allotments next fall and 45 per cent in rice. It was stated it would establish a "farmer's choice" plan of control for cotton in 1959 and 1960 with price controls for the two choices at minimums of 80 and 65 per cent of parity in 1959 and 75 and 60 per cent in 1960. Supports for all cotton farmers in 1962 would be 70 per cent and in 1962 it would be 65 per cent.

Minimum Acreage

A minimum national cotton acreage allotment would be established at 16 million acres, it was stated. Farmers with allotments of ten acres or less would be assured of no further cuts.

The national rice acreage allotment next year would remain at the present figure, 1,600,000 acres. Rice supports would be not less than 75 per cent of parity in 1959, 70 per cent in 1960, and 65 per cent thereafter.

Corn crops would be set at no less than 65 per cent of parity, or an estimated $1.14 per bushel.

The gradual reduction in price props represented a victory for the Administration which strongly endorsed the bill and has argued for lower supports.

Industry Favors Bill

It was stated that leaders in the cotton industry favored lowered cotton price supports in that it would enable cotton to compete more favorably with cotton and synthetic fibers abroad and with synthetics at home. Some have predicted that the decline in domestic cotton consumption would be reversed with lower prices.

Wet Forces Open Quarters Here

Office On Pine Street To Operate Each Day, Staffed By Volunteers

The Lauderdale County League for Legal Control of Alcoholic Beverages has established headquarters in the Pine Street Grill building, across from Southern Bell Telephone Co., at 314 Pine St.

R. L. Kirby, president of the organization seeking the legalization of alcoholic beverages in Lauderdale County, said the office will be open daily from 8 a. m. until 6 p. m. and will be staffed by volunteer workers.

Petitions are now being circulated through the county by the League, and 3,000 signatures are being sought. Nearly 100 qualified voters' signatures will be required before an election on the wet-dry issue can be called by Probate Judge H. K. Longshore.

Kirby said persons who have completed petitions should turn them in to the League office, that those who wish to sign a petition may do so at the Pine street headquarters, where persons desiring to put petitions in circulation may obtain them.

The president has pointed out that, under a legislative act of 1957, no retail drinking outlets can be established in Florence or Lauderdale County in the event an election is called and alcoholic beverages legalized.

We Must Pay The Bill

Many people are still too complacent about the problems facing Alabama schools which daily grow more acute. Students on their annual trek back to school face much the same conditions as they have in the past and it all adds up to the same old story . . . not enough money.

Alabama schools must have money and they must have it soon. The Education Commission estimates the building needs alone at some $340 million dollars while other needs include new school buses, heating equipment, sanitary drinking fountains, toilet facilities and the like. Money is also needed for trained and capable teachers who are leaving the state by the thousands to teach in Florida and other states where the pay is higher.

So far there has not been concern enough for this rapidly worsening situation in the schools of Alabama. Certainly there can be no choice as to the source of the money. It must come from the people through some sort of taxation and must be in a realistic amount. Every day we delay providing the money for a school program adequate to our present and future needs, just that long are we sabotaging the future of our children.

They must be educated and we must pay the bill whatever the cost.

Better Health For Millions

In this world of turmoil and strife it is refreshing that men of calm reason still look for ways to aid mankind. Such a man is Lister Hill, Alabama's senior senator, whose life has been dedicated to improving the health and welfare of millions throughout America and the world.

The Hill-Burton Act alone has resulted in improved health for millions by providing additional hospitals and other badly needed facilities that states and communities could not have otherwise financed. And this is but one of many fine pieces of legislation that Senator Hill has sponsored. His timely aid in many fields of health and research has resulted in increased facilities for combatting many diseases for which he has more than once received well deserved recognition. And now once again Senator Hill champions the cause of better health by introducing a bill that will make possible the maximum mobilization of the nation's health research resources for more efficient cooperation with international organizations in the field of medical research.

According to the Senator the bill would establish the National Advisory Council for International Medical Research in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and would set up the National Institute of International Medical Research in the U. S. Public Health Service.

As Senator Hill has wisely observed, such a program should become a major and vital part of American foreign policy. In our effort to win the trust and friendship of the uncommitted millions of the world, what more important boon can we bring to them than the promise of good health and long life? Medical science as an instrument of foreign policy would draw upon America's great strength not only in medical knowledge and skill but in the humanitarian instincts, the generosity, the compassion of our people.

"I do not pretend that the version I am introducing today is the definite version. As the path this legislation proposes to travel is new, some of the devices chosen to break that trail are new. Perhaps some provisions and references have been left out of this bill; perhaps others should be included. I invite comments and suggestions, and I hope that there may be early hearings on this legislation before the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee. I look forward to many thoughtful and helpful suggestions in the course of such hearings.

"This legislation is an expression of an essential idea. The idea must be converted into a program, into the machinery of action. I pledge my efforts to that end in the next Congress, when I shall re-introduce this legislation and work for its expeditious passage."

As summarized by Senator Hill the goals of the bill are:

1. To mobilize internationally the world's research facilities and personnel in ascertaining the cause, cure and control of those diseases which are still outside the reach of science.

2. To facilitate and enlarge the free and rapid interchange of scientific knowledge and of research workers so that all countries of the world might obtain the benefits of the newest developments in research.

3. To make progress in our knowledge and use of the means to return to active life the disabled and the physically handicapped.

4. To organize an international clearing house on the latest developments in medical research, including the establishment of appropriate translation services.

5. To raise a common banner under which the scientists of all lands can march together toward the goal of improved health for mankind.

Surely in the hearts of peace-loving men everywhere there is a desire for these goals, a hope that nations will find what William James called a moral equivalent for war.

Here is a concrete work which will help build the sentiment for peace.

The Air Force in reporting the failure stated it would be Sept. 14 before another attempt would be made at which time the moon will again be within 222,000 miles of the earth. Trouble is said to have developed in the first stage, a modified Thor intermediate range ballistic missile.

Charged with murder in connection with the stabbing is Richard Ford, 16, son of Tom Ford, State Conservation Department publicity director and a prominent Mobile property owner. Young Brown, son of a Mobile doctor, was said to have been one of a group scuffling with Ford when Ford picked up a long knife and slashed out at his opponents. Others were said to have been cut slightly in the melee.

John Foster Dulles speaking at a Veterans of Foreign Wars banquet Monday night warned against appeasement by the United States. He said it would lead to war as surely as it did in 1939.

The Senate-passed labor reform bill was killed Monday by House Republicans and Southern Democrats after a stormy debate. The vote was 198-190. Chairman McClellan of the Senate Rackets Committee, back of the measure said Congress would have to redouble its efforts next year to get effective anti-racketeering legislation.

President Signs River Compact Bill

President Eisenhower has signed the bill giving Congressional consent to the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway Development Compact. The measure also provides authority for any contiguous state to become a party to the compact without further consent of Congress.

The proposed compact already has been approved by the Alabama and Mississippi Legislatures, which also have appropriated funds to get the compact under way. The principal purpose of the compact is to promote the development of a navigable waterway connecting the Tennessee and Tombigbee Rivers by way of the last fork of the Tombigbee River.

New Muscle Hope For Withered Hand

Withered and crippled hands of 250,000 Americans may possibly do their day's work again with the help of an artificial muscle created from oil-based nylon. This spectacular development is a foot-long tube of nylon thread, woven into a spiral pattern. It lies along the forearm with the forward end hooked into a spring that activates an arm-and-finger brace.

The back end is piped to a cylinder of carbon dioxide gas. Any good remaining muscle can open the valve which contracts the nylon muscle and clenches the hand. Artificial muscles are said to be almost 100 percent efficient compared to about 40 percent for real muscles.

Salvation Army In Need Of Chairs

Following a short business session on Thursday noon the Salvation Army board paid a visit to the Army's new Colbert County quarters located at Keller Court in Tusculum.

This new facility will enable the Salvation Army to expand its activities and services in Colbert County and particularly Sheffield and Tusculum since it is convenient to both communities.

Members of the board and the Salvation Army staff headed by Captain Robert Miller and Lieutenant Max Sipe, expressed their appreciation for the donation of the rooms at Keller Court by the City Commission of Tusculum which are furnished without cost to the Salvation Army.

In order to provide seating for the classes to be held in the new quarters however, Captain Miller said chairs were badly needed and anyone having serviceable chairs, either straight type or folding, are urged to call AT 2-4432 and they will be picked up.

SS Payments Are Replacement For Lost Earnings

Your social security payment may help you when you need it most. According to Mrs. Mary King Tempie, district manager of the Sheffield social security office, social security payments are intended as a partial replacement of your earnings.

Social Security is meant to provide a basic level of income. The person who is no longer working for wages or operating a business, but who is eligible for social security payments, may rely on his social security check to partially replace the lost earnings. In this way it will permit him to arrange for his financial needs.

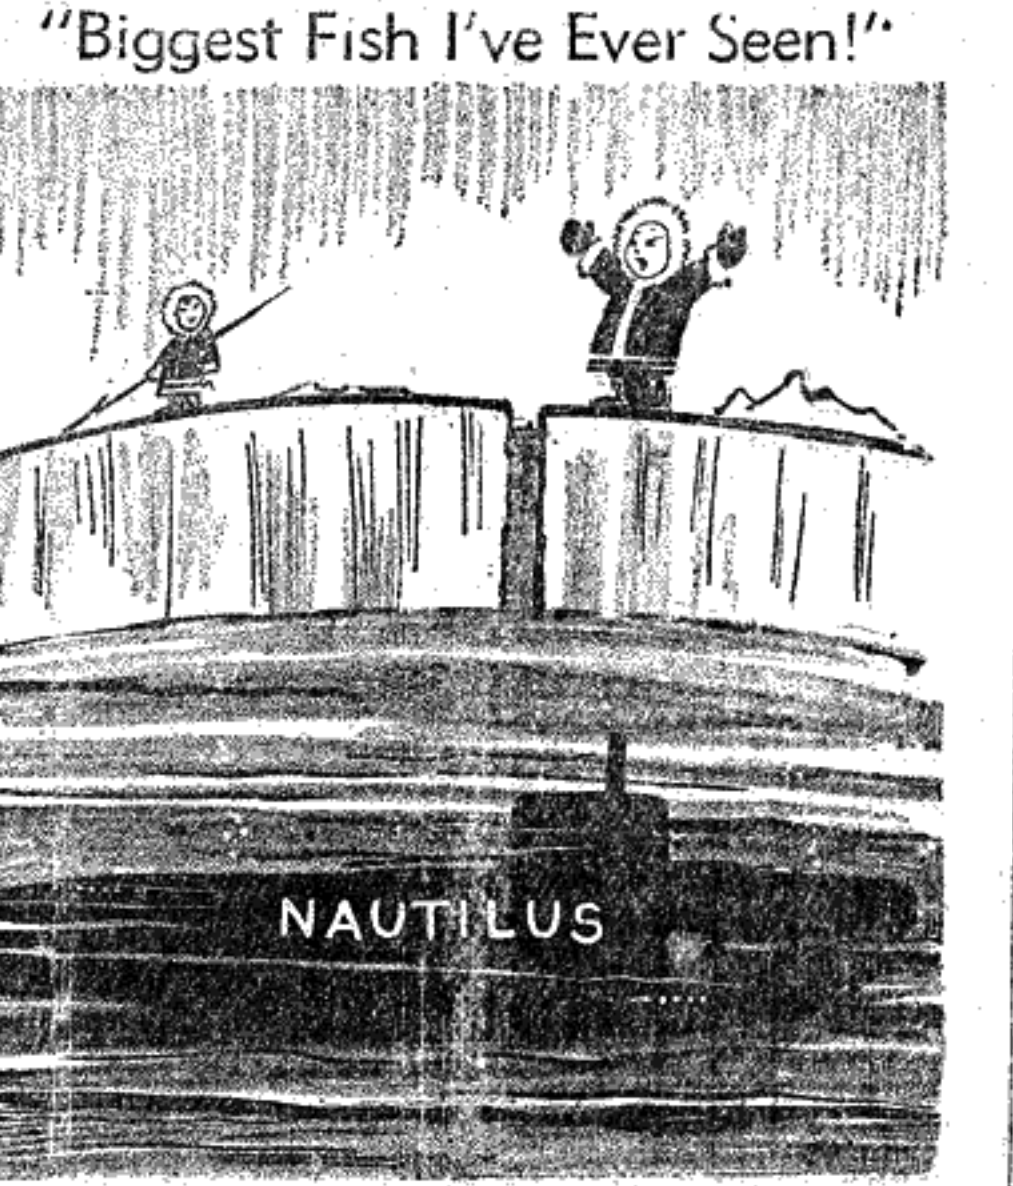

There is an earnings test for the person under age 72 who has not substantially retired. It is possible for such an individual to work throughout the year, earn as much as $2,080.00, and still receive one month's benefit payment. If you do not earn over $1,200.00 a year, it is possible to draw benefits for the entire year.

After reaching age 72, there is no limit on your earnings. However, until age 72, you should contact your social security office if you retire, or if you have reduced earnings. If you have any questions concerning social security, write, phone or call at the Sheffield social security office.

Lauderdale School Study Commission Makes Public Its Preliminary Report

A preliminary report, prepared by the Lauderdale County Educational Study Commission, has been completed and submitted to the Alabama Education Commission which requested the report to determine the weaknesses and strengths of the state educational program.

This report deals with five aspects of the county school system: the instructional program, personnel, organization and administration, building and transportation and finance.

Probably the most important facet of an educational system is the instructional program. Information in regard to this section of the report was gathered from surveys sent to principals, conferences with principals, observations, visits, reports and records in the office of the county Board of Education.

The program for each of the grades from 1-6 is under the direction of one teacher. Leadership given by the principal and individual teacher determine what is taught in the various subjects. In general, the subjects taught in grades 1-6 in Lauderdale County fall into the following categories: science, social studies, health, and problems of group living, skills in reading, language, spelling, writing and arithmetic, art, music and literature.

Program for grades 7-9 is handled in some schools by one teacher, except for one or two subjects. These grades are supervised in two to three hour blocks by one teacher, and then the students go to special teachers the other three or four hours. More subjects are required and fewer electives are offered than for grades 10-12.

English, social studies, mathematics, science and health and physical education are the subjects for grades 7-8, while music, art and other special interests are suggested. This same course applies to grade 9 with the addition of vocational agriculture, home economics, algebra, typing and business training available in some schools.

The instructional programs for grades 10-12 have different patterns of organization throughout the county. Three white and one Negro school use the subject matter organization and pupils go to a different teacher each 55 minutes.

There is no written policy for the Lauderdale County school system on promotional policies. Promotional practices are worked out on a local school and classroom level. Consideration is given to actual achievement of the individual and factors which may hinder or complement his total growth for another year are considered. All children who do not pass are retained in a grade for a second year, if it is felt that it is best for their total growth for the next and future years.

In the 1957-58 term, there were 280 teachers in Lauderdale County, with 238 of these holding college degrees while 42 do not. There were 8,032 students enrolled in the county schools.

The Lauderdale County Board of Education is composed of five members—Harold S. May, chairman; J. H. Haddock, vice-chairman; A. D. Ray, Jr., Grady Springer and Mrs. John R. Waddell. Members must be good, moral and respectable citizens, and cannot be employees of the board of education. They are elected for terms of six years by the qualified voters of Lauderdale County and are elected biennially on a 2-2-1 basis in order that experienced members will be assured on the board. The county Superintendent of Education is elected for a four year term. To qualify, a person must possess an Alabama certificate in school administration and supervision and hold an M. A. degree in supervision and administration.

Each school in this county has a local board of trustees, composed of three members appointed by the county board of education. These trustees serve four year terms.

Funds Above State Average
The amount of $184.70 per pupil per year is spent on the schools. Daily, $1.05 is spent per pupil per day. For the state average in Alabama, the amount is $165.77 per pupil per year. The amount for the national average is $295 per pupil per year. Eighty-eight percent of Lauderdale's school dollar comes from state taxes, with 12 percent from local taxes. State taxes are derived from sales, income, iron ore, store license, tobacco and use taxes. Local taxes come from district, mill, sales and poll taxes. The amount spent on free textbooks in the county last year was $5,453.38 and the amount spent per child was $1.25, while a set of textbooks cost, on the average, $20.

Seventy-six percent of state funds are spent on instruction. Almost two percent is spent on general control while five percent is spent on operation and maintenance of buildings and 12 percent on transportation.

The general committee making this study is composed of: Orville Bailey, chairman; J. R. Austin, vice-chairman; Louise Comer, recording secretary; Vernon Porter, Emmett R. Abramson, Larry Gaultney, Bob Clingan, Mrs. D. S. Belew, Mrs. Henry A. Killen, Eugene Goodman, Dwight Thornton, Sam Whitehead, Edward Clark, Ann Retagick, Hollis Smith, John Thornton, Charles Murphy, Allen Thornton, Mrs. Minnie Jackson.

ATU Agents Axe Four Large Stills
Four aluminum stills, with a total capacity of more than 3,000 gallons, were destroyed in Chapel Hill in West Lauderdale County last weekend by agents of the federal Alcohol Tax Unit.

The officers also arrested two white men, whom they charged with distilling, and poured out 3,046 gallons of mash, 106 gallons of moonshine whiskey and confiscated a 1½ ton Ford truck purportedly used by the still operators.

Agents Jim Lusk, Parnell Lovett and Clint Harrison listed the two men charged with distilling as Lee Andrew White, 52, and James Fulmer, 41, both of Waterloo, Rt. 2.

The raiders said the stills were fired with fuel oil burners, complete with pressure tanks, and water for the rigs was pumped through a 150-yard long plastic pipe.

Census Bureau To Collect Facts On Employment
Information to be used in compiling national figures on employment and unemployment will be collected locally during the week of August 18 in the Current Population Survey, it was announced today by Supervisor Thomas W. McWhirter of the U. S. Census Bureau's regional office in Atlanta, Georgia which will participate in the survey.

The information collected from local families will be combined with that collected in 329 other areas in the country to provide the national estimates. Approximately 35,000 households are included each month in the Current Population Survey. These households are selected at random under the Census Bureau's scientific sampling program to provide a representative cross-section of all classes of the population, and of all types of areas in the country—large cities, small towns, rural areas, and so forth.

Fact on employment and unemployment collected locally are forwarded to Census Bureau headquarters in Washington to be processed by the Bureau's electronic computer, known as Univac, to provide the national estimates. The national report covering the information to be collected locally during the week of August 18 will be issued in Washington early in September.

Current Population Survey information will be collected from a number of local families by Mrs. Adrienne Brown.

Editor: The strong statement made by your newspaper with 82 other Valley newspapers on behalf of TVA Self-Financing was published as a paid page in The Washington Post on Aug. 2 and as a two-page spread in Editor and Publisher on Aug. 9. I am happy to inform you that reaction to this earnest expression has been excellent. Appearing at a crucial moment in the fight to bring the TVA bill to the house floor, the statement not only focussed attention at the Capital on the issue but will have left a lasting impression on the Congress and on the national Press.

Valley representatives have been outspokenly appreciative. You will be gratified by the following comment at Washington by Rep. Bob Jones of Alabama, one of the congressmen working hardest on the firing line for TVA.

"A master stroke to offset the power company propaganda here was the advertisement titled 'Have Ball, Will Carry' inserted in 16 Washington papers by about 80 newspapers in the Tennessee Valley. With calm reason these Journalists cited the transformation made in the Valley by TVA in the past 25 years. The statement made mince meat of the stale old charges of the power companies. It had measurably good effect here and our thanks are due these Tennessee Valley newspapers. It was a fine example of newspapermen using their talents in civic service."

Citizens for TVA also would like again to express its admiration for the cooperation of these Valley papers in speaking out for the

Mary Deal, John Murad Say Nuptials In Dallas

Of interest in Alabama where the bride's family has long been prominent is the marriage of Mary Nell Deal, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Linwood Deal of Dallas, Texas, and Florence, to John Louis Murad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis George Murad of Tyler, Texas.

The exchange of vows took place in the chapel of First Presbyterian Church of Dallas at eight o'clock in the evening, Friday, August fifteenth. Dr. John A. Anderson, minister of the church, was the officiating clergyman.

Softly lighted by wedding tapers, the altar was decorated with jade foliage and Oregon Huckleberry as Mr. Deal gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown of hand-clipped Chantilly lace and bridal tulle was distinguished by a squared neckline and sleeves which tapered to points over the hands, a crushed taffeta cummerbund and very full taffeta skirt which extended into a chapel length train. A single strand of pearls was her only ornament.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a pearl-studded bandeau and she carried a bouquet fashioned of feathered white carnations and Stephanotis nestling in leaves of lace and cascading.

Miss Jean Davis of Del Rio was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Helen Murad of Tyler, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Pauline Phelan of Dallas. Mr. Murad was attended by his brother, Ralph Murad, also of Tyler, as best man; groomsmen were Ernest L. Deal, Jr. of Houston, brother of the bride, George and Joseph Murad of Tyler and Henry L. E. Chenoweth, brother-in-law of the bride, of Richmond, Virginia.

Of pink taffeta, the frocks worn by the bride's attendants were designed with rounded necklines and full bubble skirts, with crushed cummerbunds and floating back-panels of rose-colored taffeta. Matching flattened taffeta bows were headresses and they carried crescents of carnations in a blending shade.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Deal honored the bridal couple with a reception, using traditional all-white blossoms with Southern smilax to decorate the adjoining church parlors. Attending from Florence were Mrs. Karl Tyree, aunt of the bride, and Mr. Tyree; from Richmond, Mrs. Henry L. E. Chenoweth, her sister, and Mr. Chenoweth; and from Birmingham, Miss Sallie Hamill, a cousin.

Leaving later in the evening for their honeymoon, the bride was wearing a two-piece suit of black silk with small white feather hat. Her accessories were black and at her shoulder she pinned white Phallanopsis orchids.

Upon their return they will be at home in Tyler.

Following the rehearsal of wedding plans on Thursday evening the bridegroom's parents were dinner hosts in a private dining-room in downtown Dallas, including members of the bridal party, family members and out-of-town wedding guests in their invitation list.

Mr. and Mrs. Murad are introducing their daughter-in-law at an afternoon tea on Sunday at their home in Tyler.

Sandra Boston's Parties Continue

Small wedding bells accented the nuptial theme at the John Wilks' home last Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Wilks, Mrs. John Bull, Mrs. J. A. Tease, Mrs. Grady Yeiser and Miss Peggy Nan Jessup were hostesses. They entertained with a late afternoon tea as a courtesy to Miss Sandra Boston, bride-elect of Dr. James Rufus Dockery of Tuscaloosa.

The silver appointed teatable was spread with Poiré de Venise lace and centered with a tall candelabrum holding white tapers and clustered about with pale green-tinted feathered carnations. On the Jackson press the decoration was an arrangement of carnations and frosted grapes mingled with small white mums. Presiding were Mrs. John Wilks, Jr., and Mrs. Thomas Cochran.

Guests numbered more than a hundred.

Florence Country Club was the setting for the luncheon on Wednesday, the 13th, when Mrs. Albert Price and Mrs. Shrader Casey honored Miss Boston.

A silver bowl of white flowers centered the table where bridal name cards marked places for the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Chester Boston, Mrs. John Wilks, Mrs. Charles Matthews, Mrs. George Fogleman, Mrs. Jack Bull, Mrs. J. E. McDonald, Mrs. Charles Edgar Young, Mrs. Robert Griffin, Mrs. Buford Daily, Mrs. Otis Brown and Mrs. J. A. Tease.

Mixed Summer blossoms were used by Mrs. John Wilks, Jr., in her apartment on East Irvine Avenue when she entertained with a morning coffee on last Thursday.

The affair was a gift party and eighteen aprons were presented to the bride-to-be by the same number of friends who gathered in her honor.

"It was really a family party," Mrs. Walter Kirsch said of the courtesy which she extended at her home on Wildwood Avenue last Thursday evening in honor of her cousin, Sandra Boston.

Using pink appointments throughout, there were arrangements of roses with periwinkle and specimen chrysanthemums in the livingroom, and carnations filled a silver coffee urn on the buffet as a background for the lace-over-pink covered refreshment table where punch in the same shade was dispensed. Sprays of ivy were interspersed with nosegays of tiny mums caught with satin bows to complete the candle-light table setting.

Relatives here from Lawrenceburg for the evening were Mrs. Vernon Boston, Mrs. George Edward Boston, Mrs. William Boston, Mrs. Carl Alexander; and from Florence, Mrs. Collins Boston, grandmother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Marvin Kennedy, Mrs. J. Durbin, senior remaining descendant of Mrs. Alice Armene Gilchrist, gathered the grandchildren, great grands and great-great grands, for a reunion dinner on Saturday evening.

Inviting her guests to The Town Club, she used yellow blossoms throughout the rooms and centered the banquet table with an oblong arrangement of blending tones. Life at "Summerwood," the family home at Courtland which was destroyed by fire in 1905, was relived by the older members of the group and nostalgic memories were revived as pictures from the family album were shown. A brief "This Is Your Life" program was presented, depicting highlights from the experiences of the honor guest, Senior Colonel in the U. S. Strategic Air Command, now stationed at the Pentagon.

Tennessee River Traffic In North Alabama Increased Nearly 10 Times In 10 Years

In 1947 there was an estimated 447,000 tons of commodities handled on the Tennessee river in North Alabama. In 1956 there was an estimated 4,267,000 tons... an increase of nearly 10 times in 10 years. Such commodities as iron and steel, oil and gasoline, grain, coal and coke, sand and gravel, automobiles, chemicals and others were handled.

On the Tennessee river as a whole there was an estimated 2,792,427 tons handled in 1947, and an estimated 12,299,396 tons in 1956... an increase of over 4 times. Estimated ton-miles were 352,739,600 in 1947, and 2,003,420,261 in 1956... an increase of nearly 6 times.

Like the Tennessee river, State National Bank's 14 offices spanning North Alabama have played a prominent part in developing agriculture, industry, business and creating opportunities for individuals in the area. *Figures by courtesy of Tennessee Valley Authority.

'Ualco Story' Told Exchange Members

Members of the Florence Exchange Club Tuesday saw and heard "The Ualco Story," as featured by Drew Pearson in an interview with Southern Sash President E. H. Darby on the famed columnist's television program, "New Horizons."

The color-and-sound motion picture, presented by J. O. Breau and Tommy Stephens, both associated with Southern Sash, manufacturers of the Ualco line of aluminum windows. The film detailed the growth, in only 10 years, of Southern Sash to a pre-eminent position in its field, and showed the process of manufacture used in producing Ualco windows.

Earle W. Darby made arrangements for the program presented by Breau and Stephens. John Darby was a guest of the club. "Rip" Thompson announced that the Exchange Club's softball team was meeting the Civitan Club's aggregation at 7 p.m. tonight on the North Florence field, the championship of the Civic League going to the winner.

It was also announced that, due to unforeseen circumstances, the Exchange Club was not sponsoring a contestant in the Lauderdale County Maid of Cotton contest

HONEY GIRLS—Presenting four beautiful and talented girl gymnasts in an outstanding display of whirlwind acrobatic work. ## THE SPILLWAY

SUMMER WANES... AND days move faster...

Vis'tors hie themselves back home...

Now we'll settle down to master

Questions like WHOSE COAT... WHOSE COMB?

THOSE LEFT-BEHIND trinkets which we run across for days on end... bringing a lump to the throat... or perhaps a moment of merry laughter... as the whole pleasant picture of Summer-time flashes across memory's screen.

LEAVING MONDAY for their home in Washington Park, Maryland, will be Nancy (Lucas) Kirk and chillun... Cindy and Carter... who were joined for the last week of their visit to mama-and-papa - Marguerite - and - Emerson Lucas at lakeside "Shadow-lawn" by that man in their lives... Lee... The past week was marked for the three of them by visits in three different directions... Nancy had a few delightfully gay days in Birmingham with (cousin) Lydia Lucas Smith and chum - from - childhood Jennie Simpson Daniel... Cindy journeyed to Memphis... guested by lake-neighbors Nettie and Jack Wood and daughter Jackie... and Carter was down-state a ways at (Episcopal) Camp McDowell...

NOW RETURNED... but minus her three front teeth... we'd like to remind charming young Cindy that Christmas is only four months hence...

THE KIRKS will convey Annie (Harlan) and (son) Tyler Calhoun... who'll also be leaving Monday for their Winter's residence in Arlington, Virginia... And Hallie Harlan will join the group who're pickin'-up-after... swallowing a lump... thinking ahead to another visit... another Summer of togetherness...

THE SILVER LINING begins to show... Townsfolk who've been absent for many weeks begin the homeward trek... Lois and Emory Morris arrived Friday from a Summer in New England... with Emory crossing "the big pond" for three weeks of European travel... and bringing home interesting and chit-chat reports... The Eiffel Tower... we learn... is at this very moment in need of... (but p'raps he'd like best to tell his own news...)

A QUEEN AND TWO KINGS... We hadn't heard until today that it was the Queen Mary which brought Ann and Leo King back to home shores... (Off the beaten track of our thinking at the moment - is the lovely... WELCOME HOME gesture extended by Ann's sisters... Glad and Mary Shepard... who'd filled the King's refrigerator with really ROYAL food...)

TO ANOTHER QUEEN goes our grateful thanks... 'Twas the Queen Elizabeth which delivered back to us our charming young localities... Louisa Jones and Mary Eliza Southall... neither aware of the other's presence aboard ship until after completion of their trying customs ordeal... They're still unbelieving of their own story...

ALL THE WHILE a gay whirl has continued on the home front... Notable among last week's events was the supper party hosted by Jean and (Doctor) Earl Fraser... The terrace of their exquisite home on Beverly Avenue was the setting where guests dined on food fit for the gods while feasting their eyes on the beautiful grounds 'round about... and also on the not-far-away view of Lake Pickwick... (Off the beaten track again... but we can't help saying we haven't heard of ANYTHING THAT EARL can't do from cooking choice meals and arranging stunning party bouquets... to doing a solo job in his church choir... etc... He gives us a terrific complex but nevertheless... he's mighty nice to know...)

ANOTHER CHARMING hostess of the week was Eloise Tomlinson... who entertained her friends at luncheon at the Tomlinson Summer home on Lauderdale Beach... AHS and OHS have continued from her guests who look forward each Summer to this delightful courtesy...

WE HEAR TELL that Julia Winn Allen is in Huntsville... and that Florence is next on her itinerary... We'll be ever so eager to snatch a few glimpses...

ORCHIDS TO THALIA ARNETT... who is staging a rapid recovery from an unusual... and unusually painful... accident... Getting out and about again... dropping in to chat with friends... being her delightful self... we're pleased as Punch as we note the progress that's being made...

ALWAYS A PLEASURE to have Ella Wyker in our midst... and to know that she's available for those dee-lighful lake gatherings which have come to be a MUST in these diggin's... There's nobody... but Nobody... who adds so well just that bit of spice... as has been the case of late...

OUT TEXAS WAY... We can imagine former Florentine Eliza Smith getting quite a thrill when with no advance inkling... Clyde and Karl Tyree appeared on her door... They were returning from Mary Deal's (Clyde's niece) wedding in Dallas and circled off a bit to make their unscheduled stop in Marshall... Old Home Week was enjoyed by all during the hour-long visit...

WELCOME NEWCOMER... Jane Maxwell Tyree... daughter of Freddie and Karl Tyree, Jr., who arrived at Coffee Memorial Hospital on Thursday, August 14... She's the second daughter... third child... of the proud parents...

AND NOW... CHEERIO and goodbye... until more news comes through The Spillway...

Long Distance Dialing Installed

Decatur First As Bell Places New Customer System Into Operation

Decatur Sunday had the distinction of establishing a new communications milestone in Alabama when the Southern Bell Telephone Company placed d into operation a $250,000 Customer Long Distance Dialing system—the first in the state.

Mayor Roy B. Odom made the first call to an official of the Fruehauf Trucking Company in Detroit and the call went through as simply as if he had dialed a number across the street. The new service is practically brand new throughout the Southeast and is considered one of the most important electronic marvels of the past decade. It allows one and two-party telephone subscribers to dial numbers in hundreds of cities throughout the nation.

Eventually practically all cities in the nation will have the service, which is expected to speed long distance calls and result in savings to the users of the system. Station-to-station calls are much cheaper than person-to-person and therefore the new service is expected to attract considerably more station-to-station calls.

Avery Taylor, Southern Bell Manager in Decatur, said the new system has an electronic brain called AMA for Automatic Message Accounting—which automatically times each call and renders a bill. If a customer through error reaches a wrong number, he need merely call the operator and no charge will be made.

The long distance operator has for a number of years been dialing many calls direct to distance cities without the help of another operator. It was only until fairly recently the Bell System began experimenting with the Customer Long Distance Dialing.

Pardon Board Wants Support

The State Pardon-Parole Board has formally welcomed the support of lawyers, judges and solicitors in its quest for more money from the Legislature to hire more parole and probation supervisors. Board members adopted a statement which said those connected with the courts should be in a position to know the need because the field supervisors spent approximately 70 percent of time on probation cases.

Resolutions urging an increased appropriation for the Pardon-Parole Board for the next two years were adopted by the Alabama Bar Assn. and the circuit judges and solicitors associations last month. Parole Board members argued that the extra funds spent for probation and parole supervision will be repaid to the State in money saved by keeping men and women out of prison.

Gum yields from longleaf and slash pine is 8 to 15 pounds per acre per year. Trees are usually worked for ten years. When working pine trees for gum, most of the metal gutters are now attached with double-headed nails for easy removal.

Telephone Talk

by
FRANK REYNOLDS
Your Telephone Manager

DID YOU EVER HEAR anyone say their home telephone rate was too high?

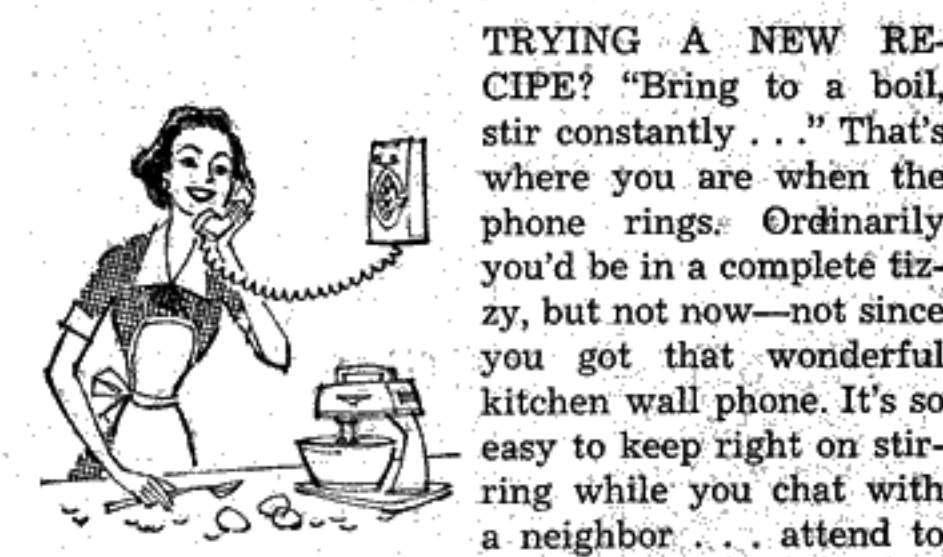

I'd like to tell you exactly how much Florence residence rates have increased in the last 35 years—since 1923.

To have the whole picture you should know that in 1923 there were only 989 telephones in Florence. Today you can dial over 13,200 in Florence and another 11,600 in Sheffield and Tuscumbia, or a total of 24,800. This of course makes your service infinitely more useful and valuable today.

All of us realize most things are three or four times more expensive now than they were in 1923. But let's look at telephone rates:

	1923	1958	Increase
1 Party	$2.75	$4.60	$1.85
2 Party	2.25	3.75	1.50
4 Party	1.75	3.10	1.35

The instant availability of our firemen, policemen, doctors, friends and probably most of our business contacts makes the low cost of telephone service the best buy anywhere.

wer any one of the countless calls that come to a busy housewife all day long. And aren't you glad you decided on the special model built for busy kitchens! Saves you so many steps... makes you realize how wonderful it is to have convenient extension phones all through the house—an extra phone in the bath, for instance. If you're not one of these lucky ladies living in telephone luxury, just call our business office. You'll have low-cost extension phones in a jiffy!

$800 million in assets...and only 11 years old!

From an idea to an $800 million corporation in eleven years . . . that's the meteoric pace of Texas Eastern's growth.

Texas Eastern was incorporated in January, 1947, to purchase the war-built Big Inch and Little Big Inch pipelines and to convert them to the transportation of natural gas. At the close of its first year, Texas Eastern's pipelines totaled 3,100 miles; its assets more than $156,000,000.

From this start, the company's assets have grown substantially . . . a growth that has taken place in two ways at once: by expansion of its pipeline system, and by diversification of its operations.

Expansions have more than doubled pipeline mileage in 10 years to some 7,700 miles. The company's pipelines now reach from Mexico to New York and Boston and from the Gulf Coast to Chicago.

To help meet insistent demands of winter, Texas Eastern has participated in development of one of the world's largest underground storage pools for natural gas. Gas placed in this pool during the summer is withdrawn as needed when winter comes.

One of the company's first diversification moves was acquisition of Triangle Pipeline Company, a petroleum products system serving East Texas, Northern Louisiana, and Southern Arkansas. In 1958 the company completed the reconversion of a major segment of its Little Big Inch line to petroleum products service. This line coupled with the former Triangle system forms the Little Big Inch Division—a common carrier products pipeline linking the Gulf Coast and Midwest.

A production division was formed to explore for and produce oil and natural gas and to acquire producing properties. In 1957 the extensive holdings of La Gloria Oil and Gas Company were added to the production division's interests.

In addition, La Gloria, a wholly-owned subsidiary, is owner of one of the world's largest natural gas processing plants and one of the industry's most modern refineries.

Texas Eastern's total assets—as of August, 1958—exceed $800,000,000. Thus, year-by-year, Texas Eastern grows in size and scope of service—the better to serve a nation grown dependent upon natural gas and refined oil products.

One hundred and eight attended Sunday School at the Bethel Baptist Church on Sunday morning with others arriving for the 11 o'clock worship service. There were two additions to the church by letter at the worship hour, that of Mr. and Mrs. Will Johnson, who were long time members of the Bethel church before moving to the Anderson community. We welcome them to our midst once more. Revival services came to a close at the Bethel Church on last Friday night. There were six additions to the church, one by letter. The Rev. Berryhill of Tupelo, Miss., did the preaching throughout the week, and aside from his sermons the people also enjoyed the fine fellowship with him.

On Saturday night a 7 o'clock the WMU organizations will meet at the church, and following this meeting the church will enjoy a fellowship supper in the church dining area honoring Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Doss, long time residents of our community and outstanding church workers for so many years. They are moving to their new home in Florence. Every one who would like to attend this fellowship supper honoring the Dosses is cordially invited to do so, whether connected with the Bethel Church or not.

Come to Church for Services

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER—STAYS TOGETHER"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Psalm	96	1-13
Monday	Psalm	72	1-20
Tuesday	Psalm	61	1-3
Wednesday	Matthew	7	24-28
Thursday	Hebrews	13	6-8
Friday	Revelation	22	1-5
Saturday	Psalm	119	157-161

Rocks and a relentless sea . . . stone sentinels . . . waves broken into misty foam . . . then caves and clefts and briny pools of rounded sculpture.

Who wins the endless fray? Today it may be the rocks, tomorrow the sea! Yet man goes on building his cities, tilling his soil, believing in his God.

Is not this the parable of all life? Time, like an ocean, floods relentlessly over the shores of life. Today sure! Tomorrow uncertain. But we go on building and tilling—and if we understand the parable—believing in the One whose love and power control today and tomorrow.

There is Something in life more certain than the rocky coast . . . more persistent than the crashing wave. It is the call of God to faith. It is the firm, sure Message of the Church to a battered, changing world!

UA ALUMNI FUND BRING IN $81,955

The University of Alabama Alumni Fund established a new record, with $81,955 coming to the UA through this source during the past year which closed June 30. Alumni Affairs Director Jeff Coleman said that some 3,191 alumni and friends of the University were a part of this total gift. Under Fund Chairman Fred Singleton, Birmingham, this was the Fund's biggest year. According to Mr. Coleman, the alumni gifts make possible many things for which state appropriated funds are not available.

58 Crop Prospects For State Are Good

Alabama crop prospects are quite good generally. Showers were fairly general over the State during July. Soil moisture has been adequate for crop requirements, and in some instances, particularly low-lying fields, has been excessive and some crop damage has resulted.

The frequent showers allowed crops, grasses and weeds to put on a vigorous, heavy, vegetative growth. The rains threw insect control programs off schedule and the lush growth in the fields made it difficult to get proper coverage when insecticides were applied.

Consequently, there was quite a build-up in the insect population during the latter part of July. Early and mid-season corn crops are made and prospects are excellent. Late planted corn prospects are fairly good, but are not on a par with earlier planted fields. Cotton has generally grown a large, vigorous plant and crop prospects are good. Boll weevil infestation became heavy in some areas, particularly the Southern counties during the latter part of the month. Peanuts made good growth and supplied good grazing; however, the grass was watery and the nutritive value reduced. Hay crops grew rapidly but the lack of good drying weather prevented timely cutting and some fields became over-mature and quality was reduced.

The indicated 1958 corn crop is 58,492,000 bushels, one percent above last year and the third highest on record. The prospective yield per acre is 28.0 bushels. Acreage for harvest is six percent below last year and is down 15 percent from the 10-year average.

A cotton crop of 400,000 bales is predicted for 1958, down 25 percent from 1957 and 55 percent below the 1947-56 average. The indicated yield of 353 pounds of lint cotton per acre is above last year's yield and is well above the 10-year average.

Hydro Generation At Alltime High

Over Half Of Power Generated Used By Defense Installations

TVA sold 56.7 billion kilowatt-hours of electricity in the fiscal year ending June 30, approximately the same amount as last year, the Tennessee Valley Authority said today. Well over half of the power it sold—29.4 billion kwh, or 52 percent—went to the area's Federal defense installations, primarily the Atomic Energy Commission.

The remainder of 27.3 billion kwh sold was for use in the region's 1 1/2 million homes, farms, businesses and industries. These sales were 2 1/2 billion kwh, or 10 percent, greater than for last year. Sales to Federal agencies were smaller than last year by 2.8 billion kwh, or nearly 9 percent, because of reduced requirements of the AEC's plants at Oak Ridge and Paducah.

The total power required to meet the demands on the TVA system was 62.2 billion kwh during the fiscal year. In addition to the sales of 56.7 billion kwh, two billion kwh were delivered to the Aluminum Company of America in return for electricity generated at the company's plants. 1.7 billion kwh were delivered to neighboring private utility systems, and the remainder of 1.8 billion kwh was absorbed in transmitting the power from the generating plants to the loads.

The TVA system requirements were supplied by the generating of 19.3 billion kwh in the hydro plants, 41.5 billion kwh in the steam plants, and 1.4 billion kwh received from other systems. Hydro generation was greater than for any previous 12 consecutive months in TVA's history. The record hydrogeneration was due to the unusually favorable rainfall during the year in terms of both the amount of rain and the manner in which it was distributed throughout the year.

Central Youth Attends 4-H Camp

Ben McGuire, of the Central High Club, has returned from the sixth 4-H fish and wildlife camp held at Camp Tuckabatchee, Autauga County last week. The camp was sponsored by the Federal Cartridge Corporation and Republic Steel in cooperation with the API Extension Service.

The program at Tuckabatchee was under the direction of Earl F. Kennamer, Extension fish and wildlife specialist. Mr. Kennamer was assisted by a staff of agents and specialists selected for special fields of training.

McGuire had this to say about the camp: "We were taught by some of the best instructors I think we could have had. They were very nice and always ready to help you with any problem."

The boys learned the safe use of firearms and many hunting and fishing tips. They were taught to fly, bait and spin cast. They learned to set traps for fox, beaver and muskrat and many things that would be helpful to a trapper. Kennamer gave tips that will help the individual conserve wildlife and fish and manage it right.

Get a new street quickly and economically with durable, low-cost SOIL-CEMENT

A clean, attractive, smooth-riding street in front of your house increases the value of your property. A dusty, bumpy potholed street is unsightly and unsafe. It is a nuisance to drivers who use it and to property owners who live on it. The constant patching and repairing of such a street is a waste of time, temper and taxes.

If your street is worn-out and run down, it can be converted into an all-weather pavement quickly and economically. Just ask your city officials to pave it with soil-cement. Soil-cement is a combination of soil or granular material usually on the street and portland cement and water. Mixed and compacted, these elements form a rigid, durable base. A bituminous surface completes the pavement.

Soil-cement is economical. Low in first cost, it delivers years of dependable service with a minimum of maintenance.

Soil-cement paving is fast. An experienced crew can pave your entire street in a single day—with practically no inconvenience to you.

Now is the time to pave rough, worn-out streets with soil-cement. It's today's best low-cost-pavement value for residential streets.
