The Passing Parade

We received a Christmas card yesterday, it read: "I want to be the first to wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year—and, besides, postage goes up on August 1st." Thrifty cuss, isn't he?

Some folks get so used to minding other people's business that they become involved to such an extent that they hurt themselves and those they pretend to help. We could give you a case in point . . . but maybe you can list several yourself.

It is heartening to learn that Dr. Jonas Salk, the eminent University of Pittsburgh scientist who developed the effective anti-polio vaccine, with his research staff are conducting experiments with cancer. Although no treatment for the disease has yet been discovered, the confidence that the world has in Dr. Salk brings hope that he might find the answer to this most vexing problem.

An exchange of letters from a local college student and his dad proved most interesting. They wrote: "Dear Dad: Guess what I need most of all? That's right. Please send it along soon. Best wishes and lots of love. Your hopeful son." The father wrote back: "Now that was quite a tricky letter you wrote. I've seen NOTHING exactly like it since I went to college. None of us here would have thought to use the $ sign instead of an 's'. Write us a letter soon. NOW I must close. Dad."

A friend tells us that he is having trouble sleeping on Sunday mornings, that is, the other Sunday morning, as his story goes, he was awake by 5 o'clock and just couldn't fall asleep again. The harder he tried, the more awake he became. By 6 o'clock, he was so restless he had awakened his wife, who gave him a rather stern reprimand for not letting her sleep. By 7 o'clock, he could take it no longer, got up, dressed and went downstairs. He tried reading the morning paper, but was so sore at himself he thought a little nip would steady his nerves as he killed time until his wife got up and fixed breakfast. One nip called for another—and, you guessed it, by the time his wife came down for breakfast, he was cock-eyed. And then the storm broke loose, and we don't mean maybe.

Administration Seeking To Cripple TVA Measure

Amendments Would Place Agency's Self-Financing Bill In Grave Danger

BULLETIN

The House Public Works Committee Wednesday approved a Senate-passed bill to put the Tennessee Valley Authority on a self-financing basis. Rep. Clifford Davis (D-Tenn.), chairman of the committee, said he would try to get the measure cleared by the House rules committee as soon as possible for House action.

The Eisenhower administration has urged the House to accept five amendments restricting TVA's authority to issue revenue bonds under the senate-approved self-financing bill, feeling that the senate measure does not contain "adequate congressional or executive review of TVA's financing program."

Robert E. Merriam, deputy director of the Bureau of the Budget, urged adoption of amendments.

Giving the secretary of the treasury authority to set terms and conditions under which bonds would be issued.

Requiring the TVA board to submit to the budget bureau and to congress for approval, all proposed bond issues for additional power-generating facilities.

Prohibiting TVA from using power revenue proceeds to construct additional power generating units without the approval of congress and the budget bureau.

Prohibiting TVA from serving new power customers outside its present service area.

Requiring that expenditures to be spent from bond proceeds be included in the President's budget to congress.

TVA supporters immediately charged that the budget bureau amendments would cripple the self-financing bill.

Rep. Robert E. Jones (D-Ala.), said the proposals were designed to "enlarge the Budget Bureau's control" over the fiscal affairs of TVA.

Democrats on the house committee sought to report the bill to the floor without the amendments Wednesday. There were strong indications that the measure will be reported by a party line vote with the Republicans opposing the bill to the last man.

Jones and Clifford Davis (D-Tenn.) charged that Eisenhower originated the TVA self-financing idea after refusing to ask congress for appropriations and then to oppose the bill with restrictive amendments.

Midnight July 31 Date For Turnover

Post Office Department Will Not Allow Grace Period For Old Rates

The Post Office Department says there will be no grace period for using old postal rates after July 31.

Tomorrow will mark the date that the new scheduled postal rate increase will go into effect. This means, says the Post Office Department, that letters mailed after midnight, July 31, must bear postage at the higher rates.

If not, the post office will handle the letter on a postage due basis with the recipient being asked to fork over an extra penny. If he refuses, the sender will be billed a cent.

Besides the boost in the 3-cent stamp, the price of postcards will be raised from 2 cents to 3 cents, for air mail letters from 6 cents to 7 cents and for air mail postcards from 4 cents to 5 cents. Rates for drop letters in small communities which don't have pickup or delivery service will advance from 2 to 3 cents.

Prime Minister Sami Solh of Lebanon missed death by a split second Tuesday when a would-be assassin blew up a parked car a few yards ahead of his automobile. Solh was not hurt but eight other persons perished. The dead included a policeman on a motorcycle, three gendarmes, and four persons in a car just ahead of Solh's. Reasons for the attack on Solh were not immediately clear since most rebel animosity in the nearly three months of rebellion has been against President Chamille Chamoun.

Muscle Shoals TV Sold To Jerrold

Cable Company Bought By Country's Leading Electronics Manufacturer

The Muscle Shoals TV Cable Corporation has been sold to the Jerrold Electronics Corporation of Philadelphia, Pa., J. Ralph Moore, system manager, announced.

Moore, who will continue in his present capacity, said that the Philadelphia electronics company has been associated with the Muscle Shoals company, supplying the electronic equipment, engineering the system installation, and providing continued technical advice and engineering skills.

The country's leading manufacturer of electronic equipment for community antenna systems, Jerrold has installed more than 450 of the 650 antenna systems which today provide television reception to more than two million viewers throughout the country.

Milton J. Sharp, Jerrold president, said, in a letter to the Tri-Cities area, that his company will continue to maintain the high, technical and operational standard of the Muscle Shoals TV system, which he called one of the finest in the country.

It has also been announced that an application is now before the Federal Communications Commission for approval of a second microwave installation which would relay Channel 6 programming from Birmingham to Muscle Shoals. The Channel 6 signal currently is picked up directly at the antenna site. The second microwave installation would greatly improve Channel 6 reception throughout the system, Moore said.

Farmers Receive $200,140 In Loans

Loans Made For Farm Operations; Repayments Made From Produce

Farm families in Lauderdale county received Farmers Home Administration loans totaling $200,140 in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1958, the agency's county supervisor, Cecil C. Mixon, reported this week. Borrowers repaid $147,451 during the year.

Loans for farm operations, including feed, seed, fertilizer, livestock, equipment and other items totaled $84,890. Credit to buy, improve, or enlarge farms or refinancing farm debts accounted for $12,150. Loans to farm owners to build or repair farm houses or other essential farm construction added up to $22,350, and farmers borrowed $20,250 to meet emergency needs due to the 1957 disaster caused by excessive rainfall during harvest season.

Repayments were made mainly out of income received from cotton, hogs, wheat, cattle and dairy products.

Among the results the farmers have obtained with loans for better farming, Mr. Mixon said, are improved dairy herds, better crop yields, good pastures, and more modern equipment. The recently broadened farm housing loan program is helping many farmers plan and develop better housing and farm facilities.

Mr. Mixon said many local farmers have had and repaid loans in the past several years, and are now operating sound farming enterprises and getting all their credit needs through local banks and other lenders.

Besides making and servicing loans, the county supervisor visits borrowers' farms throughout the year to help with farm management problems. Mr. Mixon estimated he made 817 farm visits during the year and that farmers made 1300 calls at his office to apply for loans or discuss their farming and credit situations.

Banks or other lenders may advance the loan funds for farm purchase or improvement, or the agency may make these loans direct from funds appropriated by Congress. All types of loans are direct Government loans.

Whitten Named As Board Member

Farmer And Stockman Succeeds R. H. Howard; Is Named Chairman,

Luther L. Whitten, of Route 2, Florence, has been appointed as a member of the Lauderdale county Farmers Home Administration committee. Cecil C. Mixon, the agency's county supervisor, announced this week.

The other two members serving with Mr. Whitten are T. Oliver Nesmith and William J. Townsend. Mr. Whitten succeeds Robert H. Howard whose 3-year term expired this year.

Each agricultural county in Alabama has a 3-member committee to work with the county supervisor to make the best possible local use of the agency's farm credit service program. The committee determines the eligibility of applicants for all types of Farmers Home Administration loans, and determines the suitability and fair and reasonable values of farms to be taken as security for real estate loans. It also reviews borrowers' progress as they pay off their FHA loans by means of improved farming and turn to banks and other lenders for the credit they need.

The committee elected Mr. Whitten as its chairman at its first meeting, held on July 9, 1958. He is a farmer and stockman living in the bend area of the county. Mr. Whitten is familiar with the operation and services of the Farmers Home Administration having served on this committee from July 1, 1954 through June 30, 1957.

Control League To Ask Liquor Vote

Organization Circulates Petitions To Get 2,908 Signatures; 150 Are Out

R. L. Kirby, of Florence, has announced that petitions are now being circulated asking for a referendum on the legal sale of packaged beer and whiskey in Lauderdale county. Kirby is head of an organization called the Lauderdale County League for Legal Control.

Persons carrying the petitions are requested to submit them to Kirby as quickly as possible so that a tabulation can be made. Kirby stated that if enough people have signed the petitions, they will be presented to the probate judge and an election on the matter requested.

A total number of 2,908 signatures will be required since under Alabama law a fourth of the total legal vote of the county must petition an issue before an election can be called. A total of 11,632 ballots were cast in the last election.

If, and when, the referendum is called, it will be strictly for the opening of package stores, and not for beer joints or public drinking, Kirby stated.

Approximately 150 petitions are still in circulation, with only a few having been returned.

In 1933, when the 18th amendment was repealed, Lauderdale county voted against local option.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Malone have moved into the family home on Chisholm Road.

Russians Accuse U. S. Of Trying Frustrate Peace

BULLETIN

In an answer being drafted to Soviet Premier Khrushchev President Eisenhower has proposed that a summit meeting be opened in the UN Security Council within two weeks. A well-informed source said Mr. Eisenhower preferred New York as a meeting place but would accept another location, probably Geneva, if others prefer. Moscow, however would not be agreeable, it was stated.

Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev's rejection of a proposed UN summit meeting in New York met a flat rejection when President Eisenhower countered with a proposal that an East-West meeting be convened at UN headquarters between August 10 and 15.

Officials indicated that the President's reply to the Soviet leader was a flat rejection of any plan for a five-power conference outside the United Nations. It was also reported that Mr. Eisenhower was willing to accept a top-level meeting in any city the Security Council might decide on. While New York is the normal meeting place the Security Council has the right to select a meeting place, it was explained.

Khrushchev accused the United States of trying to frustrate a move to end the armed intervention in Lebanon and Jordan by the U. S. and Britain. "Consequently you are not working for a settlement of the military conflict which has begun in the Middle East . . . but for the expansion of the area of military conflict and confronting mankind with the threat of a world conflict."

Washington said the United States feels that any Mid-East summit conference should be held within the framework of the UN and that President Eisenhower's views on this have not changed, the President's reluctance to visit the Soviet Union is well known in Washington. Khrushchev had said he would meet with heads of government in Moscow, Geneva or any other place in Europe. He proposed a place in Europe because of reports that New York police would have trouble protecting heads of government. Moscow police, he said, could guarantee such protection.

Khrushchev reiterated his contention that there is already conflict in the Middle East because of the armed intervention in Lebanon and Jordan by the U. S. and Britain and demanded again that these forces be withdrawn.

Following a similar plea by Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan that a meeting be held in the UN Security Council, Mr. Eisenhower suggested that if Mr. Khrushchev really believed American and British intervention in Lebanon and Jordan threatened peace he should take the question to the Security Council.

Khrushchev agreed to this proposal but balked when over the week-end Macmillan and the President proposed a formal meeting of the Security Council to work out the time and place and who would take part.

Too Much Power

Human and material resources are expendable but effective constitutional limitations on tyranny in government were exemplified most effectively by the United States when its independence was won from England. The founding fathers in writing the Constitution and the Bill of Rights saw to it that safeguards were provided to prevent the encroachment of undermining influences. Many of those safeguards have since been disregarded while others have disappeared entirely, perhaps forever.

Woodrow Wilson was responsible for raising the legal debt limit of the United States, and thus beginning the growth of strong, central bureaucratic government in Washington. World War One resulted in reposing vast powers in the president's office which since has grown almost entirely away from constitutional concept.

For the president the Constitution specified simple prerogatives: command of the military forces, granting of federal pardons, making of treaties, appointing of ambassadors and federal judges and the filling of other federal offices created by Congress. He could sign or veto legislation within certain limits, and call Congress into special session. He could not make laws, regulations or policies for the country. His was simply the duty to see that the laws were properly executed. Such were the narrow constitutional limitations originally imposed on the President's office.

Today, the President of the United States wields more exercisable power than any government official in the world except those in the Communist countries. And the almost boundless power of the President makes his office the most important place in the world. In the realities of this hour we are subject to government by the discretion and decree of one man . . . the President of the United States.

Despite the current economic slump this is a time of so-called peace and prosperity. The government continues to gouge enough out of the harried taxpayers to continue its ever-growing expenditures with little thought that it is already mortgaged to the hilt. The President is critical of a Democratic Congress because it wants to spend less than he deems necessary.

In this nation there is no power, as yet, to supplant the power of the people. Their expression is through their chosen representatives. Only they can see to it that the power of the presidency is reduced to its original constitutional limitations. This they should do for only then can we make democracy work.

Locker-Bowling Vows

St. Joseph's Church

For the occasion of her wedding to Alexander Joseph Locker, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Locker of Middle Road, Florence, Violet Wynne Bowler chose a gown of white lace over taffeta. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. William Louie Bowler of Hanceville.

The Reverend Paul Kohler, rector of St. Joseph's Catholic Church Florence, was the officiating clergy, and nuptial music was presented by Miss Sylvia Beckman as a prelude to the two o'clock ceremony on Saturday, July nineteenth.

A fitted bodice and draped neckline and sleeves were distinguishing features of the bride's waist-length dress. A tiara of rhinestones and pearls held her veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of double white stock and white orchids showered with stephanotis. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Robert Boone was her sister's attendant. She wore a frock of pink lace over taffeta and a small American Beauty hat. A nosegay of American Beauty asters fashioned her bouquet.

John Locker served his brother as best man.

A reception at the Locker home followed the ceremony.

When the couple left later for a honeymoon to New Mexico, the bride was wearing a turquoise chemise dress with small white cloche and white accessories. An orchid from her bouquet was pinned at her shoulder.

A sheath-front skirt was street length and designed with pleated fullness across the back. Her shoulder-length veil fell from a pearl embroidered Juliet cap and her prayer book was marked by a yellow-throated orchid.

Miss Alice Marie West, her sister's only attendant, wore pink crystal with rounded neckline and deep-flounced skirt. Her head-dress was a bandeau of pink flowers and her French bouquet was also pink.

THE SPILLWAY

TALLULAH FALLS... SHE says "NO-NO"
But all the same the blood did flow...
The maid in anguish called a cop...
Not one... but THREE came on the hop...

THREE COPS AND a doctor answered THAT call... And a mighty good time was had by all... "And dahlings"... quoth she... "let me tell how 'twas"... I cut my arm on a porcelain vazh...

ADORED BY SOME... abhorred by others... amazing to all... she's Alabama's very own and there'll never be another Tallulah...

BUT WE DO HAVE interesting incidents taking place under our very noses and interesting "little stories" creep around... Frin-stance... there's the steak dinner hostessed recently by Agnes and Lile Jenkins... Over and over again... standing at the meat counter of her favorite "super"... Agnes went down her guest list before giving her order... "I don't trust my math"... she told us... "I counted heads by the finger method"...

EVENING CAME... and never (thought Agnes) had steaks looked more luscious as they sputtered and browned on the broiling rack... NEVER (thought she) had so delicious an aroma tempted her palate... Though further than this Alice will never know... Her finger method had failed her completely... for while carefully she had just as carefully forgotten to count hubby-andself... And there... we thing... is a REAL tear-jerker...

OUR GREEN THUMB story of the week... Interesting and so far unidentified is the vine which "just came up" at the home of Lucile and Henry Bradshaw on South Cedar Street... and which is causing speculation a-plenty as to plant-family... and a that... In full blossom and also full fruit... it has yet to be placed in a category by those who've seen it's lush growth... "A melon"... say some... "only the leaves aren't right"... And "a gourd vine"... say others... "but gourds never looked like that"... Lucile has no explanation of the riddle... but she does have an answer to the "how-come" of it's being there... A very likely answer...

WE WOULDN'T KNOW just what there is in a name... but we do know that the Woodward family is nature-loving to the last man... and woman... and that they go wood-ward at every opportunity as they will... come August first... when they'll begin a vacation trek... They'll pack their car with fishing and camping equipment and take off for New Mexico... They are... in case you don't know... Birdie (Byrd)... (we love that name)... hubby Bill... and their two sons... Joey and Billy... Birdie's home... before she married Bill and came to live in Florence... was in NORTH, South Carolina... which is in the middle of the state... (we love THAT... too)... And... should you hanker for a bit of visitin' with this charming foursome prior to their take-off... we suggest that you tramp through adjacent woodlands... That's where we found them recently as they happily enjoyed a favorite sport... crow shooting...

ENTHUSIASTIC OHs AND AHs mingled with descriptive comments as we get reports on Sarah Elizabeth and Bud Boorham's recently completed home on old Jackson Road... They're in... and Madam's goin' a-calling...

NEWS FROM HERE and there... James David Hovater (lieutenant... graduate of the US Naval Academy... and son of lovely Gene Hibbett) is working toward his masters at the Navy Post-Graduate School in Monterey, California... (Nice goin' David)... AND FROM ANITA and Carl Lavender... one-time Florentines now living in Geneva, Ohio... we hear that Anita is attending Summer school in Paris, France... and having a most D-lightful experience... CLOUD-HOPPING again... Laura Perritt took off yesterday by Eastern Air Lines for a round of visitin' accompanied by her lovely namesake... granddaughter Laura Ann Reeder... for Atlanta and Athens... Laura having been a Georgia PEACH before Florence claimed her...

"It's our annual spree"... they said almost in unison just prior to boarding their plane... just looked as if they could hardly wait... AND IN MEMPHIS today... Nell Pearson is representing her chosen work... the Laubach Literary Program... in meetings attended by six Southern governors... and other notables... and we know she's doing us PROUD...

PLAYING POST OFFICE is remembered as having definite meaning... Just as definite is our reminder to you... dear readers... Come tomorrow... you'll need some one-cent-ers to go alongside those left-over threes... And our Uncle isn't playing... We'll KEEP AN EYE peeled for you at the Gilberts' tonight... when Martha and Jim... with their cohostess Louise Jones... welcome "back home" Joan and (Captain) Tommy Ashcraft...

THE BASSINET SET... A flash from Nashville on Tuesday morning brings news of a new arrival in the Tennessee State Capital... as Didi (Darnall) and (Doctor) Robert Franks announce the arrival of a daughter... Deborah Evaline... at Vanderbilt University Hospital... AND NOW... CHEERIO and goodby... until more news comes through The Spillway...

Well, school is officially out now until September. The last exam started Friday at one and all we have to do now is heave a sigh of relief and wait for our grades.

Not everyone plans to go home and loaf until registration day—Jimmy Ray Bevis, a Florence Junior is going to attend the Fred Waring Youth Music Festival the first ten days of August.

The Circle K Club expects to send delegates to Texas for a convention later in August, and a lot of us are looking forward to the Danforth Leadership Retreat the first week of September.

Dean T. W. Allen has announced the appointment of a new faculty member for this fall. Ernest Lloyd Rhodes will fill the English Department vacancy serving as associate professor of English.

Mr. Rhodes received his AB in English from the University of West Virginia, his Master's from the University of North Carolina and is working for his Ph. D. at the University of Kentucky.

While Mr. Rhodes was professor of English and Drama at the University of Kentucky he served as technical director of the Guin-guol Players and of the University Laboratory Theater. In that capacity he directed 35 or 40 plays.

It seems that FSC Lions' first opponent this fall will be a team that defeated them 7-0 last season.

Costs Of Living Rise Sharply

Living costs have gone up 105 percent in the 20 years since 1938. This means that on the average, a person must pay $2.05 today for something he could have bought for a dollar in 1938.

The living cost index which was released Wednesday shows a fractional rise from May to June, less than one-tenth of one percent. It was a new living cost record, the 20th set in the past 22 months.

While the over-all living cost level soared 105 percent, some individual family budget items did not go up that much and some advanced much more.

In the 1938-58 span the cost of a new car rose 125 percent, rent 80 percent and food 151 percent. Costs of men's clothes rose 110 percent, but women's clothes climbed only 78 percent.

Corn cobs have been mixed with cement and then used in erecting buildings. However, these lightweight blocks must be protected from weather.

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER—STAYS TOGETHER"

IS IT FOR

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on each for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Folks are curious. "What is it for... What does it do?" They usually want to know about everything they come across.

But ask them, "What's the Church for... What does it do?" and they're likely to stop short.

You can tell them the Church is the oldest institution in your community. It stands for God, for right-living, and for the way of Christ.

Its aim is to help develop Christian character... to share a soul-lifting gospel with each person.

It strengthens the community's ceaseless struggle against crime... it serves families and individuals in times of trouble, sorrow, or sickness. It rejoices with them in their happiness.

Once you're aware of the Church's far-reaching program, its challenge is irresistible.

Accept it... take your stand for God, for right-living, and for the way of Christ through the Church.

Freezing Fruits And Vegetables

By MRS. MARILYN MOORE
 Assistant Home Agent
 Now is the time for freezing fruits and vegetables. Gardens are coming in and there is a plentiful supply on the market. Foods can be frozen in a home freezer or a locker can be rented.
 It is important to use fresh products for freezing. Vegetables that are young and tender and fruits that are ripe but not over-ripe are most suitable. The shorter the time from garden to freezer the better. Fruits are packed without sugar, with sugar, or in a syrup. Peaches, pears, and apples need to be treated with ascorbic acid to prevent darkening and loss of flavor. Vegetables must be blanched in boiling water to destroy bacteria and spores which cause spoilage, bad odors, and a hay-like flavor. Start timing the blanching period as soon as the water begins to boil after the vegetables have been added. Use an up to date time table for blanching. After blanching, cool the vegetables rapidly.

GOT A SUMMER COLD
 TAKE 666 for symptomatic RELIEF

Pack food in containers that are moisture and vapor resistant. Plastic bags, containers that are well coated with paraffin, or plastic containers with tight fitting lids are used. It is important to seal the container tightly and allow ample room for the food to expand when it is frozen.

Freeze foods at 0 degree or below after packaging. The ordinary home freezer can freeze 2 or 3 pounds of food per cubic foot of freezer capacity in a 24 hour period. Overloading may result in spoilage or poor quality.

"Food Preservation in Alabama" is an Extension Service bulletin on freezing, drying, canning, pickling, and storing foods. It is available at the county agent's office for thirty cents. Information in this bulletin is based on research work of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Agricultural Reminders

By L. T. WAGNON
 County Agent

L. T. Wagon, County Agent, advised county farmers to watch their late-planted corn for corn ear worm damage. If corn is infested, applications of 20 lbs. of 10 percent DDT or 20 percent of toxaphene should be made per acre.

If the corn is too tall for the farmer to apply the DDT or toxaphene by farm equipment, then applications should be made by hand or by plane. In case anyone wants to make application by plane, information about renting a plane may be gained at County Agent's office.

Conditions in the county can be serious if steps are not taken, Wagon stated.

While there is plenty of moisture in the ground, farmers are advised to prepare land for alfalfa, permanent pastures and winter grazing crops by County Agent L. T. Wagon.

It would be well for farmers to have a soil test made before breaking the land so as to determine the amount and kind of fertilizer to apply. Cartons, boxes and forms for making the soil test are available at the County Agent's office.

Farmers are urged to check by the ASC office to see if they can get any assistance in seeding crops, such as alfalfa, permanent pastures and winter grazing.

Cotton Prospects Continuing High

Heavy showers fell over most of the State during the week. Soil moisture continues to be ample to excessive in all areas. Crops grew rapidly during the week and most are in excellent condition with the exception of some low lying fields. There was very little opportunity for field work during the period. A few fields were prepared for fall crops and some planting of temporary grazing crops was accomplished but farm operators were restricted mostly to chores, repair work and non-field activities.

Cotton progressed rapidly during the week and is fruiting well. Boll weevil infestation is high in some southern counties and is increasing in other areas. Boll worm and other insects are also becoming troublesome in all areas of the State as continuing rains prevent growers from carrying out their poisoning programs. Many fields are becoming very grassy and a period of open weather is needed so that late planted fields may be cultivated.

Corn prospects continue high. Earlier planted corn has made a crop or is far enough along so that present moisture supplies are sufficient to carry it through. Late planted corn is doing very well and has good prospects although some farmers are expressing concern over the possibility of the rains reducing pollination. The corn ear worm and the corn borer are damaging corn in northern counties. Some lowland fields in this area have been damaged by excessive moisture.

Get a new street quickly and economically with durable, low-cost SOIL-CEMENT

A clean, attractive, smooth-riding street in front of your house increases the value of your property. A dusty, bumpy potholed street is unsightly and unsafe. It is a nuisance to drivers who use it and to property owners who live on it. The constant patching and repairing of such a street is a waste of time, temper and taxes.

If your street is worn-out and run down, it can be converted into an all-weather pavement quickly and economically. Just ask your city officials to pave it with soil-cement. Soil-cement is a combination of soil or granular material usually on the street and portland cement and water. Mixed and compacted, these elements form a rigid, durable base. A bituminous surface completes the pavement.

Soil-cement is economical. Low in first cost, it delivers years of dependable service with a minimum of maintenance.

Soil-cement paving is fast. An experienced crew can pave your entire street in a single day—with practically no inconvenience to you.

Now is the time to pave rough, worn-out streets with soil-cement. It's today's best low-cost-pavement value for residential streets.
