We Must Stop Being Afraid

The actual number of Communists in the world is probably not known by anyone but in hazarding a guess one may safely assume that they are vastly outnumbered by the non-Communists. Even the Russians admit that this is true in their own country. So what then, one asks, is the great alarm over Communism and why is the free world in such a turmoil over Communist infiltration into non-Communist countries?

Actually there is a great deal of political maneuvering today by the Communists to woo non-Communist nations into their camp. And they have succeeded with marked success, especially in Asia and now with increasing success in the Middle East. Their success can be attributed to several things, one, to our own bungling, and two, to the fact that the Soviet Union has not hesitated to make glowing promises to these nations and at the same time set in motion propaganda calculated to low-rate the Democracies. We have, thus far, little effective counter-propaganda, and that is important if we are to win the cold war.

A powerful military defense is a deterrent but it is not enough if we fail our Allies and lose their confidence and support. This we must keep at almost any cost while continuing to associate ourselves with and for the cause of peace. If we can continue to foster a global climate of peace and understanding among the free nations then those who seek freedom may do so with less fear and with a greater zeal. Communists find it hard to fight this sort of fight because theirs is the "divide and conquer" type of cold war.

The pressure for freedom is a mighty force and one that is contagious. When we discard fear and tell the world in simple terms why we do not agree with Communist views, then we put the Communists in the awkward predicament of producing an equally convincing argument. This is hard for them to do and when they are placed on the defensive they invariably weaken their position by invectives and saber-rattling.

It is time we stopped being afraid.

What Are We Going To Do?

The public is still wondering just what can or will be done about the internal squabble between the armed services over who has the best missile, anti-missile or satellite launching device . . . and when we are going to really settle down to the task of catching up with the Russians, who, our best minds tell us, are far ahead in technical production and know-how and in educating more trained scientists and technicians.

We have been told we must educate more scientists and because it takes time to educate scientists we cannot hope to catch up with the Russians for several more years. If this is true what are we waiting for? Why even argue about it? This country is rich enough and certainly collectively intelligent enough to speed up the vital process of educating enough of our youth along scientific and technical lines to do the job.

One thing, however, must be learned and that is we must start at the right place . . . in the high schools. There must be stiffer math and science courses. Mathematics is the foremost study in approaching the science education shortage. General science as it is taught today in its oversimplified form in high schools is of comparatively little technical value but math is a must and it is here that the basis for education in science is laid.

Students who hope to jump from high school into some phase of a science course must be prepared to handle more than elementary algebra. Most of modern physics is mathematics and while there is much talk about more science courses and more science teachers for high schools it must not be overlooked that calculus is more important than high school physics and English more important than French. In fact intensive training in English is now a must in practically all engineering courses.

FBI Agent Speaker To Exchange Club
More than 600 bank robberies a year are still committed in the United States despite improved techniques employed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in apprehending the perpetrators, Clarence Kelly, agent in charge of the Birmingham FBI office, told members of the Florence Exchange Club Tuesday.

The program for the Tuesday luncheon meeting at Hotel Reeder, recognized Crime Prevention Week and was arranged by Ervin B. Bruhning, local FBI agent.

Mr. Kelly said that a big factor in the solution of bank robberies was the aid extended the 5,500 FBI agents by citizens. He said that such crimes were given special attention by the bureau and that its methods of identifying and apprehending bank robbers have been constantly improved and revised over the years.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation was founded in the early part of this century, said Mr. Kelly, and its agent personnel must hold degrees in law or be certified accountants. He recalled the kidnappings of the '30s that brought about the Lindbergh Law and gave the FBI vastly expanded authority.

RECENT BRIDE . . . Mrs. Granville F. Mize, whose recent marriage was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Scott of Muscle Shoals City. The bridegroom attended Coffee High School before entering the service in 1954 and has been overseas during the ensuing years. He is a sergeant in the U. S. Army and stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga., at present. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Mize, Howell Street, Florence. Mrs. Mize will be at home with her parents to continue her studies at Colbert County High School.

Patricia Walthall Bride William Charles Maffett

At the altar of First Presbyterian Church, Sheffield, Patricia Walthall and William Charles Maffett exchanged marriage vows on Saturday afternoon, March fifteenth, standing with their attendants before a background of greenery marked by tall brass vases of white calla lilies and baskets of gladioli and stock.

Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Walthall of Sheffield are parents of the bride and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Maffett of Cloverdale Road, Florence.

Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. John C. Martin, organist, and Mrs. Wayne Christeson, vocalist. Wedding tapers lighted the scene as the Reverend John D. Hungerland, minister, read the five o'clock ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white, chanted lace over white taffeta. Studded with iridescent sequins and seed pearls the low rounded neckline of the fitted bodice was attached to a voluminous floor-length skirt extending to a chapel-length train. She carried the traditional "something old" in two heirloom handkerchiefs and kept unbroken the age-old custom in the bridegroom's family of wearing a sapphire to the altar in a shoe.

Her veil of illusion fell from a cap of lace and her Colonial bouquet was fashioned of white bride's roses, lilies of the valley and stephanotis.

Her attendants wore ballerina length dresses of crystallette over taffeta made princess fashion with low rounded necklines. Mrs. Cecil Conway Goode, Nashville, matron of honor, wore a gold colored frock and carried a cascade of pink carnations. Bridesmaids were Mrs. John C. Prisco of Mobile who wore pink and carried blue Dutch iris and Miss Mary Ann Christeson of Florence and Miss Judy Slack of Sheffield were in turquoise frocks with yellow Dutch iris bouquets. Small matching taffeta hats with short veils completed their attire.

Bearing the ring in a calla lily was five year old Richard Walthall, Jr., of Huntsville.

Mr. Maffett served his son as best man and ushers were James McCollum of Sheffield, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Richard Walthall of Huntsville, brother of the bride; Cecil Goode of Litchfield, Kentucky, and William Oldham of Florence.

Mr. and Mrs. Walthall entertained with a reception in the parlors of the church immediately following the ceremony.

Assisting were Mrs. T. P. Hignett, Mrs. R. T. Kernachan, Mrs. Charles H. Young, Mrs. J. O. Askin, Mrs. Julian Olin, Mrs. Roland Vaughn, Mrs. Fred Haynie, Mrs. A. V. Slack, Mrs. Edward L. Newman, Mrs. O. Z. Brown, Miss Nancy Coe Vance, Miss Ida Young, Miss Sylvia Haynie, Miss Elizabeth Lewis, Mrs. George Morris, Mrs. S. A. Harvey, Mrs. Lawrence Ennis, Mrs. Henry Golsen and Mrs. H. T. Arthur.

When the couple left for their honeymoon to the Bahamas Mrs. Maffett was wearing a light blue wool suit with Ranch mink collar, small brown straw hat and lizard accessories. At her shoulder she pinned a pink orchid.

Upon their return they will be at home at Westchester Court Apartments, Chesterfield Avenue, Nashville.

Joan Bobo's Nuptials Marked In Church Scene

A four o'clock ceremony performed on Saturday, March fifteenth, united in marriage Joan Bobo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haley Lewis Bobo, and James Edward Hall. A program of nuptial music presented by J. B. Webb, organist, and Delano Bobo, soloist, preceded the exchange of vows which were read in Highland Baptist Church by the Reverend Lewis

E. Kelley, pastor, assisted by John L. Bobo, brother of the bride.

Decorations consisted of white gladioli and stock with branched candelabra holding white tapers to light the scene.

Mr. Bobo gave his daughter in marriage. Her wedding gown of white lace over satin was distinguished by a low scalloped neckline and long sleeves pointed at the hands. The full skirt was fashioned of embroidered satin and her lace-edged veil of illusion fell from a fitted crown. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of white roses.

Attending the bride were her cousin, Miss Grace Mays, as maid of honor, Glenda Nelson and Lois Lumpkin, bridesmaids. Junior attendants were the bride's sister, Jane Bobo, and Ann Cook.

Fred Kress Hall served as his son's best man. Ushers were Eddie Morton, Memphis; Preston Delony, Allen Allsbrook, Charles Howard and Charles Cook, Tusculum; Scott Bobo, Auburn.

Miss May's frock was white silk with fuchsia trim, the bridesmaids' were blue and pink crystallette fashioned with fitted waists and ballerina skirts. The junior attendants wore full skirted pink dresses with big bows at the back and a bandeau of flowers was the headress of each. Roses in harmonizing shades were their bouquets.

White gladioli and white wedding bells decorated the church parlor for the reception to which the bride's parents were hosts immediately following the ceremony.

Assisting were Mrs. Claud Beard, Mrs. D. M. Williams, Mrs. J. P. Sides, Mrs. Preston Delony, Mrs. John L. Bobo, Mrs. Ralph Johnson, Miss Martha Williams, Miss Mary Ann Richardson, Miss Robbie Hall and Mrs. Ronald Meeks.

For travel the bride wore a beige suit with matching hat and patent accessories. The pink orchid

Following the rehearsal of plans on Friday evening the bridegroom's father, Fred Kress Hall, honored the bridal couple and their attendants, family members and out-of-town guests, entertaining in the small parlor at the church.

A great arrangement of jonquills was flanked by stands of yellow candles to decorate the party table where Miss Robbie Hall and Mrs. Fred Kress assisted in serving.

Saint-Henry Vows Spoken In Tusculum

Against a background of pink blossoms with pink candles burning in branched candelabra Juanita Saint, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Saint of Tusculum, became the bride of Bonnie Lee Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Olen R. Henry, also of Tusculum, in Colbert Heights Church of Christ on Saturday, March fifteenth.

Fred Winslett, minister, read the service at five o'clock in the afternoon.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown fashioned along princess lines. The portrait neckline and long fitted sleeves were embroidered in seed pearls and her fingertip veil was attached to a small satin cap. With her white Bible she carried a purple throated orchid attached to a shower of stephanotis blossoms.

Dressed in graduating shades of pink and carrying matching bouquets of roses, her attendants were Miss Vera Jo Parrish, Mrs. Will Robb and Mrs. Acy Evans.

The bridegroom's cousin, J. V. Henry, was his best man and ushers were Claud Henry and Billy Joe Waggon.

The pink and white theme of the wedding was continued in the appointments at the reception in the church parlor which followed the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. Lile Hendricks, Mrs. Oscar Duke, Mrs. Ike Hibbett and Mrs. Fred Winslett.

When Mr. and Mrs. Henry left for their wedding trip the bride was wearing blue sheer wool with matching hat. Her accessories were black patent and her corsage was the orchid from her bouquet.

They will be at home upon their return at 601 East Tombigbee Street, Florence.

Taylor-Haddock Vows To Be April Event

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Albert Taylor, 203 Main Street, Florence, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Ann, to Hulien H. Haddock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keevle Haddock, Route Four, Florence.

Sacony makes you the star when you step out in this superbly cut costume. The beautifully fitted jacket has its own taffeta scarf emerging from the rhinestone-tabbed collar. The slim hipline is accented by dressmaker-detailed insert pockets. The column-slim skirt has a back pleat for walking ease. The rich fabric is softly gleaming ribbed faille of Arnel and acetate.

THE SPILLWAY

SURE HOPE YOU have not . . . as we . . . Missed the "r" and hit the "t" . . . Addressing some fat blister As "Mt." instead of "Mr."

ETC . . . ETC . . . WE REALLY haven't done exactly that . . . 'tho we do make errors and we always regret 'em . . . Excuse . . . please . . .

WONDERFUL . . . WONDERFUL Springtime . . . And bits of the very most pleasant news float to us on the Spring breezes . . . F'rinstance . . . there's the approaching retirement of Tommy Ashcraft (Captain . . . USN) . . . and his plan to bring charming (wife) Jean here where they will henceforth live in our midst . . . They hope to be domiciled on the shores of beautiful Lake Wilson during the Summer months . . . with the possibility of permanency in that locality . . . July 15 is the date our little bird has given us . . . and we look forward with much pleasure . . .

TEXAS SCORES AGAIN . . . A gent from the direction of the setting sun has won the hand and affection of a sort of recent addition to our most interesting and admired group of career girls . . . A romance "for the book" is that which greeted Claudia Thomas when she set foot on home soil after her years in Europe where she was a teacher of American children sojourning "over-there" with their parents . . . A geologist who travels in his private plane . . . Claudia will take to the "Wild blue" with him soon in order to get to know her in-laws-to-be in Houston . . . her future home . . . Our best wishes and happy landings all along the way are thoughts in the hearts of a host of Florence friends . . .

OUR HORN BLOWER . . . Atlanta's swank cocktail salon's gain is our loss . . . If you've been missing "Chigger" Parrish and his tenebrous group from these diggings . . . it's all because he's gone high-hat on us and from now on you'll be hearin' of the fame of TOMMY MARTIN and his RHYTHM MAKERS . . . Chigger's new nomenclature . . . which we hear is working like magic and that he's in great demand in that great big Georgia city . . . Luck to you . . . boy . . . Our eyes are on ya . . .

MAGIC WAND has been waved . . . we hear . . . over the handsome head of Florence's Ray Campbell . . . who flies in and out of babylands the country over . . . taking pictures for the Infants (???) Wear Department of a local store . . . We're told our Peter Pan will soon be winging his way to Brussels for a look-see at the World's Fair 1958 version . . . We can hardly wait for his return to get a local viewing of his seeing sights . . .

MOST ANY OLE day now you may run into us doing ourselves proud at the bridge-tables of our three towns . . . We're told that Edna Arnold and Mamie Conner can teach us the right technique . . . that many who've rated themselves among the best are setting pointers from these two experts of the game who can bring home a slam contract with two aces off-side . . . See you across the table . . . girls . . .

THE VERY NEXT plane to rattle those topmost branches of your backyard maples may be coming over from Clifton . . . Tennessee . . . Tom Frank Hassell's new air-buggy is due to arrive soon and we're polishing up our dark glasses to be ready for the first squint . . .

ANOTHER PIECE of Hassell news is that Billie and Frank will leave soon for Augusta . . . Georgia . . . to be in the gallery when the big golf tournament takes place . . . and they have accepted an invitation to "tea" at President Ike's cottage which will be occupied for the duration by their friends . . .

LOOKING BACK THROUGH recent Birmingham Post-Heralds we find we missed seeing the account of the Grand Pledger nuptials . . . an event of late last month . . . It was nice to read about Frances Easley Pledger . . . mother of the bride . . . about Lucile Summerhill of 443 North Cypress . . . a guest . . . as was Carless Summerhill Hughes who served the bride's cake . . . The bride . . . as Sarah Anne Pledger . . . will be remembered by many of us who have known her on her visits to Florence . . . She is now the wife of (the Reverend) Lawrence Gordon Crane and they are at home in Chattanooga . . .

MUCH ENTERTAINING AND buzzing about as the visit of Agnes Noyes Preston of Charleston . . . West Virginia . . . delights friends and relatives . . . She just never stays long enough for us to see her often enough . . . 's our complaint . . .

HOPE WE MEET at Nell and Albert Alexander's "open house" come Sunday . . . And we can hardly wait to see old friends at the FSC Alum Breakfast at the Tutwiler during our AEA holiday . . .

AND NOW . . . CHEERIO and goodby . . . until more news comes through The Spillway . . .

Social

Bridal Parties For Miss Carolyn Griffin

A compliment to bride-elect Carolyn Griffin was the evening party to which Mrs. Joe Brewer and her mother, Mrs. C. O. Miller, were hostesses on Friday, March seventh, at the Miller home on Randolph Court.

Pink and white were the party colors with blossoms in the chosen shades decorating the rooms and centering the refreshment table where candlelight reflected against the milk glass appointments.

Gifts were stacked 'neath a pink parasol, brought by the twenty mothers and daughters included in the hospitality.

The next afternoon The Town Club was the setting to which Mrs. T. E. Oppenheim and her daughter, Mrs. John Carter, invited Miss Griffin and her friends to tea.

Mother of the bridegroom-to-be Mrs. M. S. Stringer presided at the feast graced by a silver bowl of pink carnations and white statice.

Others assisting were Mrs. Herbert Miller and Mrs. Philip Arelio. Guests numbered about twenty-five.

On Tuesday evening, March 11, the Simmons home on Monticello Road, Hickory Hills, was the setting for another courtesy in honor of this popular bride-to-be when Mrs. W. E. Dodson and her daughter, Mrs. Robert Simmons entertained.

A bride doll against a fan-shaped arrangement of gladioli decorated the diningroom sideboard and pink and white carnations with clusters of pink grapes filled a silver bowl on the candlelight serving table.

Assisting with the amenities for the fifty guests who called during party hours were Mrs. Reed Cox, Mrs. Kenneth Griffin, Mrs. Thomas Cochran, Mrs. Conrad Joiner and Miss Adele Jackson.

Informal Supper For Bridal Attendants

African violets centered the table when Joan Bobo, now Mrs. James Edward Hall, entertained her wedding attendants with an informal supper party on Tuesday evening, March eleventh. Spring blossoms made festive the rooms of the family home on Cypress Mill Road where the guests gathered.

Present were Miss Lois Lumpkin, Miss Grace Mays, Miss Glenda Nelson, Ann Cook and Jane Bobo, Mrs. Ann Cook, mother of the bridegroom-to-be and Mrs. H. L. Bobo, mother of the bride.

March Meeting Of Music Study Club

Mrs. Lee Marks was program leader for the meeting of Florence Music Study Club which convened at Trinity Parish House on Saturday, March 8. Mrs. Jack Gonce gave a paper on German Composers and Mrs. E. G. Mullen made a talk on Eleanor Steber prior to her appearance on the Muscle Shoals Concert Series Thursday evening. Vocal and piano numbers were by Miss Louise Mays, Miss Myrtle Roberts and Mrs. Brose Dixon. Mrs. George Fogleman, Mrs. R. J. Baker.

Hostesses for the social hour were Mrs. E. F. Case, Mrs. L. S. Doster, Mrs. Earl Beasley, Mrs. S. M. Harrison, Mrs. Julian Nance and Mrs. W. M. Holland.

Berean Club

Petty Home

Mrs. Herbert Pinder gave the program when Berean Club met on Tuesday, March 11, at the home of Mrs. T. M. Petty on Cypress Mill Road, continuing the presentation of Paul's Letters.

Mrs. James Beadle will be the club's representative when the Family Life Conference meets. Coffee was served before adjournment.

Garden Clubs Has Monthly Meeting

Norwood Park Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. S. B. Carpenter with Mrs. Ed Hannah and Mrs. R. G. Davidson serving as co-hostesses.

An entertaining program was presented by Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Hessington who showed slides of Texas and California gardens to members and one guest, Mrs. Robert Davidson.

A tea hour was featured at the conclusion of the meeting.

Discussion Club

Mrs. Rogers' Home

A delightful prelude to last Thursday evening's Eleanor Steber concert was the afternoon program given for Discussion Club members by guest speaker, Mrs. Wayne Christeson. Choosing "Opera" for her subject she sketched briefly its history and gave interesting details of the works of Mozart, Wagner, Verdi and Puccini. Mrs. Albert S. Johnstone accompanied Mrs. Christeson at the piano as she presented vocal selections to conclude her remarks.

In the absence of Mrs. R. T. Simpson Johnson, president, Mrs. Henry Lamar was in charge of a short period of business.

Hostesses were Mrs. T. M. Rogers and Mrs. J. O. Dabney and guests for the occasion other than club members were Mrs. Emerson Lucas, Mrs. H. H. Floyd, Mrs. Walker Thomas, Miss Faye McKinley and Mrs. Elizabeth McCone.

Party plates were served from the testable by Mrs. Lamar and Mrs. J. B. Bailes.

Mrs. Horsfield Is Florence Club Hostess

Welcoming guests at her home on South Locust Street Mrs. Basil Horsfield entertained members of Florence Club last Thursday afternoon. Miss Orpha Ann Culmer, a guest, was program leader for the afternoon, giving a review of "The Woman in the Hall" by G. B. Sterne. Interest was added to the book's content as characterizations were portrayed in delightful dialect presented in inimitable style.

Mrs. E. L. Stickney of Sheffield and Mrs. James Roberts were also guests for the program and the refreshment hour when Mrs. A. J. Darby and Mrs. F. A. Nolan assisted the hostess in serving.

Arriving home on Saturday, March 29, from Lindenwood College, for spring vacation will be Miss Betty Darnall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gerber, 444 N. Wood Ave., and Miss Martha Jean Hensley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hensley, 2244 Chisholm Road. Miss Darnall will have as her house guest, a classmate, Miss Gail Holzer, of Duluth, Minn.

After a few days spent with family members in Florence, Dr. William F. Simpson has returned to his home in Birmingham.

Mrs. Carey V. Stabler arrived on the 11th from her home in Little Rock, Ark., for a visit in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Henry W. Cheney before going to Birmingham and South Alabama where she will remain for a longer stay.

Dr. Wyatt C. Simpson is a surgical patient at Eliza Coffee Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Simpson and the children will be at the Walter S. Bell home on Jackson Road for the next two weeks with the Bells occupying the Simpson's lakeside home.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Duke have returned from a two-week's stay in New York.

Guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Phillips at their home on College Street is their daughter, Mrs. Alma Darby Phillips of San Francisco.

After a visit to her sister, Mrs. Conrad Stutts, and Mr. Stutts, in Chattanooga, Mrs. Ruby Howard has returned to her home.

Miss Janet Erskine has returned from several months spent in Florida to be with her niece, Mrs. Frank Irvine, at her home on Jackson Road. She was accompanied by her recent hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Erskine, who stopped here briefly before going on to Memphis.

For those who think that Shakespeare is dull and boring, and for those who find him interesting but hard to interpret sometimes, there is a new book at Collier Library—

"Shakespeare's Bawdy." According to Eric Patridge, the author, its purpose is to help the reader to be "sufficiently versed in Shakespearean cant and slang and colloquialism to know that a pun has been made or a double-entendre intended." Sounds promising. Monday and Tuesday, FSC was host to Mr. Norman Cousins, editor of the "Saturday Review." NON-RESIDENT NOTICE THE STATE OF ALABAMA, Lauderdale County.

James Edward Crum, Complainant
vs.
Elsie Crum, Respondent
In the Law and Equity Court at Florence

In this cause it is made to appear to the Ex-Officio Register, by the affidavit of James Edward Crum that the respondent, Elsie Crum, is a non-resident of the State of Alabama and that her place of residence is unknown and cannot be ascertained after reasonable effort, and further, that in the belief of said affiant, the respondent, Elsie Crum, is over the age of twenty-one years.

It is therefore ordered by the Ex-Officio Register that publication be made in the Florence Herald, a newspaper published in Florence, Alabama once a week

Conference at Bandung, Indonesia (1955), the Korean War (1951), the Berlin Air Lift (1948), and the atomic test explosions at Bikini, gave a talk Monday night entitled "Who Speaks for Man?"

In addition to his talk Monday evening, Mr. Cousins spoke before three other gatherings. I have talked with a number of people who heard him and they all—faculty and students—found his talk very profitable.

Wednesday and Thursday the incoming freshmen spent hours on end answering questions and working problems that will tell them how bright they are. It really isn't that bad; actually, they were just taking the inevitable freshman tests—they're usually quite harmless.

Thursday the sophomores underwent a testing program that wasn't quite so harmless; the results of the sophomore proficiency tests form the basis for the decision as to whether more English needs to be included in the student's curriculum.

Thursday evening FSC was guest at the last concert of the season. Thanks to the Muscle Shoals Concert Association and the Convocations Committee over 300 tickets were made available to Florence State students and faculty.

Thursday, in the fourth and last presentation, Eleanor Steber, Metropolitan soprano, sang selections varying from operatic arias to ballads. One of the best received pieces was one of her encores, "Summertime," from the opera, "Porgy and Bess."

Friday afternoon I spent nearly an hour in the gym looking at science exhibits and just watching people. The science fair seems to have been a success; there was quite a crowd. In fact, I understand that there was such a big crowd that squeezing them all in was a real problem.

The Rehearsal Club has been working overtime rehearsing the two spring plays at the same time. The first, G. B. Shaw's "Candida," will open in the last part of April followed in three weeks by Jean Anouilh's "Ring Around the Moon."

I haven't been over to the field to watch the football team practice, but according to the sports editor of the "Flo-Ala" things look pretty good.

Methodist Attend E. T. I.
For the past week a subdistrict E. T. I. training program has been conducted at the Lexington Methodist Church, directed by Rev. Franklin Phillips, pastor.

Eleven churches participated in the week's study with classes for all age groups led by Dr. James Harris, Florence; Rev. O. M. Ryan, Weeden Heights; Rev. Tom Lee, Hackleburg; Rev. Chester Dobbs, Oakland; Rev. George Eady, Rogersville, and Rev. M. L. Gunning, Central.

The program was concluded with a banquet on Friday evening, the speaker, Rev. Bert Goodwin, Sheffield, closing with a communion service.

Church Of God
On Tuesday evening Bro. Bryon Chew showed films of the mission station in Tachikawa, Japan, supported by the Florida Avenue Church of God, Tampa, Fla., whose missionaries are Phillip and Phyllis Kinley.

On Sunday Bro. Gerald Harris plans to use for his morning subject, "Where Do We Go From Here?" This will follow a series of revival services.

Pastors Meet
The Rogersville Pastors Association met on Monday with Rev. George Eady presiding.

Plans for the joint service on Sunday, March 30, at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church met with the Goodsprings Church, on Tuesday and Wednesday of which Rev. Talmadge Bright is pastor.

The morning message was brought by the retiring moderator, Rev. Robert Forrester. The Rev. Tom Bright of Cullman was the newly elected moderator and presided over the remaining sessions.

In the evening Rev. Raymond Broyles of Sheffield Mission brought the consecration message. Bro. E. C. Sheppard of Nebo and Springfield was in charge of the communion service.

During the men's meeting on Tuesday the Women's Auxiliary presided over by Mrs. Roy Phillips of the Springfield church. Serving as secretary is Mrs. Cleta Rickard of Center Star. The Rev.

Forrester gave the opening devotional for the women's meeting. W. M. S.

Mrs. Captola Greer entertained the Goodsprings Cumberland Presbyterian Missionary Society at her home when it met on Thursday evening.

In charge of the program, "Who Is My Neighbor?", was Mrs. Omie Yokum who also gave the devotional.

A refreshment was served.

Garden Club
The St. Patrick's Day motif was in evidence at the home of Mrs. Leo King on Thursday when she entertained the Rogersville Garden Club.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. J. R. Roberson and as the secretary, Mrs. Essie Goad, called the roll a helpful garden hint was given.

"Famous Gardens Of The World" was the study given by Mrs. Reynolds Thornton, from which she chose the more familiar Bellingrath Gardens, telling the origin, naming the shrubs and flowers in bloom at different seasons and the plans that had been made for the public to continue to enjoy its indescribable beauty through future generations. Colorful pictures of the garden were shown and members who had visited it made interesting comments. Mrs. Buford Mitchum assisted the hostess in serving a dessert course.

Civilians Meet
The fifth and sixth to relate the tragic as well as the comic events in their lives, which is proving a most interesting series, were G. A. Mills, one of the high school teachers, and Bobby Beddingfield, a new civilian.

For this program the Civilians met at the Rogersville School cafeteria for dinner, business and program on Tuesday evening with the president, Hudson Covington, in charge.

Surprise Dinner
Fifteen of the neighbors of Mrs. Em Slaton gathered at her home on Thursday with dishes of delicious food, a birthday cake and gifts to help her celebrate a birthday anniversary.

Mr. Slaton, who has been confined to his bed for several months, enjoyed the surprise as much as did Mrs. Slaton.

H. D. Club Meets
Mrs. Kelm Weather's gave the devotional opening the meeting of the North Rogersville Home Demonstration Club at her home on Friday afternoon. As she concluded the devotional Mrs. Van Grigby, posing as an Irish neighbor unaware that a meeting was in progress, burst into the room with a badly yellowed skirt, saying that all good Irishmen would be marching and her husband would have the yellowest shirt in the parade, but she had heard that there was a woman in the county who knew how to get clothes white. Mrs. Weather told her that Miss Prickett was there to demonstrate to the women "Laundry And Hard Water Problems," thus turning the meeting over to Miss Fariss Prickett for the helpful demonstration.

During the business session Mrs. Kelm Weather was elected to serve as president; Mrs. Odell Howard, vice-president; Mrs. Obia Kelley, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Van Grigby and Mrs. J. A. Waddell were selected to attend the leadership meeting in Florence on April 18, "Jams Without Cooking."

Mrs. Obia Kelley and Mrs. S. L. Spry joined the club, making a membership of ten. The next meeting to be on April 8 at the home of Mrs. Odell Howard.

P. T. A.
At 7:30 tonight in the high school auditorium Miss Louise Comer and Mrs. Mamie Jones will discuss "Special Education" at the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association. Officers for 1958-59 will also be elected. Be sure to attend.

Scout Meeting
At the Methodist Church on Friday evening at 7 Mr. Hunt, who is the field representative for Scouts, will meet with all interested parents for the purpose of organizing a Cub Pack.

Farm Homes Register Big Gains
Luxury, Labor-Saving Installations

In 1941, an average farm family spent only $155 for medical care. Fourteen years later—1955—this expenditure had risen to $235.

On the basis of amount spent, this represents the greatest gain in farm living standards, according to a report released recently by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Institute of Home Economics. It was in the medical expenses category, too, that farm families approached the closest to city levels of spending.

Here are some other comparisons made in the report. In 1940, only 33 per cent of farm households had electricity; 18 per cent had piped running water, and 15 per cent had mechanical refrigerators. By 1955, these per centages had risen to 94 for electricity, 84 for piped running water and 90 for mechanical refrigerators.

SEAWORTHY COTTON IN MANY FORMS

Each time the luxury liner S. S. United States puts out to sea, she carries with her more than 500 bales of cotton.

Actually, the cotton is not in bale form. It is in a wide variety of products aboard the ship—upholstery, bedding, tarpaulins, canvas, toweling, and even chef's caps. One cotton item is 50 yards of black cotton velvet coverings for the life lines! The superliner uses an estimated 330 bales of American cotton in sheets and pillowcases alone.

Achievement Is '58 Goal For 4-H
Twelve Scholarships To Be Awarded Plus Trip To 4-H Club Congress

Achievement is the goal of every 4-H Club member in the state. Whether it be in raising chickens, growing crops, making a dress, or baking a loaf of bread the boys and girls want to "make the best better," which is the 4-H way.

Again this year, members will have an opportunity to enter their records of accomplishments in the national 4-H Achievement program, according to the State 4-H Club leader. The 4-Hers will be judged on project achievement, and on leadership, personal development, and community service as well.

Club members entering their records in the achievement program, will vie for valuable awards provided by the Ford Motor Co. Six boys and six girls chosen for national honors will each receive a $400 college scholarship plus a trip to the 1958 National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, No. 30 - Dec. 4. The state winner will also go to the Congress with all-expenses paid. A blue award group of four in each county will be given the gold-filled medal of honor.

During the National 4-H Congress the top achievement boy and girl in the nation will be selected for special honors, and each will be presented with a beautiful silver trophy, an award from the President of the United States.

To be eligible for state and national honors, members must be 14 years old and have satisfactorily completed three years of 4-H Club work, according to the State Extension office. Further information may be obtained from local 4-H leaders, and the County Extension agent.

Posters, Snapshots May Win Prizes

Cash Awards Offered Students All Grades By Family Life Group

Two separate contests, for posters and snapshots of family activities, are being sponsored by Family Life Conference committees to promote public interest and attendance at the conference Meeting April 22-23.

First of five weekly snapshot contests, open to adults and children alike, will end Saturday, (March 15) The photos will be judged primarily on subject matter, which should concern some family activity based on the conference theme, "Family Living in our Changing Community," according to Mrs. Frank Pride, contest chairman. Entries may be mailed to "Snapshot Contest," post office box 773, Sheffield, Alabama.

The poster contest has been launched in city and county schools of the area. Prizes of five dollars each will be awarded winners from Grade Schools, Junior High Schools, and Senior High Schools, the judging to be based on originality, attractiveness, and subject matter. Closing date will be April 8.

Prize-winning posters and those receiving honorable mention will be displayed in downtown stores of the Tri-Cities and at the conference meetings.

Depicting family activities, the posters, on standard-size poster board, are to urge participation of the public in conference sessions. They are to be turned in at the individual schools, where they will be collected by the judges.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
How spiritual perception of God's power brings freedom from bondage to materialism will be a topic dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday. Keynoting the lesson-sermon on "Matter" is the Golden Text from I John (2:16): "All that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world."

THE BOSS

The answer to the secretary's biggest problem!

It's easy for the girl who knows shorthand to get a good job with good pay nowadays. But with lunches and shoes and shower presents so expensive, it's harder than ever for her to save.

That's why so many working girls are investing in Savings Bonds on the Payroll Savings Plan. Once you tell your pay office how much you want to save each payday, you can relax and know that your saving is being done for you. Automatically your money will go into safe and sure U. S. Series E Savings Bonds.

And now every U. S. Series E Bond bought since February 1, 1957 pays a new, higher interest — 3 1/4% when held to maturity! It matures faster, too, in only 8 years and 11 months. And redemption values are higher, especially in the earlier years.

Is your boss a handsome bachelor? Is he considerate? Have a sense of humor? If so, marry him quick. If not, it makes good sense to invest your hard-earned dollars in Savings Bonds. Then you can make a lot of good things come your way. Like a trip to Europe. Or a car of your own. (And if a man happens along, too — so much the better. You'll need extra money then for things like feminine frills and frying pans.)

So start investing today in Savings Bonds — either on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or regularly where you bank.
