

The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

Throughout the current political campaign, we have attempted a study of the candidates for governor in an effort to determine in our own mind the one best qualified to meet the exacting demands that would be made upon him, should he be elected the state's chief executive. We paid no attention to the promises made, either wild or reasonable, but, instead, studied their records, their backgrounds and their environments. Promises made in the heat of a political campaign, we reasoned, mean little in comparison with the indelible marks made in the everyday recordings of a career. When we summed up all information available, our course was clear. Jimmy Faulkner more nearly answered the high standard we had set for our next Governor, and therefore he will get our vote.

On what did we base our decision? The answer is a simple one. We found in Jimmy Faulkner's record a successful business career. Sound business experience and judgement, we need on Capitol Hill. We found, too, a record as State Senator that was most commendable. Interested as we are in the betterment of all educational advancements, we found that Faulkner had championed the cause of education in the State Senate and since has been a leader in the fight for this cause. Then, too, we found that as a product of North Alabama and, during the latter half of his life, a resident of Baldwin County, he knows the handicap that improper and unfair representation in the State Legislature presents. He has fought for reapportionment (it is not merely a political catch-line with him) and the record proves that he will continue this fight. We believe strongly that reapportionment is long over due. We like Faulkner's record on many other basic problems facing us in Lauderdale County and the state as a whole and—on his record—we cast our lot with Jimmy Faulkner.

To many Florence voters, the ballot to be voted on Tuesday concerning the question of fluoridation of the city's water supply is of equal or more importance than the local or state-wide election. The controversy has raged for the past several years but now will be brought to culmination by the vote of the people. The question has been sufficiently aired, we believe, and the recommendation of the Lauderdale County Medical-Social Fluoridation is safe and sound and a distinct advantage to the dental health of our youngsters, should certainly be sufficient to assure the passage of the proposal. We urge the approval of this program. (Letter from the medical society appears elsewhere in this issue.)

And speaking of elections, we are reminded of the gangling youth who walked into the office of the clerk of the probate court and announced he wanted a marriage license. "Certainly," said the clerk. "Where is the bride-elect?" "What do you mean, bride-elect?" asked the youngster. "There was no election—this gal appointed herself."

The grandfather was telling the youngest tales of the old West and how Billy the Kid had killed 21 men by the time he was 21-years-old. "Gosh, Grandpop," said the boy, "what kind of a car did he drive, anyway?"

There's a sign in a certain tavern not too far distant that reads: "Recommended by Drunken Heinz."

Good advice to any of you who find yourselves in a political discussion: "It is always better to keep your words soft and sweet—you may wind up eating them."

Even though some of your fondest dreams fail to materialize, you can be thankful that many of your nightmares don't come true either. (This is written with the thought in mind of a conversation we had recently with Attorney Bob Cox.)

There are three kinds of people in this world of ours: those who make things happen, those who watch things happen, and those who have no idea what is happening.

The sweet young thing, recently married to a prizefighter, was asked how she liked being married to a man engaged in such a vocation. "It's just wonderful," she gushed, "and so exciting. After every fight he comes home looking like a different person." (He must be fighting Sugar Ray Robinson.)

Unable to get experienced help, the farmer applied to the employment agency for a hand. The agency sent out a young man who claimed to be an experienced farm hand. The next day the farmer went out to the barn to see how things were going and was shocked to find the hired hand forcing a cow to drink a pail of milk. "Here, what are you doing, you dang fool?" exclaimed the farmer. "Well," replied the young man, "this stupid cow stepped in it and got it so dirty I'm running it through again."

HE HAD A GRUDGE—Louis Felipe Marrero, 24-year-old father of two, is shown in the Falsington, Pa., police headquarters, waiting to be extradited to New Jersey where he'll face charges of shooting three nuns at a Trenton convent. "I wanted to kill some nuns and priests," said Marrero, who added that he had a grudge against the Roman Catholic Church because prominent churchmen disregarded his revision of the Bible and suggestion that religious medals be struck especially for spacemen. After wounding the nuns, Marrero shot it out with local police and then escaped to Pennsylvania where he was later apprehended.

Record Political Crowd Greet Jimmy Faulkner

Leading Candidate For State's Top Post Cheered Repeatedly

The largest crowd ever to greet a gubernatorial candidate in Florence crowded before the courthouse Tuesday night to hear Jimmy Faulkner, leading candidate for the state's top post, to give him and his whirlwind caravan a rousing send-off. Experienced political observers estimated the crowd at upward of 4,000 as the final week's campaign got off to an enthusiastic start.

"It's a thrilling experience to face such a large and enthusiastic audience," Jimmy Faulkner said to his friends after his talk. One observer remarked: "It's the biggest crowd I've seen in Florence since Barnum and Bailey and Tom Hefflin."

Part of the crowd was made up of some of the Faulkner volunteer workers who came to Florence for the start of the state-wide caravan Wednesday morning, when approximately 400 automobiles lined up on the outskirts of Florence on the first leg of a 50-odd stop swing through the state.

The starting point had to be moved out of town three miles to make room for the cars. George Limbaugh, of Childersburg, the caravan chairman, said that more than 1,000 automobiles will take part in the caravan by the time it goes to South Alabama and back to Birmingham for a big state-wide rally Saturday night.

Limbaugh said the caravan will be 30 miles long at various stages of the journey.

In his caravan kickoff speech, Faulkner outlined his plan to bring "More Pocket Dollars" to the people of Alabama if he is elected governor May 6.

He also pledged his strong support for the TVA, promised the old folks $50, a month pensions, said he will fight for reapportionment of the Legislature, will help obtain new industries, will help farmers earn more money, and will maintain segregation in Alabama schools.

"I have been interested in TVA ever since its inception 25 years ago," Faulkner said. "And I want to tell you that when I am your governor I will fight for you people day and night to see that you people enjoy the benefits of TVA," he pledged.

"I do not want to take undue credit and I am not doing so, but four years ago when I ran for governor I was the first person to ever advocate the building of inland docks on the Tennessee River. I am delighted to see that that idea has grown to the extent that we now have a fine inland docks program under way, thanks to the $10 million bond issue passed last December," Faulkner remarked.

"When I am governor I will do everything within my power to see that this fine program is carried out to a successful completion, because in doing so it will attract new industries to the state, thereby giving more people jobs and giving them more pocket dollars," he added.

"I was born on the fresh waters of North Alabama, over in Lamar County, and after living there for 21 years I moved to the salt waters of South Alabama, down at Bay Minette, where I have lived for the last 21 years," Faulkner stated.

"It has always been my dream to see these two bodies of water connected with a shipping channel, and when I am governor I will cooperate with our congressmen and senators, other governors and anybody who can do us some good to see that the great Tennessee River and the Tombigbee River are interconnected with a great shipping channel that will cause the State of Alabama to prosper." Estimated 12,000 Lauderdale Voters To Ballot Tuesday

Spirited County Contests, Campaign For Governor Should Boost Turn-out

An estimated 12,000 or more Lauderdale Countians are expected to go to the polls in the Democratic primary Tuesday, when a ballot containing the names of more than 90 candidates for state, district and county office will be presented to them.

And in Florence, voters will express their opinion on the fluoridate-or-not-to-fluoridate question which has again become a hot issue.

BE SURE TO VOTE

On Tuesday the citizens of Alabama will go to the polls to exercise that most sacred of privileges . . . the ballot. It is the one thing a man may call his own, the one thing he may do with as he pleases. It is his heritage, bought with the courage and the sacrifice of his forefathers and cherished by generations of the past as emblematic of the hope of generations yet unborn. To fail to vote is to fail freedom and those who stand for freedom.

On Tuesday, May 6, go to the polls and vote your choice. Take no issue with your neighbor because his choice may be different from yours but rejoice that he, as well as you, have the right to make a choice. In many countries today that right is denied . . . there is no choice. Remember that when you go to the polls and GO PROUDLY.

sue. However, this balloting, authorized last week by the city commission, will be only an advisory vote, and not binding on the commission.

All seasoned political observers agree that the vote in the city and county this year would top that of 1954, when less than 10,000 were cast. They point to an actual larger 1958 voter registration, which this year is above 16,000, although four years ago there were more than 17,000 names on the poll list.

Many of those, however, were erased when voter re-identification was required in 1955, an action that removed the names of many dead persons still on the poll list and eliminated those still carried as voters here although they had moved elsewhere. And, it is pointed out, new voter registration has been on the increase.

Another factor indicating a large turn-out of voters Tuesday is the presence of two contests for top local offices—Probate Judge and Sheriff. These spirited campaigns for two places on the Court of Commissioners, two seats on the Board of Education and Judge of the Law and Equity Court, and predictions of a 12,000-plus vote seem justified.

The governor's race, which drew more ballots than the Lauderdale sheriff's race four years ago, may also pull more attention this time. All the top contenders and virtually all the minor candidates in the 14-man contest have visited the city and county once or more, and have their partisans.

Elbert Daly, Register in Chancery and in charge of absentee balloting in Lauderdale, said that to mid-afternoon Wednesday 162 votes had been cast with his office. Closing time today is deadline for absentee voting.

CENTRAL SENIORS PRESENT PLAY TUESDAY EVENING

"Mr. Bean From Lima" is the title of the play being presented by the senior class of Central High School in the auditorium Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church Tuesday condemned racial segregation on a broad front. Tempers flared during the debate that some thought might cause a withdrawal of some Deep South churches from the assembly. The vote was 288-124. The majority report stated: "The Christian conscience cannot rest content with any legal or compulsive arrangement that brands any people as inferior; which denies them the full right of citizenship on the ground of race, color or social status."

One of the hottest legislative battles in recent months was in prospect this week as the House started work Wednesday on the problem of extending jobless benefits. Democratic forces under the leadership of Rep. Ford and (D-R) are backing a measure to pay federal jobless grants to the vast majority of the nation's five million unemployed. The issue was expected to narrow down however to temporary unemployment relief loans to the states as proposed by the White House.

A report circulated in Washington Wednesday said the U. S. was about to begin a concerted campaign of friendly relations with Egypt's President Nasser. It would start, the report said, with the U. S. unfreezing $30 million of blocked Egyptian funds seized after Nasser grabbed the Suez waterway 20 months ago.

One source indicated that there is a definite shift away from a public works program as a cure for unemployment in favor of general tax reductions to bolster employment.

It is a foregone conclusion that Congress must come up with some sort of a tax bill before June 30 since that is the time for several

Wheat Acreage Quota Hard On Local Growers

Alabama Is Declared Commercial Wheat State By Department

According to records of the Department of Agriculture ninety percent of the wheat growers of Alabama grow 15 acres or wheat or less and hence do not come under the wheat acreage quotas. The state's total allotment for the 1958-59 year is only 30,138 acres.

In Lauderdale County, one of the hardest hit, L. H. Rickard, county ASC office manager, estimated the majority of farmers in the county plant less than the minimum of 15 acres but there are a number who plant 500 to 600 acres and who would be hit hard.

Representative Robert E. Jones released information recently that under the provisions of the 1938 Farm Act any state that plants 25,000 acres of wheat or more becomes a commercial wheat growing state. More than that amount has been planted locally in the two counties of Lauderdale and Colbert, it was reported. Jones led a fight last session against Alabama being placed under wheat acreage allotments for wheat planted in the 1957-58 year. This permitted farmers in Alabama to continue to grow wheat with quotas through the 1958 crop year.

Widow Files Suit Against City, Chief

Mrs. Cole Asks Damages Of $125,000 In Death Of Officer-Husband

The widow of a former Florence policeman who died of a heart attack while on duty March 7 has filed suit in circuit court here asking $125,000 damages for his death.

An attorney for Mrs. Rometa Hardeman Cole entered the suit here Wednesday, and named the City of Florence and Police Chief Noah Danley as defendants. She is represented by Sidney H. Hite.

The complaint alleges that Chief Danley, knowing her husband, Police Officer William Douglas Cole, was afflicted with a severe heart condition, ordered him to work in a patrol car, which was hazardous to the officer. Mrs. Cole asserts that Danley knew her husband had suffered one heart attack and should have known that assignment to the patrol car would endanger his life or health.

The complaint also alleges that when Danley assigned her husband to duty in the car the chief assured Cole it would be of a light nature, but later threatened the officer with discharge if he did not take it.

Other counts in the suit allege that Cole, while serving in the patrol car, was called on to act in an emergency involving investigation of a bloody and exciting accident.

The defendants are given 30 days in which to file an answer to Mrs. Cole's suit. She demands a trial by jury.

Previous to filing suit, Mrs. Cole had placed a claim against the city for the sum she now sues for.

Eight Nations In UN Council For Proposal

Eight nations lined up behind the United States proposal for disarmament Tuesday as UN Secretary Dag Hammarskjöld stepped out of his customary role of neutrality and spoke in behalf of President Eisenhower's arctic military inspection plan.

Hammarskjöld said he wished to welcome the initiative of the United States in submitting a proposal which might break the East-West deadlock on disarmament "from the angle of inspection."

The 11-nation council caught by surprise moved to adjourn until Friday although eight nations lined up behind the U. S. proposal. These were Britain, France, Iraq, China, Panama, Japan, Sweden, Canada, Colombia was the only nation that did not speak.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., said he hoped Russia would change its mind "in the passage of a few days."

However a statement by the Soviet delegate and a denunciation by Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Moscow indicated that the Russians would likely veto the proposal. If the veto was invoked it would kill the proposal in the Council, it was pointed out. The Soviets had recently bitterly denounced the flight of U. S. bombers over Arctic territory.

U. S. Proposal

Mr. Eisenhower in writing Khrushchev invited the Russian leader to join the United States and other Western Allies in an international inspection for the Arctic area. In a new note he appealed to the Soviets to have their technical experts work with this nation in an effort to determine what nuclear test ban controls are necessary to open the way to general disarmament.

"I am sure," the President wrote, "that with the growing capabilities in the Soviet Union and the United States of massive surprise attack, it is necessary to establish measures to avert fears."

The United States, after the Soviet complaint about the Arctic patrol of U. S. bombers, denied that they were using in any way that could be construed as provocative or threatening to the peace.

Carpenter Killed At Wilson Dam

George Edward White, 64-year-old resident of Tusculum, employed as a carpenter at Wilson Lock, was killed early Monday morning when a gravel truck backed over him and he was bending over a water fountain with his back turned to the vehicle.

A complete investigation of the accident is being conducted by officials of the Tennessee Valley Authority, it was stated.

White was a native of Lauderdale County but had lived in Colbert County for the past 11 years. Last rites were held Tuesday from Brown Service Funeral Home in Tusculum after which the body was removed to Rainey Funeral Home in Ardmore, Tenn., where burial followed in Gatlin Cemetery there.

Cave-In Causes Highway Closing

U. S. Highway 43 will remain out of use for at least two months in Colbert and Franklin counties due to the cave-in of a fill, State Highway engineer Charles Bowling, announced this week. It will take at least this long for engineers to remove a portion of the fill and rebuild it, he said.

Heavy rains Thursday and Friday night caused the West lane to slide and both lanes were closed to traffic, which has since been rerouted over the old road. Dynamite will be used to settle the base under the fill once work has progressed far enough, it was announced.

For The Benefit Of All

The hopes of many people came alive in the spring of 1933 when Congress under the leadership of Franklin Delano Roosevelt created the Tennessee Valley Authority. After more than a decade of heartbreak, frustration and shattered dreams, the dormant valley, like a sleeping giant, stirred and slowly emerged into the light of a new day.

Plickering kerosene lamps gave way to the electric light and a new era dawned for the housewife of the towns and farms. Many back-breaking chores gave way to the new magic of hydro-electric power in the form of electric irons, washing machines, refrigerators, ranges and well pumps. The man of the farm, at the flick of a switch, lighted his barn, milked his dairy herd and turned the gentle warmth of electric heat into his shiny new brooders. Yes . . . a new era had dawned, a new era for the little people of a great Valley . . . an era 20 years later called "creeping socialism."

Strangely enough this "creeping socialism" in 25 years raised the individual income in the Valley from 35 per cent of the national average to 63 per cent. The electrification of farms jumped from 3 per cent in 1933 to 95 per cent in 1958. This economic progress helped the prosperity of the entire nation by opening up a vast new market for electrical appliances, tractors, trucks, hardware, clothing and a multiplicity of products made in states outside the Valley.

Malaria, long the scourge of the southeast and as high as 98 per cent prevalent in some counties, was wiped out by this "creeping socialism," restoring to good health and usefulness many thousands of citizens.

Productivity on the farms of 31 states was increased by the research and development of TVA fertilizers, patents for these being made available to the commercial fertilizer manufacturers throughout the nation. The benefits of "creeping socialism" reached beyond the Valley once again.

For many years before "creeping socialism" the Tennessee River flooded the lowlands, damaging crops and towns along its course many millions of dollars annually. The dams and storage reservoirs of the Tennessee Valley Authority rendered these floods virtually harmless and provided a year around navigable stream for more than 600 miles. Forests were replanted, farms terraced to prevent the washing away of the top soil, and a great program of conservation was instituted that cannot be estimated in dollars and cents.

The TVA, now proven self-supporting, was not called "creeping socialism" because of these benefits but because it proved electricity could be produced cheaply enough for everyone to use it. This "yardstick" forced the price of electricity down in many states outside the Valley but it made mortal enemies of the power interests. These interests, still ruthlessly fighting TVA, inspired the label of "creeping socialism" invented by Mr. Eisenhower after his election.

It is hard to associate this label with a man who was elected by democratic processes and who pledged before his election that the benefits of TVA would be continued and the Agency protected.

However, looking back . . . we should have known.

The Forty-Eighth State

Alabama is 48th among the states in the number of physicians available to patients in its mental hospitals. This means of course that many mental patients are not receiving the care and treatment adequate to help them improve or recover.

This is Mental Health Week—a good time to consider what constitutes good mental health, for mental health is far more than the absence of mental illness.

A group of students at Birmingham-Southern College were asked to define mental health. These students offered some useful and stimulating concepts.

One listed these characteristics of good mental health: "The ability to meet and solve problems successfully; a well rounded personality; the ability to get along with others; reasonable aspirations; normal drives; regard for the needs of others; typical behavior for one's age."

Another student listed 14 "ingredients" of mental health. These included: "The ability to sympathize; the ability to face reality; recognition of limitations as well as abilities; sensitivity to the needs of others; flexibility; tolerance; a sense of responsibility."

Help is wanted. The help you and every citizen can give by supporting the vital work of your mental organization.

beyond any dreams we have ever had," Faulkner continued.

"Yes, we can have the greatest inland waterways in the State of Alabama of any in the nation and I believe the people of Alabama are inclined and determined that we have it and I am determined that we have it," Faulkner declared.

Faulkner also promised a multi-million dollar school building program as part of his program to bring the people more "Pocket Dollars."

"I am tired of going around the state seeing dilapidated school buildings and when I am governor I will not tolerate these run-down school buildings," he pledged.

Speaking on education, Faulkner also promised to maintain segregation by providing separate but equal facilities. "Our white boys and girls ain't going to school with our colored boys and girls," Faulkner remarked.

"But the people of Alabama are fair minded and fair treatment is what we are going to have. The surest and quickest way to end segregation in Alabama would be to elect a rabble-rousing demagogue as governor," he warned.

Vice President Richard Nixon Monday inaugurated an eight-nation tour of South America with a two-day visit to Uruguay. Uruguay has been one of Russia's best customers in the Western Hemisphere. Other countries on Nixon's tour include, Argentina, Paraguay, Brazil, Peru, Colombia, Ecuador, Bolivia and Venezuela.

Five paratroopers were killed and 155 injured last week when winds slammed them into trees and rocks at Ft. Campbell, Ky. Nearly 1400 men participated in the mass drop. A scheduled drop of 5,000 men was later cancelled due to intensity of ground winds.

A Jewish synagogue and a Negro school were dynamited early Monday at Jacksonville, Fla. It was the city's first outbreak of racial disorder. No one was injured but damage was estimated at $20,000 to the two buildings.

Hayes Aircraft new contracts have enabled the company to call back 2,000 of its workers laid off earlier this year. About 200 were recalled last week. The Hayes Birmingham plant employs some 7,500.

The latest try by the Navy to send a satellite into orbit with its Vanguard missile failed at Cape Canaveral, Fla., Monday when the big rocket crashed into the sea after a 1,500 mile flight. It failed to reach the speed of 18,000 miles an hour needed to put the satellite into orbit. A 20-inch sphere containing delicate instruments was carried in the nose.

The retail prices of farm food products averaged 7 per cent higher for the first quarter of this year than for the same period last year, reports released by the Department of Agriculture stated.

The United Auto Workers Union Monday offered an extension of 1958 contracts until September. General Motors, first to reject the proposal called it a "maneuver to stall current negotiations until the 1959 model changeover" . . . also that it was a move to get the union into a more powerful position to enforce its "exorbitant demands." UAW president Walter Reuther said its sole purpose was to "overcome our present economic recession and get America back to work."

George Meany, organized labor's boss, said Monday the nation is sliding into a depression. He predicted that unemployment would rise to about 6 million by June, barring some miracle. Meany cited the fact that steel production was the lowest in nine years last week.

The U. S. Court of Appeals Monday upheld a federal judge's ban against using Arkansas National Guardsmen to bar Negro children from the Little Rock Central High School. The court ruled a state government does not have the right to call out troops to suppress "rights which it is the duty of the state to defend."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

JUDGE ROBERT M. HILL BACKS AMENDMENT NO. 1

Editor: I write to urge our citizens to vote for passage of Constitutional Amendment No. 1, which our Legislature has wisely voted to submit to the people on May 6th.

This Amendment would make our present Court of Appeals the final appeal court in all criminal cases. No additional court or expense in appealing cases is involved.

Under our present system we have two appeal courts.

First, the Court of Appeals (three members) which acts upon all appeals in civil cases wherein the judgment is for $1000 or less and all criminal cases wherein the sentence to imprisonment is twenty years or less,—which, incidentally, comprises eighty-five per cent of all criminal case appeals.

Second, the Supreme Court (seven members) which handles all other appeal matters.

But the person who has been found guilty by a jury or judge or, even one who has pleaded guilty,—in these eighty-five per cent of the criminal cases appealed, may delay his case by in effect appealing to both Courts. If the first appeal court, the Court of Appeals, finds there was no error committed at this trial then a convicted defendant may get a rehearing and if this court again says he received a fair trial, then he may further delay by going to the Supreme Court and this involves another review by another appeals court and another possible rehearing. All too frequently this results in delays of months and sometimes years.

This happens also in civil cases and all too often serves to illustrate that "justice delayed is justice denied."

Appeals are expensive and frequently it is the worst type who is financially able to get this delay. No one would deny any defendant the right to appeal his case but if found guilty after a trial certified by one appeal court to have been a fair trial, he deserves and the State and its people deserve and should have a reasonably speedy disposition of the case.

Amendment No. 1 would simply make the present Court of Appeals the final court for all criminal appeals (except that in cases carrying the death sentence four members of the Supreme Court would join in the review) and makes the present Supreme Court the final appeals court in all civil cases.

The judicial profession is judged by the general public by its procedure in criminal law and procedure more so than in any other field and it is here that the judiciary, in my opinion, has fallen down the most,—by allowing delay to obstruct the orderly and reasonably speedy administration of criminal justice.

In the punishment of crime deterrence to the offender and to others lies far more in the certainty of the speed of apprehension and punishment than in the severity of the punishment or other factor. And our present dual and

There are many groups hard at work in this day of increased delinquency and crime who are earnestly seeking improvement in the criminal and corrections field. All courts should be concerned not only with the punishment of crime but with the building of good citizenship,—especially with the youthful offender. But unreasonable needless delay in disposing of criminal cases in court weakens the whole process of the handling of the delinquent and criminal offender. After trial (and an appeal if the defendant wants one) a convicted defendant may be considered for probation. In those cases merited, probation after due investigation should be granted and the defendant placed under supervision. In other cases, because of the seriousness of the crime and the community example involved or because of the defendant's background, probation should be denied and the defendant should be in such cases promptly begin service of his sentence. Then, after service of a portion of the sentence in the institution, parole may be warranted. There is a distinct field of operation for probation and parole and prison but in any event a convicted defendant should not be allowed to wear out his case and, as too often happens, make a mockery of justice.

An appeals court set-up such as here proposed has for years worked successfully in Oklahoma and Texas.

In my opinion, this bit of proposed judicial reform is clearly warranted and will improve the administration of criminal and civil justice, and I am hopeful our citizens will support it with a YES vote on May 6th.

Yours sincerely,
Robert M. Hill,
Circuit Judge,

COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY RECOMMENDS FLUORIDATION

Editor: Since the fluoridation issue will be placed before the electorate on May 6, I have been asked to state the stand that the Lauderdale County Medical Society has taken in regard to this proposal.

The dental profession has amply demonstrated that fluoridation reduces dental caries, being particularly beneficial to the teeth of children. The question that is often asked the Medical profession is—"Does fluoridation endanger the health?" This subject has been under investigation for at least 20 years. After extensive investigation, there have been no serious illnesses or consequences that have been reported in any authenticated investigation (where water is fluoridated in the manner that is proposed for Florence.) A large part of the United States now has its water supply fluoridated and it is no longer on an experimental basis. It has now been proven to be safe.

Some opponents admit the advantages of fluoridation but they object (apparently upon an emotional basis) to "mass medication." It should be pointed out that: (1) iodine is added to our table salt to protect us from goiter, (2) vitamin D is added to milk to protect us from deficiency disease (3) many other substances are added to the food and bakery products which the public consumes every day without question. Few of these substances have been as carefully investigated as has the question of fluoridation of water. Naturally, these substances, along with fluoridation will continue to be under investigation by the Medical profession as is any substance which affects the public health.

The advantages and disadvantages of fluoridation have been discussed by the members of the Medical Society after a thorough examination of the material available. They have voted on each occasion overwhelmingly in favor of the proposal. I feel that it is well for the voters to be informed before they cast their ballot on May 6th and if they know the facts, they will vote in favor of fluoridation.

Sincerely yours,
M. M. Jackson, M. D.

Robert Henry Crumby Claims Ohio Bride

Knox Presbyterian Church in Cincinnati was the setting on Saturday, April twenty-sixth, of the ceremony which united in marriage Judith Ann DeVore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ward DeVore, and Robert Henry Crumby, minister of Westminster Presbyterian Church, Florence. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Oren Crumby, formerly of Memphis, now of 720 Meridian Street, Florence.

Nuptial music preceded the vows which were repeated after the Reverend Winton H. Halsted. Wedding tapers burned in branched candelabra against a background formed of palms and ferns. Hyacinths, blue and white gladioli and pompon chrysanthemums completed the altar decoration.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white nylon organza which featured embroidered flowers about the neckline, sleeves and bordering the flounces of the very full skirt. Her veil of illusion was caught to a small cap of embroidery and with her white Bible she carried a white orchid and blue forget-me-nots.

Mrs. James Katsanis was her sister's honor attendant; bridesmaids were Miss Janet DeVore, Miss Jeannine Stegman and Mrs. Louis Hellman. Embroidery finished the deep rounded necklines of their frocks which were designed with full harem skirts and their hair bands were of matching material with blue flowers attached. Mrs. Katsanis wore white; the bridesmaids blue.

William O. Crumby, Jr., brother of the bridegroom, was best man and ushers were Mitchell Redd, Florence; Ben Lambeth, Jonesboro, Arkansas; James Gillis, James Turner, Burton Henry and William Allen, all of Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. DeVore were reception hosts immediately after the ceremony in the church parlor.

Later in the evening when the bridal couple left for a two-week's honeymoon in Virginia and Washington Mrs. Crumby wore a navy blue sheath dress with polka dot trim and a yellow tweed top coat.

Dewberry-Springer Nuptial Vows Taken

Mr. and Mrs. Homer C. Dewberry, Jr., of Oakland have announced the marriage of their daughter, Claudene, to James D. Springer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lenon Springer of Florence. The ceremony took place on April seventeenth at the home of the officiating minister, the Reverend O. M. Ryan, Weeden Heights.

They are now at home at Walnut Ridge, Arkansas.

Frederick-Burks Vows Will Be Said In June

Presaging an early summer wedding is the announcement which has been made of the approaching marriage of Patricia Ann Frederick and Charles Derl Burks, son of Mrs. Luther Burks of Florence and the late Mr. Burks.

The bride-elect, daughter of Mrs. Jean Knight Frederick of Birmingham and of Vaulter G. Frederick of Florence, was graduated from Coffee High School and is now a student at Florence State College. Her fiancé was also graduated from Coffee High School before studying at Florence State. He is now in the National Guard.

The honoree received with her hostess and her mother, Mrs. M. L. Cagle. Guests numbered about forty.

First Observance

Mayor Proclaims This As 'Law Day -- U.S.A.'

Members of the bar of Lauderdale County and thousands of lawyers throughout the United States are today marking the first observance of LAW DAY—U. S. A., and law citizens of Florence and the county have been asked to join them in its celebration.

Mayor E. F. Martin has issued a proclamation setting aside today—May 1st—for official observance of LAW DAY—U. S. A. in Florence, and special significance will be directed toward it in schools and civic organizations.

In his proclamation the mayor pointed out:

"Individual freedom under law is the birthright of all Americans. Laws and courts exist to protect every citizen, in his person and property, and in the individual rights and privileges he enjoys under our federal and state constitutions.

"It is this liberty and equality for the individual which distinguishes our system of government from communism, under which millions of people are today living in slavery. Without laws and courts the freedoms we often take for granted would be meaningless.

"This important truth is to be recognized publicly in a nationwide observance of LAW DAY—U. S. A. to be held on May 1, 1958. The citizens of Florence have been invited to participate. The observance will consist of special programs sponsored by various organizations and groups, and by the schools. Their purpose will be to focus public attention on the important part that law has played in America's growth and achievement.

"LAW DAY—U. S. A. is to be the first national celebration of its kind ever held. The present status of world affairs makes it especially fitting that our people should at this time reaffirm their faith in the rule of law and their determination to strengthen it. This is both a timely and patriotic observance emphasizing respect for law and good citizenship. It merits the support and cooperation of individuals, organizations and schools."

I SINCERELY SOLICIT YOUR VOTE AND SUPPORT

OF MY CANDIDACY FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

From District 3

IN TUESDAY'S DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY

GEORGE A. PORTER

It has been a pleasure for me to contact the voters of my District and renew acquaintances of long standing. As a native of Florence and the son of the late Probate Judge George W. Porter, I am vitally interested in the progress of our county and especially District 3.

Having been connected with the Coca-Cola Company for the past 35 years in various executive positions, I believe my business experience would be helpful in the handling of our county's business. Now retired from that work and engaged in farming on old Natchez Trace, I am in position to give the office the full time that it so rightly deserves.

I believe in Lauderdale County and its vast possibilities and trust that, by your vote Tuesday, you will give me the opportunity of being of service to you.

Cordially yours,

GEORGE A. PORTER

Let's Talk It Over
By SARA SAZE

Dear Sara Saze,
It looks like I've just settled down to worrying and it don't look like I can stop. Seems like I was a lot of help to my children and my neighbors and since my youngest married it looks like I'm about as worthless as they come. And I don't mind saying I don't like it this way.

One woman told me I need a hobby. And she started talking a lot of tomfoolery about learning to paint. I got sick listening. What I think about even in the night is when all my children were here in the house and the days weren't long enough to get through working.

Looks like the neighbors don't call on me to help out very often now.

Well, I just thought it would help some to tell how I feel. I always read what you tell other people.

A Friend.
I think you've turned one of the well-known (but not liked) corners of life and you might as well face it. It is often a distinct shock to a busy wife and mother to find herself no longer busy, and quite necessary that an adjustment be made.

I suggest that you settle down to some hard, straight thinking. You've worked and raised your children and taught them to look out for themselves. Now let them do just that. Don't ruin things by going squeamish and continuing to look back. Set your sights ahead and, if you don't like what you see, keep looking until you do. Look and plan toward doing some of the things for your grandchildren that you did for your own flock.

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT—There's no longer any doubt as to spring being here when you see a pretty girl like Florence State's Nobel Reeves, sophomore from Vernon, in a swim suit. She is this week's Lee's Loveliest at FSC.

pecting a raft of company.
Get busy, and keep that way. And the things you'll find yourself doing will be just as important for now as were those things which you did in previous years.

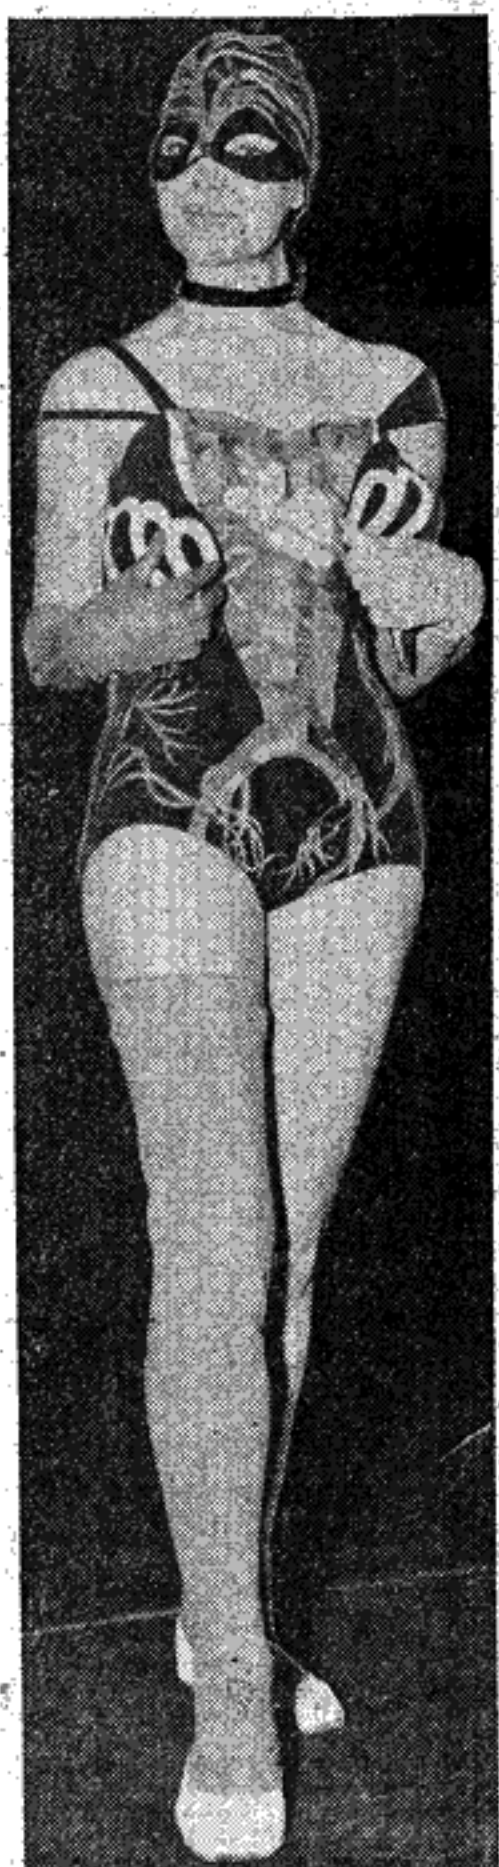

Dear Mrs. Saze,
Do you think that fearing a disease makes you susceptible to it? I have a great fear of one in particular, and I've been told many times that I'm laying myself liable to it.
But what can I do? If I started saying that I had stopped fearing this illness it would not be true. Please answer.

Dear Mame,
You've listened to a common superstition. There's no more truth to it than to the Friday-the-thirteenth balderdash.
Fear is, however, certainly an undesirable emotion, and I suggest that you make every effort to control it.

Collier Library seems to be very popular with the birds around Florence State—last week a woodpecker with inquisitive eyes and a bright red head found his way in through one of the open windows.

For the past few weeks students in freshman English have been involved in the reading of some truly fantastic science fiction. George Orwell's "1984" is different, to say the least, but it takes a strong stomach or a good deal of intestinal fortitude to read from one end of the book to the other.

Representatives from the "Flor-Ala," and the SGA went to Troy State Friday for an SGA and college journalism convention.

The "Flor-Ala" representative was Maurice Reece, the new executive editor. The Selection Committee met last week and chose Maurice, a junior from Haleyville, as next year's executive editor. Taking over as business manager will be Dwight Coffey, a Decatur freshman, and I will hold the position of associate editor.

Last week was pretty quiet—Tuesday there was a convocations program at which Dr. Dale Wom-ble spoke on "Preparations for Marriage and Family Living." Federal inspection of the ROTC was Tuesday, too; it took almost two full hours. Several of the boys came back from the drill field with sunburns.

This week, Wednesday, was Bloodmobile day, and tomorrow is the day set for the military ball—the military at Florence State surely has been busy lately.

The straw vote ballots were finally counted Wednesday—Todd came in first but he had plenty of opposition. Wyatt Earp was right in there with a write-in vote.

According to Coach H. A. Flowers, Florence State may have a golf team next year; Coach Flowers has had several conferences with Mr. Alex Sloan, golf professional at the Florence Golf and Country Club, about its organization.

The baseball team, not quite half-way through the season, has won 6 out of 8 games. The tennis team hasn't been so fortunate; only 4 out of 7 matches have ended favorably for FSC.

Outstanding Progress Of City System Cited During 25-Year Tenure

J. W. Powell's long tenure as superintendent of Florence schools was recognized by members of the Gilbert School Parent-Teacher Association at an appreciation dinner Friday evening.

Mr. Powell was praised for adhering to the basic fundamentals of elementary and secondary education as superintendent of schools, and was termed "an educator, engineer, businessman, outstanding citizen and Christian."

Mr. Powell will retire as superintendent on June 30, to be succeeded by Rufus G. Hibbett, Sr.

Wallace Visits County Monday

Speaks At Oakland, Waterloo, Lexington; Honored At Breakfast

About seventy friends of Judge George C. Wallace attended a breakfast at the Hotel Reeder Tuesday morning at seven o'clock at which time the Clayton candidate for governor spoke briefly on the highlights of his platform. He expressed his appreciation for local support and thanked his local organization for their efforts. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wallace.

Judge Wallace spoke to a large audience on Monday night at Lexington High School and earlier appeared briefly at Oakland, Waterloo and on WOWL-TV in Florence.

In his appearance here Judge Wallace reaffirmed his stand on education, segregation and other issues, and reminded his listeners of the Wallace Trade School and Wallace Industrial acts that have resulted in the employment of thousands in new industries throughout the state, the local cotton plants being the result of the latter act. He said he would, as governor, go down the line to secure new industries for Alabama.

He also spoke of his early interest in TVA and of joining Citizens for TVA and contributing to it when it was first organized. He also said he was "in favor of and vitally interested in" the proposed Tennessee-Tombigbee canal and would do all in his power as governor to aid in the continued development of the great Tennessee Valley.

MAY IS PROCLAIMED SENIOR CITIZENS' MONTH

Gov. James E. Folsom has proclaimed May as Senior Citizens' Month in Alabama and urged all Alabamians, groups, communities and public officials to combine efforts to meet "the needs of our senior citizens." Besides financial references and need for pensions, the governor urged more "special programs for the aged" and said "recreational, housing, and more employment facilities and opportunities need to be provided."

State National To Pay Dividend

Will Also Offer 18,000 Shares Of New Stock To Present Holders

A plan to increase the capital of the State National Bank to $1,500,000 and its surplus to $1,900,000 will be recommended to the stockholders of that institution by the directors at a special meeting in Decatur on May 9.

J. Stanley Wyatt, president of the bank that operates 14 branches in North Alabama with headquarters in Decatur, said the directors specifically recommended:

1. A 10 per cent stock dividend to be paid from undivided profits thus increasing the capital $120,000. This would mean a dividend of one share for each ten shares now owned, or a total of 12,000 shares.

2. The sale of 18,000 shares of additional stock, $10 par value, at $25 per share, bringing in $450,000 new capital funds reflecting a further increase of $180,000 in capital stock and $270,000 increase in the surplus account.

3. A further increase in the surplus account by the transfer of $130,000 from the undivided profit account.

On completion of the three actions will give the State National Bank a capital of $1,500,000 and surplus of $1,900,000 making total increase of $700,000 in capital and surplus accounts.

The stockholders will be asked to vote on the board's recommendations at a special meeting in Decatur on May 9. Upon approval, stockholders of record May 9th, 1958, will receive the 10 per cent

After approval by the stockholders the plan as outlined will be submitted to the Comptroller of the Currency for his approval and the effective date to be set by the comptroller.

Mr. Wyatt said: "North Alabama's tremendous economic advance has been responsible for the growth of the State National Bank and other banks in this area. To meet this advance, an increase in our capital is essential. This move will further increase the bank's lending capacity to any one individual borrower."

JOHN PATTERSON

Is Now In The Run-off for Governor

-and Leading the Field!

Polls Show It! Surveys confirm it! His record crowds definitely prove it to be true!

John Patterson has forged to the front in the closing weeks of this campaign for Governor because:

"ONLY THE PEOPLE ARE FOR PATTERSON"

The people of Alabama — not the politicians — are for fighting John Patterson because he has ACTED where others have talked and promised.

John Patterson has ACTED to ban the NAACP in Alabama. He has ACTED to knock out the loan sharks. He has ACTED to keep segregation. He has ACTED to clean up corruption. He has ACTED to eliminate abuses in Government and save taxpayers' dollars.

Citizens of our State put more faith in ACTS than promises. That's why the upsurge of the people for Patterson is certain to make him the next Governor of Alabama.

ASKS YOUR VOTE

For REPRESENTATIVE
Place No. 1

In The
State Legislature

From
LAUDERDALE COUNTY
IN TUESDAY'S PRIMARY

In seeking election as your Representative in the State Legislature, Place No. 1, it is my desire that, if honored with election, to render a distinct service to the badly needed program for Education. I have stressed my stand on this important need and will fight for more funds for school buildings, teachers salaries, higher salaries for bus drivers and other employees of the various boards.

I shall work day and night for reapportionment, long past due. Lauderdale County should have a full Senator of its own and three Representatives.

The will of the people is the law of the land and the will of the people is for equal but separate schools. For this I will fight.

A VOTE for DOBSON IS A VOTE for PROGRESS

To be elected your Representative in Montgomery is a challenge that, if elected, I shall endeavor to meet. I believe in going forward on all fronts—I feel that standing on what we have and not seeking betterment is truly going backwards. You can count on me for a progressive, positive program for all the people of Lauderdale County.

Your vote and support is sought on my pledge to you that my every effort will be in your behalf with favors for no particular group but an energetic representation for all the people.

Sincerely yours,

Letters Once Charged By Number Of Sheets

By Postmaster Don Holt

How would you like to pay 8 cents to send a letter to Rogersville?

And what would your feelings be if the weight of the letter had nothing to do with the amount charged, but you were charged according to the number of sheets of paper in the letter?

That may sound fantastic, especially when we are able to mail any letter from Florence to any other city in North America for only 3 cents an ounce. And for only 3 cents an ounce more, you can send it air mail. Our early postal service did charge 8 cents for a trip of about 20 miles, and the rates were based on the number of sheets of paper in the letter. Weight of the letter had nothing to do with the cost. The sheet could have been very large, but it still went at the minimum letter rate, while a letter consisting of several small sheets of paper was charged several times as much.

It's also interesting to note that in those early days, (around 1789 and, for some years later) postage was collected not from the person sending the letter, but, from the person on the receiving end. Practical jokers of the day, or persons holding a grudge, sent expensive letters solely to annoy others.

Not only was our early mail delivery expensive, but it was extremely slow, and it was difficult to guarantee sure delivery, despite valiant efforts.

George Washington, at one time, complained letters from Philadelphia and New York took a month or six weeks to reach him at his beloved Mount Vernon in Virginia.

The news of our first President's death, despite day and night riding by post riders, took ten days to reach Boston from Mount Vernon—a distance of around 500 miles.

Early mail carriers were faced with Indian ambushes, treacherous swamps and icy streams. Four horses were sometimes called upon to pull a light mail load through snow drifts or deep mud. But even then—as now—the U. S. mails had to go through.

Mission Becomes A Church

At 2:30 Sunday, following a week of revival services led by Rev. Dean Simpson pastor of the Rogersville Church, a fellowship dinner at the church, the Whitehead Mission became a church.

The Presbytery, composed of some 18 deacons and ministers, elected Rev. Henry Achison of the York Terrace Church, Sheffield, to serve as moderator of the organizational service with Rev. Kenneth Hester, Friendship Church, secretary.

Rev. W. E. Calvert of the Spruce Pine Baptist Church, and pastor of the Rogersville Church when the Whitehead Mission had its beginning under the leadership of the Rogersville church, gave the history.

Helping the mission financially were the churches at Killen, Weedon Heights, Friendship, Anderson, Lexington, Mt. Pleasant and Rogersville.

Roy Lee Isbell of Florence was in charge of the music, singing a solo with Mrs. Elton Gray at the piano.

HONEST

QUALIFIED

Through your courtesy and confidence I am now serving you as your Representative in the State Legislature, Place No. 1. It has been my endeavor to represent the best interests of all the people of Lauderdale County, and it is on this record that I ask your vote on May 6th. To review that record:

EDUCATION: In every vote that came before the House regarding an improved and expanded educational program, I supported it, including annual average increase in teacher pay of $600.

FARM LEGISLATION: I consistently voted in the best interests of the farm people of the county and state.

OLD AGE PENSIONS: I firmly believe in adequate support of the needy aged and cast my vote in the legislature for repeal of the Relative Responsibility Act.

BETTER ROADS: I feel I know the needs for a continued program of road improvement, particularly on "mail-box" roads and aid to cities in maintaining through highways.

INLAND WATERWAYS: It was my pleasure to bring up out of order and pass in the House the bill expanding the State Docks and creating Inland Waterway Docks. The first Inland Docks constructed under this act were built in Florence.

GOVERNMENTAL CHANGES: I was co-sponsor of and passed in the House a Constitutional Amendment, later to be adopted by the people of the state, guaranteeing that no changes in county governing bodies may be made without a vote of the people involved.

LABOR LEGISLATION: Supported no laws infringing the rights of the laboring man.

UNEMPLOYMENT: Sponsored legislation increasing Unemployment Compensation Benefits from $22 to $28 per week.

VETERANS: Gave my aid and backing to legislation designed to improve the lot of the ex-serviceman.

SEGREGATION: My record will show WITHOUT EXCEPTION I voted for all legislation to retain our Southern way of life, including segregation of the races in the schools. I ASSURE YOU I WILL CONTINUE TO DO SO.

IT HAD BEEN MY HOPE TO SEE EVERY VOTER PERSONALLY BUT DUE TO MY WORK THAT HAS BEEN IMPOSSIBLE. I WANT TO THANK YOU FOR THE COURTESIES SHOWN ME IN THIS CAMPAIGN, AND SOLICIT YOUR VOTE ON TUESDAY, MAY 6, FOR REPRESENTATIVE, PLACE NO. 1.

Addresses This Message TO THE PEOPLE OF LAUDERDALE COUNTY

As Your GOVERNOR I WILL:

- Press for completion of the State Docks at Florence on land already acquired.
- Build a road from Waterloo to the Tennessee State Line so that through traffic can see and enjoy this beautiful area as well as give residents of the community an outlet north. The State Conservation Game Preserve at Waterloo will be developed to its fullest.
- Four-lane US 72 throughout from Florence to Huntsville.
- Develop industry on the length of the Tennessee River in Alabama with special attention to the Great Lakes of the South.
- As a native of North Alabama and knowing the needs of this rapidly growing section of the state, its potentials will claim my interest and attention constantly.
- Place before the Legislature a program to raise the meager appropriation of $6.25 per day per patient in the District 2 TB Sanatorium at Flint (Decatur) and the other TB Sanatoriums in the state to not less than $8.00 per patient per day.

REYNOLDS MATERIAL USED IN NEW SHIP RAMPS

Aluminum ship ramps of material furnished by Reynolds Metals Co., the largest portable ramps ever built, have been tested and now are in service. The heaviest

U. S. Army tank has been driven across them. Designed to support a load of 120,000 pounds, these loading ramps were fabricated from aluminum to make them light in weight and easy to maintain.

Each ramp measures 15 feet in width and 40 feet in length, with a 7-foot apron hinged to the ramp at ship end. This hinged apron folds back flat against the ramp for storage purposes, and fits over the gunnel of the ship during loading for smooth boarding and embarking of vehicles, no matter what the variation in loading levels.

To find out how much fertilizer and the grade you need send samples of your soil to your county or state laboratory. Your county agent will show you the proper way to take such samples.

Bar Here Opposes Amendment No. 1

The Lauderdale County Bar Association, in a special meeting held April 23, adopted a resolution opposing the proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 1 to be voted on in the May 6 primary.

Pointing to "sharp controversies" that has arisen among the bench and bar of Alabama as to the wisdom of the proposed amendment, the Lauderdale County Bar Association said its members have concluded that it is "objectionable and might jeopardize the efficient function of the whole system of courts in the state."

If passed, Amendment No. 1 would create the present Court of Appeals as the Court of Criminal Appeals, and it would have jurisdiction over all appeals of criminal cases from the lower courts. The present Supreme Court could, except in capital cases, wherein a number of its members would be called on to hear appeals with judges of the proposed court, be confined to ruling on civil appeals.

The present Supreme Court opposes the projected amendment while the three-judge Court of Appeals is backing its adoption.

Diamond Alkali Earnings Reflect Economic Decline

First Quarter Shown Off But Demand For Products Seen Better

First quarter 1958 sales and earnings of Diamond Alkali Company, Cleveland, Ohio, "reflect the sharp decline felt generally in the national economy," Raymond F. Evans, Chairman and President, reported today at the annual stockholders meeting held at this chemical producer's national headquarters in Cleveland.

Net sales of Diamond chemicals for the first three months of 1958 totaled $26,880,886 against $30,179,259 in the corresponding 1957 period.

If elected, I will work with the Highway Department in any way possible to further advance and improve our county road.

If elected, I will do all in my power to merit your trust.

Vote For W. M. (Mack) Bobo

Be sure to tune in WOWL-TV at 7:25 P.M., Monday, to hear my final message to you.

(Pd. Pol. Adv. by W. M. (Mack) Bobo, Rt. 1, Florence, Ala.)

Net earnings for the first quarter of the current year, after provision for Federal Income Taxes, amounted to $352,820 compared to $2,255,048 in the same 1957 period. This is equivalent to $.31 per share compared to $.81 per share a year ago, adjusted to the number of shares presently outstanding.

In discussing first quarter 1958 results, Mr. Evans said that they "should not be taken as an indication of the earnings level anticipated for the year as a whole."

"In recent weeks we have noted some strengthening in demand for some of our products, particularly Chlorine, Agricultural Chemicals and Cement. This improvement in demand, together with an extensive and far-reaching campaign to reduce controllable costs, gives us confidence that results for the full year will show a distinct improvement over the first quarter level."

Diamond's chief executive officer also told stockholders that the Company's capital improvement program, previously scheduled to cost $60,000,000 to $80,000,000 in the five-year period ending 1960, "has been stretched out by one year to include 1961, and we are budgeting capital expenditures in the range of $9,000,000 to $10,000,000 this year."

Stockholders re-elected all present directors of the Company. Immediately following the stockholders meeting, the Board of Directors met and named all other officers of the Company to continue in their present posts respectively.

Social Security Benefits Told

What is the basis for figuring the amount of your social security benefits? This is a significant and important question on the minds of millions of American workers approaching retirement age. The terms of the Social Security Act provide that all benefits are based on the amount of an individual's average earnings. Whether you work as an employee for someone else, are self-employed as the operator of a business or profession, or whether you are the operator of a farm, your benefits are based on your average earnings.

Benefits for dependent members of your family are likewise based on your average earnings. The higher your average, the higher your benefit and your dependent's benefits. An individual worker's benefit ranges from a minimum of $30.00 per month ($24 for women aged 62) to a maximum of $108.50. It is important that you understand how your social security benefits are figured in planning your retirement program.

If you are interested in more detail, your local social security office will be happy to supply you with a publication entitled "How To Estimate Your Social Security Payments."

Marine Recruiters announced today they were accepting applicants for the Johnny Reb Company to be composed of young men from Alabama and Northwest Florida.

The 75-man company will leave Birmingham July 11th for basic training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C. This assures them membership in the Johnny Reb Company and allows them to build up time in service toward increased pay and promotion.

The "company" plan also allows school and hometown friends to join the service together and remain together throughout their basic and advanced training.

Applications for enlistment in the Marines' Johnny Reb Company are now being accepted at all Marine Corps Recruiting Offices in Alabama and Northwest Florida.

RAYMOND MURPHY

To The Voters Of LAUDERDALE COUNTY

On Tuesday, May 6th, you, the voters, will decide which of two candidates is best qualified to serve you the next four years as Judge of Your Law and Equity Court. I have been unable to get away from my duties as your present Judge and for that reason have not made an out and out campaign. I feel that to leave the work of the Court unattended would not be living up to the trust you placed in me when you elected me four years ago. I have tried to see as many as possible at speaking over the County. I also feel you know me, already, well enough to decide whether I have handled the business of your Court in a manner satisfactory to you. My statement now to you is this: Check the records, character, fitness, and all other qualifications of the two of us and then by your vote place in office the one that you decide will best attend to your Court's business for the next four years.

I am deeply interested in this Court, as well as in the good that can be done for the entire County. I feel that my past record establishes this fact.

I will be watching the blackboard Tuesday night and will then know if the people of Florence and the rest of Lauderdale County are as deeply interested in their Court and County as I am.

I am deeply grateful for all past support down through the years. I will be as deeply grateful for your support this time. If you believe I am the one best suited, then I ask your vote for me.

THANK EACH OF YOU FOR ALL SUPPORT GIVEN ME.

Supplement To Code Now Ready

The 1957 Interim Supplement to the Code of 1940 is now being distributed to the State and County officials, Mrs. Mary Texas Hurt Garner, Secretary of State, announced this week.

It is available to purchasers within the State of Alabama at the office of the Secretary of State at a cost of $9.00 per volume plus postage and insurance. Payment is required in advance.

The supplement is in one volume, non-cumulative, and is designed to be used with the 1955 pocket parts to "bridge the gap between these pocket parts and the new Code now being printed."

Unless new legislation is enacted to the contrary there will be no new pocket parts to the old Code of 1940, Mrs. Garner said.

The big money stays in the Tri-Cities

ELECTROMET gave a $2,800,000 boost to the Tri-Cities' economy last year.

Part of this money bought raw materials and supplies in this area and paid for shipping our products to customers all over the country.

Some of it, in the form of tax payments, helped to pay the bills of local government.

A GOOD PORTION of it was paid to ELECTROMET's 450 employees for their fine work during 1957. Our employees spent most of their payroll dollars in local stores, saved them in local banks, or paid local taxes with them.

ELECTROMET is proud of its part in the industrial growth of the Tri-Cities.

THE MONKEY'S CONTRIBUTION TO MODERN MEDICINE

Monkeys are medicine's best benefactor. Through them, man has learned of the intricacies of the human brain and nervous system. They have helped man to understand his blood components. Modern cures for tuberculosis have been made possible through monkeys and tranquilizers have been tested first on them.

Rhesus monkeys put researchers on the track of the Rh factors in the bloodstream, which has been instrumental in the saving of countless human infants.

Monkeys have provided epidemiologists with valuable data on the spread of jungle yellow fever, a danger to man; and the vaccine to prevent paralytic polio in humans has been possible only through the processing of minced kidney tissue of the monkey.

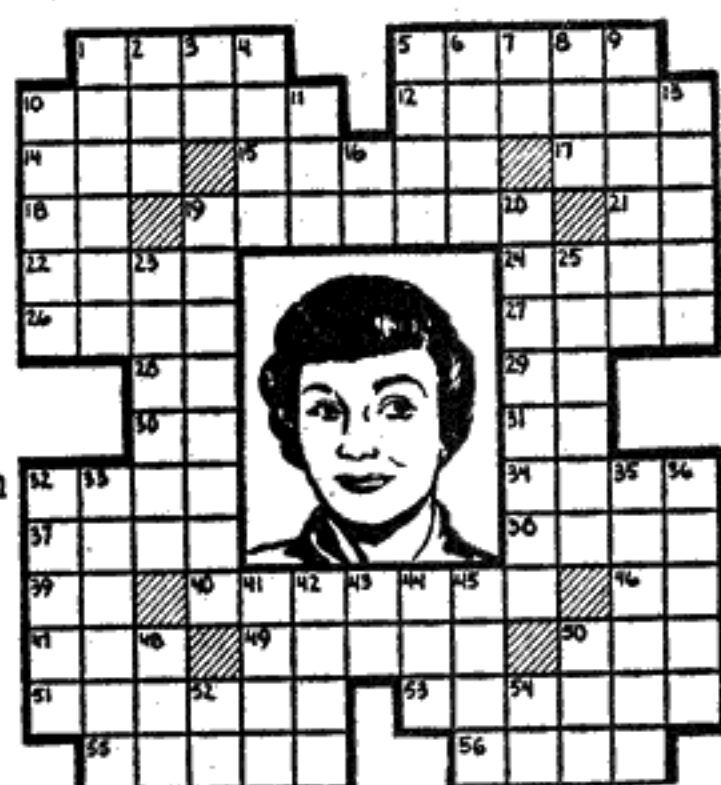

There are only two types of monkeys that can be used in producing antiparalytic polio vaccine, the Rhesus monkey from the northern plains of India and the Cynomolgus monkey from the Philippines. Indian Rhesus monkeys are taken first to Lucknow, then to New Delhi, flown to London, then to New York, and by special vans to South Carolina where the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis maintains the Okatie Farms for monkeys. Monkeys by nature share with humans such affliction as eye infections, septic wounds, tuberculosis, diarrhea, skin diseases and baldness.

The Indian Government threatened, two years ago, to ban all exports of monkeys for medical use, but relented when it was pointed out that countless children around the world would be

INDUSTRIAL SAFETY

The industrial worker never had it so safe. With fifteen million more employed persons in this country now than in 1941, there are 3,000 fewer fatal occupational deaths than fifteen years ago. Industry still exacts a heavy toll, claiming 14,000 lives and two million workers more or less seriously injured each year.

Even so, the occupational death rate has decreased more than one-third in the past decade and a half. There are factors that account for this improvement. Many industries, both manufacturing and non-manufacturing, have been giving special attention to safety. Not only have they developed and instituted the use of safer equipment, but they have urged strict compliance with safety rules and practices, and conducted safety education programs among the workers.

Take the transportation industry, for example. The occupational accident death rate fifteen years ago for railroad engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen, and other trainmen, was 136 per 100,000 workers, and today the figure is 47. The petroleum industry is another case in point with its hazards of fire and explosion, where in the on-the-job accident death and permanent total disability rate has dropped from 31.9 to 18 per 100,000 workers during the past fifteen years. This splendid record of reduction in fatal industrial accidents prevails in the chemical, coal mining, lumber, electrical, pulp and paper manufacturing, and other fields.

Automation has contributed largely to this reduction by lessening the exposure of workers to accident hazards and poisonous materials. Many processes formerly controlled by hand are now being monitored by instruments, with resultant reduction in the number of workers exposed to danger. Credit for progress in industrial safety is due to both management and labor.

State School Fund Up By 35 Per Cent

Teacher Salaries Raised Almost $600 Per Year In Past Three Years

Alabama teachers' average salaries have increased almost $600 per year in the past three years.

Also, in the past three years, money raised by the state for the Special Educational Trust Fund, which supports Alabama's public school system, has increased from $80,896,230 during the 1953-4 fiscal year, to $109,324,532 given the school fund last year. That is, there has been a 35.1 per cent improvement in the amount of money available for schools in the past three years.

These figures were released this week by Gov. James E. Folsom from reports received from the State Department of Education and the State Revenue Department.

Dr. N. F. Greenhill, of the State Education Department, said the teachers' average salary in the 1954-5 fiscal year was $2,707. Last year's average salary for teachers was $3,283, he reported.

Governor Folsom, who observed he is "the father of seven children—including one in college, one at high school and three in elementary grades"—said he was happy to note this progress and hoped "the final year of (his) administration would see further improvements without any new taxes."

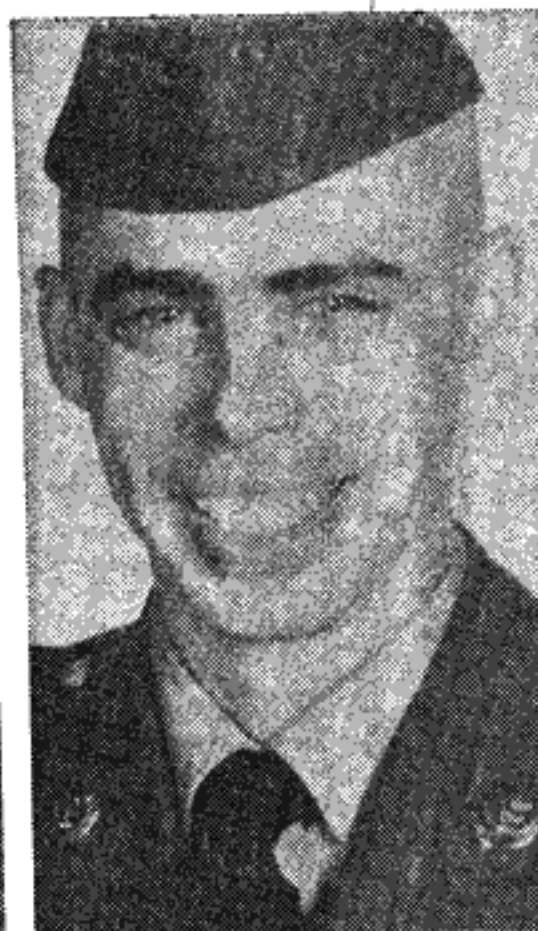

State Revenue Commissioner W. L. Horn's report showed that the 1956-7 revenue collected by his agency was 43.2 per cent more than that collected in the 1953-4 fiscal year.

"Since educational activities do share a major portion of the collections, analysis of the receipts distributed by us . . . may be in order," Horn said in this special report to the Governor.

The state revenue commissioner then pointed out that in 1953-4 the agency had collected a total of $139,038,895; but last year—three years later—this total collection had risen to $199,092,884.

"Therefore," he said, "last year we collected $60,054,000 more than was received in the final year of the last Administration."

Pensions, Aid To Needy Up In Alabama Shown

Alabama's Department of Pensions and Security is currently paying more than $2 million a month in support of the State's needy than was paid in 1954.

This is a highlight of a three-year review of his department's work just released by Pensions and Security Commissioner Dr. J. S. Snoddy.

Snoddy said: "In March this year more than $5.2 million was paid out to Alabama's needy through the Department of Pensions and Security. This is nearly $2.2 million more than the amount paid to needy persons at the end of 1954 when the present Administration took office."

Snoddy said "the total receiving pensions and assistance payments in March this year was 141,647, compared with 92,226 at the end of 1954. The March 1958 overall total," Snoddy pointed out, "includes 103,542 old people on the old age pension roles, compared to the 63,309 old age pensions being paid at the end of 1954."

Snoddy said the current business recession is increasing pressures on the State pensions roles because "persons out of work cannot support dependent relatives."

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Landsey have returned to their home in Fort Devers, Mass., after visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Landsey in Florence and Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Williamson in Yazoo City, Miss.

The annual UA Commerce Day observance April 23 featured speaker Keen Johnson, a vice president of Reynolds Metals Co., who told his audience the U. S.

is now experiencing the most prosperous recession in its history. Johnson, who was introduced by his personal friend, UA President Frank A. Rose, said that 98 per cent of those employed a year ago are still at work and that 62 million persons are now working as balanced against 5 million unemployed.

Camporee 1958 For County Scouts Set May 2-3

Camporee 1958 for Lauderdale and Colbert counties will be held this year at Camp Westmoreland, on Shoals Creek, May 2-3. Hundreds of Boy Scouts from the two counties will gather for two days of fun and training.

The camping and activity committee has made plans for a full schedule with an excellent opportunity for every boy to advance in rank. Special emphasis will be placed on the patrol hike and camp under the direction of the patrol leader and patrol dad. One Explorer Scout will be assigned to each troop to help the patrol leader in the planned activity.

It will be necessary for each patrol to come to the camporee equipped to function as an individual unit, especially during the day Saturday. Each leader is urged to check his patrol before leaving for the camp site. Make sure you are prepared. A list of must items have been given to your Scoutmaster. There may be other items that you can think of, but don't over-load with excess equipment. It will be necessary that each patrol bring enough extra food to feed the Explorer through Saturday.

Judging this year will be on the patrol basis. Points will be awarded as follows: (A.) Patrol Attitude and Spirit 25%; (B.) Patrol Cooperation and participation 25%; (C.) Patrol Scoutcraft Skill (based on what they learned, not what they already know) 50%.

A special campfire program has been planned for Saturday night, May 3, at 8 o'clock. The public is invited to attend this impressive program. Skits will be presented by each troop at this program.

The new rust and wilt-resistant variety of flax has been produced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

POCKET DOLLARS

WATERWAYS AND DOCKS: Our inland docks and waterways and our State Docks at Mobile are Alabama's greatest natural assets in attracting new industries and expanding those industries we now have. We must have a channel to link the fresh waters of North Alabama with the salt water at Mobile. This channel and more new docks are a definite and immediate part of my plan for more POCKET DOLLARS for you.

POCKET DOLLARS

SCHOOLS, EDUCATION: Better educational facilities will be a great factor in locating new industries in Alabama. A better educated working force will insure more and more POCKET DOLLARS for Alabama people as our educational system improves. I pledge my full support to a definite program that will give our boys and girls greater opportunities to receive better educations.

POCKET DOLLARS

RE-APPORTIONMENT: All the people of Alabama should have equal representation in our legislature and State Senate. Under the present apportionment, this is not possible. I will fight for re-apportionment, because I KNOW IT MUST BE DONE. In order to have a more prosperous and progressive Alabama, I know that every citizen of this state, no matter where he lives, must be equally represented in the State Legislature. I pledge to accomplish this with all possible speed.

Respectfully Solicits Your Vote and Influence in the Democratic Primary of May 6, 1958.

"THE GADSDEN TIMES," by Al Fox, staff writer, says: "Bamberg is one of the few men in political history who ever gave up the chance to win an election due to his opponent's health... a widely known and highly successful farmer, Bamberg is considered one of the most eminently qualified men ever to seek a state office on the points of capability, personality, temperament, humility and training."

DO YOU REMEMBER PHENIX CITY CLEAN-UP?

Why you should support and vote for MacDonald Gallion, an experienced crime fighter, for Attorney General.

MacDonald Gallion, as special counsel for the State of Alabama in the famous Phenix City Clean-up in 1954-55, assisted in the legal fight which put the racketeers and criminals out of business.

During his more than 20 years experience as an attorney, MacDonald Gallion has had over 13 years experience handling important legal matters for the State—as Assistant Attorney General, Special Counsel and later as Chief Assistant Attorney General. Mr. Gallion's open record of service to the people of Alabama, is a record of fighting crime, maintaining segregation, regulating vicious loan sharks and promoting good government.

GALLION KNOWS THE JOB

Gallion is the candidate best qualified for Attorney General because he has successfully represented Alabama before Circuit Courts, the Court of Appeals, Supreme Court, Federal Courts and Commissions. His candidacy is endorsed by leading lawyers and judges. He has been active against the illegal activities of NAACP in Alabama. He believes the office of Attorney General should be used in a dignified and forceful manner to help solve State problems, including segregation. He says: "Solution of Alabama's segregation problems can best be solved by the State itself without outside interference, pressure or coercion."

LIFE-LONG ALABAMA DEMOCRAT

MacDonald Gallion is a native Alabamian, educated in Alabama public schools and the University of Alabama, graduating from the latter in 1937 with an LL.B. degree. He is a combat veteran, having volunteered in the Marine Corps, served overseas in World War II and was wounded at the battle of Saipan. He comes from a Democratic family and he is and always has been a loyal, true Democrat himself. He has no connection with any other candidate or any political group except the Alabama Democratic Party. The next four years will be crucial ones in Alabama. This is no time for untested hands. It is a time when Alabama will need an Attorney General with a proven record of experience in the job, and loyalty to the State.

VOTE FOR MacDONALD GALLION FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL MAY 6.

Alabama's River System

Upriver Construction Felt Far Downstream

Above — Alabama Power Company's Jordan Dam on the Coosa River near Wetumpka... one of the largest hydro installations in Alabama. Right—Flooded homes during 1957 flood. (U. S. Army photo)

In former years, before the Alabama Power Company built its large storage and power dams on the Coosa and Tallapoosa Rivers, floods in the low sections of Montgomery were not infrequent. Sometimes the waters would inch up Commerce and Coosa Streets toward Court Square.

In the years since these dams were built this danger has been removed.

Wherever dams control the flow of the rivers, the pools behind the dams can be lowered in the months before the time of heavy rains and fast runoff, usually mid-winter and early spring. Then the runoff above the dams can be impounded and released after the flood danger has passed.

One of the most impressive examples of the effectiveness of this storage control feature of these dams is on the Tennessee River, where Chattanooga had suffered damaging floods at frequent intervals. In March 1867, for example, it is reported that a steamboat pushed down Market Street, the main business street, during the crest of the flood. If there were no TVA dams upstream, such a flood today would cause damage at Chattanooga of some $100,000,000. With the present regulation, even another record flood such as that of 1867 would cause damage of only $12,000,000. The usual flood crests now pass Chattanooga without damage to the city.

These storage dams, by holding back the waters of the Tennessee River, can also reduce flood stages on the Ohio below Paducah and all down the Mississippi below Cairo.

Soil conservation measures at the headwaters above the dams, involving correct use of the lands there, plus small retaining dams to slow down the runoff, can aid in flood prevention above the dams, and also enable the dams downstream to do a more effective job in controlling the flow past the cities in the valleys below.

Alabama cities, notably Elba and Geneva in the Choctawhatchee-Pea River basin, remember disastrous floods which swept through them. Outside the cities, floods are a constant threat to lowland farms, and to cattle grazing in the river bottoms. Not only do the rushing waters ruin the crops, but there is usually a permanent loss of valuable topsoil in the wake of the flood.

As more dams are built for flood control and for navigation and power, or for either, the flood threat diminishes for the valley farms and streams downstream.

For most river improvement projects, flood control is a benefit which can be measured in dollars. If these multi-million dollar flood losses can be prevented by regulation of the pools behind the dams, that saving is a factor to be considered in estimating the value of the dams.

One does not think, ordinarily, of a dam at Guntersville in Alabama affecting the impact of a flood on some city far down the Mississippi River. But it is a fact that each of these upstream dams, to the extent that it can store the flood water, is a protective device for every low-lying area all the way to the mouth of the stream.

The dams along the Tallapoosa and Coosa, and even far upstream at Allatoona on the Etowah River, serve to control or prevent floods. Similarly, the various dams along the Chattahoochee, and those on the Warrior and its tributaries,

This is Texas Eastern...

The system that grew 1600 miles
longer in one year

Texas Eastern's vast pipeline network—carrying both natural gas and petroleum products—increased in length during 1957 by more than 1600 miles.

And that was just one year! Since 1947—when the war-built Big Inch and Little Big Inch were purchased from the government—Texas Eastern has more than doubled the length of its pipelines.

The significance of last year's pipeline growth is as much in its breadth—the variety of its uses—as in its 1600-mile length.

• As a transporter of refined oil products, Texas Eastern constructed a 238-mile lateral from Southern Indiana to Chicago to extend the length of its Little Big Inch system to 1700 miles. The new petroleum products system opens the Midwest to the Gulf Coast area's big refineries—which have 28 per cent of the nation's refining capacity.

• As a transporter of natural gas, Texas Eastern built nearly a thousand miles of pipelines, 422 miles of which consisted of a 30-inch line from Vidon to McAllen, Texas. This line links the Texas Eastern system with the rich fields in northeastern Mexico. As a result, a great new reserve of natural gas is made available to millions of homes and thousands of factories in a dozen or more Midwestern, Appalachian and Eastern Seaboard states for years to come.

In addition, Texas Eastern constructed hundreds of miles of various diameter pipelines that both increased the capacity of the existing system and extended lines into areas where new gas production has been discovered. All of which means that there will be more natural gas available to fill the growing consumer demand for this clean, economical and efficient fuel.

Compost Pile May Be Made Easily, Cheap

You needn't envy ornamental exhibits at garden shows, says Troy Keeble, API Extension ornamental horticulturist. For garden and landscape plants naturally thrive better in good soil with plenty of organic matter. However, with a little effort you too can have such soil around your landscape plants and in your flower beds. Many homemakers struggling with heavy clay or very sandy soils are constantly throwing away materials that could be used to improve their plant beds. Grass clippings, leaves, even vegetable parings and fruit peels will decompose into suitable organic matter enriching the soil.

Keeble suggested that city and suburban gardeners make a compost pile to supply some of the organic material needed for growing shrubs, flowers, and vegetables. The compost you build this year will be ready for use next year, or possibly sooner, depending upon the raw material you use.

Keeble explained. For a constant supply, compost graders find it convenient to keep two compost piles—one to build upon while the other is being used. Keeble suggested that home gardeners interested in building a compost pile should contact their county agents for additional information.

Come to Church for Services

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER—STAYS TOGETHER"

NOBODY MADE A NICKEL

Too many pressing responsibilities in the Lord's work. The congregation couldn't afford to have its church painted. But painted it was! That was a glorious Saturday—no picnic or ball games, just hours of hard work. And what with the paint supplied at cost by a local dealer, and the brushes loaned by the very painter who might have hoped for the contract—nobody made a nickel! But the remarkable thing is that nobody in town thought all this remarkable... You know Christianity has had a deep influence on the life of a community when we begin to take for granted the zeal and sacrifice of Christian neighbors. The next step is to add our strength and faith to theirs in the worship and work of the Church.

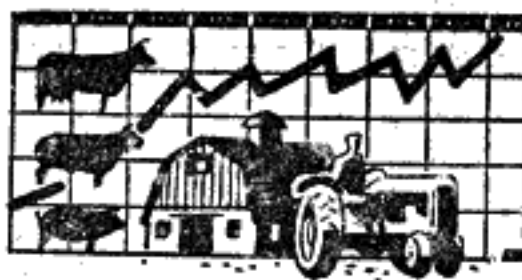

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Pesticides Should Not Be Used On Livestock, API

Plant pesticides should never be used on livestock, said a recent report issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Occasional cases of livestock poisoning by insecticides and herbicides warranted investigation by USDA scientists. They pointed out that while the same material may be used in preparations designed for use on animals as for plants, the concentration and chemical formulation may be different. Pesticides are safe only when used as intended by the manufacturer and in accordance with his directions.

Never over-treat plants to be used as livestock feed, warned the USDA. Some highly poisonous insecticides can be used safely because directions call for quantities too small to cause animals poisoning. Less toxic compounds may be more dangerous where larger than recommended quantities are used. Again, it is important to follow the manufacturer's instructions. Never guess at quantities.

Poison symptoms appearing in animals fed pesticide-treated materials may mask even more serious disorders, such as rabies, pseudo-rabies, and encephalitis. Diagnosis is difficult, but animals suffering from pesticide poisoning alone will usually recover completely under good care, provided, of course, that the poisoning is not too severe.

Despite tremendous increases in timber demand, no acute timber shortages are likely, says the U. S. Forest Service. This favorable condition in the nation's timber resources is due largely to the voluntary American Tree Farm System.

16 Scholarships Are Available To 4-H Club Members

A total of sixteen $400 college scholarships will be awarded 4-H Club members this year for best achievement in the 4-H soil and water conservation program, and the 4-H safety program, according to an announcement made by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

The scholarships, together with expense-paid trips to the National 4-H Congress, are offered as incentive awards to boys and girls throughout the nation. Donor of the soil and water conservation awards is the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company. The safety awards are provided by General Motors. Both concerns have supported 4-H work for well over a decade.

While the 4-H'ers have their sights set on winning, the awards are not the chief goal, the national committee points out. The objectives of 4-H is to develop good citizenship and leadership; to contribute to the welfare of the community; to "learn by doing," and achieve the best results in individual project work.

Information regarding enrollment in the soil and water conservation and safety programs may be obtained from the Lauderdale County Extension office or from local 4-H Club leaders. The 4-H programs are under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Accidents Help Gals Establish That Majority

More males than females are born each year in the United States.

Just why, then, are there more women than men later on in life? Why the female superiority—numerically, that is—when it comes time to find a husband?

"One reason," the National Safety Council says, "is because males 15-24 years of age—the age when they're either thinking of getting married someday or counting the days till the big event—are being killed in accidents almost five times as fast as females."

The council isn't necessarily trying to promote matches between the sexes. It is concerned, though, with keeping people alive.

A recent estimate put the U. S. population at about 84,858,000 males and 86,371,000 females about one and a half million more gals than guys.

"Men have always died at a faster rate than women, perhaps largely because of the more hazardous tasks they undertake and their chance-taking nature," the council said.

"But men, especially those in the 15-24 age group, are dying far, far too rapidly."

Statistics for a recent year turned up these facts on the 15-24 age group:

1. Accidents of all types take the lives of nearly five males for every female.
2. More than eight out of 10 persons killed in motor vehicle mishaps are males.
3. Almost seven out of eight persons killed in non-motor vehicle accidents are males.
4. The young people are seven times as likely to die in an accident than from cancer, the No. 2 cause of death to persons in the category.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

How sin and suffering are overcome through spiritual understanding of God will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday. Readings from the Bible in the lesson-sermon entitled "Everlasting Punishment" will include the following from James (4:8): "Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double minded."

Only about 60 to 80 percent of lipids can be easily extracted from flour. This degree of lipid removal does not hurt the flour's bread-baking properties if no shortening is used in the dough mix. However, if shortening is used, bread loaves made from extracted flour are small and hard. The reason for this is still unknown, but it shows that present-day shortenings cannot replace natural wheat lipids. Removing all the lipids from flour drastically reduces the loaf size and quality of bread made from it.

Lipids tend to change more rapidly than any other constituent in flour. Controlled oxidation can improve the baking properties of flour, but if oxidation changes go too far, the baked goods become rancid and lose texture and flavor.

or, say the scientists. Continued research by the USDA on lipids and other wheat-flour constituents are aimed at further clarification of how these substances may contribute to unexplained difficulties in commercial production of bread, cakes, cookies, and other baked goods.

The trend for banks to hire agriculturally-trained men is increasing. Records show that there are about 800 banks employing farm specialists, and the number increases constantly.

Lipids May Hold Key To Success In Home Baking
Lipids may hold the key to your baking success. These mysterious fat-like substances in wheat flour are under research now by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Work by the Department so far has resulted in a number of important findings about the nature of these substances and the role they play in the baking process.

According to USDA researchers, lipids in wheat flour are soluble in fat solvents, insoluble in water, and have a greasy feel. Although by weight they comprise only about 1.5 percent of flour, they greatly affect its quality, baking behavior, and storage stability.

ELECT C. C. "JACK" OWEN

GOVERNOR

"BACK JACK"

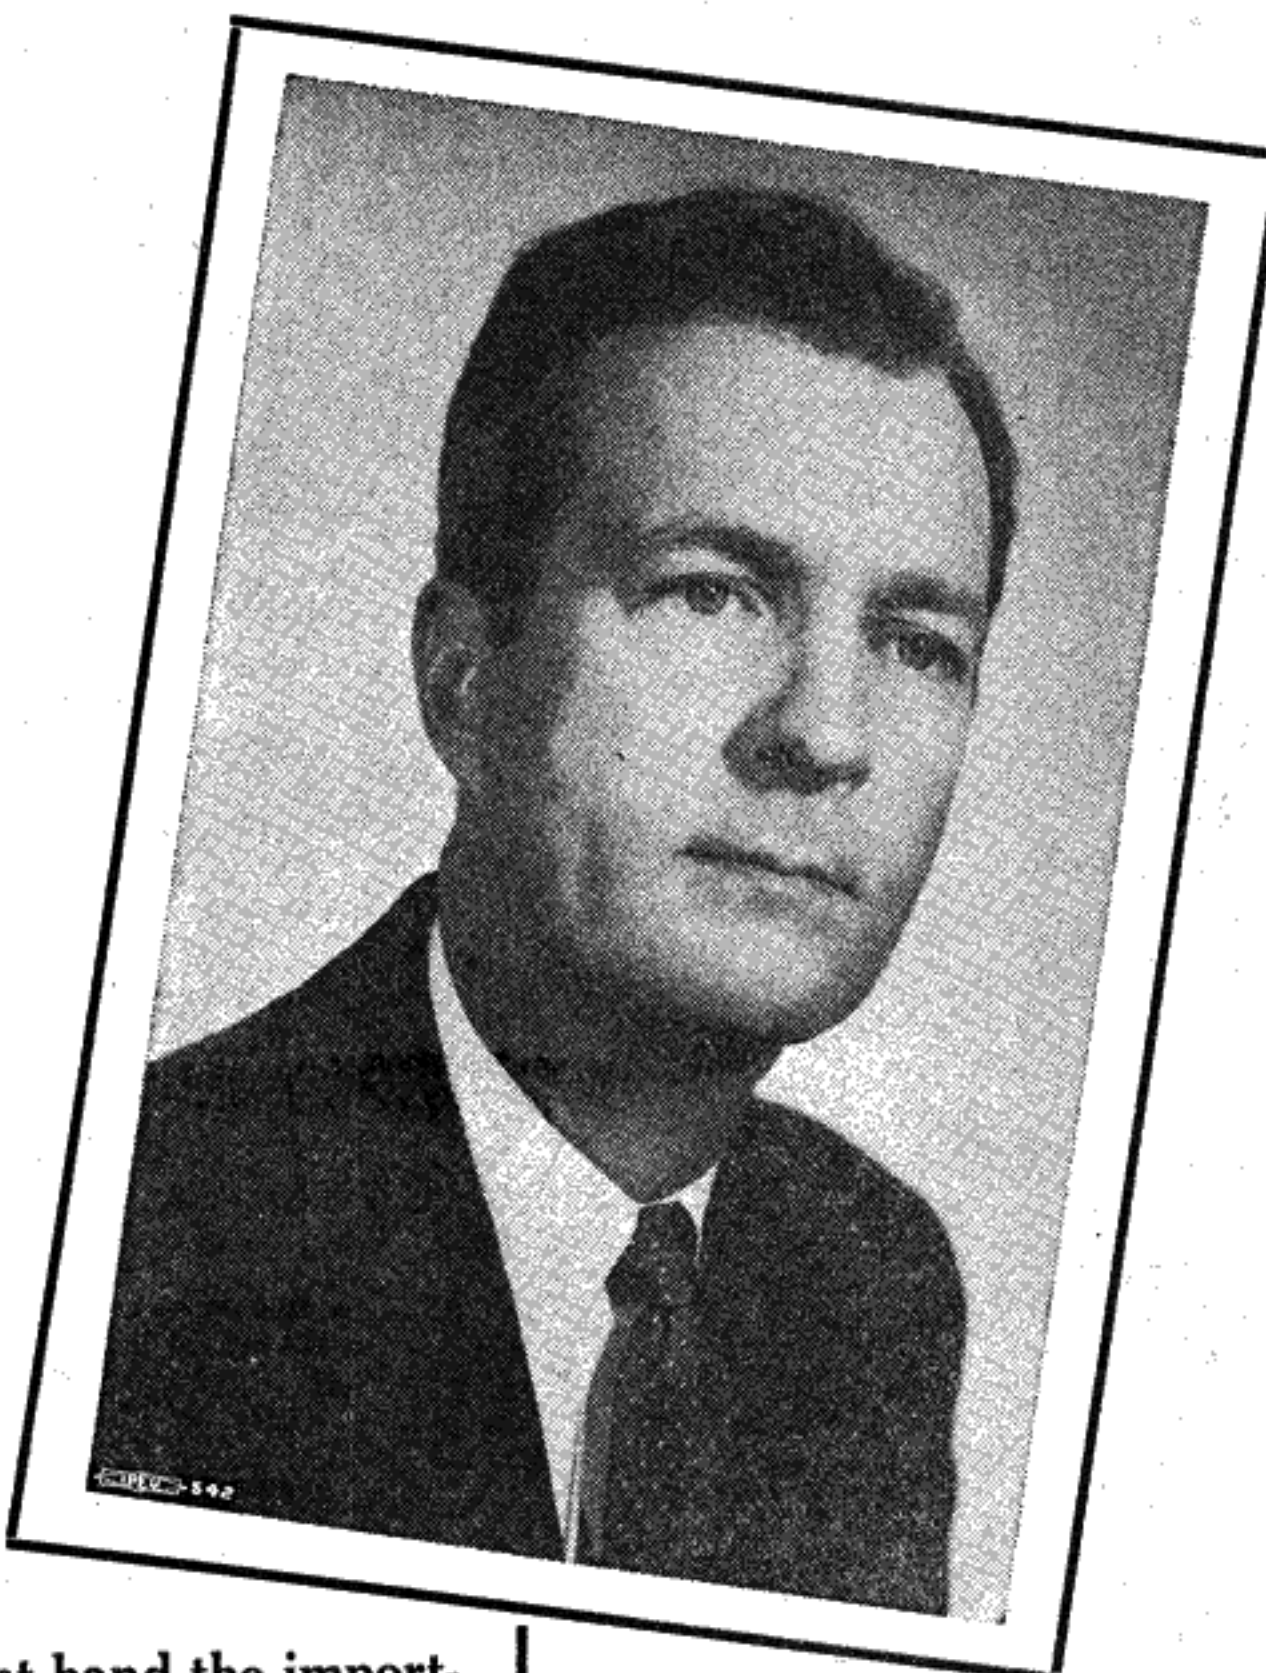

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY TUESDAY MAY 6

JACK OWEN was reared in the coal-mining hills of Bibb County and at the ripe old age of 17-years, with outside financial aid, bought a filling station which he operated successfully. From these earnings he supported his mother and father. Appreciating the need for higher education, JACK OWEN entered the School of Agriculture at Auburn, where he learned first-hand many of the pressing needs of our farmers and other problems facing our people.

Answering his country's call, JACK OWEN served as a Marine dive bomber pilot in the South Pacific during World War II, distinguishing himself in this exacting assignment.

Back from the war, JACK OWEN established a lumber company in Tuscaloosa in 1946 and in 1948 was elected a member of the Alabama Public Service Commission. He was later named President of the Commission and has been reelected to that post for two additional terms. In this position he has proved himself an able administrator in handling both large and small adjustments to the satisfaction of the people of the state.

JACK OWEN is the only Candidate for Governor who has won a state-wide election for a state office.

C. C. "JACK" OWEN Will Continue To Work For A Greater TVA Just As He Has In The Past

C. C. (Jack OWEN has long been dedicated to the further development of the TVA. He knows first hand the importance of the TVA to Alabama industry and Alabama recreation.

C. C. (Jack) OWEN has worked hard in the past and is pledged, as Governor, to continue these efforts in cooperation with everyone interested in the growth of this great asset and what it means to North Alabama.

C. C. (Jack) OWEN has dedicated himself to attracting more industry, better recreation facilities and tourist attractions to Alabama and the TVA is truly the key to these accomplishments. This he recognizes . . . this he will work for as Governor.

VETERANS

Alabama can never fully pay its debt to the Veteran, who has faithfully served our nation. I am in favor of giving every veteran a tax exemption on his home in addition to the present homestead exemption.

HOW JACK STANDS ON VITAL ISSUES

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

No state in America has a brighter future in industrial development than Alabama. We have the resources . . . we have the people . . . and we have the climate. We must make industry feel secure in coming to Alabama. They must know that they will not be discriminated against, and that they can become partners in our development.

I will do everything in my power to promote sound industrial growth because development of industry creates new wealth which benefits all of us. It means more jobs, more payrolls, more revenue without increasing taxes. This, of course, will enable us to pay higher old age pensions, have more money for education, aid to farmers, roads, health and the other vital state functions.

AGRICULTURE

Agriculture is and will continue to be one of the largest factors in Alabama's total economy. Because of this, and because of the fact that I was born and raised in farming surroundings and know the farmer's problems first hand, the welfare of our farm people is of the utmost concern to me.

Through proper state help, and the wise use of their land, our farmers can increase their cash income from the present $450 million a year to $1 billion a year.

As part of my program for aid to farmers, I will seek by every means to see that we have an adequate research, education and assistance program.

OLD AGE PENSION

Our elder citizens who have worked hard all their lives and who reach their later years needing help should certainly receive all the help the state can possibly bestow.

I think Alabama's old age assistance should be above the national average instead of far below the average, and I will do all in my power to see that it is.

I also believe more help can be given to the blind, to dependent children, and to the totally disabled. It is our duty to see that those less fortunate than we are helped.

CONSERVATION

We have a rich historical heritage in Alabama and we are blessed with a multitude of natural beauty. The Tennessee Valley with its beautiful lakes, mountains and valleys are a sportsman's paradise and each and every facility should be developed to the fullest. To this I pledge myself as Governor. Hunting and fishing are two basic recreations . . . we need to take full advantage of both and our birds and fish should be protected. Conservation of wildlife will be a basic consideration of my administration.

To attract more tourists, we must give them something to see and something to do as they travel through our state. The conservation program I shall institute will add to this growing industry.

SEGREGATION

On this point, I have a record, not just a promise. And my record is clear. I've fought the federal government on segregation in the waiting rooms of our bus and train stations, and I won. These waiting rooms are still segregated!

When I'm your governor, we will have segregation in our schools, in public places, and in all walks of life. I promise you that!

And we will have it legally because we cannot have mobs taking the law into their own hands. But if we continue to use all our resources to fight to maintain segregation legally, we can do it.

You may be sure of one thing. As long as the people of Alabama want segregation, they shall have it. My record shows I can maintain segregation.

EDUCATION

Our schools are not adequate . . . our teachers are underpaid. Education is the very cornerstone of our civilization, and the appearance of the Sputniks and Explorers emphasize this. Certainly our children in Alabama are entitled to the very best.

I will join hands with the legislature and with local officials to see that the necessary funds are provided to give us better schools and better pay scales for teachers.

I also will see to it that our children do not have to ride in dilapidated, dangerous school buses.

And I will do all in my power to see that the teachers' retirement system is extended and strengthened.

ROADS

In spite of what some people think, there are still a lot of farm roads that need paving. We must pave them, and I believe we can do it without having to raise taxes.

If full use is made of the Federal Matching Funds which are available to Alabama, we can have a road program in Alabama second to none anywhere, and we can keep every contractor in the state busy.

For example, on the Interstate Road System the Federal Government puts up 90% of the money and state only 10%. We would certainly be foolish to fail to take advantage of every cent of this money, and I propose to make full use of it.

HEALTH

I pledge to expand the efforts of our State Government to provide more adequate public health, industrial hygiene, maternal and child care, and to provide more hospitals and Health Centers for all our people.

We have established a great State Medical Center and I propose to push its development to the Greatest in the nation. Medical research must be continued and our mental institutions must be greatly expanded.

I am unalterably opposed to socialized medicine in any form.

RIGHT-TO-WORK LAW

We've all heard about the Right To Work Law. A lot of people don't know what the law says, and a lot of people have tried to make the working man think it's something vicious and harmful to him. Actually, all it does is to guarantee that a man does not have to be a member of a union to hold a job. It doesn't say that he can't be a union member. It just says he doesn't have to. Now, that seems to me to be the sort of freedom this country is built on.

To tell a man he's got to belong to a union before he can get a job is just like telling a farmer he's got to sell his crop to a certain buyer or to tell a grocer he's got to join something or other or else close his business.

REAPPORTIONMENT

Present apportionment, fixed in the first decade of the century, cannot make the slightest pretense of giving an equal voice in State affairs to a majority of the sections and a majority of the citizens of Alabama.

Reapportionment is a fundamental of democracy itself.

We are taxing and governing great numbers of our people without granting them equal representation in our government. This condition is not only un-democratic, it is un-American. I shall recommend that the Legislature perform its duty and reapportion our State.

TAXES

I grew up on a 20-acre farm in the northern part of Bibb County. Our house didn't have electricity or running water. As a boy, I worked to help support my family, and I had to send myself through college. So I think I know something about economy.

Our state government isn't too much different from a household or a business. The same principles apply. You can't continue to spend more money than you take in.

But you can see that every penny counts, and I believe there are many places in our state government where we can spend less money and still do a good job.

I think our people are tired of the never-ending "tax and spend" trend, and I plan to stop it.

STATE DOCKS and Inland Waterways

Development of our State Docks System and our Inland Waterway System, with the advantages for new industry which this development will provide, well might be the key to our future in Alabama. Already we have a great State Docks System. But our State Docks and Inland Waterways must be second to none anywhere, and I pledge my all-out support to this end.

I also favor the development of Mobile's port facilities, further development of the Tennessee River System, the Warrior River System, the Alabama-Coosa and the Chattahoochee Rivers to provide unlimited opportunities for our people.

A VOTE FOR JACK OWEN IS A VOTE FOR SOUND GOVERNMENT
