The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

The mother and daughter were very busy with the wedding plans when the bridegroom-to-be called. He watched the preparations rather impatiently for a while, until his future wife noticed his look of annoyance. "Darling, we have such a lot to do," she soothed, "and if we want to make our wedding a big success we mustn't forget the most insignificant detail." "Oh, don't worry about that," murmured the young man. "I'll show up all right."

Yes, men are contrary critters, as any wife will testify—they want home atmosphere in a hotel and hotel service at home.

It has been pointed out that when a man sees eye to eye with his wife, it means the lens in his glasses have just been corrected.

The North Dakota agricultural experiment station is working on a chemical that will kill wild oats. We are not certain but we believe that the announcement does not cover the same wild oats that we are thinking about at the moment.

Times have changed—or have you noticed. Today, the modern mother worries only when her daughter gets home from a date at a decent hour.

A famed designer of women's clothing explains that a glamorous woman is one who looks poured into to the kind of a dress other women look dumped into.

We read where it took three surgeons in Philadelphia to get a sewing needle out of a girl's hand. Now that must have been a difficult operation but it's nothing compared with the effort necessary for the average mother to get a sewing needle into her daughter's hand.

We were just thinking. Things equal out pretty well. Our dreams seldom come true—but then neither do our nightmares.

The young wife had just about worried herself sick. Finally, she approached her husband with the sum total of her thoughts. "Darling," she said, "the eternal triangle is going to break up our married bliss." Startled, the husband remarked: "Nonsense, dear, how can you say such a thing? Why, during the two years we have been married I haven't looked at another girl." "But there is a triangle," she sobbed, "and a most vicious one, too. Both you and I are in love with you."

The most enjoyable way to follow a vegetable diet, we have found, is to let the cow eat it and take yours out in T-bone steaks.

"I thought there wasn't a single doctor honest enough to tell a man there's nothing wrong with him," said a young friend of ours, "until last week when I went before the doctor of the draft board."

End of a little boy's prayer: "and, dear God, please put vitamins in cake and candy instead of spinach and cod liver oil."

Care should be taken in putting off until tomorrow what you should do today because by tomorrow someone may perfect a machine that will do the job for you—and then it will be too late. Possibly the only person who can smile when everything around him has gone wrong—is a golf caddy.

A secretary has been defined as a woman who must look like a girl, think like a man, act like a lady and work like a dog.

One thing that will always puzzle us is how a woman with a heel, no bigger than the nail on your little finger, makes more noise walking down steps than a man with a heel the width of a flatiron.

When you get into a heated argument with some fool—be sure he isn't similarly engaged.

Tentative Approval Of Coliseum Plans Given Proposed Project To Be Erected In Vicinity Of Monumental Park

Tentative approval was given by city and county officials to a preliminary drawing of plans for the proposed agricultural coliseum to be erected in the Monumental Park area in Florence. A recent allocation of $50,000 of state funds was made for this project, and will be matched by both the city and county for a total cost for the project of $100,000, it was stated.

The drawing was submitted by Evan Terry, Birmingham architect, and shows a 160 by 150 foot rectangular structure which would include removable floors, allowing the building to be used for livestock, horse shows, 4-H shows and agricultural exhibitions of various types.

The Lauderdale County Court Commissioners agreed earlier to match the $50,000 allocated by the State Agricultural Center Board and contract must be let on the building by January 10, it was announced.

Mayor E. F. Martin indicated that the City of Florence, in addition to furnishing the site for the coliseum, would cooperate with the county in raising the remaining $50,000 required since the project was to be a joint city-county venture.

Mr. Terry met with Mr. Martin and the other commissioners, county attorney W. A. Barnett, members of the county court of commissioners and James Spain, head of the city's recreation department. The group plans to look at further drawings as they are submitted by Terry for approval.

A. W. Todd, Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries and other members of the state Agricultural Center Board, recently inspected the Monumental Park site and another near the Florence fairgrounds, giving approval of the latter site as a location for the coliseum.

Florence State BSC Hosts Meet

International Student Retreat To Be Held At State Park Nov. 27-29

The Florence State BSU will serve as host to an International Student Retreat at Joe Wheeler State Park Nov. 27-29. Approximately seventy-five foreign students and twenty-five American students from twelve colleges and universities over the state of Alabama will attend.

The two-day meeting will include an objective presentation of Christianity to these International students who represent many different religions. Also included in the program are study periods dealing with the relationship of science and religion, a daily newscast, and a tour of the industrial area of Muscle Shoals and the TVA dams.

Program personnel includes Dr. H. Clayton Waddell, professor of Social Ethics at New Orleans Baptist Seminary; Dr. Ralph Overman, chairman of the Special Training Division of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies; Maurice P. Willis, State Baptist Student Secretary; Montgomery; and Miss Jo Randall, Baptist Student Director, Florence State College.

FSC student host committee includes Peggy Norton, Town Creek; Shyrone Worland, New Market; and Pat Yeager, Tarrant. George Gibbons, professor at Florence State College, will be camp manager.

This retreat is being sponsored jointly by the Department of Student Work and the Women's Missionary Union of the Alabama Baptist Convention for the purpose of creating good will and understanding among those of other nations and religions.

Miss Ellen Moore will spend Thanksgiving in Columbia, S. C.

Ford Executive Warns Public Of Inflation Danger

Benson Ford Says That Danger Is Most Serious Confronting Economy

Benson Ford, vice president, Ford Motor Company last week urged the American people not to let the present upswing in the economy take their eyes off the most serious single issue confronting the domestic economy—inflation.

"Although there may be a temporary lull in the 'inflationary rate', he cautioned, the serious long-range tendencies toward inflation must not be overlooked.

Mr. Ford, chairman of the company's dealer policy board, told members of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association that this is a time calling for almost heroic self-discipline and maturity, in business, in education, in national political life and in international relationships.

Two things in particular create concern about our economic behavior, he said.

"One is the extent to which emotion—psychology—has determined the course of our economy and intensified the boom-and-bust cycle. The other is our growing inability to handle a relatively new and virulent inflationary force in our economy."

The nation has improved its ability to cope with traditional business cycles by more skillful use of fiscal and credit policies, Mr. Ford told the publishers. "We have not, however, displayed the capacity to deal with prosperity as well as we deal with adversity."

Mr. Ford said that one of the most ominous notions ever to take hold of the American mind is the widely held theory of the inevitability and even desirability of gradual or creeping inflation. "Many people seem to have bought, lock, stock and barrel, the idea that chronic inflation is essential to economic growth," he said.

Sooner or later, the Ford executive said, the fact that inflation is inherently evil must be faced. "Actually, inflation serves no one. It first hurts the weak and the poor. It taxes most severely the savings of those who cannot protect themselves—small savers, old people, widows and children living on fixed incomes—school teachers, preachers, and civil servants who have no escalator clauses (Continued on Page 2)

Thanksgiving Day Offering Goes To United Dry Forces

The offering received annually at the Florence Ministerial Association's Thanksgiving Church services will be turned over this year to the United Dry Forces of Lauderdale County.

The announcement was made Monday by Lambuth R. Archibald, Minister of the First Methodist Church of Florence and President of the Florence Ministerial Association.

The vote to give the offering to the Dry fight was taken at the November 17 meeting of the Association and was reaffirmed on Saturday in another meeting of the Florence Ministerial Association.

Gardiner-Warring Offering Plants For Sale, Lease

Knit-Kote, Sweetwater Divisions Not Included In Property Disposal

Gardiner - Warring Division of the Flag-Utica Corporation, manufacturers of knitted wearing apparel, has placed a 119,000 square foot industrial property on the Lee Highway in Florence, on the market for disposal, it was announced at Charlotte, N. C., last Thursday.

Frank G. Binswanger, Inc., Southern Division, national industrial realtors, has been appointed exclusive agent for sale or rent of the property.

The property includes 89,000 square feet at ground floor level with 15,000 square feet on each of two upper floors. According to Binswanger, it will be offered in entirety or can be divided in units, from 15,000 square feet up.

The brick and steel building is situated on three acres of ground. It is served by a Southern Railroad siding with an eight-car capacity and loading facilities at car floor height. Tailgate truck loading facilities are available at various points around the building.

The plant has 2,400 square feet of modern, air-conditioned office space, a 2,000-pound freight elevator serving all floors and is sprinkler protected.

M. E. Eisenberg, an official of the Flag-Utica Company explained that both the Knit-Kote Division and the Sweetwater Mills Division of the company, both located in Florence, are not included in the sale or lease proposal. Both of these plants are operating at full tilt with approximately 500 employees, Mr. Eisenberg said.

The Aniston Knitting Company, a division of Flag-Utica Corporation, has also appointed Frank G. Binswanger, Inc., Southern Division, as exclusive agent for the sale or rental of a modern, 121,000 square foot industrial property at Aniston.

Included are 94,500 square feet on the first floor, with 15,300 and 11,200 square feet of warehouse space on two upper floors. The plant is located on a three-acre level plot.

According to Binswanger, the property will be offered in its entirety or in divided units of 11,200 to 94,000 square feet.

The fully sprinklered brick and steel building has ceiling heights from 13 to 18 feet in the clear. A 2,500-pound capacity freight elevator serves the warehouse floors.

Shipping facilities include a Southern Railway siding, seven-car capacity, with loading a car height, and undercover truck tailgate loading.

There are 3100 square feet of air conditioned offices with acoustical ceilings, fluorescent lighting, and finished maple floors.

Aniston Knitting Company manufactures knitted wearing apparel.

Farm Allotments Being Established

Cotton Farmers To Be Notified By Mail Before Dec. 15 Referendum

Acreage allotments for the 1959 upland cotton crop are now being established for all the eligible farms in Lauderdale County, says Joe J. Rasch, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. Each cotton farmer will be notified by mail of the two acreage allotments to his farm before the December 15 marketing quota referendum.

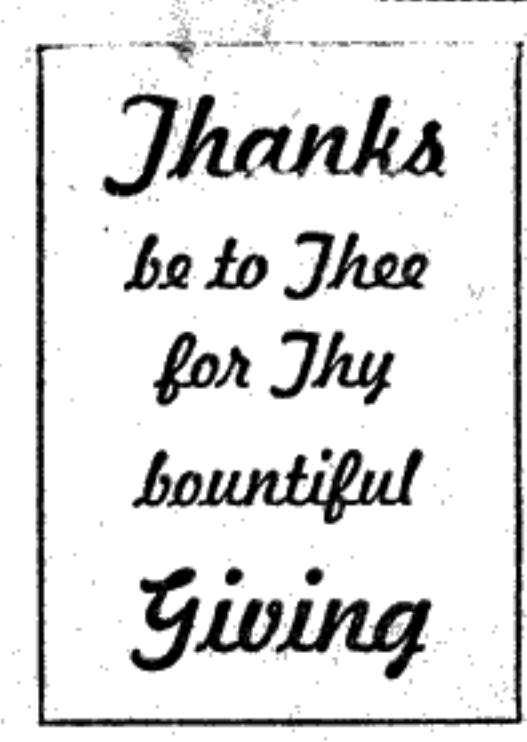

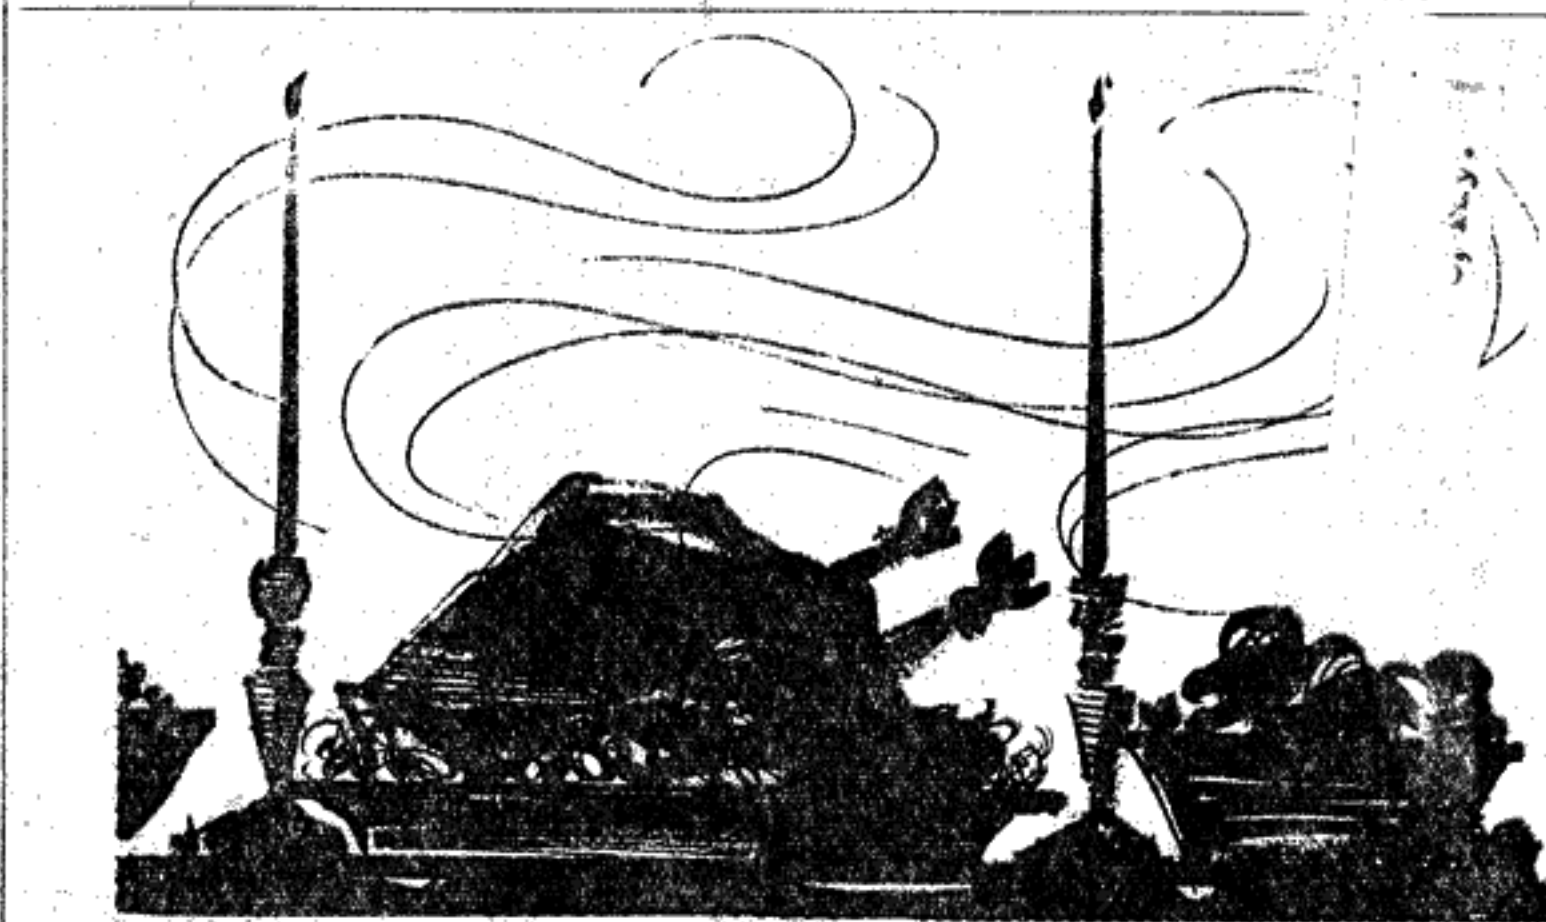

Mr. Rasch explains that this year two allotments will be established for each farm—Choice (A) and Choice (B). If marketing quotas are in effect, the farm operator may elect to comply with the "regular"—Choice (A)—farm allotment and be eligible for price support at the full level available for the crop not less than 80 percent of parity in 1959, or he may elect and comply with the Choice (B) allotment—which is 40 percent larger than under Choice (A), and be eligible for price support at a lower level—15 percent of parity less than the support under Choice (A). If quotas are not in effect only the "Regular" allotments will be available, and price support on the crop will be at 50 percent of parity, as directed by law.

According to the Chairman, the total 1959 "regular" allotment available for distribution within the State is apportioned among counties and the county allotment is apportioned among farms according to provisions of the law and regulations issued by the Secretary of Agriculture.

The county allotment, less any acreage reserved for new cotton farms, must, under the law, be divided among farms on which cotton was planted or regarded as planted in 1956, 1957, or 1958. The minimum farm allotment for "old" cotton farms is the smaller of 10 acres or the farm's allotment for 1958.

The county committee is authorized to set aside a small reserve for adjusting allotments for "old" cotton farms and for hardship cases. In distributing the acreage reserve, the county committee considers the type and productivity of the soil, crop rotation, the labor and equipment available for cotton production, past cotton production, and other factors.

Absentee Voting Open Until Dec. 4 On Wet-Dry Issue

County Officials Expect Large Turnout At Polls December 9

Elbert L. Daly, Register of the Circuit Court in Equity of Lauderdale County, announced last week that persons who meet the requirements for casting absentee ballots in the special election scheduled Tuesday, December 9, in Lauderdale County can now begin making application for absentee ballots or actually voting the ballots.

In discussing the absentee balloting, Daly said that those eligible can cast ballots from the present time, through the fourth day of December. December 4 will be the last day.

He listed the requirements to vote regular absentee as follows: A person whose regular business or occupation regularly requires their absence from the County, and who will be absent from the County on the day of the election because of the regular business or occupation they follow.

Service personnel and their wives with them away from the County who ordinarily reside in Lauderdale can make application by mail for ballots which will be mailed to them.

Disabled veterans confined to veterans hospitals may also make application in writing for ballots with such applications being signed by the commanding officer either of the service personnel or the disabled veteran. Ballots will be mailed and persons can vote by mail.

All other persons who meet voting requirements for absentee ballots may apply to the office of the Register of the Circuit Court in person and vote the ballots at that time.

All Lauderdale County public officials have expressed the opinion that there will be a tremendous turnout for the election on the wet-dry issue. Heavy interest has been shown in record number of persons registering to vote in recent days.

Central FHA Hosts Faculty

The FHA's working on their State degrees entertained the faculty of Central High School Monday afternoon in the home economics living room.

Delicious cinnamon rolls and coffee were served from a very attractive table decorated with a cornucopia centerpiece arrangement of cysanthemums and fruits.

The hostesses were: Willa Jean Jones, Elaine Howard, Mary Lou Robinson, Charlotte Stout, Janie Thornton, Martha Dean Haddock, Carolyn Clemmons, Martha Sue May, Anne Cannon and Gladys Jolly.

Charles F. Kettering, 82, the engineering genius whose mechanical gifts to the world included the automobile self-starter, died yesterday. Death came to the famed "Boss Kett" in his Dayton, Ohio home after only a brief illness. He suffered a slight stroke Sunday and went into a coma earlier yesterday after a second stroke.

The West's second blizzard in a week slammed across the Great Plains Tuesday with blinding snows and gale-force winds. Along its edges, the storm churned up 100 mile per hour winds which ripped Denver suburbs and prompted weathermen to issue tornado warnings for South Central and Southeast Missouri, extreme Southwest Illinois and extreme North Central Arkansas.

Democrats appeared headed for a major sweep yesterday as returns mounted slowly from the first state election in Alaska. Pre-election forecast favored Democrats in all but the Governors race, and Republican campaign efforts were concentrated on hopes of salvaging that one Senate seat.

A Negro minister was jailed in Birmingham Tuesday several weeks after he preached a sermon condemning racial segregation. The Rev. Calvin W. Woods is the sixth Negro minister to be arrested in Birmingham during the past few weeks.

Safe Burglarized At B. M. Ingram Co.

Sometime between 5 p. m. Monday and 7 a. m. Tuesday thieves hauled away between $300 and $400 in cash and a large number of checks in a safe burglary at B. M. Ingram Company, 705 South Seminary.

Florence Police Detective Owen King who worked on the investigation of the case throughout the day Tuesday with Capt. James Carter, said police were able to get a few prints, but did not know whether the prints were those of the burglars or other persons.

The building was entered by someone who pried the office door open between the gin and office building. A large safe was ripped open, according to King who said rivets were first broken off the door and then the concrete was beaten out of the door. That let the burglars into the combination and took them into the safe, according to the detective.

The safe burglary was the first in a number of months in Florence.

However Court Will Continue To Have Sayso

Although the Supreme Court's validation of Alabama's student placement law gave the state some hope of a legal weapon with which to ward off integration efforts until a Negro proves he has been discriminated against, in which case the law would be held unconstitutional.

The decision, in effect, means that Alabama does have a legal weapon with which to ward off integration efforts until a Negro proves he has been discriminated against, in which case the law would be held unconstitutional.

The school placement law, giving the local school boards sole right to say what schools students may attend, does not mention race or color.

In the case of the four Birmingham Negro parents who sought to enter their children in the public schools there proof of discrimination was not contended in their suit before the Supreme Court. They merely claimed the law was designed to subvert the earlier decision by the Supreme Court.

After upholding the law once before the Supreme Court, however warned that the act might be put into practice in a discriminatory, and therefore, unconstitutional manner.

Both the Supreme Court and the lower (federal) courts rested their decisions on the presumption that the law would be fairly administered.

The law, besides giving the school board carte blanche authority to place students in whatever school they so desire, also includes other points, among which are: the effect of the admission of a student on the academic progress of other students, psychological effect on the students as a result of being assigned to a certain school and the possibility of friction or disorder, and so on. Other provisions incorporated aptitude, intelligence, ability, morals, conduct and health, as well as the availability of school facilities and transportation.

John Sparkman To Be Ladies' Night Speaker Tuesday

Senator John Sparkman will address the annual ladies night of the Florence Exchange Club at Hotel Reeder Tuesday night at 7 o'clock, the Rev. Robert H. Crumby, president, announced today.

In addition to the address by Senator Sparkman, a musical novelty program by the Tunettes, a teen-age trio will be presented.

At Tuesday's meeting, Senator-elect E. B. Haltom, Jr., gave an interesting discussion on what might be expected in the coming special session of the legislature, scheduled for January following the installation of John Patterson as Governor. The regular session will follow in March when the new governor's more complete program will be placed before the legislators, Mr. Haltom said.

Mr. Haltom called attention to the fact that Governor-elect Patterson is proposing a $50,000,000 road bond issue, which he says can be financed without additional taxes, and a $150,000,000 school bond issue for capital outlay only.

Additional sums for teachers salaries must come from the action of the legislature as well, Mr. Haltom pointed out. The speaker touched on a number of other important measures that will claim the attention of the legislators during the coming four years.

Roger B. McWhorter and Dewey Hutto were guests of the club.

idays Bobby Cooper will spend the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cooper in Edgemont.

"A Stitch In Time..."

During the Roosevelt administration, outspoken cabinet member Harold Ickes warned against the too rapid depletion of our oil reserves. If he could have seen today's astronomical wastage of gasoline and oil even in one major city for one day, the honest old fellow would, in common parlance, have "flipped his wig."

Today we are warned again by our sober scientists that we can't keep it up. Some say, even in the foreseeable future, we are going to run low upon this important energy source unless we take steps to gear ourselves down to a reasonable level of consumption.

Fossil fuels, the source of all petroleum products, have been known to the world for more than 3,000 years. The ancient Chinese used natural gas for heating, cooking and lighting a thousand years before Christ. The ancient Babylonians burned asphalt a thousand years earlier. However there was little economic significance attached to this because petroleum products did not become important until fairly recently. Wood was our most important fuel until the 1880's, then coal.

Today, no less a person than Admiral H. G. Rickover, discusses the problem of fuel and its relation to our modern transportation system, more specifically the automobile, and warns that we must ultimately find some new source of energy yet unknown or face the disappearance of automobiles, trucks and tractors.

Says Admiral Rickover: "Before all the oil is gone and the hydrogenation of coal for synthetic liquid fuels has ended, the cost of automobile fuel may have risen to a point where private cars will be too expensive to run and public transportation again becomes a profitable business."

Today's automobile is an uneconomical user of energy. It has a five per cent efficiency as compared with the 23 per cent for a Diesel-electric train. To give one an idea of this enormous wastage, cars, planes and trucks consumed in one year what it took nature 14,000,000 years to create.

Admiral Rickover also points out a significant fact and that is we are only at the beginning of nuclear technology and it is therefore difficult to predict what we may expect. And the top man in producing the world's first atomic-powered submarine should know what he is talking about. One difficulty that still stands in the way of a general usage of atomic power, is, we have not solved the problem of what to do with radioactive wastes; another is, we do not know how to employ it other than in large units to produce electricity or heating. Because of its inherent characteristics it cannot be used directly in relatively small machines such as cars or tractors.

Scientists predict now that we are likely to run out of readily recoverable fossil fuel between the years 2000 and 2050 if the present accelerated usage keeps up. Oil and natural gas will disappear first then our coal. When this occurs it will be necessary to either find entirely new sources of energy or lower living standards drastically.

There are those who would have us believe, avers Admiral Rickover, writing in Kiwanis magazine, that there is no cause for anxiety... that reserves will last for thousands of years, and that before they run out, science will have produced miracles.

This may be true... but why not begin to curb the waste? A step taken now may be the proverbial stitch that taken in time "saves nine."

Help For Alcoholics

Certainly the establishing of an outpatient clinic for alcoholics in Montgomery deserves more than passing mention since alcoholism is a health problem rather than a social problem.

As a matter of fact alcoholism is not a police problem although alcohol is involved in some 60 per cent of the cases that come before the average police court. Many alcoholics never come in contact with the police and are not chronic drunkenness offenders.

One good thing about the outpatient clinic is that it will serve to take the pressure off other treatment facilities even though hospital care and more intensive treatment than the outpatient clinic can give must be continued. Those who genuinely desire to be helped can be cured but the desire must be present.

Tribute must be paid at this time to Alcoholics Anonymous for this organization's inestimable worth to the success of the state's program and for the many thousands its unflagging services have rehabilitated.

The new clinic will provide a treatment resource for Montgomery and surrounding counties. It will serve most of the Black Belt and the eastern and southeastern parts of the state.

Certainly more such clinics are badly needed to cope with this ever-increasing problem.

Handicapped Find Jobs In Southeast

The Southeastern States are leading the nation in the employment of physically handicapped persons, Senator Lister Hill said in an address at Montgomery today. Alabama's record in employing the handicapped is almost double the national average, he said.

"The Southeast, with only 11 per cent of the national population, has given employment to 21 per cent of all rehabilitants in the United States," Senator Hill told representatives of the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped and of Governors' Committees in the Southeastern States at a Montgomery conference.

Over the nation, employment of 75,000 handicapped persons this year set a new high for the third straight year, Hill reported. More than 15,000 found jobs in the Southeast during the past fiscal year.

Social Security Account Number

The importance of having a social security card in your possession at all times was emphasized in a statement made today by Mrs. Mary King Temple, manager of the Social Security District Office at Sheffield, Alabama.

Social security wage credits are based on quarterly reports submitted by employers. These reports show the name and social security number of the individual together with the amount of wages paid during the period for which the report is being made.

The employer sometimes must report wages without a number for those workers who have lost their card or failed to get a number. This makes it difficult for the social security record center to properly credit the account.

Application forms for social security numbers may be obtained from any post office or social security office.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

EDITORIAL BRINGS BACK FOND MEMORIES

Editor: I was most interested in your recent editorial, "Wonder Metal of the Age," partly (and naturally), because it extolled the virtues of aluminum and partly because of the references to my old favorites, the Pierce Arrow and the Marmon. I'll have to admit that the Jordan, Locomobile and Peerless are little more than names to me but I cast many an envious gaze at the Marmon and Pierce before they went out of production during the thirties. I particularly remember the Pierce driven by my next door neighbor who had the additional distinction of being the father of movie star Jean Harlow. That gentleman traded cars every eight years, maintaining that was about the right length of time to get the full delight from a Pierce Arrow.

It's an interesting commentary on our times that aluminum may now be the means, according to some automobile experts, that U. S. auto makers will take to meet the gas-saving competition of the little foreign cars.

Thank you for putting me on the mailing list for the Herald. I had previously picked up an occasional copy but am now enjoying it on a regular basis.

Sincerely,

TREASURY DEPARTMENT NOTICE ON E AND H BONDS

Purchases of Series E and H Bonds by institutions, investors and personal trusts combined, under the $10,000 annual limits for both, have been running between $10 and $20 million a month. Transactions range from small new purchases to substantial re-investments—all are welcome additions to our sales totals.

On and after December 1, 1958, all holders of maturing Series E and H Bonds, except commercial banks, have the opportunity to reinvest the proceeds in Series E and H Bonds, if they so desire, without regard to the annual limitation. The Treasury makes this offer so that all long-time F and G customers can keep their Saving Bond holdings intact.

BANKS ARE ROBBED EVEN THOUGH THERE'S A LAW AGAINST IT

Editor: There is much being said about the wet-dry issue election which is to be held in Lauderdale County on December 9. Some say they just as well vote wet and get the tax on booze as they are going to drink it anyhow. Just as well say they are going to rob banks—no use having a law against bank robbery they will rob banks anyhow.

According to some wets, the more booze we have the less drunken drivers we have on the highways, the less car wrecks we will have. That, to me, don't make sense.

Sure, some would drink booze even if there was a death penalty but no one will dare deny that the law enforced will keep it down. It would be 20 times worse if they get what is called "legalized booze." It makes no difference if it is legalized booze or wildcat booze, the crash on the highway will kill people just as dead if the drunks had legalized booze or wildcat booze. As for me, I am going to cast my vote in favor of the dries.

If I were to vote wet, the first crash on the highway would make me feel like I gave consent to the wreck by voting for it. On the other hand, I am voting against the wets, I will not have a guilty conscience that I gave my support to the whiskey side. I don't know but I believe that the whiskey side will be defeated by a 2-1 margin if people vote like they talk.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY CHRISTIAN SERVICE GROUP

Whereas a referendum has been called in Lauderdale County, Alabama for December 9, 1958 for the purpose of deciding the question of legalizing the sale of alcoholic beverages within the county; and

Whereas the Florence District Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church is in accord with the principles set down in article 2023 of the Discipline of the Methodist Church which states, "The teaching of Christ emphasizes the sacredness of each human personality. Anything which blights personality is fundamentally opposed to the gospel of Christ."

Since alcohol, by its very nature harms personality we stand for the Christian principle of total abstinence. Since human welfare decreases as the drinking of alcohol increases, we stand opposed to the continuation of the organized liquor traffic. And Whereas, social drinking has become one of the great problems confronting the Church in our land, we believe that the voice of Christians and the Christian Church must be heard declaring that Jesus Christ is Lord and that His message must be proclaimed to those in power and to the people:

1. Be it therefore resolved, that we urge all Methodists to promote in all their communities public sentiment in favor of restrictions and prohibitions of intoxicating liquor by no-license campaigns.

2. Be it further resolved that we call upon the Methodist women of Lauderdale County to accept their responsibility of Christian citizenship in the aforementioned referendum where their votes and voices will influence the policies of the community against such legalization of alcoholic beverages.

And, (3) Be it further resolved that we urge the Methodist Church to become "in every place a voice" uprooting the alcohol culture pattern from the life of the church and community; affirming the Lordship of Christ in daily living as we seek to achieve a spirit of Christian Unity in our land, so that in working on this issue together under God Christians and Christian Churches may learn to say "No!" in deed and in truth.

This resolution presented by the Study and Action Committee of the Florence District Women's Society of Christian Service,

Mrs. Ralph S. Smith, District President
Mrs. R. L. Archibald, District Secretary of Missionary Education and Service
Mrs. T. D. Bryson, District Secretary of Spiritual Life
Mrs. Victor H. Wood, District Secretary of Christian Social Relations

Local Kiwanis Clubs Observe Farm-City Week

Sen. Sparkman Speaks At Downtown Meeting Griffin At No. Florence

Farm-City Week being observed November 21-27 throughout the United States was recognized locally by the Kiwanis Clubs last week.

The North Florence Kiwanis

held its observance on Thursday night.

H. J. Furman, North Florence businessman, introduced the guests after which Bill Graham introduced Russell Faulkner, Tennessee Valley Assistant Counsel Executive for the Boy Scouts from Huntsville, who in turn presented the guest speaker from the National Staff of the Boy Scouts, Charles S. Griffin, Assistant National Director for the Rural Scouts.

Mr. Griffin spoke on the part the boy scouts play in helping farm-city relations throughout the year by mixing in camping areas and having fellowship together.

He felt that although the Boy Scouts did not replace they did supplement for the 4-H and FFA.

Paul Peters, President of the Club, presided at the meeting. Senator John Sparkman spoke to the Florence Kiwanis Club on Wednesday night at the Reeder Hotel stressing the need of "a suitable, long-range farm bill" to be passed in the Congress.

The speech was the highlight of the dinner meeting in which farmers and businessmen gathered in recognition of the week proclaimed by President Eisenhower.

Senator Sparkman after his introduction by Jesse Keller, Florence attorney, said that the farmers were faced with three major problems, those being, "difficulty of the surplus, costs of operation and problems in the field of diversification."

He stressed the needs for furthering farm education and research in agriculture and blasted Congress for not passing a good, long-range farm bill. He said that there each year a farm bill passed, but it was always a temporary measure.

The Senator mentioned two of the many bills he felt would be passed in congress next year, them being, the question of a self-financing plan for the TVA and a bill curbing the powers of the Supreme Court.

John Doolittle, President of the Club, presided at the meeting. J. B. Mitchell of Huntsville, First Division Lt. Governor, was among the many guests present.

HUNDRED MILLION VISITOR IS EXPECTED

TVA said today that it now appears the 100,000,000th visit to a TVA dam or steam plant will be recorded in January or February, 1959, probably in February. Estimated visits during October reached 726,500, up 55,000 over the same month last year. Fontana Dam was high with an estimated 121,700; Kentucky Dam was second with 93,000; Norris Dam was third with 89,700; and Chickamauga Dam was fourth with 53,600.

The total estimated visits to TVA projects since 1933 is now approximately 98,700,000.

Mrs. Phillips To Lead Heart Fund

Florence Woman Named Muscle Shoals Chairman By General W. J. Hanna

The 1959 HEART FUND Drive in the Muscle Shoals Area will be led this year by Mrs. Charles Phillips of Florence.

This announcement came today from Major General Walter J. Hanna, Birmingham and Lt. Colonel Richard S. Brooks of Montgomery. State Chairman and Co-Chairman, respectively, of the Alabama Heart Association's annual Drive which will be held in February. "We are extremely pleased and very proud to announce that Mrs. Phillips has accepted leadership in the 1959 HEART FUND Drive," said General Hanna. "Her ability as a leader in the community and civic endeavors is well known to the people of the Muscle Shoals area and to many of us throughout the State, and we are confident that Mrs. Phillips will have the support of the people of Muscle Shoals Area."

In accepting the Chairmanship, Mrs. Phillips said that she felt it quite a privilege "to join in the battle against the diseases of the heart and blood vessels—the greatest menace to the general health and well-being of the people of our State and County. There is scarcely a home that has not had a personal bout with some form of heart disease among its members, and it is alarming to me to realize that children as well as adults of all ages are tragically affected by these diseases."

Mrs. Phillips said, "To conquer heart disease, we need more and better knowledge of the cause and greater distribution and use of the knowledge gained. It will take the man in the research laboratory to give us the new knowledge. But it will take all of us working together to see that enough money is available to support this research, and in planning and implementing a program of education and community service to insure a greater distribution and wider use of the knowledge gained."

BUTLER COUNTY MAID TO REPRESENT STATE

Miss Annette Nall, of rural Butler County, will carry the best wishes of all Alabama to Memphis Dec. 30 for the finals of the National Maid of Cotton contest. Miss Nall was selected from among 50-odd county entries in the state contest, sponsored by the Farm Bureau, Alabama State Fair, extension service and other groups.

Meanwhile, Alabama's Dairy Princess, Miss Camille Dunkin, of Perry County, has been named first alternate in the national contest. As Alabama Princess, she is well qualified for the job of promoting dairy products. She is now serving as assistant home agent in Marengo County. A Utah girl, Carol Ralphs, was named American Dairy Princess.

Jones Sets Record For Attendance

Representative Achieves 99 Per Cent Roll Call Vote In Eleven Years

For the 12th consecutive year, Congressman Bob Jones of the Eighth District of Alabama has achieved one of the highest attendance records possible in the U. S. House of Representatives.

Jones' record votes in the two sessions of the 85th Congress were 99 percent, according to the Congressional Quarterly, an independent, non-governmental publication, which tabulates attendance and voting records of all members of Congress. Official records of Clerk Ralph R. Roberts of the House of Representatives agreed with those of the private publication. In the two sessions of the last Congress there were 328 roll-call votes. Jones voted on 317 of them.

Congressman Jones has achieved a 99 percent attendance record since he came to the House of Representatives in 1947, official records show.

Jones has maintained a 99 percent voting record in the 24 Congressional sessions because his absences have never averaged more than five for one session, the official records reveal. During Jones' tenure in Congress, there have been 1,235 roll-call votes. A 100 per cent attendance record is possible, it was explained, but not for a Congressional member whose presence is mandatory at committee meetings, such as Jones. He is a ranking Democratic Member of the House Committee on Public Works and the Committee on Government Operations.

In addition, Jones is Chairman of the House Subcommittee on Public Works and Resources and of the Subcommittee on Public Buildings and Grounds. He is a trustee of the Smithsonian Institution in Washington and a member of the National Monument Commission.

Central 4-Her' Stocks Fishpond

Ben McGuire, 13, son of A. O. McGuire is becoming quite an outdoorsman according to Assistant County Agent A. C. Henslett.

A member of the Central 4-H Club in Lauderdale County, one of the things he's learned in his studies of wildlife and fish is how to properly stock a fishpond. He has poisoned all the undesirable species in the 1½-acre family pond and has ordered enough broom and bass from the state nursery to properly stock the pond.

Ben told Assistant County Agent Henslett that the first time he and his dad stocked the area, they caught fish out of neighbor's ponds and didn't get the proper balance, however.

Two new vetch varieties that show great promise for Alabama are Warrior and Auburn Woolypod.

Scouters Elect District Officers

Harry McMurry Named Chairman At Meeting Held Nov. 12, Sheffield

First officers of the new Muscle Shoals District, Tennessee Valley Council Boy Scouts of America, were elected at a meeting held Nov. 12, at the Muscle Shoals Hotel by the Scouters of the Colbert, Lauderdale and Franklin Districts, plus Town Creek, Courtland, Hatton and Mt. Hope.

Harry G. McMurry, Sheffield, Manager of Ford Motor Co., Sheffield Plant, District Chairman; Vice Chairman are: Wesley Davis, Town Creek, P. S. Post Office Dept.; Frank Reynolds, Florence, Manager of Southern Bell, Florence Branch; Dr. T. R. Prichard, Surgeon, North Ala. Hospital, Russellville, And, Dr. A. M. Christopher, Dentist, Sheffield. The new district commissioner is Lilbourne P. Hall, General Agent, Jackson Life Insurance Co., Florence.

The following men were elected as "Members at Large" of the new Muscle Shoals district:

This new district, and new district officers are a result of the Tennessee Valley Council's long-range planning Committee study on the alignment of the present districts. Heretofore the area of each district followed county boundary lines. The new district was formulated, based on the geographic location, population, available boy crop, manpower, potential, natural trade area, current units and membership. The new district will include Lauderdale County, Colbert County, Franklin County, Courtland, Town Creek, Hatton and Mt. Hope in Lawrence County. Mr. Harry McMurry and his officers, listed above, will assume leadership of the new Muscle Shoal district January 1, 1959.

Ford Executive

Gradually, he said, it affects business and profits. The ultimate consequence, he added, may well be a profit squeeze so severe as to halt economic progress and undermine the stability of the whole economy.

"How do we stem this particular accelerating tendency toward inflation and the profit squeeze? I think, for one thing, that we should concentrate heavily on helping more people achieve a reasonable understanding of the problem."

"It's a tough educational job," he said, "because we are dealing with a very powerful and universal human urge—the urge for more. There is nothing wrong with that urge except that it is insatiable."

Getting the message across, however, is by no means a hopeless task, Mr. Ford said.

"The recession has had at least one salutary effect," he said. "People are waking up to the facts of inflation... They are discovering that, in our economic system, all groups must share in the growth made possible by increasing productivity and by the continual investment of venture capital. They are beginning to be aware that excessive gains by any one group can only lead to everybody sharing more and more of less and less."

If this message can be gotten across, he said, "then I think we can confidently anticipate a return of the United States economy to the path that leads to the golden land of America's dreams—a land of milk and honey, and two cars in every garage."

Recruit Roy G. Gray, 20, whose wife, Martha, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd L. Gray, live at 139 N. Franklin St., recently completed eight weeks of basic combat training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

Gray attended Rogersville High School and was employed by the Pressure Concrete Co. in civilian life.

REUNITED AT WEDDING—Twins Alberto, left, and Lorenzo Quaresimali, embrace as they meet for the first time in their lives at Alberto's wedding in Bologna, Italy. Miss Janet Cauhorn Weds In Detroit Church Setting

Of interest throughout the district where the bride's family is widely known is the marriage of Janet Cauhorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert V. Cauhorn, formerly of Florence and now of Detroit, Michigan, and Dr. Malcolm David Campbell.

The exchange of vows took place at eight o'clock in the evening on Friday, November fourteenth, in Central Woodrow Christian Church of Detroit. Dr. Warren Grafton, pastor, and the Reverend Myron Niel of Dearborn, officiated. Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her wedding a gown of candelight satin detailed with very full floor-length skirt. The fitted bodice was designed with deep V neckline and long sleeves that tapered to points over the hands. Her fingertip veil of double illusion cascaded from a crown of pearls and with her bride's Bible she carried a white orchid showered with stephanotis. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. James M. Cauhorn was her sister-in-law's honor attendant and bridesmaids were Mrs. David Hardin of Chicago and Miss Betty Shuprine of Detroit. Of royal blue velvet, their wavy-length frocks were complimented by bouquets of white lilies and tiny white chrysanthemums.

Miss Mary Cauhorn, identically gowned, served as junior bridesmaid.

Mrs. W. O. Whitten of Florence, aunt of the bride, assisted at the reception which followed the ceremony.

Dr. and Mrs. Campbell will be at home following their New York honeymoon at 7265 Greenfield, Detroit.

The bride is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James M. Cauhorn of Florence.

Sumner-Vaughn Vows To Be Said

Mrs. Tommie J. Sumner, Florence, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Tommie Lou, to Grinnell Farley Vaughn, son of Grinnell Vaughn of Sheffield, and the late Mrs. Vaughn.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Coffee High School and now a member of the freshman class at Florence State College, is the daughter of Tommie J. Sumner of Matheron, Michigan.

Her fiancé was graduated from Sheffield High School and attended Florence State College. He is now with a local business firm. They have chosen December sixth as their wedding day; Pine Street Church of Christ to be the setting.

Mrs. Delano, Mrs. Perkins Honor Miss Faye Palmer

A centerpiece of deep rose chrysanthemums, flanked by silver candelabra holding pink tapers, decorated the party table at the Raymond Delano home, 547 West Alabama Street, when Mrs. Delano and Mrs. Clayton Perkins entertained on Tuesday evening, November eighteenth, in honor of bride-elect Faye Palmer. A cloth of white Italian cut-work completed the appointments where Miss Rose Vaughn presided at the punch bowl.

Low arrangements of orchid chrysanthemums added charm to the setting where Miss Palmer greeted guests with her mother, Mrs. B. D. Palmer, and the hostesses.

The affair was a gift tea and others who assisted were Miss Margaret Morgan and Miss Patricia Perkins.

One hundred sixty friends called during the hours of seven 'til nine.

Prunipals Fete Glenda Nelson

A whirl of social activities has preceded the wedding of Glenda Nelson which will be an event of tomorrow.

The home of Mrs. Barney Welch, Warren Avenue, was the setting for a recent morning coffee when the hostess, mother, Mrs. Hagan Easter, presided at a table covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a low bowl of red gladioli and tuberoses.

Included on the guest list were Mrs. Herbert Inman, Mrs. Clyde Haddock, Mrs. John Welch, Mrs. Ronald Meeks of Columbus, Ga., Mrs. Edsel Holden, Mrs. Charles Mansell, Mrs. Bobby Neal Wade and Mrs. Billy Bob Simmons.

A courtesy of last Thursday was the informal evening affair hosted by Mrs. Haley Bobo and Mrs. James Hall of Augusta, Ga., in the home of the former.

A white linen cloth covered the refreshment table and a silver bowl of pink chrysanthemums was the central ornament.

Guests were Mrs. E. D. Redding, the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Fletcher Strickland, Mrs. J. O. Underwood, Mrs. E. G. Dorris, Mrs. Laura Norman, Mrs. William R. Brown, Mrs. Charles Coburn, Miss Jean Evans, Mrs. Glen Hicks, Mrs. Earl Rogers, Miss Mildred Redding and Miss Sue Mansell.

Here from her present home in Columbus, Georgia, where Lt. Meeks is serving with the United States Army, Mrs. Ronald C. Meeks entertained on Saturday evening in honor of bride-elect Glenda Nelson.

The affair was a dessert bridge and the home of the hostess's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gray Lovelace, was the setting.

Yellow chrysanthemums were the party flowers, used in profusion to add charm in the rooms and on the serving table.

Present with the honoree were Miss Sue Mansell, Mrs. Charles Mansell, Mrs. Billy Bob Simmons, Mrs. James Hall and Mrs. Kenneth Hayes.

Miss Mary Cottles' Engagement Is Told

Foretelling the approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary, is the announcement which has been made by Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Cottles of Rogersville. The bridegroom-elect is Irvin Sobek of Edwall, Washington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sobek of that city.

The nuptial event will take place on December twenty-eighth in Holmes Street Methodist Church, Huntsville.

Bobby Carl Lovelace Will Take B'ham Bride

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Geeters, Birmingham, of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Margaret Elizabeth, to Bobby Carl Lovelace, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lovelace of Cloverdale.

The New Year's Day ceremony will be solemnized in Birmingham.

Mrs. Walker, Miss Penney Fete Attractive Honorees

Mixed arrangements of pink and dubonnet chrysanthemums fashioned the flowering background and centered the festable at the home of Mrs. Carl O. Walker and Miss Josephine Penney, 404 West Tombigbee Street, for the afternoon tea given on Friday in honor of the hostesses' houseguest and cousin, Mrs. Robert T. Binford of Birmingham, and of their niece, Mrs. Richard Penney, Jr., now of Florence and formerly of Corinth, Mississippi.

Standing before a full-length pier mirror the hostesses and honorees, including Mrs. Howard C. Booram, also a niece, greeted their guests.

A white linen cutwork cloth covered the silver-appointed tea table where pink tapers burned in seven branched candelabra.

Assisting with the courtesies between the party hours of half past three 'til half past five were Mrs. Ben Craig, Jr., Mrs. E. Bert Halton, Mrs. Cosby Summerell, Mrs. Kenneth Darby, Mrs. Mims Rogers, Mrs. T. M. Rogers, Jr., Mrs. Henry Bradshaw, Mrs. W. M. Paxton, Mrs. R. T. Simpson Johnson, Mrs. Rivers Wiggins, Mrs. Eugene Hayes, Mrs. Karl Tyree, Mrs. T. M. Rogers, Mrs. Sam Harlan, Mrs. J. Emory Morris and Mrs. Frank Irvine.

Guests numbered more than a hundred.

Mrs. C. S. Young, Florence, is a surgical patient at Vanderbilt University Hospital in Nashville. Reported as making satisfactory progress, Mrs. Young is in room 4702 on seventh floor.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Baker and son, Phillip, spent the past week-end in Tuscaloosa where they were guests of Tommy Baker, student at U of A, attending with him the Alabama Memphis State football game on Saturday.

Mrs. Coleman Entertains With Morning Courtesies

More than thirty guests were included in Mrs. Norman Coleman's invitation to a morning coffee on Friday at The Town Club.

A white cutwork cloth covered the table and a bowl of yellow roses was garlanded by Autumn foliage to fashion a colorful centerpiece.

Party hours were from half past ten 'til noon and the hostess was assisted by Mrs. W. O. Horton and Mrs. Jack Tauber.

Mrs. King Hostess To Hyattian Club

Mrs. Robert Martin gave the program at the November meeting of Hyattian Club, reviewing "Gift of The Hill," a story of the unique Penland School, founded in the North Carolina mountains by Miss Lucy Morgan, and of the dream that was made to come true by its success. The author is Leggett Blythe.

Mrs. Madding King was hostess at her home on North Court Street and guests who supplemented the club membership were Mrs. Walter Bell, Mrs. Frank Hassell, Miss Ethel Pearson and Mrs. W. R. Henderson.

Mrs. Julian Nance presided at the tea during the late afternoon refreshment hour.

Contemporary Club Hears Mrs. Barnwell

Mrs. H. W. Miller was hostess to members of Contemporary Club at her home on West Matilou for the Monday, November seventeenth, meeting.

Mrs. J. R. Barnwell gave the program, relating interesting highlights from the life of Anne Morrow Lindbergh who has won popular acclaim for her literary works during the past twenty-five years. Wife of the famous flyer, Mrs. Lindbergh was the first American to become a licensed glider pilot.

Mrs. M. S. Stringer was a guest for the program and for the tea hour which concluded the meeting.

Miss Klenova Speaks To Current Events Club

On last Thursday afternoon members of Current Events Club gathered at The Town Club for their November meeting.

Mrs. F. F. Beauchamp, in charge of the program, introduced Miss Bertha Klenova who has recently returned from her seventh tour of Europe since being an American citizen. Miss Klenova gave a candid report of impressions received and incidents experienced along with her description of exquisite beauty spots.

Miss Mary Shepard was hostess and, unable to be present, had asked her sister, Mrs. Leo King, to serve in her stead.

Thirteen members enjoyed the program and the concluding social hour.

From The Simple Side By THE FARMER'S WIFE

Another Thanksgiving is near at hand this morning, as the Farmer's Wife takes paper in hand and tries to put into words thoughts which fill our minds when we think of all things which the average person has to be thankful for this year. Surely all of mankind has something for which to give thanks this year - but when I write it is usually from the country woman's point of view - and so it is this day, as we think of the blessings which surround us. How can we describe, to those who don't appreciate such things, the feeling one has at Thanksgiving season to see cleaned fields already - with the harvest safe in the bin and hogs turned into the field to gather up the fragments of what ever might be left. Golden grain piling high, safe from the elements of nature, while in the distance the hum of the combine is heard, gathering in the harvest. Blackened cotton fields, where no more this season will be seen the whiteness of the farmer's cash crop, still in the fields, and just as this year's crop has been successfully harvested so has another one been successfully sown and the greenness of winter grains meets the eye.

At these and many others are among our reasons for thankfulness this season, but to the farmer these blessings alone bring an indescribable warmth to his heart as the winter rains start in, and he is grateful to God for his bountifulness of a wonderful fall season.

Clendenon Marks 25th Year On Job

Curtis Clendenon marked a quarter century of service with Electro Metallurgical Company last week. He was presented a gold watch by Charles Green, Sheffield Works Plant Superintendent, at a ceremony attended by 180 fellow employees.

Mr. Clendenon, a native of Birmingham, began his career at Electromet's Alloy, West Virginia Works in 1933 as a Mechanic. Later he was advanced to Section Leader. In January 1949, Mr. Clendenon came to the Sheffield installation as a Mechanic in the Maintenance Department. He was promoted to his present job, Foreman of General Repairs, in 1950.

Mr. Clendenon and his wife reside at 3402 Oakwood Boulevard, Sheffield.

THE SPILLWAY

AT GRANDMA'S HOUSE we'll meet today
To feast on food and chatter . . .
The womenfolks . . . (the menfolks say) . . .
Think FOOD just DOESN'T matter . . .

BUT WE NOTICE menfolks enjoying the chatter . . . too . . . and taking time out as they fill and refill plates to add choice con-

Leo Views the College Campus By Dottie McRae

Last Monday the ROTC held its annual open house in Wesley Hall.
In the various classrooms and offices, weapons, uniforms, and instructional aids were on display and there was a movie shown that looked very interesting but very confusing to me.

Guided tours were conducted through the supply room and anyone who wanted to could try his hand at the rifle range—I'm a coward, I didn't try.
Serving refreshments kept the sponsors—Jane Blair, Florence, Battle Group sponsor; Barbara
Peeden, Killen, Cadet Officers
Sweetheart; Marilyn Wiley, Tuscumbia, "A" Company; Tonita Kil-go, Florence, "B" Company; Ann
Blair, Florence, "C" Company; Mary
Helen Manning, Cullman, "D" Company; Madeline Hillman, Florence, "E" Company; and Jane Newton, Lawrenceburg, band sponsor—busy most of the evening.

That same Monday night I found members of the Tri-Cities Astronomy Club which meets every Monday, viewing the stars and moon. According to Mr. Henry T. Harvey the members make their own telescopes and have produced some extremely good instruments.

Back to the ROTC—The Cadet Officers' Corps is preparing for the fall visit of the bloodmobile. Volunteers will have an opportunity to donate blood December 3.
Religious Emphasis Week, last week, was a success. Kirby Auditorium was crowded at each of the convocations periods, and the seminars and discussions were well attended.

The FSC Lions really ended the season with a bang—20-13 over the Austin Peay Governors. The Basketball season begins December 2, immediately after Thanksgiving holidays.

Demonstration Club Formed At Stony Point

Lauderdale County now has a new home demonstration club.
The new club, attended by 19 members, was organized last month in Stony Point community.
Home Agent Sarah Conner spoke to the assembly, telling them how the home demonstration clubs operate and the responsibilities they should assume as members.
Officers elected to head the group this year are Mrs. Paul De-Lano, president; Mrs. Lester Butler, first vice-president; Mrs. Willard Smith, second vice-president;
Mrs. Thomas Clemmons, third vice-president; Mrs. Clark Hansel, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. W.
C. Davis, reporter; Mrs. Inez Price, devotional leader; Mrs. John Peitersson, song leader; and Mrs. W.
D. Warren, story of the hymn.

Coffee Pot Wins 1958 'Sweepstakes'

The Coffee Pot, the Coffee High Annual, walked away with the highest honor in the state, the "Sweepstakes" award at the annual Alabama High School Press Association Convention held November 7-8 on the University campus at Tuscaloosa.

The "Sweepstakes" award is given to the annual considered best in these points: theme, photography, layout coverage, originality, copy and text, and art work. The theme for the winning yearbook was based on lake life in the Muscle Shoals area. Toby Delony and Annette Koonce were editor and business manager, respectively for the 1958 annual.

County Farmer Plants Early

Regardless of weather conditions, Lawrence Specker of St.
Florin community believes in planting on time.

Back in September, the Unit
Test Demonstration was determined to get his vetch in the ground early. The soil was dry, Specker told Assistant County Agent S. M.
Eich, Jr., but he decided to plant anyhow.

The Lauderdale County farmer broke and harrowed the land. He planted hairy vetch 20 to 25 pounds per acre—by September 9 and fertilized with 150 pounds per acre of 0-30-30 as recommended by soil tests.

Hogs and grain crops are the main source of income on the 160-acre Florence Rt. 6 farm.

College Business Dept. To Attend Conference In S. C.

Leaving yesterday for Columbia,
South Carolina, where the South-

Mr. Stevens will participate in a panel discussion "How Can the Teaching of Bookkeeping be Improved?"

Dr. Z. S. Dickerson, formerly of Florence State, now of Madison College, Harrisonburg, Virginia, and vice-president of the organization, will serve as toast master at the Fellowship Dinner when J.
Marshall Hanna of Ohio State University, Columbus, will be speaker.

Also Alabamian, prominent on the program will be J. L. Brake-field, Director of Public Relations, Liberty National Insurance Company.

Let's Talk It Over

By SARA SAZE

Dear Sara Saze,

It seems like my boys just about changed overnight when they got married. They always would sit around and talk over things that are to their interest much as anybody's here at home. Like the work that has to be done and how to go about things.

Now, I know they have their own families and responsibilities and I don't ask much. But I know they could find time to show some interest. We still try to do everything we can to help out with them but, when I start to talk about things like whether to trade in the old tractor, I can tell their minds are a thousand miles away.

They have nice, good wives. What do you think could be wrong? I was so proud to have boys but now I wish I had a girl or two along.

Another Father. I've often heard that second fiddle is the most difficult instrument to learn to play but I think you should start practicing on it. And it doesn't matter that all your girls turned out to be boys. It's technique you'd need regardless.

Of course, girls can be counted on to stick a little closer to mama, and daddy, but with homes and families of their own, their interests are divided, too. It's natural and exactly as it should be. And this very same thing probably happened once upon a time to your parents in regard to you. I suggest that you find something else to harp on. Try that second fiddle.

Dear Sara Saze, The first light frost surprised me and caught my green tomatoes. I gathered them before sun-up and want to make pickles but am told it will not be good. Isn't there some way I can tell? The tomatoes look fine.

Alice M.

I think you'd certainly know if your tomatoes were frost-bitten. If they have remained firm, with a good green color, I believe they're OK.

A precautionary measure would have been to wash them immediately after gathering. To be doubly sure, why not call the Home Demonstration Agent?

GI Home Loans Good Paying

Alabama veterans with GI home loans have set and continue to set a remarkable record of paying off home mortgage debts, Harley A. Smith, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Montgomery, said today.

Mr. Smith disclosed that out of a total of 328,000 World War II and Korean Conflict veterans in Alabama, GI home loans had been made by $63,664 since the program was launched in December 1944.

Of that total number of home mortgage loans guaranteed, 11,098 have been paid in full by the veteran-borrowers, he said.

These figures are based on a study made by the VA including all loans made through August 1958.

'Wayside Inn' Is Oldest Dwelling

By OSCAR D. LEWIS

Older than Florence, older than the state of Alabama, is the old house on the corner of Hermitage Drive and Seminary Street.

It was built of native clay bricks by slave labor in 1811, eight years before the founding of Florence, by Thomas Cheatham, a native Scot, who came to Alabama territory from Virginia. He secured the land from the government and built the house as a wayside inn for those who traveled over the nearby Natchez Trace and the old stage trail (Military Road) used later by Andrew Jackson and his men when enroute to do battle with the British at New Orleans.

It is known that Jackson stopped overnight at this house, his army camping on sites occupied by the Florence Clinic, Wilson Park and the Post Office.

Cheatham established a ferry at the bend of the river which he operated for many years. He was also a contractor and later built a number of famous Florence homes among which were the old ferry home on West Tuscaloosa Street, torn down to make way for the new Bell Telephone Company building; the old Foster place, (Rogers Hall), the Irving and Irving-Simpson homes.

Hamilton Patterson, one-time governor of Tennessee, was born in the Cheatham house. Patterson's father purchased the house and later sold it to the McAllister-Irving estate. Felix Grundy Lambeth, Sr., acquired the house from the estate in 1873 and it is still occupied by the Lambeth family. The house has had a varied and certainly dramatic existence in that it not only housed many famous people but served as a hospital during the Civil War, the first time following a battle in the streets of Florence not far from the house itself.

It is told that a detachment of federal troops were pursued and took refuge in a livery stable near the corner of Tuscaloosa and North Court Streets. This structure was built of heavy timbers and for a time the Union soldiers were able to fight off their attackers.

The Confederates however had no relish to expose themselves to the murderous fire of the Yankee carbines poked through the cracks in the hayloft, so finally decided to burn the enemy out. They hurled lighted pine knot torches onto the shingled roof of the building which shortly became a raging inferno. The Union soldiers came out with a white flag on the end of a bayonet, bringing their wounded with them.

Wounded Confederates and Union soldiers alike were placed side by side on the floor of the old Wayside Inn and there their wounds were dressed and their needs attended by the kindly townspeople and the few doctors who were left.

Later, following the Battle of Elk River, which was a considerable skirmish between sizeable cavalry detachments of both sides, wounded were again placed in the old house which by this time was a regularly designated hospital and remained so until after Lee's surrender at Appomattox.

It never served either as an inn or hospital again, being used as a private dwelling from that time on. It has survived well the ravages of time.

College Students Debate On Nuclear Weapons In Future

Capstonites and Oxford Debaters matched sharp wit and repartee last week in a no-decision exhibition debate on the future of nuclear weapons development.

The Oxford University students, Thomas Griffiths and Brian Walden, argued for stopping development of nuclear weapons by international agreement. Craig Bamberger of Selma and David McCaleb of Birmingham, representing the University of Alabama, argued for continuing.

The Englishmen warned that: genetic damage from further tests and bombs might endanger all mankind; that since the H-bomb has brought about a "balance of terror," weaponizing in the nuclear field should be "frozen" as of now.

The Alabamians noted that: the best military defense is a strong offense and "only the achievement by the U.S. and Britain" in nuclear science has to date deterred the Russians from open military conquest. U. S. development of small tactical nuclear weapons is now a must, they argued.

Sergeant First Class Jimmie C. Graben, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Graben, Route 4, Florence, recently participated with the 24th Division's 21st Infantry in combat efficiency Army training tests in Germany.

A platoon sergeant in the infantry's Company B, Sergeant Graben entered the Army in 1942. He arrived in Europe last June. The sergeant attended Waterloo High School. His wife, Mary, is with him in Germany.

Officers Named At Country Club Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Florence Golf and Country Club was held Thursday night following a delightful buffet dinner served by club manager George Hobbs. A large and enthusiastic group of members attended and it was pointed out that membership now stands at an all-time high of nearly 300. Much interest was shown and considerable discussion followed the presentation of detailed plans for the proposed enlargement and improvement of present facilities which included the golf course, the club house and the swimming pool facilities. It was pointed out by retiring president Nolan Hatcher that the increasing membership, the rapid growth of the Tri-Cities area and its splendid economic condition and prospects for continued growth, warranted an immediate program of expansion of all facilities of the club if it continued to occupy its present important role in the recreational, social and economic life of the community.

The following were elected to serve the club as officers for the next twelve months: Max Levinson, president; James H. Schneible, vice-president; William E. Batson, secretary-treasurer. Elected to the board of directors: James H. Schneible, D. H. Bowling and Steve Pushaver. Other members of the board of directors are Russell A. Lewis, Edgar L. Carter and Thomas W. Schuessler.

The splendid work of all committees and Golf Professional Alex Sloan and Club Manager George Hobbs, and the fine leadership of retiring president Nolan Hatcher was recognized as contributing to an active and successful past year for the club.

Deaths

Harris Long Goad

Funeral services for Harris Long Goad, Rt. 6, who died at ECM Hospital Sunday at 9:15 a. m. after an illness of three weeks were held from the Brown Service Chapel at 1:30 p. m. Monday with Rev. A. Act No. 751, Alabama Legislature, Effective September 23, 1957

Section 1. This Act shall apply only in counties having a population of not less than 53,000 nor more than 56,000 inhabitants, according to the last or ANY SUBSEQUENT FEDERAL DECENNIAL CENSUS.

Section 2. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to sell or offer for sale any spirituous, vinous, or malt or brewed beverages in any county in which this Act applies, except within the corporate limits or police jurisdiction of an incorporated municipality thereof; and it shall also be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to sell or offer for sale any spirituous, vinous, or malt or brewed beverages within the corporate limits or police jurisdiction of any incorporated municipality within any such county except for consumption off the premises of the vendor.

Section 3. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to sell or offer for sale any spirituous, vinous, or malt or brewed beverages in any establishment located within one mile of the boundary of the campus or grounds of any college or other institution of higher learning or of any eleemosynary institution in any county in which this Act applies, unless such establishment is located within one thousand yards of the court house of such county.

Section 4. It shall be unlawful to locate any state liquor store within one mile of the boundary of the campus or grounds of any college or other institution of higher learning or of any eleemosynary institution in any county in which this Act applies, unless such store is located within one thousand yards of the court house of such county.

SECTION 1 OF ACT NO. 751 ANALYZED

A careful study of Section 1, Act 751, as listed above, will show you that the moment the 1960 federal decennial census is released, this act will be NULL and VOID as far as it relates to Lauderdale County.

Current unofficial census shows that today Lauderdale County has passed the 56,000 population mark and the official census in 1960 will confirm this.

Therefore, if the move to legalize alcoholic beverages is passed on December 9th, immediately after the 1960 federal decennial census is released, every section of Lauderdale County, including all communities whether incorporated or not, will become available for the legal establishment of whiskey and beer stores.

November 26, 1958

United Dry Forces of Lauderdale County
Florence, Alabama

Gentlemen:

You requested us to give you an opinion as to the effect on Florence State College if Lauderdale County votes wet in the election on December 9th, and the effect on said Florence State College of the provisions of Act. No. 751, Acts of Alabama, Regular Session 1957.

Sections 3 and 4 of the above Act No. 751 are as follows:

"Section 3. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to sell or offer for sale any spirituous, vinous, or malt or brewed beverages in any establishment located within one mile of the boundary of the campus or grounds of any college or other institution of higher learning or of any eleemosynary institution in any county in which this Act applies, unless such establishment is located within one thousand yards of the court house of such county.

"Section 4. It shall be unlawful to locate any state liquor store within one mile of the boundary of the campus or grounds of any college or other institution of higher learning or of any eleemosynary institution in any county in which this Act applies, unless such store is located within one thousand yards of the court house of such county."

A large part of the buildings and grounds of Florence State College are less than 1,000 yards from Lauderdale County Court House, therefore, if Lauderdale County votes wet on December 9th, liquor can legally be sold in the vicinity of the Florence State College Buildings and grounds, under the provisions of the above Act No. 751, known as H. 1135—Broadfoot, Haltom Act.

Yours very truly,

New Idea In Savings Stamps

The local post office has a real bargain for you—a brand new United States Savings Stamp in patriotic red, white, and blue, at the same old price of 25 cents.

For an even better bargain, you can buy 10 stamps in an attractive Gift Book for $2.50—or 20 stamps for $5.00—and the books doesn't even cost you that extra penny.

The new stamp, a successor to the old 25-cent green Savings Stamp, went on sale in post offices all over the country on November 18. It marks the first major change in design since the present series was begun in 1942. The other denominations remain unchanged: the 10-cent stamp in red, the 50-cent in blue, the $1 grey, and the $5 brown.

Savings Stamps are accumulated in a special album, available free at all post offices. Filled albums may be exchanged for Savings Bonds at any bank.

More than one hundred million Savings Stamps were sold last year at total value of nearly $20 million. Many of these sales were made through weekly Stamp Day plans in schools enrolling more than six million students. Many additional schools are in process of installing the Savings Stamp thrift plan this fall, the Treasury reported.

November 21-27 has been designated as annual Farm-City Week.

Kittens, Mittens, and Life

"Three little kittens lost their mittens . . . Bobby is thoroughly absorbed in the antics of the kittens. He will be pleased to discover that at the end of the story they find their mittens again. Like all children, he wants his stories to have happy endings.

But soon Bobby is going to find out that life's stories don't all have happy endings. Bobby is growing up, out of the land of fairies and elves, into the world of reality. Bobby must learn to meet sorrow with understanding, pain with courage, prosperity with thankfulness, defeat with hope, success with humility—he must learn to face life.

The Church School is waiting with open doors for Bobby, your Bobby. The Church School is prepared to show your children the best ways to make life a success. The Church School is ready to teach your children—in the language of children—the eternal truths of life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

STATE EMPLOYEES AVERAGE $315 PER MONTH

Alabama's State government is now employing 9,759 persons who earn an average monthly salary of $314.96, according to a report issued this week by the State Personnel Department. These figures do not include daily and hourly paid employees. The State Highway Department has the largest number of employees with 3,216. Next is the Pensions and Security Department with 949, followed by the State Department of Industrial Relations with 761, the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board with 743, and the State Conservation Department with 612.

Artificial Bred Herds Improve

There should be more quality dairy animals in Alabama next year, since more dairymen have become interested in artificial breeding.

Last year about 20,000 cows were bred artificially in the state. This year, according to API Extension Dairyman John Parrish, indications are that the figure may reach 30,000. This trend for Alabama dairymen is in keeping with experimental research, thus showing the value of the production-proved sire.

"If we go back to study the history of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's dairy herd at Beltsville, Md., we find interesting facts that prove the artificial breeding program is sound," Parrish continued.

"The Beltsville herd was started in 1917. After studying the history of the cows and sires in the herd, Dr. M. H. Fohrman of the Animal Husbandry Research Division of the U.S.D.A., pointed out that buying production-proved sires is a more reliable method than studying pedigrees. He also said that while pedigree analysis was for many years the basis for selecting herd sires, its over-all effects are not too impressive.

"Occasionally, a dairyman using artificial breeding says he's getting a great variation in milk production among daughters. But such variations in production increases are pretty well leveled out by the third, proved-sire generation, according to a study of 400 records."

Artificial insemination services are available in 53 Alabama counties. Parrish urges dairymen who are interested in this method of breeding to see their county agents. Your county agent can tell you how to contact a technician.

Good Additional Income In Poultry

A good poultry operation can fit well on almost any farm, large or small, that needs additional income.

Many Alabama farmers are raising their farm incomes now by producing poultry. But there are certain requirements one must meet if he wishes to be a successful poultryman. API Extension Poultryman S. L. Davis lists a few of these requirements.

First, he says, a successful poultryman must have volume. Research has indicated that 1,000 layers or 10,000 broilers should constitute the minimum part-time unit. Full-time units should go as high as 2,500 to 3,000 layers or 20,000 to 30,000 broilers.

The poultryman who plays the market to establish his operation and doesn't intend to stay in the business is inviting disaster. The enterprise should be set up as a long-time business, not for just a year.

Adequate housing and equipment are necessary for good production. "Because of defects in design or quality of materials," says Davis, "many poultry houses aren't built so the grower can do an acceptable job of managing his flock."

And good management is especially important, since it means bringing together the chick, feed, house, and equipment in a situation that will make the most efficient production. No one can do this but the grower.

A good poultryman should turn out a high-quality product. Alabama broilers are known throughout the country for their high quality. But it's entirely possible, with inspection and grading, that we will find considerable improvement could be made in the quality of the birds we produce.

Waterloo Boy Is Top Corn Grower

Leroy Watkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Watkins has won the Champion Corn Grower Award of the Waterloo FFA Chapter.

Leroy produced 101.26 bushels of corn per acre on his best acre of corn being carried as part of his work in his vocational agriculture class at Waterloo High School. He planted Funk 7-11 variety on June 9th and fertilized it with 600 pounds of 4-10-7 at time of planting. The corn was grown on land that had a good crop of winter legumes grown the year before.

As an award for his success Leroy will receive a check for $12.50 and his yield will be submitted for competition in the County Contest. Leroy is a senior and very active in the FFA as well as other school activities. His advisor is William B. Hagood.

Rogersville FFA Plans Big Year

The Future Farmers of America Club held its regular meeting last Tuesday, Nov. 24. The chapter discussed the program of work for this year. After discussion, a program of work was adopted and mailed to the Alabama Future Farmers of America Association at Auburn.

The Rogersville Chapter will be putting emphasis on the Landrace Pig Chain this year. One of the gilts belonging to R. L. Weigart has already farrowed 13 pigs. There will be three more to farrow within the next month. We are hoping they will all bring large litters.

The Club also plans to have show steers in the Fat Cattle Show in Birmingham next spring. The following members have already purchased purebred steers and have them on feed for the show: R. L. Weigart, Donnie Behel, Glenn White, and Billy Wayne Lovell.

The Rogersville Future Farmers of America are looking forward to a big year's work in Vocational Agriculture.

Clean Machinery Before Storing

Chemical weed control machines, and other tractor spraying machines, are precision equipment. Such equipment requires special care at storage time.

Certain jobs are necessary, says API Extension Farm Mechanization Specialist Tom Gaillard, if the spraying equipment is to be properly stored for the winter. Gaillard has offered some suggestions for preparing your equipment for storage.

First, the entire sprayer should be flushed with warm, soapy water and rinsed with clean water. Dismantle the equipment and drain the tank, pump, valves, hoses, pipes, and nozzles. All water must be removed to prevent freezing.

Piston and gear pumps should be filled with oil after they are cleaned. And all openings must be covered or plugged to keep out dust and insects. To prevent rusting, flush the diaphragm and roller pumps with rust inhibitor and close the openings.

All nozzles should be removed after cleaning and placed in a cloth bag. This bag should be attached to the sprayer in order to keep the nozzles from being lost or damaged.

Hoses, pipes, and valves should be placed in a box or hung up. The tank should be left open so it will dry thoroughly, and after drying, the inside should be coated with a lightweight oil. If the tank is rusty inside, discard it.

In the spring remove the sprayer from storage and test it under operating conditions before time for it to be used in the fields.

Adult Class Of Waterloo Shows Progress

The Waterloo Vocational Agriculture and Home Economics department held their fourth meeting of the Adult Class at the high school on Monday night, November 10.

Reports were given by each chairman of the four different committees working on community beautification projects. Berl Harrison of the sign committee reported that some progress had been made in securing signs for the highway leading into Waterloo and also signs for the different churches within the Waterloo school community.

Mrs. Mary Eloise Roby reported that the committee on landscaping had received orders for shrubbery from four churches in the area in addition to several orders for

Subscribers and Their Family Household Members

This outstanding policy will help to pay those unexpected expenses for bodily injury—whether simple or serious—when accidents strike without warning at work, on the farm, at home, at school, at play, or while traveling. Here is a modern, practical, essential and economical personal accident policy prepared to give the best possible protection at the lowest possible cost that will fit the pocketbook of every family.

Each member of the family—man, woman and child—regardless of age, residence, occupation or activity—is constantly exposed to accident hazards "around the clock" and "around the calendar" and should have this valuable and helpful protection which is now available through this newspaper because of the serious accident situation which exists everywhere today. Subject to the policy provisions, it includes indemnity for Loss of Life, Loss of Limb, Loss of Sight, Total Disability, First Aid, Ambulance, Hospital and X-Ray.

The policy is issued without medical examination. There are no age limits (specific loss and total disability indemnities are reduced fifty per cent (50%) when the Insured is or becomes age 70 and over). It costs only $5.00 per person per year, plus a first-year only registration fee of $1.00. This averages but slightly more than a penny a day for protection everyone needs and can afford to pay. It is issued by Old Republic Life Insurance Company, Chicago, Illinois.

Be Insured With This Helpful Protection!

STATE OF ALABAMA
LAUDERDALE COUNTY
IN THE PROBATE COURT
ORDER OF ELECTION

On November 8, 1958, there was filed in this court petitions in writing, signed by 2,091 qualified voters in Lauderdale County, Alabama, as provided by Section 68, Title 29, Code of Alabama 1940, requesting me as Probate Judge of Lauderdale County, Alabama, to call an election for said Lauderdale County, Alabama, to determine the sentiment of the people of said County as to whether or not alcoholic beverages can be legally sold or distributed in said County and, it being made to appear the following facts, this court makes the following findings of fact, to-wit:

1. Petitions signed by 2,091 qualified voters in Lauderdale County, Alabama, requesting the Probate Judge to call an election for said Lauderdale County, Alabama, to determine the sentiment of the people as to whether or not alcoholic beverages can be legally sold or distributed in such County, have been filed with me on November 8, 1958.

2. The number of voters voting in the last preceding general election in Lauderdale County, Alabama, on to-wit, November 4, 1958, was 4,249.

3. The number of qualified voters signing said petitions calling for said election constitute more than 25% of the number of voters voting in the last preceding general election in Lauderdale County, Alabama.

4. No election to determine the question set out in said petitions has been held in said Lauderdale County, Alabama, within the last two years prior to the 9th day of December, 1958.

5. Act No. 751 of the Legislature of Alabama, passed at the regular session of 1957 and approved September 23, 1957, imposes certain limitations therein recited on the sale of alcoholic beverages in Lauderdale County, Alabama.

6. That an election to be held on December 9, 1958, on the question to be answered in accordance with the request of said petitions, will be within not less than thirty (30) days nor more than forty-five (45) days from the date of the filing of said petitions.

7. The terms and provisions of Section 68, Title 29, Code of Alabama 1940, have been fully complied with.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and by authority conferred upon me by Section 68, Title 29, Code of Alabama 1940, I, Herman K. Longshore, Judge of Probate of Lauderdale County, Alabama, do hereby direct that an election be held on the 9th day of December, 1958, for the purpose of determining the sentiment of the people as to whether or not alcoholic beverages can be legally sold or distributed in Lauderdale County, Alabama, subject to the limitations of Act No. 751, 1957 Legislature, Page 1186, approved September 23, 1957.

It is ordered that notice be given for three consecutive weeks in the Florence Herald, a newspaper published in Lauderdale County, Alabama, that such election will be held in Lauderdale County, Alabama, between the hours of 8:00 A.M. and 6:00 P.M. on the 9th day of December, 1958.

It is further ordered that on the ballot to be used for such election, the question shall be in the following form: "Do you favor the legal sale and distribution of alcoholic beverages within this County?" Yes..... No..... It is further ordered that said election shall be held and the officers appointed to hold same in the manner provided by law for holding other County elections, and the returns thereof tabulated and results certified as provided by law for such elections.

Done and ordered at Florence, Alabama, this 13 day of November, 1958.

This TOO Is Texas Eastern...

Delivering over 500 billion cubic feet of natural gas yearly

That's the annual rate at which Texas Eastern is delivering natural gas to its customers—companies and municipalities—that supply millions of homes and thousands of factories in a dozen or more Midwestern, Appalachian and Eastern Seaboard states.

In just 11 years, average daily deliveries have increased more than tenfold.

In early 1947, a day's delivery was only about 138 million cubic feet of gas. Today, the 6000-mile Texas Eastern natural gas pipeline network can deliver more than 1.7 billion cubic feet of gas daily!

And the demand is growing—understandably.

More and more home owners are switching to clean, economical natural gas for heating, cooking and air conditioning. Industry is steadily finding new uses for this highly adaptable fuel. The demand is outstripping all expectations. Now a new customer—the petrochemical industry—is calling for more and more natural gas. Here natural gas is used as a raw material in manufacturing a fantastically-varied assortment of home and commercial products.

In every direction, the outlook for this once-wasted natural resource grows steadily brighter.
