The Passing Parade

1884 - 1959

By HAROLD S. MAY

Our suggestion urging a straw vote on the various forms of city government to replace the present out-moded system appears to have fallen on fertile soil. The city commission has taken to the suggestion most kindly and now it appears that we shall have the opportunity to express our preference. We feel, however, that it is not amiss at this time to express the opinion that no city in the entire state has been more blessed with dedicated public servants than has Florence. With but few exceptions, Florence has had city commissioners who rendered unselfish, able and energetic service throughout their terms of office. All of which has resulted in the steady progress of the community. Florence has been singled out repeatedly for high praise by bonding firms and others who know first-hand the manner in which a city's business is conducted. The date for the straw vote is Tuesday, April 21. The number that will cast a vote will be interesting.

A bit of curbstone opinion on the manner in which any decision made by the voters in the straw vote on April 21 would be placed into the legislative mill may be of interest. It is the belief of those who should know that if the voters show preference for the full time mayor - commissioner form of government, official approval can be given by the voters to such a change merely by voting an amendment to the present city constitution. This, of course, would follow a local act by the Legislature setting up the election. However, should the voters decide in favor of the city manager form in the straw vote, then a general act of the Legislature would be necessary which would be placed before the voters of the state in a general election. If approved by the voters of the entire state, then a local election would be required in which the people of Florence would render the final decision.

It seems that most of us strive day in and day out to make ends meet. If just one time they would overlap a little for us, we'd be mighty happy.

With all the shenanigans going on in Tibet, we are reminded of the close ties the people of the United States have with that far-off country. There, as you know, is the land of yak; ours is the land of the yak-yak.

When you think that the argument you win with your wife at breakfast this morning is over—brother, you are in for a rude awakening.

A friend of ours tells us that he had a tough decision to make. His doctor told him that he was drinking to excess and suggested that he cut down. We asked him what he had done about it. "I took his advice. Instead of drinking Four Roses I now drink Three Feathers," he explained — to his (not our) satisfaction.

A stickler for good writing is a fellow who makes fewer mistakes in spelling than you do.

Do you remember back in the years when on a summer's night the important pastime was taking an "evening constitutional"? Now, it is practically impossible to take a walk. In all friendliness, many folks will stop their car and ask if you could use a ride. Others wonder if the finance company took away your car or if you are trying to save the expense of buying gas for the old buggy.

When an account becomes past due, most American businessmen write a courteous letter requesting payment, if possible. In India, it is different. The Law Society's Gazette of London quotes the following letter written by a lawyer in India for a client to someone who owed some money: "Dear Sir: Unless you pay the rupees that you owe within fifteen days, we shall take such steps as will cause you to have utmost astonishment."

In Florence the staff has been busy coordinating activities over the two counties. Many groups and individuals have cooperated by giving their time and talent to help carry out plans. The other window shows a map of Colbert and Lauderdale counties, colored pins indicate the libraries in the region as well as the schools and communities served by the bookmobile. In the glass case inside the library may be seen what happens to a book before it can be checked out by a library patron. The caption reads: New Books Made Ready For You.

Mrs. Gayle G. Patterson, local artist, has kindly consented to display some of her works during National Library Week and for the remainder of the month of April in the Florence-Lauderdale Public Library. Mrs. Patterson studied under Professor Appleby Instructor in Art at Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn. Most of her paintings are nature scenes and are done in water color, oil and pastels.

'Coffee Day' Will Aid Cancer Fund

Public Urged To Make Contribution To 1959 Crusade On Friday

Friday is "Coffee Day" in Lauderdale. Many restaurants, cafes, hotels, lunch rooms and soda fountains will give their patrons free coffee. In return, they ask that customers make contributions to the American Cancer Society in support of the 1959 crusade to conquer cancer.

"Ray Berry and Edd Jones, Coffee Day chairmen, expressed appreciation to the business firms participating and issued a special appeal to all coffee drinkers to make as generous a gift as possible to the cause of fighting cancer, which ranks as the nation's number two killer, second only to heart disease.

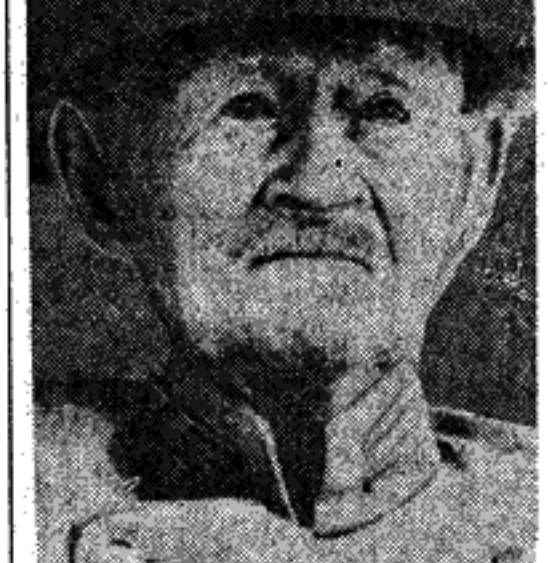

"Cancer is one of the most serious problems facing our community, our state and our nation today," Berry and Jones said, "because it takes such a heavy toll in human life and economic loss. Only through research and education can we fight back. Our doctors tell us that with present knowledge, half those who get cancer could and should be saved. But this can only be done through early diagnosis and treatment. This means the American Cancer Society has a tremendous educational job to do, and that is why our support of this program is so vitally important.

"Those of us who are engaged in this crusade and who are most familiar with the American Cancer Society appeal to every good citizen to make a contribution in support of the work of the American Cancer Society on Coffee Day."

Plaques have been placed in those business establishments participating in Coffee Day, and customers have been asked to place their contributions in coin cans or other containers designated for "Coffee Day" gifts.

Many clubs and groups will be holding special coffee periods Friday in support of this effort and many other smaller groups will take part in the same way, Berry and Jones reported.

"The business firms that are participating in Coffee Day are generous, civic minded firms who are doing their share to support a cause in which every home in Lauderdale County is interested since cancer strikes one out of four persons," Berry and Jones said. "We believe we can count on the people of Lauderdale to give their wholehearted support to making a great success of Coffee Day."

"LOOKS LIKE I MADE IT"—Walter W. Williams, 116, above, is the sole known survivor of the Civil War. Blind and bedridden in Houston, Tex., the Confederate veteran, commenting on the death of his comrade in arms, the late "General" Salling, 112, of Slant, Va., said: "I said I would live to be the last one and it looks like I made it."

Subjects to be discussed and illustrated include the production of liquid fertilizer, the granulation of high-nitrogen and no-nitrogen grades, and some factors affecting loss of nitrogen during granulation. Board Asks For Volunteers To Work At Polls On April 21

A resolution calling for a straw vote on April 21 to ascertain if the people of Florence wish to change the present form of city government to either a full time mayor or a city manager, was unanimously endorsed by the Florence Board of Commissioners Tuesday, at which time the board itself went on record as endorsing the full-time mayor plan.

Petitions have been circulated for some time asking city government revisions. At the present time, Florence has a commission government, with part-time officials at the city's helm. One of the petitions in circulation calls for employment of a city manager, the other for a full-time mayor and commissioners.

QUITS POST—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer announced Tuesday that he will run for President of the West German Republic in the July elections. His opponent will be Socialist leader Carlo Schmid.

Adenauer To Give Up Helm German Republic

Chancellor Will Run For President; Decision Hailed With Mixed Feelings

Late News

● The Macmillan Government slashed almost a tenth off income taxes in Britain Tuesday, bringing the rate to the lowest since prewar days. Derick Heathcoat Amory, Macmillan's chancellor of exchequer, presented to Parliament an annual budget calculated to distribute about $1,120,000,000 worth of relief to the most heavily taxed citizens of the non-Communist world.

● The major league baseball season is due to get under way today as Washington hosts Baltimore in the nation's capital with Vice-President Nixon throwing out the first ball, in the absence of the President. Pittsburgh at Cincinnati will join in first day play with all other teams getting under way Friday. Again this year the New York Yankees are favorites in the American League with San Francisco and Pittsburgh expected to give Milwaukee trouble in the National.

● Oklahomans struck prohibition from their constitution Tuesday. With all but 13 of the state's 3,234 precincts in, repeal carried 395,242 to 313,574. The state still isn't off the wagon. Legal liquor is at least two months away. The Legislature must validate the amendment and repeal anti-whiskey laws before liquor can be sold legally. Oklahoma then will emerge from 51 years of prohibition. Mississippi will be the only dry state left in the union.

● A huge two-stage Thor-Able rocket was fired on the state of a 5,000-mile trip over the Atlantic Wednesday to test the performance of a nose cone that could carry the power-packed ICBM nuclear warheads of the future. A search unit of ships and C-54 planes planned to attempt to recover the elusive cone for the second time in 18 days.

● Attorney General Fayaz Ali of Pakistan died of heart failure Wednesday. He was 62 and had been attorney general since 1951, retaining his post even after Gen. Mohammed Ayub Khan took over the government in a military coup last October.

● Atty. Gen. McDonald Gallion Tuesday blamed "a handful of messiahs hiding behind the cloth" for the state's racial troubles. He said the "messiahs" were trying to promote their own causes.

The cast includes the following members of the Senior Class: Don Bevis, Ronald Threet, Faye Richards, Sandra Higgins, Georgia Robertson, Sadie Lester, Leroy Watkins, Lois Demus, Donnie Culver, Billy Heupel, Margaret Jones, Charles Skipworth, Lavinia Smith, Lonnie Tidwell, and Roy Lynn Jones.

Crusty Konrad Adenauer, chancellor of the West German Republic and leader of Germany's Christian Democrats, announced Tuesday that he will relinquish his post and run for president. His decision came as a blow to many world diplomats, particularly the Allied powers.

Uncompromising during his 10 years as chancellor of West Germany, the 83-year-old Adenauer will still be at the helm of West Germany's government during the crucial talks scheduled for this summer between the East and West.

It is a foregone conclusion, say experts, that Adenauer will be chosen president of the republic, a ceremonial post similar to that of the British monarchs. Ludwig-Erhard, 62-year-old economics boss and architect of postwar recovery in his country, is expected to take over the post vacated by Adenauer next September. However the final choice of a chancellor will be up to Adenauer's Christian Democratic party. Adenauer will be opposed by a Socialist, and a popular scholar-writer, Carlo Schmid. Theodor Heuss is retiring under the two-term rule applying to the chief executive. The presidential election will be held July 1.

Feelings Mixed

Feelings among leaders were mixed following the West German chancellor's announcement. "Wow," said an American diplomat in Paris. "You're joking," said a West German parliamentary deputy. "Marvelous," exclaimed a Communist newsmen in East Berlin.

Britain as a whole greeted the news with satisfaction though there was no public comment. Paris was expected to feel the change as a loss due to Adenauer's close cooperation with General de Gaulle. Adenauer has seen eye-to-eye with the French leader on many problems particularly Soviet Russia.

Hard Fight Seen As Floor Debate Looms In House

Representative Clifford Davis, (D-Tenn.) who with Rep. Robert E. Jones sponsored the TVA self-financing Bill, said Tuesday it will take some "tall managing" to pass the measure. The bill has cleared the House Public Works Committee and Davis said he hopes to bring it before the House for debate shortly.

In outlining the bill's provisions and the fight being waged for its passage, Davis told the 13th annual meeting of the Tennessee Valley Public Power Association at the Peabody Hotel in Memphis recently that the bill "limits the territory where power from TVA can be made available."

This endeavor, "Davis continued, "to quiet apprehensions of the private power companies who profess to fear TVA would use bond proceeds to undertake a program of territorial expansion. The fears were always baseless and become absurd in view of the ceiling on the amount of bonds to be issued and the burden on current revenues."

Davis further pointed out that the provision in the bill for issuing $750 million in bonds will barely provide for the five years' growth anticipated in the area where TVA power is already available.

Davis said he felt the bill would pass in its present form but admitted that several crippling amendments had been introduced by those hostile to it.

Herbert D. Vogel, chairman of the TVA board, told association members that TVA's job is far from complete. He added "we are at the threshold of greater development. Industries throughout the Valley are increasing by leaps and bounds ahead of schedule and power people will find themselves called on to produce more power."

A World Of Knowledge

April 12-18 is National Library Week. The 1959 slogan is "For a Better-Read, Better-Informed America."

Muscle Shoals Regional Libraries are celebrating this annual event with Open House on Sunday, April 12 and the public is invited to visit these facilities on that day and during the week as well. Participating are the Florence-Lauderdale Public Library, the Leighton Public Library, The Helen Keller Public Library in Tusculum, the Sheffield Public Library and the Bookmobile Service.

While we are prone to take our library more or less for granted it is one of our greatest cultural institutions and one that serves at all times the needs of everyone. When we think of libraries we usually think of them solely as book lending agencies but this is no longer their total function. They bring to the public important art displays, handicraft and artifacts, historical relics and other interesting exhibits from time to time. Phonograph records are also included in the services rendered by the libraries and a bookmobile at regular intervals brings books and periodicals within reach of those unable to visit their libraries.

All of this is furnished to the public without profit. If you are not acquainted with the advantages offered by your nearest library make it a point to visit it at Open House on Sunday, April 12 or sometime during National Library Week.

Children can be helped in their studies by encouraging them early to form the habit of reading. Adults will find surcease from everyday cares and worries in a good book. A library card costs nothing. Admission to this "world of knowledge" is free.

Sunday School Week

What do public school officials think of Sunday Schools? Dr. John J. Theobald is Superintendent of Schools in New York City, controlling the teaching and preparation for life of one million boys and girls. Here is what he says about Sunday Schools:

"Man's two greatest adventures are exploring the world around him and the worth within him. Whether he probes with a missile or a prayer, he's on the high road to adventure, and his preparation must begin early in life. Sunday Schools of all faiths stress the principles that start young people in the right direction."

To help focus attention on the importance of our nation's Sunday Schools, the Laymen's National Committee, Inc., a non-sectarian, non-profit organization, has been sponsoring National Sunday School Week in April for the past fifteen years. The observance this year will be from April 13 to 19. The slogan is "MAKE EVERY WEEK SUNDAY SCHOOL WEEK."

Let's start our children in the right direction by giving them a chance to learn the Word of God in our Sunday Schools.

A Change Is Needed

Special interests, in a shrunken world, have proven that disregard for others is something the people of the world can ill afford. High production costs, hence higher commodity prices, are forcing American goods out of foreign markets and out of the home market as well. This has been possibly the one greatest factor in the present high unemployment figure plaguing the economists and the government. In short these privileged groups are cutting their own throats along with everybody else's.

Millions with a stake in some branch of the government are loath to take any sort of cut but prefer instead to continue priming the pot by funneling in more and more money at the top, more foreign aid, bigger and better defense contracts, more and more spending on public works and worse still, more and more taxes to support these ever-growing expenditures. This sort of economy, which in the beginning is not sound, brings about inflation and lowers the dollar's purchasing power. Moreover its most dangerous implication is that it fosters a bigger and bigger government with greater pump priming and more and more taxes.

It must be remembered that there can be no foundation for a real peace without an understanding built on an exchange of goods and services between countries. Money alone will not do it. This nation's tactics of dollar diplomacy has weakened the position of the entire world and destroyed many of the traditional values established in this country.

A serious revamping of our economy is needed and our own government should set the example . . . first with a substantial reduction in spending, then a cut in the taxes of those in the lower income brackets.

Dairy Farmers Feed Alfalfa

By MERMAN H. MARKS
Assistant County Agent

Farmers with alfalfa may not have good haymaking weather for the first cutting. If hay cannot be made successfully, then graze off or make silage from the best spring growth of alfalfa. It makes excellent silage. Some farmers in this area are using crimping machines to speed up the curing process. Richard Abramson near Cloverdale says the hay he crimped last spring cured up to 40% quicker than hay not crimped.

If cattle are allowed to graze down alfalfa, it should be grazed with caution because there is danger of bloat.

Every dairyman or hog grower needs some alfalfa on his farm. If there is well drained, productive soil that will grow alfalfa on your farm, make plans to seed the crop this fall. T. L. and Jim Mecke in the St. Florian area say they are going to seed alfalfa this fall for their dairy cattle and have already selected the land on which it will be seeded. They don't believe they can continue in the dairy business without some alfalfa hay. A soil test will be taken on their farm this summer to determine what kind and how much fertilizer to use and if lime is needed they will apply it ahead of seeding. The Meckes are planning ahead so they will be ready this fall.

College Library Continues To Grow

Bound volumes of The Sheffield Daily Enterprise of 1888 and 1889 have been added to the collection of historical papers and documents in Susan K. Vaughn Museum at Florence State College. They are to be known as the W. T. Archer Papers and they relate chiefly to the history of Sheffield.

Mr. Archer, long a resident of Sheffield, was very active in the Tennessee Valley Historical Society and spent a lifetime collecting historical materials relating to this area.

This gift was made to the museum by Mrs. Charles W. Barr, daughter of the late Mr. Archer. It is anticipated that other papers from the estate will subsequently be placed on loan at the college.

Pinegar Found Ending Search

Month Of Waiting Over As Stepson Finds Body On Bank Near Pickwick

The body of 49-year-old Elza Pinegar of Marianna, Ark., was found on the river bank, shortly after noon Saturday, ending the long search for the drowning victim which started Wednesday, March 11. The body had apparently been there for 2 to 3 days.

Pinegar and his son, Ronald, 26, both of Marianna, had drowned actually March 9 while on a fishing trip near McKelvey's Landing, some 11 miles below Waterloo. However, the drowning was not verified until Wednesday afternoon, March 11, when the body of 26-year-old Ronald was found near a pipeline, tied to a gasoline tank from the men's boat by rubber tubing.

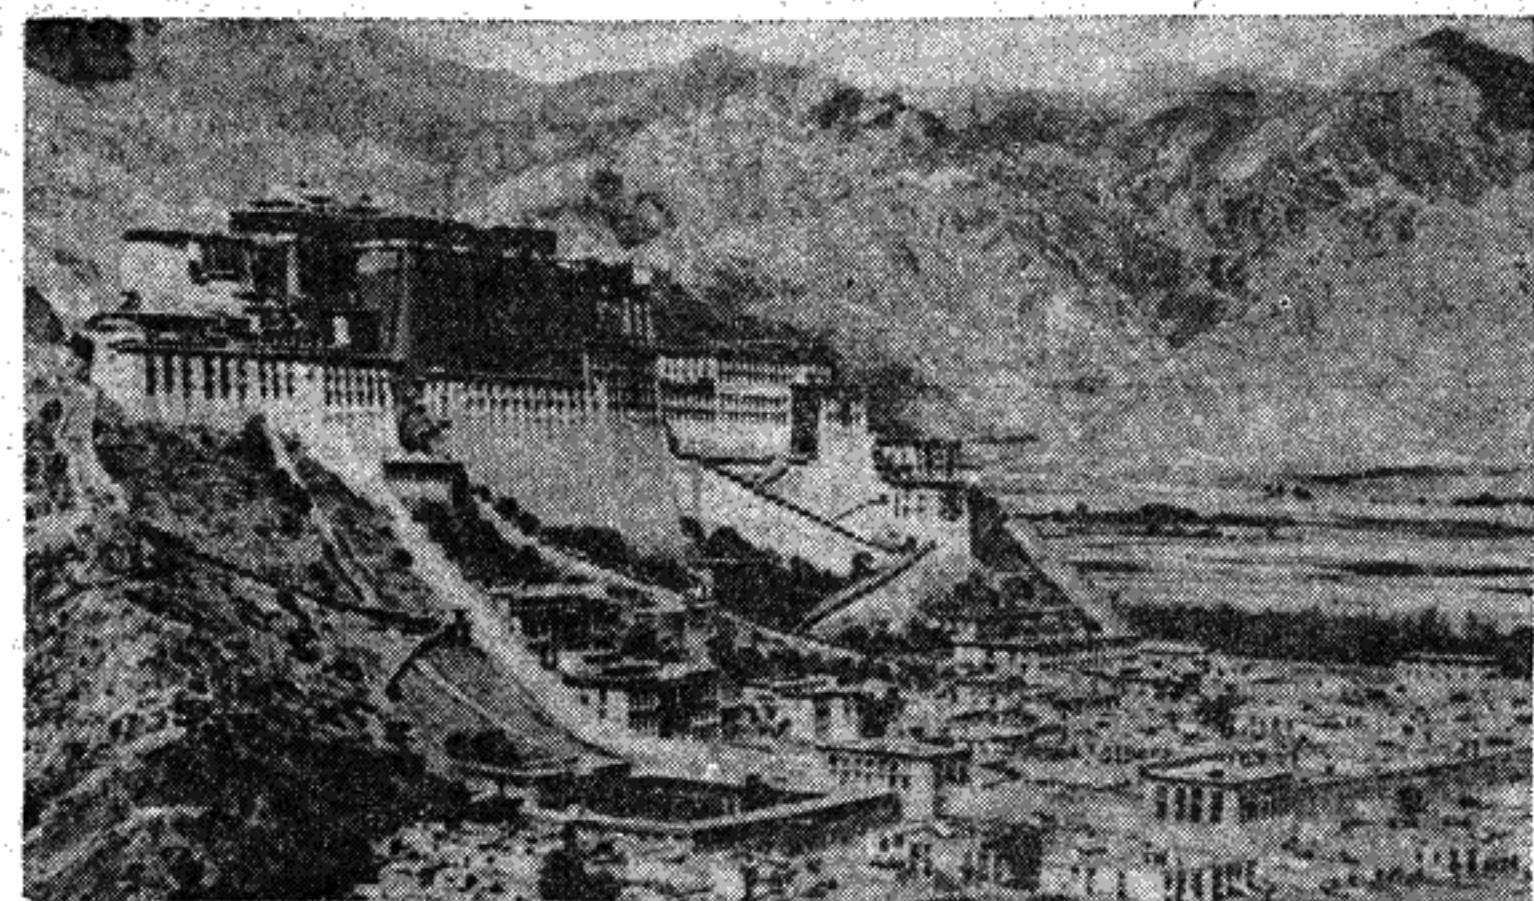

Ronald's body was found by a brother, Robert Pinegar of Florence and Robert Swan of Lauderdale County. Elza's body was discovered by his stepson, Billy Allen of Marianna, and a friend, Harold Chandler of Florence, according to reports.

The Pinegar family was left almost penniless and a fund campaign was initiated by Bill Mays, manager of the Muscle Shoals TV Cable Corporation to aid in the burial. At last report the fund had grown to around $500, but burial expenses for the two were expected to be around $800 alone.

Mrs. Pinegar and some of her children are now staying with a son, Robert Pinegar of the Waterloo Road, while several children are in school at Marianna.

TROUBLE FOR REDS IN TIBET—The world is watching the little nation of Tibet whose government has rebelled against its Communist Chinese overlords. Located in central Asia, in the heartland of the Himalaya Mountains, Tibet lies on the border of Red China. Truly on the "roof of the world," it is located some 13,000 to 15,000 feet above sea level. Pictured above, is the great Potala (Palace of Gods), at Lhasa, Tibet's capital. It is from here that a Dalai Lama has ruled his million-odd subjects for centuries. The palace numbers some 1,000 rooms, not counting outbuildings. It is built against and supported by a small mountain. Lamaism, a form of Buddhism, is the religion. Tens of thousands of great monasteries scattered throughout the land. Under the treaty recently denounced by the Tibetans, the country was governed by a Tibetan autonomous government. That was a modification of Tibet's traditional theocracy—government by priests claiming to rule with divine authority.

April Designated As USO Month

Direct Appeal For Support Asked County Citizens By Chairman

April is USO Month. Recent events in the Middle East have added an even greater urgency to USO's request for financial help. It has been necessary for USO to step up its programs in Turkey and Greece and with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean, according to Harold S. May, chairman. "Since the local United Fund has not been able to include USO on its drive, it becomes necessary for us to make a direct appeal for support," says May.

"Today there are many young men and women from Lauderdale County serving in the Armed Forces. Strength in national defense means men—a lot of men in a lot of places."

"United Service Organizations, Inc. and its 267 clubs and lounges around the world help in providing youngsters hometown friendliness wherever they happen to be stationed."

General Clifton B. Cates (Ret.), a former Commandant of the Marine Corps, has repeatedly said that the majority of servicemen prefer wholesome recreation, often one of the hardest things for them to find as newcomers to a duty station. "USO's support of troop morale is a tremendous factor for our fighting forces," he said. "People sometimes fail to realize that although there may be a USO center in their town, their sons benefit from the USO throughout the world. Those in the Armed Forces today are younger than ever and they need help and guidance."

All donations may be mailed to Charles L. Perry, First National Bank, Florence, treasurer of this year's drive.

TAKE THE FAMILY TO THE DISMALS

If you are planning a trip to the woods soon one of the most enjoyable nearby spots is the Dismals, one of the few untouched and really primeval areas left in the continental United States. Trees uncommon to any other section of the country are to be found in the Dismals as well as vines, ferns and wildflowers growing as they did in pre-historic times. Strangely there are no snakes and very few insects in the Dismals.

The Dismals, which is anything but dismal, is easily accessible. Take U. S. 43, Ala. 5, to Phil Campbell. It is a trip all the family will enjoy, not only early in the season but when the swimming season opens.

Tibetan Rebels Continue Fight Against Chinese

Dalai Lama Finds Sanctuary In Buddhist Monastery In India

TIBET TESTS NEHRU—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's policy of neutralism for India is under severe test as an outgrowth of Communist China's takeover in Tibet. Many of India's political parties are demanding that Nehru acknowledge publicly the danger to India presented by Red China's policies.

Math Fraternity Initiates Members

Peggy King, president of Alabama Beta Chapter of Kappa Mu Epsilon, presided at a regular meeting on Thursday, April 2, at Rogers Hall when ten new members were initiated into the honor mathematics fraternity. Barbara Bundy, vice president, and Caroline Sledge, secretary-treasurer, assisted in the impressive initiation service. The following are the new members:

Max Buff, Jacqueline Buffaloe, Lavon Hoole, Gerald Ingle, Archie Jackson, Norma Manush, Wiley Montana, Douglas Thomas, Gerald Trousdale, and Donald Yates.

Peggy King and Barbara Bundy were elected as delegates; Bennie Holt and Gerald Ingle as alternate delegates to the National biennial convention for Kappa Mu Epsilon which will be held May 8 and 9 in Bowling Green, Ohio.

Refreshments were served members and Miss Pearl Sparks, an invited guest.

Around 14,000 farm people died as a result of accidents between 1950 and 1955.

Tibetan rebels, encouraged by the Dalai Lama's successful escape into India, are reported to have consolidated their grip on strategic territory and have carried the revolt into the border provinces of Red China.

The Peiping Regime admitted the continued fighting in a radio broadcast Tuesday which said a number of Tibetans were stranded in the capital of Lhasa and were unable to return home because of the fighting.

The Dalai Lama fled his tiny country when the Chinese Reds invaded Tibet several days ago and took refuge in a Buddhist monastery in Towang, reports stated.

Nationalist Chinese intelligence sources at Taipei, Formosa, reported that revolting Tibetans had seized three towns in Shinghai province and had been fighting there since last Thursday. Nationalist China has expressed sympathy with the Tibetan cause.

Reports from Gaunati in India's Assam State, said it appeared that the Khamba rebel tribesmen were well entrenched in vast stretches in Tibet where the terrain is suited to their style of fighting. It was said the Reds' attack on Tibet had generated anti-communist feeling in neutral India.

Peiping broadcast said the Dalai Lama was "under the spell of reactionary elements" a propaganda offensive said expected to strain the already touchy relations between Red China and India. The Indian press was open in its denunciation of China for the invasion of Tibet. It accused the Reds of violating the "five principles of peaceful coexistence" which are basic beliefs among neutral Asiatic nations.

It was believed the Dalai Lama would remain in the mountainous area rather than travel further South. Newsmen are said barred from the frontier area, all information from the country coming by radio or government spokesmen.

LEO'S LOVELIEST—Pretty Nancy Johnson, a freshman from Decatur, has been chosen Leo's Spring Loveliest. It is sure that the campus at Florence State College will truly be brighter as this young miss makes her way to classes.

James McIntosh, Jr., Wed

To New Yorker On Saturday

A fashionable guest company comprised the assemblage in the Cathedral of the Incarnation of Garden City, Long Island, when Cornelia Belle Ladd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tallman Ladd of Garden City, became the bride of James Henry McIntosh, Jr., on Saturday afternoon, April fourth. The Very Reverend Harold Frank Lamoine, Dean of the Cathedral, read the four o'clock nuptial vows.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Henry McIntosh of Florence.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for the occasion a gown of satin peau de soie detailed with a mandarin neckline and long, tapering sleeves. The Alencon lace of the fitted bodice continued in panels down the skirt-front and beneath a flat bow at the back the skirt widened to flow into a cathedral train.

Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion fell from a pearl encrusted cap of Alencon Lace and satin peau de soie and her bouquet was a cascade of orchids.

The bride's attendants included her sister, Mrs. James McBride of Daytona Beach, Florida, as matron of honor; Miss Jean McIntosh of Florence, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Lynda Lee of Garden City, Miss Jean Conaway of Baltimore, Maryland, and Miss Margaret Bristol of Taunton, Massachusetts, bridesmaids. Their floor-length frocks of white velvety over green taffeta were worn with green cummerbunds forming bows at the back. Matching picture hats and bouquets of yellow daisies complemented their attire.

James Henry McIntosh served his son as best man and ushers included George Tallman Ladd, II, of Garden City, brother of the bride, Pearce Rayner of Princeton, New Jersey, uncle of the bridegroom, Dr. Henry K. Langhorne of Uniontown and New Orleans and Bruce Beal of Boston, Massachusetts.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Ladd were reception hosts in the Palm Lounge of the Garden City Hotel. Mrs. James Henry McIntosh of Florence, mother of the bridegroom, completed the family group in attendance. Also present was Elmo Aycock of Sheffield, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Scott, formerly of Florence and now of Lynchburg, Virginia.

Following the rehearsal of plans on the evening preceding the wedding, the bridegroom's parents were dinner hosts at the Garden City Hotel.

Their invitation list included members of the wedding party and out-of-town wedding guests, and decorations were arrangements of yellow and white jonquils and narcissi, gathered from Florence gardens and flown to New York in keeping with a family tradition.

Mrs. Hackworth Hosts

"Music Of The Confederacy" is the pleasing title which James Bevis, music major at Florence State College, chose for the program which he presented to Current Events Club at their meeting on Thursday afternoon, April second. Records of well-loved melodies were accompanied by delightful comments which included bits of historical background.

Other guests of Mrs. T. T. Hackworth, hostess at her home, 2401 Chisholm Road, were Mrs. James Gonce of Sheffield, Miss Mary Nell Gonce, Mrs. William Merdith and Mrs. James Massey, a former member now returned from a year of travel.

Mrs. Hackworth was assisted at teatime by Mrs. Merdith, Mrs. Gonce and Miss Gonce.

"Teeners" See New York

At Florence Country Club

A typical Greenwich Village setting greeted the large group of teenagers who attended the Friday evening party at Florence Golf and Country Club.

Glimpsed in the colorful decorated rooms were small tables covered with checkered cloths and clusters of balloons decorating the walls. Single candles glowed from drip-bottle holders to center the tables and to light the dance floor for the girls who were costumed for the occasion in "skinny pants" and for their escorts in sports attire.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Biddle were chairman of the entertainment committee and chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Foote, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Copeland, Mr. and Mrs. Tom F. Smith and Dr. and Mrs. Howard Johnson.

Supper was served buffet style to one hundred fifty members of the young Country Club contingent.

Daffodils and stock added a colorful note in the livingroom and on the refreshment table.

Let's Talk It Over By SARA SAZE

Dear Mrs. Saze, Most of my neighbors are real good housekeepers and keep things as neat as a pin, except one. And I think she keeps a clean house. But she does odd things, like if she is running her vacuum cleaner and her phone rings. Then it may be next morning before she finishes doing her rugs. And everything else is the same. I've known her to get outside with her children and stay a whole morning, and then tell us later that she had three tubs of clothes waiting to be put through. But even so, I am fond of her and always feel real relaxed and good when I am with her. But my husband is always worried because he's afraid I'll take up her sloppy ways.

Why do you suppose she is like this, and don't you think she will learn a lesson from the rest of us in time?

Housekeeper. Dear Housekeeper, Her house is clean but, I take it, not particularly orderly. And she is a companion for her children. Do you know, you have described what seems to me to be an ideal young woman. It isn't humanly possible for any one person to single-handedly keep a perfect house and be a near perfect mother at one and the same time. The woman who can upon occasion close the back bedroom door on an unmade bed with nary a twinge of nagging conscience is the well-adjusted woman. And this is not the opinion of one scatter-brained critter, but of large groups of wise people everywhere.

Important as housekeeping is, I consider homemaking a great deal more so. I hope each of you will learn a lesson from your "sloppy" neighbor.

Dear Mrs. Saze, My husband likes to putter around with building things and the children need some back-yard play things. So, we'd like for you to suggest a good book of instructions for building things like a bar to swing on, for instance. We haven't asked at the library because we would prefer to buy a book of this type so we can have it around all the time. Thanks.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By BOB JONES
Eighth District REPRESENTATIVE

To Keep Our Acreage

In a race against time, I have introduced a bill in Congress which would make the preservation of acreage allotment history permanent law.

The part of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 which provides for keeping acreage allotment history is due to expire on June 30. Unless this kind of legislation is extended, I feel that great hardship would be felt by cotton farmers and other growers of basic crops having acreage allotments. The question of whether farmers must plant their farm allotments to protect their acreage history must be settled well in advance of the time for seeding 1960 crops, which in some areas begins the latter part of August. Our cotton farmers, whose allotments are set later in the year and plant early next year, need some assurance about continuance of acreage allotment history, because they buy their fertilizer and equipment in the fall.

Under my bill, the acreage history for a cotton farm or for any other basic commodity would be preserved for the current year if any of the acreage is actually planted to the commodity during the past three years. One of the objects of my legislation is to allow farmers, who do not want to plant their allotment every year, to be able to get their allotments in future years. Crop history would be kept only if a farmer shows good faith in his intentions to remain a grower in one commodity. If a grower plants his allotment at least once every three years, he would be protected on his crop acreage history by the provisions of my bill.

My bill is a follow-up step to the legislation I co-authored in 1956 which froze cotton acreage allotments so that no state could be reduced more than 1% of its previous year's acreage allotment. This law has been in effect continuously since 1956 and has served to protect our Alabama cotton acreage allotment each year.

GI Policy Holders To Share Dividend

The Veterans Administration recently identified the groups of GI insurance policyholders who will and who will not share in the recently-announced regular annual dividends of $256,000,000 for 1959. An estimated 5,235,000 GI policyholders will and 937,000 will not participate in the dividends. Neal R. Smart, Acting Manager of the VA Regional Office in Montgomery, said:

Included in the 5,235,000 participating policyholders are:

1. Holders of National Service Life Insurance (NSLI), which originated during World War II and has the letter "W" preceding the policy number.
2. Holders of U. S. Government Life Insurance (USGLI), which originated during World War I and has the letter "K" preceding the policy number.

The VA listed the 937,000 policyholders who will not participate as being divided into the following groups:

1. Korean and post-Korean conflict veterans, who hold special non-participating NSLI policies identifiable by the letters "RS," "W," or "RH" preceding the policy number.
2. Servicemen who, prior to January 1, 1957, placed their "W" or "K" policies under in-service waiver of premium payments and who have not rescinded such waivers. The law provides that as long as a GI policy is under in-service waiver of premium payments, it does not participate in any dividends for which it might otherwise be eligible.
3. NSLI and USGLI policyholders who have extended term insurance in the "W" and "K" series, respectively. These veterans allowed their permanent-plan policies to lapse and the VA automatically extended their insurance as term policies without further premium payments.
4. Veterans who hold special non-participating NSLI insurance because of disabilities incurred during World War II. These policies, which had to be applied for prior to January 1, 1950, are identifiable by the letter "H" preceding the policy number.

Filling Of Lakes Begun By TVA

Shortage Reported In Valley Due To Below Normal Rainfall Recently

The annual spring filling of main stream TVA reservoirs started recently in all but two impoundments, TVA said. Filling started about three weeks ago in Wheeler and Pickwick reservoirs.

Under normal conditions, the reservoirs will be filled to the following elevations by April 15: Fort Loudoun, elevation 813 (feet above sea level); Watts Bar, el. 741; Chickamauga, el. 682.5; Hales Bar, el. 684; Guntersville, el. 595; Wheeler, el. 556; and Wilson, el. 507.5. Pickwick reservoir was scheduled to reach el. 414 by Tuesday, April 7, and Kentucky el. 359 by May 1.

"Weather plays an important part in this operation," Reed Elliott, Chief Water Control Planning Engineer said, "since heavy rains might interrupt the filling schedule temporarily or dry weather might delay the completion of filling in some reservoirs."

"An extended period of below-normal rainfall and runoff for the Valley, which started last September, has resulted in most of the tributary storage reservoirs being below usual levels for this time of year. Heavy generation is being carried at steam plants to lessen water use to aid in filling these reservoirs."

Russell Cave To Become U. S. Park

Evidence Of Human Life 10,000 Years Ago Found In Jackson County

That the federal government intends to go ahead with its fine plans to develop Russell Cave into a big tourist attraction was in evidence in Washington recently according to Rep. Robert E. (Bob) Jones.

For the first time, the Interior Department came before Congress and asked funds to develop, manage and maintain the site as a national park, which will be under the supervision of the U. S. National Parks Service.

The property, near Bridgeport, has a deep cave which has plenty of evidence that men lived there more than 10,000 years ago and its discovery is considered of the highest importance in telling us when American history truly began. The cave and surrounding land still is owned by the National Geographic Society, which is preparing to turn it over to the Interior Department.

Director Conrad Wirth of the Parks Service says that in the not too distant future, Russell Cave will be one of the big tourist attractions of the Southeast. A fine park, picnic area, parking lots, a small museum, an administration building and the cave itself will be developed to receive visitors by the thousands. A new road will be built from near Bridgeport to the cave site. When it is developed, the national park will attract many visitors to our area. Already, Mr. Wirth reported, scientists have come from every state, Canada and England to see the interesting relics discovered.

OFFICIALS PROCLAIM NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK

PROCLAMATION

From April 12-18, 1959, communities throughout the United States will celebrate the second National Library Week — a concerted, nationwide effort to focus attention on the importance of reading and libraries in our national life.

The overwhelming response to the first observance of National Library Week offered concrete evidence that people everywhere in America are concerned over the quality of our intellectual life. Today, more than ever before, we need to read in order to toughen and make resilient the intellectual vigor with which we live; enlarge our knowledge and understanding of the other peoples of the world who are inextricably our neighbors; renew our spiritual and cultural heritage.

But there is a wider aim; to rededicate ourselves to the ideas and ideals of a free society. Since ours is a society based on the choices made by the many rather than the few, its greatest concern must be the development of every individual to his highest capacity. Its vitality, its very existence depend upon the extent to which all the people have formed the habit of finding out; of weighing alternatives intelligently; of reading to be informed.

Although reading has always been an unparalleled source of entertainment, suddenly "a better-read, better-informed, America" is imperative. The printed word has become a necessity to keep us in watchful readiness to exercise responsible citizenship. Only a wide variety of reading can inform us of what has been and what is, and can train the imagination to forge ahead into what might be in the future. Therefore, we do hereby proclaim the week of April 12-18, 1959, to be Library Week and call on our citizens to join in an occasion which will recognize the vitality and strength of the printed word in today's world and its importance to our survival.

News Of POWELL

By Mrs. J. N. Phillips

Church

One hundred sixteen attended Sunday School at the Bethel Baptist Church on Sunday morning with others arriving for the eleven o'clock worship hour, including a good number of visitors. Tommy Camp brought the morning message—in observance of H-Day (Howard College Day). He will enter Howard College some time soon. In the evening fifty three attended Training Union and evening worship.

The Bethel Church is making plans for Vacation Bible School, and a group of the teachers, together with Mrs. M. C. Cockrell who will direct the school will attend the Bible School clinic in Florence this week.

Personals

Shelby Jean Cockrell has been confined to Jackson's Clinic with a throat infection.

Ivan Burgess, confined to the V. A. Hospital in Birmingham was allowed to spend the week-end at home with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. White and Terry were Sunday guests of the Ussery Harrises in Decatur Sunday. They attended church with them there also.

Clubs

The Powell Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Roy Weigart on Monday, for the regular monthly meeting. The demonstration, given by Mrs. J. N. Phillips was on "Bargains in Food." Aside from the demonstration Miss Connors showed the group a film on self examination for breast cancer.

The club members have made a quilt for the purpose of raising the club fund. The group quilted it last week at the home of Mrs. H. W. Phillips, and it will be given away on this coming Monday night, April 13, at the Community meeting at the Powell School. Tickets are now being sold on it for 10 cents each.

Everyone is invited to bring a basket supper and eat with us at the Community meeting on Monday night. The time to eat is set at 6:00 p. m. Now that the busy season is upon the farmer this may well be the most enjoyable meeting of the year, so let's all attend this one.

Next Sunday, April 12th, is opening day of the new Methodist Church. Everyone is invited to share this special service, especially the former pastors. The service will begin at 10:45 a. m., with no Sunday School for this day only.

A recent marriage was that of Miss Jane Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips of Killen and Kenneth Zink of Nashville, Tenn. The wedding was at Nashville on April 4th. The bride finished high school at Rogersville, and took a business course in Nashville, where she has worked for several years. They will live in Nashville.

Mrs. Oscar Cox and children of Rogersville, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Tidwell on School St.

We are glad Miss Bess Crow is able to be out again, after several week's illness.

Herman Briggs of Route 1, is improving some, but is still far from being well.

The sudden death of Mrs. Sallie Clemmons on Saturday, April 4th, was a shock to the community. She was the widow of the late Calvin Clemmons. She leaves three daughters and a son, three grand children. Her funeral was held in the Killen Baptist Church last Sunday. Rev. Ralph Wilson and Rev. Gibson conducted the service. She was buried in the adjoining cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Jones of Columbus, Miss., spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Jones.

International jet air travel, only five months old, has gotten off to a rousing start. Time magazine says that Pan American's planes have been filled to 90 per cent of capacity, as compared to 50 to 55 percent during the comparable months in past years. The company's total transatlantic business jumped 46 per cent in two months, and still bigger increases are coming.

Testing Program Being Conducted

Outstanding Students To Have Opportunity For College Education

Alabama public school officials and teachers are making outstanding efforts to take full advantage of the new National Defense Education Act for the youth of the State.

The Defense Act provides funds that must be matched locally for equipment and materials to strengthen instruction in science, mathematics, and modern foreign languages. These funds are being matched with science relieving high priority.

Another title of the Act provides Federal funds without matching which are being used for a statewide testing program. The public schools are doing the biggest testing program ever undertaken in any state. The State Department of Education has received and shipped to county and city school systems over one million pieces of testing materials to be used in testing pupils this year. Pupils in the 8th, 9th, and 11th grades are being tested this year. The 10th grade this year will be tested in the 11th grade next year along with next year's 8th grade. This will blanket the State in two years and thereafter the 8th grade is to be tested annually. The State Department of Education has entered into a contract with the University of Alabama to score and give two score sheets per pupil for 141,443 pupils through the use of I.E.M. equipment which guarantees accuracy of scoring.

One of the purposes of the tests is to identify students with outstanding abilities and aptitudes so that such pupils can be encouraged to complete college education. Less than half of the Alabama students with outstanding abilities ever enter college. The testing program is to be used as a tool to stop this waste of outstanding human talent in Alabama through the Marine Regiment, normally based at Camp Lejeune, N. C. The Battalion and ships took an active part in the U. S. landings at Beirut, Lebanon, last Summer.

AUTOMATED MAIL—Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield poses beside a short portion of several miles of conveyor belts in the modernized Washington, D.C., city post office building. Here are some chores performed by various machines in the highly mechanized system: letters are sorted and directed to any of some 300 locations at a rate of 18,000 pieces per hour; stamps are canceled so fast that letters move past cancellation machine in a "white blur"; sorting of large parcel post packages is semiautomatic. Something the machines won't do: read Uncle Bill's hen-scratched addresses on his all-but-illegible letters.

Social Security Benefits Farmers

If Income Is Over $400 Tax Returns Should Be Filed For Credits

Many farmers in this area are denying their families future social security benefits because of their failure to file social security tax returns. This statement was made by Mrs. Mary King Temple, Manager of the Sheffield, Alabama social security district office, today.

Farmers who have a net income of $400 or more must file federal income tax returns by April 15th. Social security taxes must be paid along with any income taxes which may be due. Mrs. Temple pointed out that many farmers think that they are not required to make a return if their exemptions would mean that no income tax is due.

cooperation of the people of the State. Our National Defense and our home defense make it urgent that students with outstanding abilities make the greatest possible use of schools and colleges to sharpen their talents to the fullest instead of burying their talent under ignorance and indifference.

The Defense Act provides funds which must be matched for training skilled technicians in fields necessary for National Defense. As much progress is being made in training technicians as can be made with the very limited local funds and no State funds to match the Federal funds and with the limited definition now applied to technicians for National Defense.

Late income tax returns may be filed or assessed at any time. However, there is a time limit during which social security credits may be established. For example, returns filed after April 15, 1959, cannot be used to establish social security credits for years before 1956 if the taxpayer uses the normal calendar year method of record keeping.

Mrs. Temple suggests that those self-employed farmers who have failed to file proper returns do so at once. Failure to do this could result in a substantial loss of benefits. Filing of returns and payment of taxes come under jurisdiction of the Internal Revenue Service and tax returns, as well as remittances, should be mailed to that office.

If information regarding social security coverage is desired, you may contact the district office at 101 West Third Street, Sheffield, Alabama.

FHA Families Plan '59 Farming

Nearly 20 Percent Of County FHA Borrowers Repaid Loans In 1958

Lauderdale county farmers who borrow from the Farmers Home Administration have completed making their farming plans for this year. And many are already putting new ideas into operation which should boost their 1959 farm income, Cecil C. Mixon, the agency's local county supervisor, said this week.

Better farming practices which some FHA borrowers will be putting into operation include (1) using farrowing stalls to save more pigs per litter, (2) planning two litters of pigs per year, (3) raising hogs on legume pasture to cheapen cost of gains, (4) improving dairy herds by use of artificial insemination and systematic culling of low producing cows, (5) testing soils and applying recommended kinds and amounts of fertilizer and lime, and (6) planting recommended varieties of tested and treated seed.

During the past three months all FHA borrowers have analyzed their 1958 farm and home records. These records showed what had been planned and what had been accomplished. On the basis of the records the families were able to determine the strong and weak points in their operations and recognize further improvements that could be made in their operations.

As proof that good farm planning pays off, Mr. Mixon points out that nearly 20 percent of the FHA borrowers in Lauderdale county have repaid their FHA loans during 1958, and are now able to get all their necessary financing from local banks or cooperative lenders.

Nineteen hundred and fifty-eight was a year of recession for many Alabama industries, according to a report from the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Alabama.

The basic manufacturing industries were most affected, with production figures below 1957, and employment reduced. Other industries, particularly construction, made notable advances during the year and farm prices and cash receipts from marketings recorded significant gains.

State Completes Plans For Streamlined Guard

Reorganization of the Alabama Army National Guard into highly mobile, hard-hitting units designed to fight atomic as well as conventional warfare was revealed this week by Gov. John Patterson.

The Governor also announced that Alabama has accepted its allocation of units by the National Guard Bureau in Washington. Although the reorganization will reduce the Guard's total of company and battery size units from 214 to 148, Gov. Patterson said all personnel would be retained on active rolls.

A target date of April 15 to begin implementation of the streamlining program has been set. "The advent of atomic explosives and the rapid development of rocket and guided missile capabilities to deliver them have brought about an urgent demand that both active and civilian components of the U. S. Army be reorganized to meet the requirements of nuclear combat," Governor Patterson said.

He described the Guard's reorganization as "A major undertaking that will affect both combat and service units through out the State." "The recasting of the Army National Guard, along with the active Army and the Army Reserve, is designed to provide the combat arms with the superior firepower, rapid mobility and far-ranging communications essential to success on the atomic battlefield, and enable service units to render the necessary support," the Governor said.

"The new organization will give our ground forces the capability of seizing and holding critical terrain while presenting as small a target as possible to hostile nuclear weapons."

Non-divisional units of the Guard—including armor, artillery, signal, quartermaster, transportation, medical and ordnance troops—also will be reorganized in order that they can accomplish their respective missions under conditions of atomic combat, Governor Patterson said.

"This program will transform the Alabama Army National Guard into a modern fighting force and make it ready to meet whatever demands are made of it," he added.

Hill, Sparkman Stand Is Lauded

"Senators Lister Hill and John Sparkman have fought with dignity and success over the years to prevent the passage of legislation that would force integration in the South," states a Resolution recently adopted by the Marshall County Democratic Executive Committee.

A similar Resolution of support has come from the Coffee County Democratic Executive Committee. The Coffee County Committee points out that Hill and Sparkman "have served us faithfully and diligently in the United States Senate with the results that they have attained important Committee positions which will give them an opportunity to continue their service to the people of Alabama and to the South."

The Marshall County Resolution expressed "deep gratitude" for Hill and Sparkman's "unswerving support at all times of segregation and other Southern customs and traditions." This Resolution also commended "Congressman Albert Raines and . . . the other Alabama members of the House" for their efforts in behalf of segregation.

A former capital of Alaska once was known as the "New World Paris." Sitka was a thriving city in 1806 because of the fur and shipping trades and attracted adventurers from all parts of the world.

Come to Church for Services

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER—STAYS TOGETHER"

DESTINATION: Church

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Monday	Psalms	55	14
Tuesday	Psalms	94	1-12

Saturday	Revelation	1	1-20

Mother's wearing her smart new hat, Susan's curls are brushed till they shine, and Dad's looking pretty sharp, himself, in that pale gray suit.

If the Browns look like a family starting out on a pleasure ride — well, that's exactly what they're about to do. They're going to church.

The Browns are regular churchgoers. But this is their secret. They go to church not only because they feel they should, but because they want to. Church, for them, is one of the most joyous occasions of the week.

No one ever said that going to church had to be a glum, long-faced affair. Going to church isn't a duty. It's a privilege.

Make church your destination this Sunday. And go joyfully.
