

Our sincere congratulations to Joe Grant, Coffee High's affable head football coach, upon his selection as the "Coach of the Year" in Alabama's highly competitive AAA Class. No more deserving honor could be bestowed upon the Yellow Jackets' head man and Coffee High is equally honored by having at its football helm such an able and high type man. More power to him and the Yellow Jackets.

It is a crime of varying degrees to be different from those around us. If you take time to notice what goes on around you you will find that more and more each of us tries to conform to the styles and habits of others - and that's not so good. Too often these days a person is held suspect if he tries to do things differently and yet that is the only way progress can be made. When we are afraid to be different - we are taking a step backward, the greatest gains are made by those who dare to strike out on their own.

When you see specks before your eyes, you should consult an oculist. You may need specs.

We read where medical science has added dozens of years to our lives in recent years and now scientists tell us that within another generation our promised span of life should be 110 years; fifty years from now, 150 years. However, many a woman could add years to her life by telling the truth about her age.

It was just 56 years ago today that Orville and Wilbur Wright launched the Air Age with a 12 minute flight at Kitty Hawk - and most of us have been up in the air ever since.

A financial genius is a man who can pay all his Christmas bills not later than January 10th.

The editor was a bit put out by the inaccuracy of a story and reprimanded the young lady reporter in no uncertain terms and clinched his tirade by quoting Pulpit: "Watch your stories. Accuracy is to a newspaper what virtue is to a woman." The reporter looked up at the editor and bashfully remarked: "May be, but a newspaper can print a retraction."

Before most people start bragging about their family tree, they do a little pruning.

The nine-year-old was acting up while his piano teacher was doing her best to get him in the groove. Finally, exasperated beyond words, she warned: "If you don't behave, I'll tell your parents you have unusual talent."

What on earth will today's younger generation be able to tell their children they had to do without?

Two youngsters were sitting on the curb late Saturday afternoon when their conversation turned to the following morning's Sunday School lesson. "Do you believe all that stuff about the devil?" one asked. "Now, I don't," was the ready reply. "It's just like Santa Claus—it's your old man!"

If we did as much toward making our prayers come true as we do in meeting our promises to others, life would be a bed of roses.

It was at a party that a well-known doctor and an equally well-known lawyer started a new age-old discussion as to the respective merits of their professions. "After all," said the doctor, "you'll have to admit that your profession does not make angels of men." The lawyer smiled and replied: "No, my friend, you doctors have the best of us there."

To get the best results, bridge-luncheons should be served before the game. Eating with people you aren't speaking to hardly promotes good digestion.

There was a time when the large cities were the seats of juvenile crime—but those days have passed. The FBI reports that last year juvenile crime increased twice as fast in small communities as in large. They blame this on excessive coddling of teenage criminals and on parental irresponsibility. We have certainly had our share of juvenile crimes in recent months.

A system used by a certain business tycoon may be worth trying. Whenever an account became overdue, he would write to the debtor as follows: "Your bill is past due. If not met immediately, we will be obliged to notify your other creditors that you have paid us." The letter worked like a charm.

Advertising is the fine art of making you think you have longed for something you have life that you never heard of before.

The biggest trouble with most of us is that we say what we think without thinking. It's good that this is a free country and we are not penalized for such action.

Reynolds Will Construct Plant To Produce Silicon

New Facility At Listerhill Will Have Annual Capacity 5000 Tons

To handle its increasing production of silicon aluminum alloys for the foundry industry, Reynolds Metals Company will build a silicon plant at its Listerhill Reduction Plant near here, it was announced this week.

This is the first silicon metal plant to be built by Reynolds, it was stated. Reduction Plant Manager R. B. Newman said the electric furnace operations would have a capacity of about 5,000 tons of silicon metal per year. Construction is expected to begin about the middle of 1960, he said.

Silicon metal is added to aluminum to increase hardness and castability. Automotive castings, for example, usually require aluminum alloys containing from 5 to 12 per cent silicon. The 3600-degree electric furnace for the Reynolds plant will be supplied by the Electromelt Furnace Division of McGraw-Edison Company, Pittsburgh. The plant is being designed by Reynolds Central Engineering Department in Richmond, Va., so that additional furnaces may be added later.

It is anticipated that silicon production at this plant will fulfill the requirements for silicon metal at Listerhill and a portion of the requirements at other Reynolds reduction plants.

Operation of the plant will require only a few employees, Mr. Newman said.

Silicon metal is produced from quartzite with the aid of such carbon sources as coal or coke. High purity quartzite is found in central Alabama and in North Carolina.

Shortage Of Funds Causes Libraries To Close Mondays

Only Three Agencies Served Have Met Quotas; Critical Condition Faced

The Muscle Shoals Regional Library Board announced today that because of lack of adequate appropriations, the four libraries in the regional set-up will be closed to the public all day Mondays beginning with Monday, January 4th.

It is hoped that additional appropriations may be forthcoming within the next few months so that services will not have to be further curtailed, the board stated. Appropriations have not kept pace with the increasing prices of books and supplies and with the increased demand for library service in an area where the population is growing at a very rapid rate, it is pointed out. As staff members have left for employment in other sections of the country, lack of funds has prevented their replacement.

The following four libraries in the region covered by Colbert and Lauderdale counties will be closed to the public all day Monday until further notice: Helen Keller Public Library, Tusculum; Leighton Public Library, Florence; Lauderdale Public Library, and Sheffield Public Library. The bookmobile will continue its regular five-day-a-week schedule.

A minimum budget was worked out by the Regional Library Board, then a request was made to the appropriating agencies according to population and needs. This was considered a fair way to arrive at the amount needed from each agency.

The Regional Library Board said it regretted to take such a step, but it takes more money to operate an up-to-date library program than is now appropriated. It is hoped that in the near future appropriations will be increased to the extent that better service may be rendered to the people in this rapidly growing area.

The Regional Library Board is composed of: C. M. Brewster, Chairman of the Board and representing Sheffield; Clopper Almon, representing Sheffield; Mrs. J. F. Berry, representing Tusculum; Henry Morgan, representing Colbert; County Judge Robert M. Hill, member at large from Colbert and Lauderdale; W. H. Mitchell, Jr., representing Lauderdale County; G. W. Perkins, representing Colbert County; Harold S. May, Stanley Rosenbaum and A. R. Tomlinson, representing Florence.

Living Nativity Scene Presented Again This Year

Southern Sash Invites People Of Area To See Full Scale Replica

The public is again invited to visit a living Nativity scene in River Oaks, in northwest Sheffield presented for the second successive year by Southern Sash Sales and Supply Company for the enjoyment of the people of the Muscle Shoals area. The scene represents a life size reproduction of the stable at the inn in Jerusalem where Christ was born.

Live sheep and cattle will move about in a full-scale replica of the manger in the Biblical account of the first Christmas.

The animals will be tended by shepherds garbed just about as their counterparts dressed two-thousand years ago in Jerusalem. Life-size models will portray the infant Jesus, Mary, Joseph, and the Wise Men.

Recorded music appropriate for the occasion will be heard throughout the evening from an amplifier placed behind the stable.

The Nativity Scene in River Oaks was planned to represent as faithfully as possible, the stable where Mary and Joseph found lodging after having been turned away from one inn after another in what was to become the Holy City of the Christian faith.

Since the passing of centuries has erased any completely reliable record of how the stable was constructed and how, in detail, it

Wilson Drive-In Victim Robbery

Negroes Clean Out Cash Box At Gun-Point But Net Only Small Sum

Charles Lang, cashier at the Wilson Drive-In Theater in Florence, was held at gunpoint Wednesday night of last week while one of two Negroes cleaned out the cash box containing $160 and was forced to hand over his own wallet containing approximately $10 and personal papers.

The car the robbers were driving was apparently stolen from a Florence used car lot Wednesday afternoon by a Negro youth who reportedly said he wanted to "try it out."

According to Lang, the robbery occurred at about 8:30 p.m. while he was working at the box office at the drive-in. He reported that the two Negroes pulled up and stopped and as the driver got out, the other occupant pointed a single barreled shot-gun out the window and demanded the money.

After having Lang step out into the light, they left. While the car was still in sight, Lang phoned the Police station and reported the incident. He was able to get the license number, 41-6984, which was the same tag number on the car driven away from Riddle Used Car Lot earlier in the evening.

KEISTER NEW DOCKS EXECUTIVE ASSISTANT

Earl L. Keister, former president of the Tennessee Central Railroad, has been appointed as executive assistant in charge of operations at the Alabama State Docks, the multi-million dollar ocean terminal operated by the State of Alabama at the Port of Mobile. Port Director, Keister will be responsible for all operations and maintenance including wharves and warehouses, grain elevator, bulk material handling plant, cold storage plant, and the Port's Terminal Railway.

More than 9900 persons cast their ballots Saturday in Colbert County's election on the wet-dry issue with the dries winning by the narrow margin of 243 votes. However, voting was lower than anticipated due to the weather in the hotly debated contest with the final outcome resulting in 5,059 votes for the dries and 4,816 for the advocates of legal control, the former winning by only 243 ballots.

Saturday's election represented the second straight victory for the dry forces led by the Rev. Roscoe Griffin of Sheffield. In 1957 the dries won when Colbert voted for prohibition for the first time in 11 years.

The county vote turned the tide for the dries since both Sheffield and Tusculum voted wet, the former by a 2,007 to 1,374 margin and three of four boxes in Tusculum went for legal control giving that municipality a 1,316 to 1,053 margin.

Muscle Shoals City, however, predicted to go at least 50-50, went dry by 621 to 469. Leighton also went dry by 320 to 185 and Cherokee 406 to 150. Brick was the only county community to go wet, the vote there 81 to 77. Riverton polled the greatest margin for the dries; the vote there being 25 to 1.

The unsuccessful legal control advocates were headed by former Sheffield mayor, Hoyt Greer.

It has been announced that plans and specifications for three buildings in the Florence State College expansion program will be mailed to contractors shortly after the first of the year and bids will be opened on all three buildings at the same time.

The buildings, a men's dormitory, girls' dormitory and a student union center, will be financed partially from Federal grant money. Meanwhile, a budget of $1,273,495.65 for Florence State has been approved by the State Department of Education along with allotment from the $100,000,000 bond issue passed by the State Legislature.

President E. B. Norton of Florence State was given permission to invite new bids for construction of the three buildings.

Malcolm Smith, of Northington, Smith and Kranert, Florence, said that an earlier bid for construction of the boys' dormitory had been rejected as being too high. He stated, "This time we will bid them all together." It was previously planned to get this dormitory completed by Sept. 1, 1960. However, the failure to get an acceptable bid in November will probably mean that the building cannot be completed and ready for occupancy until later.

Mrs. Paul Underwood of Florence is a patient in Eliza Coffey Memorial Hospital.

Libraries Closing Hours Announced

The officials of the Muscle Shoals Regional Library announce that the libraries will close after the regular hours on Wednesday and will remain closed until Monday, December 28.

The following libraries will observe these days for the Christmas holidays: Florence-Lauderdale Public Library, Helen Keller Public Library in Tusculum, Leighton Public Library and the Sheffield Public Library. The Bookmobile will not be on the road during the Christmas holidays.

The bookmobile will be at headquarters in Florence the weeks of December 21 and December 28.

Even Reds Cheer U.S. President's Plea For Peace

President Eisenhower received a tremendous ovation when he arrived in Greece this week, the reception continuing without abating when the chief executive addressed the Greek Parliament for half an hour Tuesday.

He was interrupted a dozen times during his speech in which he told them his message could be summed up in the words: "Peace and Friendship in Freedom." The President, moved by the continuing demonstration which far exceeded anything thus far on his trip, departed from his prepared text to say: "I feel that I am with men, who like myself and all Americans, love peace and freedom and want to work for it." The President called on all free nations to be strong militarily, economically and above all spiritually until they have won a secure peace in freedom. He emphasized the need for freedom in any sort of East-West understanding.

Advocated peace, he said, "By forever repudiating the use of aggressive force we shall win the sort of peace we want with friendship in freedom. The President emphasized he meant freedom in which under the rule of law, every human would have the "right to live his own life, to choose his own path and to work out his own destiny."

Communists and left-winger led the applause when the President spoke on a "cause next to my heart . . . peace and friendship in freedom. They were silent when he urged the free nations to keep their defense strong until the Soviets agreed to a trustworthy peace but cheered again when he urged dynamic peace that would free the world of the intolerable burden of armaments.

Following his speech before the Greek lawmakers, Mr. Eisenhower talked with Greek leaders who included a discussion of international problems with Premier Konstantinos Karamanlis.

The President's visit was lauded by Greek newspapers who hailed it as a milestone in relations between the United States and that country.

Let's Find Out The Truth

When there is evidence the public is getting bilked then there is justification for a congressional investigation. This newspaper does not profess to know the score in the current drug price inquiry except that those in charge of the investigation claim to have uncovered some cases of unreasonable profits on the part of certain pharmaceutical houses.

It is a fact that some drugs cost a great deal and that such drugs are costly to produce. The inquiry should be fair to both the producer and the public and should not be conducted for political purposes. If it is played fairly then it will be helpful.

Many millions are spent in research every year to provide better and more potent drugs to cope with the illnesses of mankind. This research by leading drug producers made possible the mass inoculation for polio and provided it free for most of the nation's children and many adults through state and county health units. The laboratories of the big drug houses made possible the mass production of aureomycin, penicillin, streptomycin, and the great family of sulfonamides, that during the past few years have saved millions of lives that would otherwise have been lost. These drugs take only hours, where recovery, if at all, formerly took days and weeks.

Now produced synthetically most of these drugs are comparatively low in cost though uncounted millions were spent in their development.

This is not in defense of any producer of drugs or any other commodity that is unreasonably high in price but we do believe in fair play and the right of every producer whose prices are questioned, to be allowed to speak his piece.

Observing Christmas

Remember when the whole family joined in decorating the tree on Christmas Eve with chains of colored paper and strings of popcorn . . . those were the happiest Christmases of all.

Half the thrill of Christmas was going to the woods a day or two before Christmas and cutting the tree. It was no commercial Christmas tree and it had no electric lights or expensive ornaments but it was a Christmas tree decorated with love and talent and ingenuity. Best of all it drew the family ties a bit closer . . . ties cherished with a devotion that is all too often lacking today.

This doesn't mean that Christmas of today is any less real. Observing Christmas is more than a tree whether it is decorated with popcorn and paper or the most expensive of ornaments . . . observing Christmas is more than an exchange of gifts . . . observing Christmas is more than the big Christmas feast with the family gathered 'round . . . it is more than simply conforming to the custom of Christmas.

Christmas, to be Christmas, must be kept in the spirit that keeps the profound meaning of this greatest of events deep in our hearts long after the glamour and trappings of the day have disappeared. To really observe Christmas we must find time to meditate upon this day that Christ was born, bringing to all mankind, the promise of eternal life.

Unless Christmas is in our hearts its whole meaning is superficial . . . its symbols and ornaments are only decorations for creating a festive spirit.

You will be requested to enter on a form, furnished for that purpose, all the income you received during the year of 1959. You will have to state how much money you received from employment, social security, interest on savings, sale of property and all other sources. Write them down on a plain piece of paper and when you call on your Service Officer, he will be able to serve you with the least possible delay.

Representative Olin Teague of Texas, chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee, has indicated that he will hold hearings on a peacetime GI Bill just as soon as possible after Congress convenes early in January, states W. O. Crumby, Veterans Service Officer, Lauderdale County. A proposal granting educational benefits to veterans who first entered service after January 31, 1955, was passed by the Senate during the past session of Congress, but the measure was then sent to Mr. Teague's Veterans Affairs Committee, and was not reported out for a vote on the floor of the House. Mr. Crumby further states that according to further information, a number of bills calling for educational benefits for peacetime veterans will be introduced next month.

Living Nativity

looked on the night a star in the East guided believers to the modest birthplace of Christ, the scene has been patterned after art treasures and the less stylized of nativities and madonnas painted, notably during the Renaissance, by Italian, German, and Spanish masters.

Research on which the Nativity Scene is based included a thorough study into theological literature, careful examination of masterpieces of religious art.

The Nativity Scene again this year, as last, occupies the center of a fenced clearing in the inside curve of the horseshoe bend formed by Smith Court in River Oaks. The stable is divided into two parts. In one, Mary, Joseph, and the Magi stand and kneel around the manger where the Babe lies; in the other, live cattle and sheep feed. More cattle and sheep will graze free around the stable, in the fenced enclosure.

Traffic will move one-way through Smith Court, from east to west. Visitors are invited to enter at the east end of Smith Court, on Hatch Boulevard between 35th and 36th Streets.

The River Oaks Nativity Scene will be open to visitors from 6:00 to 9:00 p.m., through December 26.

Cuban military intelligence agents last Thursday captured Frank Austin Young of Miami, who fled a military jail in Havana last Wednesday to avoid a 30-year prison term. Storm In Europe Worst In Years

Europe's worst storm in 23 years left shattered ships and 109 dead as it blew itself out last Wednesday. Coastguardsmen, weary after a five-day battle, warned that the tempest might still have a deadly sting. The toll of lives and shipping was reported the heaviest since the great storm of February, 1936, in which more than 200 died.

Quality of Drugs Criticized

Dr. Louis Lasagna, chief of the Johns Hopkins University Division of Clinical Pharmacology, told Senate investigators last Thursday that many new drugs today are of miserable quality and "may harm the patients with serious side effects." Lasagna struck at drug manufacturers who he said engage in a "pharmaceutical numbers racket." He said they produce new brand name drugs and represent them as being more potent than others.

U.S. To Withdraw From Iceland

The Defense Department last Thursday announced that all U.S. Army troops will be withdrawn from Iceland, although some 4,000 U.S. Air Force and Navy men will remain. The force to be pulled out consists of some 1,200 men of an Army battalion combat troop. Headquarters said, "Army units stationed in the United States will continue to maintain their capability for immediate deployment to Iceland in case of an emergency."

Rocket Explodes at Cape Canaveral

America's biggest military rocket, A Titan, exploded Saturday as it lifted off its most critical test flight from Cape Canaveral. Only seconds after the 98-foot intercontinental-range giant left its launch pad, it was ripped by tons of burning fuel, sending an orange ball of fire soaring hundreds of feet into the air. None of the 60 members of the launching crew, in a blockhouse 100 yards away, was hurt.

Drug Prices Under Scrutiny

Democrat Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee said Saturday that public hearings had demonstrated that antiarthritic drug prices are "clearly too high." Kefauver, chairman of a Senate Antimonopoly subcommittee which has devoted the week to testimony about prices, profits and costs of steroid hormone drugs, reported testimony showed that large manufacturers are selling these same drugs to the government and to foreign sales outlets at prices far below those charged retail druggists and the public.

Jets Piloted By Marine Officers Refueled At Sea

Two Marine jet pilots made history on December 3 in a flight over the Pacific from the Kaneohe Marine Corps Air Station in Hawaii.

The fliers, Lt. Col. C. E. Schmidt, husband of the former Erin Bateman of Florence and Col. W. H. Thrash, flew from Hawaii to the Naval Air Station at Alameda, Calif., in twin-engined Jet Fury planes in a dramatic demonstration of the new "buddy" refueling system.

The 2100-mile trip was made possible by the first successful in-flight re-fueling of like jets, the report stated. The refueling took place when the planes were about an hour out of Oahu and again at the 500-mile mark. Two air-sea rescue stations assisted by two Coastguard boats were placed along the route as safe-guards. The trip was declared a success.

HENRY A. BRADSHAW

"Henry Bradshaw has the unique ability to cut through red tape and quickly get to the meat of any situation or problem. His keen business insight has made him recognized throughout the area as an able "doctor" to sick businesses and his ability for organization has placed him in demand throughout the years when important civic programs were to be gotten underway," is the word picture painted by a local citizen as he attempted to sum up the many contributions made by Mr. Bradshaw to the growth and development of this community.

Henry A. Bradshaw is a well-known Florence attorney who has for many years contributed much of his time and efforts to community service.

Mr. Bradshaw was elected president of the Florence Community Chest when it was organized in 1928, a position he held continuously until his resignation in 1949, with the exception of a few years during the depression when the chest was disbanded. It was during this period that he organized a community garden on the banks of the Tennessee River to supply food for needy Florence families.

In addition to time he devotes to civic service, Mr. Bradshaw remains conscious of his religious obligations. For the past sixteen years, he has been Chairman of the Board of Deacons of the First Presbyterian Church of Florence, of which he is a past treasurer.

Mr. Bradshaw is the attorney for the Lauderdale County Board of Education and for the Florence City Board of Education.

Henry Bradshaw was born Jan. 10, 1883, in Fayetteville, Tenn., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Samuel Bradshaw, both of them school teachers. In 1921, he was married to Lucile Landis of Nashville. They have one daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Craig, Jr., of Florence, and four grandchildren.

Before entering the law field Mr. Bradshaw was a clerk. He received his legal training in Huntsville, after which he became a partner in the Lawrence Cooper law firm in Huntsville.

Coming to Florence on Dec. 17, 1906, Mr. Bradshaw and the late John T. Ashcraft formed the law partnership of Ashcraft and Bradshaw, with offices in the Bliss Building. The name of his present law firm is Bradshaw and Barnett.

In addition to the previously mentioned civic activities in which Mr. Bradshaw has been a leader, he is a past president and an organizer of the Florence Rotary Club; a member and past president for two terms of the Florence Chamber of Commerce and has served on various fund raising committees for worthy causes.

Mr. Bradshaw served during the first World War with the American Expeditionary Forces in France as a field director for the American Red Cross.

After his return to Florence, he was elected to the State Legislature and was a delegate the following year to the Democratic National Convention, which nominated Woodrow Wilson for his second term.

During World War II, he served as Chairman of the Lauderdale County Draft Board No. 2 from 1940 until the board expired in 1945.

In recognition to his numerous contributions to the welfare of his adopted city and the needs of unfortunates throughout its borders, the name of Henry A. Bradshaw was inscribed in the Exchange Club's Book of Golden Deeds, an honor paid only to those who have contributed unselfish service without thought of personal reward.

Social Security Rate To Advance

Three Per Cent Will Be Levied Beginning In January Of Next Year

"Remember, there will be increase in your social security tax next year," stated Mrs. Mary King Temple, manager of the Sheffield Social Security District Office today in discussing the financing of the social security program.

Beginning January 1, 1960, the social security contribution rate will be three per cent each for wage earners and their employers, and four and one-half per cent for the self-employed. These rates will apply to the first $4800 of earnings. The district manager pointed out that the present rates of two and one-half per cent each for the wage earners and employers and three and three-fourths per cent for the self-employed will be effective through December 31, 1959.

The Bureau of Old-age and Survivors Insurance provides protection for most Americans against the hazards of retirement, disability, and death. Today over thirteen million beneficiaries are receiving over eight hundred million dollars each month in social security benefits, and the beneficiary rolls are increasing with each passing year. The protection afforded by this social security program has become a major factor in our American economy and its continuance depends on the stability and soundness of the old-age, survivors, and disability insurance trust funds. To assure the financing of the program on a sound actuarial basis, Congress, in August 1958, approved the contribution schedule which provides for the increased rate beginning January 1, 1960.

FSC Grid Stars Honored By ACS

Three members of Florence State College have been named to the 1959 All-Chemical, All-American Football Honor Roll by the editors of the American Chemical Society's publication Chemical and Engineering News. They are Thomas W. Greenhaw, Athens; Ken Gunter, Haverlyville; and Joe L. Moseley, Beaverton. The honor roll, which includes only football players who are students of chemistry and chemical engineering, is a tribute to all athletes who take part in any form of intercollegiate competition while maintaining a high scholarship standard, the magazine asserts.

The impressive number of scholarly athletes on this year's list "indicates that the undergraduate chemist or chemical engineer is no longer a rarity on the varsity football teams of the nation's colleges and universities," the editors observe.

In the presence of a small guest company, composed of family members and close friends, Willa Jean Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Madison Jones, exchanged nuptial vows with Ronald Dexter McIntyre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walton Brown McIntyre, in Pleasant Hill Methodist Church on Wednesday, December ninth.

The Reverend Gordon Finch, minister of the church, read the six o'clock service following appropriate selections presented by Mrs. Lon E. Harbin, organist, and Mrs. W. T. Phillips, sister of the bride.

Baskets of white gladioli and branched candelabra of burning white tapers against a background of greenery formed the altar setting against which the wedding tableau formed.

Given in marriage by her cousin, Herschell Jones, the bride wore a street-length sheath of white silk brocade fashioned with a blue-lined bolero. Her accessories and small hat were of a matching blue and with her white Bible she carried a cluster of white gardenias.

Mrs. A. C. Walker, sister of the bridegroom, wore a black wool sheath with matching accessories to serve as the bride's only attendant. Her corsage was fashioned of white carnations.

William Turner Phillips was best man for Mr. McIntyre.

Mrs. Jones chose for her daughter's wedding a model of beige chiffon and Mrs. McIntyre, mother of the bridegroom, wore sheer black wool. Both complemented their attire with black accessories and white carnation corsages.

Assisting at the reception in the church parlors which immediately followed the ceremony were Mrs. Eugene Hairell and Mrs. Herschell Jones.

Before leaving for their wedding trip, the bride changed to a sheath of melon-colored wool with which she wore black accessories and, at her shoulder, the gardenias from her corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre have now returned and are at home at 901 Sherrod Avenue.

Ornament Looks Like A Porcupine

Making porcupine balls for Christmas decorating can be fun. Here's what you need: bottle corks, 8- to 10-inch lengths of string, a darning needle, pointed cocktail toothpicks, a waxed lunch bag, a half-pint of white paint and artificial snowflakes.

First, draw the string through the cork with the needle and tie it around the cork, making a hook. Then insert the toothpicks into the cork so that all sides are covered, giving a porcupine effect. Drop the ball into a large waxed lunch bag containing paint and shake until the ball is well covered with paint.

Shake the drippings off the ball and remove from the bag. Let set for a few minutes before sprinkling with snow or glitter.

Put the balls in a safe place to dry—allowing at least 18 to 24 hours.

LEGION CUTS TIES WITH 40 & 8 SOCIETY

Because the 40 & 8 Society, the fun and honor organization of the American Legion, voted to maintain the "white only" stipulation in its constitution, ties between the two organizations have been cut, National Commander Martin McKneally has announced.

Voiture 905 of the Forty and Eight, composed of Legionnaires of the Muscle Shoals area, will continue its activities and draw its membership from the ranks of the local Legion posts, officials announce.

The friction arose last August at the national convention in Minneapolis after the 40 & 8 lifted the charter of the San Jose, Cal., voiture for admitting a Chinese-American to its membership.

THE SPILLWAY

A CHRISTMAS PLEASANTRY we love
Is meetin'-up with friends...
It's something we'll be dreamin' uv
Long after Christmas ends...

MIXING IN THE MERRY throngs... there's many a happy... friends all-too-seldom encountered... and many a moment of blocking passageways in busy places for a small spree of chatting... sometimes gay... sometimes nostalgic... always warm with the spirit of the Christmas season...

WARMEST OF WELCOMES... Here for a visit with Ebba and George Porter at their home on Old Natchez Trace Road... Marian Jewett (the former Marian) Lawrence) caused a pleasant stir of excitement among Florence friends when she arrived with Ebba at Trinity Church for the Women of the Church luncheon last week... and is continuing to inspire... Ebba and Sara Ingram included quite a number in their invitations to a Tuesday morning coffee at The Town Club... Jane Smith and smallish and delightful luncheon parties... and there're ever-so-many others... Marian's present home is Meredith, N. H., and her visit will continue through the Christmas season...

BEFORE LEAVING the subject of meetings with friends... we'd like to divulge a little into about the recent meeting between our boss (Harold May) and a former classmate of SECOND GRADE days at Kilby School... Now the "Mrs." of William Burton (Comptroller of the City of Nashville) she is the former Corinne Ware... and was eager and interested in hearing of "school chums" including Mary Douglass Bender... and the former Anne Rowell Hood... and others... A recent reference to the incident in the boss' "The Passing Parade" column (with names withheld) has brought about much conjecture on the part of other once-upon-a-time second-graders... We asked for and got permission to complete the story...

CHRISTMAS TRIPPING here and there... Louise Johnson and Hilda Shipper were last weekend guests of Elizabeth and (Doctor) Chun Parsons in B'ham... spending an overnight of the time with Jane and Ben Cabbage at their cottage on the Warrior River... and (among other items of interest) making the Holiday House pilgrimage... 'Twas off to Jackson, Miss., last Friday for Alberta Rogers... who's been a visitin' family members and is expected to return today...

HOLIDAY SPARKLE IS abroad as the Christmas Party Whirl gathers momentum... Bess Meade's teatime courtesy of last mid-week was a pretty compliment to Marjorie Roberts... a charming last-Summer addition to the young-marrieds of the district... (Decoy-Lois touch... and we DO mean Lois Morris)... THE lovely new Edgemont home of Ruth and Roy Crabtree was a picture to behold when guests (about twenty-five... all told) arrived on last Thursday afternoon in response to Ruth's invitation to come by for a cuppa coffee... Helens Wilson's luncheon of yesterday noon... and Mary Sue Johnson's Christmas tea party in the later hours... left little to be desired by even the most meticulous party connoisseurs... Everybody's simply gasping for breath as gay gatherin's continue to beckon... WE'D HAVE BEEN right there... to see "Sabrina Fair"... That is... if the release from Lindenwood College in St. Charles, Mo., (telling about Betty Darnall being a member of the cast) had reached us in time... We can hardly wait to know which character was portrayed by this lovely and talented young Florentine...

CHANGED ADDRESSES... Martha (Barnett) and Butch Long and chillun... two-year-old Jack and seven-months-old Leanne... have shaken the dust of Chattanooga and are now at home near the Vestavia (Birmingham) home of (Martha's sister) Emalee and Jack Graves... AND Lorena (McGarry) and Tom Frith and their family are comfortably domiciled at 126 West Mattilou Street... where Lorena (who has returned to her native heath) is being oft-visited by her friends of an earlier day and the longtime friends of (her mamma and poppa) Tiny and Jim McGarry...

A DAY TO BE remembered in two Florence homes is Wednesday, December ninth... Arriving on that day in Marshall, Texas, was Kristen Van Kelley... who is being welcomed with open arms by (her two-year-old sister) Kim and (her mama and dad) Carolyn (Young) and Billy Joe Kelley... AND in Columbus, O., Jeffrey Hunter Archer is the name of the pre-Christmas package which has taken up residence with Ann (Russell) and Joe Archer... Proud local GP's are Rachel and Charles Edgar Young of 218 Edgewood Drive and Mildred and "Fuzzy" Russell of 322 Sherrod Avenue...

Needless to say... both GM's took first flights out... ALL UNDER ONE roof for the first time in three years... Chil-lun and parents... grands and great grands... making a GRAND total of thirteen... Louise and Albert Martin and (her mamma and poppa) Leanne and Marcie Darnall are readying the family home for the arrival of Virve and Albert, Jr., and their threesome... Lynda and Elaine and Monique... Joan and (Ens) Jack Martin and Doty (Martin) and Bud Searcy... It bids to be a Happy Christmas at 838 Kendrick Street...

AND NOW... CHEERIO and goodby... until more news comes through The Spillway...

State Building More Roads For Less Financing

Good Business Seen As Reason For State Effecting Economies

Competitive bidding coupled with the driving of hard money-saving business bargains has enabled Alabama's Highway Department to build more roads for less money since January than during any other equivalent period of time in the past 10 years.

Figures released by Executive Assistant Walter Craig shows that during the first nine months of 1959, 1430 miles of roads have been built at a total cost of $10,595,000. The average cost per mile is $7,409.09.

During the first nine months of 1955, 951 miles of roads were built at a cost of $13,851,000. Cost-per-mile was $14,564.66.

The 1951 figures for nine months of road building shows that 750 miles were constructed at an overall cost of $9,971,000 or a cost-per-mile of $13,294.66.

"We have been able to realize this savings because of Highway Director Sam Engelhardt's insistence that all purchases be made through competitive bidding. State law does not require that purchases of amounts less than $800 have to be by bid, but Mr. Engelhardt does and this has resulted in a real net savings," Craig declared.

Official figures reveal that the Highway Department has saved on practically every item it has purchased.

Despite inflation the department has made no purchase at prices higher than were made anytime in the previous two years and in many cases much less.

Records show that automobiles have been purchased for as much as $300 less than the same make, model and with the same equipment were purchased the previous year.

Pickup trucks have been bought for $147 less than the previous year and chassis for two-ton trucks for as much as $500 less.

Engelhardt is directing the largest road building program in the history of the state, a program that will see more than a 1,000 miles of top grade county roads built each year during the present administration.

Engelhardt said every effort is being made to save tax payer's money in all areas of operation and to encourage economy. "This belt-tightening policy has been a factor in enabling us to do substantial work in all 67 counties," he said.

POLICEMEN, FIREMEN RECEIVE PAY RAISE

To be included in the Florence city budget for the 1959-60 year adopted last week by the City Commission is a salary increase of $15 per month to 35 policemen and 29 firemen, it was revealed Monday by Mayor E. F. Martin of Florence.

SIGMA TAU DELTA INITIATES—Two Florence State College students were recently initiated into Theta Delta chapter of the honor English society in ceremonies at the home of Miss Julia Neal, sponsor. They were Peggy Renfro Hendricks of Florence and Mary Ellen Pitts of Sheffield.

Jaycees Sponsor Empty Stocking

Tax Facts For The Homeowner

BUYING, SELLING OR IMPROVING YOUR HOME
(This is the second in a series of articles on federal income tax filing. These articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Alabama Society of Certified Public Accountants in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

In today's economy, with constantly rising prices and land values, it is quite common for the family man to look upon his home as an investment. Not that he entertains the idea of selling it necessarily, but at least he knows that it will probably climb in value, and that he could then sell it if he wanted to. However, as an investment, the ownership of a home differs in many respects from the ownership of stocks or bonds, and these differences have important tax implications that you should be aware of.

Changing Your Residence
If you sell your house (which is your principal residence) at a profit and move to a new house, you may not have to pay tax on the profit. Let's say you bought a house five years ago for $15,000, which you sold last year for $20,000. Since you held the house for more than six months, the profit of $5,000 is taxable as a long-term capital gain at a maximum rate of 25 per cent. However, if you move into a new house either one year before or one year after the sale, and if the new house costs $20,000 or more, then you pay no tax on the $5,000 profit. If you are having the new house built for yourself and construction begins either one year before or one year after the sale of the old house, then the period of replacement is extended to eighteen months from date of sale, providing you occupy it within that period.

The important point here is that the new house must cost as much or more than the amount you receive for the old house. If it cost only $19,000, you must pay the long-term capital gains tax on the balance of $1,000.

You could actually sell your house at a profit and buy a new one every few years without paying a tax on the profit, but you aren't really avoiding the tax, you are merely postponing it. The cumulative gain will be taxed when the last house is finally sold without being replaced. Even this tax can be avoided if the house is sold after your death by your heirs or estate. The total cost on which the gain will be figured will be the amount you have invested in the house over the years. For example, you originally invested $15,000 in a house. You sell the house for $20,000 and buy a new one for $22,000. Your tax cost for the $22,000 house is now $17,000 ($22,000 less the gain of $5,000 on the sale of the old house). Whatever you sell it for above $17,000 will be a taxable gain.

If you sold your house during the year and haven't yet purchased another, but plan to do so before the replacement period elapses, you must give the details of the sale on Schedule D of Form 1040. You need not report the gain. When you do replace your house within the required period, you should advise your local District Director of Internal Revenue in writing. If you change your mind and decide not to buy another house you must file an amended return for the year of sale of your old house to report any gain.

Expenses of Owning a House
A home owner is usually in a more advantageous tax position than a person who rents. This is because home owners who elect to itemize their deductions rather than use the standard 10 per cent deduction are allowed to deduct interest and property taxes paid during the year. They can also deduct the loss on damage to their house and grounds resulting from a fire, storm, earthquake, or other casualty (this was discussed in the first article of the series). Taxpayers who rent their homes from others undoubtedly are paying for these costs by rent, but they cannot claim any tax deduction.

Home Improvement & Repairs
Repairs to your home are considered personal expenses. They are not deductible, and for tax purposes, do not increase the cost of your house. Although repairs and maintenance costs are not deductible, they can be used to reduce the amount which must be spent on a new house in order to postpone payment of tax on the gain. However, this only applies to such costs if they are incurred within 90 days before contracting to sell the house, or paid within 30 days after.

Improvements to your house are not deductible either, but they do increase the cost of your house.

Zachner — The Concise Encyclopedia of Living Faiths, was given in memory of Mrs. Ben W. Cunningham.

Zilpatrick — Sovereign States, was given in memory of John S. Kernahaw.

This is an important point to remember when planning to sell your house. To determine the amount you will gain from the sale of your house, add the cost of improvements you have made to the original cost of the house and subtract the total from the selling price. If you bought it for $15,000, added $2,000 worth of improvements, and sold it for $20,000, your gain would be $3,000.

When you invest in a home, it is almost like investing in a business. To be able to take advantage of the legitimate tax considerations you are entitled to, you will need to keep accurate records of your various expenses. So don't forget to save your paid bills from year to year.

Don't overload your electrical outlets as they can get hot and ignite. Use as many separate outlets as your room provides when hooking up Christmas lights.

The black widow spider is found throughout the western hemisphere; but it is much more common in the southern states than in any other area.

TVA News Letter

From The Office Of
Tennessee Valley Authority
Knoxville, Tenn.

Municipal and cooperative distributors of TVA power built 2,000 miles of rural lines during the 1959 fiscal year. TVA reported today. This brought to 111,000 their total number of miles of rural lines in service. Of this total 70,000 were built in the eight years following the end of World War II.

More than 360,000 farms in the region now have service. TVA said that the distributors reported that there remain some 15,000 farms to whom service could be provided if desired.

At the close of World War II about 28 percent of the farms in the region were electrified, compared to 45 percent for the Nation as a whole. Today the percentage of electrified farms in the TVA area is something over 95 percent, about the same as the average over the Nation.

Rainfall throughout the Tennessee Valley averaged 4.30 inches in November, nearly an inch more than the 65-year average for the month of 4.5 inches. These locations received unusually heavy amounts: Hiwassee Dam 9.07 inches; Fontana Dam 6.61 inches; Nantahala Dam 6.50 inches; and Apalachia Dam 6.50 inches. Other sections received smaller than average rainfall. Thorpe Dam, as Alcoa dam in North Carolina, 1.98 inches; Kentucky Dam 2.29 inches; Chatuga Dam 2.26 inches; and Watts Bar Dam 2.86 inches.

Runoff measured 1.71 inches at Chattanooga, and 1.31 inches at Kentucky Dam. Both amounts are above the long range average. At Chattanooga "normal" for November is 1.08 inches, and at Kentucky Dam it is 0.95 inch. However, for the first 11 months of 1959 runoff is considerably below normal. At Chattanooga it measures 17.61 inches, compared with the long range average of 21.75 inches; at Kentucky Dam it is 15.80 inches, while the normal for the 11 months is 20.61.

TVA and state fisheries biologists have started an intensive study of sauger, a game fish, which in recent years has apparently been increasing in numbers in the tailwaters below TVA dams on the main Tennessee River. Biologists know comparatively little of the habits, abundance or movements of these fishes, which are prized by sports fishermen. The sauger is known in some sections of the Valley as "sauger pike" or "jack salmon."

Kentucky and TVA fisheries biologists have completed the tagging of 840 sauger in the tailwaters below Kentucky Dam. Work starts this week on tagging of 7,000 of the fish below the Pickwick Landing Dam by Tennessee and TVA biologists. If time permits other sauger will be tagged in the tailwaters below Wilson, Wheeler, and other upstream dams.

Tagging of fish and a subsequent creel census and fishermen count are the tools the experts use to learn about any particular species of fish. The rate of recovery of tagged fish and the location of the recovery indicates probable abundance, and distances traveled.

Sauger caught by Valley fishermen rarely exceed three pounds in weight, but the biologists do not know if or why their growth is limited to this weight.

In past years sauger were caught in considerable numbers in such tributary lakes as Norris, but this has not been true in recent years. Seemingly while their numbers were diminishing in the deeper lakes they were increasing in the more shallow mainstream impoundments.

Reynolds Plant Is Now Nearing Full Production

Plant Manager R. B. Newman of the new Reynolds Metals Company Reduction Plant announced Saturday that the series of steps needed to resume full production in the 112,500 ton annual capacity plant were completed last week and the plant has resumed near-normal operations.

This plant, which has been in partial operation since a few days after the failure of two TVA transformers about a month ago, still needs additional time to regain fully efficient operation.

Although emergency Reynolds and TVA crews rushed temporary electrical facilities to restore power, it was necessary to clean out the pots and go through a starting routine before operations could be resumed.

There are approximately 700 people employed at the new plant, reports Mr. Newman. Not effected by the power failure were the employees in the adjoining Reynolds Metals Company Alloys Plant.

Add New Life To Old Frames

Old wooden picture frames can be revived to add life and usefulness.

Before applying a new finish, remove paint or the old finish with paint remover and fine steel wool. Follow the directions on the paint remover can, advises Alice Penny, Extension Home Furnishings Specialist. After cleaning the frame with turpentine, rub it with fine sandpaper or triple O steel wool until it has a satiny finish.

A variety of finishes will provide a soft, natural look, points out the Auburn University Specialist. Use two coats of penetrating seal or three coats of paste wax—or, you can apply two parts linseed oil and one part turpentine with a soft cloth. For this rubbed oil finish, repeat the process at least four times allowing a minimum of one week between coats.

REMEMBER OTHERS AT CHRISTMASTIME

While it is not true, of course, that "Christmas is for children," no other season or holiday brings to both young and old such vivid memories of earlier, happier times. Christmas is certainly a happy time for the young. There is a sparkle and sweetness to the Christmas season that time cannot dim within our heart. When the snow falls and the winter winds blow cold against the frosted panes, there is warmth and contentment in the glow of a hearth fire, and it is a luxury for children of all ages to close the eyes and call back joyful, happy scenes that are so deeply treasured they can never be forgotten.

News Of POWELL

By Mrs. J. N. Phillips

Church:

One hundred two were present for Sunday school at the Bethel Baptist Church on Sunday morning. Visitors arriving for the eleven o'clock worship hour included James Cockrell, of Cleveland, O., who is recuperating from surgery recently undergone in Nashville, and the Curtis McGraws of Decatur.

In the evening 58 were present for Training Union. The Rev. McDougal filled his regular pulpit at both services.

Death:

Funeral services were conducted from the Bethel Church on last Wednesday for the elderly John Burgess who died at the Pulaskia Hospital following a long illness. His death succeeded that of his son Ivan, by four days. His funeral was conducted by the Rev. McDougal, with burial in Mitchell cemetery. He was a long time citizen of our Community, and a retired farmer of several years. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Margie Foulkenbury, and a son, Noel, of California.

The surviving members of this family, to whom we offer our heart felt sympathies, and Mrs. Elise Burgess, wife of Ivan, would like to take this means of expressing their deepest appreciation to their neighbors, friends and relatives for the many kindnesses shown them during their recent sorrow, for the visits, flowers, food and prayers in their behalf, and every act of understanding.

This community expresses its sympathies also to the surviving members of the Bob Burgess family of Florence, due to his recent passing. He was a member of this community, and a farmer in our rural area for many years, before retiring to Florence.

School:

The Powell school realized a good sum from the proceeds of a box supper on Saturday night, totaling more than $300.00 from the various sources of cake walks, contests, tickets on the prizes, and the sale of the boxes. A good crowd was present and the evening was enjoyed by all.

Club:

The Powell Home Demonstration met on Monday for its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Weigart. Nine members and two visitors were present. One new member joined at this meeting. The group enjoyed the usual Christmas gift exchange and dinner, supplied by the members.

The Right Spirit Is All Important

Traditionally, the preparations for Christmas are quite feverish. Preparing the decorations for the home and the tree, the extra hours that go into selecting and preparing good things to eat, the sometimes-perplexing problem of choosing the right gifts, and remembering everyone that we should—all of this has become "traditional." And still, an afterglow to all the merriment, Christmas Day usually ushers in comparative peace and quiet, a time when in silent reflection, the majority of us come face to face with the true meanings of Christmas and the spiritual blessing that attend the season.

Unlicensed Dogs Violation Of Law

Street By Street Check Being Made; Failure To Comply Means Fine

It has been reported that three persons have paid fines of $14 each in City Police Court on charges of allowing unlicensed dogs to run loose, and several others who failed to appear in Court on such charges have had alias warrants issued for their arrest.

Failure to purchase a license for dogs in Florence is a violation of Act 2, Section 416 of 1953, Code of the City of Florence, which makes it unlawful to own, keep, maintain or harbor a dog over four months of age without buying a license from the City Clerk, the only exception being when the dog is kept confined without possible contact with other dogs.

A street-by-street check is now being made by law enforcement officers to find these dogs that are not licensed.

According to the Police Department, the dead-line for purchasing these licenses for the 1960 year has already passed.

Horses and mules are expected to decrease another eight percent during the 1959-60 feed year.

LOOK OUT FOR THAT T*R*E*E*E*E—Christmas tree, that is. Although the holiday season is a time of relaxed happiness and fun, it frequently is accompanied by lots of accidents. Simple precautions will keep your holidays safe as well as cheery—anchoring Christmas trees firmly—checking old or faulty tree lights. And, above all, extra caution when driving. Streets will be packed with carefree and careless drivers and pedestrians. A little care will keep your holidays happy.

ONLY A FEW MORE PACKAGE-SHAKING DAYS till Christmas. Got your shopping done? If not, here's a welcome gift idea for most anyone on your list. Give an extension phone in color. You can choose from a color range as brightly varied as Christmas itself. Add on extras if you like: no-tangle spring cords, light-up dials, volume control. Quickest shopping you ever did, too. A call to our Business Office will send a gift phone on its way—to those on your list whom you particularly want to please.

NOT A CREATURE WAS STIRRING. That's not quite true. Many of us at the Telephone Company stay on the job along with Santa. All through the holidays your calls will be handled, so send your good wishes to family and friends whenever you wish. And should an emergency come up, you'll get service "as usual." See you in '60. Till then from all of us, may this season be one of joy and fulfillment for you and yours.

P.S.: Another Bell Telephone Hour, an hour-long music show, will be coming your way Friday, December 18. You won't want to miss it, so check your newspaper listings for time and station.

MANY HAPPY RETURNS—Unique in the realm of presents are these four 105 mm. mobile guns presented by French President Charles de Gaulle to Morocco's King Mohammed V. The guns, which are destined for the Moroccan army, stand in Rabat during ceremonies honoring the king on the 32nd anniversary of his coronation.

Holiday House

More than two hundred people called at the Holiday House in the home of Mrs. Essie Goad, sponsored and decorated by the Rogersville Garden Club, which looked as if it had been lifted from a Christmas card and placed in our town; twas so beautiful.

Carolers on the lawn, a wreath of welcome on the door and snow-banked windows marked the entrance. Inside a "poinsetta tree" of magnolia with portions painted white centered with clusters of red berries was seen through the bedroom door.

A driftwood tree in pink with golden bells and wreathed in gossamer pink under which were the packages was featured in the living room. Other arrangements in pink were at vantage points.

In the kitchen the two window walls curtained with trailing philodendron had red berries added at intervals. A wicker tray holding a cluster of dried things was an eye-catcher on one wall.

Arrangements in natural shades were used in the dining nook and sunrooms.

A snow-white church, with lighted spire and stained windows, was a focal point in a bedroom. Another bedroom featured light blue in its decor.

All arrangements were created from common-places, right-at-hand materials and the Holiday House was a thing of beauty and enchantment for both old and young. Coffee and Christmas cookies were served by the hostesses.

A word of thanks to these faithful workers who give to Rogersville a Holiday House for its Christmas treat.

Civilians Entertain Wives
At a candle-light dinner, served by their husbands in the school cafeteria on Tuesday evening, the ladies were delightfully entertained.

Christmas decorations were used on the tables.

Rev. Gerald Harris gave the invocation and John Roberson, president, was master of ceremonies. An educational film was shown later in the evening.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mommy said that this year I could help trim the tree, if I'd be very careful. The ornaments are so shiny and bright, and it's such fun to decide where to put them.

Mommy let me help fix our little creche, too. I put in the figure of the Christ Child and He looked so pretty . . . all sort of pink and gold.

We fixed the creche first because Mommy said that we must always remember that Christmas is, first of all, the Christ Child's birthday. When we finish trimming the tree, Mommy is going to read us the story about the first Christmas . . . about the shepherds and the angels . . . about the Wise Men and their star . . . about the little Jesus, born in Bethlehem, in a manger.

Mommy's told me the story before but she says that this year I'm big enough to stay up with the rest and hear her read it. And, of course, we'll go to Church, and Mommy says I can carry my fur muff.

I think this is going to be the best Christmas I've ever had!

Farmers Urged Get Soil Samples To County Agent

By HERMAN H. MARKS
Asst. County Agent

A number of farmers have secured supplies for making soil tests on their farms, but as yet have not returned them to the County Agent's Office. We urge all you farmers who have boxes and cartons to get your boxes of soil and bring them to the County Agent's Office before January 8, 1960. The time has been extended from December 15 to January 8, 1960 for the delivery of samples to the County Agent's Office on the one free sample postage plan.

We need to know if those with cartons are planning to use them between now and January 8, 1960, so that we may know how to plan for additional supplies. Six hundred farmers may get one free sample and postage on all samples; therefore, let us urge you to take advantage as soon as possible.

Frozen Poultry Shipped Abroad

The largest shipment of frozen chickens ever to be sent abroad will be in Europe in time for Christmas dinner.

Extension Poultry Specialist Jim Hubbard reports that 2,000 tons of frozen food were recently shipped from the United States. This number includes 700 tons of frozen poultry.

en poultry that has been inspected and graded by the Poultry Division of the Agricultural Marketing Service.

According to the Auburn University Specialist, the U.S. Department of Agriculture inspection and grading service has helped to increase the use of American frozen poultry abroad. And this large shipment is a big step toward expanding foreign markets for U.S. poultry.

Cotton Is Slightly Below Prediction

As Of December 1, Crop Of 720,000 Bales Has Been Produced In State

With over 97 percent of the State's cotton crop in the bale by December 1, the Alabama Crop and Livestock Reporting Service placed production at 720,000 bales. This is 5,000 bales below earlier forecasts. It is up sharply from the 439,000 bales harvested a year earlier but about one-sixth below the 1948-57 average of 844,000 bales, according to U.S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Growers planted 855,000 acres to cotton. This includes almost 12,000 acres removed voluntarily to comply with acreage allotments. Plantings in 1959 were up sharply from the 540,000 acres planted last year when growers put 467,000 acres in the acreage reserve—a feature of the Soil Bank Program that was dropped this year. Harvester acreage at 833,000 acres compares with 530,000 in 1958 and the 1948-57 average of 1,345,000 acres.

Yield per acre at 415 pounds has been exceeded only by the record yield of 478 pounds in 1955. In that year all areas produced excellent yields. In 1959, yields in southern and central counties were reduced by excessive rains early in the season and at harvest time and insufficient moisture during the summer. North Alabama experienced a more favorable year although rains delayed harvest and reduced quality of lint and seed even in that area.

In the Tennessee Valley counties and on Sand Mountain, where record-high yields were produced, over 95 percent of the crop was in the bale as November ended.

ADVICE FOR STORAGE OF IRRIGATION EQUIPMENT

When your irrigation equipment is ready for winter storage, follow these recommendations.

Auburn Extension Specialist Lawrence Ennis says to unscrew the risers from the main lines and store them with the nozzles where they can't be damaged. Stack the main pipe under a shed, and take the rubber sealing collars out of each pipe section and store in a dry, cool, dark place. Properly winterize the power unit and make sure all water is out of the pump and pump-priming mechanism.

LET THE FLORENCE HERALD DO ALL YOUR PRINTING!

Resolution For Hog Production

How about this for a New Year's resolution—to have at least 50 percent of the hogs produced on your farm grading No. 1 within the next two years?

According to Auburn University Specialist Ray Cavender, the whole swine industry—particularly producers—would profit if Alabama hog growers would adopt this goal and really work to bring it about. He points out that the first step toward achievement is sizing up the quality of your present stock. If you doubt your ability as a swine judge, call the county agent's office for information. Remember that backfat and thickness in combination with weight and length are major factors in classifying market hogs into grades.

The Extension Hog Marketing Specialist adds that meatiness and muscling are very important on today's hog markets. To get an idea of the quality of your hogs, visit the packing plant or meat processor where some of your hogs are slaughtered. Here you can learn how the animals are yielding in terms of lean cuts and fat.

By keeping a few simple records, you can determine the performance of your sow herd and the cost of feeding pigs to market weight, says Cavender. And it may surprise you to find that the better performers are also the better quality animals. "Records on sows and feed costs, the ability to estimate and measure backfat, thickness, and the eye to detect quality and muscling are all important in producing more number one hogs," concludes the specialist.

California Cows Best Producers

Any dairyman can improve his herd regardless of its production level or size.

This can be done by keeping records and using those records to improve the herd, points out Auburn Extension Dairyman Sam Jones. And this is exactly what members of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association do.

According to Jones, totals for DHIA testing in the United States for 1958 are now available. The average cow on the test produced 10,968 pounds of milk and 394 pounds fat—an increase of 174 pounds of milk and five pounds of fat over 1957. During 1958, California cows led all others on the test with an average of 11,022 pounds of milk and 432 pounds of fat.

Dairywomen in Alabama averaged 6,507 pounds of milk and 270 pounds of fat in 1958, says the specialist. On Oct. 1, 1959, there were 16,962 cows on the DHIA test—or 5.2 percent of all the dairy cows in Alabama.

FIRST OBSERVANCE IN NEW WORLD

The first Christmas observance in this country took place shortly after Columbus discovered America. The Santa Maria was beached on Christmas and Columbus and his men were unable to free her.

The ship was stripped of as much gear as possible and when the Nina was unable to accommodate all of the Santa Maria's crew, some of them were left behind in a fort, that in honor of the season was called Le Navidad, the Nativity.
