Craig Construction Company To Erect Chamber Building

Structure Scheduled For Completion By February On South Pine Street

It was announced Saturday by the Florence Chamber of Commerce that the contract has been let for construction of its new office building on South Pine Street, next door to the Knights of Pythias building, to Craig Construction Company.

According to C. Hewlett Jackson, Chamber Manager, the contract was signed in the present Chamber office, Nov. 24, by Karl T. Tyree, Jr., on behalf of the Chamber, and by B. H. Craig, Jr., for the construction company.

This contract provides that the construction company shall erect the building at actual cost for which the contractor will be paid a fixed fee and that a guaranteed maximum that all costs of the building, including the fee, will not exceed $27,000.

Construction was expected to begin within 10 days and is to be substantially completed by February 1, 1960, as the Chamber must vacate their presently rented office space on East Tennessee Street by that time to make room for a private business expansion scheduled at that point.

In another announcement made Saturday, it was requested by the Chamber's board of directors that Madding King would serve as the Chamber's representative during the construction with the contractor and with Allen Northington of Northington, Smith & Kranert, the architects.

Visit With Nehru Is Considered Of Vital Importance

The White House disclosed Tuesday that President Eisenhower will leave on his 22,370 mile trip at 7 p.m. CST tonight. This is 2½ hours earlier than previously planned. After a refueling stop at Goose Bay, Labrador, the President will land at Rome for his first visit about 1 p.m. Dec. 4. This will be the longest single journey ever undertaken by a president of the United States and will be the first time a President has ever visited Greece, Turkey, Pakistan, Afghanistan, India and Spain.

Mr. Eisenhower will fly from New Delhi to Tehran, Iran, thence by Athens on his way to Paris and the Western Summit meeting December 19-21. Between Greece and France he will travel on the Cruiser Des Moines.

During his sea trip the President will land at Tunis on Dec. 17 for a conference with President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia, a strong pro-west African leader. The President is also scheduled to land at Casablanca to see King Mohammed V of Morocco.

He will return to Washington on December 22.

An unusual aspect of Mr. Eisenhower's trip, it was pointed out, is that he will spend almost as much time visiting countries outside the Western sphere of influence as he will with countries in the Western bloc.

This is in sharp contrast to the late John Foster Dulles policy in which the secretary of state denounced neutrality between communism and Western Democracy as "immoral."

Considered of primary importance will be the President's talk with India's Prime Minister Nehru. It was expected that the problem of the current border dispute with the Chinese Reds will come up during the chief executive's visit in India. The United States has strongly supported India in this crisis.

It was pointed out too that if India's position is such that it will require new military expenditures the United States will seriously consider increasing monetary aid to that country. India is the recipient of the largest "single country aid" the United States has provided to date, having received some $2 billion during the past ten years.

Mr. Eisenhower's chief political advisor, retiring Undersecretary of State Robert B. Murphy, will accompany the President, so that he will be prepared to discuss issues that may be raised from time to time by his hosts though his trip is primarily one of good will.

Ten Thousand Are Expected Vote In Colbert Election

G. W. Cantrell, chairman of the Colbert County Board of Registrars and a member of the Board for nine years, reported Saturday that around 650 persons had registered to vote in the Legal Control election on alcoholic beverages scheduled Saturday, Dec. 12, in Colbert County.

Mr. Cantrell called the registration during November "the heaviest month registration he had seen in the past nine years." He estimated that Colbert County has some 17,000 eligible voters for the Dec. 12 election and that he expected a turnout approaching 10,000.

The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

● Out of the mysterious East has come a new way of making cornstalks grow faster. According to a report reaching us from India, the same flute music which Indian snake charmers play to their cobras has made cornstalks grow faster than plants left in silence. The report said that flute music was played to a selected group of plants half an hour each day for 30 days. Another group was left in silence. The plants which listened to the music grew 25 to 50 per cent faster. (We don't believe it, either.)

● There are two kinds of people who complain about taxes — men and women.

● The story is told of a storekeeper in a small rural community who was known as a fine businessman. On one occasion a neighbor overheard him call to his son from his home, which adjoined the store: "John, have you watered the milk?" "Yes Pa," was his answer. "Have you sanded the sugar?" "Yes, Pa," "Have you added dust to the pepper?" "Yes, Pa," "All right, then, come in to prayer."

● The lazier a man is, the more he plans to do tomorrow.

● A father explained to his young son that in the future he would withhold 20 per cent from his allowance. "It is not that I am trying to cut down on your allowance," the father explained, "but I believe that included in your training you should know what the future holds for you. Like adults, you will now pay a withholding tax. My reason being that when you are on your own, the job will be easier to take."

● The average girl would rather have beauty than brains because the average man can see better than he can think.

● We have come to realize that most diners-out are as inaccurate in their description of the size of the steak they had the previous evening as fishermen are in telling of the size of the fish they catch.

● High fidelity: Two drinks swearing eternal allegiance.

● The very day a burglar alarm was installed in the box office of a certain theatre, a gunman poked a revolver through the window and demanded all the cash in the till. The cashier promptly pressed her foot down on the alarm pedal. Her telephone rang — but the gunman grabbed it to prevent her giving an alarm. As he placed the phone to his ear, he heard a voice say: "This is the police department, miss. Will you kindly remove your foot from the pedal that rings the alarm over here."

● There's a lot of difference in criticism — and abuse.

● The wife was having trouble with her hearing and she went to the doctor for a thorough check-up. The next day, he called her husband to report his finding. "Tell your wife," he said, "that there is nothing for her to worry about. Although there is a slight deafness in both ears, it is simply an indication of advancing years." The husband listened attentively, then replied: "Doc, you tell her."

● Anatomy is something everybody has—but it looks better on a pretty girl.

● There was the time that families used to be considered shiftless if they lived from payday to payday. Now they are considered financial wizards.

● We are convinced that the super market was invented by a grocer or butcher who got tired of answering the question: "Is this fresh?"

Handel's Messiah To Be Presented By FSC Group

Fifty-Five Voice Choir Will Be Heard At Coffee High Auditorium

Three guest soloists and Cecily Hay, Florence State College senior, will be soloists in the college choir's presentation of Handel's "Messiah" at 3:30 p.m. December 6 in Coffee Auditorium.

Her voice pupils present an opera each year and Mrs. Christeson has sung the title role in The Medium by Menotti, the mother role in Amahl and the Night Visitors, also Menotti's and countless in Sister Angelica by Puccini. She directs the choir at First Methodist Church, Tusculum.

A native Alabamian from the Chattahoochee Valley area, Roy L. Wood, baritone, is a graduate of Auburn and is presently choral director at Decatur High School. He also serves as minister of music at First Methodist Church, Decatur. Mr. Wood has sung leads in operatic and choral productions, and has conducted The Messiah, King David and Requiem.

Walter E. Urban, assistant professor of music at Florence State, will be accompanist.

A sixteen voice ensemble from the 55-voice choir will be heard in selections from Handel for the program of Florence Music Club Saturday, December 12; and the full choir will again appear Thursday, December 17, in a varied program in Kilby Auditorium.

Florence Man Is Accident Victim

George H. (Fuzzy) Nix Dies Enroute To Decatur Hospital On Tuesday

George Harold (Fuzzy) Nix, 21, a resident of 807 Sycamore Street, Florence, died early Tuesday enroute to Decatur General Hospital after reportedly being involved in a freak accident on Highway 72A. Dr. W. T. McVay, State Toxicologist from Huntsville, was called to perform an autopsy at Brown Service Home in Decatur. The youth was pronounced dead upon arrival at the hospital of a fractured skull.

According to Abe Parrish, Alabama Highway patrolman who investigated the accident, a half brother to Nix, James Willcutt, gave the following account of what happened.

Willcutt and Nix were riding along the highway in a truck. Willcutt was driving and as he looked in the rear view mirror, he saw smoke. Nix opened the door on the passenger side, leaned out and looked back to see what was causing the smoke.

The next thing Willcutt said he knew was that he saw Nix sprawled on the highway.

Highway patrol officers and Lawrence lawmen questioned Willcutt in an effort to get all the details.

Invitations were extended to the foreign students by local Baptist Student Unions on the college campuses, and several BSU members met with them to get acquainted and establish closer ties between young men and women of the United States and other countries.

Speakers and discussion leaders at the meetings were Dr. Charles W. Barnes, director of student work at the University of Alabama; Dr. Daniel R. Grant, associate professor of political science at Vanderbilt University; Miss Georgetown College, Kentucky.

For A Safe Merry Christmas

It would be interesting to discover, in this era of motivation research, what the word "holiday" means to most people. What is the first thing that flashes to mind when the word is mentioned?

Time off from work? A trip? An excuse to celebrate? A tragic accident toll?

Unfortunately, truthful answers probably would place all of those higher on the list than the true meaning of the holiday. And it's especially unfortunate that holidays must have an association with high accident tolls.

Christmas, with the deepest spiritual significance, is the deadliest holiday of all, according to the National Safety Council. Ironically, it achieves this terrible distinction precisely because we want it to be such a wonderful occasion.

It is a sentimental holiday. People will drive long distances for the traditional family reunion, undaunted by the worst weather. More travel—especially winter travel at high-way speeds—means more accidents.

It is a convivial holiday. The joyous spirit of the occasion is too often sought in liquid form.

THIS DEADLY CONJUNCTION OF THE THROTTLE AND BOTTLE HAS DIMMED THE TRUE RADIANCE FROM THE STAR OF BETHLEHEM.

The National Safety Council has asked for church leadership during this Christmas season to point out that accident prevention is practical religion, and that good will toward men can find no finer expression than behind the wheel of a car.

Land of Opportunity

We do not profess to be tax experts but figures recently released by Alabama's Planning and Industrial Development Board are interesting we think and deserve a review.

Industry-wise Alabama appears to be in a very favorable position. A new publication issued by the board under Director Leland Jones, points out that this state has next to the lowest per capita taxes of any state in the nation, only Arkansas being lower. In the property tax category Alabama is lowest, 72 per cent less than the national average.

The brochure also emphasizes the fact that Alabama levies less on corporations than nine other Southern states. The publication shows a hypothetical corporation paying annual taxes amounting to $24,289 in Alabama and in North Carolina $63,808. Only Louisiana was shown lower than Alabama with $22,191.

And so according to reports from the state's able industrial development staff Alabama should really go places.

Actually Alabama is enjoying phenomenal industrial growth and expansion, this year being considerably ahead of 1958.

With industry looking southward Alabama's opportunities are greater than ever. The Tennessee Valley is in a particularly favorable position.

Sparkman Points Out Opportunities

Small Business Can Profit From Federal Legislation Senator Says

Ways in which small firms can take advantage of loan opportunities growing out of the establishment of small business investment companies were described by Senator John Sparkman (D-Ala.) on Alabama radio stations last week-end.

"The small business investment company can help stimulate small firm growth, expansion, or establishment in one of two ways, the Senate Small Business Committee Chairman said. "It can purchase small company debentures which are convertible into stock of the small company; or it can make long-term loans to such small companies."

"This type financing can be for any normal business purpose, including operating capital, which is often in such short supply, or debt adjustment or retirement," he stated.

Sparkman's comments are being made as the last of a series of three talks on how Alabamians can take advantage of federal legislation in effort to stimulate the industrial growth of the State. In two previous talks Sparkman cited the Small Business Loan Act, which provides operating capital for qualified small firms, and the Local Industrial Development Loan Act, which seeks to help communities attract industries. He said that these two acts and the Small Business Investment Company Act could do a great deal to build Alabama's industry.

The launching vehicle will be a Thor-Able rocket.

Sketches From Life

By FRANCES HALL

JOHN F. GORDON

"Efficient and accomodating and a staunch friend are the words that best describe John Gordon" is the phrase used by one who has known him for years when asked to describe Mr. Gordon.

John F. Gordon, throughout his years as Master Mechanic with the U. S. Engineers and the Tennessee Valley Authority, was recognized and repeatedly cited for the efficient manner in which he supervised the great work that was done under his direction. He was appreciated to a degree that approached reverence by the men who worked under him because they knew, in all matters, he would be fair and completely square with them.

Mr. Gordon was born in Decatur, the son of John W. and Anna Eliza Gordon. The family later moved to South Carolina where, in 1914, he was married to Anna English. They have one daughter, Irene, the wife of John H. Hutchinson, and three grandchildren, Ann, Ruth and Jean. Mrs. Gordon died in 1957.

Before coming to Florence some 40 years ago, Mr. Gordon lived and worked with a concern in Elizabeth, New Jersey. The company for which he worked sent him to the Muscle Shoals area as Master Mechanic of the Air Nitrate Plant No. 1 closed in 1919 after World War I. Mr. Gordon was placed in charge of the "stand by" condition of all equipment at the plant.

Upon the creation of the Tennessee Valley Authority, he became Supervisor of Maintenance, a position he held until he retired in 1945.

John Gordon presently serves as Secretary-Treasurer of the Florence Exchange Club, an office he has held for many years. As a member of an Exchange Club committee, he aided in the organization of the Lauderdale County Humane Society, of which he has since been treasurer. Its acceptance by the city of Florence as the official service agency to meet the problem of stray animals has proved a most valuable contribution to the city.

His efficient handling of the business of the Exchange Club has brought about National recognition of the local club for its sound business practices.

Mr. Gordon is a Spanish-American War veteran, past commander of Joe Wheeler Camp, past treasurer of the Auxiliary, and during his service with the U. S. Navy, was a crew member aboard one of seven vessels which held the world's record in time required to pass through the Suez Canal.

Conservation Official To Request Board Hearing

Recently Fired Division Head Says He Is Innocent Of Charges

Graham Hixon, a veteran of more than 33 years in the Conservation Department of Alabama, who was fired recently, says he is innocent of all charges and has demanded a hearing by the State Personnel Board. Hixon has been a division head in the department since 1939.

Hixon declared Tuesday in a formal charge that it had been the "avowed purpose" of Governor Patterson to force him from office.

When Hixon was dismissed last week Conservation Director William C. Younger listed more than a dozen charges against him including attempted bribery. Hixon has denied the charges and asks not only for a hearing but that he be cleared and reinstated.

Hixon's formal request reads in part:

"The appellant avers that he has been unfairly dismissed. He declares also that on the day the governor took office, it was his avowed purpose to force him to terminate his long service with the department.

"The appellant avers that the director of conservation through out his tenure in office sought to harass and embarrass him, the purpose being to cause the appellant to resign."

"Appellant avers that when he did not resign the director sent him a letter of dismissal, the charges of which are really without merit, etc . . ."

Hixon maintained in his request that he had attended the duties of his office in the proper manner and "for the benefit of all the people of Alabama."

It was expected that hearings of Hixon's case will be set for sometime after the Christmas holidays. Hixon has been in the Conservation Department for over 33 years, serving as head of game, fish and seafoods division for most of that time, it was stated.

Big Crowd Sees Coffee Victorious

On Thanksgiving Day, before an estimated crowd of some 7,000 fans, the Coffee Yellow Jackets climaxed their second straight successful season with a 6-0 victory over the Sheffield Bulldogs at Sheffield Stadium.

Coffee finished off the season with a record of 9-1, its third Tennessee Valley Conference championship and the second straight Tri-Cities Championship. Last year's score was identical with this year's score.

The victors made the winning touchdown in the first quarter and held onto it with a strong defense the rest of the way.

The Turkey Day scoring march was a 54 yard push in 11 plays by the Jackets the first time they had possession of the ball. The big play was a fourth down pass that first down at Sheffield's eight yardline. After four plays, Quarterback Newt Pitts pushed into the end zone for the TD.

Sheffield finished the season with a 7-3 record, which was one victory better than last outing. In Grant's two years, the Jacket's have 17 triumphs in 20 efforts.

Taylor-Webb Vows Said

In Central Baptist Church
At half past seven o'clock on Friday evening, November twenty-seventh, Miss Nancy Fay Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Taylor of Corinth, Mississippi, became the bride of James Burt Webb in Central Baptist Church of Florence.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Webb of Florence.
The Reverend M. L. Butler, pastor of the church, read the vows following appropriate selections presented by Mrs. Robert Gilmore, organist, and Mrs. Glyn Swallows, Mrs. Gene Gooch and Mrs. James Butler, vocalists.

Magnolia foliage and gilded ivy fashioned the altar background and arrangements of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums were flanked by branched candelabra holding white and yellow tapers to complete the nuptial setting.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of Chantilly lace over satin was designed with a molded bodice and voluminous skirt of tiered lace and tulle posed over period hoops. A Sabrina neckline and long sleeves which came to points over the hands were other distinguishing features. Her fingertip-length veil of silk illusion was caught to a crown of seed pearls and a cluster of feathered carnations marked her white Bible.

Mrs. C. J. Robertson of Jackson, Mississippi, served the bride as matron of honor and other attendants were Mrs. Elmer Martin, Jr., Mrs. Benjamin Ferguson, Miss Janice Jones and Miss Dean Richey. Their taffeta frocks of copper-colored brocade were detailed with Italian necklines, elbow-length sleeves and very full skirts. Burnt orange cummerbunds extended into floating back panels and their headresses were flat bows of copper taffeta. They carried nosegays of bronze chrysanthemums and pompons.

Lynn Bennett and Beth Flippo wore frocks of shrimp taffeta and carried matching baskets to serve as flower girls.

J. T. Webb was best man for his son and ushers were James L. Taylor of Lafayette, La., Melvin Butler of Tuscaloosa, Neil Flippo of Decatur and James Jones of Florence.

Mrs. Taylor, mother of the bride, wore printed jersey with moss green velvet trim and Mrs. Webb, the bridegroom's mother, was in a spice brown wool crepe model. Accessories to match their gowns and bronze cymbidium orchid corsages completed their attire.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. Keith Gardner and Mrs. Gilbert Rhoades of Corinth, Mrs. Harold Mock, Miss Winnie Bowman, Miss Jean Tipton, Miss Wanda Nichols, Mrs. Charles Hubert, Mrs. Charles Murphy, Mrs. E. F. Martin, Mrs. Glyn Swallows, Mrs. M. L. Butler and Mrs. Ralph Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb will be at home at 785 Dixie Avenue, Florence.

Early Evening Ceremony

Marks Tirey-Murphy Vows
Solemnized in the chapel of First Methodist Church of Florence was the marriage on Wednesday, November twenty-fifth, of Sara Faye Tirey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Tirey, and Kenneth Lee Murphy, son of Mrs. Doyal Lee Murphy and the late Mr. Murphy, all of Florence.

Joe Johnson, minister of Salem Church of Christ, read the six o'clock vows after appropriate nuptial selections presented by J. B. Webb, pianist.

A gold cross centered the altar background and basket arrangements of white blossoms were interspersed with ivy-entwined candelabra of burning white tapers as altar decoration. Miss Mary Weed of Birmingham, cousin of the bride, was candlelighter.

Mr. Tirey gave his daughter in marriage. For the occasion she chose a gown of white Chantilly lace over bridal taffeta designed with a close-fitting bodice, rounded neckline and long sleeves that came to points over the hands. The very full, waltz-length skirt was detailed with a wide satin bow and hemline streamers from the back waistline. Her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls and with her white Bible she carried a single white orchid encircled by feathered carnations and a pouf of net.

Wearing a sheath of gold-colored wool, Mrs. J. G. Stewart was her sister's only attendant. A matching headband with tiny veil and a nosegay of bronze and yellow enhanced her attire.

James Mize of Tusculum served the bridegroom as best man and Marshall Goode, as usher.

Mrs. Tirey, mother of the bride, was in pink lace and Mrs. Murphy, the bridegroom's mother, wore a model of Dior blue. A white carnation corsage was at the shoulder of each.

Leaving later for their wedding trip to the Smokies, the bride was wearing a suit of grey wool with a pink feathered hat and the orchid from her bouquet at her shoulder. Now returned, they are at home at 201 East Tusculum St.

Mrs. Hal Kernaachan left Wednesday for Alexandria, Va., where she will spend the winter months with her sisters, Miss Edna Bates and Mrs. Warren Powell.

Mrs. Donald Trowbridge was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Ezell, in Nesbit, Miss., during the past weekend.

THE SPILLWAY

SOME FOLKS LOVE this . . . and others that . . .
And some love not at all . . .
But most of us will doff our hat
To PARTIES . . . large or small . . .

IF THERE'S ANYTHING more fun than an occasional bit of socializing . . . we haven't the slightest idea what it could be . . . And some of the very nicest windings are coming close on each other's heels to herald the approaching holiday season . . .

SLIGHTLY IN advance . . . the first was a pre-game affair of Saturday which took place in Birmingham . . . 'Twas in honor of Nonnie Halton and 'twas a simply elegant birthday party (with elegant appointments) maneuvered by her good friends . . . Aline and (Doctor) John Rice and Catherine and Bob Cox . . . Martha Neal and (Doctor) Tut Norvell and Freddie and Karl Tyree . . . MUCH fun is reported . . .

"COME OUT FOR a cup of coffee" can mean a variety of things . . . But when the invitation is from Edithen Speake . . . it IN-VARIABLELY means a delightful experience . . . as was the case on Monday morning when her lovely mother Allie Orr London of Athens was the guest of honor and her charming daughter-in-law . . . Ann Hall . . . was her able assistant . . . About twenty-five guests were present . . . lovely party setting . . . VERY delightful . . .

FLORENCE GOLF and Country Club was a "Blue Heaven" on Tuesday when a trio of party-givers par excellence entertained in the midst of a beautiful holiday setting . . . The party was a dessert bridge and the table and seventeen smaller tables were centered with exquisite motifs which we learned were hand-made by our hostesses-of-the-day . . . Martha Kelley and Edith Meeks and Amy Stockard . . . 'Twas EVER-SO Christmas-y . . .

ANOTHER PRETTY affair . . . and also in a charming and beautiful setting . . . was the tea of yesterday afternoon hosted by Reba Blouin and Joyce Thrasher at Reba's home on Sorrento Road . . . where young-marrieds gathered in groups between the hours of two-thirty and five-thirty . . .

A BEST-BIB-AND-TUCKER affair will be tomorrow night's Dinner Club dance . . . which is scheduled for seven o'clock at the Country Club . . . after numerous spur-of-the-moment pre-party gatherings in homes here and there is the Club's choice of music-makers for the occasion . . . Virginia Robbins will be tickling the ivories . . . with her accompanying group . . .

A WHIRL of activity consumed Katherine MacDougall's weeklong visit with (her mom) Willie McFarland . . . Small-ish get-togethers here and there included an hour of visiting with Barbara and (Doctor) Johnny Brown at their home on Prospect Street on Sunday evening before going to dinner at the Country Club with a congenial group . . . A day in Birmingham on Monday (Katherine was accompanied by Sue Watts) for a glimpse of longtime friend . . . Jane Meade Earle . . . and an overnight stay in the Cherokee home of Sue and Wilder that night . . . Thanksgiving dinner with Ann and Dick Smith . . . and many another pleasant moment was crowded into the all-too-short stay . . . She's leaving for her Kansas City home today . . .

PLANNING A CHRISTMAS away from home . . . Pat and Fritz Kosack have set their eyes toward Parkridge, New Jersey . . . with (we betcha) skiing at a Catskill slalom in mind . . . Marguerite and Emerson Lucas have plane reservations for the seventh . . . and expect to spend the holidays with (their daughter) Nancy and Lee Kirk and chillun . . . Cindy and Carter . . . in Summit, New Jersey . . .

Louisa Jones will arrive from Richmond on the seventeenth . . . and will be with (her mom and grandmom) Louise Jones and Elizabeth Sewell until the day after Christmas . . . when she'll be on her way again (this time to a conference in Athens, Ohio) . . .

AND SPEAKING of the Lee Kirks (as we just were) . . . our reporter from afar brings news that they tripped back to Washington (from whence they so recently moved) for the Thanksgiving weekend where they were with longtime-friends-from-Florence . . . Annie (Harlan) Calhoun and Martie (Ezell) Robertson and Julia (Brock) Maley . . . and (their hubbies) Billy and Brooks and Austin . . . Many interesting details marked their stay . . .

'Twas A HAPPY Thanksgiving Day for Rachel and (Judge) Bob Hill and Mary and Mack Towles . . . whose first grandchild . . . Karen Towles Hill . . . arrived on the twenty-sixth in Raleigh, N. C., where Karen's mom and dad . . . Sylvia (Towles) and Fitz Hill are at home during college months . . . AND out at ECM on the twenty-seventh . . . Mary Cats (Doss) and Bob Hyde welcomed their third child (second daughter) . . . Pamela . . . ALSO a little late for Turkey Day was the arrival of Kelly Marleta Montgomery . . . who was welcomed on the twenty-seventh with open arms by (Mom and Dad) Martha (Haddock) and Fred . . . proud as punch "grands" are Leta and Earl Haddock and Wilhelmina and Ernest Montgomery of nearby Central Heights and Cloverdale . . . Madam doffs her velvet topper . . .

AND NOW . . . CHEERIO and goodby . . . until more news comes through The Spillway . . .

When selecting fresh pork, look for meat that is light, grayish-pink in color. It should be fine textured, smooth and velvety, and intermingled with flecks of fat. The outside fat on pork cuts should be white and firm.

Milk is homogenized by a mechanical process that breaks up fat into small particles and distributes them throughout the milk. Cream does not form in homogenized milk because the fat particles do not rise to the top.

Educational TV To Aid Literacy

Lessons To Be Received Three Times Weekly Via Muscle Shoals Cable

Sam Israel, president of the Muscle Shoals Literacy Movement, announced Sunday that teaching literacy by television will become a reality in January, as he made a strong appeal for volunteer workers, teachers, recruiters, anyone who can give one day, a few days or regular time in helping those who cannot read or write.

With the aid of educational TV and the cooperation of the public, many more will be taught by television. The lessons will be received via the Muscle Shoals Cable on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings in classrooms where volunteer teachers will assist the students. It is planned to have these classes in strategically located centers equipped with TV sets, blackboards, etc. Each class will accommodate 15 to 20 students and will have two or three teachers per class.

Workshops for training the volunteer teachers began this week. Only six hours is required to learn teaching for TV. Help is needed in enrolling teachers for the six hour course and also for enrolling students.

Sparkman Lauds Redstone Set Up

Valley And State Feel Effects Of Big Payroll At Huntsville Project

"Huntsville is indeed Alabama's second Magic City," Senator John Sparkman, a resident of Huntsville himself, observed in an announcement through his Washington office last month.

"In 1899 there were only 300 people in Huntsville and by 1940 the population was 13,000," Sparkman stated. "Today the population is around 70,000, with 100,000 anticipated by 1975."

"Rocket City, U.S.A., is on the threshold of new discoveries, new horizons, and a new era of economic growth that will be felt throughout Alabama," Sparkman said.

"As of today the future of Redstone Arsenal appears to be secure," he noted. "The recent entry of NASA, a civilian space agency, into the Redstone Arsenal set-up strengthens Redstone's chances for future growth, simultaneously strengthening the economic future of Alabama."

"Redstone officials have already stated that the approximately 22,000 jobs at Redstone are safe," Sparkman stated.

"The whole northern part of the State is booming because of the activities at Redstone," he said.

"Such booming center of activity is bound to have far-reaching economic effects on the whole State," Sparkman stated. "Redstone Arsenal's annual payroll is $100 million and about $15 million is paid annually to construction contractors. The effect of this $115 million-dollar annual outlay is felt statewide."

Telephone Talk

by
FORREST W. BRICE
Your Telephone Manager

HURRY CHRISTMAS! Well, will it be merry—or hurry—around your house? Why not make it merry by leaving a lot of holiday duties up to your telephone! For instance, why not use your phone to order gifts, to shop for just about anything you need during the holidays. Ring up the bakery, the florist, the grocer from your easy chair! Don't forget the phone's a quick and cheery way to invite people to parties. And with Long Distance, you've got the fastest way possible to make plans, greet old friends, and visit the folks who can't get home for the holidays. So, use your telephone—"for all it's worth"—at Christmas time, all the time!

ALL TIED UP—isn't that usually Dad's fate at Christmas time? And if it isn't ties, it's socks or shirts or handkerchiefs. This Christmas why not gang up on the old boy and give him something to really put a gleam in his eye—his own personal extension phone! Can be installed anywhere he likes to relax in private. Of course, Dad's not the only one who'd get a bang out of an extension phone. Sis or Brother or Mother or Grandmother—just about everyone would love the convenience and pleasure of an extension phone. Colors to suit everyone, too. Just call our Business Office and say the word—we'll be glad to handle all the details.

TUNE IN on Sunday, December 6 for a repeat telecast of Bell Telephone's Science Series program, "Gateways to the Mind." I'm sure you'll enjoy this stimulating show, so watch for time and channel in your newspaper.

FROGLIKE—Resembling a frog straddling a bus, this is a model of the proposed British Westland helicopter. Designed to provide a three-way lift, the odd whirlybird can be used as a serial crane, short-haul transport or carrier for utility pods.

Central will play their first basketball game here December 3, with Leighton.

State 140 Years Old Next Week

The State of Alabama will be 140 years old next week, and Governor John Patterson will mark the historic occasion by proclaiming the week beginning Monday as Alabama Statehood Week.

Said the governor in his proclamation:

"I call upon all the people of Alabama to join in giving thanks for their heritage as Alabamians and to observe the week with appropriate ceremonies given to the purpose of recounting the glorious history of their state and preserving the principles upon which it was established."

A special program is planned in Montgomery Dec. 14, the state's birthday.

Bible Comment: God's Kingdom Lies Within Each One of Us

Where is the kingdom of God? Men have been speculating on this question for centuries. For what seems the most clear answer we can go directly to the words of Jesus.

"My kingdom is not of this world," He said. If we thought of the realm of God as a kingdom in the literal sense, we would be unwise.

Other words of Jesus, "The kingdom is within you," seems to carry the meaning that this kingdom rests inside the souls of men.

To believe in the kingdom of God is to accept the authority of Him, and to find the power of the Holy Spirit. His kingdom is the rule of God in the heart and life.

John made it plain that it was not of this world, but rather a kingdom essentially within our intellect, having to do with motives, ideals and aspirations of men and with moral and spiritual values very different from those normally associated with earthly kingdoms.

In the Lord's Prayer, we say, "Thy kingdom come." Here, we are praying that we will be granted the coming of the kingdom and its consummation in heaven.

This kingdom is not delimited by political boundaries or trade barriers, but is infinite—as infinite as the human soul and God's love for his mortal creatures.

Our sympathy is with the Gist family in the death of Jim Gist. He was 87 years of age and was a life-long respected citizen of this community.

It's everybody's job!

BRINGING NEW INDUSTRIES to a community and keeping them happy after they get there is everybody's job. No one man or organization can do it alone.

Community leaders help by initiating and carrying out long-range civic policies and programs attractive to industry. Owners and managers of existing plants help by welcoming industrial newcomers and making them feel at home. Men and women workers help by showing their willingness to do a full day's work for a fair day's pay.

Yes, and Southern Railway helps, too! Southern's Industrial Development Department constantly seeks new industries for available plant sites. Throughout the year, our national advertising urges industrialists to "Look South" for new and greater opportunities. And we do our best to provide an ever-better, low-cost mass transportation service, so vital to the modern industrial South.

All of this effort helps all of us. For a community's economic growth does more than provide new and bigger job opportunities. It quickly spreads out in all directions to benefit men and women in almost every type of service, trade and profession.

FIRST NIGHT AT REFORM SCHOOL

What do you think of that first night at Reform School?

. . . of the world outside, dark and crisp, and the guys who hang around the drug store!

. . . of kids and cops, laws and judges, courtrooms and cells . . . the morbid adventures of the last jarring month.

. . . of the home from which you came . . . and what it might have been!

And you think of God . . . of days when church bells rang . . . and other kids went to Sunday School . . . and you had to be quiet so you didn't wake your parents!

. . . of times when you might have prayed . . . but you didn't know how . . . and no one around you seemed to care!

. . . of questions you once asked about God . . . but Dad was busy, and Mom hadn't time to explain.

The first night in Reform School — what a tragic place for a boy to be confronted with those vital spiritual issues which wise parents should have faced in their children's infancy.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Plastic Pipe For Watering Cows

Since a good dairy cow may drink as much as 18 gallons of water a day, you could have a tough job hauling enough water for a herd.

The easiest way is to pipe water to the cows, says Auburn Extension Engineer Bill Cox, but piping has been rather expensive. However, plastic pipe is now available, and it provides a convenient and economical way to get water to the dairy herd.

Cox recommends plowing a furrow from the yard water supply line to the pasture. Then lay the pipe in the furrow, connect it to the supply, and turn the dirt back over it. The pipe will stay cool and it can easily be taken up if necessary.

Chlordane Will Check Millepedes

Millepedes, tiny wire-like worms with many legs, like warm surroundings when cold weather comes.

And these warm places are usually homes, points out Auburn University Entomologist Walter Grimes. Millepedes live underground and feed on decaying vegetation, said the Extension worker. But they are attracted by house lights and can penetrate through any small openings such as cracks around windows and doors. Although the tiny worms will not bite, sting, or attack household furnishings, they may eject a fluid that stains fabrics and has an offensive odor.

According to Grimes, millepedes can be effectively kept out of the house by placing a barrier of 10 percent chlordane dust around the foundation walls. If these pests become a problem inside the home, apply the chlordane directly to the infested areas.

What Is Ahead For Hog Raisers

Alabama-produced hogs are preferred by local slaughterers and meat processors, but only if they can get the type, quality, and volume needed to supply consumer demands.

"We should continue to have a strong local demand for high quality, top hogs in 1960," reports Ray Cavender, Auburn hog marketing specialist. "However, competition, modest prices, and the possibility of even more hogs are part of a rather cloudy forecast for the coming year."

But if you are planning to enter or expand your hog business, don't let this forecast dampen those plans, urges the specialist. In fact, he adds it may be a very good time to take advantage of the drop in the pork market and bring in animals that will add to herd quality.

The volume of hogs expected to reach market during 1960 will probably prevent prices from rising above the last three-year average ($17.27 per 100 weight), explains Cavender. But actual 1960 prices will depend on the effects that the present low price period may have had on reducing fall (1959) farrowings and may still have on spring (1960) farrowings. The strong summer market did not reach its usual high peak this year, adds Cavender. And this indicates that producers are doing a good job of spreading out farrowing and marketings. If producers continue to do this, it will eliminate the extreme market highs and lows so common in past years.

How To Protect Livestock Shown In New Booklet

Damaging effects of solar radiation on livestock and ways in which livestock can be protected from it are covered in a new booklet, "Cold Spots in the Sky," published by Reynolds Metals Company.

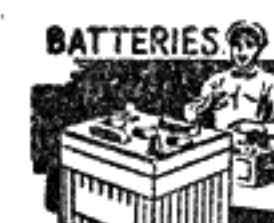

The booklet contains data compiled in agricultural college and farm experiments which tested the effectiveness of roofing materials in blocking solar radiant heat rays. The experiments indicate that, with other factors properly regulated, aluminum best protects livestock and thereby enables animals to gain more on less feed.

The booklet is available by writing to Reynolds Metals Company, Dept. PRD-16, Richmond 18, Va.

Disabled Farmers Can Get Benefits

If Social Security Has Been Paid Starting In 1955 One Is Eligible

Disability protection for many farmers came into effect on October 1, 1959.

"Those farmers in this area who are disabled and who have paid into the social security program starting with 1955 should get in touch with the Sheffield Social Security Office," Mrs. Mary King Temple, District Manager said.

To be eligible for disability benefits at age 50 or older or have a disability "freeze" if younger than 50, the farmer must have 5 years covered by the social security program. This qualification can be established by most self-employed farmers now disabled on October 1.

"Even though the disability tests can be met then, the law requires a waiting period of six months before any payments to farmers who qualify could be made in most cases no earlier than May of 1960 for April.

"The disability must prevent the farmer from further engaging in 'substantial gainful activity,' Mrs. Temple points out. This means simply that the disability must be severe enough to prevent the disabled person from doing any further work.

"The disability provisions of the social security law, of course, apply to persons other than farmers," Mrs. Temple explains, "but farmers without previous social security coverage had to wait until October 1 of this year to meet the work requirements of the program."

Auburn University Extension Dairyman Sam Jones explains that the number of calves needed each year to maintain herd numbers depends on herd management and health. Records from the Dairy Herd Improvement Association show that the average annual herd replacement rate is 20 percent. This percentage does not allow for cows sold for dairy purposes.

According to the dairyman, at least one-third as many heifers

Farmers May Be Losing Protection

"Some farm operators may be losing valuable social security protection because of misunderstanding," Mrs. Mary King Temple, District Manager of the Sheffield Social Security Office, reported today. "Some farmers have commented to us that they believed the filing of social security reports of farm earnings was optional in every case," Mrs. Temple said.

Self-employed farmers having net earnings of at least $400 in a taxable year are required to file social security reports and pay the social security tax. Only when a farmer's net earnings are less than $400 may he consider using the "optional method" of reporting to get social security credits. The "optional method" allows a farmer with gross farm income of at least $800 a year to report sufficient net earnings to receive some social security credits.

"We believe that some farmers with low earnings have missed getting social security protection because they were unaware of the 'optional method' for reporting," Mrs. Temple remarked. "Tax returns for the past three years can still be filed if gross income amount to $800 or more in each year. These social security credits may be needed to qualify for retirement benefits later on," she added.

Workers reaching retirement age this year need a minimum of four years social security coverage to qualify. Coverage requirements increase for persons reaching retirement age in the future.

are needed as there are cows in the herd since all calves that are born will not live, develop, or breed satisfactorily. When it is possible to make selections, dairymen should raise calves only from the best cow families. Jones advises selecting calves from the top 50 percent of the herd.

"When dairymen select good breeding stock and use better feeding methods to promote rapid growth, they can expect more profitable returns through earlier maturity and heavier milk production," points out the specialist. "But dairymen who buy replacements for their herds generally cannot expect to increase the production level of their herds much higher than the level of the herds from which the replacements were bought."

Apply wax in thin coats on linoleum, and let each coat dry thoroughly before you apply another. This helps to avoid accidents caused by slippery floors. Eggs are always in season.

Raise Calves To Replenish Herds

Improving the producing ability of the herd is the main interest of every dairyman.

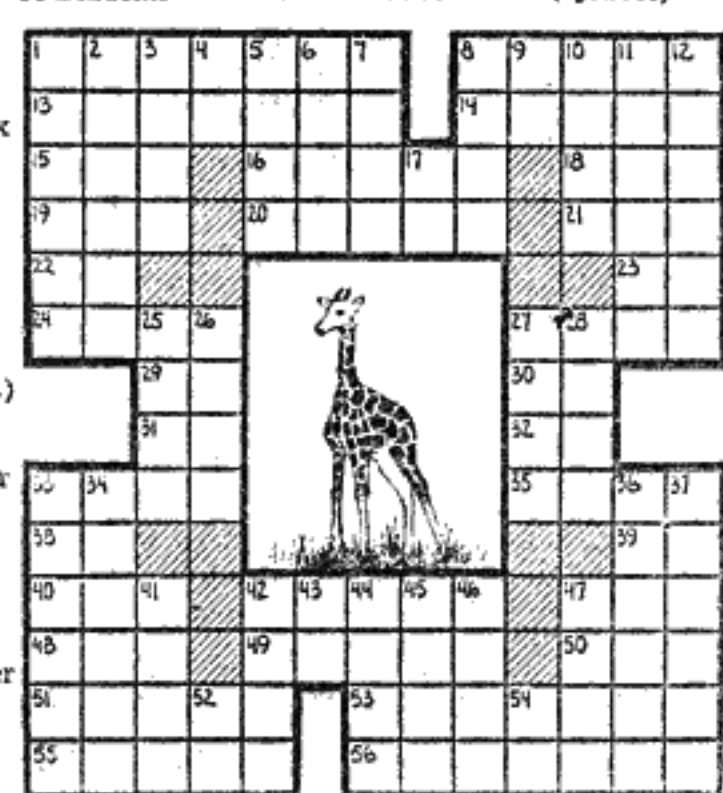

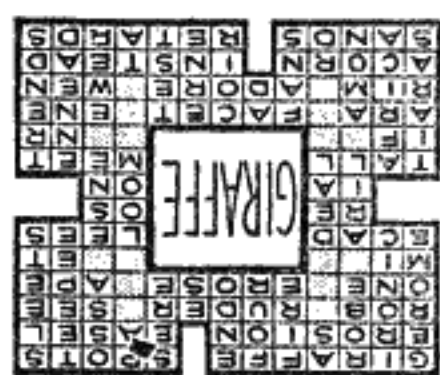

And the most certain way to do this is to breed the cows to sires of known high transmitting ability and to do a good job of raising the calves and heifers.
