

The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

For a long, long time he had geared his every act to the task of keeping up with the Joneses. He slaved from week to week with his eyes glued to that one goal. When he found that his gains were a little too small, his wife went to work to bring in added funds. Now he began to see real results, but the Joneses were still ahead and try as he did, he still could not keep up with them. At this time, his eldest son got a job and with the fruits of his labor he saw his goal in his grasp — and then the Joneses refinanced.

Psychiatrists say it's not good for a man to keep too much to himself. The Department of Internal Revenue says the same thing.

Senator E. B. Haltom, Jr., again is recognized by capitol reporters for his ability to stand on his feet and present his point of view. While in the House, our personable Senator received equal recognition. And it takes a good debater to be Governor of Alabama.

This weather is no time to practice open door policy but many youngsters insist on doing so.

It seems that law enforcement officials are beginning to believe there should be no hesitation to be firm with erring youths. With our court dockets being filled with wrong-doings of the late teen group, the community finds itself in the position of taking a definite stand — and let the chips fall where they may. A "soft teacher" despised by his pupils and so will a community be held in contempt by teenage gangs that find their "power" unchallenged. Many parents have already thrown up their hands. The community must now take charge.

We have just come to realize why Robin Hood robbed only the rich. The poor had no money.

It has been suggested that the designers of the new 1960 ladies' bathing suits, as now being shown in the fashion sheets, should be placed in charge of government budgets... then the budget would be stripped to its bare necessities.

Inflation is a state of affairs when you never had it so good or parted with it so fast.

"My wife is a human dynamo," said a local resident to the manager of a loan company, while seeking a loan. "She charges everything."

A wedding party was disturbed by the crying of a baby belonging to one of the women guests. One of the young ladies present remarked to a bridesmaid: "What a nuisance babies are at a wedding!" "I should say so," returned the bridesmaid, and added without due consideration, "when I send out invitation to my wedding, I shall have printed in one corner: 'No babies expected.'"

No matter how much you nurse a grudge, it won't get better, so says a successful politician.

A California scientist announces a far-reaching discovery. This learned gentleman announces that freezing a person will kill all disease germs his body may be harboring. It is also true, we understand, that decapitation will bring a permanent cure to dandruff.

A man who gives in when he is wrong, is wise; a man who gives in when he is right, is married.

For years the little fellow had watched his father take this kind of a tablet and then that kind of a pill although he appeared as strong as an ox and disgustingly healthy. One Sunday noon, out of a clear sky, the little fellow asked: "Dad, did Moses suffer from indigestion?" "I'm sure I don't know," snapped the old boy as he tapped his chest for a bit of relief. "Well, I think he must have had it, for our teacher told us at Sunday School this morning that God gave him two tablets."

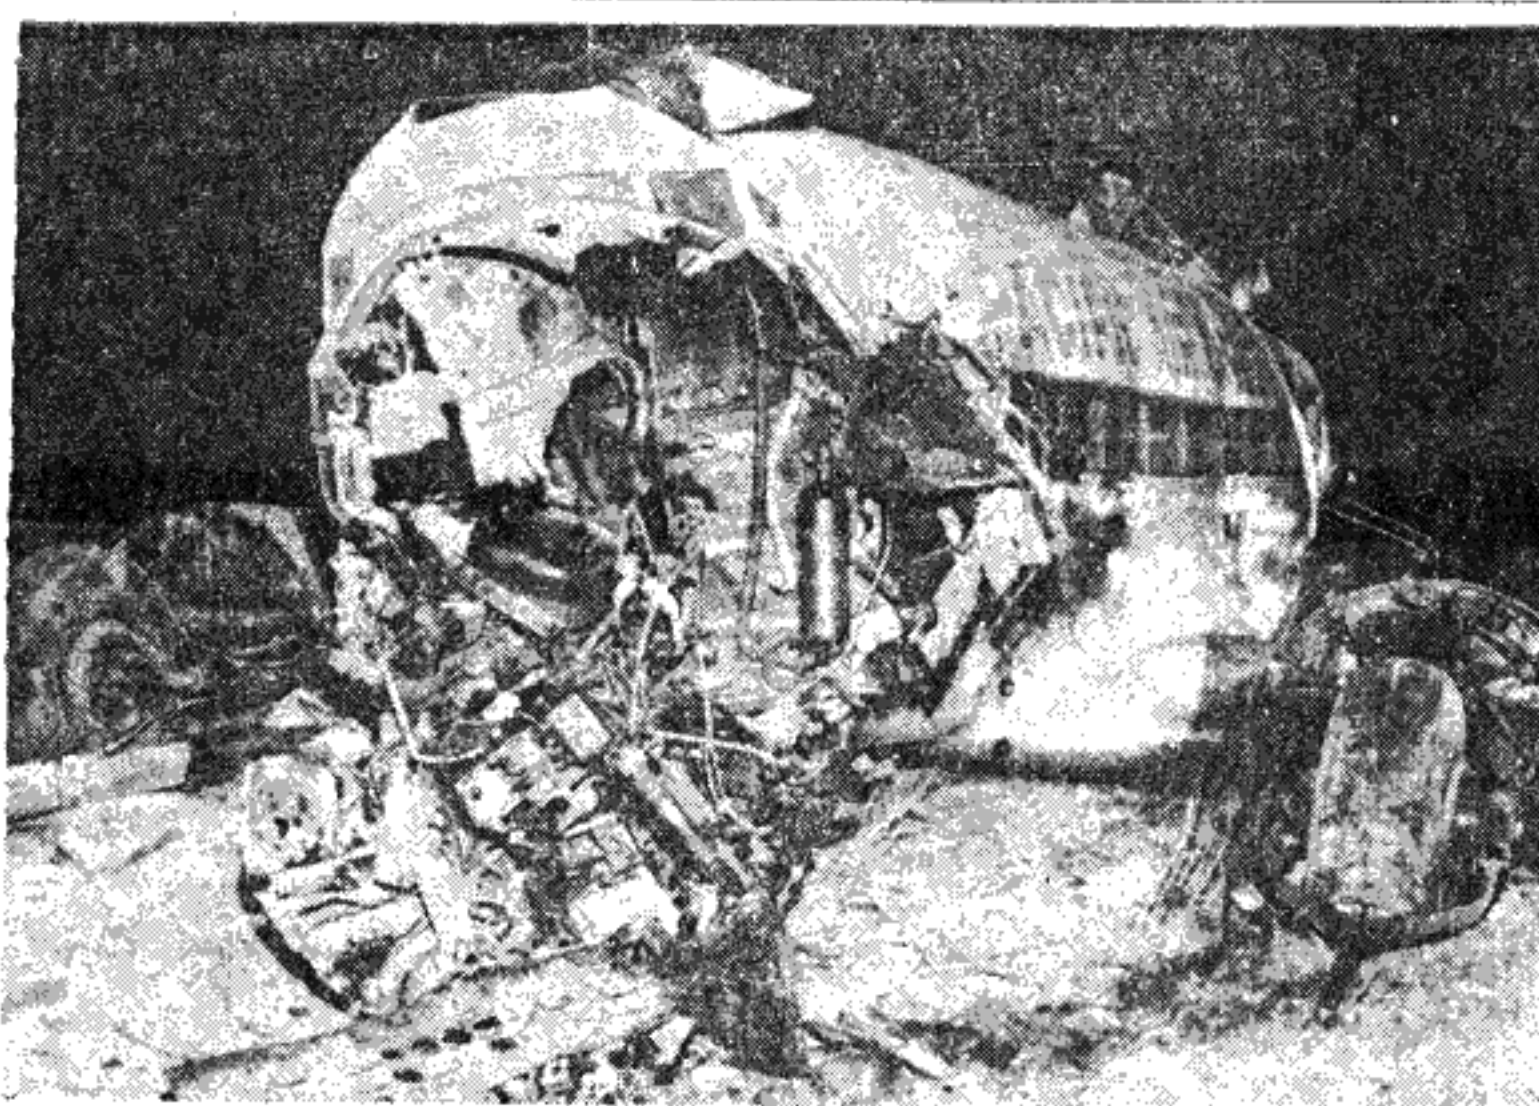

A poker playing friend of ours says that he had rather play poker with a poor loser any day than any kind of a winner.

Inflation can turn a lot of white collar positions into frayed collar jobs.

The man and his wife were in deep conversation. They discussed their past and planned for the few years that the future held. Finally, the wife said: "John, if I should die and you should marry again, promise me you'll never let your next wife wear my clothes." "Sure, I'll promise," said John, "besides they wouldn't fit her."

He's so conservative, someone observed, that he thinks nothing should be done for the first time.

The Tampa, Fla., city council refused to permit the construction of a nine-story apartment in a fashionable residential area after prospective neighbors said they didn't want anyone looking down on them.

Funds Are Approved For Urban Renewal Project

ECM-Burrell Area Will Be Cleared Of Sub-standard Homes By Program

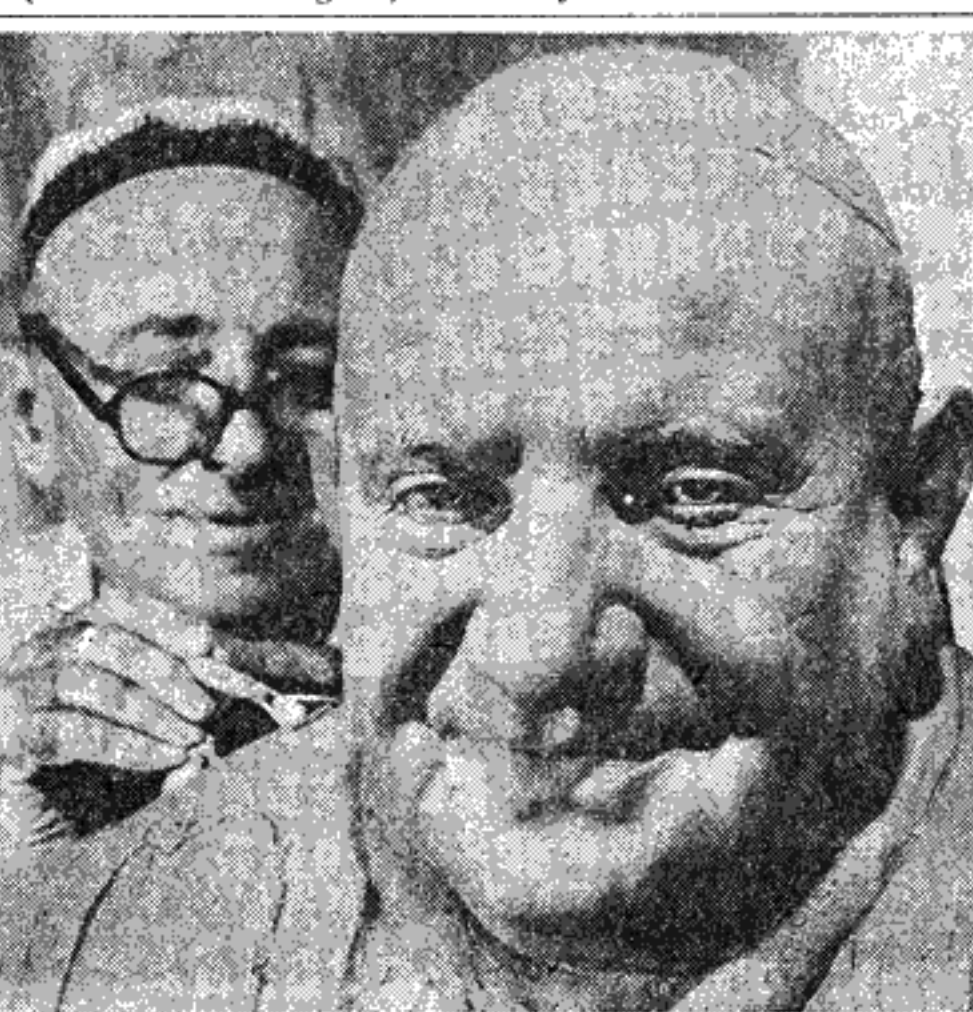

At the request of the Board of Governors of Eliza Coffee Memorial Hospital made to Karl Tyree, Jr., executive director of the Florence Housing Authority, at a special called meeting in the municipal building several weeks ago, the Florence City Commission then, and the Board of County Commissioners at its meeting on Monday, November 9, agreed to supply the necessary local funds to match federal funds for the urban renewal planned for the hospital and new Burrell-Slater school areas.

At that time, Mayor E. F. Martin and Commissioners George J. Green and Alvin E. Hall set aside $10,000 as the city's portion of the fund for the first year and, since necessary financing arrangements have been completed, Probate Judge Estes R. Flynt and the County Court of Commissioners are able to pledge the county's share of the fund. The county's action received the unanimous vote of Judge Flynt, L. C. Simmons, Dave W. Ticer, Corbett R. Smith and Ben Clemmons.

The city and county's participation will involve only the local cost for the portion lying south of College Street and the City Board of Education the portion of the project lying north of College Street. According to the Florence Housing Authority the ECM-Burrell project is bounded on the west by the east line of Marengo Street, on the east by the Burrell school property, and on the south by the hospital property line. Both City and County are participating jointly in providing local matching funds for the ECM Burrell Urban Renewal area over a three year period. Fifteen acres of land are to be cleared, 50 structures demolished and 50 families relocated in standard or improved dwelling units.

The Housing Authority has announced that the property south of College street would be deeded to the City of Florence and Lauderdale County at its fair appraised value and at its best re-use figure and the land north of College street deeded to the City of Florence and the Board of Education, the latter to complete the site for the erection of the new Negro high school to be constructed there.

It was stated that the Housing Authority plans a three-year Urban Renewal program to clear out the area beginning with initial planning to begin in January 1960. The houses to be acquired and torn away constitute a serious health problem. Specifically the Federal Government will pay two-thirds of the net cost of such a project, the

Late News

A proposal to invite former president Harry S. Truman to accompany him next month on his trip to three continents, is under advisement by President Eisenhower, a White House spokesman indicated Wednesday. Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.) suggested that the President make the 20,000 mile good will tour of 11 nations a bi-partisan affair. The Senator also mentioned Dean Acheson, Adlai Stevenson and Chester Bowles as likely prospects to make the trip.

It was announced by Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers Wednesday that the administration may ask Congress for a Federal anti-lynch law because of the failure of Mississippi state officials to obtain indictments in the Mack Charles Parker slaying. About this case of the young Negro in Poplarville last April, he said, "It was an flagrant and calculated miscarriage of justice as I've ever seen." He went on to say that the case may provoke the administration to demand new laws to permit the Federal government to intervene in such cases.

Most effective senator was Sen. Bob Kendall of Canebrake County and most effective representative was Pat Boyd of Pike County.

Outstanding freshmen — Sen. Will Caffey of Mobile and Rep. C. C. Torbert of Lee County. Hardest working — Sen. Larry Dumas of Jefferson County and Rep. Smith.

Best orator — Sen. Vaughan Hill Robinson of Montgomery and Rep. Bob Gilchrist of Morgan.

Newsman picked the administration's school tax program which will produce some 35 million dollars a year in additional revenue as the outstanding legislation enacted in 1959.

Certificate for the best lobbying during the session went to Birmingham Attorney Palmer Keith, who represented small loan companies.

Elks To Award Scholarships To 130 Best Students

Identical Awards To Be Made To Boys And Girls By National Foundation

It was announced Wednesday by R. M. Bliss, Exalted Ruler of Florence Elks Lodge No. 820, that a total of 130 college scholarships, valued at $100,000, will be awarded by the Elks National Foundation in the 1960 Most Valuable Student Competition.

The scholarships, ranging from $700.00 to $1,400, are intended to give the country's best students opportunity to develop their talents to the fullest. The Most Valuable Student Competition is open to high school seniors and college students below the grade of senior who are citizens of the United States.

Identical awards offered for boys and girls in separate competitions are: first, $1,400; second, $1,300; third, $1,200; fourth, $1,100; fifth, $1,000; five awards of $900 each; ten awards of $800 each; and 45 general awards of $700.

Winners will be announced at the Elks Grand Lodge Convention in Dallas in July of 1960. Applicants must have a scholarship average of 90 per cent or better and be in the upper five per cent of their class to qualify in the national finals.

Students in this area desiring to enter the competition may obtain application blanks and further details by contacting John E. Marshall, Secretary of Florence Lodge No. 820 at the Florence Elks Home.

In the 1959 competition from Florence Lodge, one entry was awarded $1,100.

"MR. MISS MARS HILL" SELECTED FOR 1959-60

It was announced in a special assembly of the entire student body at Mars Hill last week that Milton Sewell and Martha Jane Moore have been selected Mr. and Miss Mars Hill Bible School for the 1959-60 school year.

Milton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace J. Sewell of Florence, and is the president of this year's student body.

Martha Jane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Moore, Florence, and is the editor of this year's Mizpah, the school annual.

CENSUS TO COLLECT EMPLOYMENT INFORMATION

Information to be used in compiling national figures on employment and unemployment will be collected locally during the week in the Current Population Survey, it was announced today by Director Thomas W. McWhirter of the U.S. Census Bureau's regional office in Atlanta, Georgia.

Few portions of the nation have been spared from the cold wave that has created misery from the Rocky Mountains to the Appalachians. Chicago was one of at least 20 cities where records which stood as long as half a century went out of the window. The temperature was below zero at every reporting station in Minnesota and the Dakotas, and at least 11 Iowa cities posted new cold scores as the temperature dropped to 25 below in Drummond.

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers reports that the Justice Department will "do what it can to resolve" the matter of segregated schooling for children of military personnel at the Army's Redstone Missile center. At present, white children from the base attend a segregated school in Huntsville which receives major federal support. Negro children go to a general Negro school. Gov. John Patterson said last week that if such action were taken, it would be "the opening battle in an all-out war."

Two of the nation's most influential universities, Yale and Harvard, have withdrawn from the federal student loan program, which requires borrowers to sign a loyalty affidavit. Yale President A. Whitney Griswold said the affidavit "is contrary to the classic principles of our colleges and universities." Harvard President Nathan M. Pusey called it misguided, and an "affidavit of disbelief."

Federal Government Begins Its Battle With Racketeering In Labor Under New Rulings

All Unions Are Given Deadline To File Reports

Labor racketeers are being hit hard on all sides by all three branches of the Federal government—executive, judicial and legislative, — are leveling their big guns against corrupt elements in the unions. Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said the new labor law passed by Congress and administered by his department is already beginning to rid unions of undesirables.

Monday the Supreme Court refused to set aside lower court decisions arming the court-appointed monitors of the Teamsters Union with sweeping reform enforcement powers. Teamsters president James R. Hoffa said the union will "live up to the court's decision," adding that "it still may challenge individual reform orders."

Reporting on the first two months of the anti-corruption provisions of the labor law, Mitchell said some union officials with criminal or Communist backgrounds already have quit. He said nearly 100 complaints are under active investigation and some will be turned over to the Justice Department for prosecution.

Report Forms Available
The U.S. Labor Department announced in Birmingham this week that forms for the organizational report, required of all unions by the new Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act, are now available at the agency's local office at 1401 South 20th Street, Birmingham, Telephone No. FA 3-4646.

Mr. William R. Harper, Labor Department field officer for the Bureau of Labor-Management Reports, said that every labor organization must file such a report with the Secretary of Labor, to be postmarked no later than December 14.

He said the reports must include copies of the union constitutions and by-laws, plus information on initiation and other fees charged members. Also required is information on procedures used in establishing qualifications for membership, assessments, benefit plans, methods of dealing with financial questions, selection of officers, authorization for approval of collective bargaining demands, and operations of labor organizations. "These Labor Organization Report forms are available in a packet consisting of six copies, along with instructions," Harper said. "The original and one copy of the report form, together with attachments, must be sent to the Commissioner, Bureau of Labor-Management Reports, U.S. Department of Labor, Washington, D. C."

Farm Statistics Told In Census

The 1959 Census of Agriculture, now under way in Lauderdale County, will bring up to date farm statistics last collected in 1954, when the farm census revealed the following facts:

The value of products sold in 1954 by farm operators was $5,722,430.

The value of all crops sold was $4,217,910 and included $4,119,736 for field crops, $20,056 for vegetables, $49,286 for fruits and nuts, and $28,832 for horticultural specialties.

The value of all livestock and livestock products sold was $1,467,616 and included $425,085 for dairy products, $190,844 for poultry and poultry products, and $851,687 for livestock and livestock products.

The value of forest products sold from the county's farms was $36,904.

Annual Library Report Released

Over Four Thousand Books Added In Both Adult, Juvenile Sections

The Muscle Shoals Regional Library has released its annual report for the period from October 1, 1958 to September 30, 1959, giving the statistical information on book stock, circulation and registration.

The number of volumes contained in the library at the beginning of the period was 56,586, with 33,559 of these being classified in the adult section and 23,027 in the juvenile section.

The number of books added in both sections during the year was 4,094. Of these new books, 2,266 were purchased with library funds, 210 with state funds, 1,098 with Federal funds and 520 were presented to the library as gifts.

The total number of volumes listed at the end of the period, including those belonging to the library, T.V.A. and the State, amounted to 60,359.

Some 162 phonograph records were on hand at the beginning of the year. Twenty-three were added during the period making a total of 179 at the year's end.

In circulation, the Bookmobile had 444,334, with 409,989 of these borrowers being children. Florence led in city circulation with 130,844, 78,230 being adult borrowers and 52,614 being children.

The number of additional book borrowers registered at the Muscle Shoals Regional Library during the year are as follows:

Bookmobile 188
Florence 2,098
Leighton 214
Sheffield 1,307

A total of 418 borrowers were withdrawn and 1,114 were re-registered leaving some 30,360 borrowers registered for the period. Non-resident borrowers numbered 18 during the year.

Education On The March

Many people who come to the United States from other shores find that we do not take our education seriously enough. In other words we don't work at it. Our schools, especially our high schools and colleges are cluttered with extraneous activities that are utterly foreign to the educational processes for which our citizens are taxed.

Since the advent of the automobile into our school activities grades have suffered accordingly. More students are attending school, but more are falling by the wayside. Increased classroom and dormitory space is needed because our population is increasing, but more young people of college age are out of school than ever before.

It is encouraging that we are at last awakening to our educational needs and concrete steps are being taken to remedy some if not all of the deficiencies.

More opportunities are being made available for our young people to attend college and at the same time colleges are raising the level of their entrance requirements. This is as it should be since too many have obtained degrees in the past with glaring deficiencies especially in the fundamentals. It was found that literally thousands of our college graduates could neither spell nor read with any degree of proficiency.

Today we are witnessing a reappraisal of education on the lower levels, elementary and high school. Educators are looking at education objectively and because they are, ways will be found to improve the process.

Education in America is marching forward.

Too Much Taxation?

Many reliable economists maintain the government is blind to its opportunity for greater revenue by over taxation and this seems to be particularly true with respect to tax laws that prevent business and industry from laying aside adequate amounts to cover depreciation of plant and equipment. Overlooked apparently is the fact that cost of maintenance as well as production has gone up tremendously during the past few years.

Unless there is adequate money for covering depreciation of plants and equipment then technological progress is hampered and employment suffers. General economy suffers too, because the efficient and economical production of goods cannot be possible under such a tax system. Higher, not lower prices result.

Agriculture, now one of the nation's greatest and most important industries is in a position similar to that of industry. Uncle Sam rules that good and average farm buildings should be depreciated for tax purposes at 2 per cent per year and so-called cheap buildings at 2 1/2 per cent. Thus it would take a farmer two generations to write off farm buildings that would probably be gone in far less time unless adequately repaired or rebuilt entirely. Furthermore, with the modernization of agriculture farm buildings of today will be obsolete by tomorrow's standards. It is not realistic to say that farm buildings have a life of fifty years.

Farm buildings on the farms of the nation with $5000 or more gross income per year are said to be worth $16 billion. At 2 1/2 per cent per year depreciation this would be $400,000,000. In this day and age this is far too low a figure. It keeps farming in a strait jacket and prevents this basic industry from being able to set aside the needed funds for reinvesting in better and more modern equipment and buildings.

If 10 per cent were allowed the $1.6 billion for reinvestment in farm machinery would be immediately reflected in additional revenue for the government for two reasons. Farm income would increase and consumers of the nation would have the advantage of lower cost food and fiber... releasing money into other job-creating channels.

Congress, in writing farm legislation, should not overlook the importance of reasonable taxation. The farmer needs and deserves a break.

Forty-Two Lost In Plane Crash

The wreckage of a National Airlines DC 7B plane with 42 persons aboard was spotted Monday in the Gulf of Mexico 108 miles east-southwest of New Orleans. There were no signs of any survivors. Capt. Charles H. Ruby, Nation's chief pilot, flew from Miami and found the wreckage. The plane disappeared on a flight from Miami to New Orleans. An airlines spokesman said that last radio contact came when the plane was in vicinity of Chandelair Island, 45 miles due south of Biloxi, Miss.

In The Week's News

Contaminated Cranberries Seized

Formal court actions were filed last week in San Francisco asking seizure of two small ships of allegedly contaminated West Coast cranberries. Contamination was said to have resulted from a synthetic weed-killer which had not yet been registered with the Department of Agriculture. Since it was not known what effect if any the weed-killer would have on humans, growers agreed to keep the effected berries off the market.

Castro Facing Hard Times

Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro told the Cuban people Friday that his revolution faces difficult days. Castro, taking only a sideswipe at the United States, usually his favorite target, lashed out in a three-hour telecast at his enemies at home and called them "hypocrites who once posed as friends of the revolution." He predicted that the revolution would march on even if its enemies "try to mobilize God against us."

Famous Beer Baron Paroled

Roger Touhy, 61, a Chicago beer baron during the prohibition era, was granted a parole Friday and was free to leave prison. He has spent the last quarter century serving time under sentence for the 1933 kidnap of one-time confidence man John (Jake the Barber) Factor. Touhy has insisted that his conviction was a fluke and that he was put away on the basis of perjured testimony.

Space Committee Starts Surveys

The Senate Space Committee, headed by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, has started a series of on-the-spot surveys at military and civilian space installations. Johnson ordered the committee staff last month to analyze President Eisenhower's plan for transferring the Army's team of experts at Redstone to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. The preliminary inquiry will determine whether the committee would hold hearings before Congress reconvenes in January. No hearings have been scheduled and none are in prospect at present.

Hawaiian Volcano Erupts

A mass of boiling, bright orange molten lava, laced with dozens of fiery fountains, spewed forth Sunday from Kilauea volcano. This eruption was Hawaii's first since 1955, and sent a red-growing column of smoke billowing thousands of feet into the sky. Lava gushed from a 300-yard gash in the upper south wall of Kilauea Ika crater, spilling into the crater's 800-foot pit. There was no immediate danger to life and property. It was reported by seismologists.

Last Civil War Vet Has Birthday

Walter Williams, the last surviving veteran of the Civil War, observed his 117th birthday Sunday at his home in Houston, Texas by demanding coffee, scrambled eggs, and lots of people and music. Among the well-wishers was Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who also was celebrating a birthday. All the 10 surviving children attended the celebration, with an unestimated number of grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren also in attendance. An American Legion band was on hand to serenade Williams in the afternoon from the lawn.

Turkey Day Game To End '59 Season

Annual Classic Between Jackets And Bulldogs To Decide Local Champion

Only one contest remains in the 1959 high school football season, that being the annual Turkey Day clash between the Coffee Yellow Jackets and the Sheffield Bulldogs. This game should draw a capacity crowd to the Sheffield Stadium to witness perhaps the last Thanksgiving Day game between the two teams.

The outcome of this game will decide the TVC championship and the Tri-Cities title, plus a high finish in the state prep rankings awaiting Coffee.

Coffee now stands 8-1 for the year and 6-0 in Tennessee Valley Conference play. This excellent record is marred only by the beginning 7-6 defeat by Ramsey.

Sheffield stands 7-2 for the year. The Bulldogs took a 10-0 defeat from Decatur and then fell 6-0 to the Russellville Golden Tigers.

Both Sheffield and Coffee were victors over Desher, giving the Turkey Day winner the Tri-Cities title.

Honors also go to the Russellville Tigers, whose three defeats were from Haleyville, Coffee and Desher. Next in line come the Colbert Indians who ended with a 6-4 record.

Sharing the co-championship of the Northwest Alabama Conference, Central ended its finest year with a 7-3 mark. The defeats were at the hands of Russellville, Sheffield and Leighton.

Lexington, Hatton and Rogersville all were 3-7, while Rogers finished with its first club 1-6-1.

DR. JOHN R. WADDELL

"Dr. Waddell is not just a practicing physician, but to us in this area, he is a man of heart and sympathy... a man who has administered to the ill, to the downtrodden, to the needy and all those who have come to him for a start in life... he is our leading citizen," is the appraisal of one who has known him most of his lifetime.

His keen sense of sympathy and understanding for his fellowman is revealed in the countless numbers, both white and black, Dr. Waddell has helped, his life's history reveals.

He has contributed generously to things he considered worthwhile. He gave a large sum to the fund with which to rebuild the Lauderdale County High School, when it was destroyed by fire.

Dr. Waddell was born December 29, 1887, in Rogersville, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Waddell. Most of his life has been spent in Rogersville, where he attended elementary school.

Before entering Vanderbilt University medical school in 1911, he taught school in Rogersville for four years. To pay his way through Vanderbilt, Dr. Waddell sold Bibles during the summer months. He was graduated in 1915 and did his internship in a Nashville hospital.

On April 11, 1917, he was married to Mary Ola Ferreter. They have seven children, Charles Elston, of Detroit, Mich.; Mary Kathleen, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Leonard Calvin Leach, Gadsden; Mrs. Nevin Wagner, Charlotte, N. C.; Mrs. Richard Cobb and Mrs. Josie Flippen, both of Blackstone, Va.; and Dr. John R. Waddell, Jr., a practicing physician in Athens. The Waddells have 10 grandchildren.

During the 44 years Dr. Waddell has practiced medicine, he has delivered over 6,000 babies, all delivered in homes, with the exception of one—which was born in a field on a cotton sack!

A few years ago, as Dr. Waddell was on his way to see a patient, his car went out of control on a narrow bridge, left the roadway and landed upside down in the creek. Pinned inside the car, he remained in that position for some 45 minutes before some passers-by rescued him. After being brought to safety, Dr. Waddell's first thought concerned the patient he was enroute to see. He immediately sent a message for another doctor to fill his appointment.

For this unselfish display of courage, Dr. Waddell was presented, in April of 1953, a "Citation of Bravery" by the Woodmen of the World of Omaha, Neb., of which he has been a member for some 40 years.

Dr. Waddell was president of the East Lauderdale Banking Company for some 20 years and is presently a director of the bank. He is a charter member and past president of the Rogersville Civilian Club, which held its organizational meeting in the Waddell home in 1947.

Dr. Waddell's community spirit is matched only by his interest and devotion to his church. He gave the land on which the present Waddell Memorial Cumberland Presbyterian Church was built. He also provides the home for the pastor. He has been an elder of the church since he was eighteen years old, during which time he has been active in McGreedy Presbytery and the Alabama-Mississippi Synod. He has served on the denomination's Board of Missions and Evangelism.

Still actively engaged in his profession, the work of his church and giving unselfishly of his means, efforts and understanding, Dr. Waddell continues the recognized leader of his community.

Mars Hill Singing Draws 1,700 To Fill Coffee Auditorium

Mammoth Program At Coffee Auditorium Climax Of Lecture Series

Seventeen hundred attended the giant singing at the Coffee High School auditorium Thursday night, November 5, which was the final program and the climax of the Mars Hill Bible School lectures. The goal set for the singing was 1600 and it was exceeded by more than 100. In addition to the 1555 permanent seats, 100 additional chairs were placed in the auditorium and yet people were standing.

Ira North, professor of speech at David Lipscomb College, Nashville, Tennessee, presided on this occasion. Claude Lewis, vice president of Mars Hill Bible School, directed the entire audience in singing songs about the death, burial and resurrection of Christ. Otis Gatewood, president of North Central Christian College, Rochester, Michigan, delivered an inspirational speech on the importance of Christian education in sending the gospel to all the world.

Each person who attended was given a song book to be used that night and to be kept as a souvenir in memory of the thrilling occasion.

Ralph Snell, president of Mars Hill Bible School, spoke words of welcome. Lamar Plunkett, minister of the Pine Street Church of Christ, led the opening prayer and, after everyone had joined hands in singing at the close "Blest be the Tie that binds our hearts in Christian love," Lawrence Williams, principal of Mars Hill Bible School, led the closing prayer.

Plans and arrangements are being made for an even greater occasion to close the Mars Hill Lectures next year.

Lions Ready For Tilt With Vandy

Team Goes Through Workouts Before Big Game On Saturday

Florence State Lions have been working afternoons this week in preparation for the big tilt with Vandy Saturday, going through sessions of signal drills and running plays. Both offense as well as defense is being stressed by coaches Hal Self and George Weeks since the local gridderes must be ready to cope with a heavy ground attack by the Commodores. Aerial practice also came in for an important part of Lion preparation since a lot of passing is expected on Dudley Field.

The Lions also profited by reports on scouting and the showing of Vandy plays on film. They also saw a replay of their 22-8 victory over Austin Peay last Saturday.

Coach Art Guepe of the Commodores commented on Florence State's game with Middle Tennessee and called the Lions a "good small college team." The Commodore's workouts during the past several days have been with Tennessee in mind and the Lions will get about the same type of game Vandy will use against the Vols. Both the Lions and Vols primarily use the single wing offense.

A large crowd of local fans are expected to journey to Nashville Saturday to see Florence State's Lions in their first engagement with a top-ranking team.

Big Increase In Phones Predicted By Bell Company

Southern Bell statisticians predict that telephones in the Tri-Cities will number 42,335 by 1969. This will be a 57% increase over the present 26,912.

W. L. Ferguson and F. W. Brice, Sheffield and Florence managers for Southern Bell reveals that these figures are based on a study of past growth of this area and general trend of population increase. They said that local telephone growth is a good barometer of the overall expansion of industrial, business and residential areas.

"Our company makes these forecasts periodically in order that we can plan for the future growth of a city or community. Only in this way can telephone service be kept abreast of local communication needs."

Telephone growth in the Tri-Cities has been as follows:

1910	1,110
1920	2,061
1930	2,405
1940	4,330
1950	13,932
Today	26,912

Bank Of Lexington Deposits Increase

Largest Strictly Rural Bank In State Reports $3 Million On Deposit

The Bank of Lexington, the largest strictly rural bank in Alabama, today, in its condensed statement, announced that its resources have passed the $3,000,000 mark.

The Lauderdale county financial institution, long a leader in banking circles in this area, reports deposits of $2,810,984.00, undivided profits of $73,325.78 and capital and surplus totaling $120,000.00.

The Bank of Lexington was the first rural bank in this section of the state to register in the million dollar classification and later, in the $2,000,000 grouping. Now, as the area continues to grow, this institution apparently is keeping pace as revealed in its present statement. Serving a wide area, it features a "Bank by Mail" service.

Chas. P. McMeans is president; D. T. Wilcoxson, chairman of the board; B. A. Porter, cashier. Directors are Mr. McMeans, Mr. Wilcoxson, Mr. Porter, Neil G. Wilcoxson, William E. King, Eugene McMeans and Wallace H. Thompson.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing our appreciation to Rev. Tingley, the singers, for the beautiful flowers, for every token of sympathy, and for every act of kindness, shown us during the death of our husband and father. May the Lord richly bless each and everyone. Mrs. Robert Garner & children

Twilight Ceremony Marks Gibson-Wallace Nuptials

White cathedral tapers burned in branched candelabra to light the setting in Central Baptist Church when Carolyn Sue Gibson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lee Gibson of 720 Olive Street, exchanged vows with Billy Ray Wallace, son of Mrs. R. Leslie Hall of Florence and James Marion Wallace of Sheffield, on Saturday, November fourteenth.

John D. Cox, minister of Sherwood Avenue Church of Christ, and the Reverend Markle L. Butler of Central Baptist read the five o'clock vows.

Arrangements of white gladioli against a background of Southern smilax and Boston ferns barked the altar decorations and nuptial selections were presented by Mrs. James D. Wallace, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, organist, and Robert Sandlin, vocalist.

Mr. Gibson gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown of white Chantilly lace over bridal satin was edged with a fitted bodice detailed with a Sebrina neckline embroidered with sequins and seed pearls and long sleeves which came to points over the hands. The floor-length skirt, with satin cummerbund and bustle bow, was fashioned of lace tiers and worn over period hoops.

Her only ornaments was an heirloom pendant which was previously worn by her mother and her sisters in their own weddings and her bridal veil was a fingertip-length lace mantilla. She carried a white Bible marked with a white orchid and showered with stephanotis and white satin streamers.

Miss Joyce Millet of Florence was the bride's honor attendant and bridesmaids included Miss Kay Davidson, also of Florence, Miss Margaret Britton of Stevenson and Miss Martha Harris of Birmingham. Their floor-length dresses of gold satin were worn with hats fashioned of bronze fugii mums and gold net, and they carried bronze chrysanthemum muffs.

Lt. James Donald Wallace of Ft. Benning, Ga., served his brother as best man and ushers were Billy Dale Johnson and Harry T. Hall, both of Florence, and William Roscoe Benda of Auburn.

Mrs. Gibson, mother of the bride, was attired in a taupe peau de sole sheath with coat of matching lace and brown feathered hat. Mrs. Hall, mother of the bridegroom, wore a costume suit of soft blue wool with blue accessories. A carnation corsage complemented the attire of each.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Gibson were reception hosts at their home. Assisting were Mrs. Jesse Marsh Sandlin, sister of the bride, Mrs. Monte Sandlin, Mrs. Hollis Sockwell, Mrs. Shirley Holden, Mrs. John P. Kryszek, Miss Dorothy Davidson and Misses Elba and Edna Crowe.

Before leaving for their wedding trip, the bride changed to a green wool suit with fur-trimmed hat and matching fur muff. Her corsage was the orchid from her bouquet.

After a Southern honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace will be at home in Auburn where they will continue their courses at Auburn University.

Narmore-Lester Vows Said In Church Setting

Solemnized in Highland Park Church of Christ on Tuesday evening, November tenth, was the marriage of Martha Ann Narmore, daughter of Mrs. Reggie Pearson of Florence, Florence, Route Three, and the late John Curtis Narmore of Sheffield, and Henry Eugene Lester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Eugene Lester, also of Florence.

C. C. Burns, minister of the church, read the vows following nuptials selections presented by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Emerson and Mrs. Sue Edmonds, vocalists. Triple arches decorated with red roses and entwined with greenery were flanked by basket arrangements of white and red blossoms and branched candelabra of burning white tapers to mark the altar background.

Mr. Pearson gave his step-daughter in marriage. Her wedding gown of bridal satin was detailed with a close-fitting bodice and floor-length, full-gathered skirt and distinguishing features were the V neckline finished with appliques of Chantilly lace re-embroidered in sequins and the long sleeves which tapered to points over the hands.

A Juliet cap of pearl-encrusted lace held her veil of silk illusion and she carried a bouquet fashioned of red roses.

Wearing emerald green velvet frocks with matching headbands, Mrs. Buddy Warren and Miss Patti Street attended the bride as matron of honor and bridesmaid, respectively. Snug bodices, three-quarter sleeves and bouffant skirts were features of their attire and their cascade bouquets corresponded with the bride's roses.

Ray McGee served his cousin as best man and ushers were Jerry McGee, also a cousin, and Buddy Warren.

A gown of beige lace was Mrs. Pearson's choice for her daughter's wedding. She wore copper-colored accessories and Mrs. Lester, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in blue lace, matching feathered hat and black accessories. Red rose corsages were additional complements to their dress.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Pearson were reception hosts at their home.

For travel, the bride changed to a sheath of beige wool and red accessories with a cluster of the roses from her bouquet at her shoulder. After November thirtieth, Mr. and Mrs. Lester will be at home in San Diego, Calif.

LET THE HERALD PRINT IT.

The home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. William Turner Phillips, will be the scene of the December ninth nuptial event.

Florence Music Club Meets In 1st Methodist

Florence Music Study Club met on Saturday afternoon, November fourteenth, in the sanctuary of First Methodist Church where a program of Handel compositions was presented.

Mrs. Earle Darby was program leader and organ selections were by Mrs. George Jackson, Mrs. L. S. Doster and Walter Urban; vocal selections by Mrs. Clark Wilson, Mrs. Hugh Porter, Mrs. Richard Furman, and Mrs. Wendell Edwards. Accompanists were Alan Flowers and Walter Urban.

Mrs. T. E. Shotts gave a paper on the composer, George Friedrich Handel.

During the business meeting, opened by the reading of the Collect by Mrs. B. C. Luna, it was announced that the December meeting will be held in First Presbyterian Church and members are asked to watch their newspapers for further notice. This will be an open meeting and guests will be welcomed.

A letter from an official of Kilby prison was read, in which a request was made for donations of musical instruments for use in the Rehabilitation Program for the inmates of the prison. Those having an instrument, or records to donate are asked to contact Mrs. Cooper.

New members welcomed into the club were Mrs. J. E. McDonald, Jr., Mrs. Robert Trent, Mrs. Russell Goodwin, Mrs. J. E. Meeks, Mrs. Robert A. Wright and Alan Flowers. Guests included Mrs. Furman, Miss Agnes Frisbie, Mrs. J. H. Hall and Walter Urban.

Following the program, Mrs. E. C. Mullen presided at the testable in the church annex. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. E. F. Case, Mrs. J. D. Clement, Mrs. George Fogleman, Mrs. Charles Jackson, Mrs. Fred Portman and Mrs. Monte Sandlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Tyree and children, Buddy and Neilan, will leave on the 24th to spend Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. O'Connor, in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Dr. and Mrs. Earl Fraser and son, Mack, have returned from a weekend visit with their older son, Keith, a student at Davidson College, Davidson, N. C. Their daughter, Rachel, was a guest of the Floyd McCoy's during their absence.

Miss Carol Ann Waite To Wed Thomas Daugherty

Announcement has been made by Dr. and Mrs. William H. Waite of the approaching marriage of their daughter, Carol Ann, to Thomas Howard Daugherty, Lieutenant, United States Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harris Daugherty, all of Florence.

The bride-elect was graduated from Coffee High School and is now a senior student at Florence State College where she is majoring in home economics.

Her fiancé, also a Coffee High School graduate, received his degree in mechanical engineering at Auburn University where he was affiliated with Theta Xi, social fraternity. He is presently serving a tour of army duty at Ft. Belvoir, Va.

December nineteenth will be their nuptial day.

Mrs. Blackburn Hostess To Dogwood Garden Club

Resuming meeting after a summer recess, the Dogwood Garden Club was entertained by Mrs. A. E. Blackburn at her home in Killen on Monday evening, November ninth.

Mrs. Ralph Canter, president, presided during the business period, and partially formulated plans for a bazaar were discussed.

Mrs. Roy Taylor gave an interesting talk on landscaping, and dried arrangements, brought by members, were displayed.

The hostess was assisted in serving evening dainties by Mrs. L. E. Wright of Birmingham, her sister-in-law and houseguest.

Mrs. White Smith has returned to her home on Locust St., after a visit with her nephew, Ralph Moss, and Mrs. Moss, in Iuka, Miss.

Literary Club Meet In Homes Of Members

Mrs. W. W. Slaton and Mrs. T. M. Rogers were cohostesses to the last-Thursday meeting of DISCUSSION CLUB when members gathered at Mapleton, the Slaton home on South Pine Street.

Mrs. William Frost, guest speaker, retold Alexander Eliot's "Three Hundred Years of American Painting," wherein the author depicts American painting as, by raising to the challenge of change and progress, a running accompaniment to the nation's history.

Other guests were Mrs. Cloyd O. Beasley, Mrs. Hoyt M. Brock, Miss Myrtle Herring and Mrs. Douglass King (Helen Lake Bruce), here with Mr. King from their home in San Antonio, Texas.

Mrs. J. O. Dabney and Mrs. Morrison Paxton assisted the hostesses with tea and refreshments.

"The History of Christian Music" was the topic of the FIRENZE CLUB program on Thursday afternoon, November twelfth, when Mrs. J. S. Kernahan traced for her listeners the story of religious music from its beginning with Jubal, the first Hebrew singer, and continuing through the appearance of trained musicians during the time of Martin Luther to the first printing of the Bay Psalm Book and the first organ in America in 1713.

Mrs. John North, hostess at her home on South Cedar Street, presided in the absence of Mrs. Turner Allen, president. A business meeting preceded the program.

Mrs. White Smith will be hostess to the December tenth meeting at her home on Locust Street and Miss Julia Neal will be program chairman.

Guests at the Tuesday, November twelfth, meeting of TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB, in addition to members, were Mrs. W. O. Whitten, Mrs. C. M. Hardison and Mrs. W. S. Sedenquist.

Mrs. Fred W. Bitters, hostess for the afternoon, welcomed the group at The Town Club at half past three o'clock.

Mrs. Otis L. Peacock introduced Dr. Albert S. Johnston, chairman of the Department of English at Florence State College, who gave an interesting discourse on Sir William Davenant, English poet of the 17th century, which he had recently presented before the South Atlantic Modern Language Association.

Using Sir William's play, "The Platonic Lovers," as background material, Dr. Johnston traced the modern usage of the term "platonic love" to a misinterpretation of Plato's philosophy which began with early writers. Of interest was his first-edition copy of the play, published in 1636, and now a prized possession.

Mrs. C. M. Arehart and Miss Mary Rogers assisted Mrs. Bitters at a late afternoon tea hour.

Hostess on Tuesday, November tenth, to a meeting of BEREAN CLUB, Mrs. W. M. Sloan entertained at her home, 527 East Tombigbee St.

During the business period, plans were made for a Thanksgiving box to be sent to a needy family.

Mrs. James D. Beadle, president, was also program chairman and lead a panel discussion on the pastoral epistles, with all members taking part.

Morning refreshments were served to conclude the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Almon, formerly of Florence, have announced the arrival on Nov. 9th in Knoxville, Tenn., of their child, a son.

Lt. and Mrs. Ronald Meeks and little daughter, Nancy, of Ft. Campbell, Ky., have been guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gray Lovelace and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Meeks.

Among the Florentines attending the Alabama State Nurses Association convention in Tuscaloosa on Thursday-Saturday were Mrs. Edna DeLoach, Mrs. Lucy Rhodes and Mrs. Celeste Alexander.

Mrs. L. E. Wright has returned to her home in Birmingham, having been called by the illness and death of her mother, Mrs. Ella Blackburn of Killen. While here she was a guest of her brother, A. E. Blackburn, Mrs. Blackburn, and their family.

Among the Florentines in Birmingham on Saturday for the Bama Georgia Tech football classic were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Mims Rogers and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Simmons of Jasper, Karl T. Tyree, Jr., and Ed Colebeck.

In Atlanta this week for meetings of the Southern Medical Association are Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Jackson, 419 North Wood. They expect to return this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Shoemaker, 2417 Chisholm Road, are vacationing in Largo, Fla., where they expect to be at home after January 1.

Mr. and Mrs. George Van Sant and Dr. and Mrs. Fred McCallum were in Birmingham for the Saturday football game between UA and Georgia Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Binford of Birmingham were guests of her cousins, Mrs. Carl O. Walker and Miss Josephine Penney, at their home on West Tuscaloosa during the past weekend.

Mrs. McFarland MacDougall will arrive Monday for a holiday visit with her mother, Mrs. W. F. McFarland, Keller Hall.

Mrs. M. S. Stringer has returned from Birmingham where she attended the funeral of her brother-in-law, C. D. Schwine.

A recent guest of Mrs. T. L. Bennett, Sr., at her home on O'Neal Ave., was her daughter, Mrs. George Christopher (Mary Noel Bennett), of Hot Springs, Ark. They were joined for the weekend by George Christopher, Jr., a student at Castle Heights Military Academy, Lebanon, Tenn.

Mrs. H. A. Killian is spending several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. C. D. Schwine, and other relatives in Atlanta, Ga.

Tractor accidents cause more than 1100 fatalities in the nation each year. Tractors are involved in 35 percent of all farm accidents, making them the number one farm killer.

Contracts Let For Bridges On Trace

It was announced on Nov. 11 by the Department of the Interior that the National Park Service has awarded a $141,431 contract for construction of two bridges and other work on Natchez Trace Parkway in Hinds County, Mississippi, to John Martin Company, Inc., and the Mountain City Company, Chattanooga, Tenn. Their bid was the lowest of six submitted.

Conrad L. Wirth, National Park Service Director, said that the contract calls for a 200-foot long, 32-foot-wide three-span concrete girder overpass to carry traffic on the Parkway over an unimproved State road, and a 157-foot-long, 32-foot-wide three-span slab bridge over Twelve Mile Creek.

Other work included in the project are Parkway approaches to the two bridges.

The United States ranks 15th in per capita consumption of milk.

THE SPILLWAY

WE THINK HE'S destined to go far... This lad of whom we tell... He's hitched his wagon to a star And hitched it good and well...

A THIS-YEAR SENIOR at Coffee Hi... he's already a portrait artist of great sensitivity... and plans (following graduation) to enter Art School... perhaps in Memphis... or UA... maybe the Windy City... Commissioned in recent months by the Reynolds Company to do a large assignment... we keep hearing loud praise of the resulting work... If you'll join us in watching his wagon's star-ward trek... keep an eye peeled for Ronnie Hester... son of Lila and Uel of 723 Kendrick... (We'd be interested... alongside many others... in seeing a display of these greatly admired canvases)...

A HUMDINGER of a pigskin season is keeping us on the edge of our collective chair... and last weekend was REALLY... the MOST... taking place enroute to the Birmingham tussle... as Florentines paused in Jasper to break-fast with the Bert Simmonses... who arrived home just moments in advance of their guests... (Actually... they'd been honored at a Florence soiree the previous eve)...

Numbered among those present were Martha and George McBurney... Lollie and Preston Reeder... Ellie and Bill Mitchell... Jean and Tom Rogers... and others...

(IN CASE YOU didn't know... Florence has a delightful tie with the Simmonses... Bert's brother... Joe Simmons is the hubby of our-very-own former Julianne Goyer... daughter of Reba and (Doctor) Jim of 722 Prospect)... WE SHED AN honest tear as we bring news that the recently completed home of Bev and Bill Bragg in Fayette... with all their wedding gifts and many of their household furnishings... was a total loss by fire on (you guessed it) Friday, the 13th... 'Twas all ready for occupancy... but they hadn't made the move from their apartment...

INTERESTING WORK for an interested worker... Things usually begin to hum when Polly Hackworth takes a hand... as is the case with the Florence Literacy Movement... where she's now teaching a class and looking ahead to a few months' study in Baltimore... preparatory to a probable 'round-the-world trek... Polly's beaming countenance tells... without a doubt... the story of having found a gratifying career...

IT'LL BE GREEK to us... in more ways than one... but nevertheless we look eagerly forward to hearing four-year-old Mike Moody chat fluently in the tongue of his foreign homeland... In New York for the past several days with business on the agenda... Jim Moody and young son are expected to arrive at any given moment for a hometown visit with (Jim's mom) Pearl Moody and (his aunt) Elizabeth Long and Louie Rossmaier... at their apartments in Tennessee Court... Back home (in Athens, Greece) Mike acts as interpreter between the native housemaid and his momma and dad...

THEIR GOOD SENSE is showing through... Nearly-weds Barbara Smith and Nathan Lindsey are foregoing the thrills of a wedding WITH FRILLS (and the accompanying expense) as they look with a practical eye to the completion of furnishing their new home... The lovely brick residence at 101 Monroe Drive, Tusculum... near the historic Helen Keller shrine... will be the abode of Barbara and Nathan after their quiet Thanksgiving I DO's...

OUR REPORTER reports... THAT Charlie Moore has returned from several weeks in New York where he burned the midnight oil as he pursued studies for his chosen career in the investment brokerage field... THAT Feida Berkerville has arrived from Pensacola... and will be with (her poppa) Homer Reeder during the Thanksgiving season... THAT Betty Jean and (Doctor) Lyman Mitchell and chillun... Melissa and Wilson and Lyman, Jr., are looking forward to Turkey Day in Richmond with the Ray Kyles and (BJ's mom) Leacie Wilson... (We betcha ALL FLORENCE'd like that trip...)

THAT Julia and Pete Mefford were in Memphis on Saturday for the Tennessee-Ole Miss gridiron tussle... and report a simply super time... THAT "Sister" (Glenn) Miller and chillun... Duddie and Ree and Red... will remain in our midst for several weeks while (Sister's hubby) Jimmy is in Hawaii... THAT a flurry of parties is greeting Cleo Deichert as she visits with (her sister) Marie Callaway... and that Lois Morris and Pauline Wiggins started the ball rolling with a "blueberry waffle breakfast" on Tuesday morn... THAT Louise Paxton's house is being readied for the Saturday arrival of (her brother) Charles Carter (known to Louise's friends as "Burr Charlie") and (his wife) Gertrude from their Tulsa home... AND THAT Frances Wiggins is expected to arrive during the weekend for a Thanksgiving stay with (her momma) Emma Craig and with Ann and (her brother) Ben and chillun...

WE'LL KEEP AN eye peeled for you at Ony Shelby's Monday morning coffee at The Town Club... where we're looking forward to being with the charming honoree of the occasion... Margaret Slough... wife of the new rector of Grace Episcopal Church in Sheffield and sister of our very own Mary Massey... AND NOW... CHEERIO and goodbye... until more news comes through The Spillway...

Accident Toll In Florence Listed

Five Deaths Result From Traffic Mishaps During Last Month

During the month of October 1959, the counties that make up the Florence Post area of the Highway Patrol, reported 57 rural traffic accidents which resulted in 30 personal injuries and 5 traffic deaths. Listed here you will find accident facts relating to each county in the Florence Post area.

Lauderdale County reported 31 rural traffic accidents with 22 personal injuries and 4 deaths. Colbert County reported 19 rural traffic accidents with 5 personal injuries and no deaths. Franklin County reported 7 rural traffic accidents with 3 personal injuries and 1 death.

Of these 57 rural traffic accidents which occurred in the Florence Post area, 16 of them were one-vehicle accidents, 37 were two-vehicle accidents and 1 was a four vehicle accident.

Most of these accidents were caused by these five violations: (1) Speed too fast for conditions (2) Driving on wrong side of road (3) Failure to grant right of way (4) Driving under the influence of alcohol (5) Following too closely.

Floyd H. Mann, Director of the Department of Public Safety, said that as of midnight, Thursday, November 12, 507 persons have been killed in traffic accidents which have occurred on the rural highways of Alabama this year. This is 33 persons less than were killed last year on this date as a result of rural traffic accidents.

Special Chapel Program Pays Tribute To Couple

Memory Of Parents Of Claude Lewis Honored At Mars Hill Bible School

SERVICE HONORS PARENTS—Claude Lewis, Sr., and the late Mrs. Lewis, parents of Claude Lewis, Jr., vice president of Mars Hill Bible School, were remembered in a special service in the school chapel on Friday, Nov. 13.

An honorary service was conducted in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lewis, Sr., during the chapel program at Mars Hill Bible School Friday morning, November 13.

The occasion for this service of honor was that the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lewis, Sr.—Claude Lewis, Jr.—had made a donation to Mars Hill's "Pay-for-a-Day Plan" and specified that his parents' birthdays be remembered, November 1 and September 19. Since both of these days had already passed in this year, November 13 was requested.

Claude Lewis, Jr., now vice-president of Mars Hill Bible School, spoke briefly and paid special tribute to his mother, who is now deceased. He stated that she had willed her body before her death to the medical school of the University of Southern California for cancer research. Since there was not a grave or any marker, this was the way that he chose to pay tribute to her.

A nice bulletin board presenting the pictures of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Sr., was displayed in the main hall of the building that day. Claude Lewis, Sr., is now living in Los Angeles, California. Both

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Sr., have been interested in Mars Hill Bible School for many years and have contributed to it many times through the 13 years the school has operated.

This service of tribute to the Lewises was unique in that it was the first service to honor one paying for a day at Mars Hill, or one whom the donor designates. The "Pay-for-a-Day Plan" was inaugurated at the "1600 Singing" on November 5.

When a friend provides the money to underwrite the deficit of Mars Hill's operating expenses for one day, he has made possible the operation of the school for one day. The Lewises' service was the first in these honorary services.

You may see in this program an opportunity to establish worthwhile memorials to relatives and friends, or to honor some close associate or beloved church leader, or to observe anniversaries of special significance, such as wedding, birthday, graduation, engagement, first job; or you may want the day to coincide with some annual campus activity, e.g., lectureship, homecoming day, dramatic or musical production at Mars Hill Bible School.

Sunday visitors in the home of Mrs. Mason Isley were Mr. and Mrs. James Burns and children and Mrs. Thomas McIntyre and children of Florence.

Mrs. Jessie Richardson continues ill at ECM Hospital.

Mrs. Earl Culver from Nixon, Tenn., visited Mrs. Jenny Culver last Friday.

Mrs. Andy White is a patient at ECM Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Richardson left Tuesday for their home in Pensacola, Florida after a week's visit with relatives here.

TV Will Be Used As Literacy Aid

Muscle Shoals Program Given Added Impetus By Baltimore Instructor

A concentrated effort will be made during the next two weeks to give the Muscle Shoals Literacy Movement a push.

Here to work with local leaders is Miss Nell Dunn from the Frank C. Laubach Literacy Center in Baltimore, who was sent by Miss Nell Pearson, Florence, director of the Baltimore center. This week, Miss Dunn is contacting teachers, checking on progress of classes, assisting Sam Israel, president of the Literacy Movement, and attempting to stimulate interest of the community in the movement.

Miss Dunn plans to speak to PTAs, garden clubs and other women's clubs as well as the men's clubs and other civic organizations.

Plans are now in the making to start preparing teachers for literacy by television, scheduled to start Jan. 6. Workshops will begin Nov. 30, and will require approximately six hours.

Meanwhile, a local industry is making a survey to determine how many employees are interested in taking courses and has promised to provide special clerical help if results of the survey warrant it.

Burks Winner Of Sportsman Trophy

Airman first class Don Burks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra M. Burks, Route 1, Anderson, Ala., won a K. C. Bailey Realtor Sportsman-ship Trophy. It was the first year for this award which was made at the annual Dayton Amateur Baseball Association banquet held in Dayton, Ohio, in October. Burks was awarded the trophy on the basis of a poll taken by the umpires and official scorers of the Dayton Amateur Class AA League.

Burks is numbered among the baseball fraternity who'd rather play baseball than eat. He has been a second baseman for the Kitty-hawks, the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base team, for the past five years, made the All-Star team here for four years, and participated in the USAF World-Wide baseball tournament for the past five years.

A career in the Air Force is among his plans for the future. He is presently assigned with the Flight Surgeon's office, USAF Hospital Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, near Dayton, Ohio. He has just chalked up five years with the Air Force and immediately re-enlisted for six more.

He is married and he and his wife, Dorothy, have one daughter, and they live at 5736 Gross Drive, Page Manor, Dayton, Ohio.

REW CO-CHAIRMEN—Co-ordinating the other faculty-student committees for FSC's annual REW series have been the faculty-student co-chairmen of the series for this year, Dr. McElheny and Mary Turner Brown.

Religious Week At Florence State

Convocation End Today; Students Invited To Temple B'nai Israel

The 1959 Religious Emphasis Week, which began at Florence State College Tuesday, has followed essentially the same program as it has done in years past.

The three morning convocations, at 10 a.m. Tuesday, Wednesday, and this morning, were conducted by Dr. Randall Woodfin. Subjects for his talks were: "I Believe That God Is," "How I Know That He Is," and "What He Requires of Me."

Dr. Woodfin spoke at a faculty luncheon Tuesday, his subject being, "Quo Vadis."

Seminars were held, as last year, at three in the afternoon in O'Neal Hall lounge. At these meetings, students were invited to discuss with Mr. John C. Fletcher, who is conducting the seminars, "Religion and Science—Friends or Enemies."

Mr. Fletcher held a lecture and discussion period on "Unconventional Christian Thinking," at 7 p.m. in Kilby, Tuesday night. At the same hour on Wednesday night, Dr. Woodfin and Mr. Fletcher conducted a quiz hour entitled "Can You Tell Me?"

REW is made possible through the efforts of the various faculty-student committees under the direction of Dr. McElheny and Mary Turner Brown, co-chairman of this year's series.

Serving on the committees are: Mrs. S. S. Lantz and Betty Dean Barber, publicity; Dr. Bernard Cresap and Lavelle McCain, hospitality; Mrs. John Finley and Ralph Sturgis, seminars; Miss Ellen Moore and Milton Speak, classroom visits; Miss Pauline Gravlee and Evelyn Lopez, breakfast; Miss Gladys Shepard and Jimmy Kirsh, convocations; and Julia Sue Terry, vespers.

Temple B'nai Israel will conduct the Friday night Sabbath service on November 20 at 8 p.m. This service will be followed by a hospitality time and an opportunity for the students to ask questions and familiarize themselves with the Jewish faith.

Winter Grazing Can Be Profitable

Do you get your money's worth from your winter grazing crops? If the answer is no, perhaps you should review good winter grazing practices. AU Extension Agronomist O. N. Andrews points out that everyone realizes the importance of small grains, grass, and legume mixtures in stepping up the milk flow of dairy cows. And an extra amount of milk in the fall means more money in the bank.

However, many dairymen make the mistake of letting the entire herd graze as soon as a little green growth begins. When this happens, the crop is razed to the ground in a few days, leaving very little for the rest of the winter. Andrews warns that closely grazed young plants recover very slowly since the root system has not developed and there is little leaf surface.

Keep those cows off winter crops until there is enough growth to provide continuous grazing for at least two hours each day or until the plants are about six inches high. Even cool season crops stop growing when the temperature drops below 50°F.

Research conducted by Alabama experiment stations has shown that dairy cows grazing two or three hours each day and fed high quality hay produce about as much milk as cows that graze all day. The agronomist recommends grazing the cows about one hour after each milking.

Grazing water-soaked winter pastures also damages the crop. But dairymen know that production drops when cows are kept off grazing. When wet periods soak the land, Andrews advises grazing the cows only one hour each day. However, he says, this isn't the answer for all dairymen. They must use their own judgement about wet weather grazing.

Representatives Of First Federal Attend Convention

Petree, Foy Participate In Annual Meeting Held In Dallas, Texas

Among several thousand delegates attending the 67th Annual convention of the United States Savings & Loan League at Dallas, Texas last week, were John D. Petree and W. L. Foy, Jr., representing the First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Florence.

Many topics pertinent to the Savings and Loan business were discussed by outstanding speakers as well as in panel discussions participated in by the delegate.

In an address by C. R. Mitchell, League president, a savings and loan growth to a $165 billion dollars by 1970 was projected, although he indicated that this constituted a staggering challenge even for a business that has become accustomed to rapid expansion and to meeting ever-increasing demands for home mortgage loans.

Guest speakers included the Honorable Lyndon B. Johnson, the United States senate majority leader whose subject was "Our Responsibilities in the New Era." "The institution of finance—especially that of savings—and the institution of government, stand on the same foundation: the foundation of public confidence," declared Senator Johnson.

William K. Divers, president of the Savings and Loan Foundation, of which First Federal of Florence is a member, declared "50% of all families in the United States have savings accounts; our market still is practically unlimited."

Raise Fruit In Your Back Yard

Fruits and nuts provide some of the best eating in the world. And what could be better than raising your own fruit trees?

December is the best time to plant fruit trees, says AU Extension Horticulturist John Bagby. He lists the following points that may be helpful to growers.

Every farm home should have at least a few peach trees in the yard. These trees not only produce nuts, but they provide shade for those hot summer days. And for easy rewards, plant fruits such as muscadines, figs, pears, and trailing blackberries that require little attention.

According to Bagby, peaches, apples, plums, and bunch grapes must be properly pruned and sprayed for good results. And for improving the existing orchard, don't forget the importance of pruning, fertilizing, and pest control. Many trees and vines have a dual purpose—they add beauty to the landscape as well as providing fruits and nuts.

Queries In Mail On Farm Census

Questionnaires for the 1959 Census of Agriculture are now in the mail and will be in the hands of local farmers within a few days, it was announced today by Field Director Meredith A. Bass of the Census Bureau's regional office at New Orleans.

The farm census questionnaires are being mailed from Chicago, Illinois with the distribution timed so that the report forms will reach farmers about a week ahead of the date when census takers will begin the field canvass. The advance mailing is for the purpose of giving farm operators time to consult their records before filling in the answers required by the questionnaires and getting them ready for the census takers to pick up. This procedure is designed to insure greater accuracy of reporting and to save time both for the farmer and the census taker when the latter calls at the farm.

The 1959 Census of Agriculture questionnaire is designed to provide information on the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock production and inventories, selected farm facilities and equipment, selected farm expenditures, farm values, and mortgage debt. On the average, each farmer is asked about 100 questions, many of which can be answered by simply checking "yes" or "no".

Hay crushing means any mechanical mangling of the hay by which the stems are split, either continuously or at intervals.

The first step in any paint job is to clean the surface. If old paint is in a powdery condition, use a wire brush on the surface.

FALCON, the New-size Ford, is America's lowest-priced 6-passenger car*

The Falcon is priced up to $72 less than its rear-engine competitor... as much as $124 less than other American-built, so-called compact 6-passenger cars. And the new Ford Falcon is the easiest car in the world to own. Just look at these Falcon superlatives:

Beauty and economy! The Falcon has the clean lines and the uncluttered good looks of the glamorous 60 Fords. Diamond Lustre Finish never needs waxing. Galvanized structural members resist rust and corrosion. Bolt-on front fenders cost less, replace easily.

Seats six passengers with all their luggage. The Falcon easily seats six big adults in built-for-people comfort. There's no floor-mounted gear shift to interfere with center front-seat passenger. Big luggage compartment in the rear holds over 23 cu. ft.

Up to 30 mpg. The Falcon's outstanding gas economy was proven when a fleet of Falcons traveled every mile of numbered Federal highway in Economy Run, U.S.A. Another savings: The Falcon goes up to 4000 miles between oil changes.

Front-mounted engine. For stability and handling ease, the Falcon's six-cylinder engine is mounted up front. And there is plenty of free heat from the Falcon's fresh-air, hot-water heating system, with no sacrifice of gas mileage in cold-weather driving.

New luxury interiors. You'll find the same quality materials and taste in design as in the big new Fords. Door panels are fully upholstered. Front seat cushions are generously foamed. Thick roof insulation guards against heat and noise.

Designed Especially For Our
Subscribers and Their Family Household Members

This outstanding policy will help to pay those unexpected expenses for bodily injury—whether simple or serious—when accidents strike without warning at work, on the farm, at home, at school, at play, or while traveling. Here is a modern, practical, essential and economical personal accident policy prepared to give the best possible protection at the lowest possible cost that will fit the pocketbook of every family.

Each member of the family—man, woman and child—regardless of age, residence, occupation or activity—is constantly exposed to accident hazards "around the clock" and "around the calendar" and should have this valuable and helpful protection which is now available through this newspaper because of the serious accident situation which exists everywhere today. Subject to the policy provisions, it includes indemnity for Loss of Life, Loss of Limb, Loss of Sight, Total Disability, First Aid, Ambulance, Hospital and X-Ray.

The policy is issued without medical examination. There are no age limits (specific loss and total disability indemnities are reduced fifty per cent (50%) when the insured is or becomes age 70 and over.) It costs only $5.00 per person per year, plus a first-year only registration fee of $1.00. This averages but slightly more than a penny a day for protection everyone needs and can afford to pay. It is issued by Old Republic Life Insurance Company, Chicago, Illinois.

Poetry And Essay By FSC Students Are Published

In the autumn number of The Rectangle, official semi-annual publication of Sigma Tau Delta, national professional English fraternity, appeared three selections written by Florence State students: Wayne Hagood, now a graduate student at the University of Florida; Gwendolyn Ware, Sheffield, and Kathleen Culver, Florence, both seniors at the college.

Dr. A. S. Johnson, chairman of the Department of Modern Languages, said, "We are tremendously proud. All three students had received awards in local, state and regional competitions, and this is indeed an honor."

Miss Ware and Mr. Hagood were starred in the field of Poetry, while Miss Culver's was an informal essay.

Home for the past week-end was David Cole, who is now enrolled in the Mount Berry School, Mount Berry, Georgia.

School:
The Lexington High School PTA is sponsoring a pancake supper to be held Saturday, November 21.

Colorado Will Be Site Of Jamboree

Number Local Scouts To Attend National Encampment In July

Colorado, which has but two cities of 50,000 population or over, according to the 1950 census, is to get a third one of that size in July, 1960, when a 2,000-acre tented city rises at the Reverse J. Diamond Ranch about eight miles from Colorado Springs, Colorado.

The ranch will house the Fifth National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America, the high point in the celebration of fifty years of that organization in this country.

Engineers have already made surveys for the location of thirty-nine sectional camps, each of which will have a population of about 1,400 persons. Each section will have its own health lodge, water supply, shower baths, and commissary.

This newest, youngest, and busiest city of approximately 52,300 will team with excitement. Living together will be boys from all walks of life, of all races and creeds. They will exchange skills, swap home-town products, and learn about the customs and traditions of many sections of the nation.

There will be pageants, campfires, ceremonies, and music. There will be demonstrations of all types of campcraft and Scoutcraft, swapping and friendship making, and the opportunity of seeing some of America's outstanding citizens.

The Tennessee Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, under the leadership of Col. J. R. Barnwell, retired, U. S. Army, of Florence, is preparing plans for the council's contingent.

Every Scout who will be thirteen years old by January 1, 1960, and all Explorers who have three months tenure by July 15, 1960, are eligible to participate. The council office, at P. O. Drawer 39, will send full particulars to all interested boys and parents.

The following boys and leaders from Florence and the Muscle Shoals area have registered to date to attend:
Sheffield: Cecil Rose, leader; Mike Durham, Cecil Rose, Jr., Hunter Allen, Jr., George Rose, Jimmy Zickos, Ben Gardner, Robert Hopkins, Jr., and Mike McDonald.

Tuscumbia: Dr. J. W. Lester, leader, Mike McMackin, and John McKelvey.

Florence: Alvin Rosenbaum, Terry Graham, George B. Lucky, Richard Parker, Jr., John W. Scarborough, Mike Severin, Robert D. Getsinger, and Hugh Huffman.

In the school lunchroom. Supper will be served at 6:30 and each plate will cost sixty-five cents. Everyone is invited to attend.

For a tangy appetizer, serve apple juice with a spoonful of ice cream or sherbet to dress it up.

As Southern as Grits

No institution is more deeply rooted in the South than our Company. Since our founding 73 years ago, we have concentrated on serving the South, and only the South, with dependable petroleum and allied products.

Our officers, directors and all members of our organization are Southerners. Two-thirds of the Company's dividends are paid to more than 14,000 of its stockholders living in the five Southern states we serve. Our profits are reinvested where we make them—in the South.

We like to believe that the continued sales leadership of our products is due to two things: 1) their dependable quality; and 2) the fact that we are Southerners who think Southern, act Southern and inherently observe the customs and courtesies which Southerners appreciate. We're proud to be "As Southern as grits."

There's nothing like a new car—and no new car like a Chevrolet. This is the 1960 Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Coupe!

PEOPLE SAY THESE ARE THE THINGS THEY WANT IN A CAR...and CHEVROLET for '60 comes closest to meeting every need!

Interviews with thousands of car owners across the country show clearly what they like or dislike about their present cars... and what they want most in their 1960 cars. Here's what the people tell us they want... and here's how Chevrolet meets their needs.

"Price, that's what's uppermost in my mind." All Impalas and Bel Airs with V8 engines are lower in price, as are automatic transmissions and many other popular options. Also Biscaynes now include as standard equipment conveniences formerly optional at extra cost.

"And how about operating economy? And resale value?" You keep right on saving after you buy your favorite Chevrolet, too. And Chevrolet's traditionally higher resale value means you'll get more back when you trade.

"Give me plenty of good old-fashioned comfort." There's comfort and then some in this one. Chevy's long on space, for one thing. Once you're under way you'll know just how comfortable Full Coil suspension makes your ride.

"Safety—don't forget safety!" You're surrounded by safety features in a new Chevrolet. You've got big, sturdy brakes underfoot, for example, that last longer. As it has been for years, safety is standard equipment in Chevy.

"Let's keep upkeep down, too." More than ever, Chevrolet for 1960 is built to stay on the road and out of the repair shop. You can tell that from its hushed, untruffled way of going, from the solid thunk of Chevy's big doors. Of course, if you should need service, you're always near efficient, economical attention to your needs.

"I want a car that will stand up to the driving I do." For proof of Chevy's staying power, just spend a minute watching the nearest road. You'll see more Chevrolets traveling on it than any other car—evidence-on-wheels of Chevrolet durability. (And that higher resale value attests to it, too.)

"We for a sweet-handling car." Handling's always been Chevy's forte, and 1960 is no exception. But really, this kind of lightness and precision you've simply got to enjoy for yourself.

"... a car you can look at and be smug about buying it." Chevrolet for 1960 leaves the low-price field far behind when it comes to fashion. But you're the best judge of styling, so take a good close look at Chevrolet. We warn you: you're about to fall in love.

"And performance. Let's have a hot one!" Chevy's spirited V8's have set the standard for ultra-efficient power in American-built passenger car engines. You've got a long list of performance-minded transmissions to pick from, too.

So that, friends, is what you told us you want. We think it can be summed up rather well in just one word: value.

Get the full story of Chevy's brand of value soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Hill Re-Elected To Medical Group

Senator Lister Hill of Alabama has been re-elected to the Board of Directors of the internationally famous medical research organization named in honor of another Alabamian, General William Crawford Gorgas.

Doctor Walter A. Bloedorn, President of the Gorgas Memorial Institute of Tropical and Preventive Diseases, has announced in Washington that Senator Hill will serve another three-year term on the Institute's governing board.

Because of his interest in and support of health and medical research legislation, Senator Hill is widely recognized as "The Statesman for Health" in the United States Senate. While serving in the House in 1929 Senator Hill was one of the leaders of the successful drive for Congressional support of the Gorgas Institute's Laboratory in Panama, and he has been its legislative champion during the years since that time.

Bible Comment:

Thanksgiving: Day of Thanks And of Help

With the advent of Thanksgiving season our thoughts turn naturally to the abundance of our nation and our personal welfare.

The very name suggests that we give thanks—to God—for His generosity in bringing us good fortune.

But the day has come to have another significance—that of exercising generosity toward those less fortunate. This outstanding is demonstrated in the Bible many times.

Those who expect everything, yet give nothing in return, are turning the idea of Thanksgiving into a selfish and vain mockery of purpose.

Although we may be well off, indeed, there are countless millions throughout the world who literally live from day to day. In India, the Middle East, Africa, South America—yes, in our own country, there exists those who have little cause for thanksgiving, even if they have heard of such a thing as a national holiday of that name.

Until these people are rescued from their grinding poverty and taught to lift their bodies upward, how can we expect them to lift their eyes toward God in thanks?

Thus, Thanksgiving has a double meaning for us all: as an occasion when we can thank God for His bounty, and as a time when we can resolve to spread His good work by our prayers and generosity to our fellow man.

There will be a Thanksgiving supper at the Whitehead School lunchroom Wednesday night, Nov. 25. Everyone is invited to attend.

The Baptist W.M.U. will have a Book study at the church Tuesday, Nov. 24. A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon. All ladies are invited.

Mrs. James Allen Favors was the honoree at a shower given for her at the school lunchroom Friday night. She received many nice gifts.

Milton Springer is confined to his home here because of illness. We wish for him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Cordell Liverett and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Fozza Liverett Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmer White and children visited Mrs. Mamie Stantley Sunday.

Visiting E. P. Thornton Sunday were Hebron Slaton, Johnny Alexander and Gilbert Thornton.

Rev. and Mrs. Jo Underwood and Mr. and Mrs. Harold White visited Mr. and Mrs. Preston White Sunday.

The Lowell Snoddy and Miss Blanche Herston of Huntsville visited the Roy Herstons Sunday.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The supreme power of God will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul and Body" is the Golden Text from Psalms (66:8,9): "O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard: which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include this statement of the supremacy of God, Soul: "God is infinite, the only life, substance, Spirit, or Soul, the only intelligence of the universe, including man" (330:11-12).

3 3/4% INTEREST ON NEW U.S. SAVINGS BONDS NOW IN EFFECT

Congress makes the Bonds you buy and Bonds you already own better than ever!

Now U.S. Savings Bonds are a better buy than ever in three important ways:

- All Series E and H Bonds bought since June 1, 1959 now earn 3 3/4% interest when held to maturity.
- Older Bonds will also pay more—an extra 1/2%, from June 1 on, if you hold them to maturity.
- All Series E Bonds, old or new, now carry an automatic extension privilege; they'll keep paying liberal interest for 10 years beyond maturity.

Three big new dollar benefits that make it smart to buy new Bonds—and hang on to the ones you have!

40 million Americans now own Bonds

But a good return isn't the only reason so many people buy Bonds. They've discovered that there's no easier, safer, more American way to save.

You can buy Bonds automatically, through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work; you can buy them where you bank; your youngsters can even buy them at school, through the School Savings Plan for U.S. Savings Stamps.

The U.S. Government guarantees that the cash value of your Bonds cannot drop; it can only grow. And if your Bonds should be lost, stolen, or destroyed, the Treasury will replace them free.

Finally, every Bond you buy does a big job for America. Because today peace costs money—money for military strength and for science; and money saved by individuals to keep our economy sound.

Your Bonds help provide this money—help America keep the peace. So, to build a brighter future for yourself and your family—and to protect it—save with U.S. Savings Bonds. They're better than ever.

YOUR MONEY GROWS 3 3/4% IN JUST 7 YEARS
AND 9 MONTHS WITH NEW SERIES E BONDS!

ROGERSVILLEBy Mrs. Oswald Waddell
Phone 2681Garden Club

Mrs. Earl Stamps of Alabama Shores near Sheffield was the guest of the Rogersville Garden Club on Thursday evening when it met in the home of Mrs. Henry Hudson.

Presiding over the meeting and giving the devotional was Mrs. J. R. Waddell.

Mrs. Stamps presented materials for arranging and already prepared arrangements of dried seed pods and every sort of plant available to everyone. She gave detailed instructions for the best use of materials and how to prepare. Most of the arrangements were for Christmas in which she used many colors. Members were impressed by the number of commonplace things at hand which could be turned into beautiful creations, literally works of art.

Mrs. John Rigdon assisted the hostess in serving a delicious party plate. Miss Bessie Crow of Killen was a guest.

Birthday Party

Mr. and Mrs. O'Neal Embry entertained at their home on Saturday for their charming little son, James, Jr., who was celebrating a second birthday.

With the help of two grandmothers, Mrs. Chester Embry of Rogersville and Mrs. Floyd Butler of Center Star, this party was a huge success with the only necessary entertainment the favors, James' many gifts and the birthday cake.

Celebrating the day with him were his cousins, Judy, Jane and Mary Elizabeth of Center Star, Keith Masonia, Brenda and Ricky Cagle, Anah Whitehead, Ann Harrison, Mark Tays, Roy Mac Trousdale, Rhonda Cramer, Denise Snoddy, Tim Warren, Patty Whitehead and Jackie Graham.

Come to Church for Services"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER — STAYS TOGETHER"*THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

We go back to the old homestead, the old home town. Perhaps we have long anticipated that visit, but now we find that the changes are so disillusioning that we don't care whether we ever return. We meet a friend of years gone by and hardly recognize him. He too has changed. We compare the face reflected from our mirror with old photographs and realize that, without knowing it, we have changed. We try to use a map of yester-year only to discover that it is out of date.

We shudder a little as we wonder if there is anything that remains the same.

The Church tells us that there is. Through the centuries it is the one institution which points to the unchanging God, "the same yesterday, today, and forever." Worship customs may differ, but every Christian congregation seeks to lead men to the one great Certainty, which is God. That is why you will want to start attending church regularly. Here is peace. Here is assurance.

GIs Should Record Separation Notices

If you have not already done so, you should have your military discharge or separation recorded at your local court house, states W. O. Crumby, Sr. Veterans' Service Officer, Lauderdale County.

Mr. Crumby states that there is no charge for this service here in Alabama and if your discharge is not recorded and the original has been lost or destroyed, a Certificate in Lieu of Lost or Destroyed Discharge may be secured without cost. Of course, when it is received, the first thing you should do is record it. There is a special application blank to be filled out to get one of these Certificates and your County Service Officer has them on hand.

Corner on Cotton

BY BOB COLLINS

How would you like a garment that would never need washing, cleaning or pressing... it would be water repellent, flame resistant and would wear 10 times as long as any fabric known today? ... that may be cotton clothes a few years from now... in fact, some of these qualities have already been developed by research.

Searches are going on now to improve "wash-and-wear" cottons and within three years "wash-and-wear" will be improved 100 percent and probably double its market... already it is utilizing 800,000 bales of cotton annually that would not be used otherwise... think what may happen when research develops some treatment to cause dirt to just slide off a shirt and adds another treatment that makes the shirt odorproof... the peak of cotton sales isn't even in sight yet if research is given a proper chance.

Lost Markets

Cotton has lost markets for three reasons: (1) the support price has been held too high... (2) synthetic fibers have been developed that could do some specific job better than cotton... (3) manufacturers have regarded the course of supply as being too insecure since it was determined by governmental edict rather than by supply and demand... in two of these instances research has helped and can help much more... prices can be lowered by reducing production costs and cotton properties can be developed to prevent synthetics from offering any better performances.

Just Look

Look what has already been done... new insecticides let us control (but unfortunately not eliminate) the boll weevil... there are chemical treatments for weed control that greatly reduce production costs and of course there is the mechanical cotton picker... micronaire measurements have entered the trading picture in recent years to help better determine spinning qualities... a new bale opener is on the market that can save mills up to $1 per bale... and a granular carding process has been developed that will further increase mill efficiency.

At consumer level there are new, finer water repellent fabrics... new cotton bandages with superior elasticity and clinging power... and many other qualities are adding to cotton's attractiveness.

With all this happening to cotton, there isn't much room for pessimism if its production is given the benefits of continuing research and its marketing is given the freedom to meet competition and consumer demands without governmental interference.

Winter Grazing Interest Grows

Carrying Light-Weight Calves Thru Season On Pasture Profitable

Grazing and feeding slaughter cattle. More interest is being shown this year in carrying over lightweight calves on a grazing program this fall to be followed by feeding next spring and summer.

mer. This practice, conducted at several different sub-stations in Alabama, has returned to labor above all costs $40 to $75, depending largely upon the amount of forage and length of time forage was utilized. Roughly speaking, the more forage you get into an animal, either through grazing or silage, the lower the cost of gain and the greater the potential of profit.

Here is a guide for this phase of beef production:

1. Start winter grazing on prepared seed bed — approximately Oct. 15.

2. Graze small grain until the first of March, other cool season grazing until May 1st-15th. Anytime grazing is short or too wet, pull off and full-feed hay plus two to three pounds of ground snapped corn and 1½ pounds of cottonseed meal.

3. Go to early spring surplus grazing for thirty days or directly to feed lot for approximately 90 to 100 days.

4. Feed lot ration (completely mill-mixed).

Ground snapped corn — 49-59 percent; Quality grass hay—30-20 percent; C. S. Meal—10 percent; Molasses—10 percent; Salt — 1 percent. (Depending upon finish desired and feed available.)

Cattle may be started quickly on this ration and experience no bloat or foundering difficulties.

5. Another ration.

Ground snapped corn — 44 percent; Ground whole cottonseed — 15 percent; Quality grass hay—30 percent; Molasses — 10 percent; Salt—1 percent.

This ration is one of the best fattening rations yet tested in the experiment station system.

6. Feed substitutions and additives.

A. If high quality, leafy alfalfa or peanut hay is used, protein supplement may be omitted. However, if price of high Good and Choice cattle is favorable and if c.s. meal is low in cost, it would be advisable to add five percent protein supplement to the first outlined ration.

B. Feed molasses only when comparable in prices to ground ear corn. Molasses weighs 11.7 pounds per gallon. Therefore, if ground ear corn may be obtained for $35 per ton, molasses should not cost more than 20 cents per gallon. Molasses is deficient in protein; it is a carbohydrate feed only.

C. Ground oats may replace 50 percent of the corn in the ration with satisfactory results. Ground oats may be used to replace all corn in the formula using ground cottonseed.

D. Ground grain sorghum is worth almost as much in feeding value as ground ear corn.

E. Ground wheat is worth slightly more than corn and may replace all corn in above mill-mixed rations.

F. Stilbestrol may still be used for feed lot cattle and at present is the best growth promoting additive available. Ear implant each steer with 36 milligrams of stilbestrol when feeding period is 90 days or longer. For short periods of feeding, oval stilbestrol is recommended.

G. Cattle may be finished for slaughter on corn silage. The silage should be fed, and in addition, the daily ration should consist of four pounds of ground ear corn and 1.5 pounds of protein supplement. A longer feeding period will be required as compared to above mill-mixed rations.

Internal parasites. Drench all spring- and summer-born calves if planning to carry them through the winter. All unthrifty appearing, mature cattle should be given the maximum dosage of six ounces.

External parasites. Check lice-built up by spraying at the first sign of rubbing and loss of hair. External and internal parasites are too easy to control in cattle to allow them to rob cattle profits.

Tall girls should look for clothes with round lines. Little round collars, oval necks, horizontal tucks and stitching add glamour and subtract inches.

Be sure to have fields soil tested this fall.

Venison Good If Handled Properly

There is more to the fun of bagging a buck than simply shooting it.

Since deer season opened Nov. 10, remember that deer meat is excellent eating and there is many a good meal in even a spike buck. According to AU Extension Wildlife Specialist Earl Kenamer, many people don't like venison simply because the meat was not properly handled from bagging to eating.

As soon as the deer is dead—and make sure you may be wearing a hat rack in your stomach—cut open the body cavity and drain out all of the blood before it hardens. Skin the animal immediately or take it to a good butcher. Kenamer points out that the most important phase is to hang the deer in a cold locker above freezing temperature for as long as three weeks. This aging is important for tenderizing the meat and really bringing out the good flavor.

"After aging, have the carcass cut into steaks, roasts, and deer burgers," says the specialist. "Wrap the meat in moisture-proof paper—not butcher's wrapping paper—and quick freeze. Slow freezing will cause large ice crystals and a loss in flavor."

Game meat has less fat than domestic animals, adds Kenamer. Therefore, when you are cooking venison steaks with a dry cooking method, use a plentiful amount of fat. And if there is a doubt about tenderness, use a meat tenderizer. "Practically all venison goes well in a thick stew," he says. "More people should try hickory wood-broiled venison and not basting sauce. However, if you must use a barbecue sauce, have it ready for serving with the meat."

When buying potatoes, look for those that are firm, clean, and shallow-eyed. This will help cut down on waste and make cleaning easy.

SOME ORNAMENTALS HELP PREVENT SOIL EROSION

Some types of ornamental plants are not only beautiful but help prevent soil from washing down a slope.

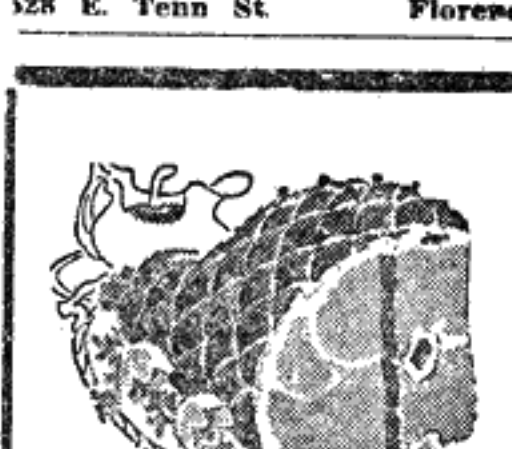

AU Extension Ornamental Horticulturist Troy Keeble recommends common periwinkle, pashysandra, English ivy, creeping juniper, lily-turf (Liriodendron), or dwarf lily-turf (ophiopogon) for this purpose. However, the plants must become established before soil erosion is stopped. Keeble adds that mulching with pine needles or grain straw will help.

EAR INTO SPACE—This is an artist's drawing of the world's largest radio-telescope, now under construction by the U.S. Navy near Sugar Grove, W.Va. The instrument's aluminum reflector dish will have a diameter of 600 feet, twice the length of a football field. The scope will be able to pick up radio signals from space 19 times the distance probed by the 200-inch optical telescope at Mt. Palomar, Calif. Note comparative size of vehicles on roadway.

Hay that has been rained on loses its color and much of its nutritive value. Laying hens in the United States laid more than five billion eggs during February, 1959.

Progress Reported By Committeeman

William J. Townsend, Route 1, Lexington, chairman of the Lauderdale County Farmers Home Administration committee, reported that reviewing progress made by the agency's borrower families toward being able to get their needed financing from other lenders is one of his committee's most pleasant jobs.

He said much of the progress has been due to improved farm and home management practices brought about by making and carrying out careful plans and good farm bookkeeping.

Farm management practices that have raised families' net income here include soil testing, proper fertilizing, and selecting right varieties of seed.

The other committeemen who work with Cecil C. Mixon, FHA county supervisor, are Luther L. Whitten, Route 2, Florence, Alabama, and Robert H. Howard, 219 West Bluff Street, Florence, Alabama. Among their other duties are determining applicants' eligibilities for loans and certifying as to value of farms being improved or bought with farm ownership loans.

Number Families Using FHA Loans

In Lauderdale county 190 farm families were using U. S. Department of Agriculture credit in the form of Farmers Home Administration loans when the 1959 fiscal year ended June 30, Cecil C. Mixon, the agency's county supervisor reported recently.

During the year the county office made 32 new loans for different purposes including paying costs of suitable farm and home operations, improving or buying farms or additional land, building or repairing farm homes and other farm buildings, or covering emergency expenses.

In addition to serving the new borrowers, the office maintains its farm management aid service for farmers who still are paying off loans made within the past few years. Each year those who have improved their incomes to the extent that they can get adequate credit from other sources repay the Farmers Home Administration and continue with other credit.

Mr. Mixon's office also is receiving new applications each week, and he is helping with farm and home plans that accompany credit

GIs Should Watch Benefit Records

The population estimate recently issued by the Bureau of the Census indicating a per capita growth for Alabama close to the 17 percent national average has caused the Veterans Administration to wonder of Alabama GI-insured veterans have kept their government insurance policies current with their changes in family status.

A check of the Montgomery records kept by the contact representatives available to help veterans keep their benefit records straight, showed that relatively few veterans have filed "change of beneficiary" forms with the VA over the past few years to make certain their insurance proceeds go to the right person or persons, Smart said.

Marriages, divorces, births or deaths are the types of changes in family status which may indicate needed changes in beneficiary listings.

"An increasing number of cases are coming to light in which GI life insurance proceeds must be paid to other than the veteran's immediate family because the veteran failed to keep his beneficiary listing up to date," Smart pointed out.

extended to eligible applicants. In some instances, previews of applicant farmers' assets and financial statements, farm plans, and realistic repayment schedules, have cleared up points that made them eligible for bank or other financing.

Commission Will Study Delinquency

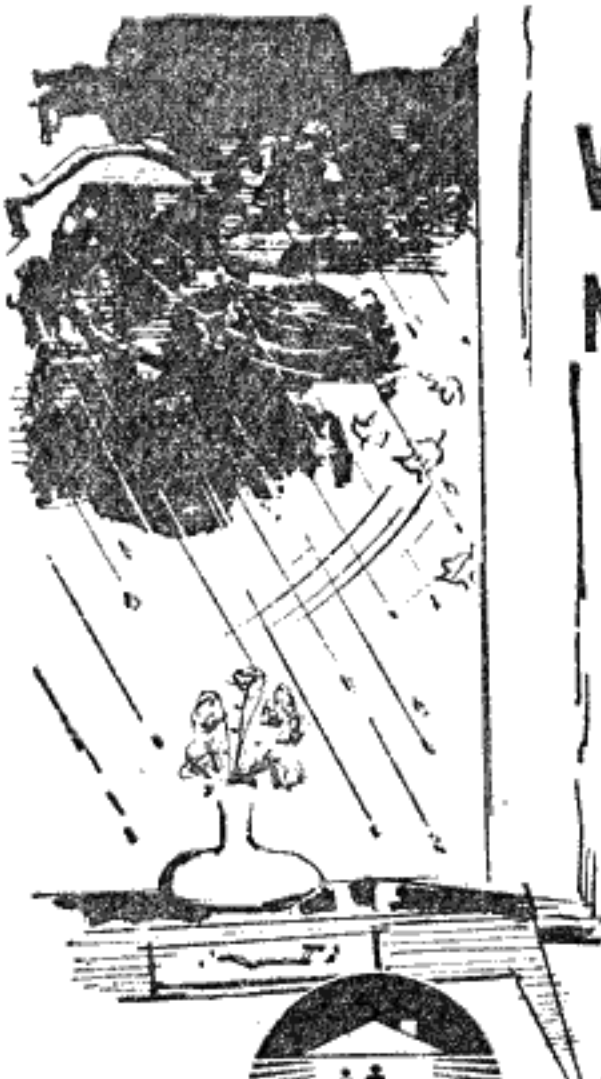

Gov. John Patterson recently announced the appointment of a newly created Alabama Commission on Juvenile Court Legislation to study the far-reaching problem of juvenile delinquency. The 10-member state commission was authorized by a bill sponsored by Rep. Albert Brewer of Decatur and Rep. Tom Bevil of Jasper. The commission is to conduct a "complete and comprehensive study" pertaining to sound juvenile court legislation and make a report to the 1961 Legislature.

Members of the commission, who will serve without pay, were also directed to investigate the "prevention, control and diminution of juvenile delinquency" in Alabama. Their report may result in new legislation affecting the handling of juveniles in state courts. "This is a vital study of one of the most pressing social problems facing our state," said Gov. Patterson. "I assure the commission of my full cooperation and assistance in making this important investigation."

HAVE MORE TURKEY? Famous last words on Thanksgiving Day! And when you're far away from home what you wouldn't give to hear them! Well, why not give the folks at home a Long Distance call—you can almost smell the turkey and taste the pumpkin pie! Or if some member of the family can't come home—give him a call and share all the fun going on at your house. Costs so little, too, because bargain rates are on all Thanksgiving Day.

INEVITABLE QUESTION — what to give so-and-so for Christmas!

Although Christmas is over a month away, still the Day of Decisions is arriving. May I make a suggestion? Here's a gift anyone would love—an Extension phone! Can't you see a teenager's delight with a personal telephone? Or Grandma's? And Dad—he'd be like a bee in clover with a phone of his own in the den. Extension phones, in color, are a happy solution to any Christmas gift problem.

WORLD'S LARGEST SWITCHBOARD! It's in the Pentagon Building and has more than 44,000 telephone outlets! It's staffed by 210 operators. Requires as much telephone service as the average city of 200,000 population! Whether it's important business conducted from that building, or our own everyday calls, it takes a lot of planning and a lot of know-how to meet the needs of modern telephone service.
