The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

Although we appreciate the fact that everyone (almost) has gotten sick and tired of discussing a change in our city government and also that the voters have spoken in no uncertain terms that they do not want a city manager nor a full-time mayor form, especially on the terms as proposed in the last election, still we feel that the present system — which apparently the voters prefer — is inadequate for a growing city such as ours. So, to add confusion to confusion we'll give you a review of our thinking — for what it's worth.

● We believe there is a form of government that would serve the needs of our city and meet the wishes of a great majority of the people. And, we believe, would get the support of the voters. Briefly, why not divide the City of Florence in five districts with each having as near one-fifth of the population as possible. Then, each three years, elect one commissioner from each of these districts, the five men to select one of their number as chairman of the City Commission. The commission would be limited to 50 meetings per year with payment of $20 per meeting for four of the members and $25 per meeting for the chairman. Any additional meetings found necessary would be without payment.

● At the same election, a full-time mayor would be selected who would not be a voting member of the commission but would serve as executive officer of the city and secretary of the commission. As executive officer of the city he would carry out the policies and directives of the city commission. He would be charged with the duty of recommending the employment of all personnel, as well as the discharge of an employee, but both acts would be upon majority vote of the commission. The mayor's duty would be to oversee all departments of the city government and see that the rules and regulations of the city commission were carried out. For these services he would receive a salary of $6,000 to $9,000 per year as established by majority vote of the city commission.

● Under the direction of the city commission it would be the mayor's duty to serve as contact man with all persons, organizations, business concerns and industries having business with the city and give of his time in the promotion of all things good for the community.

● By the election of the mayor and five commissioners once each three years, considerable money can be saved by not scheduling an election each year. If the mayor and commissioners serve competently, it is reasonable to believe that seasoned men will constantly be at the helm of our government and assure its smooth operation. If you agree with us, let our representatives in the State Legislature and our city commissioners know your feelings. If you don't like our idea, please don't jump on us too hard as we are just trying to be helpful.

Belk-Hudson's Florence Store Guttered By Blaze

Fire Is Prevented From Spreading To Adjoining Buildings By Firemen

One of the most disastrous fires in recent years struck the downtown Florence area Thursday morning when the Belk-Hudson Company's store was gutted. The fire was first noticed by store employees at about 8:15 a.m. when acting store manager C. B. Smith, his wife and Ronnie Underwood were sorting orders on the second floor and smelled the smoke coming from the bargain basement.

Flames were coming up the basement stairway near the center of the store by the time the three got down to the main floor, indicating the fire must have originated somewhere in the basement. Neither Smith nor manager Frank Suber could give any indication as to the cause of the fire which had very likely caught much earlier and had smoldered for some hours before finally breaking out.

The building owned by R. A. Stricklin and the Belk-Hudson store were covered by insurance, it was stated.

Although firemen fought the stubborn blaze all day before bringing it under control, they were able to confine it to the building and prevent its spread to the adjoining A & P and Hill supermarkets. Firemen and equipment from Sheffield and Tusculum joined in fighting the blaze, several firemen being overcome by smoke which poured from both the front and rear of the building.

Mr. Suber said the fire happened during the store's peak inventory period when much of the Christmas and winter merchandise had arrived. The store employs 24 persons on a full time basis with a number of these being transferred to the Sheffield store.

It is understood the building will be rebuilt as quickly as possible by Mr. Stricklin for the Belk-Hudson Company though it was not known how soon this could be accomplished.

ON THE WAGON—Eighteen-month-old Bradley Howard, of Minneapolis, Minn., wanted to find out what was in the can he holds. He drank some turpentine that was in it. A dose of mineral oil at the hospital cured him.

Late News

● David J. McDonald, President of United Steelworkers, sent his Wage Policy Committee home Wednesday and stated that steel strike settlement prospects appeared hopeless. McDonald indicated that he felt the next step will be for President Eisenhower to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act to end the 30-day long strike. McDonald said the union will fight any such court injunction, but he pledged the union, failing to upset an injunction, would "obey the law of the land." McDonald, strongly opposing use of the Taft-Hartley measure, again called for appointment of a public fact-finding board to lift the strike issues and recommend a settlement solution. The president had expressed distaste for such a board but had said he would name one if the industry joined the union in endorsing the idea.

● American tenor Mario Lanza, 38, died Wednesday in a Rome hospital after having been hospitalized for about a week. It was reported by a friend that Lanza had suffered a heart attack. Lanza was born in the Little Italy section of Philadelphia. His real name was Alfredo Arnold Cocozza.

● The International Longshoremen's Assn., contended at the start of a Taft-Hartley emergency fact-finding hearing Wednesday, that employer demands in the dock workers' strike would eliminate jobs wholesale. The argument, set forth by I.L.A. attorney Louis Waldman, was filed in a statement Tuesday by President Eisenhower. Creation of the board was the first step toward obtaining a back-to-work injunction halting the strike for 80 days of cooling off and bargaining.

● It was voted Tuesday, Oct. 6, by stockholders of Reynolds Metals Co., and its parent, U.S. Foll Co., to split outstanding common shares three for two and increase authorized common stock. They also voted to change the reclassified stock from $1 par value to no par value. Reynolds shareholders voted to increase the number of authorized common shares from 13 1/2 million to 20 million. U.S. Foll Class A common stock will be increased from 300,000 to 500,000 shares and Class B from 6 million to 10 million shares. All changes will be effective Oct. 13.

Negro Jailed On Assault Charge

Raymond Edwards, a Lauderdale Negro, was jailed Friday by Sheriff's Deputy A. V. McCorkle on warrants charging him with assault with intent to murder and assault with a deadly weapon in connection with an incident on Thursday, Oct. 1.

Edwards was first charged with assault with intent to murder in connection with an alleged attack of a Negro girl, Edith Chandler.

He was later charged with the misdemeanor count of assault with a deadly weapon after allegedly threatening A. J. Darby, Lauderdale farmer, with a shotgun.

Preliminary hearing in the case will be held in Lauderdale Law and Equity Court later this week.

New Post Office For Rogersville

Building To Be Occupied Under Ten-Year Lease Beginning June 1, 1960

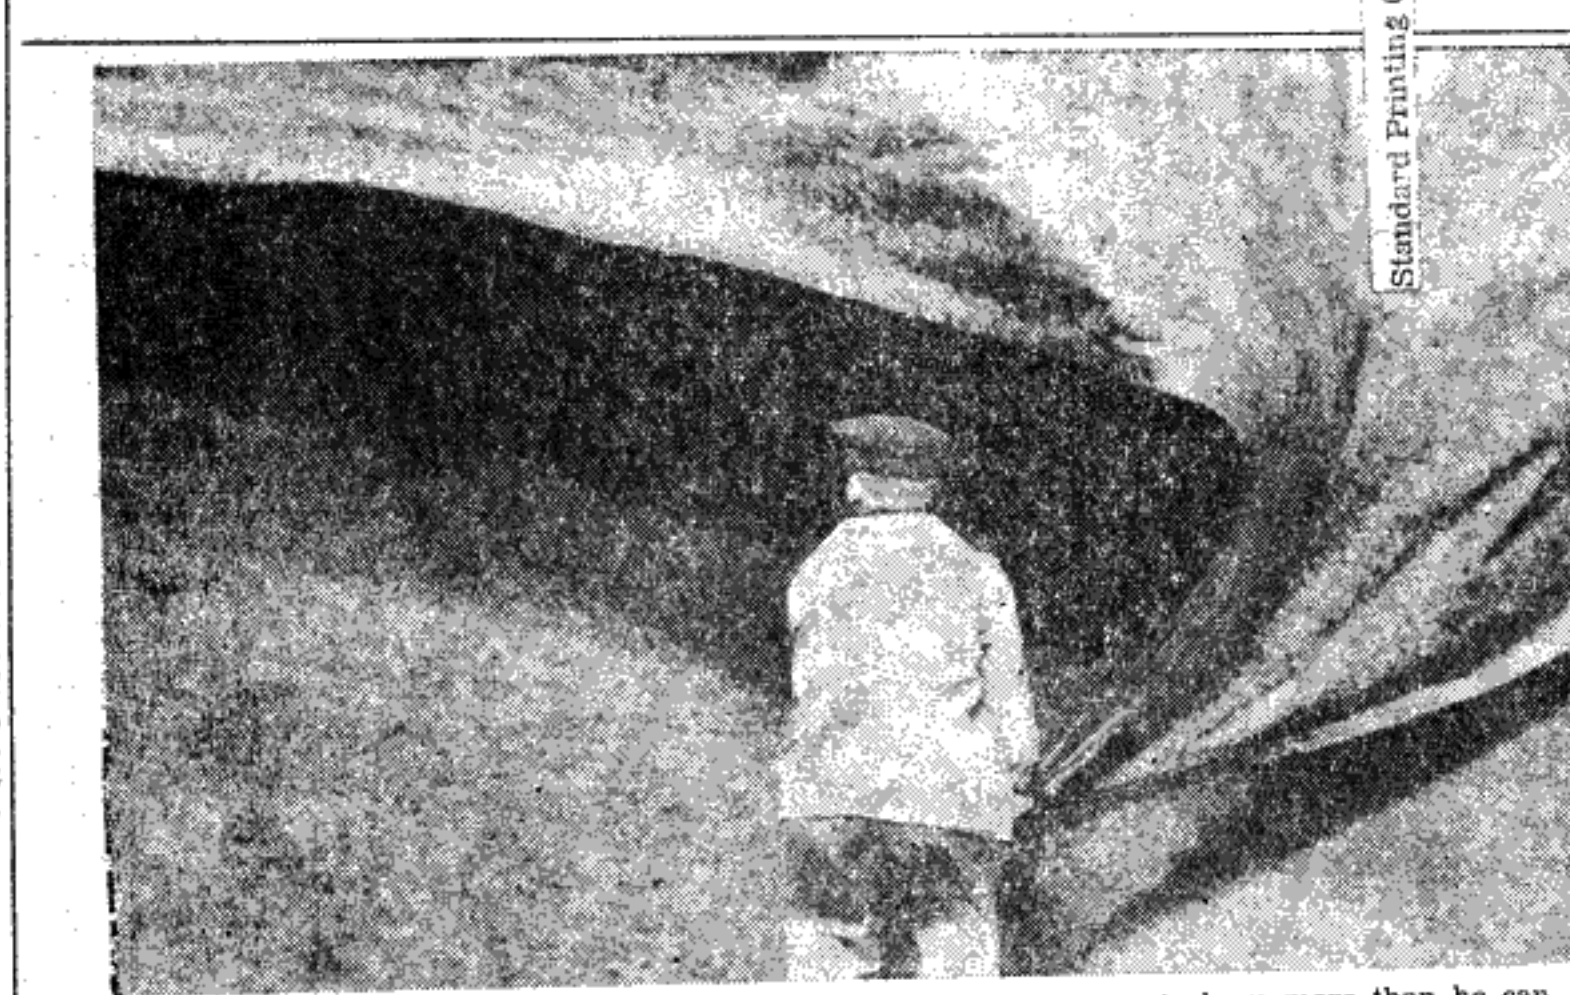

Postmaster General Summerfield has advised Postmaster O. O. Goode that a bid has been accepted to lease quarters for the post office at Rogersville, from Delwood Flanagan of Flanagan Lumber Company, Route 6, Athens, Alabama.

A new brick building containing 2,111 square feet of space will be erected according to the plans and specifications of the Post Office Department on Main Street in Rogersville.

The new building will be occupied under a ten-year term beginning June 1, 1960. It will be provided with modern fluorescent lighting and will be completely air conditioned. The lobby will be divided so that the patrons of the office will have access to their boxes after the office is closed. The Post Office Department will provide the newest and most modern equipment for the service windows and the boxes.

The erection of this building is another step in the program of the Post Office Department to provide better working conditions for the employees of the Post Office and to provide better service to the patrons of the office in a building of which the citizens of Rogersville can be proud.

Plans Completed For County-Wide X-Ray Oct. 12-30

Health Department Urges Everyone To Take Advantage Of Program

Dr. O. L. Burton, Lauderdale County Health Officer, announced this week that plans have now been completed for another mass county-wide x-ray survey scheduled for Lauderdale County from Monday, October 12 through Friday, October 30. This will be the third such program in Lauderdale County in less than ten years and its purpose is to help lower the high incidence of tuberculosis within the county. Dr. Burton said that while tuberculosis was the prime target of this program, the x-ray films will also be read for certain heart diseases, lung cancer, and other non-tuberculous pathology.

Alabama law requires all of its citizens between the ages of 13 and 50 to participate in this program, however, Dr. Burton emphasizes the importance of every man and woman above this required age to certainly take advantage of this free examination. He pointed out that tuberculosis in elderly people is often camouflaged by other chronic disorders and they could unknowingly expose their children and grandchildren to the disease.

State health officials estimate that over twenty-five thousand residents of this area will avail themselves for a free x-ray during the three week program. Arrangements have been made in virtually every community of the county in an effort to make these tests as convenient as possible for everyone. No doubt many excuses will be found for not participating in this program but few if any will be justifiable. Your county health department urges you to place getting a chest x-ray at the top of your personal health agenda and by doing so you will be contributing your part toward the control of tuberculosis in this area. Union Carbide Metals To Diversify Production

Sheffield Plant To Convert Furnace For Manufacture Calcium Carbide

Plans for the production of calcium carbide at Union Carbide Metals Company's Sheffield, Ala., plant were announced today by Union Carbide Corporation. An existing submerged-arc electric smelting furnace at the plant will be converted for calcium carbide production. The furnace was formerly used for ferroalloy production and has been out of service for some time. The remodeling work is expected to be completed and production started by mid-1960. An addition of 25 people to the present work force will be required for its operation.

The furnace will be operated by Union Carbide Metals Company on behalf of Union Carbide Olefins Company. The Olefins company is the division of Union Carbide responsible for the production and sale of acetylene, ethylene, propylene, butadiene, and various other hydrocarbons as well as calcium carbide. The calcium carbide produced at Sheffield will be shipped to Woodstock, Tenn., where it will be used by the Olefins company to generate acetylene for use as a chemical raw material in the operations of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company.

The Sheffield furnace will be the first of the Metals company's facilities in the South to produce calcium carbide. During World War II, the company operated calcium carbide furnaces for the Tennessee Valley Authority at Muscle Shoals, Tennessee.

The industry, established and in operation at its Colbert County location near Wilson Dam in 1940, is one of the Shoals area's most valuable plants, adding many thousands of dollars annually to local payrolls and generously contributing to the civic and cultural well-being of surrounding communities.

Following the formal ceremony at 11 a.m., refreshments were served at the new Barber's Cafeteria on the first floor.

Other guests were Dr. R. L. Archibald, pastor of the Florence First Methodist church; Ben Craig, president of the Florence Chamber of Commerce; Estes Flynt, Lauderdale County Probate Judge; Circuit Judge Robert M. Hill; Mayor C. L. Beard of Sheffield, officials from various departments of the City government, local plant officials, and a number of out-of-town guests.

Harry Bloomfield, of Memphis, Tenn., president of the 412 South Court Corporation, and Henry Sender, vice president of Southern Builders, Inc., which firm constructed the building, hosted the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Chisholm have moved to Albany, Ga.

Action On Bill By Committee Expected Friday

An 82-1 vote by the House Tuesday sent to the Senate the measure which would levy a 10 per cent tax on whiskey and wine to aid Alabama's mentally ill and the aged.

The vote came within 10 minutes after the House convened. The only dissenting vote was cast by Rep. Alfred Goldthwaite of Montgomery County.

This proposal would raise an essential $5 million a year to be divided between the state's three mental institutions and the pension fund for the aged.

If the bill is given a favorable report Friday by the Finance and Taxation Committee, it will be sent to the governor for signature into law next Tuesday. The passage of this measure ended a two-week dispute between Gov. John Patterson and the 18-member Legislative Interim Committee on Mental Health.

Gov. Patterson bitterly objected the proposal recommended by the Alabama Mental Health Assn. that a 7 per cent tax on whiskey and a penny-per-bottle level on beer to raise $6.5 million for the mentally ill, on grounds that it would drop per capita consumption of alcoholic beverages in the state and increase bootlegging.

Remembering his campaign pledge to more than double old age pensions, Patterson vowed to veto the bill if it came to his desk. However, pressure mounted in both Houses of the Legislature and the chief executive agreed to the 10 per cent compromise last week.

Also passed by the House was a proposed $3 million bond issue to finance improvements at the state's three mental hospitals.

The tentative budget recommended by the Interim Mental Health Committee for the estimated $2.5 million for the new tax would include the following:

Raise patient per diem from $2.50 to $3.05 at the state hospitals—$1,794,705.

Psychiatric out-patient clinic of the University of Alabama Medical Center at Birmingham—$50,000.

Medical Center Psychiatric Dept.—$50,000.

Indigent patient care—$100,000.

Scholarship program for resident psychiatric training—$35,000.

Finance the $3 million bond issue—$242,000.

The State's Health Dept.'s mental health division—$100,000.

Establish regional treatment clinic in Mobile—$100,000.

In the meantime, Rep. Emmett Oden of Franklin County renewed his pledge to force his reappointment bill out of the House Judiciary Committee. As he said, "I don't think I will have much trouble."

Patterson opened the reapportionment push Monday with this statement, "I am anxious to reopen the drive for reapportionment as soon as possible. It has reached the point where I can't wait any longer."

Members of the Black Belt bloc have successfully blocked all reapportionment measures since the state constitution was adopted in 1901, and say that they are not worried about the administration's sudden push for a shuffling of legislative seats.

Cotton Harvest Enters Last Stage

In Lauderdale County, farm officials confided that "the cotton crop looks pretty good, better than last year and more of it." They also estimated that the harvest was entering the last half stage and that most of the cotton had opened.

Practically all of the county's cotton is open now, and it is expected that harvesting will continue for another six weeks. Some farms are paying as high as $3.50 for picked cotton.

Lauderdale's assistant county agent, Herman Marks, said, "Cotton has been running pretty good up until the rain. I feel that farmers are somewhere between 60 and 70 per cent along with the crop, and cotton is quite a bit better than last year. It is not uncommon for us to get reports of a bale-and-a-half per acre."

Firemen To Be Commended

Florence firemen, assisted by personnel from Sheffield and Tusculumbia departments are to be commended for their successful efforts in keeping the recent Belk-Hudson fire from spreading to the adjoining A & P and Hill supermarket buildings.

The downtown Florence fire was an ironic prelude to Fire Prevention Week (Oct. 4-10), proving to be one of the worst in recent years in the business area. However, it was a demonstration of the value of trained fire-fighters and modern equipment which are responsible for Florence's very low insurance rate. There is no real economy in having less than the best when it comes to fire-fighting equipment and personnel, as Fire Chief Lovelace has pointed out during Fire Prevention Week.

Florence has a right to be proud of its splendid fire departments.

Still In Second Place

Once again the United States has fallen behind the Russians . . . this time it's a space station weighing approximately a half-ton. Once again America is challenged, almost exactly two years after Russia launched the first Sputnik.

We now enter the third year of the new space age and although this nation has launched more satellites we have not yet launched space vehicles even nearly approaching the payload of the Soviet-launched satellites.

Just for the sake of figures the heaviest we have launched carried a 440-pound payload compared with the Russian's payload of 2925 pounds in Sputnik III. So far our scientists admit we do not have the capacity for launching such a payload and will not until much larger rockets are built.

We not only run second to the Soviets but have since the race started two years ago. Dr. Homer E. Newell, Jr., head of the government's new Aeronautics and Space Administration says we are still behind the Soviets by about the same as we were back at the time of the launching of the first Sputnik.

On this anniversary of the launching of the Sputnik by Russia we might do well to ask ourselves what our relative positions will be two years from now. We can bet our bottom dollars the Soviets are not lessening their efforts.

The space station, while entirely mechanical, may well be the forerunner of a manned space platform, which scientists say can be launched and would give whatever nation is successful domination of the world in the event of an atomic war.

The danger now is great but it will be greater if we grow accustomed to being in second place. We are becoming noted for our apathy.

Veterans' Column

State Dept. of Veterans' Affairs

One special week in the year is "National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week," states W. O. Crumby, Veteran Service Officer, Lauderdale County. This year it comes this week October 4-10. National surveys have proved that disabled veterans, when they've been properly placed in a job for which they've been trained, are just as productive, just as safe from accidents and just as reliable on the job as any bodied fellow-worker on the payroll. Disabled veterans in our town or any other town, have been proving for years that a physical handicap is not necessarily a job handicap. So if you know an employer who has a job opening, remind him about Mr. Disabled Veteran. Tell him all he has to do is get in touch with his local office of the State Employment Service. He'll be like thousands of other employers—glad he did so, states Mr. Crumby.

Now In District 5

The Florence office of the Alabama Department of Veterans Affairs was notified today of its assignment to District 5 under revised management plan. The local office will continue in charge of W. C. Crumby, Veterans Service Officer, but will be under District Manager Carl H. Gentry for supervision. Gentry was named to have charge of several northwest Alabama counties, including Lawrence, Colbert, Franklin, Winston, Lauderdale and Marion, Montgomery headquarters announced today. The Florence office is one of the busiest in this section of Alabama serving veterans from many surrounding communities.

"We never stop trying to improve the quality of our service," said C. C. Horton, Director of the Alabama Department of Veterans Affairs today, "and we believe that the decentralization of authority and the setting up of Districts throughout the state with qualified District Managers in charge will help us provide Alabama veterans and their families with better and more efficient service."

Gentry is a resident of Moulton, Lawrence County, where he will continue to operate the Veterans Affairs office.

Greenhill Farmer Killed By Negro

Night Long Argument Culminated In Shooting Early Monday Morning

A state toxicologist was called early Monday, Oct. 5, to conduct an autopsy into the death of John Michael Newton, 57, a Greenhill farmer who was apparently killed instantly when shot in the chest by a pistol wielded by a Lauderdale Negro, Benjamin Clifford Roulet, 45.

The Negro was brought to Lauderdale County jail by Chief Deputy A. V. McCorkle who said he had been charged with first degree murder, pending preliminary hearing in Lauderdale Law and Equity Court.

According to Roulet's statement to Sheriff Roy L. Call and McCorkle, the trouble started Sunday about 2 p.m. when Michael, who lives some five miles from Roulet's home, came to the Negro's house with a guitar and threatened to hurt him if he did not play the guitar. After playing it for a while, the two got in a car and drove off.

The car ran out of gas on the Bridge Road but they got some gasoline from Ralph Gist, who lived at the scene. They then returned to Roulet's house where Michael supposedly knocked and kicked the Negro around until early morning. Roulet stated that he then asked Michael to go home and Michael drew a knife on him. That is when Roulet shot him.

Roulet had been out on the side of the face by a pocket knife allegedly in the hands of Michael that Michael was attacking him with when he fired two shots from a .38 caliber Smith and Wesson revolver.

Witnesses at the scene reported that there was some drinking involved in the night-long event which is still being investigated by the Lauderdale Sheriff's office.

TESTING PROGRAM TO HOLD KICK-OFF

Soviets Launch Space Station

The Russians announced Sunday, Oct. 3, that they had successfully launched an interplanetary station into orbit. The launching was carried out with the aid of a multistage rocket with the last stage of the rocket reaching sufficient speed to put the automatic interplanetary station into orbit. The official Soviet News Agency Tass said that the orbit had been selected so that the station will pass near and around the moon.

Cuban Airliner Seized

The seizure of a Cuban airliner by passengers carrying grenades forced the pilot to fly to Miami and brought on a new security drive against anti-government activities in Havana Saturday. Air Force Chief Juan Almeida issued orders prohibiting night flights of private planes over Cuba without prior government clearance. If the normal pattern is followed, government authorities will reimpose personal searches of passengers flying Cuba's internal airlines in order to prevent individuals seeking to flee Cuba from carrying arms aboard the planes.

Rocket Powder Kills Two

A thousand pounds of experimental rocket powder blew up Monday, Oct. 5, at the Hercules Powder Co., in Kenvil, N. J., killing two men. The powder was a high impulse fuel to be used to power the Minuteman intercontinental missile, a solid fuel rocket now being developed. Police said bodies of two men were found in the rubble. They were identified as Vincent Preziosi, of Netcong, N. J., and William K. Brown, a native of Ishpeming, Mich. Three men were slightly injured.

Youth Killed In Freak Accident

W. E. (Billy) Croxton, Jr., of 3419 Alpine Ave., Huntsville, was killed Monday in Anniston in a freak accident. He and his father had come to Anniston Friday night to visit Billy's sister. Billy was killed when his head got caught between a tree limb and the frame of the car he was driving. As he was driving his father's car into the driveway, he saw a small child playing there. When he opened the door partially so that he could watch the child, a limb of a tree caught in the car door and crushed the boy's skull against the car frame.

Elephant Stampedes Church-Goers

On Sunday, St. Angelo's Church had an unexpected visitor. Just as a woman worshipper was crossing herself, she raised her eyes in time to see an elephant charging down the aisle. Persons in the church leaped into the pews, and a number of women screamed and fainted. The elephant, a circus beast named Mary, walked to the altar and stopped, then turned around and stepped out of the church. But just as things were getting settled once more, back came Mary. Three times she went up and down the aisle. Mary had escaped from the Piazza where the circus had gathered for a blessing on the feast day of St. Francis of Assisi, the patron of animals. According to her trainer, she had been frightened by a herd of camels.

Shotgun Blast Injures Eight

Eight persons were injured Monday night when a shotgun was fired into a group of teen-agers gathered at a local drive-in restaurant in Talladega. Treated at Citizens Hospital and later dismissed were Mike Roberson, 20 of Alpine; Wayne Fincher, 17; Donnie Morrison, 19; Joe Charles Cooley, 22; Lonnie Clever, 22; Jimmy Norred, 22; Donald Grogan, 19; and Roger Wyatt, 20, all of Talladega. Acting Police Chief John Farriss said that the boys saw the flash from the blast and thought a tire had blown out. "We have not been able to establish any motive for the incident," Farriss said. "We have not had any outbreak of violence among teen-agers here," he added.

GOVERNOR PATTERSON APPRECIATES EDITORIAL

Editor: I wish to thank you for the editorial support which the Florence Herald has given us in our long fight to enact a good small loan regulatory bill. I know you are pleased that the House of Representatives has now passed an effective anti-loan shark bill, and I only hope that the Senate gives us a final bill which has some teeth in it.

Our most crucial fight lies ahead in the State Senate, and I once again call on you to help us. This is the best chance we have ever had to control the loan sharks in Alabama.

Sincerely yours,

Day Of Atonement Artificial Larynx Observed Set Developed By Bell

Members Of Tri-Cities Jewish Congregation To Observe Yom Kippur

The holiest day of the Jewish religious calendar, Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, will be observed locally and throughout the world on Monday, October 12.

It will be marked at Temple B'nai Israel of the Tri-Cities Jewish congregation with solemn ritual, prayer, fasting and a soul-searching introspection. Dr. J. S. Gallinger, Rabbi of the Temple which serves the Jewish families in Northwest Alabama, will be in the pulpit. Members of the Temple reside in the Tri-Cities, Athens, Decatur, Moulton, Haleyville and Russellville. The High Holy Day period of the Jewish calendar started with the New Year's Day, Rosh Hashanah, last Saturday and will end with the call of the Shofar, the ram's horn, symbolizing Abraham's unquestioning faith which concludes the Day of Atonement.

Rabbi Gallinger has taken as his theme for this period the grace of God which stretches like Jacob's ladder down to man, but which requires man's personal effort at self-improvement at moral, ethical and spiritual growth, by which he must lift himself to salvation. Having spoken earlier this week on self-evaluation which leads to God and faith, his message for this Friday is on the topic: "Through Faith to Fortitude" and for Sunday evening, "Through Fortitude to Courage." On Monday, he will speak on "Through Courage to Love" and "Through Love to Happiness."

Services on Sunday evening will start at 8 o'clock and on Monday morning at 10 o'clock when they will be continued throughout the remainder of the day. Morris Kilbanoff is president of the Tri-Cities Jewish Congregation and Mrs. Gary Florman is president of its affiliated Sisterhood.

Southern Seeks Airways Permit

Frank W. Hulse, Birmingham, president of Southern Airways, Inc., announced Friday, Oct. 2, the filing with the Civil Aeronautics Board of two applications for exemption authority which would permit Southern to operate between Nashville, Tenn. and Jackson, Miss., via Florence, Sheffield, Tusculumbia (Muscle Shoals) and Columbus, Miss., and between Nashville and Memphis via Jackson, Tenn.

The award to Southern of the Nashville-Jackson, Miss. authority was recently announced by the CAB in a press release covering its tentative vote in the Southeastern Area Local Service Case.

Granting to Southern of the authority sought by this exemption will enable Southern to extend present operated flights now originating in New Orleans, beyond Columbus to Nashville and thus provide Nashville and Muscle Shoals with their first one-plane service to Nashville.

If Southern is successful in this endeavor, it will immediately inaugurate service with two round trips daily. This would enable Southern to provide the much needed service some nine months earlier than would otherwise be possible under normal Board procedure which would delay inauguration of service until May or June of 1960.

President Harold Cater, who has just returned from the National Convention of the Exchange Clubs in Minneapolis, announced that Clarence McDormand, of Birmingham, has been elected national president and that the 1960 national convention would be held in Birmingham.

Home Ceremony Marks Womble-Graves Nuptials

In the presence of a small guest company, Patricia Ann Womble became the bride of Wayne Milton Graves in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Robert Womble, 2329 Chisholm Road, on Saturday, September nineteenth.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Graves of Sharps Mill Road.

Byron Davis, minister of Mars Hill Church of Christ, read the six o'clock vows before an improvised livingroom altar decorated with arrangements of white stock and yellow roses against a background of Boston ferns.

For the occasion of her wedding, the bride wore a Doir blue street-length dress with feathered hat of matching shade and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Johnnie Sue Thompson and Jackie Perry served as wedding attendants, Miss Thompson wearing a yellow and white silk frock with black accessories.

At the reception which followed the ceremony, the hosts were assisted by Miss Elaine Womble and Mrs. Boone Harrison.

Corrosion control helps keep our pipelines healthy

Pipelines are subject to corrosion. You are probably best acquainted with corrosion in the form of rust or the greenish accumulation on battery cables.

Texas Eastern is working actively and constantly to stop corrosion and keep its pipelines delivering natural gas without expensive interruptions to replace corrosion-pitted pipe sections.

Corrosion is an electrochemical action. It takes place when a natural electric current flows from a bare spot on the pipe into the earth—taking along with it minute particles of metal.

So, we electrically isolate the pipe from the surrounding soil. When we lay a pipeline, the mechanical monster shown above encases the pipe in a double wrapping of extra-heavy, extra-tough glass fiber and an outer wrap over a coating of tar or other pipeline enamels.

However, even a minor break in the insulation can be an open door for corrosive action. To guard against this, we set up our second line of defense: cathodic protection.

Current is sent into the pipe to retard the corrosive current flow from the metal. We have two ways of attaining this protection. The first is by using a "rectifier unit" (right) which converts home-style alternating current to direct current, sends it through conductor cables to buried ground beds of expendable materials, such as graphite or iron, and then through the soil to the pipeline.

The second method could be called the "dry cell" method. Galvanic anodes, consisting of magnesium or zinc, are buried near and connected to the pipeline. They act in the same manner as the zinc of a flashlight battery—and send a current through the earth to the steel pipe, which "stands in" for the cell's carbon. It takes time—and money—to determine what special protection, if any, a given section of pipe needs. But the cost of corrosion control is actually an investment that pays off in the lengthened life of the pipeline and continuous service.

This is one of a series of monthly reports on the diversified activities of Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation.

Mrs. Schmidtkofer

Reveals Nuptial Plans

Saturday, October tenth, has been chosen by Jacqueline Ann Schmidtkofer of Florence and David Joseph Berrens of St. Florian as their wedding day.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Joseph Schmidtkofer, will be given in marriage by her father in a morning ceremony at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Florence, with the Reverend Father Paul Koehler, O.S.B., minister of the church, reading the ten o'clock vows.

Miss Betty Jo Schmidtkofer will be her sister's maid of honor and other attendants will be Miss Glenda Schmidtkofer and Mrs. John Moore, cousins of the bride, Miss Grace Berrens, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Joseph Rudolph. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jacob Berrens, the bridegroom has asked John Kreiger to serve him as best man and ushers will include John Moore, Joe Rudolph, Lawrence Locker and Joseph Kasmeier.

Miss Sylvia Beckham, organist, and Miss Mary Ann Franck, vocalist, will present a program of nuptial music.

A reception in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Connolly, Jr., on Jackson Highway will immediately follow the ceremony.

Among the pre-nuptial courtesies tendered in honor of Miss Schmidtkofer was the gift tea of Sunday afternoon, September 27, hostessed by her aunt, Mrs. Harry Schmidtkofer.

Entertaining at her home between the hours of three and five, the hostess greeted guests with the honoree, her mother, Mrs. G. J. Schmidtkofer, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Paul Berrens, against a flowering background of white gladioli and greenery lighted by white tapers in silver stands.

The bride-elect chose for the occasion a two-piece frock of black velvet with which she wore an orchid corsage.

The silver-appointed teatable was veiled in a cloth of white hand-crocheted lace over green taffeta and centered with a figurine in bridal attire garlanded with white mums.

Assisting were Misses Glenda and Mary Elizabeth Schmidtkofer, cousins of the honoree, Mrs. Paul Schmidtkofer, her aunt, and Miss Jeanie Clayton.

Guests numbered nearly one hundred.

Hypatians Meet

With Miss Shepard

Seventeen members of the Hypatian Club were joined by two guests, Mrs. Thomas Ashcroft and Mrs. Joseph Meade, Sr., for the meeting at The Town Club on Thursday afternoon, October first, when Miss Gladys Shepard was the day's hostess.

Mrs. Robert Martin presided during a brief business period preceding the program, a review by Mrs. W. F. Frost who delighted her listeners with a presentation of "Three Hundred Years of American Painting," by Alexander Eliot, Art Editor of Time Magazine.

Descriptive of this outstanding contribution to American literature is a comment from the New York Times Book Section, "This is the first time that the masterworks of America's painters have been assembled in a continuing story that reflects the full sweep of American life and thought, not only about painting, this book is also about PAINTERS and AMERICA."

Mrs. A. J. Flowers and Mrs. Martin assisted Miss Shepard with teatime courtesies.

Pre-nuptial Fetes

Bobbie Lee Phelps

A linen and kitchen shower hostessed on Friday evening October second, by Mrs. Rube Wade and Mrs. Sam Gilmore at the home of the former on Emerald Beach Road was a pretty complement to bride-elect Bobbie Lee Phelps whose marriage to Raymond Mitchell will be an event of tomorrow evening in Killen Memorial Baptist Church.

Wearing an embroidery-trimmed frock of teal blue cotton, the honoree and her mother, Mrs. B. W. Phelps, received informally with the hostesses.

Arrangements of early Fall blossoms decorated the party rooms and centered the refreshment table which was spread with white lace over pink linen.

Mrs. Wanda Gilmore assisted in serving punch and individual pink-and-white frosted cakes to the twenty guests who called at half past seven o'clock.

Miss Mary Nell Parker's Engagement Announced

Miss Mary Nell Parker and Walter Sherman Cantrell, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Cantrell of Columbia, Tennessee, will exchange nuptial pledges late this month in Tusculum Church of Christ.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Collins Parker of Iron City, Tennessee, who has made the announcement, and the late Mrs. Pearl Wimberly Parker of Killen. Formerly employed at Florence Clinic, Miss Parker was graduated from T. M. Rogers School and now has a position in Nashville.

The prospective bridegroom was graduated from Columbia High School and is also employed in Nashville.

October twenty-fifth has been chosen as their wedding day.

Current Events Club

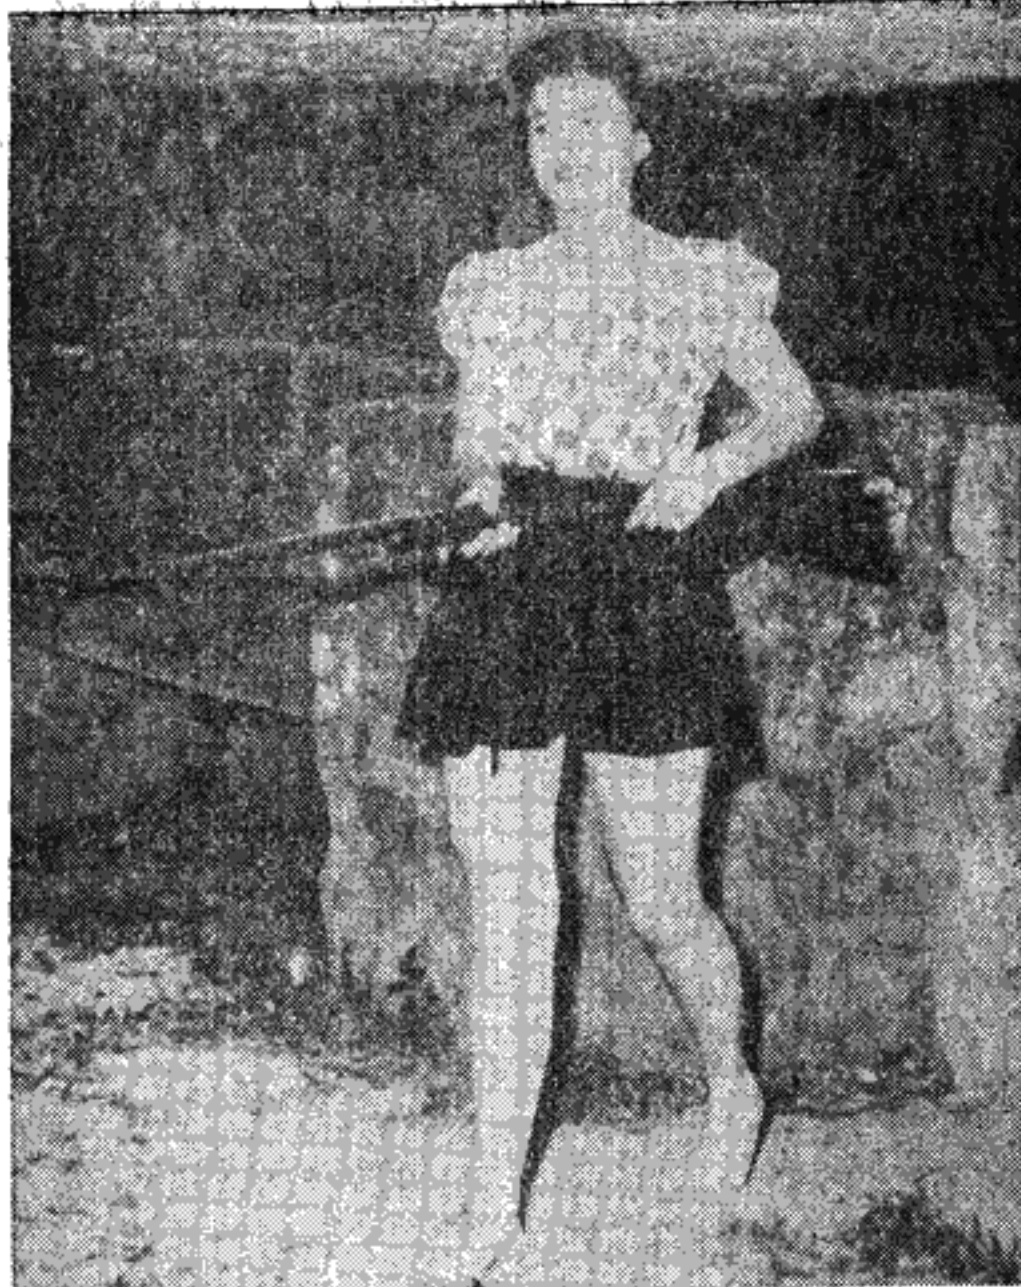

Hears Mrs. McElheny

Mrs. Leo King was hostess to the Thursday, October first, meeting of Current Events Club, welcoming eighteen members to her home, 615 North Wood Avenue, at half past three o'clock.

Mrs. W. T. McElheny gave the afternoon's program, choosing for review "Sight and Insight," a 1959 publication by the distinguished critic and art historian, Alexander Eliot, who breaks through the silent world of masterpieces to make them live anew in the eye of the imagination.

Mrs. B. V. Bender and Mrs. Charles Nance assisted the hostess during the refreshment hour.

Sixty guests were invited to the "Merry-Go-Round Party" on Wednesday afternoon, September 30, and a real merry-go-round, balloons and horns and a festive "circus" cake were delightful features of the three 'til half past four o'clock affair.

Chamber Fund Now Over $22,000

The grand total of the Florence Chamber of Commerce $35,000 building fund now stands at $22,111 after receiving six more member-accounts Saturday contributing a total of $184 toward financing the South Pine Street project.

The six added to the honor roll were Eastern Air Lines, Hibbett and Sons Sporting Goods, Norwood Grill, Reynolds Metals Company's alloys plants, Sammie's

Cellar and Shanty Restaurants.

An even 300 of the Chamber's 435 member-accounts have responded to the plea of the Chamber's officers, directors and building committee members to help finance the project. There have been only 18 refusals.

In an effort to wind up the campaign as soon as possible all member-accounts are asked to respond shortly if they have not already done so. Chamber officials have already begun the task of contacting those unheard from on a personal basis, but this work takes time.

Pair Charged In Armed Robbery

Lauderdale Men Are Arraigned On Two Separate Charges

Two Lauderdale white men, each charged with two specific cases of armed robbery, were arraigned Friday and Saturday before Judge Robert M. Hill of Lauderdale County Circuit Court.

Earl M. Dowdy, Jr., and Homer Cooper were charged jointly with the robberies of a hitch-hiker and a service station attendant. Both men entered pleas of not guilty through their attorneys. Dowdy was arraigned Friday and was represented by Attorney W. A. Barnett of Florence.

Arraignment for Cooper followed Saturday morning when he was represented by a court-appointed attorney Norman Daniel of Florence after informing the court that he did not have funds at hand to employ an attorney.

The pair were charged with armed robbery in holding up hitch-hiker Raymond Wells and relieving him of $42.35, plus a suitcase filled with clothing and personal items. They were also indicted for the robbery of a service station operator from whom they took $80, allegedly by force.

Circuit Solicitor W. L. Almon represented the State of Alabama at the arraignment proceedings.

THE SPILLWAY

WITH PIGSKIN SEASON in full swing
It's very hard to know
Which classic date most thrills will bring
Or down which road to go . . .

A GOOD CHOICE for last weekend was the 'Bama-Vandy game in Nashville . . . where every single minute was packed with sixty seconds of really THRILLING thrills . . . and in which contest for the third time in as many years . . . the score was a tie . . .

NOTED 'mongst the MANY Florentines who mingled with the cheering throngs were Grace and Ed Smoot . . . having a really SUPER time . . . while homefront radios busily relayed a play-by-play account . . . and Florence telephones buzzed as family members and groups of interested friends exchanged brief and animated comments . . .

CLAIMING EVEN MORE attention in some sports circles is the World Series (baseball) games . . . and among the spectators in Chicago for the second game of the current season were Jean and Tom Rogers . . . whose reports have made us simply GREEN with ENVY . . .

WITH EYES AND ears trained on Birmingham and The State Fair during the present week . . . we watch with prideful interest our Lauderdale County representative in the Maid of Cotton Contest . . . Carol Price . . . daughter of Elizabeth and Albert of 902 Olive Street . . . whose lovely likeness smiled from the pages of the Birmingham P-H recently . . . is doing us proud this very minute . . .

OTHER DECORATIVE SCENERY migrating from Florence to Birmingham can be found on the Hilltop Campus in the presence of Barbara Godfrey and Anne Beadle . . . Faye Vines and Angela White . . .

AMONG THE TRIPPERS of the moment are Alicia and (the Reverend) Ed Mullen . . . who left Sunday for a leisurely jaunt Texas-ward . . . where they'll spend their wedding anniversary in the town in which they said their I DO's thirty years ago . . . and where (we think) he held his first pastorate . . . It's their annual vacation time and our best wishes join hundreds of others . . .

TWAS off to New York for Ruth Matthews and (son) Binky . . . who're attending a Coca Cola Company convention in The Big Town . . . and were joined for the trip by (Ruth's sister-in-law) Emily Eyster of Scottsboro . . . They'll remain for a week or more of vacation in NEW YORK CITY . . . with NEW SHOWS at the top of their list of MUSTS . . . AND Martha and Jim Gilbert left Sunday to visit with "Little Lucille" (Gilbert) and Brick Matthews in Corpus Christi . . . They'll remain for a couple weeks . . .

WHICH REMINDS US . . . Mentioning Jim . . . we suddenly thought of a TV program . . . "Your Knight In Shining Armor" . . . and of the many instances when he has been "a knight" to his friends in recent months . . . It's on our mind . . . and we thought it should be said . . .

ONE THOUGHT leads to another . . . The TV program "What's My Line" . . . is lining up an interesting contestant in the person of Mildred Miller of Garland, N. Let's Talk It Over
By SARA SAZE

Dear Sara Saze,
I'm afraid you're going to think I'm "one of those guys," but the honest truth is I'm a hard-working family man and I believe anybody who knows me would tell you that I'm straightforward as the day is long.

The thing that's happened to me shouldn't have happened to a dog. My wife's aunt—the most meddlesome woman who ever drew a breath—came last month to pay us a visit. (She's never invited, but she comes every single fall.)

Her most objectionable habit is that she rambles through every inch of our house from the cellar to the attic. Desk drawers. Private papers. I've never actually wanted her to know how much balance remains against the refrigerator, let us say, but she finds that out, too. Completely unbidden.

The last straw is that she's "just come across" some letters which I've been putting in an old duffle bag in the attic. They're from a girl I broke off with long ago, but started corresponding with last winter just for the heck of it.

Now, I ask you, how does a man explain to his wife and children that he was just entertaining himself with something sort-of-different and harmless. More to break the monotony than anything else. I have no idea which way to turn. Please help me out.

"Caught In A Trap."

Dear "Caught,"

I imagine you've helped yourself out. Probably, clear out.

And don't hand me that baloney about being a "family man." You tempt me to ask, WHICH family?

And that business about trying "to break the monotony." There's some, you know, who find marriage just full of excitement and thrills.

Sort of different, you say? Well, maybe. But there're probably a great many more sneaky two-timers floating around than we have

The only advice I have for you is that you face your wife with the truth. Promise to turn over a new leaf and stick to it. And spare the children if there's any way. It works a great hardship on them when they have to look down on their parents.

Memo to Dreamer:

I do have a Dictionary of Dreams. However, the foreword explains that "this is not intended to serve as an authentic analysis," etc. So, remember that these definitions are given only as interesting folklore.

Strontium 90 In Tennessee River

Scientists State Level
Far Below Danger
Point In Valley Area

For the second time in less than six months the amount found in tests 4.8 micromicrograms per liter— is still far below the danger point.

However, the U. S. Public Health service said the amount found in tests 4.8 micromicrograms per liter— is still far below the danger point. Strontium 90 is a by-product of nuclear explosions. In large amounts it can cause leukemia, bone tumors and cancer.

The national committee on radiation protection and measurements, established by the public health service, has set the maximum permissible level of strontium 90 at 80 micromicrograms per liter. However, many leading medical and scientific authorities have expressed the opinion that the level for public safety is considerably below that amount.

Both tests showed the Tennessee River had a higher level of the radioactive material than any other stream in the country. Sampling point for both tests was at Chattanooga.

Related in name and good looks—the new COMPACT CORVAIR and CHEVROLET

A strong family resemblance between the all-new Corvair and Chevrolet's conventional line of passenger cars for 1960 is evident in this unusual profile view. At 180 inches, however, the Corvair is more than two and one-half feet shorter, while its 108-inch wheelbase compares with 119 on the Impala Sport Sedan with which it appears.

Elegance and chassis refinements characterize the larger Chevrolets in an offering of 16 passenger models. The Corvair introduces an array of compact mechanical innovations designed to provide the riding and driving qualities demanded by the American buyer. The Corvair and conventional model will be in dealer showrooms Oct. 2.

Polka-dot pajamas—striped pajamas—the occasion? Florence State Lions first home game which is the ONE time of the year that it is acceptable to wear p.j.s to a football game... acceptable for Freshmen Rats, that is!

The Froshie climax to a highly successful Rat Week (which extended over a period of four weeks, by the way!) will be the Pajama Parade.

All Freshmen are required to wear pajamas to the game and a colorful band it will be... marching around the field in hilarious attire.

Following the game between the Lions and Livingston State Saturday night, a dance will be held in the gym.

The ROTC companies recently selected nine girls to serve as sponsors. They were chosen on the basis of high moral character, appearance, and personality.

The Lion's Den, center of campus fun, has been packed to the rafters every Tuesday night when the SGA sponsors music by Tommy VanSandt (who broadcasts the program directly from the Den over a local radio station); and rock-n-roll bands furnish the jiving on Thursday night.

"Dogpatch Days" are upon us! At At FSC, it is that time again—Sadie Hawkins Week — proclaimed for October 12-15.

Gettin' that man will be the main objective of the female population next week on campus. Girls will buy the cokes, pay for the movie tickets, and exchange places with the boys!

Movie night, a hayride, Wednesday night church, and the "big blast" — the Dogpatch Party at the gym will highlight next week's activities.

Anna Hollingsworth, social chairman of WSGA, is in charge of the plans.

The Conservation Club met and elected officers to serve for the year. Chosen were: Gene Dickerson, president; Harold Adcock, vice-president; Martha Hensley, treasurer; and Glenn Robertson, reporter.

Sponsors of the group are Dr. Hershey and Capt. Brown.

On the "meeting" side of things, the Kappa Delta Pi meets tonight at 7:30 in Rogers Hall; ACS meets in Room 29, Bibb Graves Hall at 7:00.

A pep rally will be held in the amphitheater, beginning at 7:00.

Coming attraction — Charm Week, October 19-23, when Miss Charming will be elected from the Freshman class.

ARRANGEMENT FOR SINGLE MAN MILKING OPERATION

The best milking parlor arrangement for a one-man operation with less than 40 cows is probably the herringbone double-four plan.

According to API Extension Dairyman Sam Jones, Jr., research records prove that with this arrangement a single operator may handle 40 cows per hour and any emergencies that may arise. Paved barnyards are an essential part of this system, he says. They keep the cows cleaner and reduce the time spent preparing udders during the milking operation.

Bible Comment:

Does Man Have The Right to Kill in War?

From the time of Moses, probably no commandment has been so persistently disregarded as the sixth, "Thou shalt not kill."

From the beginning, men have set their own private limits upon the terms of this edict. Its breach has been on a vast scale.

We need not look to the ancients for incidents of barbarism and slaughter. In our own century we have seen mass killing and genocide of almost unbelievable proportions.

Many Christians are divided on whether the commandment applies to killing in warfare.

The assumption that it is all right to kill when a constituted government orders, is a further limitation on the commandment. It obscures the fact that the constituted authority itself may be acting on an immoral basis.

Millions of persons have met death and committed mass murder at the whim of a dictator or at the instruction of a government.

Some churchmen feel that it is the right of the individual to weigh the morality of going to war.

If you purchase stolen property, they will say, you do not gain more right to the article than the thief had when he stole it.

Similarly, our participation in mass killing does not absolve us from moral liability for our actions if the decision of the government was motivated by aggression or a warped sense of national justice.

That is why some men elect to stand as pacifists during wartime, feeling that they are bound to kill no man.

Others hold that there is a point at which pacifism breaks down — when you yourself are attacked. A man of peace, they aver, has a right to expect others to be the same. When they are not, the limit on the sixth commandment must be enlarged.

Traffic Accident Hospitalizes Four

Station Wagon Burns Friday While Family Enroute To Waterloo

A traffic accident in Lauderdale County over the weekend left four persons hospitalized.

Four members of one family were hurt in a wreck at 4:30 p.m. Sunday when the driver of an automobile pulled out from a side road and was sideswiped by an approaching vehicle.

The accident occurred four miles west of Florence on County Road No. 6. It was reported by the Highway Patrol that Mrs. Betty Ruth Wallace of Rt. 2, Florence, pulled out in front of another car being driven by Alfred Paul Harrison of Russellville.

All of those injured were passengers in Harrison's car and were taken to Eliza Coffee Memorial Hospital, where they were confined. Mr. Harrison suffered cuts on the face and bruises; Mrs. Dorothy Harrison suffered bruises and cuts on the face and a broken right arm; Brenda Sue Harrison, 13, suffered a bruised right leg and bruises on the head and Shirley Ann Harrison, 8, incurred a broken right leg and bruises.

Damage in the accident was listed at $600.

After a little girl's complaint that she was getting hot sitting in the back seat of an automobile, followed only seconds later by other children in the back seat seeing sparks and flames shooting from underneath the rear of the vehicle, the driver, Mrs. Dale Roby realized that the car was on fire and applied the brakes. They failed to work and it took some 150 yards for the car to be halted as Mrs. Roby finally put it in park and skidded to the shoulder of the road.

Florence firemen were called to the scene, but arrived too late to save the car from being totally demolished by fire.

Mrs. Roby, 2208 Sherrod Avenue, who is a teacher at Florence Junior High School, reported that she, her three children, three other children, and two adults were traveling toward Waterloo Friday when the automobile caught on fire. No one was hurt.

Color-Tour Group In Shoals Area

Forty-five travel editors and counselors from all over the United States and Canada were the guests of the Muscle Shoals area on Tuesday.

It was announced earlier by the Florence Chamber of Commerce and the Muscle Shoals Chamber of Commerce, Sheffield, through managers C. Hewlett Jackson and Ed Deblor, that the Color Tour group here this week was a part of the annual state-wide trek.

The visitors arrived here from Huntsville and had lunch at Howard Johnson Restaurant as guests of the Florence Chamber.

Following the luncheon the visitors were shown all the Tri-Cities area's sites and projects.

Tuesday evening they were the guests of the two Chambers at a big fish fry and outing at an unannounced place, and spent the night at the Muscle Shoals Hotel in Sheffield.

They left Wednesday morning for a visit to the Dismals, Natural Bridge, and onward to Tuscaloosa.

Drownings Drop In Valley Lakes

Thus far this year there have been eleven fewer accidental recreational drownings in TVA lakes than during the same period in 1958, TVA reported today. Fifty persons have lost their lives during the first nine months of 1959 while using the lakes for boating, swimming, or fishing. At this time a year ago 61 had succumbed.

TVA lakes that have shown gains are: Kentucky with 8 this year against 15 last year; Wheeler this year against 9; Fort Loudoun 2 against 4; Wilson 2 against 3; Hiwassee none against 3; Chatuge none against 1; Norris 1 against 4.

Loss of life has been greater this year than last on Guntersville, Pickwick, Hales Bar, Cherokee, Watts Bar, Douglas, Great Falls, South Holston, and Watauga. Chickamauga, Boone, and Fontana have had the same number of recreational drownings so far this year as last.

Handicapped Are Rehabilitated In Local Counties

It was announced this week by W. M. Wilson, District Supervisor of the Vocational Rehabilitation Department, that 94 handicapped adults in Colbert, Lauderdale and Franklin counties were rehabilitated and placed into employment during the fiscal year which ended Sept. 30.

Mr. Wilson made the annual report as part of "Employ the Physically Handicapped Week," being observed locally and nationally Oct. 4-10.

Both the Colbert and Lauderdale County United Fund organizations are contributing toward a continuous workshop of vocational rehabilitation to be held in the area.

The report showed that 44 persons in Lauderdale were rehabilitated during the year.

Telephone Talk

THERE'S A GREAT TV SHOW FRIDAY NIGHT When the Bell Telephone Hour begins a new season of special hour-long programs. There'll be music, singing and dancing by such fine entertainers as the Kingston Trio, Red Nichols and his Five Pennies, Connie Boswell and Alfred Drake. And the 57-piece Bell Telephone Orchestra will be on hand. The show's in color, too, on NBC-TV. Remember, it's this Friday, October 9th, at 10 P.M., EST (9 P.M., CST). Check your newspaper for local time and station.

SPEAKING OF TELEVISION, many homes have a special kind of TV interference — the teenager telephone chats. The young people have a lot to talk about, what with all the school and social activities. Still, the rest of the family want to hear TV or radio, or maybe just have their own conversations. You can make the whole family happy by giving teenagers a bedroom extension phone. Then, they can chat in private and not bother anyone. Just call our Business Office and see how little an extension phone costs.

I SOMETIMES WONDER if folks realize what great work it takes to get out the newspapers that serve our communities. The papers are mighty important to all of us.

Newspaper folks are observing National Newspaper Week October 15-21 and Sigma Delta Chi, the professional journalism fraternity, is celebrating its 50th anniversary. Hats off to the journalists for doing a good job of keeping us informed. The better informed we are, the better our chances to keep our freedoms. A free press is one of the foundations of democracy.

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER — STAYS TOGETHER"

Fred spends about 1,000 hours each year in school. When he graduates from high school he will have sat in classrooms for 12,000 hours.

Plus homework Miss Harkins assigned nine pages of science today. Mr. Brent expects a book report tomorrow. And so it goes every school day—every year.

Don't let Fred's crowded school roster worry you. He is getting an education—the fine education every American child is entitled to. Let Fred's empty spiritual roster worry you. He is spending ZERO hours in Church School. He is getting NO religious education. And his tragedy is shared by MILLIONS OF AMERICAN YOUTH.

A new kind of homework is needed. By friendly encouragement, by sincere interest, by the example of our own families in faithful church life—we must inspire the Freds and their parents to take advantage of the spiritual opportunities that America's churches offer.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and spiritual support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Farm Review and Forecast

Eggs may be graded on the basis of quality or size, or both. One important fact to remember, however, is that quality and size are not related in any way.

Use fresh green beans within a few days after they are picked or purchased. They keep better in a moisture-proof bag or container.

Now is the time to add that extra room, build that patio or do any of the other things you've been planning for your home.

Hunting Season In Full Swing

The dove is a symbol of peace—except to hunters during certain seasons of the year.

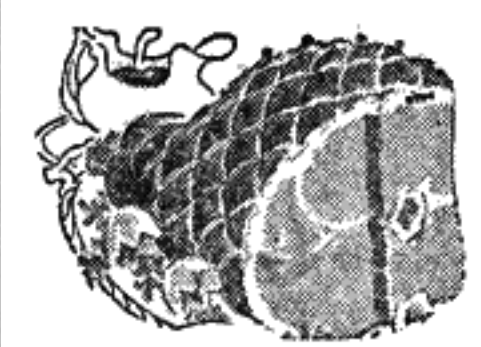

The dove season opened throughout Alabama on Oct. 1 and will end Oct. 31. API Extension Wildlife Specialist Earl Kenamer says the dove season is split, the second part running from Nov. 29 to Jan. 1. Oct. 1 also marked the beginning of possum and raccoon season, which will last until Feb. 20.

Right on the heels of dove season comes rabbit hunting—Oct. 15 through Feb. 20. In North Alabama squirrels may be hunted from Oct. 15 through Jan. 1. South of Highway 80, squirrel season lasts from Nov. 1 through Jan. 15.

According to Kenamer, deer season will start Nov. 10 through New Year's Day, generally speaking. However, there are differences in the opening and closing dates for deer in certain parts of the state. Be sure to check the dates for your own county. For quail, the aristocrat of game, hunting lasts from Nov. 26 to Feb. 20.

"Duck season opens on Nov. 25 and lasts until Jan. 3," says the specialist, "but the duck situation does not look to promising at this time."

Fat Cattle May Not Be Profitable

Calves born in the late spring and summer are often too light in weight for profitable marketing in the fall.

Alabama cattlemen are showing more interest in grazing and feeding these cattle to heavier weights, reports API Extension Livestockman Bob Farquhar. Normally, they would be going to market now at lighter weights than the calves born last fall and winter and sold this summer.

Experiment Station studies have proved that farmers with a sufficient amount of high quality stored roughage such as corn silage or good fall and winter grazing crops can profit by carrying these cattle through the fall and winter months. The animals are then fed in the feed lot in the spring and early summer. Many farmers over the state have followed this practice for a number of years and found it to be profitable, says Farquhar.

Under normal conditions the cattle start grazing on small grains or other cool season forages around Oct. 15. This grazing continues until the first of March on small grains and perhaps to May 1-15 on clovers and winter grasses. The animals should then be placed in the feed lot, Farquhar points out, and fed for approximately 90 days to the brades of high good and low choice. The feeding period depends largely on the amount of feed available, the grade of cattle coming off grazing, and the quality of cattle being used. Various substations have found that this phase of beef production has returned to labor $40 to $75 above all costs. Farquhar adds that the profit depends largely upon the quality of grazing and the length of time the cattle graze.

Cattlemen planning to sell calves this fall should seriously consider this system, says the specialist. In most cases, it will give a higher dollar return per brood cow unit than lighter weight calves sold now.

A FARM CENSUS WILL BE TAKEN THIS FALL

A five-year census will be taken this fall. Accurate farm records are extremely important in completing this census, says API Extension Economist Foy Helms. Every farmer will receive a questionnaire by mail during the first week in November and should fill out these forms accurately and promptly.

According to Helms, census takers will visit Alabama farms to check and collect the forms beginning November 18.

Surplus Figures
Government money (that's your money) tied up in farm surpluses is down slightly since last November... figure is $8.3 billion as of June 30... but a year ago the figure was $7 billion... of this amount you can charge $150.6 million to cotton.

Weevil Lab

Should be about 18 months before a boll weevil research lab will be completed... will be built at Mississippi State College and will cost about $1.1 million according to Congressional appropriation.

Cotton & Law

We've heard of a Texas county sheriff who wears only all cotton uniforms and insists that his deputies are also uniformed in only cotton clothes... sheriff figures it's only right since most of the voters earn their living growing cotton.

Cotton's Share

Cotton's consumer market decreased some during 1958, but competing fibers and materials were down even more... using an equivalent measuring stick, end-use consumption of cotton was down about one per cent and the competition was down about seven per cent.

Cotton Week

National Cotton Week will be May 16-21 during 1960... it's expected that about 200 cities will take in the promotion during this period... first Cotton Week was held 29 years ago.

Penalty Assessed For Registering Late For Draft

State Selective Service Director Walter M. Thompson, Jr., warned today that all young Alabamians just turning 18 are required by law to register within five days after their birthday.

Thompson said that some questions have arisen because of the large number of youths who are away from home, working at summer jobs, or in summer classes, when they reach 18 years of age. "It is not necessary for them to return home to register," Thompson emphasized, "But they must register somewhere, or face prosecution."

"Young men away from home can accomplish this by going to the nearest local board and filling out their papers. However, they should be most careful to give their proper home address so that they will be placed under the jurisdiction of their hometown board," Thompson explained that the address given on line two of the registration card will always determine the board jurisdiction. "So, it is especially important that the proper home address be listed. The registrant's papers will then be sent to this address for future action," he said.

He also stated that many registrants were failing to notify Selective Service officials of address and family status. "It is advisable that all such information be kept current in the registrant's cover-sheet," Thompson said. "Such information may mean the difference in whether a registrant will go into service immediately, or be postponed."

For instance, registrants who are fathers, or are prospective fathers, are not being called at this time. Unless the registrant forwards this information to his local board, that group will have no way of knowing. When his number comes up, he will be called, unless there is in his cover-sheet a note from the doctor stating that he is a father, or expects to be soon."

FAULTY APPLIANCES CAN BE CHECKED MANY WAYS

When an appliance fails to operate, don't lose your temper.

According to Extension Engineer Bill Cox, a disconnected cord is often all that is wrong. If the cord is connected, check to see that the plug fits firmly in the outlet. You can spread or squeeze the prongs together if they are not making good contact.

If the appliance still doesn't work, try another appliance on the same outlet. When this does not work, check the fuse or circuit breaker on the first circuit. Also check the appliance on another outlet. It may be the cord and not the appliance that is at fault.

4-H Poultry Show To Be Held Oct. 10 At Co-op Building

The annual 4-H poultry show and sale is scheduled for October 10 and is sponsored by Sears. Each spring 10 4-H members receive 100 chicks which are of the new Hampshire breed. The 4-H members take chicks, feed and care for them properly and select 12 of their best hens to bring to the poultry show. The hens are judged and cash prizes are given to the winning groups of hens. The hens are then auctioned off to the highest bidder. The money received from the auction will buy chicks for club members next year.

The show will be held at 9:30 October 10 in the basement of the Co-op building. This is a good opportunity for anyone to buy some good layers, state's Albert Heaslett, assistant county agent, who announced the show.

Care Crepe Myrtle Includes Pruning

Yearly winter pruning produces new growth in crepe myrtle plants. And this new growth usually results in profuse flowering, says API Extension Ornamental Horticulturist Troy Keeble. The plant will withstand cutting back to ground level, but it's not advisable unless a smaller plant is desired. This practice has a drawing effect.

If you want to reduce the size of your plant, Keeble recommends pruning over a period of two or three years instead of heading back severely at one time. Often the bark and stem growth of a crepe myrtle is an interesting as the flower effect, adds the specialist.

Plant Nutrients Are Now Cheaper

You may be able to buy fertilizers that are just as effective as the costlier ones for less money.

High-analysis fertilizers usually provide cheaper plant nutrients than lower analysis fertilizers, reports API Extension Agronomist J. C. Lowery. And they are equally as effective as the higher-priced product. To see if another brand or analysis of materials is cheaper, Lowery advises computing the cost of a pound of the various plant nutrients in the fertilizer you have been buying and comparing the results with another product.

Buying fertilizer cheaply is good business, says the agronomist, but be sure to buy the proportions of nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium suggested by soils tests and the nutrient requirements of the crop. Also, make certain that the high-analysis fertilizer contains sulphur, Lowery adds.

The first signal book in the U. S. Navy was issued in 1779 by Captain Thomas Truxton. The volume contained approximately 190 signals.

ADD ORGANIC MATTER

You can increase truck crop yields by adding organic matter to the soil in the form of winter legumes.

Since stable manure is not available on many Alabama farms, API Extension Horticulturist John Bagby recommends seeding green manure crops such as vetch, crimson clover, or rye. You may double crop yields.
