The Passing Parade

1884 - 1959

By HAROLD S. MAY

Monday is election day—and we'll make a small wager you didn't know it. It has been our pet peeve for the past several years that so few eligible voters give enough of a care to go to the polls and express their preference as to whom they wish as their representative on the Board of City Commissioners. With a possible vote of about 8,000, it is a crime that fewer than one-fourth of this number take the few minutes to cast a ballot. For a change—and a happy one—let's do better this time. (And you should get the habit of voting in the weeks ahead as two additional city elections are now on schedule.)

Nothing is so gratifying to a wife as to see a double chin on her husband's old girl friend.

This system of count-down as popularized by the scientists at Cape Canaveral and other missile bases is nothing new although extremely popular with the young TV viewers. Women, after they have passed the youngish years, have been practicing that system for centuries.

The modern Boy Scout, someone has pointed out, helps an old lady across the street by slowing down on his motor bike. (And how we hate those motor bikes!)

With the arrival of Niki in this country, we are reminded of a letter received by a nationally-circulated magazine from a young lady in which she asked, "Why are rebels always tall, lean and exciting — like Castro — while dictators are short, fat and repulsive?" And the more we think of it, the more we believe that this young lady is a rather observing person.

A child psychologist is any kid who knows how to get around his parents.

A Greenwich Village school in New York City has announced that because of many requests a course in "mushroom identification" has been added to the fall curriculum. We always thought it was "stool" pigeons and not load stools that needed identifying in the big city.

Plain girls are all right, too. Beauty fades, but a plain girl stays plain forever.

When pregnant mice and frogs get to flying around in space—well, what next? Anyway, there must have been unrest among the other mice and frogs down Florida way when they read (?) about 14 pregnant mice and two frogs being blown to bits at Cape Canaveral Wednesday when a Jupiter missile exploded 10 minutes after take off. The mice and frogs traveled 1,000 feet before being blasted to little bitty pieces.

Just because someone says a man "is as honest as the day is long" is no reason that he can't get in a little dirty work at night.

An elderly man, a rugged individualist barked at donning formal attire the other hot afternoon for the wedding of his niece. His wife, naturally, put her foot down and the old boy got all dressed up in his too tight tuxedo. Most unhappy and glowering, he entered the church and sat morosely through the service. His wife sat uneasily expecting an outburst from her mate at any moment. All went well, however, and the good wife took a deep sigh of relief as the groom bent to kiss the bride. As the hush of the moment could have been cut with a knife, friend husband, in a stage whisper, so low everyone could hear, said: "Well, at least we don't have a long, dusty ride to the cemetery."

Soviets Hit Moon With Big Rocket

The Soviet Union announced Monday, that the first historic flight marking man's success in sending an object through outer space to hit a heavenly body has been accomplished.

Soviet press and radio, beaming the news proudly to the world, announced the space capsule hit the moon's surface at 2 minutes after midnight Moscow time. That was 4:02 p.m. EST, Sunday, and just one minute behind Soviet calculations.

Blasted off Saturday to give Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev a tremendous prestige lift for his visit now underway in the U. S. the rocket carried the Soviet Union's hammer-and-sickle emblem and an inscription, "Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, Sept. 1959."

Reports say "special measures" had been taken to be sure the pennants bearing the Soviet emblem remained intact despite the tremendous force of the 860-pound space capsule's collision with the moon. The Soviet news agency did not say what the special measures were.

The first sign that the Russians had been successful in carrying out their spectacular space feat, came from the world's biggest radio telescope at Jodrell Bank, England. Experts there traced the projectile in the last stages of its flight and reported its signal transmissions had stopped at almost the exact time the Russians had predicted—the moment it was hurled against the surface of the moon.

In Washington, the United States congratulated the Russians on the success of their moon rocket and called upon them to make available scientific data from the flight to scientists of all countries.

The official Soviet announcement was delayed 33 minutes from the actual landing. There was no explanation of this, but presumably scientists wanted to make sure that the space capsule's radio had stopped sending—the clearest sign that the rocket had hit its target.

The total flight path from the earth to the moon, for the rocket, was estimated at 236,160 miles. An astronomer at Hayden Planetarium said the successful moon shot would have no important effect on the moon and none whatever on the earth. Dr. Franklyn Branley said the earth's tides, which are controlled by the moon, will not be affected. He said that to effect the tides, the impact of such a rocket would have to change the "mass of the moon and its period of revolutions around the earth."

"The Soviet capsule was too small to do that," he added.

Sixteen Hundred Enrolled At FSC

According to a report from the office of Florence State Registrar, C. M. Arehart, an even sixteen hundred undergraduate students had registered at the close of the first day of meeting classes last Friday.

Beginning freshmen who had completed registration numbered 476; upperclassmen 1024; transfer students 100. Additional registration Saturday of students in the Graduate Division for classes meeting in the late afternoon and on Saturday mornings numbered thirty-two. "A number which will probably be increased within the next few days," anticipates Dr. Hoyt M. Brock, director of the Graduate School.

Late News

The Alabama House approved a rigid small loan law Tuesday passing the disputed bill by a vote of 86-9 after opponents won one compromise. The bill now goes to the Senate. The bill had been actively backed by the governor and attorney general, the former terming the action "a day of victory for the people of Alabama, but our biggest and last battle lies before us in the State Senate."

Gov. Earl K. Long of La., bowed out of the governor's race yesterday to run for lieutenant governor behind the man who gave his brother Huey the last pint of blood when he lay dying from an assassin's bullet 24 years ago. Long who has been stumping for re-election since getting out of a mental hospital last June, said he is going to run instead for lieutenant governor on a ticket headed by former Gov. James A. Noe. Long said there was no deal with Noe and himself for Noe to run for governor and then turn it over to Long when he was elected.

A demented tile setter and ex-convict, threw a powerful suitcase bomb into a crowd of children playing at Edgar A. Poe elementary school yesterday at Houston, Tex. Police Capt. Willard Waycott said the bomb killed six persons, including the man who made it and his 7-year-old son, Paul. It also killed two other pupils, a teacher and a custodian, who were trying to get the tile setter, Paul Harold Orgeron, away from the school.

Soviet Leader Given Red Carpet Welcome In Nation's Capital

Senator Accuses Rights Group Of Sabotaging Ballot

Commission Proposes To Make Voting Records Public For Five Years

In a speech on the floor of the Senate, Senator Lister Hill charged that a recommendation of the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights, if adopted, would "destroy the secrecy of the ballot and make it possible for everyone to find out how everyone else voted in all elections—local, state and national."

One of the recommendations of the Commission was that "Congress require that all state and territorial registration and voting records shall be public records and must be preserved for a period of five years, during which time they shall be subject to public inspection."

Hill declared that "it is not humanly possible to preserve all voting records for a period of five years and hold those records up for public inspection and at the same time preserve the secrecy of the ballot. The proposal constitutes an effort to desecrate one of our most precious inheritances—the right to a secret ballot."

"The right of a citizen to cast his ballot in all secrecy is one of the greatest bastions of human liberty that the mind of man ever created. This right, like the right of trial by jury, is an indispensable component of American democracy."

He called the proposal to substitute Federal registrars for State and local registrars "unwarranted, unnecessary, unwise, and unconstitutional." The Senator cited provisions of the Constitution and court decisions to support his contention that "this proposal would be in clear violation of express provisions of the Constitution, which is the bedrock of our freedom."

Hill's statement was bitterly critical of the Commission's recommendations in the fields of education and housing. He cited the proposal to require integration of the races as a condition of Federal grants to higher education as "a purely punitive measure which is wholly indefensible."

"The recommendations of the Commission with respect to education and housing represent the personal predilections of certain members in favor of forcing the integration of the races on the people of the South and the country," Hill stated.

"One of the finest contributions which Congress can at this time make to the American people will be to let the Commission die its natural death," Hill stated.

U. S. Must Spend More Money In Space Research

Medaris Says Russian Success In Moon Hit Should Not Be Doubted

Refusing to make a flat prediction as to how soon this country will be able to make a successful moon shot, Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, last Monday, did indicate that it will probably require one to three years.

The Commanding General of the U. S. Ordnance Missile Command at Redstone Arsenal cited the one-to-three-year estimate based on the development of Project Saturn under his command. Medaris did say, however, other space projects under the National Aeronautics and Space Administration might be able to fire a successful moon shot sooner.

He pointed out that this country spent $2 billion last year on its space and missile program and said that in his opinion this amount should be doubled. He said, "If we want to make more progress, we need more money."

Comments on Russians General Medaris discounted reports by some American scientists that there might be some doubt as to the Russians' success in hitting the moon. "I think there is considerable more information than about this," Medaris said.

When asked about his reaction to the accomplishment, Medaris said he thought it had considerable significance. He added he thought this country could do anything the Russians have done.

Commenting on the lassitude of the American public, the general said, "The people come to life when they are shocked to life."

Khrushchev Will Visit Ike After Touring Country

BULLETIN

Nattily-dressed Nikita Khrushchev speaking Wednesday during a visit to the Department of Agriculture's buzz experimental farm at Beltsville, Md., said Americans and Russians would be better off if they concentrated on peaceful pursuits—such as raising fine turkeys. The visit to the farm preceded a scheduled major address to an audience of newspaper writers.

The leader of world communism and the Soviet Union, Nikita S. Khrushchev, has completed the first leg of a precedent-shattering journey to see the United States and talk with President Eisenhower on cold war issues.

Eisenhower and high-ranking U. S. leaders were on hand Tuesday for the first visit, in history to this country, by the head of a Soviet government. Waiting along with the President, was the tightest security network of all time for a visiting dignitary.

A red carpet reception awaited the Soviet leader in Washington, including an hour guard and a 21-gun salute, with American and Soviet flags fluttering side by side at the airport.

A parade route was fixed for the limousine motorcade from the airport along the divided highway toward Washington, where early in the day, some 4,000 security guards lined this 15-mile route, prepared for virtually any contingency.

Upon arrival at the President's guest house, Khrushchev lunched privately. The old mansion, called Blair House, is across Pennsylvania Ave. from the White House. It has been placed at the disposal of Khrushchev, his wife, Nina Petrovna, his two daughters and several aides for their stay in Washington.

President Eisenhower met Khrushchev again at the White House at 3:20 p.m. for the first of their formal conversations, but the two were not expected to get down to cases on world tensions until Khrushchev returns from his country tour, and stops for three days of private talks with the President.

Some expected the Soviet Leader to produce some sort of highly dramatic surprise during his American tour, possibly at the U. N. on Friday. Khrushchev has proclaimed his purpose to be securing "peaceful conditions for all persons on earth." Most American leaders indicated they expected no sudden and miraculous melting of the cold war ice as a result of the Soviet leader's 13-day visit.

Lexington Fair To Open Sept. 24

Thirty-fifth Annual Event To Feature Horse Show Opening Night

September 24, 25 and 26 promise to be three very exciting days as the people of Lexington prepare for their 35th annual Community Fair.

One of the most interesting highlights of the event will be the 10th annual horse show on opening night, September 24, at 7 p.m. Because of its fine entries this horse show has become rightfully known as North Alabama's finest horse show.

Friday night will find the horse show of course, making ready for an outstanding football game, as Lexington takes on Ardmore. Admissions of 50c and $1.00 will be charged on Thursday and Friday nights, but on Saturday night, the public is invited to "walk right in."

All three nights will feature fine foods and entertainment on the midway, with many unusual and interesting displays to be found in the exhibit hall.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bland and son, Bill, have returned from Tuscaloosa where another son, John Jackson Bland, is a student at U.A.

Twenty-Five Years Of Progress

This year marks the 25th year of the North Alabama State Fair, today one of the finest in the South and second in size in Alabama to the State Fair at Birmingham.

The Silver Anniversary of this fine fair promises to climax all previous fairs in both exhibits and entertainment, having many special features along with a wealth of new grandstand acts calculated to furnish a thrill a minute to both young and old.

This splendid farmers' fair is truly a barometer of progress for this North Alabama area assembling under "one roof" the latest products of industry and agriculture. It is a place to meet old friends and renew acquaintances and more important where both rural and city dweller may meet and mingle and form a better understanding of their mutual problems.

The constant and consistent progress of the area has been reflected in the steady growth and enlargement of the fair's facilities, including a recent modernization program providing greater safety and convenience for the multiplied thousands who attend this annual event. Coupled with this steady growth has been a still greater effort on the part of a progressive management to bring to the area the very best fair possible. These efforts have borne fruit.

Support the fair by your attendance. See each and every exhibit.

We Are Practicing False Economy

The small amounts we spend on patient care in most public mental institutions is false economy, according to The Health News Institute. Recent studies clearly indicate that if we spent larger sums on many of our mentally ill, we could be curing them rather than merely keeping them in custody.

In general hospitals we spend $26 a day per patient. In public mental institutions the average per day is only $4.07. In Alabama the average is less than $2.50 per day. One result is that mental patients who fail to recover within the first year face a mounting likelihood that they will languish permanently in the back wards, lost, hopeless and forgotten.

We have drugs today which are remarkably effective, the Institute points out, in calming the disturbed patient and making him accessible to treatment. But, in the words of Arthur S. Flemming, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, "the potentials inherent in the new tranquilizing drugs are as yet largely unrealized. If treatment is unavailable, the effect of the drugs is lost."

In other words, lack of money, which accounts for a 55 percent shortage of physicians in mental hospitals, is depriving thousands of the mentally ill of possible cure and rehabilitation.

Secretary Flemming cites a fruitful experiment at a Maryland state hospital, in which 72 male patients were taken out of the wards and placed in a convalescent cottage under intensive treatment which, of course, would necessarily be more expensive. All had been institutionalized for at least five years, and some for more than ten.

With individualized care, 26 of these long-term patients were able to leave the hospital, and 25 of the 72 became self-supporting.

"Let us say that it would have cost $1,500 a year to maintain these patients in the hospital for the rest of their lives," the Secretary suggests, "and that they had an average life expectancy of twenty years. This would amount to a total cost of three quarters of a million dollars."

Such a short-sighted investment in waste makes it clear that our present appropriations for public mental hospitals serve only to prolong a problem, and not to solve it.

What we are doing in Alabama is far more expensive to the taxpayers than additional appropriations would be.

Hesters To Attend NALU Convention

Annual Session To Be Held September 19-25; To Honor 50th State

Executive Secretaries from State and local units attending the 17th Annual Convention of the National Association of Life Underwriters at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, September 19-25, will meet for their annual one day conference Saturday at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel in the Friendly City.

The session will be chairmaned by John Mathis, managing director of the Texas State Association. Not only will the executive secretaries be hosted by NALU at luncheon and dinner on September 19, but they will be honored at a reception and dinner by the Life Underwriters Training Council on Monday evening, September 21.

Convention attendees will join in a gala salute to this nation's 50th state on Wednesday evening, September 23. The host, Philadelphia Association of Life Underwriters, will sponsor a Hawaiian Luau (party) for life underwriters and their families in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel.

George Hester of Florence, Executive Secretary of The Alabama Association of Life Underwriters will attend the conference and represent the Muscle Shoals Life Underwriters Association as National Committeeman at the convention to follow.

Mrs. Hester will accompany her husband. On their way to Philadelphia they will stop over for a visit with their daughter, Mrs. Ralph Church and family at Shepherdstown, West Virginia.

Mississippi Girl Is "Miss America"

For the second time in a row, Mississippi has claimed the title of Miss America when Lynda Lee Mead, a Natchez-Mississippi beauty, won the title Saturday night. The 20-year-old Natchez girl, a junior at the University of Mississippi, was picked at the roaring climax of the week-long Miss America pageant at Atlantic City to wear the oldest national beauty crown in the country. Miss Mead's qualifications include green eyes, brown hair, a 36-24-36 figure and skill as a dramatic actress. Runnersup were Miss Wisconsin, Miss Washington, Miss California and Miss Arizona. Mary Ann Mobley, the Miss America whose reign ended Saturday night, is also a Mississippi girl from Brandon.

Mine Cave-In Claims Two

Two coal miners were killed and a third injured Thursday, Sept. 10, in a cave-in at Tick Mays Mine No. 2, near Brilliant. The dead men have been identified as Roy Herren, 35, of Eledridge and Roy Windham, 55, of Carbon Hill, Rt. 2. Injured was Charles Hugley, who was admitted to Winfield Hospital.

Actor Paul Douglas Dies

Actor Paul Douglas, longtime star of stage and screen, died Friday at his home of an apparent heart attack. Douglas, 51, known for light comedy roles as well as his more serious portrayals, made headlines in 1955 when The Greensboro (N.C.) Daily News quoted him as saying, "The South stinks. It's a land of sowlbely and segregation." Douglas said he was misquoted, but the newspaper contended the quote was accurate.

Seven Die In School Bus Tragedy

The Baltimore and Ohio's eastbound passenger train rammmed a school bus at Mountain Lake Park, Md., Thursday, Sept. 10, killing 7 of the 25 children in the bus and injuring 15 others. The Railroad reported the grade crossing was marked by a flashing light and bell which was operating at the time. The bus apparently had stalled as it crossed the tracks. Several reports said the bus driver, Leroy Campbell, had the door open and was trying to get the children off the bus. Campbell, 50, had a safe driving record of more than 20 years with the county school system.

Payroll Losses Computed

Payroll losses due to the steel strike were reported by the government Saturday to have mounted to 550 million dollars. In his third semi-monthly survey of the effects of the strike which began July 15, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell placed the number of workers idled by the dispute at 645,000.

API Renamed Auburn University

Alabama Polytechnic Institute will become Auburn University under a bill given unanimous approval by the House Education Committee. Sumter County's Rep. Jess Harvey, who sponsored it, said the land grant college long has been popularly known as Auburn. "Efforts to designate it as API haven't been successful," he said, "Auburn University would be more in keeping with the progress and growth of the school."

Seven In Family Killed When Train Hits Car

A train-car accident at Waseca, Minn., Sept. 12, killed a farm mother and her six young children, when a freight train slammed into their station wagon within sight of their classmates and school. Killed were Michael, 10, Connie, 8, Barbara, 7, James, Jr., 5 and Jimmie, 2, Mrs. Zimmerman, 39, and her eldest child, Kathryn, 13. The husband went into shock when told of the tragedy and was also hospitalized.

Another Step

agreement had been reached with Francis Turner, deputy federal highway commissioner, that if the application of the State of Tennessee was filed immediately the funds would be made available; however, should another application of equal value be filed prior to the Tennessee application, chances of securing these funds would be dimmed. "It is squarely up to Tennessee now," said Representative Jones.

Mississippi is joining with Tennessee, it is understood, in providing the approaches to the new bridge, which will be done on a matching basis, it is pointed out.

Alabama's Position

In commenting on the situation as it affects the Alabama link of the proposed Scenic Highway Route, Jones said that he had discussed this matter thoroughly with State Highway Director Sam Englehardt and that both were in agreement that with the start of construction of the Pickwick Dam bridge that the Scenic route through this county would come "within season," possibly within the 1961 apportionment of federal funds totaling $61,000,000 for the State of Alabama. The new apportionment is available to the state between July 1960 and July 1961.

Mr. Jones said: "You (referring to the people of Lauderdale County) have nothing to worry about. The Alabama portion of the Alabama-Tennessee Scenic Highway will be built in due course. As soon as the Bureau of Public Works acts on Tennessee's application, the way is open for the construction of these two fine projects."

Cotton Picking In County Retarded

Cotton picking advanced slowly in Lauderdale county during the week because of rain. Much cotton is open in this area and the continued rains could be very damaging. Some boll rot has already occurred in rank fields, but damage to date has not been extensive. In a few southern counties, picking has passed the two-thirds mark, but of course, locally, in this county, it's just getting underway.

Corn harvest continued for the early market, particularly in Sand Mountain and Tennessee Valley areas. The bulk of the corn crop will not be harvested until the peak harvest for cotton is over. Mr. L. T. Wagon, Lauderdale County Agent, has pointed out that farmers should give their corn plenty of time to mature before harvesting.

ALVAH E. HALL

CANDIDATE FOR

CITY COMMISSIONER

MUNICIPAL ELECTION

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 21st

I am completing a three-year term as Finance Commissioner. During this period our city has made splendid progress in its financial status. The City of Florence, according to the auditors' report just released "is in excellent financial shape and its credit is one of the best in the entire state." Every citizen, I am sure, joins with me in being exceedingly proud of this record.

Having served one additional term on the Commission a number of years ago as head of the Department of Streets, Parks and Public Property, following which I did not offer for reelection, I have been able to learn first-hand of the qualifications necessary to render a service to the people. I trust that I have met the exacting requirements of a good city commissioner and my efforts have met with your approval.

Today, I believe that I am better fitted to serve you as your commissioner. My time is your time as I am in position to give all of that time in the service of our community. My knowledge of the needs of our citizens and the city's ability to meet that need give me a background that should make it possible for me to give an even greater service in the future.

As a businessman, as a man who has watched our city grow through the years and as one who is dedicated to its future progress, I ask your vote at the polls next Monday.

Greater Opportunities For All of Us Are Just Ahead

We are facing a wonderful future in this area and Florence is blessed with a high-type citizenry and dedicated public servants. With the opportunities we face, I feel that all of us must be ready to meet these opportunities full-face and be ready to accept the challenge they offer.

Your City Commission has worked as a team to bring to you the best that comes our way. If honored with reelection, I can pledge to you that this same cooperative effort will continue for the benefit of every single resident of our community.

The time is here for a cooperative effort that brings more of the good things of life to all of us. To this, I pledge my every effort.

Sincerely yours,

ALVAH E. HALL

Reeder-Powell Vows

Claim Local Interest

Miss Kathleen Ann Reeder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Byron Reeder, formerly of Florence and now of Plymouth, Indiana, and granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. Floyd Reeder of Savannah Road, Florence, became the bride of Philip Roger Powell, son of Mrs. Lorie C. Powell and the late Mr. Powell of Plymouth, on Sunday, September sixth.

Vows were exchanged in the First Methodist Church of Plymouth at half past seven o'clock in the evening, the Reverend James A. Burroughs, pastor of the church, officiating.

Mr. Reeder gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown of white silk organza over tulle was styled along princess lines and detailed with portrait neckline etched in Alencon lace which extended down the bodice and the front of the billowing skirt which flowed into a chapel train.

Her full-length veil of imported Chantilly lace fell from a pearl-encrusted tiara and she carried an arm bouquet of specimen white chrysanthemums centered with a white orchid.

Miss Judy Gregory of Marion, Indiana, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Donna Sue Vail of Clarksville and Miss Susan Fellars of Chicago, Illinois. They wore pervanche blue silk organza over tulle designed with scooped necklines, cap sleeves and full, patio-length skirts. Imported white lace prayer veils and nosegays of bronze and white pompons completed their attire.

William Powell of Indianapolis, Ind., served his brother as best man and ushers were John Reeder, brother of the bride, and Phil Garrison, both of Plymouth.

Mrs. Reeder, the bride's mother, was gowned in toast and candlelight satin with which she wore matching accessories and Mrs. Powell wore beige silk with matching accessories. Their corsages were of white pompons.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Reeder were reception hosts, receiving their guests in the church parlors.

When the bridal couple left for a honeymoon in the Smoky Mountains, Mrs. Powell was wearing a sheath of black and grey imported cotton and a small feathered hat. The orchid from her bouquet was pinned at her shoulder.

After a year of travel in the Southwest, entailed by Mr. Powell's engineering profession, they will make their home in Kokomo, Ind.

Afternoon Ceremony Unites Jeanette Quinn, Charles Ball

Southern smiles etched the background and an arch entwined with greenery spanned the altar of Highland Methodist Church of Sheffield on Sunday, September sixth, for the exchange of vows between Miss Jeanette Eaker Quinn of Sheffield, daughter of the late Mrs. Mary Ellen Porter Armstrong and the late Herbert Foster Quinn, and Charles Arthur Ball, Jr., of Florence.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. Moody Redd of Florence and Charles Arthur Ball of Montgomery. Vows were read at four o'clock in the afternoon by the Reverend Bert Goodwin, minister of the church, assisted by the Reverend J. V. Cosby Summerell, minister of First Presbyterian Church of Florence, following floral selections by Mrs. George Jackson, organist, and Mrs. Jack Martin, vocalist.

Arrangements of all-white blossoms and cathedral candles flanked the tableau as William Morris

Armstrong of Sheffield gave his stepdaughter in marriage. For the occasion of her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white Chantilly lace distinguished by a Sabrina neckline, brief sleeves complemented by long lace mitts, and a voluminous floor-length skirt. Her veil of illusion fell from a crown of matching lace re-embroidered with seed pearls and her white orchid bouquet was wreathed with lilies of the valley.

Miss Freda Hester of Birmingham served as maid of honor and bridesmaids included Miss Nancy David and Miss Mary Lynn Blair, both of Sheffield, Miss Elizabeth Scott of Oakridge, Tennessee, and Miss Evelyn Pope of Florence. They wore identical frocks fashioned of pink satin and their flowerers were cascades of pink carnations.

Moody Redd of Florence was the bridegroom's best man and ushers were Richard Ball of Montgomery, Carolina, and Whitney Patch and Robert Hill, Jr., both of Florence. Mrs. Mary Porter, aunt of the bride, was gowned in blue sheer and Mrs. Redd, mother of the bridegroom, wore royal blue chiffon. A white orchid corsage enhanced the attire of each.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. Armstrong entertained wedding guests at a reception in Hotel Muscle Shoals.

When Mr. and Mrs. Ball left for their Florida honeymoon, the bride was wearing a suit of blue shantung with matching accessories and, at her shoulder, the orchid from her bouquet.

Upon their return they will be at home in Lebanon, Tennessee, where Mr. Ball is registered in Cumberland Law School.

On Saturday evening preceding the Sunday wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Redd entertained the bridal party and out-of-town guests at the Redd home, 750 North Wood Avenue.

White stock and yellow roses fashioned the centerpiece on the silver-appointed refreshment table, lighted by yellow candles in branched candelabra.

Assisting the hosts were Mrs. W. M. Russell, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. J. C. McCraw, Mrs. Howard Johnson, Mrs. Charles Palmer and Mrs. Lawrence Ennis.

Home Wedding Marks Campbell-Counts Vows

Baskets of white blossoms against a background of palms were flanked by candelabra of burning white tapers to fashion an altar in the livingroom of the Campbell home, 312 South Fulton Street, for the wedding occasion of Miss Joan Fontayne Campbell and James Daniel Counts on Friday, September eleventh.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lester Campbell and the late Mr. Campbell of Florence and the bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Claud Price Counts and the late Mr. Counts of Tusculum, Route Two.

James H. Beck, Church of Christ minister, read the vows at five o'clock in the afternoon after candles were lighted by Mrs. Price Counts, Jr., and Miss Faye Ellen Jeffery.

Given in marriage by her brother, David Campbell, the bride wore a full-length gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle over satin designed with a molded bodice, long sleeves and small collar re-embroidered with sequins and seed pearls. A cap of pearl-encrusted lace held her veil of silk illusion and with her white Bible she carried a white orchid.

Miss Linda Lorren, the bride's only attendant, was gowned in sapphire blue velvet with matching accessories and her flowers were a corsage of pink carnations. Ralph Barrett Heath of Tusculum served the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. Campbell, mother of the bride, chose for the occasion a sheath of royal blue sheer and the bridegroom's mother wore a black and white model. Pink carnations were pinned at the shoulder of each.

Assisting at the reception which followed the ceremony were Mrs. Chalmers Wilks, Miss Lucile McBride and Miss Carolyn Lewis.

Leaving later for their honeymoon in the Smokies, the bride was wearing a blue Fall dress with snug bodice and full skirt. The orchid from her bouquet was her corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Counts will be at home in Muscle Shoals City.

Thursday Study Club Begins New Season

Mrs. Goodwin A. Young was hostess on Thursday, September tenth, to the season's first meeting of Thursday Study Club, inviting members and a few additional guests to her home on Prospect Street.

Included in the afternoon's hospitality were Mrs. Leo King, Mrs. John E. McDonald and Mrs. E. G. Bishop, the latter a recent addition to local social groups.

Pleasant entertainment was provided by Miss Tera Hitchcock, program leader, who reviewed Vance Packard's "The Hidden Persuaders," a non-fiction best seller which answers eye-opening questions and gives facts that amusingly reveal how today's advertisements play on our hidden urges and frustrations to sell everything from gasoline to politicians.

The hostess was assisted at the teatable by Mrs. King. Seventeen members were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Ezell of Nesbitt, Miss. were in Florence for the week-end with their daughters, Mrs. Thomas Reeder and Mrs. Donald Trowbridge, and their families.

Numerous Prenuptials

Prior to Quinn-Ball Vows

A flurry of prenuptial courtesies feted Jeanette Quinn and Charles Ball prior to their Sunday, September sixth, nuptial event, continuing through the reception which immediately followed the ceremony.

Among the first in the series was the supper party at the lakeside home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lemay, cousin of the bride. Co-hosting with the Lemays were the bride's great aunts, Mrs. William Gilmore and Mrs. Maude Nance, her aunt, Mrs. Mary Porter, and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn O'Brien.

Water sports were an enjoyed feature of the evening hours.

The Charles Palmer home on Wilson Lake was the setting for a buffet supper on Wednesday evening, September second, when Mr. and Mrs. Palmer, III, were joined in entertaining by Dr. and Mrs. Howard Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ennis.

On Saturday morning, September fifth, the bride-elect was hostess at Hotel Muscle Shoals, entertaining her 'maids at breakfast.

Small silver vases, each engraved with a bridesmaid's name, marked places for Freda Hester, Nancy David, Mary Lynn Blair, Elizabeth Scott and Evelyn Pope.

Dr. and Mrs. John Brown entertained the bridal party and out-of-town guests at brunch on Sunday morning.

The Town Club was the setting and assisting the hosts were Mrs. John Dial, aunt of the bridegroom, of Atlanta, Miss William Bowman of Sikeston, Mo., and Miss Lindsay Nathan of Birmingham.

Numerous gift teas and other evening affairs were included in the busy days of recent weeks.

Miss Sally Ann Pettus

To Wed In Cleveland, Tenn.

The Reverend and Mrs. Mitchell O'Neal Pettus, formerly of Lexington and now of Knoxville, Tennessee, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Sally Ann, to Robert Nathaniel Pettit, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Logan Pettit of Cleveland, Tennessee.

The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mrs. Grover C. Burrell and the late Mr. Burrell and Robert Lee Pettus and the late Mrs. Pettus, all of Lexington. She is a graduate of Lee Academy in Cleveland and attended Lee College where she majored in education and music. She is now organist at St. James Methodist Church, of which her father is pastor, and is instructing in piano and organ in West Haven.

A graduate of Bradley Central High School, her fiancé is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Crist and the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Pettit, all of Cleveland.

The wedding will take place on October eleventh in First Methodist Church, Cleveland.

Prenuptials Continue

For Miss Jean Davis

Included among the courtesies extended in honor of bride-elect Jean Davis and her fiancé, Madison Davis, is the recent dinner party which was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Akin at their home in Tusculum.

Roses were used in profusion throughout the party rooms and pink tapers glowed in an epergne of pink carnations to center the silver-appointed buffet table, spread with a cutwork cloth of white linen. White and silver-frosted wedding bells were an appropriate addition to the decorative theme.

Miss Davis wore a tulle-trimmed frock of royal blue imported lace with velvet trim and matching accessories.

Seated around small tables with the honorees and their hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Davis, parents of the bride-to-be, Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Sam McMeahan, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Caskey, Mrs. J. G. Fortney, Mr. and Mrs. Fay Mills and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Worley.

Miss Jeanette Bowlin

To Wed Billy J. Hale

Miss Jeanette Bowlin and Billy J. Hale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron S. Hale of Savannah Road, Florence, are to be wed in early November.

The engagement has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Bowlin, parents of the bride-elect, of Florence.

Miss Bowlin was graduated from Coffee High School and her fiancé is a Central High School graduate. Both presently hold responsible positions with Sheffield business establishments.

The wedding has been planned for November seventh in Liberty Baptist Church.

Miss Bobbie Sue Watkins

To Be Early November Bride

Announcement has been made of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Bobbie Sue Watkins and Robert E. Thompson, son of W. K. Thompson of Killen and the late Mrs. Thompson.

The bride-elect, daughter of Mrs. A. H. Watkins of Florence, Route Five, and the late Mr. Watkins, is a senior at Rogers High School and her fiancé is associated with a local business establishment.

The wedding has been planned to take place on November sixth in Mt. Zion Church of Christ.

Mrs. Pettie Speaks

At Berean Meeting

Beginning its Fall season with Mrs. G. C. Cash as hostess at her home of Chisholm Road, the Berean Club met on Tuesday morning, September eighth.

Officers who will serve during the year are Mrs. James D. Beadle, president; Mrs. Elmer Johnston, treasurer; and Mrs. Lee Marks, parliamentarian.

Other members are Mrs. W. B. Belle, Miss Clyde Foust, Mrs. George Hoffmeister, Mrs. Ray Kephart, Mrs. M. F. Langford, Mrs. Herbert Pender and Mrs. T. M. Pettie.

The year's study will be a continuation of the writings of Paul and Mrs. Pettie, in charge of the morning's program, discussed Timothy and Titus as revealed in two pastoral letters.

Mrs. W. M. Sloan and Mrs. Ralph Smith were additional guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Shrader Casey are in Columbia, S. C., for a fortnight with their daughter, Mrs. Max Earwood, Mr. Earwood, and their children.

Let's Talk It Over
By SARA SAZE

Dear Sara Saze,
I was going steady with a boy since last April and met another boy I liked better, so I broke off with my steady. Right straight he started going with my best friend and now I don't like this new boy anymore.

So I am very lonesome and blue. I'd give most anything to have another chance to go steady again with the first boy.

I'd write him a note but I'm afraid he'd tell this other girl. And our families are very good friends so I don't want to cause trouble.

Everything is so mixed up. Please tell me how to straighten it out.

Very Lonely.
There're times when not even a magician's wand could help, and this is probably one of them.

If you make a conciliatory move (like the note you mention), you stand a chance to find yourself minus both boy and girl friends.

So, I see nothing for you but to play a waiting game. Be cheerful about it and believe that there's a pot of happiness at the end of the rainbow. And that's probably just what you'll find.

It isn't as if doom has fallen, you know. By this time next week there may be a new interest in your life and a new picture in your pocket.

Things may be slightly jumbled at the moment, but they're not hopeless. So put on your happy face and stand by!

Dear Mrs. Saze,
I have inherited an old oil painting and would like to use a cleaning fluid on it, or something that would bring it out without harming it.

Everybody tells me to be careful of what I use, but no one can make a suggestion.

I hope you can help.
Art Lover.

Dear A. L.,
I have seen a friend use facial cold cream from the jar on her dressing table. She spreads it on gently with a very soft cloth and the result is immediate and lovely.

I suggest, however, that you seek advice in the Art Department at FSC. You'd be much safer with expert guidance.

MARVIN HOLT FINDS EGGS; HATCHES SNAKES

Marvin Holt, Lutts, Tenn., route 1, was busily engaged in repairing his fence when he found 10 eggs underneath a board he removed. The eggs resembled partridge eggs, but he had a suspicion that this might not be true.

Mr. Holt decided to try and experiment. He placed the eggs in a gallon jug partially filled with dirt. Stored the jug away and decided to see what happened.

Now, two weeks later, Mr. Holt has ten chicken snakes and doesn't know what to do with them.

Cheese led the dairy food "hit parade" last year. It rose to an all time high consumption rate of 8.6 pounds per person. This was about a one pound increase over the 1957 consumption rate.

"Readin', writin', 'rithmetic"—plus analytic geometry, physical science, and qualitative analysis—the occasion for all the complicated jabber? The 1959 Fall semester at Florence State College has begun once again.

Over 1600 "anxious" scholars poured through the massive doors of Bibb Graves Hall last week in an effort to schedule classes, buy textbooks, and pay fees.

The Fall semester would not seem like the Fall semester without the throngs of freshmen "rats." The new students arrived on campus to greet his comrades and had a "Rat Cap" placed on his head, a "Green Frosh" poster hung around his neck, and a list of "Rat Rules" placed in his hand.

The week was filled to the brim with hilarious antics—pep rallies in front of O'Neal Hall, solo singing in the Little Drug, and a general state of "up-roar" over the entire campus.

For the first time since Rat Week was started, it will last for a month—until October 10, the date of the first home football game. The freshmen will be required to wear pajamas to the game and will be required to participate in the "Rat Race."

Starting off on the right foot, college students add "extra-curricular" activities to their already-packed college days.

Several organizations held "kick-off" meetings during the past week. The Flor-Ala staff enjoyed cookies, Cokes, and "Fourth Estate" talk at the meeting last Monday afternoon.

The Home Economics Club met Monday night in Rogers Hall. The Student Lodge was the meeting place for the Church of Christ Young People's Organization Monday night.

Circle "K" and YWCA met Tuesday night as did the Student Art League.

The Diorama staff had a meeting and the new members and editors will be announced at the latter part of the week.

Yesterday afternoon, the Rehearsal Club met in the Amphitheater and had a party to welcome the new members.

Tonight's meetings—the Student National Education Association, in Rogers Hall at 7; and Beta Beta Beta in the Lodge at 7.

Colorful banners, cute slogans mean it is "Cheerleader Time" again at Florence State College.

fifteen freshmen candidates are "yelling" for the two spots on the cheerleader squad.
Tryouts were held this afternoon at 4, in the Amphitheater and all-day Friday will be voting day. The cheerleader results will be posted at 5:30, Friday, in Bibb Graves Hall.

Freshmen candidates include: Patsy Henderson, Betty Ann Kirkland, George Reynolds, Randy Strait, Jeanne Campbell, Phil Reagan, Judy Houston, Gloria Kay Rickard, Juanita Cochran, Gail Quillen, Peggy Scott, Ann Mathias, Norma Methvin, Tommy Walker, and Brenda Lewis.

Florence State's six cheerleaders who were elected in the Spring will make their first appearance at Saturday night's game with Tennessee Tech in Cookeville, Tennessee.

Head cheerleader, Robert Steen, Rogersville, will be leading the squad composed of Lulu Dobbins, Stevenson; Jane Tule, Winfield; Elaine Perkins, Central; Linda Moorehead, Huntsville; and Mary Butler, Florence.

The Lion's Marching Band will have 8 majorettes out in front of the lines this fall at the football games.

Majorette tryouts have been held for the past two weeks and according to Dr. Wayne Christeson, the eight girls will be notified this week.

STATE FARM AGENTS MEET IN TUSCALOOSA

More than 300 State Farm agents gathered at the Stafford Hotel in Tuscaloosa for their 1959 annual state convention. The two-day meeting took place on Friday and Saturday, September 11 and 12.

Dr. Frank A. Rose, University of Alabama president, was guest speaker during the Friday evening banquet which also featured a talent show starring Shearen Elebash, noted entertainer from Montgomery.

PATTERSON ANNOUNCES NATIONAL GUARD ROTATION

Gov. John Patterson announced this week that Alabama has completed arrangements with Mississippi to rotate the command of the 31st (Dixie) Division every four years.

Under the new agreement, Alabama would keep command of the Dixie Division until Nov. 15, 1962, at which time the command would revert to Mississippi for a four-year period.

Gov. Patterson last month appointed Maj. Gen. John D. Sides as new division commander.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports about 23 million acres of erionland have been taken out of production for periods of three to 10 years under conservation reserve contracts.

Man Smoking In Bed Has Narrow Escape Monday

A Florence man ignited his bed clothing while smoking in bed early Monday and then was overcome by smoke without knowing the fire was underway.

Florence Fire Chief Bob Lovelace said that when firemen arrived at 1601 Ridge Ave., they found Judd Cleveland unconscious in the flaming bed. A few minutes longer and he would have been a corpse, Lovelace indicated.

When Cleveland gained consciousness, he asked Chief Lovelace "What's going on?" "He did not seem to know that there had been a fire," Lovelace said.

Discovery of the fire was made by men of the Florence street and sanitation department on their regular rounds.

Deaths

Mrs. Edna Mattie Brown

Funeral services for Mrs. Edna Mattie Brown, 31, of York, Pa., were held at Canaan Methodist Church with burial following in the Canaan Cemetery, Tuesday, Sept. 15, 1959.

Mrs. Brown, a native of Lauderdale County, died Friday at 12:15 p.m. in York, after a one day illness.

She leaves her husband, Charles C. Brown; three sons, Charles Douglas, Jimmy and Danny Brown; and a daughter, Jo Ann Brown, all of York, Pa., her mother, Mrs. Grace Rogers, Florence, Rt. 2; one brother, Ellis Rogers and two sisters, Mrs. Josephine Wylie and Mrs. Charles Coats, both of Rt. 2, Florence.

Mr. Breta McCannless

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Morrison-Elkins chapel for Breta McCannless, 58, 133 North Franklin Street, Florence with Rev. M. L. Gunnin, pastor of Central Heights Methodist Church officiating. Burial followed in Wesley Chapel cemetery.

Mr. McCannless died suddenly near Pulaski, Tenn., Sunday at 4:15 p.m. He was a native of Giles County, Tenn., and had lived in this community for the past 23 years.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lora Ferrill McCannless, Florence, a sister, Mrs. Richard E. Holt, Pulaski.

Drive Carefully... School's in Safe driving is everyone's job, all year long. But now that school's starting again, it's time to be even more careful.

Our youngsters may carry some of that carefree summer back to school with them. They may forget to stop and look carefully before crossing streets and highways, getting off their school buses, chasing after baseballs.

All of Southern Bell's drivers are going to work to make this the safest school year ever. They are going to drive as if their lives—and someone else's—depend on it.

Because they do.

Methodists Plan Drive For Funds

Education Building Needed To Accommodate Growing Church School

Final plans will be made this week for the Every-Member Canvass of the Florence First Methodist Church to subscribe sufficient funds in excess of the operating budget of the Church to construct a new education building. The extra facility, expected to cost approximately $200,000, is needed to meet the needs of a growing church and church school, according to several of the Church officials.

The new building would be paid for over a number of years by an increase of not less than $30,000 in the annual budget, according to a plan approved by the Church membership present at a meeting at the church Sunday night. The plan had been previously approved by the Official Board.

Mims Rogers, prominent local attorney and active layman of the Church, was elected Canvass Chairman. Dr. Thomas L. Williams, Extension Secretary of the Holston Methodist Conference, Maryville, Tennessee, will direct the membership in this drive for funds. The canvass will be the first such campaign in the local church in five years.

E. B. Norton, Chairman-Elect of the Official Board, in discussing the need of the new facility, said that the church school facilities are already taxed, and that in many of the classes there is no room for increased enrollment. "A church of this size," Dr. Norton added, "should be able to accommodate at least 200 more church school members in average weekly attendance than we are now able to take care of. We just don't have enough space."

Joe Sale, Education Commission Chairman, and Jimmy Koonce, Church School Superintendent, emphasized the urgent need of the additional facilities.

The actual canvass will be conducted during the week of October 4, according to Chairman Rogers. A forward-step banquet will be held for the entire adult membership of the church on the evening of October 6. "Visitation assignments will be made at that time," Rogers said, "and the entire visitation program will be completed by the following Sunday."

J. L. Goyer has been made honorary chairman of the executive committee and Mrs. Marcus C. McCreary will serve as secretary. Publicity for the program will be handled by a committee headed by Otis L. Peacock.

Other members of the Executive Committee are Ministers R. Lambuth Archibald and James N. Northcutt; Clyde W. Anderson; T. Ed Campbell; Jimmy Koonce; Mrs. R. B. Newman; E. B. Norton; B. F. O'Steen and T. M. Rogers, Jr.

Committee chairmen are T. M.

Third County-wide Meeting Is Held

Annual Drive Well Underway By Legion In Lauderdale County

The third of the county-wide meetings of Florence - Lauderdale Post No. 11, American Legion was held at Anderson Tuesday night with the largest crowd in attendance so far this year. After everyone had been served with chicken stew a talk on the current membership drive was made by W. L. Almon. "Bill," as he is better known to all his friends, thanked all the veterans who had renewed their membership already and urged everyone who had not done so to send or bring in their dues by tonight. He stated that the Post Home would be open to night with membership teams working in order to reach a peak membership by then.

Commander Frank V. Potts also thanked all those who had responded so wholeheartedly in the membership drive. He urged every member of the post, who has not already done so, to be sure to return his dues in the self-addressed envelope mailed out several days ago. He also announced that this would complete the county meetings until after Fair Week, the next meeting being at Lexington on Tuesday night, September 29th. The Waterloo meeting was rescheduled for Saturday night, October 17th. Thus there would be no meeting tonight as originally scheduled.

Chas. Edgar Young, membership chairman, made a brief report on the progress of the membership drive and thanked everyone helping in the work and also those who are still mailing in their dues. He urged them to continue to do this.

COMPLETES BASIC TRAINING
FORT MCLELLAN, Ala.—Recruit Betty J. Pigg, daughter of Mrs. Annie B. Holt, 1411½ Old Lee Hwy., Florence, recently completed eight weeks of basic military training at the Women's Army Corps Center, Fort McClellan.

Recruit Pigg received drill and physical fitness training and instruction in Army history, traditions and customs. She is a 1959 graduate of Collinwood (Tenn.) High School.

Coach Self Guest Of Exchange Club

Coach Hal Self of the Florence State Lions was the guest speaker at Tuesday's meeting of the Florence Exchange Club, at Hotel Reeder. Sam Esslinger, Jr., had charge of program arrangements and presented the speaker.

Coach Self reviewed the terrific schedule to be played by the State Lions and pointed out that each team was stronger than last year whereas the local eleven, though experienced, was short in depth at practically every position. He said that although 92 men reported for practice, that the fact that only 33 scholarships were granted caused many good men to be turned down.

With nine hard games to be played, the first with T. P. I. at Cookeville, Tenn., Saturday night, it is hoped that at least as good a season as last year might be experienced.

Coach Self discussed each player on the squad and each's possibility of rendering an outstanding service. He said that each member of the squad was working hard and he was hopeful of a successful season.

Cloy Albright was a guest and Bill Mays was the lucky man in the "mystery man" contest garnering a $1.00 bill as his prize.

Fire Prevention Week Oct. 4-10

Fire Prevention Week, scheduled for Oct. 4-10 this year, first was observed in 1922 on a national basis.

Previously, Fire Prevention Day had been observed since 1911, when the Fire Marshals Association of North America offered the first resolution for the inauguration of the day.

Fire Prevention Day was designated to mark the anniversary date of the Great Chicago Fire, October 9, 1871. That famous conflagration—which actually started on October 8—caused $175,000,000 estimated damage to property and resulted in the loss of approximately 250 lives.

To this day, Fire Prevention Week is held in October each year and it is always the week which includes the anniversary of the Chicago fire.

The average American ate 150 pounds of red meat in 1958, 10 pounds of fish, 80 pounds of poultry, and 390 pounds of dairy products.

The average American used 140 quarts of milk in 1958.

Come to Church for Services

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER — STAYS TOGETHER"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Psalms	24	1-4
Monday	John	14	1-3
Tuesday	Habakkuk	2	14-19
Wednesday	Luke	10	25-27
Thursday	Matthew	13	18-23
Friday	1 Thessalonians	1	3
Saturday	Isaiah	58	1-3

Through All Of Life...

Perhaps you see no significance to the hourglass superimposed on the Bible. But to the believer, it means that all of life is sustained by God's promises. Every day, every hour, He gives strength and help to His followers. The light of His Word shines steadily through the passing of time. The more you read, the deeper will be your understanding, the greater will be your joy. By entering wholeheartedly into the work of the Church, by giving it your support, you increase the value of your own life, and help others to see the light shining through each day's experience.

Throughout life's entire span, the Church will help us, the Bible will speak to us of God. Does the picture mean that to you? It will, if you look at it through believing eyes.

Deadline Moved Up For Seedlings

Orders Will Be Taken
Until Supply Exhausted;
160,000,000 Available

Conservation Director William C. Younger said here today that the deadline for ordering forest tree seedlings from the state's three forest nurseries has been extended and orders will be taken until the full supply of seedlings is exhausted.

Younger said there are quantities of slash, loblolly, longleaf, and shortleaf pine, plus smaller quantities of a number of miscellaneous species available at the nurseries.

He urged that anyone who plans to plant forest seedlings this winter submit an order as quickly as possible to give the State Forestry Division time to process orders and to make arrangements for delivery, etc.

Alabama's three nurseries have produced an inventory of some 160,000,000 tree seedlings for planting during the season extending from the middle of November to the end of February.

Seedlings from Alabama's forest nurseries are sold to landowners in orders of 500 or more at $4 per thousand f.o.b. nurseries, for all species except Arizona cypress, which sell for $5.50 per thousand f.o.b. nursery.

Applications for seedlings may be obtained from State Forestry Division personnel in the counties, Soil Conservation Service personnel, County Agents, County ASC offices, or in the Montgomery office of the Forestry Division. A deposit covering one-half the cost of the seedlings ordered must accompany all applications.

Important Treat Grain For Weevils

By HERMAN H. MARKS
Assistant County Agent

Many farmers will be harvesting grain in the near future. If this grain is to be stored on the farm it should be treated for grain weevils. This pest does a great deal of damage to grain every year. Treatment is necessary in order to reduce this damage.

In order to do the best job of storing grain the storage place should be air tight. Spray inside with 2 pounds of 50% DDT, TDE, or methoxychlor in 5 gallons of water. Harvest grain as soon as it is dry. Fumigate in the fall if needed and again in the spring.

The following fumigants are recommended: (1) a 3-1 mixture of ethylene dichloride and carbon tetrachloride applied at the rate of 6 gallons per 1000 cubic feet in steel bins or 7½ gallons in tight wooden bins or cribs, (2) a 4-1 mixture of carbon tetrachloride and carbon disulphide applied at the rate of 5 gallons per 1000 cubic feet in steel bins or 6½ gallons in tight wooden bins or cribs, (3) methyl bromide applied at the rate of 1 pound per 1000 cubic feet in steel bins or 1¼ pounds in wooden bins or cribs. Keep buildings closed at least 48 hours. Use synergized pyrethrins or premium grade malathion in shelled corn or other grains.

Season bread, wrap it in foil, and heat on the grill for a delicious outdoor treat.

GOT A SUMMER COLD
666 for symptomatic relief

Millions of dollars are going to be lost to cotton farmers this season just because some producers aren't smart enough to follow good picking and ginning practices... the experts say that one simple practice at the gin will make the farmer from $10 to $30 per bale... this practice is the grouping of seed cotton according to moisture and trash content... talk to your zinner about it... you'll find him more than cooperative... also, we suggest you talk to your county agent about good picking practices, even if you do know more about growing cotton than he does!!!

Paper vs. Cotton

Paper is making more inroads into cotton's markets... the Army is experimenting with a paper-hose lined linen and several other items of clothing... also, a large mail-order house is offering paper fabrics with nylon reinforcements for use in making tablecloths, draperies, etc.

New Weapon
Scientists have just come up with new facts about using calcium arsenate to kill boll weevils... where it was once thought that the pest had to eat the chemical before it would kill them, it has just been discovered that the poison can kill through contact.

Cotton Meeting
Theme of the Beltwide Production-Mechanization conference in 1960 will be "Growing Quality Cotton Efficiently"... should be worthwhile for the producer... conference will be held in Memphis, Tenn., on January 11-13... some of the top technical men in the country will be there.

Moisture Meter
We hear of some cotton producers who are using a moisture meter to determine when to pick... making $5 to $10 per bale easy... they check the cotton in the open boll early in the morning... if it's too wet (that over 10 percent moisture for hand picking or over 8 percent for machines) they wait an hour and check it again... when it's ready, they go to it... they stop when the late evening reading shows too much moisture.

Alabama Youth To Share Prizes

Large Number Awards
Await FFA, FHA, 4-H
Boys, Girls At State Fair

It will be like finding a pot of gold at the end of a rainbow for scores of Alabama 4-H Club, FFA and FHA boys and girls when they compete for thousands of dollars in cash premiums at the 1959 Alabama State Fair.

Because the Youth of Alabama will share in the $44,910.00 being offered in premiums at this year's State Fair, which will be held at the Fairgrounds in Birmingham from Monday, October 5 through Saturday, October 10, Friday, October 9, will be 4-H Club, FFA and FHA Day at the Fair.

All three youth groups, the 4-H Clubs, the FFA and the FHA will compete for ribbons and valuable prizes being offered their chapters, while individuals will compete for ribbons and prizes in the Pure Bred Beef Cattle Show, the Registered Dairy Cattle Show and other livestock events.

Special events include the FFA Purebred Hog Show and the 4-H and FFA Pig Show.

Special guests of the State Fair management will be the 4-H Club district Dairy Maids as well as the State 4-H Dress Revue winners. The eight district Dairy Maids will be in the spotlight during the Junior Dairy Show, while the eight district winners in the 4-H Dress Revue will appear in front of the grandstand Wednesday night, October 7.

In each of the 4-H, FFA and FHA divisions, the State Fair will offer premiums of $160.00 for first place (one exhibit); $130.00 each for second place (two exhibits) and $100.00 each for third place (two exhibits). As a special inducement, the State Fair will also pay $50.00 in cash—plus 15 cents per mile for one trip to and from Birmingham—to the chapter putting on the 4-H, FFA and FHA exhibit.

Soil Tests Pay For Bruce Ellis

An experiment really proved the value of soil testing for Bruce Ellis, Jr., of Lauderdale County. Ellis had the soil tested from two of his fields this spring, but he followed recommendations on only one of these fields. The other area was fertilized according to an old system that had been used for years.

The results of the experiment have sold Ellis on the fact that fertilizer of the right kind and amount is highly important. Assistant County Agent Herman Marks reports. The farmer stated that there is hardly any comparison between the two fields of corn because the area where recommendations were followed looks so much better.

Ellis of Waterloo community speaks for himself and other farmers when he says, "On the average we are not using enough fertilizer on the crops we are growing. I plan to use more fertilizer on my farm next year than I did this year." Ellis believes that many farmers have yet to see the need for more fertilizer for increasing yields and farm income.

Farmers To Have Help If Disabled

Beginning in October 1959 farmers will have social security disability protection for the first time. That date can be an important one for any farmer who becomes severely disabled in October or later months.

Although many severely disabled people in this area are now receiving disability insurance benefits under social security, farmers have not been able to qualify up until this time, according to Mrs. Mary King Temple, Manager of the local social security office.

A disabled person has to have social security credit for 5 years in the 10 years immediately before he became disabled. Because farmers were not covered under the law until January, 1955, they could not meet this test. By now, however, most farmers will have earned 5 years or 20 quarters of coverage under social security beginning with the month of October.

This does not mean that farmers can be paid disability benefits for the month of October because the law still requires that a person be disabled for 6 months or more before payments can be made. But it does mean that the farmer who come. The Lauderdale County farmer indicated that a soil test is the best way to determine fertilizer needs, and he plans to take even more advantage of it in the future. Ellis operates a 350-acre farm where he grows 10 acres of cotton, 70 acres of corn, 45 acres of pasture and hay crops, a herd of 60 beef cattle, and 90 hogs.

NEW BENEFITS FOR MEMBERS

OF WOODMEN OF THE WORLD LIFE INSURANCE SOCIETY

Now added to the growing list of its fraternal services is ASSISTANCE TO MEMBERS AFFLICTED WITH LUNG CANCER — UP TO $1,000

Under the program, up to $1,000 may be paid on behalf of any beneficiary member of one year or longer who develops lung cancer. Payments under this new program will be made with the following limitations. Hospitalization (not to exceed $8.00 a day), $250; Operating Room, $75; Anesthesia, $50; X-ray and Bronchoscopy, $100; Drugs, $75; Surgeon, $350; Private Nurses (registered only), $100; Maximum total each patient, $1,000.

This new assistance program is not part of the insurance certificate. Rather, it is another free service (fraternally provided) to our members. The program for providing relief to members who become victims of flood, tornado and other disasters has now become liberalized. Such members now may receive as much as a full year of payment for Woodmen of the World-held life protection with a $100 limitation.

Other benefits to members include unlimited free treatment for pulmonary tuberculosis — after one year's membership — which the Society has provided since 1923.
