

The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

• The announcement by the Weyerhaeuser Company of the location of their new corrugated shipping container plant in Florence could be the opening wedge for additional plants that are considering new locations in the South. This is one of the largest timber products manufacturers in the entire nation and their selection of this area for this plant assures other industry of the soundness of Florence as a site for their expansion plans. Much work has been done to bring this plant here.

• Don't forget: If you don't go to other folks funerals you can't expect them to come to yours.

• While dressing the other morning, the old boy ran his hand in his trousers pocket and began to rave: "That boy of ours has taken money out of my pocket." "How dare you accuse that son of yours of slipping money out of your pocket? Why, I might have done it," Father shook his head. "No you didn't; there is some left."

• Plastic surgeons can do almost anything with a nose—except keep it out of other people's business.

• The neighborhood parson was a visitor to the little one-room school house and the teacher was so pleased she asked him if he wouldn't like to ask the students some questions. He was happy to do so and began: "Now listen here to some of my interrogations. What I want you children to tell me is do you know the Ten Commandments?" None answered and he pointed to a little boy on the front row. "You dare to tell me that you don't know. What's your name, boy?" the aroused parson asked. "Moses," was the meek reply.

• All we can say is that it serves Junior right if his mother backs the car over his bicycle. He shouldn't have left it on the front lawn in the first place.

• A Swedish farmer had established himself on a farm in Minnesota and early began studying so that he might become a citizen of the United States. The time had arrived when he was ready, he thought, and presented himself before the proper authority for examination. After a few preliminary remarks by the presiding judge, the applicant for naturalization was asked: "Are you satisfied with the general conditions of this country?" "Yah, sure," was his answer. "And does this government suit you?" was the next question. "Yah, mostly," he replied, "but, I wish you could give us a little more rain."

• You know Christmas is just around the corner when you get a notice that the last payment is due on last year's hi-fi set.

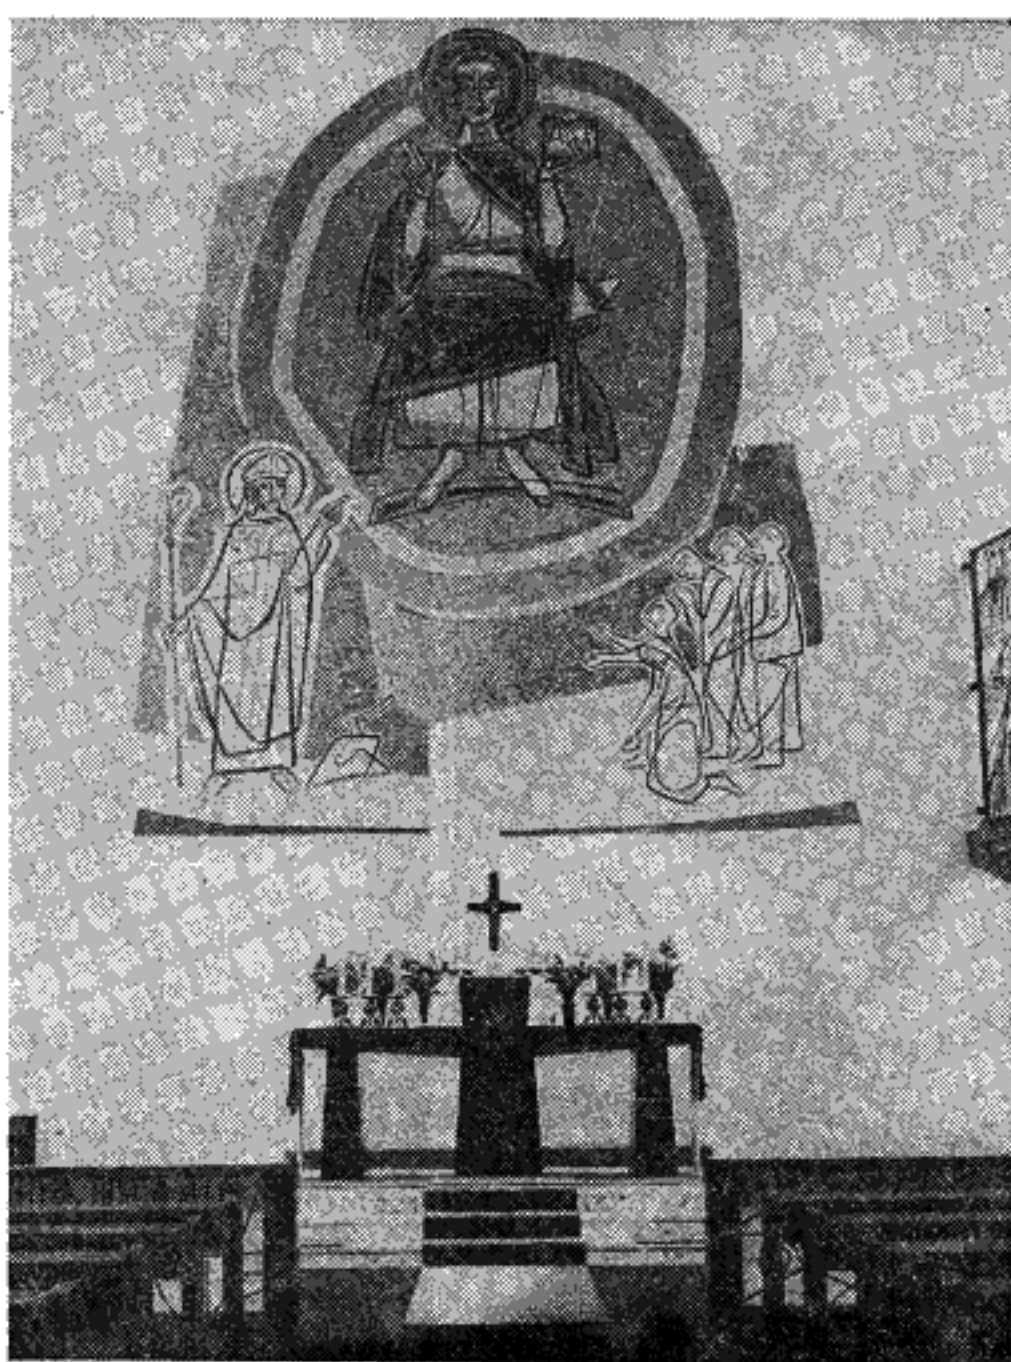

• Bothered with dog hairs in your house? Try vacuuming your dog when you vacuum the carpets. Use the tube without attachment—your dog will love it. Warning: Don't try this on your Chihuahua, you may see him vanish into the vacuum cleaner.

• He was driving along the four-lane highway at about forty miles an hour when behind him sounded the awesome wailing of a highway patrolman's siren. "Pull over and stop," was the officer of the law's instructions. "But officer," the motorist began, "I've done nothing wrong." "That's right," the lawman replied, "but you were driving so awfully careful that I feel you are violating some law." Warning: Don't drive too carefully!

• Maybe you, too, would have been a little puzzled as were the pupils of a certain teacher who asked a class, discussing the North American Indians, if any one could tell what the leaders of the tribes were called. "Chiefs," said a little girl. "Correct," said the teacher. "And what were the women called?" A sharp little lad in the back row answered promptly: "Mischiefs." And how far from right was he?

• We were thinking that one reason opportunity is so hard to find is because it usually wears work clothes.

• A certain husband being notoriously forgetful of all anniversaries, a long-suffering wife was pleasantly surprised the other afternoon when, upon returning home, she found a note sticking out of the mail box, that read: "Sweetheart, you will find my wedding anniversary gift on your bed." She ran upstairs in high anticipation and there, on the bed, fast asleep, was her husband. If ever there was the urge to kill...

Spending Up Nearly $100,000

Record City Budget Is Okayed By Commission

Tuesday afternoon, the City Commission approved the largest budget in the history of Florence, $1,158,143.87 compared to $1,060,831.39 last year; this does not include Electricity, Water, Gas and Sewer board departments since they have their own budget, it was pointed out.

These departments, in turn, will use the money for other items such as street maintenance and lighting, fire hydrant rental, insect control, insurance on all city schools and city buildings, employee fringe benefits, payroll taxes, traffic lights fund, utility expenses, traffic lights electricity and maintenance, radio expense, equipment replacements, Literacy movement, colored curb market, park and recreation expense, interest on voting machines, parking meter repair and expense and many other items too numerous to mention.

Florence-Lauderdale Post No. 11, American Legion, will resume its regular semi-monthly meetings at the Legion Home tonight at 7:30 o'clock following the completion of the scheduled community meetings. These meetings, held in various sections of the county, proved most interesting and enjoyable, Commander Laverne Tate stated.

The meeting tonight is a most important one as plans for the Christmas activities and other endeavors of the post will be discussed and acted upon. It is urged that a large number be on hand to assist with the program. Reports of the Trading Post and other committees will be heard, Adjutant W. T. Shelby announced.

Kennedy Names Number To Key Cabinet Posts

President-Elect Taps Luther H. Hodges As Commerce Secretary

North Carolina Gov. Luther H. Hodges has been tapped by President-elect John F. Kennedy for the post of secretary of commerce, it was revealed Saturday.

Hodges standing by Kennedy's side at West Palm Beach, Fla., for the announcement, said he would make the commerce department a vital challenging force for the nation. He expressed concern about the economy of the country under the outgoing Republican administration.

Kennedy said Hodges, 62, and a former textile industrialist, "will bring to his new position experience in both business and government."

Earlier Mr. Kennedy had named David E. Bell, professor of economics at Harvard University, as his budget director. Bell, 41, stood by the president-elect's side as the announcement was made on Friday of last week. Bell formerly served the Truman Administration as administrative assistant. He will confer with Mr. Eisenhower's budget director after which he will begin tailoring the Eisenhower budget recommendations to fit the new regime.

The day before appointing Bell, Mr. Kennedy had named G. Mennen Williams as assistant secretary of state for African affairs, an extremely important post in the light of recent troubles on the dark continent.

On the same day Kennedy named Governor Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut to serve as secretary of health, education and welfare.

The President-elect has also appointed Senator Stuart Symington, one time Air Force secretary, to study plans for reorganizing the military services' executive machinery. Under Symington's recommendations the joint chiefs of staff, that is, the Army, Navy and Air Force, would be eliminated as would the separate "secretaries." Symington says the move would save the government some $8 billion a year and if implemented the program would permit a far more direct control and coordination of the armed services.

While the President-elect has not as yet named his choice for secretary of state, he did name Rep. Stewart L. Udall (D-Ariz.) for secretary of the interior. Senator Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) is heading a committee to map a program of aid for areas of chronic unemployment, Mr. Kennedy appointing the 11-member group on Sunday.

Bull Goes Berserk At Cattle Show

W. H. Whitten, Waterloo Rd., Florence, had a fightin' mad bull on his hands at the Alabama Hereford Breeder's show and sale in Demopolis Sunday afternoon. The bull, W. Chief Domino 43rd, was in a bad humor after the long trip from Florence and broke away from a dozen handlers and his owner as he was being unloaded. He snorted scornfully, ripped up the sod, partially debarked a tree and headed west, traveling through three residential sub-divisions and down Highway 80.

When Old Forty-three paused, Cliff Bethea of Altmore threw a lasso over his head, however, that moment of indecision left him with a trailing length of rope and it was only a matter of time, a strong tree and a tranquilizer shot before he was captive again.

James Powers Moody arrived yesterday for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Pearl Powers Moody.

SECRETARY — Miss Letitia Baldridge, next White House social secretary, says Mrs. John F. Kennedy, wife of President-elect, has exciting new plans for the White House but has not yet been asked by Mrs. Eisenhower to look over her new home.

FSC Construction Makes Progress

Building Program At College Financed With Federal Loan Funds

The 60-room women's dormitory, one of three buildings now being constructed on the Florence State College campus, will be ready for occupancy at the opening of the second semester but will be occupied by men since there is a genuine need for space to house male students. It will be open to women upon completion of the 224-room men's dormitory which is now 40 per cent complete.

April 1 is the date set for the completion of the Student Union with the concrete floor on the second story already poured and all columns and beams for the roof construction finished. This building originally was scheduled for completion February 26, 1961, but the architect, Allen Northington, Smith and Kraner, indicated it would be delayed until April.

The $1,244,715 construction program is being financed with proceeds from a Federal loan.

LAUDERDALE COUNTY MOVES INTO 9TH PLACE

During the past ten years, Lauderdale County has moved into ninth place in the population poll, with a 61,622 count. This represents a 13.3 per cent increase since 1950 when Lauderdale was in eleventh place with 1.77 per cent of the state's population. The county now has 1.89 per cent of the state's total population.

Lauderdale County is among twenty-two in Alabama which showed population increases in the current U.S. Census count.

Mrs. Ann Bennett Hopkins arrived from Birmingham for the weekend with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Bennett, bringing as her guests Mr. and Mrs. Richard King, also from Birmingham.

President Eisenhower welcomed President-elect John F. Kennedy Tuesday to a White House conference on the change in administration. The historic meeting took place on the north portico of the executive mansion, the 70-year-old President waiting to greet his Democratic successor as the Kennedy sedan rolled through the White House gates promptly at 9 a.m.

Hundreds gathered to see the new chief executive-to-be cheered as they caught sight of the Senator and photographers were on hand to take pictures of the historic meeting. Mr. Eisenhower and Senator Kennedy shook hands twice, the second time for the benefit of the waiting photographers. Kennedy told the President, "It's good to be here."

A Marine Corps band played "The Stars and Stripes Forever" during the meeting which took a very few minutes. The two then entered the executive mansion where Mr. Kennedy met members of Mr. Eisenhower's cabinet for briefing on military, economic, and diplomatic problems of the nation. Included were Secretary of State Christian Herter, Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates, and Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson.

Mr. Kennedy was represented by Clark Clifford, Washington attorney and Mr. Eisenhower by Maj. Gen. Wilton B. Persons. James C. Hagerty, White House Press Secretary, said Kennedy and Eisenhower had a private talk before the meeting with cabinet members.

Kennedy was also introduced to members of the White House staff. Secret Service detail head James Rowley, and White House usher James West. He was also escorted by the president over the executive mansion for a look at kitchens and swimming pool.

1961 CANCER CHAIRMAN—Jimmy Faulkner, of Bay Minette, prominent Alabama newspaper publisher and radio executive, will serve as state chairman for the American Cancer Society's educational and fund raising crusade next April.

His appointment and acceptance were announced by the crusade committee of the Alabama Division, composed of E. C. Easter, Birmingham, chairman; P. O. Davis, Auburn, and Redus Collier, Decatur.

One of the nation's leading manufacturers and distributors of timber products, the Weyerhaeuser Company, will build a plant in Florence next year for the production of corrugated shipping containers.

Plans were announced this week by Ivan D. Wood, Charlotte, N. C., executive vice president of Weyerhaeuser Southern Corporation, a Weyerhaeuser Company subsidiary.

Wood said construction at a 10-acre site north of the Styron Plant is expected to be started about April 1 and completed in the fall of 1961. Weyerhaeuser engineers in St. Louis, Mo., who will direct construction, estimated that building plans and specifications will be ready for selective bidding by March 1.

The sheet plant, serving markets in Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi and Georgia, will employ about 30 persons in the initial stage of operation.

W. G. Karran, Chattanooga, Tenn., has been appointed resident manager. A veteran of 25 years in the forest products industry, Karran formerly was general manager of the Chattanooga plant of Container Corporation of America.

Governor John Patterson and Highway director Sam Englehardt have agreed to build a road to the plant from Florence Boulevard between National Pool Equipment Company and Tri-Cities Linen Company and following the L&N railroad track to intersect Rickwood Avenue near the Styron plant, it was announced by Florence Chamber of Commerce manager C. H. Jackson.

"Other managerial personnel will be transferred from Charlotte," Wood said. "All other employees will be recruited locally in the Tri-Cities area of Florence, Sheffield and Tusculum."

Wood said the Florence plant may be expanded in the future and that any such plans would be "predicated on anticipated industrial growth in the area and customer acceptance."

"Our plans are to construct the first stage, 57,000 square feet, of a three-stage plant which would ultimately reach 148,000 square feet and would employ approximately 100 people."

Weyerhaeuser building materials, including glue-laminated timbers, roofing decking and Roddis plywood, will be used in the plant.

The company, a pioneer forest products firm, is a diversified manufacturer of lumber, plywood, hardboards, particle boards, bark and wood fiber products, wood pulps, paperboards, shipping containers, folding boxes and milk cartons. Timber holdings include stands in North Carolina, Mississippi and Alabama.

Weyerhaeuser operates 22 shipping container manufacturing plants in 17 states, including facilities at Charlotte, Baltimore, New Orleans, Tampa and Lynchburg, Va. The Lynchburg plant was opened Nov. 7. Additional shipping container production plants are under construction at Cloquet, Minn., and Olympia, Wash.

Wood said the Alabama plant site, in the Muscle Shoals area, was selected on the basis of "Market potential in the Florence area, its geographical location in the East South Central states, and the

More Than Passing Strange

The old adage that "figures don't lie" is true but we sometimes wonder if they're not juggled to suit the needs of certain interests. What brought this up is the more than strange situation that has developed in the so-called recount of votes by Republicans in certain sectors bringing to light disproportionate margins in favor of their defeated candidate, Richard Nixon, especially in the case of the nearly quarter of a million absenteees reported to have voted in California and whose vote turned the tide in that state in favor of the Vice President.

It makes one wonder if the Democrats might not have good cause to demand a recount of the "recount."

More Than Four Walls

To many people a hospital is a building of brick and steel and concrete, of reasonably attractive architecture, housing a conglomeration of mysterious machines, operating equipment and iron beds in which people are confined for various illnesses, broken bones and what not, and staffed by white-garbed internes and nurses whose duties consist mainly of attending the operating surgeons or jabbing hypodermic needles into various parts of unsuspecting patients' anatomies.

Back in the old days when doctors visited the homes of patients the hospital was considered a last resort, a place for the desperately ill and very often a place associated with death. In those days a person "in the hospital" was not something to be treated lightly.

However, with the advent of X-ray, improved anesthetics and antiseptics and later the marvelous anti-biotics, the public attitude toward hospitals changed. New operating techniques and methods of treating disease reduced mortality tremendously and gave the physician the means of successfully combating many diseases that had hitherto baffled his greatest efforts.

However, it told the physician something else, that he could best treat his sick and ailing patients in the hospital where the proper tests could be made to determine the extent of sickness or injury. In this way the patient had a far better chance for complete recovery and in many cases a much shorter period of convalescence.

Gradually the hospital's four walls of brick, concrete and steel became more than just a building. It became a haven for the sick where they received the best of care from warm-hearted, sympathetic doctors and nurses concerned with only one thing . . . to get them well again.

And that is what the hospital is today. It is a haven for the ill where pain is eased and hope restored . . . a place where care is given without stint and where there are no boundaries of class, creed or color.

Know your hospital for what it is . . . not for its walls of brick and concrete and steel, but for its humanity and its compassion.

Waterloo Chapter Plans Activities

Fifty-Three Members Participate In Varied Program During Year

The Waterloo FFA chapter, under the guidance of W. D. Hagood, is well on its way to another successful year with a membership of 53.

Officers of the chapter are Lynn Lard, president; Sam Daniel, vice-president; Paul May, treasurer; Jimmy Barrier, secretary; Ronnie Murphy, parliamentarian; David Haynes, assistant advisor, and Donald Heupel, reporter.

An interesting and varied program at chapter meetings during the year has been lined up. These include programs on forestry, wildlife, soil conservation, the state employment service, the functions banking.

Outstanding work by members in farm electricity, farm mechanics, cotton and corn growing and the chapter star farmer will be recognized with appropriate awards.

The chapter won first place with an exhibit in the North Alabama State Fair. Members are participating in the Lauderdale County soil testing program and well over a 100 samples have already been taken. Fay Parker, with 32 samples, is a leading contender for the county award for the most samples taken.

All boys in the Ag I and Ag II classes will participate in the chapter's public speaking contest, the winner of which will vie with other chapter winners in the county contest.

U. S. Tightens Foreign Aid

In order to halt the disappearance of gold and dollars, the government ordered nations receiving U.S. foreign aid not to spend the money in nineteen economically strong countries. This action requires nations receiving some $400 million in U.S. foreign aid funds to purchase machinery and other capital goods from either undeveloped countries or the United States. United States aid may rise in cost by $100 million because many aid items now will have to be obtained in the U.S. where prices are higher than in the nineteen affected countries.

Episcopal Archbishop Visits Pope

Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, 73, the Archbishop of Canterbury, returned to London Saturday from his historic call on Pope John XXIII with a statement that ever closer contacts will be maintained between Protestants and Catholics. His call on the Pope was the first official contact between the heads of the two churches since the English Reformation more than 400 years ago. The purpose of his visit was to clear the way for regular, frequent and informal exchanges of interest and understanding among the different branches of the church.

Titan missiles are worth about $4 million each.

Missile Fragments Fall on Cuba

The Thor-Able-star rocket, designed to orbit two satellites, developed a malfunction shortly after its launch from Cape Canaveral, Fla., and was blown up by a safety officer. Most of the vehicle fell into the open sea, but unfortunately some fragments of the vehicle fell on Cuban territory. A Cuban paper announced that a fragment had been found and weighed forty pounds; United States officials speculated that the fragments might be examined by Soviet or Red Chinese technicians in an effort to discover what they can about U.S. space vehicles.

Veterans' Column

State Dept. of Veterans' Affairs

Veterans, widows and children now on the non-service pension rolls will find an extra something with their December check. It will be that Annual Income Questionnaire that the VA mails out at the end of each calendar year. On the form you receive, you'll have to tell the VA exactly what your total income for calendar year, 1960, amounted to. You'll also have to tell them what income you expect to have for calendar year, 1961.

The VA will give you until the end of January, 1961, to properly fill out this questionnaire and get it back to them. If you don't, your pension will be stopped, and once it's stopped, you'll experience some delay in getting it started again, so when that December check comes in, take that questionnaire out of the envelope and put it in a safe place and remember where you put it. Then, sometime after the first of the year, get it out and look over the questions you'll have to answer.

Put your answers down on a piece of paper and take them, together with the form, to the nearest County Service Office of your Alabama Department of Veterans Affairs and he will be very glad to sit down and go over the form with you and put the proper answers in the proper places. After it is completed, he will give you an envelope addressed to the Veterans Administration office to which it should be sent. All you have to do then is to place a stamp on the envelope and drop it in the mail.

Personality Sketches

By ANN MATHIAS

HENRY GRADY RICHARDS

"I value more than any one thing in my life my close association with the youth with whom I come in daily contact. Many of my most pleasant hours have been spent with the camping and scouting groups and on hiking trips which I still participate in and continue to enjoy. I have appreciated ten thousand tender, touching episodes with the youth of our city throughout the years and I recall with deep emotion a brown bag of winter huckleberries at Christmas, the gift of a little girl who couldn't give more," Mr. Richards said when asked what he had enjoyed most during his lifetime.

"As for my career in teaching, I have found it to be the most rewarding profession I could have possibly chosen. And for my added inspiration, if such be needed, I have pictures on the walls of my office of several outstanding teachers who have served the young people of Florence during my time and on these I can look for my own guidance," Mr. Richards added.

Henry Grady Richards was born in Kennedy, Lamar County, January 12, 1894, the son of Stonewall Jackson and Della Clara Richards. He received his elementary education in the rural schools of Lamar County and attended Lamar County High School in Vernon.

In 1913, Mr. Richards received a second grade teaching certificate and taught five months through the winter; during the remaining seven months, he attended Florence State Normal College. He then taught for the next seven years in the rural schools of Lamar, Fayette and Madison counties.

Mr. Richards enlisted in the U.S. Army November 10, 1917, and was discharged December 20, 1918, with the rank of First Sergeant. He returned to Kennedy, where he organized the Kennedy High School. In 1921, he accepted the post of principal of Gilbert School in Florence, the position he has held for the past thirty-nine years.

Miss Sarah Paulk Weds Cecil T. Braswell, Jr.

White flowers and greenery decorated the altar of Pisgah Methodist Church of Cloverdale and tall wedding tapers lighted the setting for the nuptial event of Thanksgiving Day when Sarah Paulk exchanged vows with Cecil T. Braswell, Jr., at three o'clock in the afternoon.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Paulk of Cloverdale Road, Florence, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil T. Braswell of 1625 Ridge Drive, Sheffield.

The Reverend Charles Huddleston of Anniston, uncle of the bridegroom, read the service following a musical prelude by Miss Beth Bolding and Mark Robinson. Miss Eleanor Lovelace was at the organ for the traditional marches.

Wearing a street-length dress of white satin and small white hat, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her bouquet, a cluster of white carnations, was carried with her white Bible.

Miss Clarissa Hubbard, maid of honor, and Miss Patricia Paulk, younger sister of the bride, were attendants. Brocaded taffeta fashioned their frocks, Miss Hubbard's of green and Miss Paulk's of lavender, and they wore matching accessories. They, too, carried white carnations.

Mr. Braswell was his son's best man and ushers were Ronnie Paulk, brother of the bride, and Jimmy Griggs, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

With a beige ensemble, Mrs. Paulk, mother of the bride, wore black accessories; Mrs. Braswell was attired in blue.

Assisting at the reception which followed in the church parlors were Miss Mary Louise Robertson, Mrs. Jimmy Griggs and Mrs. Frank Thompson.

When the couple left for their honeymoon trip, the bride was wearing a costume suit of blue wool with brief jacket and matching accessories.

Mrs. Braswell is continuing her courses at Florence State College, with plans to join Mr. Braswell, now serving with the United States Air Force in Greenville, S. C., at mid-year.

Miss Mary Jean Tipton, Franklin Watkins Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Clell Tipton, 510 Eugenia Street, Florence, have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Jean, to Franklin D. Watkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Watkins, Jacksonburg Road, Florence.

The bride-elect was graduated from Coffee High School and completed the secretarial course at Florence State College before accepting the position which she now holds at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville.

Mr. Watkins, a graduate of Rogers High School, is with the Reynolds Company.

Evening vows will be said on December thirtieth in Central Baptist Church.

Prenuptials Honor Miss Annette Embry

Courtesies have continued for bride-elect Annette Embry since the announcement a few weeks ago of her engagement to Forrest Ellis Reeves. In Nashville where she is a career girl during the week, and in Rogersville where she spends the weekends at home, she has been honored with parties which range from small, intimate groups to those much larger.

Recent Rogersville hostesses were Mrs. Reeder Reeves, Mrs. Larry Bedingfield and Mrs. Ira Ly with a miscellaneous shower at Bedingfield who entertained joint-the home of the former.

Veiled with lace over green taffeta, the party table was centered with an arrangement of all-white flowers and lighted by tall white tapers. Assisting with the courtesies were Mrs. Jack Bedingfield, Miss Cynthia Romine, Miss Dixie Cox and Mrs. Joe Romine, Jr.

Wearing red jersey and a corsage of white carnations, the honoree greeted the thirty-five or more guests who called.

The wedding will be an event of Saturday, the tenth.

Mrs. Huff Hostess Current Events Club

"Candle, Star and Christmas Tree" is the title of the book which Mrs. B. V. Bender used in presenting the program at last week's meeting of Current Events Club. Written by Doctors Charles Allen and Charles Wallis, ministers, traditional customs of ancient Christmases are brought into sharp focus against those of our present-day Christmas Season. Of interest, too, was Mrs. Bender's reminder that Dr. Allen, longtime minister of Grace M. E. Church in Atlanta, once conducted a series of services in Florence and was heard by many of the club's members.

Mrs. Fulton Huff, hostess at her home on Willingham Road, included Miss Orpha Ann Culmer and Mrs. Celia Wilson in the afternoon's hospitality.

Following the program, delightful refreshments were served from a prettily appointed tea table.

Mrs. Virginia Steen left late Saturday for her home in Gainesville, Fla., after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McCraw.

The Richard Gordons Now At Home In Florida

Following their early evening wedding in Killen Methodist Church on Friday, November twenty-fifth, and their subsequent honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Gordon are now at home at Coco Beach, Florida, where Mr. Gordon is serving with the United States Air Force at near-by Patrick Field.

The bride is the former Frances Carolyn Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sherman Jones of Killen, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Julius T. Gordon of Charlotte, North Carolina.

The Reverend Dorsey Thomas read the half past six o'clock vows and Miss Gail Marshall presented a program of nuptial music.

Arrangements of bronze chrysanthemums and yellow gladioli were interspersed with branched candelabra of burning yellow tapers to fashion the altar background for the wedding tableau.

The bride chose for the occasion a gown of satin designed with close-fitting bodice, rounding neckline and just below-the-elbow sleeves. The full, floor-length skirt featured a bustle back and extended to form a small train. A pearl-encrusted crown held her fingertip veil of silk illusion and she carried a single white orchid encircled by white carnations. In the absence of her father, injured in a recent accident, the bride was escorted to the altar by her uncle, Herbert H. Jones, and given in marriage by her mother.

Miss Johanne Mae Jones, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Robert House were maid and matron of honor; Miss Lorraine Garrett of Rochester, Minnesota, and Miss Donna Schmidkofer, bridesmaids; and Mary Hardy Puller and Susan Harrison, junior maids. They wore gold-colored satin frocks with brief sleeves, boat-shaped necklines and intermission-length skirts, paneled in front and full-gathered at the sides and back. Matching hair bands and bouquets of bronze mums completed their attire.

Robert Sloan of Kentucky served as best man and ushers were Atticus Harrison, Robert House, Milton Mitchell and Neil McCabe.

Mrs. Jones, mother of the bride, wore rose-colored lace, matching small hat and a corsage of white gladioli.

Assisting at the reception which immediately followed the ceremony were Mrs. Neil McCabe, Mrs. Milton Mitchell, Mrs. Milton Wilson, Mrs. Leo Ray, Mrs. Wallace Owens, Mrs. M. G. Roberts, Mrs. Charles Tays, Mrs. Henry Gautney, Mrs. H. H. Jones, Mrs. P. G. Jones, Mrs. Marvin Randle, Mrs. J. C. Matlind, Mrs. Virgil Peeden, Mrs. Doyle Barnett, Mrs. Tom Jones, Mrs. Atticus Harrison, Mrs. Ruby Cox, Miss Ila Cox, Mrs. Fred Hamm, Mrs. Howard Hamner, Mrs. Howard Gifford and Mrs. Myrtle Gautney.

For travel, the bride chose a mink-trimmed suit of grey wool with which she wore a small white satin hat, black accessories and, at

Golden Wedding Open House Fetes Longtime Florentines

One of the prettiest courtesies of recent weeks was the open house of Sunday afternoon when Mr. and Mrs. George M. Jones, Jr., and their young daughters, Susan Margaret, Sara and Nancy, were hosts at their home on Norwood Boulevard. The affair marked the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. Jones' parents, longtime Florentines whose home is at 1217 Evelyn Street.

The traditional white-and-green of weddings, touched with gold here and there, predominated in the gift bouquets which decorated the rooms. A focal point in the living room was the arrangement of white stock and fern fronds with pink carnations which graced the coffee table near where the hosts and honorees received, Mrs. Jones, Sr., wearing orchid em-bossed taffeta with a deeper shade-of orchid corsage; her hostess in cloth of gold with matching gladioli at her shoulder.

In the dining room, a round teatable was veiled in pink tulle over satin with full-gathered, floor-length flounce. The centerpiece of white specimen chrysanthemums and greenery was flanked by tall white tapers in crystal stands and complemented by nosegays of smaller blossoms with tiny gold-embossed white bells and satin streamers placed at intervals near the table's edge.

Assisting with the courtesies were Mrs. James D. White, Mrs.

W. J. Callaway, Mrs. Lucile Tomlinson, Mrs. L. H. Almond, Mrs. Allen White, Mrs. Gray Lovelace, Mrs. Donald Trowbridge, Mrs. Worley Mullins, Mrs. Mario Rovere, Mrs. John Martin and Miss Jane Bobo, all of Florence, Mrs. George M. Mitchell of Birmingham, Mrs. Felix Perrelloux of New Orleans and Mrs. E. P. Kingsbery of Huntsville.

Guests included in the two-thirty o'clock hospitality numbered about two hundred.

Clubs Enjoy Dinner Dance

Fifty-eight members and guests of the Florence Newcomer's Club and the Hi-Neighbor Group enjoyed the festivities of a dinner and dance at the Muscle Shoals Hotel at Sheffield, Saturday evening.

The music of the Upsetters set the pace for the evening. Bob Johnson was master of ceremonies and awarded door prizes to the following:

Mrs. James Freeman, Mrs. Burt Mills, Mrs. R. H. Bold, Mrs. Ed Faarni, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Her-jean, Mrs. James Terry, Mr. Mer-tin, Mrs. Charles Bystrom, Mrs. Jack F. Mathias, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Situstie, Mrs. Dillie Frazier, Mr. Joe Parnall, Mrs. Olive, Mrs. I. S. Davidson, Mr. Mardis, Mrs. Ben Shostle.

Mrs. Jack McEntire was chairman for the Florence Newcomer's Club and Mrs. Marvin Young was chairman for the Hi-Neighbor Group.

urday for Mrs. John R. Brown's one o'clock courtesy.

Inspiration of the party was the arrival of three delightful out-of-towners who were honorees of the occasion—Mrs. John Dial, sister of Mrs. Moody Redd, and Mrs. Sealy Call, both of Atlanta, were guests in the Redd home during the weekend, and Mrs. Virginia Steen of Gainesville, Fla., was with the J. C. McCraws of 1232 Dun-treath.

Other small and informal affairs marked these visits.

Better Garden Club's Annual Christmas Party

Festive holiday decorations abounded in the Patio Room at Holiday Inn when Better Garden Clubs met for their Christmas party, a luncheon, on Thursday, December 1.

Mrs. Palmer Howard, Mrs. L. E. Bayles and Mrs. George Hoff-meister, hostesses for the affair, used a color theme of gold and white with arrangements of gilded foliage and big white candles connected along the table's center by ribbons of gilded ivy. A rose of gold-colored satin with attached name-card marked each place and golden cabbage roses fashioned candle holders.

Guests were seated around three long tables, joined to form a U, and among those present were Mrs. R. L. Royer, a new member, and Mrs. Frank Dixon of Springfield, Ill., who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Emerson Priest.

After-luncheon entertainment was provided by Mrs. E. J. Ricker who gave her original composition, "Recipe for Good Living," and an anonymous reading,

"Christmas Menu."

Mrs. Brock Reviews At Hypatian Meeting

"Such a delightful approach!" enthused the Hypatian Club reporter as she talked of the December 1 meeting when Mrs. Hoyt Brock, in charge of the day's program, reviewed "To Kill A Mocking Bird," and spoke interestingly of author Harper Lee, a high school student in Monroeville, Ala., when Dr. Brock was the school's principal. The story, with Monroeville as its locale, brings nostalgic memories as small-town incidents crowd one upon another.

Mrs. Fred Ashe, hostess at her Sheffield home, served tea to her guests in advance of the program.

Radiation is now used to judge amount of fat in meat.

Two Local Scouts Prize Winners

Large Roundup Held By Valley Council At Redstone On Saturday

The 1960 "Pershing-Zeus Boy Scout Roundup" ended Saturday with the awarding of prizes to the top recruiters.

Major General August Schomburg, Commanding General of the Army Ordnance Missile Command and chairman of the Roundup, presented the awards during ceremonies at Redstone Arsenal.

The top award, a transistor radio, was given to William Gill, 14-year-old son of Mrs. Genie Gill of 3609 Blue Spring Road, Huntsville. William, who participated in the National Scout Jamboree in Colorado Springs last summer, is a sophomore in Council High School. He is a First Class Scout in Troop 102.

Among the winners of camper tents and sleeping bags as top recruiters in the Muscle Shoals area were:

Carlin Landham, age 9, 2114 Arlington Boulevard, Florence. Wolf Rank, Cub Pack 14; and Albert Reynolds, age 8, 902 Irvine Avenue, Florence. Bobcat Rank, Cub Pack 113.

All scouts who recruited at least one boy for scouting during the period September 1 through November 26 were invited to attend the missile and rocket display at Redstone. Almost 2000 scouts and scout leaders were in attendance for the awards ceremonies.

Robert L. Haskins, Scout Executive for the Tennessee Valley Council, said this was the largest turnout ever for Roundup activities.

Each troop which completed all requirements was presented a banner for display on their troop flag. In addition, they received a written certificate signed by Gen. Schomburg.

Damp clothes which cannot be ironed immediately can be placed in a plastic bag in the refrigerator to prevent mildew.

Melt butter in the pie pan when making graham cracker pie. Add the cracker crumbs and mix. This saves washing an extra pan, and you don't waste any butter.

THE SPILLWAY

Holiday season
Is here in high gear,
And we have some good things
We think you should hear.

ONE OF THE NICEST THINGS

WE'VE HEARD in a long time happened up on the campus at Florence State. Seems that "Miss Willie" McFarland had planned a real Christmas vacation to be spent in California with her family which, along with daughters Adele Walker and Catherine and in-laws, included granddaughter Jordan (Wolgate) with a new (yet unseen to Miss W.) son, Johnny. But, according to the way we heard it, after much thought Miss Willie decided such a trip would be an extravagance she would forego. BUT... the nicest things do happen... "her boys" in Keller Hall couldn't stand the thought of her not having her trip, so put their heads together and figured out a way... gave her, we betcha, the nicest Christmas present she could possibly have had. And when they called her in and presented her with COMPLETE plans and plane reservations "there was not a dry eye in the house." Makes us all feel good to think of this wonderful person and the gift she certainly deserves. Hope she and that great-grandson and "all between" have the merriest Christmas ever!

YOU SHOULD'VE COME, whether you did or not, to the formal opening Sunday at the Eliza Coffee Memorial Hospital. The new additions with all the latest in hospital equipment can make us all proud of our community. Visitors, who we hear numbered into the thousands, were greeted by the hospital staff and board of governors, and wives, and were guided on their tour by members of the Medical Auxiliary and the Muscle Shoals District Service League. We're SO glad we were there, because we were very impressed with it all... and we'd like to join in in saying a big "Thank you" to the many responsible people and agencies who made it all possible.

WELCOME HOME to George Murray, whom we saw at last week's community concert. Pleased to know that he's opening his piano studio again, because he has so much to offer to the musical life of our town. He must've decided that there really is no place like home, and we're glad he did. SOMETHING NEW IN PARTIES... So-o-o sorry we didn't rate an "invite" to what must've been one of the nicest evenings yet for several dozen people. The (Dr.) Nolan Richards, who not too long ago moved here from New Zealand, sent out written invitations for "an evening in New Zealand" to their lucky friends, and we hear that it was just that!... there were exhibits, colored slides, and native music on the Hi-Fi set. Then an authentic New Zealand supper party followed, with food that the guests couldn't call by name, even after having been told. Sounds like a charming party, and we know whereof we speak when we say that Nolan and Ellen made charming host and hostess.

HEARD OF ANOTHER UNUSUAL PARTY (and an impromptu one) in front of the Presbyterian church after services last Sunday. Seems that Dorothea Tyree, Jean Fraser, and "Mealy" Summerville were exhibiting and comparing the knit coats which they had just finished... linings, interlinings, and finishing touches, as well as each knit and purl. And after all the time they must've spent on their projects, we don't blame them for being proud of what we hear were beautiful creations.

SPEAKING OF CHURCHES, we were so impressed recently when we heard the Youth and Junior choirs of the First Methodist Church join in with the adult choir. And we hear that soon they will be joined by a Cherub Choir, of pre-schoolers. Understand several of the local churches now have these junior choirs which are enjoyed as a fine addition to the services.

IN OUR BROAD "HINTS" we told you of the coming of a new plant to our city... and we are pleased that the announcement of the Weyerhaeuser Company locating one of their plants here has been made... we wanted to call names but couldn't.

IT WAS GOOD to see Cera Lee Folsom and brother, Sankey Lee, oldtime Florentines on the streets of our city Monday... we wish they'd return "home" from their present abode in Tupelo. BUSY, BUSY, BUSY... Elizabeth McDonald and her committee are just that, preparing for the coronation next week of Miss and Mr. Coffee High, Mary Fran Fago and Terry Haddock... with many of the professional dressmakers hereabout "up to their necks" in fancy clothes for the occasion. Know this will be a beautiful event, and we hope to be right there, as we intend to be at "Mac" McClure's band and glee club Christmas concert, which we seldom miss.

NEWS FLASH... A young gentleman we can hardly wait to meet is four-months-old William Enloe Moore... whose adoption by (Mommy and Daddy) Marilyn and Bill Moore of Stonewall, Miss., is hereby announced... also eager to meet this recent addition to the family circle are (local G.P.'s) Margaret and Fred Moore of 311 Gilbert Circle... who're counting the days 'til Christmas when the entire group will "reunion" here. FOR NOW, UNTIL MORE NEWS COMES THROUGH THE SPILLWAY... GOODBYE.

Rogersville Finds Hogs Profitable

The Rogersville FFA chapter is finding hogs to be a profitable source of income, according to a report given the chapter by president James Lark.

A recent sale of hogs netted the organization $115 which will be used to buy FFA supplies and shop equipment.

The hogs are kept in a shelter that was built during the veterans training program near the school. C. J. Pennington, vo-ag teacher and FFA advisor, says that the hogs are being raised in addition to the purebred and crossbred pig chains that the chapter is carrying out.

Miss Gravlee Head '61 March Of Dimes

Campaign Set Jan. 2-31
Announced By Dr. Rose,
Alabama State Chairman

Miss Pauline Gravlee, Florence, has been appointed Lauderdale County Director for the 1961 New

MISS PAULINE GRAVLEE

March of Dimes, according to an announcement Nov. 21 from the office of University President Frank A. Rose, Alabama state chairman.

Campaign dates are January 2-31. "The National Foundation already has made a substantial beginning in its campaign of seeking to prevent birth defects, and arthritis in addition to continuing to seek total control of paralytic polio," Dr. Rose said. He pointed out that soon members of Lauderdale County would be the recipients of the new Sabin oral live vaccine which was made possible through funds received from the March of Dimes, just as the Salk vaccine was. Dr. Rose commended citizens of Lauderdale County for their part in helping to put Alabama first in the nation in the percentage of increase in per capita donations during the 1960 campaign.

In accepting the appointment, Miss Pauline Gravlee pledged the support of her county in helping the National Foundation, whose sole support is through the March of Dimes, in its goal to wipe out the great crippling which affect so many millions of Americans today.

"I am confident that the people of Lauderdale County will continue to fight for better health for themselves and their children through the New March of Dimes, both as volunteer workers and through their contributions," she said.

Over 40 per cent of all meat sold in this country is displayed within self-service showcases. In 1944 there were only ten self-service meat markets throughout the entire country.

Come to Church for Services

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER — STAYS TOGETHER"

Johnny built a snowman! From white, cold snow he made it. It was hard work, and Johnny was justly proud.

Johnny built a snowman—in a day! He packed the snow hard, put in coals for the eyes and nose, and Daddy's hat was placed on top.

But far more of Daddy than just his hat went into this snowman. Just as Johnny worked hard to build the snowman, his father is hard at work too . . . building Johnny. Daddy's greatest dream is to see Johnny moulded into a man of strength, vision, and character.

Luckily for Johnny, Daddy is a wise father. He realizes that the most important single influence upon his son's life is the teaching of Christ. Daddy will see to it that his son receives that teaching by sending him to Church services regularly. In making certain that Johnny knows the beauty of God's words, father will see his greatest dream come true.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sorghum Produces Excellent Silage

A transformation may be taking place in silage production in the near future.

Several new varieties of sweet sorghum which have distinct advantages over many current silage-making crops are now on test, says O. N. Andrews, Auburn Extension agronomist. Some of the new varieties make two crops per year, one from seed and one from stubble, and others make higher yields of grain.

Dr. C. S. Hoveland, Auburn Experiment Station associate agronomist, is in charge of testing. And he reports that some of the new varieties which look promising are Beef Builder, Lindsey 115 F, Yieldmaker, NK 300, and DeKalb FS-1A.

Sweet sorghum can tolerate fairly long periods of dry weather and still make a good yield of silage. And Andrews says that this trait combined with the good features of the new varieties plus the use of labor-saving machinery in putting up and feeding silage will certainly make planting sorghum more appealing to cattlemen and dairymen who are interested in a more profitable source of roughage for livestock.

"It would not be wise, however, for farmers to grow these new varieties extensively until more information is available," Andrews adds. He recommends that dairymen continue to plant corn if they can make ten or more tons of silage per acre from the crop.

Corn makes a higher quality silage even though sorghum produces a much higher yield. If the higher grain yield of the new varieties of sorghum adds significantly to the feeding value of silage made from the crop, consequently improving quality, the new varieties may prove to be a real find for livestock farmers.
