Alabamians To Ballot On Amendments Feb. 16

Number One To Provide Hospital For Mentally Ill At Medical Center

Alabamians will go to the polls on Tuesday, February 16 to vote on 19 amendments. The other seventeen amendments are local measures of interest only in specific counties.

Amendment No. 1 asks approval of a bond issue of $3,000,000 to permit the construction and equipment of a hospital for mental patients. The bonds to be retired by a special tax on liquor passed by the recent State Legislature. The amendment set up by the legislature asking approval of the bond issue resulted from a study of conditions made of the state's mental hospitals by members of that body. Facilities were termed woefully inadequate.

The building to be built from the bond issue provided for in this amendment would be a part of the University Medical Center in Birmingham and would, in addition to treating mental patients, be used in connection with the teaching of mental diseases. The money derived from a special liquor tax would be paid into the state's special Mental Health Fund.

Amendment No. 2 pertains to the road system of the various counties of the state and would prevent the Legislature by any general, special or local act, from allowing the Highway Department to assume responsibility for county road systems without a vote of the people. Lauderdale County's road system is in the hands of the Highway Department at the present time though a number of counties maintain their own departments for the construction and maintenance of county roads.

Thus far only mild interest has developed in the coming election though it is expected to increase as the time for balloting on the amendments nears. Lauderdale County is not among the counties balloting on local bills.

Amendment No. 1 is not a tax increase measure since the bond retirement feature has already been set up. It will enable the state to greatly facilitate the care of its many thousands of mentally ill people and successfully treat many and return them to useful lives and occupations.

Educational TV Seen Aid To Literacy

Television dealers and public spirited citizens with an extra television set can help non-reading adults in the Tri-Cities to learn to read and write. The loan of a set will provide classes to receive the lessons that will be televised Monday.

The lessons will be given as a public service over the Alabama Educational TV network. The lessons will be received locally over the TV cable. Special equipment is being installed by the Muscle Shoals TV Cable Corporation for this added and special educational program.

The lessons are designed to teach non-reading adults to read and write at the high third-grade level. After a successful live television experiment in Memphis, the lessons were filmed. The filmed lessons were used in the Carolinas. This area is the third in the United States to grasp the opportunity to reduce illiteracy among its adults. The level of reading and writing achieved by the students who have been attending the local teacher-taught classes is sufficient for a person to pass a driver's license test, to read traffic and street signs easily, to read and write letters and to read the Bible.

Miss Elizabeth Dunn, Coordinator for the Muscle Shoals Literacy Movement is a specially trained literacy expert. Persons interested in specialized training in literacy teaching may take a course at the Literacy Movement headquarters, Phone EM 3-2582.

The TV classes will meet Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings at 8 o'clock around the television sets for thirty minute telecast lessons. The volunteer teacher who is given free special training in advance of the classes, helps students practice the lessons given by the television teacher, then spends another thirty minutes with the students giving instructions and practice. The TV equipped classrooms for white students in Florence will be at the Appleby School, Gilbert School, and Muscle Shoals Literacy headquarters. Negro students will have their sessions at Burrell-Slater (old Patton) in Florence. These are the locations where the solicited TV sets will be used.

"Right now our urgent problem is to let our good friends know that their extra sets will render a most worthy service at these nine classrooms," Sam J. Israel, President, Muscle Shoals Literacy Movement reports. "We ask anyone who has a spare set to loan it for this great educational cause. Appropriate credit will be noted on each set so that the students will know of their benefactors." Local donors may get in touch with the members of the TV Committee: Frederick Moore and Louis Rosenbaum in Florence. Offers of quarters office. Cable installations to the classrooms are being made without charge by the Muscle Shoals TV Cable Corporation. All sets will be properly maintained for the duration of the course.

Mr. Mangum is well known throughout the district and has been active in civic affairs of Waterloo and the surrounding area for years. He is a member of the Waterloo Lions Club and is active in the affairs of his church.

In speaking of his entry in the race for commissioner of his district, Mr. Mangum said: "I have always taken an interest and active part in the affairs of the community as a whole, and feel that my business experience would serve me well in performing the duties of the office I seek. State Highway Traffic Survey Half Completed

William J. Young Tells
Exchanges Of Program
Interesting Data Given

William J. Young, resident engineer with Palmer and Baker Engineers, Inc., Mobile, who is in charge of the local field office conducting the traffic survey of the Tri-Cities area, addressed the Florence Exchange Club at Hotel Reeder Tuesday noon on some of the findings of the 66-man crew now busily engaged in collecting this important traffic information.

William E. Batson had charge of program arrangements and presented the speaker.

Mr. Young stated that his office is receiving splendid response and full cooperation of the people who may be inconvenienced slightly by being stopped and asked for information on their travel plans. "Florence is a growing city," Mr. Young said, "and with it has come traffic problems, hazards and annoying delays. These are we are attempting to learn in detail in order that a program of correction for a period to 1980 can be mapped out."

Healthy cities have good flow of traffic, the speaker pointed out, and the study being made is for the purpose of correcting the situation and providing for that healthy growth and easy flow of traffic. Main highways, secondary roads and city streets come under this survey, which is expected to be completed and presented to the State Highway Department within 90 days, Mr. Young said.

The information given by Mr. Young was of intense interest and gave the members a new insight to local traffic conditions. The Tri-Cities, he said, is of practically the same population of Huntsville today but does not have the problems that Huntsville has. U. S. 72 from Huntsville is the most traveled highway to an from Florence; over 20,000 cars pass over O'Neal bridge daily; 33,700 cars daily enter and leave Florence and trucks today carry most of the goods to and from the city.

In mapping out the flow of traffic, Mr. Young said that the selection of "desire" roads and streets were most important. People use the street or road they "desire" to use and not necessarily the street or road the city and county governing bodies wish used. The plan that will be proposed to correct the traffic problem, he said, will be an attempt to make the most feasible streets and roads the "desire" pathways to and from the city and to points within the city.

Telephones Show County's Growth

Southern Bell Plans
Continual Expansion
Of Services In State

The continued growth of Florence and Lauderdale County was reflected in telephone increases during 1959. This was made clear by the year-end report released this week by F. W. Brice, telephone manager here.

There were 1,261 more telephones connected to the Florence exchange at the end of 1959 than at the beginning of the year. The total at years end was 14,005 or almost 10% more than at the beginning of the year.

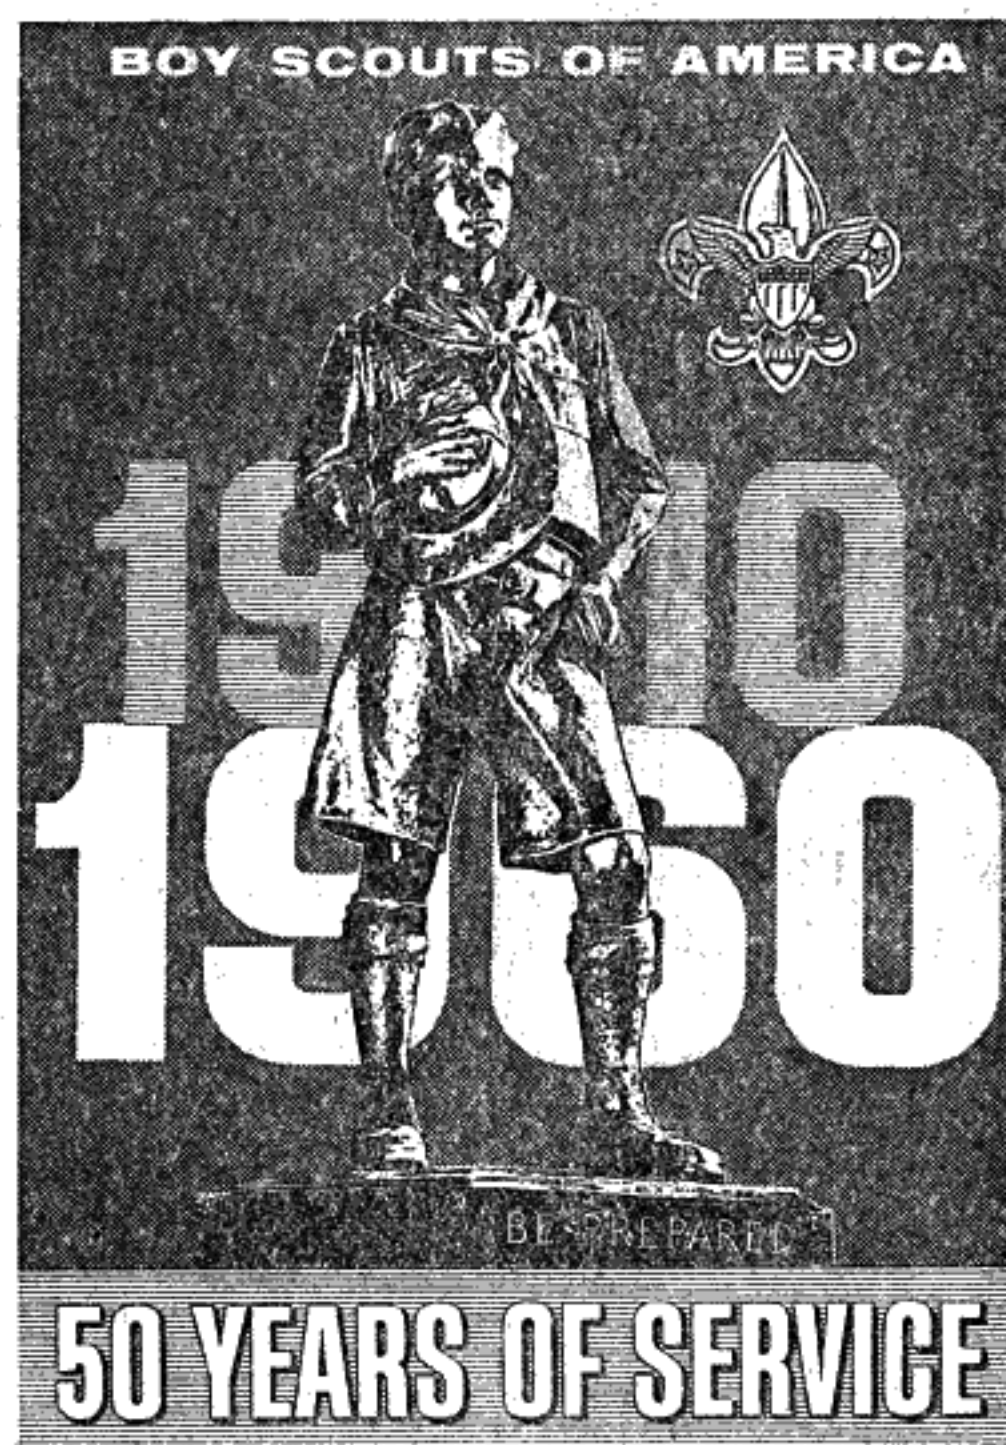

In Lauderdale County the year with 640 telephones working—a 15.7% increase and Lexington had 310 telephones for a 7.6% increase.

A total of $31,922,000 was spent by Southern Bell to improve and expand telephone facilities here and throughout the state during 1959. This outlay was the utilities largest annual expenditure for expansion in the state during the 80 years of Southern Bell's operation in Alabama.

More than 51,400 telephones were added to raise the state total to 702,507, Mr. Brice reported. Approximately 9.6% more long distance calls were handled in Alabama than in 1958.

The company forecasts indicate a continued expansion of the states economy during 1960 which will create needs for more telephone service. To meet the demand, Southern Bell plans to spend $36,500,000 to expand services in the state during the new year. This record annual expenditure is based on the expectation that telephone rates now in effect under bond will be granted permanently.

Florence Docks To Be Completed

Additional Work On Facilities To Include
Dredging, Access Road

Announcement was made Saturday by State Docks Director Earl M. McGowan that the inland docks at Florence, complete except for additional dredging and building of an access road, are scheduled to be placed in operation this year.

McGowan also acknowledged that facilities at Decatur and Huntsville are expected to be completed and placed in operation during the year.

Ballew and Roberts Construction Company of Sheffield built the original docks in 1958 but due to the additional work needed, the facilities have not been used. Local officials, including Dock Director Jess Keller, have estimated it will take some $20,000 to make the facilities usable.

McGowan told reporters in Mobile Friday that all or part of the $3½ million general obligation bonds recently authorized by the Legislature will be sold in June and that it would not require a great deal of time to complete the facilities after all the bonds are sold.

Plasterers And Masons Seeking New Contract

Unless a contract agreement is reached between plasterers and cement masons and the North Alabama Contractor's Association, the Muscle Shoals strike situation is expected to reach a dangerous peak.

The situation was improved some last week with the signing of new contracts by carpenters and iron workers.

Franklin Bryant, business agent for Local 614 and 826 Plasterers and Cement Masons, said, "Unless a contract is signed by next week we will begin picketing all jobs where plasterers and cement masons are working, not just those where the North Alabama Contractor's Association has jurisdiction."

Bryant also indicated that this would mean picket lines once again at both ECM and Colbert Hospitals, Daniels Construction Company at Reynolds, where some 500 men are employed, the 150 unit public housing project in Sheffield and the Holiday Inn construction in Florence.

At present, pickets are walking only at jobs under supervision of members of the North Alabama Contractor's Association, those including a new office building in Sheffield, the Army Reserve Training Center and Chamber of Commerce building in Florence, a new construction job on Mobile Street, Florence, Russellville High School and the new Negro school in Florence.

According to Bryant, the dispute hinges on two obstacles: the cement masons, the only craft not now drawing double time for overtime have asked that they receive double time for extra work, which has been denied by the Contractor's Association. The plasterers had asked 20 cent an hour pay increase over a two year period, but had been offered only 17½ cents; the cement masons had already agreed upon a 17½ cents per hour pay increase over the same period.

Pickets were drawn away Monday by agreement from the First National Bank building, Florence. The agreement made with the bank officials was to the effect that there will be no more construction work done on the bank until a new contract is signed with the North Alabama Contractor's Association.

Where Will It End?

Figures don't lie but they do tell some strange tales. For instance Alabama collected in gas tax in the first five-and-a-half-days of this year exactly what was collected in the first year of the 2-cent gas levy in 1920. The amount . . . $1,739,000.

Another surprising fact is that the price of gasoline, exclusive of the 4-cent federal and 7-cent state tax, is substantially below the 29.8-cent average of 40 years ago. With other retail prices soaring to 44 per cent above the 1920 level gasoline prices are actually lower.

The fact that Alabama motorists now pay in less than a week what they formerly paid in a year in gasoline taxes, was pointed out by James J. Britton, director of the Alabama Petroleum Council.

"With combined taxes on gasoline in this state now adding 53 to 66 percent to the price of the product, this extreme tax burden is causing concern," Britton commented.

Britton noted that the 1960 estimate indicates that tax revenues are now "rolling into this state at a rate of $1 million every three days."

"This year's tax estimate is based on the assumption that gasoline sales will continue as in the past, despite signs of growing public resistance to this tax—particularly in the present trend toward small, economy cars," Britton said.

With Mr. Eisenhower's demand for an additional federal tax on gasoline, one wonders where it will all end.

The Time Grows Short

The process of rebuilding mankind morally after two major wars have lowered the intellectual and spiritual level, is a slow and painful process. Indeed it is a battle humanity could lose if man is not continuously true to his covenant with the Divine power that gave him the breath of life upon the earth. Losing sight of this obligation is the great danger today.

Indeed two world wars, breeding brutality and rapacity, have left us but a poor safeguard against a third and more disastrous world conflict. Unreasoning rage and hatreds, combined with panicky fear, combine into a wild lust for persecution that seems to be worldwide in scope. Mutual trust and understanding have no place in modern diplomacy which only demonstrates how far civility, decency, sense of justice, faith and loyalty have decreased.

Today the human race is in a mad race for the conquest of space for the sole purpose of establishing strategic bases. Today humanity is in a mad race to make the most deadly weapons possible for self-annihilation. Into the dump heap has gone man's better ideals, his purer principles and nobler ethics upon which the world depends if it is to be saved from complete destruction.

Today humanity is saturated with idiocies, spending billions in a race of fear, a race to catch up and surpass . . . what then? Will it not be a never-ending race until all are so involved there will be no hope of people recovering their sanity? Today a new world record in speed is more important to the masses than the discovery of a new cure for disease.

Unless this nation, whose culture has not entirely atrophied, takes the lead in a world-wide spiritual revival, humanity may soon be past the point of no return. The time grows short.

Medaris Hits Ike's Missile Policy

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, retiring as the Army's top missileman, left with a parting shot at the Eisenhower administration's attitude toward space, which he says is leading to disaster. Medaris, 57, left as the Saturn project, the nation's biggest missile, was being turned over to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for development. Medaris, proposing a single missile-space agency and a joint military command, brushed aside the contention of the President and others that the Armed Forces have no business in exploring space by calling such an attitude "utter nonsense."

Nuclear Stockpile Said Sufficient

The Atomic Energy Commission hinted Saturday that the U.S. has a stockpile of new weapons ready to try out if its present moratorium on nuclear tests should be called off. It also indicated in its annual report to Congress that it could start touching off the blasts on short order if the President decides to resume testing. No indication of the specific nature of the weapons was given, but the devices presumably include new concepts for use of foot soldiers and in missile firing planes and submarines.

Medaris Joins Electronics Firm

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris Sunday was elected chairman of the board of Electronic Teaching Laboratories of Washington, D. C. Concerning his election, he said, "I am proud to be identified with a firm that has pioneered the application of modern technology to education. This gives me an opportunity to help solve the multiple problems challenging our public and private schools, colleges and universities." When the general announced his retirement last October, he declared to find a place in education.

It was also reported by Israel that one Israeli Policeman was killed and two wounded Sunday by Syrian shots.

Newspaper Trucks Dynamited

The explosion of two strings of parked trucks, which hauled for Portland, Oregon's daily newspapers, jolted a large area in Portland and nearby Oregon City. A spokesman for the Oregonian newspaper said the trucks were owned by firms which did contract hauling for the Oregonian and Oregon Journal, the two newspapers which were struck Nov. 10 by the Stereotypers Union.

Sketches From Life

By FRANCES HALL

ALFRED T. PUTTEET

"A. T. (Jazz) Putteet did more to bring baseball to this community than any other single person. His 'Putteet Bearcats' brought a brand of play that set a good standard for later organizations that followed," is the remark made by a sports fan who had close contact with the "Bearcats."

A. T. Putteet, during his more than forty years of residence in Florence, has taken an interest in the civic affairs of the community but has never gotten away from his belief that a good community must have a good baseball team.

Alfred Tyler Putteet was born in 1877 in Liberty, Kentucky, (Casey County), the son of W.O.B. and Sarah Frances Ross Putteet. The family moved to Van Alstyne, Tex., in 1883 where they lived for two years, later moving to Clarksville, Tex.

Mr. Putteet left the farm in Clarksville in 1906 and went to Sweetwater in West Texas, where he became connected with a hardware company, remaining there for four years. He then moved to Chicago where he began work for Hilbert, Spencer & Bartlett, a wholesale hardware firm.

Some few years later, Mr. Putteet moved to St. Louis and became affiliated with the Majestic Stove & Range Manufacturing Company. This company sent him to Florence in 1913 to hold a demonstration of its products.

It was on this first trip to Florence that he met Nora Odom, who was, on June 13, 1913, to become his bride. Mr. Putteet has one adopted son, Alfred Carl Putteet and one granddaughter, Nora Josephine.

In 1917, Mr. Putteet established the Putteet Hardware Company in Florence, remaining in business until 1927, when he became manager of King Hardware Company here. In 1932, he left King Hardware Company to become connected again with the Majestic

Stove & Range Company. When World War II started, Mr. Putteet was employed by TVA and remained with the Authority for two years. Leaving TVA, he became connected with Darby Hardware Company where he remained until 1927, when he became manager of the Putteet Pharmacy. Although semi-retired, Mr. Putteet continues to make his headquarters at his place of business.

Mr. Putteet organized the "Little Bearcats" baseball team in 1918, and because of this contact, the Florence "Bearcats" were organized a year later. This team gained quite a reputation in North Alabama and Middle Tennessee in semi-pro baseball. Needing an adequate playing field, Mr. Putteet headed the group that brought about the construction of the North Florence athletic field, the home of the "Bearcats." During his close association with baseball, Mr. Putteet had the privilege of coming into contact with many famous baseball players of that era.

Active in civic and fraternal groups, Mr. Putteet is a past president and charter member of the Florence Exchange Club, a Mason and a member of the Shrine. He is an active member of the First Methodist Church of Florence.

Mr. Putteet has been a sportsman of various sorts throughout his lifetime and has profited much from his outdoors activities. All of this has served him well in maintaining his rugged constitution.

UN-Policed Zone Scene Of UAR-Israeli Fighting

Syrians Open Fire In Demilitarized Sector; Planes And Artillery Used

Violence along the demilitarized frontier that separates Israel and the Syrian province of the United Arab Republic broke out Monday with renewed vigor when Syrian and Israeli planes were engaged in an air battle which is said to have resulted in the Syrians being repulsed. No casualties were reported from this engagement although an Israeli spokesman said three Israeli and two Syrian soldiers had been killed in the ground clash.

Thus far there has been no actual fighting on the Egyptian-Israeli frontier, however, the four days of shooting in the UN-Policed zone have renewed fears of another outbreak in this Middle-East powder keg.

The UAR announced that troops would be sent to the frontier in the Sanja Desert where preventive patrols of the United Nations have been stationed since the Israeli invasion of Egypt in 1956.

The UAR cancelled all army leaves and declared a state of emergency. It said also that Israel "has not lost its appetite for using Arab lands."

The tension appears to center around the Arab village of Tawafik which Israel maintains the Syrians have used as an outpost for military purposes disguising Syrian soldiers as farmers. Israeli units destroyed most of the houses in the village Sunday night after it had been abandoned by the Syrians.

Syrians countered with the charge that Israel has been trying to drive Arab farmers from lands that are rightfully theirs. They said the village is used by Arab farmers who "casually drop in there when they work on their land."

The village is in a demilitarized zone, so declared by the 1949 Syrian-Israeli armistice of 1956.

Oranges, grapefruit, lemons, and limes will be more plentiful this year than last. The increase, noted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is expected to be eight percent above last year's figure.

Now serving in an appointive post, which appointment expires at the end of four years, Mr. Koonce now goes before the voters with the request that he be returned to office.

Vincent Price To Be Presented By FSC Convocations

Noted Actor To Appear In Person At Coffee Auditorium February 17

Vincent Price, well-known to motion picture, stage and television audiences as an actor who plays romantic and sinister roles with equal facility, will be presented by the Florence State Convocations Committee Wednesday evening, February 17, in Coffee Auditorium.

In "An Actor's Life For Me" he will bring to the audience of this community something of the same enthusiasm, discernment and humor he has communicated to his reading public in his recently published book, "I, Like What I Know."

VINCENT PRICE

Mr. Koonce said that he will not make an active campaign but would appreciate the support of his friends, their vote and influence.

After his graduation from Yale University in 1933, he continued his study in fine arts at London University, and went as often as possible to the theater to satisfy another artistic interest, the stage. One day, on a dare, he auditioned for a role in the play "Chicago" and got it.

After the first night's performance, all thoughts of becoming a professor vanished from the young actor's mind. Within a short time he was engaged for the London production of "Victoria Regina," and later played when Gilbert Miller imported the play to New York to star Helen Hayes; it was inevitable that Vincent Price be brought along to recreate the role of Prince Consort. He became a Broadway star overnight. He played "The Shoemaker's Holiday" and "Heartbreak House" before going to Hollywood to co-star with Constance Bennett in "Service de Luxe."

Other films in which he has appeared include "Song of Bernadette," "Keys of the Kingdom," "The House of Wax," "The Ten Commandments," "The Story of Man," "The House on Haunted Hill" and "Circus."

In 1953 Mr. Price appeared with Jose Ferrer in New York City Center's production of "Richard III" and later toured in "The Cocktail Hour" and "The Lady Not for Burning." He has achieved

Walter A. Danley Weds

Miss Ross in Huntsville
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Abraham Danley, following their Saturday, January thirtieth wedding in First Baptist Church, Huntsville, will be at home in Seattle, Washington, after February eighteenth.

The bride is the former Sybil Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Delroy Ross of Bayview, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clyde Danley of Florence, Route Two.

Arrangements of white blossoms before a background of greenery detailed the candlelighted altar before which the wedding tableau formed.

Vows were read by Dr. R. W. Hopson, minister of the church, at half past three o'clock following nuptial selections presented by Mrs. Frank Wear, organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, William L. Ross. A Sabrina neckline and three-quarter sleeves distinguished the molded bodice of her wedding gown of silk organza over taffeta, and the bouffant, waltz-length skirt with lace appliques was finished with a great, flat bow of self material. A tiara of seed pearls caught her fingertip veil of tulle and she carried a white orchid encircled in white rosebuds.

Miss June Elliott of Birmingham was the bride's only attendant and Paul Riley of Florence, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served him as best man. Miss Elliott wore a full-skirted frock of brown lace over forest green taffeta and her white carnation bouquet was tied with green satin streamers. Her headpiece was a green tiara with a short veil of tulle.

Mark Doss of Florence and Fred Jester of Suffolk, Virginia, were ushers.

For the occasion, Mrs. Ross, mother of the bride, wore beige lace and Mrs. Danley, mother of the bridegroom, chose a model of mauve lace. Matching accessories and corsages of white carnations enhanced the attire of each.

Following the ceremony, the bride and groom greeted wedding guests in the church vestibule.

Leaving later for a honeymoon in the Southwest and on the West Coast, Mrs. Danley was wearing a frock of grey wool with black accessories and, at her shoulder, the orchid from her corsage.

In Seattle, Mrs. Danley will continue work on a Master's degree at the University of Washington and Mr. Danley, who received his B.S. degree in Mathematics at the University of Alabama on January seventeenth, will be associated with an aircraft company.

Family members present in addition to the bridegroom's mother were his father, Arthur Clyde Danley, and a sister, Mrs. Paul E. Riley of Florence, and Mrs. Paul Sullivan, also a sister, of Harrison, Tennessee.

The bridegroom, now a senior at Florence State College and expecting to enter the ministry, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bevis of 1424 Wills Avenue, Florence.

The bride chose for the occasion a street-length frock of white brocade taffeta detailed with short, puffed sleeves of cotton lace and a deep V back-neckline edged with matching lace. Her shoulder-length veil was caught to a head-dress of white blossoms and with her white Bible she carried a cluster of white carnations.

Wearing a frock of red velvet, Miss Becky Wagon was her sister's only attendant and Mr. Bevis' father served him as best man.

Mrs. Wagon, mother of the bride, was in a model of black and Mrs. Bevis, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a suit of Copenhagen blue. Black accessories were a complement to their dress.

Upon leaving for their honeymoon, the bride wore a fur-trimmed suit of grey tweed, black accessories and, at her shoulder, the carnations from her corsage. Now returned, they are at home at 652½ North Wood Avenue, Florence.

Mrs. Bevis is a graduate of Deshler High School where she was a member of Deshler Choir, Tri-Hi-Y and the PE Club. At Florence State, Mr. Bevis is a member of ASEA, Kappa Delta Pi, the Choir, Inter Presidents' Council and was director of the Christmas Students' Devotional.

A bateau neckline and long, tapering sleeves that came to petal points over the hands were distinguishing features. A golden cross and chain were a gift from the bridegroom, and her only ornament.

Miss Ann Tanner was her sister's honor attendant and bridesmaids included Miss Charlotte Morgan of Cherokee and Miss Sue Kasmeier, niece of the bride and cousin of the bridegroom, respectively. Flower girls were Beverly Berryman of Cherokee and Rose Marie Kasmeier of Florence, niece of the bridegroom.

The Peery home on Jackson Road was gazed for the occasion by a profusion of mixed blossoms. Sears Entered By Burglars Friday

According to Florence detective Owen King, burglars hit Sears Roebuck and Company Store, Florence, Friday night or early Saturday and apparently left most of their loot in a Dumpster dumpster, located just behind the building.

Police officers Jenkins and Mitchell rushed to the scene after a city sanitation department employee found the discarded items in the dumpster Saturday as he made his rounds to empty the containers.

King reported that a window had been broken from the north side near a door entrance to the sporting goods department. Locks were pried open on the racks which held the shotguns and rifles, part of the stolen stock.

Assistant H. H. Cater said that it was the first break-in at Sears in four years.

OUR TRAVLIN' FRIENDS are fun to know . . . We wouldn't be without 'em . . . They come home tanned and with a glow And . . . here's the news about 'em . . .

WE'D HARDLY HAVE seen more Florentines in Florence . . . Moving about in the Magic City (where "My Fair Lady" was being presented) during the latter part of the past week . . .

FLORIANE FLORENCE folk at every single turn . . . Proud! glimped here 'n' there were Lucile and Bert Darby and young-and-handsome Johnny Littrell . . . Elsie and Bill Blair . . . Ellie and Bill Mitchell and their charming young daughters . . . Amelia and Celestine . . . Carter Brown (son of Barbara and Doctor Johnny . . . and now a student at Vandy U in Nashville) with his B'ham date . . . Mildred Bennett (going guested by her doctor-minded daughter . . . Ann Horkins) . . . And many . . . MANY others . . .

SUN AND SAND are being enjoyed by Martha and George McBurney . . . who departed the ole home town last Friday for a three-weeks' jaunt in Miami Beach . . . Daytona Beach . . . and other coastal vacation spots in our sister Sun-Time State . . .

OTHER VACATIONERS of the near-future will include Edithen and Otto Speake . . . and Tillie and Bob Stricklin . . . The latter two will go first to Venice, Florida . . . before making other plans . . . and Edithen and Otto will "Go West" to Phoenix and Tucson in Arizona and to Palm Springs and Los Angeles in California . . . Nice between-seasons jaunts . . . both . . .

HOME-TO-FLORENCE visitors of recent days include Margaret Rice . . . who arrived from her present home in Jackson, Mississippi, for a weekend with longtime friends in the district . . . JEAN AND Charlie Ball . . . who came from Lebanon, Tennessee, where Charlie is a Cumberland U law student . . . to spend a few days with (his mom) Ellen and Moody Redd in the beautifully renovated home which they've recently moved into on North Wood . . . AND Binky Matthews . . . who was greeted during a brief hometown visit by (his mom) Ruth . . . also on North Wood . . . EXPECTED soon is Lee Meriweather . . . four score and ten year-old cousin of Barbara Robinson . . . who'll fill a speaking engagement before the Tennessee Historical Association in Nashville before coming on to Florence . . . His home is in St. Louis . . .

A TOUCH OF THE Old South . . . That's what those two delightful young pianists . . . Melvin Stecher and Norman Horowitz . . . who appeared in recital here last week . . . were hankering to take away with them . . . Chatting with them in a local antique shop . . . we learned that they were searching for (of ALL things) an old wall-type . . . hand-crank TELEPHONE . . . COMES TO FLORENCE . . . as the lovely Ann Wagon Revis (one of the now famous Wagon sisters . . . both formerly of Tusculum) moves into our midst following her recent I DO's with Florence's Jimmy Ray Bevis . . . We're ever-so-proud . . . and keep hoping for the other half of the harmonizing duo to make a ditto across-the-river move . . .

A LIFE? ON THY? Rolling Deep appears on the horo-cone for young and personable Dan Alexander of Berry Drive . . . who is an alternate appointee to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland . . . and who has successfully taken the first hurdle in the series of entrance tests . . . With (his mom) Josephine Alexander . . . we keep our fingers crossed as he goes to Memphis this mid-month for the gruelling physical . . . and lives at a last date into the college entrance test . . . (And we admit with pleasure that our fingers are crossed TIGHTLY . . . and only for that small measure of added LUCK . . . The necessary ABILITY is there . . . and in no SMALL measure) . . .

THERE'S NEVER AN idle moment . . . And we're thinking at this PARTICULAR moment of one of our town's BEST-loved personalities . . . who (among other worthwhile activities) teaches a Sunday School Class which bears her name . . . Entertaining her class members (all SIXTY of them) with a Spaghetti Supper (home-cooked by the hostess and her sisters . . . Virta Jones and Johnnie Glover) . . . Mary Douglass Bender greeted her guests in the dining halls of First Methodist Church on Wednesday evening of last week . . . 'Twas a much-fun occasion for all . . . and we look eagerly forward to the next event . . . (Yes . . . it IS an annual custom) . . .

NAMES MAKE NEWS . . . and we enjoyed during the past week running upon the names of both WYATT SIMPSON, JR., and HUNTER SMITH . . . mentioned on the Social Page of our B'ham P-H . . . Favorites in the college social circles . . . they've been tripping the light fantastic down at Auburn U . . .

ON OUR NEXT jaunt around the district . . . we think you'll enjoy seeing the progress being made on the Palisade Drive homes of Evelyn and (Doctor) John Carter (the 400 block) and Evelyn and (Doctor) Don O'Brien (500 block) . . . Both exquisite and imposing structures . . .

WELCOME NEWCOMER . . . Henry Ladd McIntosh . . . who arrived at ECM Hospital on Friday, January twenty-ninth . . . to be welcomed with open arms by (his mom and dad) Connie and Jimmie . . . and by (his local "grands") Helen and James . . . This charming young gent . . . who likes to be addressed by his middle name (Ladd) . . . has a surprise awaiting him at the family abode in Florence Court Apartments . . . The hand-made chest which adorns his room is the artistic handwork of poppa Jimmie . . .

AND NOW . . . CHEERIO and goodby . . . until more news comes through The Spillway . . .

Scouting Looks Ahead

For fifty years the work of the Boy Scouts of America has been one of the most important activities carried on for the youth of America.

Since 1910 more than 33,500,000 Americans have been identified with the movement. There is scarcely an American family that has not felt its influence.

To help each generation of boys grow into healthy manhood, it is necessary that they have proper training to strengthen their bodies and enrich their minds. Good citizenship calls for a respect for law and order and a spirit of unselfish service to others.

Self-reliance and resourcefulness are as essential in time of peace as in war. America will always need men trained to appreciate our heritage and to put into practice in their home communities all that we mean when we use the word democracy.

The training Scouting gives to the youth of America is one of the finest ways we know of to assure the perpetuation of good citizenship and American ideals. The Scout membership today stands at the five million mark.

As the Boy Scouts of America now celebrate their golden anniversary, we wish them success in the second half of their first century.

We hope that every boy in America who wants to become a Scout can be given that opportunity. We wish that more men of character, institutions, and groups interested in youth will help observe this golden anniversary by enlisting their active support.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	1 John	2	9-12
Monday	1 John	4	20-21
Tuesday	Romans	12	9-19
Wednesday	Proverbs	17	17
Thursday	1 Corinthians	16	13-14
Friday	John	19	8-19
Saturday	Philips	25	13-14

A man's got to look after his brother. That's what Timmy said the other day, as he stood beside our baby. And I told him he was right. "You are so much stronger than this tiny, little creature," I said. "From now on, you've got a real responsibility!"

A man does have to look after his brother... especially when that brother is weak. But there are moments, too, when even the strongest man may need a brother!

In the eyes of the Church, all men are brothers, just as all men are equally beloved. As long as there is a church near you, you are not alone. You have only to open the door and walk in and you will be at one with your fellow man... and at home with your brothers.
