An Optimistic Note

President Eisenhower's State of the Union Message to Congress contained a reassuring note. It was spoken with the unmistakable conviction of a man whose outlook was improved considerably and whose main interest was that of peace, freedom and prosperity.

He did not minimize the tensions that exist between this nation and the Soviet Union but he did not appear to have a pessimistic attitude either with respect to the cold war. While warning against expecting too much he was somewhat optimistic as to the eventual outcome of coming talks especially Russia's talk of reducing the perils of war.

Despite the recent steel strike which the country will feel the effects of for many months, Mr. Eisenhower was very hopeful of a balanced budget, even predicting a surplus of some $200,000,000 and that a surplus of $4.2 billions was possible for next year. If the latter figure becomes a reality it will be the biggest surplus in eleven years, and the second largest of all time.

However the President put a damper on tax cut prospects when he said he did not consider any amount a surplus as long as the nation is in debt. "I prefer to think of such an item as a reduction on our children's inherited mortgage." The president said the $4.2 billion in 1961 would be applied on that mortgage. The country is $290 billion in debt and such a payment, small though it is in comparison to the total figure would serve to put the brakes on inflation and reduce interest on the debt some $200 million a year.

The President, profoundly affected by his recent view of Asia's starving millions, reiterated the urgency of their need. His major foreign appeal was for support of the free world struggle to make democracy work on the continent of Asia, particularly in India. He spoke of the weakness of democracy in these areas and the temptation for the people to try totalitarianism. In other words the President indicated that such people are prime targets for the Communists.

One thing he said we should heed: "We must squarely face this titanic challenge . . . free world decisions in this matter may spell the difference between world disaster and world progress in freedom."

In this we heartily concur.

The New March Of Dimes Target

The theme selected for the New March of Dimes is a simple, direct statement: Prevent Crippling Diseases. Yet it says a number of things not always apparent to the average American.

Most of us are barely conscious of the crippled child or adult. We see a boy dragging along a braced leg trying to keep up with his playmates. The little girl on crutches or the man in a wheel chair are usually taken for granted as an unchanging way of life. There are many more handicapped thousands we never see at all living out their lives in hospitals and institutions.

Crippling has many causes. The New March of Dimes, drawing on the vast medical research experience of its parent organization, The National Foundation, singles out three major fields of crippling disease for a frontal attack. These are birth defects, arthritis and polio.

Here is the size of the problem: Every year a quarter of a million infants—685 a day—are born with birth defects. At least half of them face a lifetime of serious chronic illness and disability.

Upwards of 11 million people in the United States alone are affected by arthritis and rheumatism. Apart from the physical pain, the economic loss to the nation tops $1.5 billion annually.

In polio The National Foundation continues its aid to over 50,000 patients, most of them paralyzed in previous years. The past year added many to the patient aid roster. The need for braces, crutches and wheel chairs, to say nothing of iron lungs, rocking beds and other respiratory aids went on without respite.

This year when you join the New March of Dimes by giving your time and your money, you will be helping people toward a better life, protecting the nation against cripples that may attack even you and your family.

Letters To The Editor

Editor:

I have never voted anything but the Democratic ticket and don't intend to this time. I am nearing my 75th mile post.

In my opinion the Democrats haven't got a man that could be elected to the White House. Of course, that is my opinion. I could be wrong. As the saying goes every dog has his day. The Democrats stay in the White House 20 years and things look like it will be four more years after Ike's term expires before the Democrats get back in the White House.

As I remember Woodrow Wilson went to bed believing that he was defeated but woke up the next morning with the return of California that went to Woodrow Wilson that swung the tide and put Wilson back in the White House. And again Harry Truman defeated Tom Dewey although four Southern states voted for Truman. However, Truman beat Tom Dewey by a substantial majority.

I think this time the Democrats will be weighed in the balance and found wanting.

Eisenhower To Visit South Of Border

It has been announced that President Eisenhower will leave February 23 on a 10-day good will trip to Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Uruguay and Puerto Rico. The new tour has been predicted by Latin American diplomats to be as successful as the President's recent 11-nation trip and is designed to promote greater understanding of U.S. policies among Latin nations, where Anti-Americanism has cropped up recently. The President will be accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower, who will be making her first extensive foreign trip.

Ike Not To Push Civil Rights

Sources within the Eisenhower administration say that disfavor on a proposal to use Federal voting registrars as a means of overcoming discrimination against Negroes has been expressed by the executive department, and that officials have decided against backing this controversial recommendation of the Civil Rights Commission. Republican Senator Everett M. Dirksen, of Illinois, said at the start of last week's congressional session that he does not think that the President will submit any additional civil rights measures.

State Closes Case Against Hixon

The state closed its case last Wednesday against ousted Game and Fish Division Chief C. Graham Hixon with the accusation he was an "eight ball running a $2 million program." Conservation Director William C. Younger testified before a three-man personnel board that Hixon openly bribed him. The bribe reportedly came when Hixon offered to buy Younger anything he wanted the day after the conservation director reprimanded the defendant for not appearing before a House Ways and Means Committee public hearing.

Former Governor Wins In Louisiana

Former Governor Jimmy Davis of Louisiana was the winner of that state's Democratic run-off for governor last week, when he defeated New Orleans Mayor de Lesseps Morrison by a 71,000 vote margin. Davis received 486,095 votes to Morrison's 414,258 in all but three of the state's precincts. Davis must defeat Republican nominee Francis Grevenberg in the general election; however, his victory is assured in this Democratic stronghold.

House Damaged By Gas Explosion

Occupants of a duplex apartment at 106-108 East Duncan Avenue, Florence, turned the gas off when they began to smell a gas odor late Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 6. A repairman was called and reportedly was checking the system when an explosion occurred which damaged three sides of the brick duplex and caused heavy damage to the roof.

The structure blew out the wall of the structure and ignited a fire which was extinguished by Florence firemen.

The house, owned by Melvin Romans, was occupied by the Ronald Walker and Marvin Patterson families.

With the exception of the ceiling, the interior of the house was not too badly marred. It was reported that the owner had insurance on the building.

Sketches From Life

By FRANCES HALL

J. W. POWELL

"A man of convictions, J. W. Powell believes in the basic fundamentals of education and human endeavor and never compromises his studied beliefs with fads nor fancies," is one man's opinion of Florence's recently retired Superintendent of Education.

For 25 years as head of the city school system, Mr. Powell carried out a program of education based firmly on the school of "reading, writing and arithmetic" that produced graduates who profited in later life from sound and thorough instruction given by a carefully selected and competent teaching corps. This method of instruction paid dividends for the college students and those entering their life's work, as records show.

J. W. Powell was born in Lowndesboro, Alabama July 12, 1887. The son of a Confederate War veteran and planter, Josiah W. Powell and his wife, Mary Gilchrist Powell.

He attended public schools in Lowndes County and received his BS degree and the professional degree of Mechanical Engineering from Auburn. He also attended graduate school at the University of Alabama.

Following his education, Mr. Powell taught mathematics and physics at South Georgia College in Douglas for a period of three years after which he was made president of the college. He served in this office until 1917 when he moved to Florence and entered the soft drink manufacturing business, establishing the Chero-Cola Bottling Company.

During his residence in Georgia, he was married to Luella Roan, of Jonesboro. They have two children, Josiah W. Powell, III, who lives in Cambridge, Mass., and Mary Ellen (Mrs. John M.) Slaughter, of Birmingham. There are nine grandchildren.

Later, Mr. Powell became connected with the Putteet Hardware Company and continued in this capacity until he was asked to fill a teaching position at Coffee High School in 1928. After accepting this position, he is a member of the faculty until he was named City Superintendent of Education in 1933.

Since his retirement as Superintendent in 1958, Mr. Powell has been with Jordan Realty Company.

In civic and church organizations, Mr. Powell has taken a leading part throughout the years. He is a charter member and past president of the Florence Exchange Club, a Mason, a member of the Florence Chamber of Commerce and has served as a director. He is a "Golden Circle" member of Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity.

The new J. W. Powell School in Edgemont was named in Mr. Powell's honor, and it is also interesting to note that the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia some years ago named the men's dormitory at South Georgia College, Powell Hall, as a lasting monument to the service to education rendered by the college's president.

As a loyal member of the First Presbyterian Church of Florence, Mr. Powell has served as an elder since 1933.

Recognized as among the leading educators of the state and a citizen of highest qualifications, Mr. Powell has contributed substantially to the sound progress of the community. His careful consideration of all problems placed before him have brought forth advice that has kept many worthwhile projects on a firm footing. A firm believer in the Southern way of life, he is a staunch supporter of all things that have made this country great.

Dividend Is Paid To Stockholders

First National Bank Shows $3 Million Gain Over The Previous Year

Stockholders of The First National Bank of Florence received on January 11, 1960 a regular fourth quarter dividend of 30c per share and an extra dividend of a like amount, bringing the distribution to stockholders from 1959 earnings to $1.50 per share.

This was the bank's 138th dividend. The bank was organized in 1889 and the recent distribution was its 135th consecutive dividend in its nearly seventy-one year history.

In distributing this dividend, Fred Long, Chairman, and W. H. Mitchell, President of the local institution, pointed out that the bank had experienced growth in 1959 and expressed appreciation to the friends of the institution for their patronage that made this possible. Comparative statements at December 31, 1959 and the same date in 1958 showed a gain in resources of some $3,000,000.00 and an increase in deposits of something more than $2,500,000.00. It was pointed out that in 1959 some $200,000.00 was added to the bank's undivided profits.

Bank officials stated that the remodeling and expansion program at its Main Office virtually is complete. The bank has a staff of 75 persons.

THE SPILLWAY

A WISE OLD owl sat
On an oak . . .
The more he heard
The less he spoke . . .

THE LESS HE spoke . . . the more he heard . . . (Believe us . . . we're not like THAT bird) . . . NOT ENTIRELY like him . . . The more we hear . . . the more news we have to pass along . . . and it's such fun to bring to you each week items gathered here and there . . .

WITH GREAT PLEASURE . . . we've read again and again our TIME magazine of January 4th . . . and enjoyed with each reading a proprietary interest in the adorable picture of seven-year-old Pamela Coffey . . . and the accompanying two-column spread under the heading "Just a Noisy Girl . . ." Pamela (now of Atlanta) . . . the daughter of (former Lexingtonian) Image (Brady) and (former Florentine) Dick Coffey . . . and her well-known "grands" are Pauline and Solon Brady of Lexington and Eula and Dave Coffey of on-the-lake . . . in case you've failed to read the heart-warming story . . . you'll find it under EDUCATION and the page is 36 . . . The picture is one you're SURE to want to FRAME . . .

A PLEASANT PARTY WHIRL marked the brief Florence visit of Gladys and Milton Whitehead . . . who were fleeing the snows of Scottbluff, Neb., and arrived in the nick of time to find a carpet of white spread generously over Florence town . . . Guested by Genevieve and Fannah Beauchamp (Gladys and Genevieve are longtime friends) they were a much party-ed pair right up to the time when they took off for sunnier and Southern-er climes . . . 'Mongst the delightful informal were the luncheon of Monday, the 4th, hostessed in the Old South Room of The Town Club by Bernice Chaney . . . and the gathering of Monday soir in the charming Beauchamp domicile at 455 Palisade Drive . . . Many would-have-been hostesses were disappointed . . . and a longer sojourn is hoped-for at a near-future date . . .

Waterloo Phone Service Installed

Work has been completed on additional service for Waterloo. Following the installation of telephone service replacing the old forestry line last year, the demand for telephone service increased to the point that additional equipment had to be provided.

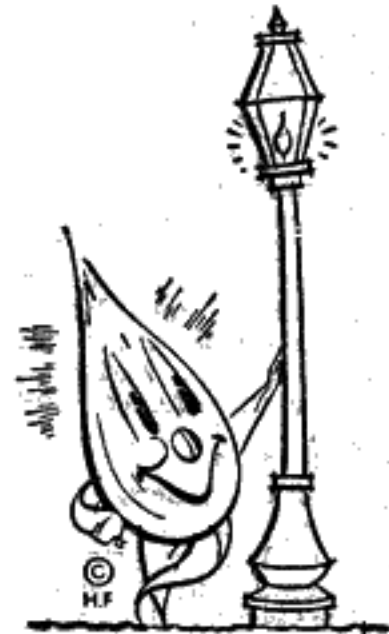

F. W. Brice, Florence telephone manager, said that work had been completed in mid-December at a cost of $9,908 to provide more telephones for the Waterloo area. Service is being provided utilizing one of the newest modern improvements in telephone equipment. Carrier equipment installed in the Florence office enables one pair of wires to be utilized by the subscribers. This expensive equipment is suitable for installations such as the Waterloo area, Brice said.

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER — STAYS TOGETHER"

America is a land of bells!

Wedding bells, door bells, dinner bells, school bells, sleigh bells ... all speak of a country where Freedom from tyranny exists.

Radio chimes keynote freedom of speech as commentators broadcast the news. Typewriter bells ring out freedom of the press. And church bells, whether they be the musical chimes from a cathedral's spire, or the ding dong from the steeple of a village chapel, typify freedom of religion.

Churches throughout the land are open to all. Inside their doors, we cast aside the fetters of worry that shackle our hearts in this atomic age. We find strength and courage to face the unknown future. Our faith, hope and trust in God, who says, "Fear not; for I am with thee," is renewed and peace fills our anxious souls.

Let us accept the invitation of the bells to "Come and worship," and go to church regularly.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a cornerstone of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Eradicate Woody Plants In Winter

By HERMAN H. MARKS

Assistant County Agent

Winter is a good time to kill woody plants, bushes and small trees. In order to kill bushes and trees not over six inches in diameter, mix one to one and a half pounds of 2, 4, 5-T ester in ten gallons of diesel fuel or kerosene, and thoroughly spray the bottom 18 inches of plants during dormant season (November to March). After spraying, do not cut plants until they are completed dead.

Dormant sprays are generally more effective than foliage sprays, and they are safer because there is less danger of drift to other plants.

A knapsack sprayer is probably best for applying dormant sprays. A sprayer equipped with a forked boom containing two nozzles allows you to cover an area faster than one with a single nozzle.

Dormant spray applied to stumps of freshly cut small trees will prevent sprouting. Wet the entire stump to ground level and allow a little of the spray to run down to the roots.

To prevent large stumps from sprouting, (1) Mix one pound of 2, 4, 5-T ester to 10 gallons of diesel fuel or kerosene. (2) Apply ammate crystals to the surface of the freshly cut stump, using one tablespoon to each two inches of the diameter; or (3) Mix four pounds of ammate per gallon of water and thoroughly spray the stumps. Treat as soon as possible after trees are cut, and wet the entire stump until there is a slight run-off of the spray solution.

HOW TO KEEP PANS SHINY
Aluminum pans should not be submerged in warm water if you want to preserve the shiny outside finish. The minerals in water and food particles, particularly salt, will pit the aluminum surface. To clean, pour warm water inside the pan to loosen food. Then rinse and dry thoroughly.

Telephone Talk

by
FORREST W. BRICE
Your Telephone Manager

WITH THE OLD YEAR behind us, it's a good time to take a look ahead. To me one of the most interesting and timely telephone projects is a terminal to outer space. This is an experimental ground station for sending and receiving telephone messages by way of man-made satellites. The station, under construction by Bell Telephone Laboratories on a hilltop in New Jersey, could point the way to a network of terminals for sending phone calls and live television to distant parts of the world. I'm glad telephone scientists are continuously active in the field of experimental communications, and who knows but what we'll hear our youngsters saying someday...

HELLO, OPERATOR, GIVE ME THE MOON. Already transistors invented by telephone scientists beep vital information from satellites orbiting in space. And today, right here on earth, folks in many sections of our country enjoy the convenience of dialing their own long distance calls, phones that answer and record while they're out, and other telephone conveniences once undreamed of. Tomorrow the moon? Well, we can dream. Research sees even greater telephone wonders ahead.

DREAMING IS NICE but the practicalities of life are always with us. That's why it's especially handy in bad January weather to find outdoor telephone booths conveniently located. Don't you agree?
