The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

With our patience on the ragged edge after listening to the squabbles over the platforms at both the Democratic and Republican conventions, we are reminded of that old story about the two colored boys who found themselves a bit confused. One asked: "What is this platform talk I hear in these here conventions? What do they mean by platforms, anyway?" The other surveyed his friend with astonishment: "Ise surprised at you, boy, I thought you knew what a platform was. Now, you've been on a train, haven't you? I don't mean those side-door pullmans you been riding but a real passenger train. And you know that platform in front of and at the rear of each coach?" "Yep, I know," was the reply of the most confused one. "Well, it's the same thing as on the trains. It's something to get in on."

In some marriages, problems are relative.

Alabama, according to the allotment of federal aid highway funds, will be eligible for $56,619,065 in the fiscal year starting July 1, 1961. The early apportionment, it is noted, gives the state adequate time for the planning of the use of this money. It seems to us that now is the time to stress to the proper authorities at Montgomery the importance of including the construction of such new and important highways but possibly, as the baby that cries the loudest is the first to be picked up, a loud cry from this county might bring about the early construction of this important link to the west. Let's start crying—out loud, too.

A local traffic officers reports, so we are told, that the other day a little boy approached him and said: "Did you happen to see a lady in a light blue dress drive by here without me?"

A husband was asked to do an important errand for friend wife and entered the ladies' apparel store somewhat timidly. To the attractive saleslady, he apologetically said: "I've forgotten what it was I was supposed to bring home, but it was either a casserole or a camisole." The young lady, always helpful, said that she might aid him in his dilemma: "Is the chicken dead or alive?"

About the time you're important enough to take two hours for lunch, your doctor limits you to a glass of milk.

The brand new husband came home from work, really tucked out after a truly hard day. The little wife, sympathized: "Dear, you look so tired and hungry. How would you like a nice thick steak with wonderful potatoes, a superb salad and some delicious pie?" "Not tonight, dear," he replied, "I'm too tired to go out." And then the battle began.

There's nothing wrong with women that can't be corrected by masculine patience.

Garage owner Harry W. Boozar has been elected delegate from Montana to the National Prohibition party's national presidential convention. There must be some comment we should make on this but it escapes us just now.

We understand that a few days ago a very disappointed lady gardener returned to a certain seed store with the complaint that the seed she had purchased were no good. "And you guaranteed them, too," she exclaimed. "Yes, mam," was the storekeeper's reply. "I told you that they were guaranteed and if you will bring them back we'll gladly refund your money."

Union Carbide Metals To Celebrate Birthday

Employees, Families To Tour Plant; Calcium Carbide To Be Produced

A plant tour for employees and members of their families will be held at the Sheffield plant of Union Carbide Metals Company on Saturday, July 30, according to an announcement made today by C. E. Green, Superintendent. The celebration is planned to observe the Company's 20th anniversary of production in Alabama and the start-up of a new operation, the production of calcium carbide.

Conducted tours are scheduled to begin at 8:00 a.m. and will continue throughout the day until 2:30 p.m. A special feature will be a trip on observation cars, furnished through the courtesy of the Southern Railway System, to look at the raw materials and metals storage yards, and the river dock. Other points of interest on the tour will be the Mix, Packing and Furnace Departments to see both ferro alloys and calcium carbide production units.

W. H. Feathers, President of Union Carbide Metals, will address the members of a special guest and press tour to be held on Friday, July 29. Included in the group inspecting the plant on Friday will be writers and news analysts of the press, radio and television, Corporation and Company officials, and representatives of associated industries in the area.

The newly installed calcium carbide furnace will be operated by the Metals Company for Union Carbide Olefins, another unit of Union Carbide Corporation. The major portion of the carbide will be shipped to Woodstock, Tennessee for generation into acetylene. The acetylene, in turn, will be used by DuPont's Woodstock plant for acrylonitrile production.

Ferro alloys, produced at Sheffield for the past 20 years, are utilized in alloy steels and cast iron. The power was first turned on at the plant on April 9, 1940. Major products of the ferro alloys division include silicomanganese, ferromanganese and many grades of ferrosilicons.

The Sheffield plant currently has a payroll of about 400 employees. Other plant locations of Union Carbide Metals Company are Alloy, West Virginia; Marietta, Ohio; Ashtabula, Ohio; Portland, Oregon; and Niagara Falls, New York.

Late News

Arkansas Gov., Orval E. Faubus Wednesday was on the high road to an unprecedented fourth term after a smashing victory over four opponents in Tuesday's Democratic primary. Faubus, the central figure in the Little Rock integration crisis, faces Republican opposition in the November general election, but Arkansas has not elected a GOP governor since Reconstruction days.

Defense attorneys lost in their first effort to take John Wilbanks, boat designer who has been charged with the slaying of a small Birmingham girl, Barbara King, released under bond but immediately filed notice of appeal to the Alabama Court of Appeals. Although the Court of Appeals is in recess until Aug. 16, a court official said the Wilbanks' case is of the type that ordinarily would be given preferred treatment. Wilbanks has been held without bond in Elmore County jail since July 6, three days after the 9-year-old girl was killed by a high-powered rifle.

Security Council debate on the American RB47 reconnaissance plane shot down by the Soviets ended Tuesday night with a 9-2 vote rejecting Soviet charges against the U.S. and a Soviet veto of the United States' proposal for an international investigation. The Soviets also vetoed an Italian proposal that the International Red Cross conduct the two surviving crewmen who are being held by the Soviets for trial as spies.

Lodge Held As Like Running Mate For Vice Pres Nixon

Exchange Club Prefers Present Courthouse Site

Koonce and Graham Debate Pros And Cons Of Location Of New Facility

The members of the Florence Exchange in regular weekly session at Hotel Reeder Tuesday noon passed a resolution addressed to Probate Judge Estes R. Flynt, the board of county commissioners and the Lauderdale County Public Building Authority urging that the proposed new courthouse be constructed on its present site or definitely in the midst of the downtown business area, Earle W. Darby, president announced following the meeting.

Prior to the vote on the resolution, which was presented to the club four weeks ago for careful study, a debate on the proposal was conducted before the membership with W. O. Graham, Florence businessman, urging that the new courthouse be constructed on property offered as a site on the new four-lane highway, with Justice of the Peace H. F. Koonce advocating that new construction be on the present site.

Mr. Graham said that the increase in property values and the taxes that would accrue from new construction near the site he advocates, would, in 25 years, pay for the cost of building the new facility. He said that the parking problem now faced would be corrected and the erection of the new courthouse there would bring added development to the city.

County Requests Waterloo Road Be Made State Route

Highway Director Says Check Will Be Made, Accepted If Possible

Following the regular meeting of the Lauderdale County Board of Commissioners on Monday, it was disclosed that a resolution asking the State Highway Department to make the Waterloo Road a State route had been passed unanimously. At present this road is a county thoroughfare, maintained by the State, but the commissioners seek to have it taken over completely as it would release county funds for other road projects.

Probate Judge Estes Flynt said that since traffic flowing from Tennessee is greater than ever and due to the fact that much heavy road machinery would be using the Waterloo Road to and from the Natchez Trace bridge project, the County is asking that the road be declared a State route as well as Alabama 101 from Wheeler Dam to Lexington.

It was felt also that the designation of the Waterloo Road as a State route would greatly enhance the prospects of the proposed Alabama-Tennessee Scenic Highway which would provide a beautiful lakeside drive into Tennessee and eventually connect with a bridge across Pickwick Dam, with Counts, Tennessee, where a large number of local people are employed in a paper mill.

A SMILING NIXON—The withdrawal of New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller as an aspirant for the GOP presidential nomination left the way clear for the nomination of Vice President Richard M. Nixon in early balloting on Wednesday night. The choice of a running mate for the Republican nominee was scheduled to be made tonight with UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge as the most likely to receive the honor.

Board Education Makes Application For School Funds

Hibbett Says Money Is Expected For Riverview School Badly Needed

It was announced Monday by Rufus G. Hibbett, superintendent of Florence city schools, that application has been made to the State for funds to retire bonded indebtedness from recently completed projects and in addition funds with which to finance construction of a new elementary school on Riverview Drive. He said the City Board of Education was hopeful of being able to use this new facility by the fall of 1961.

Mr. Hibbett commented on the rapid growth of the junior high school and since it has taken over much of the space at Appleby Elementary school it is necessary that the new elementary school be built. He said that this fall would see eight rooms at Appleby filled with junior high pupils, with the number next year promising to be even greater. Mr. Hibbett explained that the pupils attending Appleby from the western part of town would be placed in the new school on Riverview when completed.

He explained that so far Florence schools had received $21,685 from the State which was not earmarked and $80,427 to be applied on the bonded indebtedness. These amounts will be used to apply on retiring the cost of recent construction, on Coffee High, and J. W. Powell schools and recent additions to other schools.

"We expect to get more money for the bonded indebtedness and for the Riverview School," Mr. Hibbett said. He added that he had been told that Florence's share of money for bonded indebtedness alone would amount to $550,000.

Mr. Hibbett said the city school system was operating within its budget as it was approved by the Board in September 1959. In order to counteract proration which he said amounted to at least $65,000, it was necessary to draw funds from the building program. He explained that this would not reflect construction of the Burrell-Slater school since Florence is getting State bond money for this and the Riverview projects.

ANNUAL FAIR WILL OPEN SEPTEMBER 19

The 26th annual North Alabama State Fair will open for six days and nights at Fair Park, Florence, on Monday, September 19, it was announced this week by the management. The event this year will be known as the "All-American" edition and will dramatize this theme in many of its phases and activities.

Tougher Rights Plank Adopted By GOP Leaders

BULLETIN
Following President Eisenhower's assessment of his years of stewardship in the White House and his strong defense of Republican policies, both foreign and domestic, in his Tuesday night televised address at the GOP Chicago convention, Republican party leaders closed ranks in preparation for the big moment on Wednesday night... the nomination of Vice President Richard M. Nixon for president.

Henry Cabot Lodge appeared practically certain to get the GOP nomination for the vice presidency tonight after the Republican choice for the top post, Richard Nixon is said to have tapped the UN ambassador as his choice for a running mate on Tuesday.

The Republican convention's platform committee under pressure from Vice President Nixon reversed its former stand for a moderate civil rights plank and came up with a stronger plank to carry into the November election campaign.

The committee discarded the "watered down" civil rights plank it had endorsed when it came into the convention on Monday and substituted a plank the committee

BULLETIN
GOP presidential aspirant Richard M. Nixon late Wednesday afternoon indicated four men who would be acceptable to him for the vice presidential nomination. They were: Keynote speaker, Walter Judd of Minn., Secretary of the Treasury Robert Anderson, UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Senator Thurston Morton of Kentucky.

tee chairman, Charles Percy, said "embodies views Nixon has been fighting for though it does contain some compromises."

The only other man with a change as Nixon's running mate was Sen. Thurston Morton of Kentucky; the Republican National Chairman. All other candidates appeared to have been eliminated including Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York who also took himself out of the running for the presidential nomination when he announced all of New York's 96 votes would go for Nixon.

Nixon On Civil Rights
In their 14-point joint communique issued on last Friday Nixon and Rockefeller called for "commendation" of Negro sit-in demonstrations and endorsement of racial integration in all phases of American public life.

The revised plank however was said to have been less strong than Nixon wanted. It did applaud retailers who have abandoned social discrimination against Negroes and reaffirmed the constitutional right of anyone to assemble peacefully to protest discrimination in places of business.

Further along in the civil rights plank it called for legislation to start court action to force school integration in certain cases. It also pledged opposition to use of Federal funds for buildings where there would be segregation of the races.

Goldwater Comments
Senator Barry Goldwater, of Arizona, a contender for the presidential nomination predicted Tuesday that Nixon would lose next November to the Democrats if he persists in his platform battle with the conservatives.

Goldwater charged the Vice President allowed himself to be "mouse-trapped" on the civil rights issue by New York's Governor Rockefeller. He said the platform might cost the GOP the five southern states carried by President Eisenhower in 1956.

More Than Promises Needed

It will be more than interesting to see the Republicans explain away some of the things that have happened during the Eisenhower Administration . . . things that they cannot claim were "carry overs" from the Truman Administration which is one of their patent explanations for mistakes they find most difficult to explain.

For instance after accusing the Truman Administration with appeasement tactics, the Republican Administration invited Khrushchev, the Butcher of Budapest and head of the Communist Slave Empire, to be an honored guest of this nation. Apparently forgotten was the fact that Nomura and Kurosu were on a peace mission in Washington on the eve of Pearl Harbor.

It will be interesting to see how they justify their so-called drive against inflation when they have spent more in seven years than Roosevelt and Truman combined, all but destroying the life savings of millions of our senior citizens through an unprecedented inflation.

Just how can the Republicans promise farm relief when they have tried for the past seven years and failed?

Under the Republicans foreign trade competition has increased by leaps and bounds causing unemployment and even the closing of factories in this country because of the government's subsidizing of foreign industry through its so-called foreign aid program.

What can the Republicans promise that has not been promised and repudiated by the present administration? It has been one of the weakest and most vacillating administrations in the country's history.

It will need more than promises.

The Materialistic Age

We have heard more than one warning to the effect that we shall not be conquered from without but from within . . . and this is becoming more evident every day as we view the alarming moral decadence that is taking place within this nation, a moral decadence that unfortunately has its roots in the home and community level, a moral decadence that needs no more proof than our overflowing reform schools and prisons and mental institutions.

No battle has ever been won until the enemy has been spotted and his strategy has been detected. This moral decadence is like a cancer eating at the very vitals of this nation, but unlike a cancer it can be cured and it must be cured if we are to survive as a free people.

Far more dangerous than any communist threat is our mass aim for personal security, personal pleasure, personal success and personal self-indulgence. Today our passion for self indulgence is aided and abetted by an industry that is producing more than we can possibly consume. We delude ourselves into thinking that happiness can come from the acquisition of more of the world's goods. Our personal debts have increased in fifteen short years from 55 billion dollars to 240 billion. And we have not minded in the least this under-mining of our resources because we now look to the government to provide security for our old age, to give us medical care and housing . . . why worry any more about the future?

This is the richest nation in the world with the main object of its society, the quest of material things. Small wonder our children grow up with an entirely false sense of values.

The impact of this picture where contentment is now practically impossible for millions, leads many, who think they are deprived of their "right," to take revenge on society . . . revenge that takes the form of juvenile crime or the milder forms of misbehavior such as cheating and chiseling in the delivery of goods and services.

Let us stop wondering at the strength exhibited by the Communist nations. That strength is natural because there is no problem of revenge against a society that has provided too much for one and not enough for another.

The cure for this mass materialism will not be easy but it is relatively simple if we have the courage to make the right decisions, and if we are willing to work for a revival of spiritual values that require character and self-denial.

Ours is a priceless and costly legacy. Let us fight to preserve it.

Veterans' Column

State Dept. of Veterans' Affairs

One of the most important items of interest for War II and Korea veterans is that President Eisenhower has signed into law a bill extending the War II GI loan and loan guaranty programs for another two years, or until July 25, 1962. The entire loan program was to have come to an end for all War II veterans on the 25th of this month.
The direct loan program was also to have expired for Korea veterans, even though their entitlement to guaranteed loans extends to January 31, 1965. In addition to extending these programs for another two years, the law also provides 150 million dollars to the VA each year for the purpose of making direct loans to veterans in small towns and rural areas who can't find money to build homes.
Just about every week, County Service Officers of your Department of Veterans Affairs are contacted by veterans of their wives who want these programs outlined in detail for them. Contact your nearest County Service Officer of your Alabama Department of Veterans Affairs, for further information on the G.I. Loan Program.

The United States Friday ordered the immediate expulsion of a Soviet diplomat Peter Y. Ezhov on the grounds that he was a spy collecting intelligence data, including aerial photographs. The State Department contends that Ezhov, a Soviet Embassy third secretary, paid an American commercial photographer more than $1,000 for aerial photographs of American cities.

More than 200,000 acres of rugged land in the West was ablaze Saturday with thousands of men battling the flames. Five died in the process. Lightning was chiefly responsible for the fires that caused damage in the millions of dollars. In California alone the loss was reported to be some 10 million dollars. This fire outbreak was described as the worst in 30 years.

Riots Plague Southern Rhodesia

African mobs rioting against white rule were reported smashing shops, beer halls and cars in the black townships in Bulawayo, Southern Rhodesia, Monday. A strike of the African labor force followed up disorders involving several thousand Africans Sunday night, put down by police backed by white British troops. Troop reinforcements were ordered into Bulawayo and Southern Rhodesia's premier, Sir Edgar Whitehead, gave assurance to white residents by saying, "We have patrols everywhere throughout the European area."

U.S. Says RB47 Pushed Off Course

The United States declared Monday it has proof that Soviet fighters deliberately pushed a U.S. RB47 off its course and shot it down over international waters. U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, in a dramatic speech to the UN Security Council, said, "This astonishing and criminal fact is established beyond doubt by the evidence of our scientific devices." Lodge produced charts to demonstrate his points, and denounced the Soviet Union for "flagrant disregard for the standards of international conduct."

Whites, Negroes Clash In S. C.

Several hundred whites and Negroes carrying various weapons clashed near two white drive-in restaurants in Greenville, S. C., Monday night. City police arrested 18 persons, mostly teen-agers, of both races. This was the second night of racial disturbances in Greenville. On Sunday, a brief scuffle involving about 200 white and Negro teen-agers broke out near a drive-in restaurant. Capt. G. O. to shopping that the downtown merchants would not suffer from the transactions of this business out of the downtown business area. He said that the old brick from the present building could be sold at high prices and that if it was found that the present site could be sold with good title that a high price could be obtained. He said, however that he felt that any moving of the courthouse should be left to the vote of the people.
Mr. Koonce said that he believed that the outlay of $1,500,000 for a new building at a new location would be an extravagant spending of money and urged that the present site, which has no strings attached to it, should be used. He said that the present building, if dismantled would be worthless and that the cost of tearing it down would be more than any sum that could be obtained for the wreckage.
As for parking space, Mr. Koonce said that only 22 parking places for downtown shoppers would be added if courthouse employees did not use present parking space and he felt that this cry of parking space was overemphasized as to its importance.
"The courthouse should be in the center of activities for those who use it and not placed in a location to enhance the value of privately owned property at the expense of all the taxpayers," Mr. Koonce stressed.
He, as Mr. Graham, asked that any decision be placed before the people of the county for their vote. Digressing somewhat from the present day situation, Mr. Koonce called attention to the sentimental value attached to the present courthouse and the site on which it was erected in 1901 and recalled that the Confederate statue, dedicated in 1903 and gracing a prominent place on the property, might bring again the "Call to Saddle" of the 9th Tennessee Cavalry which defended this city during the War Between the States.
The resolution, as adopted, follows:
"WHEREAS, the governing body of Lauderdale County has heretofore made known that study is being given to the feasibility of constructing a new courthouse, and that a public body known as the Lauderdale County Public Building Authority has been constituted and charged with the task of locating, planning and financing such public facility; and
"WHEREAS, it has been reported in the local press that said authority is giving serious consideration to the erection of said proposed courthouse at some site or location other than that now occupied by the present structure, and to the possibility of selling the property on which the present courthouse is now located; and
"WHEREAS, the members of the Florence Exchange Club are of the collective opinion that it is to the best interest of all citizens of Lauderdale County that any new courthouse structure be constructed in the immediate downtown area of the City of Florence, and further, that the present location can be feasibly and functionally used for such purpose at a substantial savings to county taxpayers;
"NOW THEREFORE, be it resolved by the Florence Exchange Club in regular session assembled that the members of the Court of County Commissioners of Lauderdale County, the Judge of Probate, and the members of the Lauderdale County Public Building Authority be and each of them hereby be memorialized and petitioned and respectfully urged to locate the proposed new courthouse structure on the present courthouse site, and in any event in the immediate downtown area of the City of Florence."

Guests included Judges Estes R. Flynt, Doyle Young, and C. E. Kelley.

JUDGE O. B. HILL

"Whenever I look back and review what contributions I might have made during my lifetime in service to our community, I find nothing that gives me more satisfaction than my 29 years on the Board of Governors of Eliza Coffee Memorial Hospital. During these long years it has been my pleasure to aid in the guidance of the growth and steady improvement in both management and things material of our splendid hospital, and should I deserve any commendation I would feel a distinct pride in it being said that I had accomplished something for Florence and Lauderdale County in my effort for this facility," said Judge O. B. Hill when asked for an expression on his many civic activities.

"Nothing I have ever done in a civic manner throughout my life-time has given me more satisfaction than the part I have been privileged to play in the development of Eliza Coffee Memorial Hospital to its present recognized position of leadership in the state," Judge Hill added.

Orlan Benton Hill was born in Florence on February 17, 1892, the son of Benton and Elizabeth Weston Hill. He attended elementary school in Florence. ED MAULDIN REPORTS ON DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

Editor: I would like to take this means to report to the people of Alabama on the National Democratic Convention where it was my privilege to represent you as a Delegate, and advisor to the Platform Committee.

First I must say that it was a fascinating experience and a real revelation for this country boy. My only regret is that I wish all of my friends everywhere in Alabama could have been there to share this enlightening experience with me.

As you know, Alabama was defeated in our proposal for a moderate civil rights plank, but I believe the south presented its position in a most creditable manner through offering of a minority report which received sympathetic understanding in almost every delegation. Furthermore we were assured by Sam Rayburn personally after the platform was adopted that he was still going to be running the Congress and Lyndon Johnson was still going to be running the Senate and that the only bills which would have a chance of passage would have to be acceptable to them.

For agriculture, Alabama battled almost 1000 as the platform incorporated most of the philosophy and even some of the language of our own ALABAMA FARM PLAN, which was enthusiastically received by farm delegates throughout the nation. Later, the president nominee told a meeting of farm delegates that "the farm problem will be the No. 1 domestic issue of the coming campaign." And, he committed himself to championing the cause of fair prices for agriculture.

We lost our favorite for President, Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas but certainly we have no regret about being "all the way for LBJ" as he ran a clean and honest campaign and was supported by a host of wholesome Democrats who sought to preserve the Jeffersonian Democracy which has historically been a part of our southland's culture and tradition.

It was quite a surprise to the Delegates and even to most Texas folks when Kennedy announced that he had persuaded Senator Johnson to help carry him in the south as his running mate. Intimates of both Johnson and Kennedy agreed that if elected, Johnson will be the most important Vice-President that our country has ever had, and it is expected that he will maintain his tight reign over the Senate even after he becomes its presiding officer.

I am personally very proud of the way the majority of our Alabama delegates stood up for southern principles and the candidates who best understand and sympathize with our special problems. It was a pleasure for me to have been associated with each and every one of them, and to thank the voters of Alabama's 8th district for granting me this privilege.

Sincerely,
Ed Mauldin, Delegate Platform Committee—Advisor, National Democratic Convention, Leighton, Alabama.

WALTER BROWN NEW PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR

Walter Brown, who conducted the "Christ For Our Times" Crusade here in 1957, has returned to the T. R. Cities as pastor of the United Presbyterian Church, recently constructed in Florence.

It was announced last Thursday by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield that a contract has been signed for the construction and lease of a new Post Office Building for North Florence Station of the Florence Post Office. Successful bidder is Allen M. Northington, with offices at 1949 Florence Blvd., Florence, and ground breaking and construction is expected to begin immediately, with completion due around Jan. 21, 1961.

The new post office, to be located on Edgewood Drive, will provide 3,210 square feet of interior space, an outside loading platform, and ample space for parking and truck maneuvering. Specifications also call for new modern lighting and equipment.
"This is another important step in the Post Office Department's Modernization Program authorized in the last session of the Congress, to improve postal services for the public by providing new buildings and equipment, designed for efficient and economical mail-handling," stated Postmaster General Summerfield. "To achieve complete modernization of the postal plant, a total of 12,000 post offices must be modernized or replaced due to lack of space and obsolescence," he continued.

The Postmaster General also pointed out that the new post office in Florence, one of 1400 new post offices to be built in fiscal 1960, will remain under private ownership while leased to the Federal Government, and will pay local real estate taxes to bear its share of the cost of local Government.

In adding details concerning postal service today, Summerfield said, "our more than 35,000 post offices are handling a total of 62 billion pieces of letter mail and parcel post annually. This is an all-time record and an increase of more than 24 per cent above the approximately 50 billion pieces handled annually only 10 years ago."

House Padlocked By Court Order

Action Against Public Nuisances Taken As Result Of Grand Jury

The home of Elias Asher, alias Eli Asher, located five miles from Florence and on the Cloverdale Road, has been padlocked as a public liquor nuisance.

This action was officially taken Friday after a final hearing on injunction asked by Circuit Solicitor W. L. Almon and Law and Equity Solicitor John Barnes before Judge Robert M. Hill, Florence.

Chief witnesses for the state Sheriff Roy L. Call and Chief Deputy A. V. McCorkle at the hearing showed that they had found liquor and beer on the premises on three or four occasions, prior to the filing of the original bill and granting of the temporary writ of injunction on June 4. On another occasion, both beer and whisky were found in the woods near the home.

The padlocking of this private dwelling closely follows that of two public establishments in Florence and padlock proceeding against another which was allowed to remain open under separate management.

Miss Annette Koonce Weds Albert S. King, Jr.

Against a background of Southern smiles, the altar of First Methodist Church of Florence was detailed with groupings of palms and woodwardia ferns interspersed with great arrangements of white blossoms and burning white tapers for the afternoon wedding on Sunday, July twenty-fourth, when Shirley Annette Koonce became the bride of Albert Sidney King, Jr., of Dallas, Texas.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson Koonce of 414 North Walnut Street, Florence, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. King, Sr., of Dallas.

The Reverend R. Lambuth Archibald read the four o'clock vows following nuptial selections presented by Miss Jo Alice Broyles, organist, and Jack Voohries, vocal soloist.

A trelis entwined with red roses marked the altar center before which Mr. Koonce gave his daughter in marriage. Her wedding gown of diamond white silk, boned and re-embroidered Alencon lace was distinguished by a fitted bodice with deep points of lace marking the center front and back neckline and slightly full sleeves which ended in shirring just below the elbow. The deep pointed, elongated waistline accented the voluminous, floor-length skirt which swept to a chapel train. A headpiece of illusion cascaded from a headress of scalloped lace re-embroidered with pearls and her bouquet was fashioned of white orchids.

Miss Sandra Ballard of Dallas was the bride's honor attendant and 'maids included Miss Carol King, also of Dallas, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Anne Beadle, Mrs. James Darby and Miss Jeannine Hamby, cousin of the bride. Their frocks of white silk broadcloth, designed by the bride, featured deep rose-red cummerbunds which extended to form wide diagonal bows with hemline streamers. Oval necklines, elbow sleeves and dome-shaped skirts were other details and tiny veils caught to hair-bows fashioned their headresses. Miss Ballard carried a bouquet of Better Times roses and each maid carried a single matching blossom.

Miss Anne Davis and Miss Betty Jane Little, candlelighters, and Amy Lynch, flower girl, wore rose-red organza and wristlets of white roses.

Mr. King chose his father as his best man and ushers were a brother, David King, Paschal Burk, Edwin Malone, all of Dallas, Gene Hamby, cousin of the bride, of Florence, and Edward and James Crossman, also cousins of the bride, of Nashville. Buddy Price served as ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Koonce was gowned in Bahama blue lace and white shantung with matching blue-flowered hat. The bridegroom's mother wore beige-tone raw silk with small matching hat and a white orchid corsage enhanced the attire of each.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bride's parents were reception hosts at Florence Golf and Country Club. Assisting were Miss Jo Broyles, Miss Toby Delony, Mrs. J. A. Tease, Mrs. Merwin Koonce, Mrs. A. H. Price, Mrs. A. I. Beadle, Mrs. Fritz Delony, Mrs. Goodwin Young, Mrs. Elmer Russell, Mrs. C. C. Crossman, Mrs. J. F. Broyles, Mrs. Herbert Little, Mrs. Ormond Roden, Mrs. Aaron Lynch, Miss Janet Price, Miss Sheila Egan, Miss Anne Evans and Miss Anne Darby.

Before leaving for their honeymoon, the bride changed to a jacket dress of pink and beige raw silk with which she wore bone accessories.

After August first, the bride and groom will be at home at 6729 Covington Lane, Dallas.

Sunday's Vows Climaxed Miss Koonce's Prenuptials

Social courtesies became an almost daily routine with Annette Koonce (now Mrs. Sidney King, Jr.) during the three-weeks' interval in Florence which preceded her Sunday wedding in First Methodist Church.

Among the lovely parties was that of Wednesday afternoon, July 20, when the Thursday Study Club group honored the daughter of one of their lifetime members.

For the occasion, the Goodwin Young home on Prospect St., was gayed with pink summer blossoms and the tea table, spread with a Venetian cloth of lace and linen, was appointed in silver and centered with a bouquet of roses.

The honoree, wearing a sheer white tulle frock with blue-beaded contour belt and a corsage of white gladioli, was joined in welcoming guests by her mother, Mrs. James A. Koonce, and by her fiancée's mother and sister, Mrs. Albert Sidney King and Miss Carol King, who arrived from Dallas, Tex., for the final prenuptials. Also present from Dallas was Miss Sandra Ballard, honor attendant in the wedding party.

Hostesses with Mrs. Young were Mrs. Elmer Russell, Mrs. Merwin Koonce, Mrs. H. H. Braxton, Mrs. D. H. Bowling, Mrs. Roy Cole, Miss Tera Hitchcock, Mrs. Jesse Keller, Mrs. Glenn McIntyre, Miss Buna Paulk, Mrs. Ralph Smith and Mrs. James Spain.

Miss Betty Little and Miss Ann Davis were cohostesses when they entertained in Miss Koonce's honor with a breakfast party at Howard Johnson's.

An oblong arrangement of yellow roses centered their table around which were seated, with the bride-elect and her mother, Miss Toby Delony, Miss Sheila Egan, Miss Jeannine Hamby, Mrs. T. H. Little, Mrs. Lester Davis and the hostesses.

Delightful indeed was the dessert and bridge party of Tuesday evening, July 19, when Miss Sheila Egan was hostess and guests included members of a former Coffee High group known as "The Fourteen."

The bride's future home-state of Texas was featured on the hand-made tallies and in the molded dessert, a reminder of the Lone Star.

Yellow and white flowers decorated the party rooms and a corsage of blue carnations marked the honoree's place.

In the bridge game, prizes were awarded to Miss Toby Delony and Miss Mary Ruth Manning and a gift of kitchen ware was presented to the bride.

On Thursday afternoon, July 21, Miss Janet Price and Miss Ann Beadle were hostesses to a lake party at the Price's Summer cottage, including with the bride Sandra Ballard and Ann Evans, Ann Huffman, Faye Vines, Linda Bohnstedt, Ann Davis, Betty Little, Jeannine Hamby, Sheila Egan and, arriving in late afternoon were the bride's mother, Mrs. James Koonce, and her fiancée's mother, Mrs. A. S. King.

A luncheon on Friday, the 22, at Holiday Inn was Miss Koonce's courtesy to her bridal attendants. Pink sweetheart roses centered the luncheon table and fashioned the nosegays which marked places. The bride wore an almond green sheath dress with oval neckline and matching sweater. Her accessories were bone and at her shoulder she pinned pink blossoms.

Miss Myra Evelyn Perkins Bride of Billy Aaron Smith

An afternoon ceremony in Pleasant Hill Methodist Church marked the exchange of vows between Myra Perkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stanley Perkins of Central Heights, and Billy Aaron Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Aaron Smith of Florence, on Sunday, July seventeenth.

The Reverend Arthur Finch, minister of the church, read the four o'clock vows following nuptial selections presented by Mrs. Lon E. Harbin, organist, and Miss Brenda Hairrell, vocalist.

Against a background etched with greenery, arrangements of white gladioli and majestic daisies were interspersed with ivy-entwined branched candelabra to detail the altar setting. Sylvia Smith, sister of the bridegroom, and George Perkins, Jr., brother of the bride, were candlelighters.

Mr. Perkins gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown of lace and bridal satin was created by her mother and has become the cherished wedding attire of each daughter in the family. A square neckline and long sleeves pointed over the hands detail the lace bodice and back fullness in the floor-length skirt sweeps into a deep train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a crown of orange blossoms and she carried a colonial bouquet fashioned of a single white orchid and white carnations atop her white Bible.

Miss Elaine Perkins and Mrs. Shannon Phillips served their sister as honor attendants and Misses Faye and Gaye Smith, twin sisters of the bridegroom, and Miss Elaine Howard were her 'maids. Their full-skirted cotton frocks of pale blue sheer were designed with lace trimmed bodices and short puffed sleeves and their head-dresses were of white velvet bows with short curly veils. They carried white carnation bouquets tied with blue ribbons.

Vicki Glascock, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

The bridegroom chose his father for his best man and ushers were James Yarber, Ronald Brown, Lawrence Smith and Shannon Phillips.

Both mothers wore carnation corsages with blue gowns of lace. Mrs. Perkins in blue over tulle and Mrs. Smith in mauve with matching accessories.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bride's parents were reception hosts in the church parlors. Assisting with the courtesies were Mrs. Harold Glascock, Mrs. Boyce Glascock, Mrs. John Rhodes, Mrs. Edwin Olive, Mrs. H. E. Hairrell, Miss Glenda Butler, Miss Linda Butler, Miss Jean Seaton and Mrs. Ronny Brown.

For travel, the bride wore a dress of orchid shantung, black and white accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

TVA Conducting Forest Inventory Entire Watershed

Five Foresters Assigned To Project Involving Over 14 Million Acres

TVA announced last week it has started a forest inventory of the entire Tennessee River watershed. Richard Kilbourne, director of the Division of Forestry Relations, said that five foresters have been assigned to the project and that they should complete the field work by the end of December. The survey will be coordinated with a U.S. Forest Service forest inventory of the State of Tennessee, now in progress, and many of the sample plots will provide data for both the TVA and Forest Service surveys.

"The 1950 inventory of the forestry resource indicated about 14.1 million acres of forest in the Valley. Subsequent inventories of individual counties, however, have indicated an increase in forest area averaging about 1.5 percent a year. If this holds true for the Valley as a whole the new forest area figure may be close to 16 million acres."

Mr. Kilbourne pointed out that forest inventories provide the basic data needed for the sound development of forest product industries. These same data, he said, are also invaluable to the agencies of government responsible for developing the forest resource to "full productivity and maximum water-

Former Florence Resident Dies

Among the survivors is a daughter, Jane Campbell, also of Chula Vista.

Reynolds Shows New Aluminum Food Packaging

New applications of aluminum packaging including foil Cluster-Paks, the latest in foil bags, an insulated carton that keeps beer chilled for several hours and aluminum cans for products ranging from frozen fruit juice concentrates to tuna fish were displayed by Reynolds Metals Company at the Western Packaging and Materials Handling Exposition which opened in Los Angeles, July 19.

Emphasis on the west was further demonstrated by the firm's exhibit of aluminum cans. Featured were a two-piece drawn can for tuna, salmon and shellfish and a lighter and more economical three piece can for lemonade and other frozen citrus concentrates. Oil cans and aerosol containers made of aluminum also were shown. Commercial uses of "Reynolon" water-soluble polyvinyl alcohol (PVA) and oriented polyvinyl chloride (PVC) plastic films also were shown. Among the products using the water-soluble film was a detergent in individual pre-measured PVA packets which dissolve when dropped into a washing machine.

A heat tunnel showed booth visitors how ambient heat shrinks the PVC film into a tight, clear overwrap. Small boxes containing one water-soluble detergent packet were conveyed through the tunnel for overwrapping and distributed as samples.

TVA said today it is participating with state fish and game officers and biologists in 30 fish population sampling studies in 11 TVA lakes. The samplings started yesterday in South Holston Lake and will continue until mid-October. In addition to South Holston, lakes to be sampled are Fort Patrick Henry, Norris, Cherokee, Watts Bar, Hales Bar, Gunterville, Wheeler, Wilson, Pickwick, and Kentucky.

Purpose of the studies is to determine the relative density of the fish population, its division by species, and success of reproduction. Small areas within the lakes are treated with a chemical which has the effect of stunning the fishes and bringing them to surface.

PIPELINERS OF ENERGY

Energy Liquids Extracted from Natural Gas

As it comes from a well, natural gas contains varying amounts of liquid hydrocarbons: natural gasoline, kerosene, propane and butane. These are extracted in a continuous cycling operation in which the gas, from which the liquids have been removed, is compressed and circulated back into the producing formations to push a fresh supply of "wet gas" to the producing well. The operation is continued until the supply of liquids in the producing formations has been exhausted.

La Gloria Oil and Gas Company—a wholly-owned subsidiary of Texas Eastern—operates one of the world's largest natural gas processing plants in the center of an extensive oil and gas field in South Texas. A second plant is under construction in another major field.

The operation of these plants to remove liquid hydrocarbons from natural gas is still another example of the importance of Texas Eastern's role as Pipeliner of Energy to the Nation.

Bible Comment: What Meaning Does 'Brother' Have for You?

"Brother." The word means many things to many people. In the family it is the highest expression of friendship and devotion. To a working man it means a union comrade. To a college student, a companion united by formal ties within a fraternal organization. To the member of the social club, the word takes on another meaning—a colleague, a business acquaintance—someone you enjoy being with.

To the men who wrote the Bible, the meaning of the word brother meant perhaps all of these implications—and more.

To those who recorded the words of Jesus, "brother" meant companionship on the highest plateau—a unity with other men and women who one would probably never meet face to face.

"Brother" meant a kinship with all men and all peoples. Are not we all related if we trace our ancestry back far enough? Were not Adam and Eve the original mother and father to us all?

We are all brothers to every man. How hard it has become for us to believe this with our hearts and minds. But how hard it must have been for the Apostles, too.

The immutable logic of the brotherhood of mankind—the highest keystone of the Christian's belief—is so clear that its value escapes us from time to time.

Should all men recognize the divinity of brotherhood that unites everyone, there would be no wars, no greed, no hatred that consumes civilizations. Brotherhood—a long way off, but perhaps closer than the Christian dares to dream. It lies within us all.

Telephone Talk

by
FORREST W. BRICE
Your Telephone Manager

SUMMER SAFETY talk usually centers around highway, water and campsite accidents—well, don't forget yard safety, too. Remember that power mowers can cause rocks and other objects to fly up and injure you or someone nearby. Be sure you handle all yard implements carefully. And, above all, keep dangerous tools out of the reach of small children. Happy gardening!

BUSY HOMEMAKERS get some hot weather relief when they serve light meals. Why not lighten your busy schedule even more this summer, and all year long, by installing a handy extension phone in the kitchen? With a kitchen phone you can take and make calls and watch the stove at the same time. And think of the steps you'd save! It's really easy living within easy reach. The cost is low for a convenient kitchen extension—so, why don't you give our business office a call and order one for your home.

SEVERAL PEOPLE in town have mentioned to me that since summer has come, they have been missing a lot of their calls because they couldn't get to the telephone before it stopped ringing. Of course, they were outside relaxing or working in their yards. We have a two point program to remedy this:

1. When calling someone, allow sufficient time for them to answer. We recommend ten times as a minimum.
2. Let us come out and install a patio phone so you won't be faced with running to answer or tracking up your home with muddy feet. The cost is pennies a day and we guarantee you'll enjoy it many dollars' worth a day.

POWER

"Isn't it wonderful, what man can do?" But when looking at man's work, we often overlook the Hand of God. Man harnessed the power in this great dam, but God created it. Long before man discovered the turbine or the electric motor, God placed the power at man's disposal.

God is the source of every one of man's inventive and ingenious undertakings. He gives us the natural resources and the intelligence to use them. And He wants us to use them constructively.

Our Christian faith teaches us of God's power and the vastness of its scope. It teaches us the right use of these blessings, so that life may be enriched by them. Go to church and learn God's plan of love for us and our fellowman. It will mean a better world for all of us.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend service regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs financial and material support. Please go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Farm Review and Forecast

Alabama Farmer Will Be Published

Thomas J. Anderson, publisher of Arkansas Farmer, Mississippi Farmer and Georgia Farmer, announced today that he will begin publication of another monthly state farm magazine, Alabama Farmer, January 1, 1961.

The Alabama Farmer will be an independent farm magazine, devoted exclusively to serving the interests and needs of Alabama—one of the few good farming states in the entire country which does not have its own state farm magazine, Anderson said.

The Alabama Farmer will be edited by crop lines—not merely by state lines—and will be published in two editions as are the Arkansas Farmer, Mississippi Farmer, and Georgia Farmer.

Enjoy Farm Life, Practice Safety

Safety, like liberty, requires constant watchfulness.

About three out of four farm families in the U.S. enjoy an accident-free year. But that one family in four suffers deaths and serious injuries from farm, home, and highway accidents.

In 1958, there were 2700 people killed and 400,000 injured in accidents occurring in farm homes. In a recent survey made by the National Safety Council and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, it was found that in the southeastern states, machinery, drownings, and firearms take a greater toll of lives. And in Alabama, firearms, blows, burns, and lightning cause more deaths and accidents.

However, the USDA reports that during the last decade farm families have reduced their accidental death rate from 63.3 deaths per 100,000 farm residents in 1950 to 54.3 in 1958.

This week is Farm Safety Week throughout the nation. And following the advice of the theme "Enjoy Farm Life—Practice Safety" can bring its reward for thousands of farm families.

To keep from having to search for matching pillow slips, told them in pairs when you iron them.

Rid Farm Of Weed Seeds

Are you going to sow weed seed this fall?

That's just what will happen if this year's weeds are allowed to go to seed around the farm, says Extension Agronomist Bill Andrews.

Some weeds are perennials and will come up again next year anyway, but many others can be destroyed in August before the seed matures and falls to the ground.

The smart farmer or gardener will cut the weeds, pile them, and burn them to kill as many of the seeds as possible. Or he will move the plant-growing area away from the present location. Still another way he gets rid of weeds is by using one of the many types of weed killers. But Andrews adds that these must be used with care.

COTTON MARKETING PRACTICE IMPORTANT

Alabama cotton farmers are growing cotton to sell for the highest possible price.

And according to Extension Marketing Specialist A. W. Jones, wise farmers will pick cotton clean, pick it dry, and pick it often. They will also take it to a good gin in good condition, and then keep up with daily market prices during the year.

Jones adds that marketing practices can be as important as every good production practice that farmers have carried out earlier in the year.

Since farming is a business, treat it as such.

Control Insects In Hot Weather

By W. T. WAGNON
County Agent

The season for all kinds of insects is here. Many calls for information on control methods are coming to the agent's office daily. In order to help people who have insect problems the information below is given. If problems arise from insects not listed call the county agent's office and we will try to help you. Cut this out and file it for future use, if you wish.

ANTS—Control ants outside of building with 10% chlordane dust or 5% spray, or 5% heptachlor or dieldrin granules or 2½% spray. Indoors, use 5% chlordane dust or 2½% spray, or a 1% dieldrin or ½% spray.

BOGWOORMS—Control bogworms on arborvitae and other plants at the first signs in spring with 20% toxaphene dust, or a spray containing 6 pounds of 40% wettable toxaphene in 100 gallons of water. Repeat treatment weekly until controlled.

BLISTER BEETLES—Control blister beetles with 10% DDT, 10% methoxychlor, 20% toxaphene, or 5% malathion dust.

CARPET BEETLES—Carpet beetles feed on woolen clothes, rugs, and many other fabrics. To control these pests, clean and sun infested fabrics. Spray rugs along edges, and under furniture, with 2½% chlordane or ½% lindane oil solution. Clean rugs with a vacuum cleaner once week and destroy the contents of the sweeper.

EASTERN TENT CATERPILLARS—Caterpillars, which appear in the spring and build tent-like webs in the crotches of trees, cause injury by feeding on the foliage. Spray trees with four pounds of 50% wettable DDT in 100 gallons of water to control these pests.

ELM LEAF BEETLE—The larvae skeletonize the leaves. Spray with four pounds of 50% wettable DDT in 100 gallons of water. More than one application may be necessary for complete control.

FALL WEBWORM—The webworm eats leaves of pecans and other trees. Webs cover branches of trees. Spray with four pounds of wettable DDT in 100 gallons of water.

FLIES—To control flies on dog run 10% DDT, 1% rotenone, 1% lindane, 5% chlordane or 5% malathion dust into the hair of the animal, or wash dogs in a mixture containing one fluid ounce or 57% emulsifiable malathion in 1 gallon of water. Cats may also be washed in this mixture. Spray infested areas with 5 ounces of 57% malathion in one gallon of water per 1000 square feet.

HORSE FLIES—Control horse flies by spraying twice weekly with undiluted pyrethrin concentrate (1% pyrethrins plus 10% piperonyl butoxide) at the rate of 1 gallon in 100 gallons of water.

MELON WORMS AND PICKLE WORMS—Dust plants weekly from time first fruit is set on spring crops and farm first bloom on fall crops, with 1% lindane or 2% parathion.

MEXICAN BEAN BEETLE—When beetles appear, dust weekly with 1% rotenone, 10% methoxychlor, 5% malathion, 20% toxaphene, or 5% Sercin at the rate of 20 pounds per acre.

ROACHES—Control roaches by spraying indoors with 5% DDT, 3% chlordane, or 0.5% dieldrin, or dusting with 10% DDT, chlordane, or 1% dieldrin as needed. If the German roach (water bug) becomes a problem, get a quart of house spray that contains 0.25% pyrethrin and add 4 to 6 tablespoonfuls of 50% malathion and apply with a low pressure sprayer or a paint brush.

Before applying an insecticide, read the statement on residues under the listing of the insecticide.

Slump In Milk Production

"Betsy," the heifer, doesn't like hot weather any more than people do.

Dairymen know that cows can't turn on an air conditioner or a fan to keep cool. And they also know that keeping cows cool can help prevent the hot weather slump in milk production and the accompanying reduction of fat content, according to Extension Dairyman John Parrish.

So it is up to the producer to help the animals along by providing plenty of shade. If trees are not available, a cheap shelter will serve the purpose and pay for itself. Pastures need to be good so cows can get their fill in a hurry, says Parrish. However, most of the grazing can be done at night if dairymen provide the best pasture then.

On the average, cows need 12 to 15 gallons of water a day. But sometimes they do without the needed amount rather than walk long distances to get it.

Broiler-Fryer Is A Convenience Food

The broiler-fryer—like many other items—has become a modern convenience.

The poultry industry has found the answer to the demand for a protein convenience food, according to Dorothy Overbey, Extension specialist in consumer education. And this is in the form of the broiler-fryer.

The homemaker can buy these birds whole, in halves, quarters, or in serving pieces, fresh or frozen. They can also choose the special parts that they want such as breasts, thighs, drumsticks, whole legs, backs, or wings.

But the versatility really comes with the many ways of preparing the broiler-fryer for eating, says Miss Overbey. It may be fried, barbecued outside, oven broiled, baked, smothered, fried golden brown, or slowly braised by covering the skillet with a lid.
