

The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

• We are being surrounded—by new industrial plants, that is. Now comes the announcement that Loretto has been chosen as the site for a textile plant that will employ 400 persons. Construction is expected to begin in August and operation is scheduled for January 1. The plant, to manufacture men's sport shirts, is another in the chain of Myrna Mills which also has plants at Corinth, Miss. and Adamsville, Tenn., in addition to others. The announcement was made last Thursday by Loretto's Mayor Roy Matthews and Perry Mullins of Myrna Mills. It can be expected that many residents of Lauderdale county will find employment in the new nearby plant. We congratulate the community on its successful efforts.

• One who has his heart in the progress of Florence and the area takes us to task with the charge that we are telling only a part of the story when we lay so much of the blame for the loss of the Electric Auto-Lite plant to Decatur at the doors of the Chamber of Commerce. "I'll admit," he says, "that the Chamber of Commerce has been derelict in this portion of its services to the community but you must charge organized labor with its share of the blame because of its higher pay scales demanded for all kinds of construction and operational work in the Tri-Cities." "These pay scales, higher than in surrounding sections, are forcing continued layoffs, stoppage of construction of homes because of the necessity for over-pricing because of exorbitant costs and making it possible for cut-of-area concerns to undersell local building material manufacturers thus adding to unemployment in this much publicized growing area," he added. Chamber President Henry E. Lamar intimated in a recent letter that such was the problem faced. We believe that organized labor, if presented this picture factually, will be willing to cooperate as certainly it is to our mutual interests that this situation of plants passing us by be corrected whoever is at fault. Each agency must assume its full share of responsibility.

• The move of industry into Alabama has been underway for the past several years. New and valuable developments are scattered throughout the length and breadth of our state. No better opportunities are offered anywhere than right here in Florence and Lauderdale county. But, apparently, something is lacking. We wish we could put our finger directly on the sore spot.

• Old-fashioned girls used to call their parents if their boy friends became too amorous. But now they prefer to wrestle with the problem themselves.

• Speaking of challenges, the National Safety Council each holiday or holiday week-end sets up a goal (estimate) of traffic fatalities and it seems that everyone in the United States does his level best to meet it. The council put up a figure of 370 deaths in traffic for the July 4th holiday week-end and it looks as if we made it—and more.

• One mouse to another in a satellite: "Well, it's better than cancer."

• The little henpecked husband could stand it no longer and filed for a divorce. For some reason unexplainable the divorce was granted without a hearing. However, the husband continued to live in the home. Some three months later a friend asked the reason, adding: "I thought you obtained a divorce." "I did," replied the henpecked one. "But I'm afraid to tell my wife."

• A sense of humor is something that makes you laugh at something which would make you mad if it happened to you.

• With all the bank robberies going on at the present time, we are reminded of the time burglars entered a bank early one morning and found the cashier the only person around. After extracting the combination of the money strong box, they gagged and tied him to his desk. After the thieves took all the money, the cashier made desperate pleading sounds through the gag. Curious, the burglars loosened the gag. "Please," whispered the man, "take the books, too; I'm $10,000 short."

• Most people like hard work—especially when they are paying for it.

• The little old lady was stopping at an old-fashioned hotel in a small town. Ever apprehensive about fire, she no sooner checked into her room than she left to locate the fire escape. By mistake, she opened the door to the men's bathroom to face a gentleman reclining in the bathtub. "Oh, pardon me," she said, "I was just looking for the fire escape." She had gone but a few steps when closing the bathroom door, that the bathwater, soaking wet and with a hastily clutched towel about him, ran after her shouting: "Where's the fire?"

"MISS GUNTERSVILLE LAKE"—Above is Miss Jerolyn Ridgeway who captured the 1959 title during the 20th Annual Gunter'sville Boat Race Festival. The big event this year will be held July 15, 16, and 17. The 1960 "Miss Gunter'sville Lake" will be chosen during the festival. Sponsors of the event are the Gunter'sville Jaycees.

Ike Thinks Soviet Sub Base In Cuba Unlikely

President Asserts United States Would Act To Protect Interests

President Eisenhower told newsmen Tuesday that the United States would act to protect its interests if Russia establishes a submarine base in Cuba. He said, however, he did not think this likelihood, although he admitted it was a possibility.

He was asked by newsmen if he agreed with a statement by Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, that the United States might look for the establishment of such a base. The President replied that he would make no guesses about such a possibility. Such things, he said, are possible in this world.

As to what this country might do in such an event, Eisenhower called attention to the Caracas resolution for mutual defense of the Western Hemisphere and to the machinery of the Organization of American States.

Cabinet Backs Castro
Fidel Castro's cabinet ministers met early Tuesday morning and drafted orders for seizure of American property to be issued when President Eisenhower cuts the Cuban sugar quota.

President Eisenhower was expected to act promptly on the authority Congress gave him on Sunday to suspend all or part of the still unfilled 1960 quota of Cuban sugar imported into the United States.

Mr. Eisenhower said the new sugar bill, giving him authority to cut the quota reached his desk along with reports and studies by the appropriate departments only a few minutes prior to the news conference.

He said he was trying hard to convince the Cubans there was no quarrel between this country and theirs but that the difficulties are caused by inexplicable actions of their government.

The new seizure decree drafted by Castro's government provides for expropriation of companies in which U.S. citizens may have "interest or participation" in. Examples are the British-Dutch Shell Oil Refinery and the U.S. Esso and Texaco refineries taken over last week.

It said the American owners would be paid in 2 per cent 30 year Cuban government bonds backed by a special fund. The fund is to come from 25 per cent of the dollars paid for sugar sales to the U.S. in excess of 3 million tons a year and at a price of 54 cents a pound or more.

Error Corrected About Courthouse

This newspaper is indebted to Richard Smith and former Probate Judge Herman K. Longshore for calling attention to an error in last week's issue of this newspaper in which it was stated the original Lauderdale county courthouse burned.

According to both gentlemen it did not burn but was remodeled into the present structure in 1899 with much of the old building being utilized in the present courthouse. The remodeling plans, Mr. Longshore said, are in the archives at Florence State College.

We are glad to be corrected on this important piece of history. It is interesting to note that the last of the $40,000 bond issue which financed the building of the original Courthouse was paid off during the administration of Judge Longshore.

FHA Farm Loans Aid To Farmers

Improvements Made In Crop Yields, Better Livestock Production

Loans totaling $240,360.00 were made by the Farmers Home Administration to farm families in Lauderdale county during the 1960 fiscal year, according to Cecil C. Mixon, the agency's county supervisor.

Borrowers repaid $230,540.00 during the year on loans of all types obtained from the Farmers Home Administration. Their repayments on loans came mainly from the sale of cotton, hogs, beef cattle and milk. Improvements which Lauderdale county farmers have achieved, Mr. Mixon said, include higher crop yield and improved pastures through proper fertilizing and liming due to soil tests, better dairy herds, more pigs saved from each litter, better housing for themselves and their livestock and equipment.

Throughout the county are many farm families who have borrowed in former years and are still making scheduled repayments. Many other families now farming in Lauderdale county, and who had borrowed from FHA, have repaid their loans in full and are financing their needs through banks and other lenders.

A large portion of the funds borrowed are in operating loans, those made to pay costs of food, seed, fertilizer, pesticides, livestock, machinery, and equipment, and to make recommended adjustments in farming systems. Borrowing during the year to meet this type of need totaled approximately $100,000.00.

Farm real estate loans during the year amounted to $141,790.00. Farmers use these loans to improve or purchase farms or farm land, to build or repair farm dwellings and to finance other essential farm construction, to install or repair irrigation systems, level land, establish good permanent pasture, terrace fields, and otherwise improve farms.

Israel Receives Nomination For National Award

Prominent Tri-Cities Civic Worker One Of 12 Notified Of Eligibility

As a reward for long-time service in civic affairs in the Tri-Cities area, Sam J. Israel of Sheffield has been notified of his selection as one of twelve semi-finalists in the Lane Bryant Community Service Annual Awards competition.

Mr. Israel was nominated for the award recently by Dr. J. S. Gallinger, rabbi of the Tri-Cities Jewish congregation, supported by others who are familiar with Mr. Israel's many benefactions for many years and which have brought him prominence not only throughout the Shoals area but throughout the state.

Most recently Mr. Israel has identified himself with the founding of the first Literacy Movement in Alabama organizing groups of volunteer teachers for adults unable to read or write. This program met with success largely through his efforts and has now spread to other sections of the state.

Mr. Israel, ever anxious to do a really good job with this program was also instrumental in spearheading a move to secure Educational-TV which has special programs designed to meet the needs of the Literacy Movement. Classes have now become a regular feature of the ETV programming.

The competition is a national evaluation of outstanding service by individuals or organizations in promoting civic welfare. The final winners of the award will be chosen from the 12 semi-finalists representing all parts of the United States sometime in November, it was announced.

In addition to his invaluable work for Temple B'nai Israel and B'nai Brith, "Mr. Sam," as he is affectionately known in the Muscle Shoals area, has given freely of his time, money and energies for the betterment of the Association For Crippled Children and Adults of Alabama, the Mental Health Association, for the handicapped, and many other local and district-wide welfare endeavors for many years.

One of the organizers of Kiwanis in the early 20's, Mr. Israel has served his club in every capacity and in all of its drives to better the community.

He is married to the former Miss Bessie Kreisman who was descended from one of the pioneer families of the area. The Israels are the parents of Mrs. Jack Muhlendorf of Sheffield and the grandparents of the three Muhlendorf sons.

Mr. Israel for many years operated a wholesale grocery business and is presently chairman of the Board of the Tri-Cities Paper Co. and Chemical Supply Company.

The awards committee is composed of A. Biddle Duke, president, International Rescue Committee; Dr. Russell Kirk, editor, Modern Age; James A. Michener, author; Kenneth B. Keating, United States Senator, New York; James A. Linen, president, Times, Inc.; and Basil O'Connor, president, The National Foundation.

Negro Attempts Criminal Assault

Two Homes Entered Last Week; Police Issue Warning To Residents

A Negro man who entered two Florence dwellings two nights last week and attempted to criminally assault a white woman early Friday is being sought by Florence police who have very little information on which to act.

Chief of Police Noah Danley said, "We are releasing this information in order to warn residents of the city and give them an opportunity to protect themselves," as he urged persons to lock doors and windows at night and to call police if they hear strange noises.

The first complaint on the Negro was received early Thursday morning of last week from a home in the 300 block of North Cypress Street, where the Negro had broken into the house. The parents of a young girl heard the daughter mumble and talking and when they flicked on the light the Negro was seen running from the house.

On Friday at 2:55 a.m. police received a call from a woman who lived alone near ECM Hospital at West College and Locust. She reported that a Negro had broken into her house, beat her up and attempted to criminally assault her. She managed to fight him away and he ran from the house as she screamed. She was taken to ECM where she was confined suffering from scratches, bruises and shock.

Police combed the area but found nothing. "The only thing we know is that he's of slender build," police reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter Ellis of Chattanooga, Tenn., have announced the adoption of a little daughter whom they have named Graceleen. Mrs. Grace Ellis of Florence is the three-months-old's paternal grandmother.

Mass.) is suffering from Addison's disease, which is defined as a chronic ailment usually stemming from tuberculosis, involving insufficient production of adrenalin. A Kennedy aide called this "dispicable tactics."

This was the first rocket to be fired during the previously announced testing period scheduled to last from July 5 through July 31.

Federal Grant Is Received For Use In Conducting Supervised Program

Money Granted Enlarge Airport

Second Story Will Be Added After Plans, Have Been Approved

Word of a $46,250 Federal appropriation for the Muscle Shoals Airport, to be used in adding a second story to the present administration building being built by T. V. Lloyd Contractors, Sheffield, was received by the Florence Herald Saturday in a wire from Senators Lister Hill, John Sparkman and Congressman Bob Jones in Washington.

The wire stated that "the Muscle Shoals Airport has been authorized to participate in 1961 Federal aid airport program. $46,250 has been allocated by Federal Aviation Agency to construct FAA quarters and to modify the existing facility to accommodate government space."

W. F. (Bill) Baker, Executive Director of the Shoals Aeronautics Authority, commented that a one-story building had been built and that the FAA had then requested more space. "When this was done we told them we would add a second story if Federal assistance could be given."

A separate contract will have to be let by the Muscle Shoals Aeronautics Authority for the second story addition since the amount involved in the Federal money is over $25,000. Plans and specifications will first be drawn by Barr and Tune, architects of Florence. "We still must have plans and specifications drawn and get them approved," Baker continued.

Mrs. Fred Knight has returned from a week's stay with Mrs. Fred Hunt in Decatur.

Federal Grant of $68,205.00 has been received by Florence State College to finance an experiment in the eradication of adult illiteracy through the use of television over the state education television network. This television will be supplemented by supervised group viewing and the related use of project supplied materials for instruction.

Alabama is among the states having an excessively high incidence of functional illiteracy. Dr. E. B. Norton, President of Florence State, stated, "Illiteracy weakens our national defense, retards the social, economic and cultural development of many of our states and contributes to unemployment, poverty, disease, and crime."

"The extent of functional illiteracy is much greater than is realized by most of our literate citizenry. The 1960 census reported four million native born whites and three million native born Negroes who were functionally illiterate in addition to 3 million foreign born residing in the U.S. who could not read or write English."

The purpose of the project at Florence State is to find the best and most effective way to use the facilities of the Alabama Educational Television Network and other service resources available in making a frontal attack upon adult illiteracy in Alabama.

The Project Director is Miss Nell Pearson, a native of Florence. She attended Florence State College and received the B.S. and M.A. degrees at Peabody College. Miss Pearson has had additional training at Syracuse University in New York.

She will train six area supervisors in an intensive workshop arrangement at the college. Each supervisor will assume responsibility for a certain area in North Alabama. The Project Director and the area supervisor, assisted by a local committee from each county, will select instruction centers for each county; arrange for suitable group meeting places; recruit and train volunteer teachers for each center; set up appropriate means of recruiting the illiterates.

Miss Elizabeth Dunn will supervise the work in Lauderdale and Colbert counties.

The television time and facilities will be provided as a contribution from the Alabama Education Television Network. Physical facilities will be provided by Florence State College and school and community agencies throughout the area involved.

Channels 2, 7, and 10 will broadcast these programs beginning September 28 for a period of eight months. They will be seen on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 8:30 a.m. until 9:00 a.m. Subscribers to the Muscle Shoals TV Cable will receive the lessons on channel 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Vinea and children, Vanessa, Valerie and Richard of Grosse Pointe, Mich., arrived Sunday for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Norwood Boston, and Chester Boston, Jr., at their Florence home. Mr. Vinea returned after a two-days' stay, leaving his family for a longer visit.

Truman Charges 'Rigging'; Denied By Paul Butler

The knotty problem of what to promise the farmers of the nation is plaguing the writers of the Democratic Party platform prior to the National Democratic Convention next week in Los Angeles. In fact farm-aid in some form was first on the agenda of the resolutions committee meeting nearly a week in advance of the all important event which will see the Democrats name a candidate for president of the United States.

The committee heard pleas that the party abandon its position of high price supports and its backing of federal crop controls. President of the American Farm Bureau Federation Charles E. Shuman, next on hand as well as a number of Democratic leaders to add their protests to these two clauses contained in previous party platforms but which later split the Democrats in Congress. That body refused government price guarantees for wheat above those provided by the Eisenhower Administration.

Later this week the drafting committee of the platform will hear public recommendations for other issues including the ticklish civil rights question that has badly upset previous Democratic conventions.

Strong planks however, were promised on such issues as foreign policy, medical care for the aged, federal aid to education, a boost in the minimum wage level, federal assistance for housing and aid to depressed industrial areas.

It was definite that the platform committee faces considerable embarrassment on the farm price support problem with vociferous voices on both sides.

In fact Gov. Herschel Loveless of Iowa heads a group which has gone on record in favor of re-establishing wartime price and crop controls. Two former senators of agriculture, Claude R. Wickard and Charles F. Brannan, are members of the group. However, among the platform writers are Clinton P. Anderson, himself a former secretary of agriculture, and Sen. Spessard L. Holland of Florida, who are vigorously opposed to high supports.

Presidential hopefuls Sen. John F. Kennedy of Mass., Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, favor high supports.

Former President Harry S. Truman, caused no little stir in party ranks by asserting that the Convention has been rigged in favor of Sen. John Kennedy. Mr. Truman's statement was denied immediately by National Chairman Paul Butler.

As in other issues the party is split with Sen. Lyndon Johnson agreeing with Truman and Gov. Lester Collins of Florence, the convention's permanent chairman denying the charge. Johnson in a radio-TV interview on Sunday said that Gov. Collins was active in behalf of Kennedy.

We Shall Soon Know The Answer

What are we going to do about Cuba? We mishandled this situation from the start and now we are faced with a situation that is without parallel in the Western Hemisphere. In other words we are reaping what we have sowed.

It is well to have patience and forbearance toward a weaker neighbor but our policy of non-interference is quite another thing. Castro's revolution was backed by the Cuban people, friends of the United States, and people who have looked on this country as a protector since we liberated their nation from Spain at the turn of the century.

It was not their fault that Castro got out of hand but this country could have acted and should have. The point has been reached now, with Castro's seizure of American property, where the U. S. can no longer sit idly by. Castro's method is banditry. He has neither the money nor the inclination to make reparations for his seizure of the $20 million Texaco refinery.

Besides Castro, on good authority, is aided and abetted by communists who have infiltrated all echelons of Castro's so-called government.

Time is running out. It avails little to hold the line against communism elsewhere in the world and then let them camp on our very doorstep. We are faced with a good example of what the Soviets mean when they say "we will conquer the world without going to war."

Can Mr. Eisenhower stop the red tide?
We shall soon know.

Men Of The Forgotten War

It seems strange that we should speak of World War I as "The Forgotten War" as it ended in glorious victory only 42 years ago, but the records show and memories prove that the war to end all wars today is the least recalled of all in which the United States fought.

When these men of service in 1917-1918 returned home after being hailed as conquerors of the Kaiser and his cohorts, they began to set the stage to see that never again should this nation be so unprepared for war and, through strength of arms and trained men, make it certain that never again should the young men of this country be forced to bear the scars of battle. But this was not to be. Two additional wars came our way.

However, when the sons of these forgotten men donned battle fatigues to fight behind the hedgerows of Europe and in the fox holes of the South Pacific, preparation for their return was begun by those who well remembered the "no job" signs and breadlines that too many faced after World War I. Legislation was sought and secured by the men of the forgotten war that would give the returning veteran the protection of his home and livelihood that he rightly deserved. The G.I. Bill of Rights came into being. This legislation made it possible for the veterans of World War I to receive certain benefits that prevented breadlines and "no job" signs to greet him as they attempted to adjust themselves to civilian life they left. The pathway was an easier one; the jolt of "you just did your duty" was not theirs. A finer education, better homes and job opportunities opened to the returning veteran — all because the men of the forgotten war had remembered their experiences.

Belgian Congo Given Freedom

King Baudouin last Thursday handed over the rich Belgian Congo to 13 million Africans with a warning to the new nation to beware of greedy foreign powers. As he proclaimed the independent Republic of Congo, ending 80 years of Belgian rule, he said, "Your task is immense and you are the first to realize it."

Fifty Star Flag Displayed

America's new 50-star flag flew for the first time Monday as Hawaii's star proudly joined those of her 49 sister states. This marked the second time in a row that a new flag rose for the first time. Last July 4 brought the inauguration of the 49-star flag for Alaska. The nation's new flag, with five rows of six stars and four rows of five stars, was first unfurled at 12:01 a.m. over Ft. McHenry in Baltimore, where Frances Scott Key was inspired during a long night battle to write the Star-Spangled Banner.

Fourth Week-End Claims 432

A total of 432 traffic deaths set a high mark for a three-day celebration of Independence Day, as fatalities hit and held an average of five an hour which surpassed the previous record of 407, set in 1955. The National Safety Council stated Tuesday: "Public officials and all others dedicated to safer highways must act and act fast in an increased effort to reduce this highway slaughter — not only on holidays but everyday."

Castro Ready Seize Property

Fidel Castro's cabinet ministers met until the early hours Tuesday, and it is believed that they drafted orders for seizure of American property to be issued when President Eisenhower cuts the Cuban sugar quota. Eisenhower was expected to act promptly on the authority Congress gave him to suspend all or part of the still unfilled 1960 quota of Cuban sugar imported into the U.S. In retaliation, Castro has threatened to take over the property of Americans "down to the nails of their shoes."

Goldfine To Serve Sentence

Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine, 69, Tuesday was ordered to begin serving immediately a three-month jail sentence for contempt of court. Miss Mildred Paperman, 42, his secretary, also was ordered to begin serving a 10-day sentence for a similar offense. Both were refused complete reduction or suspension of sentence by U.S. District Judge Charles E. Personality Sketches

By FRANCES HALL

WILLIAM I. COLLIER

"There are two accomplishments in my lifetime of which I feel justifiably proud. One of these is that during my administration as mayor of Florence, I was able to affect the refinancing of the city's debt which had been forced on us by the rapid growth of Florence as a result of World War I activities. The second is the winning of the grand championship by my entry, a hen, in the Blue Andalusian Show in Madison Square Garden, New York," said William I. Collier, former mayor of Florence.

Mr. Collier said that an additional pride rests in the fact that he has been a member of the State Democratic Executive Committee for the past 23 years, which has given him an interesting insight and participation in state and national political affairs.

William Ingram Collier was born July 27, 1880, in Cornersville, Tennessee, the son of the Rev. William J. and Eliza Tucker Collier.

He attended a special elementary class at Martin College, Pulaski; Abernathy Brothers Boys School, Pulaski, and Howard Institute in Mt. Pleasant. He received a baseball scholarship at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, but stayed in school but a short time, leaving to enter the business world.

In 1900, Mr. Collier became connected with the Farmers and Merchants Bank in Columbia and remained with this institution for nine years. He came to Florence in 1909 as purchasing agent for the Florence Wagon Works, remaining with that firm until 1932, at which time he received an appointment from Governor B. M. Miller to the position of Chief of the Corporation Franchise Tax Department of the State Tax Commission, with offices in Montgomery. He served in this capacity throughout Governor Miller's term and continued in this office during Governor Bibb Graves' term until the middle of 1935, when he returned to Florence.

Mr. Collier was married to the former Florence Cole, of Florence, on September 9, 1911. They have two children, William James Collier, a civil engineer, and Mrs. Walter Y. Roberts, the former Martha Collier, of Chester, Illinois. There are four grandchildren; William Ingram and Barbara Collier, and Cole and Anne Roberts. Mrs. Collier died December 30, 1954.

Shortly after Mr. Collier severed his connection with the State Tax Commission in 1935, he was elected mayor of the City of Florence and served two terms. As mayor, he aided in completing the financial arrangements that brought Florence out of bankruptcy. The contract arrangements with the bond holders placed the city on a sound financial structure which aided in the city's steady growth.

In 1942, Mr. Collier became connected with Reynolds Alloys, remaining there until April, 1946, when he became office manager and treasurer of Huston & Callahan, Contractors, the position he holds today.

Mr. Collier has been a member of the Methodist Church for 71 years. He was one of the organizers of the Community Chest and served on its Executive Committee for many years. He is a long-time member of the Chamber of Commerce. During his term as mayor, he served as president of the Eliza Coffee Memorial Hospital Board of Governors for six years. During this time the hospital was located on its present site and the first units were constructed.

Mr. Collier has been interested in politics for many years. He has been a member of the Democratic Executive Committee from the

MRS. HERMAN KNOX LONGSHORE, JR.

Mr. and Mrs. Knox Longshore Honeymooning in Smokies

Marked by a late afternoon ceremony in the First Baptist Church of Florence, Virginia Ann Hall became the bride of Herman Knox Longshore, Jr., on Thursday, June thirtieth.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Dewey Washington Hall and the late Mr. Hall, and Mr. Longshore's parents are Judge Herman Knox Longshore and the late Mrs. Longshore, all of Florence.

A program of nuptial selections was presented by Mrs. L. S. Doster, organist, and Floyd C. McClure, vocal soloist, and vows were read by Claude E. Lewis, minister of the church of Christ.

Myriad candles cast a soft glow from the altar background and companion arrangements of white gladioli, palest pink stock and blue-tinted queen Anne's lace flanked the white satin-covered prayer bench where the bride and groom knelt to receive the minister's blessing. In the foreground sprays of Oregon huckleberry etched the chancel rail and a single taper nestled with greenery beneath each stained-glass window.

Sentiment prevailed throughout the wedding plans and in the bride's choice of a wedding gown. Given in marriage by her older brother, Max W. Hall, she wore the dress of Chantilly lace and antique silk previously worn by his bride of five years ago and her bridegroom's sister, the former Miriam Longshore. The cameo neckline and long tapering sleeves of the fitted bodice are edged with pleated ruching, and alternate panels of lace and silk fashion the voluminous skirt which sweeps into a chapel train. A tiara of matching lace re-embroidered with pearls is the headdress to which the fingertip veil is caught, and she carried a single white orchid amid clusters of white gladioli.

The bride's attendants included Mrs. Wayne Green and Miss Letha Smith, honor matron and maid, and Mrs. Max Hall, Miss Susan Posey, Mrs. Carl Stewart and Mrs. Vernon Austin, bridesmaids. Nancy Dugger, cousin of the bride from California, and Brad Hall, her six-year-old brother, were flower girl and ringbearer and her cousins, Paula Harrison and Pat Partin, served as candlelighters.

Full-skirted frocks of chiffon over taffeta, designed with satin bows at the empire waistline, were worn by the bride's attendants. Mrs. Green and Miss Smith, in pink; the maids, in blue. Matching circlets with tiny veils were their headresses and of pink and blue carnations and tinted Queen Anne's lace were their bouquets.

Judge Longshore was his son's best man and ushers were Dick Longshore of Atlanta, Melvin Posey, Wayne Green, Carl Stewart and Richard Rhodes.

Mrs. Hall, mother of the bride, wore a blue linen sheath with matching lace appliques and accessories and Mrs. J. L. Hauerwas, aunt of the bridegroom, was attired in blue lace. Their identical corsages were of white gladioli.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. Charles Harrison, Mrs. Clarence Posey, Mrs. Sam Partin, Mrs. Joe Dugger, Mrs. Gladys Britnell, Mrs. Beryl Vandiver, Mrs. J. E. McDonald, Miss Carolyn Beavers and Miss Billy Faye Edwards.

For travel, the bride wore a tailored costume of white cotton, small hat and accessories of blue. After a honeymoon in the Smokies, they are expected to return today and will be at home at 316 Wildwood Avenue.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dugger, Al, Nancy and Paul of El Centro, Cal.; Mrs. Joseph Daniel of St. Louis; Mrs. Jerry Esslinger of Macon, Ga.; Dick Longshore of Atlanta; Mrs. Patrick Partin and son, Pat, of Downers Grove, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hauerwas, Decatur; Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Longshore, Sara and Rebecca, Birmingham.

Following the rehearsal of wedding plans on the evening preceding the nuptial event, the bridegroom's sister and his aunt, Mrs. Max Hall and Mrs. Clarence Posey, with Mr. Hall and Mr. Posey, entertained members of the bridal party, family members and out-of-town guests at the Posey home, 1137 Jackson Road.

The bride-elect was attired in a black-and-white checked trossau frock with a square-necked, princess-styled overdress of white organdie. A shoulder corsage of white carnations was an additional complement.

White and pink arrangements of roses and carnations, colors later repeated in the wedding appointments, fashioned the flower-laden background.

Guests numbered forty.

Miss Myra Perkins Tells Nuptial Plans

When Myra Evelyn Perkins becomes the bride of Billy Aaron Smith, Jr., on Sunday afternoon, July seventeenth, Pleasant Hill Methodist Church will be the setting and the four o'clock vows will be read by the Reverend A. G. Finch. G. Stanley Perkins will give his daughter in marriage.

A musical program will be presented by Mrs. Lon E. Harbin, organist, and Miss Brenda Hairrell, vocalist.

Altar candles will be lighted by Sandra Smith and George Perkins, sister and brother of the bride and groom-elect.

Honor maid and matron will be Miss Elaine Perkins and Mrs. Shannon Phillips, sisters of the bride-to-be, and Faye Smith, twin sister of the bridegroom, and Elaine Howard will serve as bridesmaids. Vicki Glasscock, the bride's cousin, is to be flower girl.

Mr. Smith, Sr., will be his son's best man and ushers will be Shannon Phillips, James Yarber, Ronny Brown and Lawrence Smith.

The bride's parents will be reception hosts in the church parlors following the ceremony.

Anna Louise Mecke Bride of Kentuckian

Following their Saturday, July second, marriage in St. Michael's Catholic Church in St. Florian, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Gene Thomas are honeymooning at Gatlinburg and other points of interest in the Smokies.

The bride is the former Anna Louise Mecke of Florence and Louisville, Kentucky, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Louis Mecke of Bailey Springs Road, Florence, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Marvin L. Thomas of Bakerton, Kentucky.

Standards of all-white blossoms in graduated heights flanked St. Michael's altar steps, and from the back ground, nuptial tapers in seven-branched candelabra lighted the wedding scene.

Father Peter Diesel, O.S.B., pastor of the church, read the four o'clock vows following a program of musical selections presented by Mrs. William J. Meyer, organist.

William T. Mecke gave his sister in marriage. Her gown of lace over a close-fitting bodice with rounded neckline and brief sleeves. The full-gathered skirt, fashioned of two tiers of lace, was patio length. Her shoulder-length veil of double illusion cascaded from a halo of pearls and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Dorothy Mecke, now also of Louisville, was the sister's only attendant. Her frock of Dresden blue lace was detailed with bouffant, street length skirt and her flowers were a nosegay of pink carnations.

Michael Mecke served as best man for his sister's bridegroom and James Mecke, also a brother of the bride, was candlelighter and usher.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception which followed at the family home, Mrs. Mecke wore pearl grey lace over pink taffeta, a small white lace hat and white carnation corsage.

The bride's table, lighted with white and green tapers, was covered with an embroidered cloth of white linen and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. Mrs. Michael Mecke and Miss Judith Ann Reynolds, sister-in-law and cousin of the bride, respectively, assisted with the courtesies.

After this week, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will be at home at 1618 Algonquin Parkway, Louisville, Kentucky.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding included Donald Thornby, cousin of the bridegroom, Edward Sapp and Everett G. Whitten, all of Louisville.

Miss Harriet Sue Lovelace
Weds David Vernard Rhodes

Solemnized in North Wood Methodist Church, Florence, on Friday, July first, was the early evening marriage of Harriet Sue Lovelace and David Vernard Rhodes, with the Reverend E. M. Barnes, minister of the church, and the Reverend Arthur Finch, minister of Pleasant Hill Methodist Church, reading the seven o'clock vows.

Sprays of ivy etched the chancel and choir rails and against a background of greenery great arrangements of white blossoms with touches of pink detailed the candlelighted altar. Candelighted, too, and marked by greenery, were the church's beautiful stained glass windows.

Appropriate selections were presented by Jose P. Boue, organist, and Miss Kathleen Hall and Carol Horton, vocalists.

Wearing a gown of lace and tulle, the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Edward Franklin Lovelace. The molded bodice of lace was detailed with a rounded neckline and brief sleeves edged in scalloped design, and the cloud-ful, floor-length skirt was lace-trimmed and fashioned of layers of bridal tulle.

A jeweled crown held her full circular veil and with her white satin prayer book she carried a cluster of white carnations.

Mrs. A. J. Wallace was her sister's honor attendant and Mrs. James Davis, Mrs. Edward Franklin Lovelace, Miss Charlene Williams and Miss Carolyn Williams were bridesmaids and 'maids. From the pale blue frocks worn by candelighters Eleanor and Sue Lovelace, cousins of the bride, the shade deepened by degrees for the other attendants. Their small feathered hats matched their dresses and their colonial bouquets were of pink carnations and frills of blue tulle. To serve as flower girl, little Nan Wallace wore ruffled pink organdie.

Kenneth Rhodes, nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

Mr. Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hulet Hannah Rhodes, asked his father to be his best man and ushers were Harold Rhodes and William Rhodes, his brothers, Jimmy Fowler and Billy Freeman.

Mrs. Vernon Dowdy Lovelace chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of orchid lace and Mrs. Rhodes, mother of the bridegroom, was in blue. A white orchid corsage marked the shoulder of each.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bride's mother was reception hostess at "The Forks," ante-bellum home of the bride's uncle, Rufus B. Dowdy. Assisting in serving the wedding guests were Mrs. Harold Rhodes, Mrs. William

Harvey-Newton Vows Said In Center Star Church

In a twilight ceremony on Saturday evening, July second, Mary Frances Harvey exchanged nuptial vows with James Marcus Newton, son of Mrs. Virgie Newton of Sheffield, in the Center Star church of Christ.

Mrs. James E. Russell, sister of the bride, was her honor attendant and Brenda Joyce Harvey and Kay Sockwell were bridesmaids. Their pink organdie frocks were designed with surplice-front bodices, rounded necklines and back-bows with hemline streamers. They wore bandeaux of matching material and carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Mr. Harvey gave his daughter in marriage. A small collar and long tapering sleeves detailed the snug-fitting bodice of her Chantilly lace and tulle wedding gown and the floor-length skirt swept to great fullness. A pearl studded headpiece held her elbow-length veil of illusion and a single white orchid marked her bride's Bible.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Harvey chose a turquoise lace gown and a carnation corsage.

For their wedding trip, Mrs. Newton wore a blue cotton sheath with white eyelet trim and white accessories. Upon their return, the couple will be at home temporarily in Tusculum.

Dr. Mrs. Favenset Fete Out-Of-Towners On Fourth

Arriving Sunday from their home in Anderson, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. William Stalnaker are guests of his sister and mother, Dr. Marie Stalnaker and Mrs. S. A. Stalnaker, at their home on West Mobile Street.

Among those extending a warm welcome to the out-of-town visitors are Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Favenset who were hosts on the evening of the Fourth at their new home in Northwood Hills.

Traditional holiday fare, including "Alabama barbecue," was served to an informal gathering on the delightful patio.

Sightseeing and making new friends are filling the days for these two visitors who return to Indiana at week's-end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Flowers were in Ozark recently to attend a family wedding, stopping enroute home for an overnight stay with their son and his bride of late May, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Flowers of Andalusia.

Florence Country Club's Ladies Assn... headed by efficient Anna Wilkes the executive group includes... Elizabeth Price as vice president... Lucile Darby as secretary... Dorothy McRae as treasurer... members of the board and chairman are... Beverly Price... golfing... Geraldine Copeland... bridge... June Coleman... membership...

SPEAKING OF MEMBERSHIP membership group met last week to discuss ways and means... seems that the ladies were overwhelmingly outnumbered... we'd like to hear more about this gathering... more indeed about progress at Turtle Point...

OUR BEST BIRTHDAY wishes to one of our special favorites... Pete Kilgore... whose lovely Hickory Hills home was the fun-time gathering place of an en masse group of Marian-and-Pete's friends on the eve of his recent milestone-passing... A SURPRISE affair from beginning to end was the simply delectable brought-in dinner... and the tremendous pink-boxed birthday gift... the latter scented with seeds of Chanel No. 5... Gently slipping knots from wide pink satin ribbons... Pete lifted the boxtop to glimpse therein a small furry animal... beautiful (so we've been told) right down to the white streaks on its back and its big bushy tail...

Commonly known by its five letter name... it's known by intimates as "Sweet Pete"...

MANY... MANY CONGRATULATIONS to the Ben (Ann Bradshaw) Craigs... Not one but two... precious pink bundles... tho' they do have a problem... we hear... "But we only have one name" wailed Ben... and to the John Robert (Jimmie Nell) Olivers... on the arrival of that big boy, their first... and naming should be no problem...

AND NOW... CHERIO and goodby... until more news comes through The Spillway...

Mrs. Glasscock's Tea Honors Longtime Neighbor

Prior to her leaving for Cloverdale and her neighbors of the last sixteen years, Mrs. James Montgomery was complimented last mid-week by Mrs. Noel Glasscock with a tea-time courtesy.

An heirloom lace cloth covered the candlelighted party table where punch was dispensed from a crystal bowl encircled with magnolia blossoms and foliage.

Assisting in serving the twenty-odd neighbors present were Mrs. Harley Kirby, Mrs. Billy Montgomery and Miss Linda Belue, a bride-elect of the late Summer.

Mrs. Montgomery will make her home on Hayes Street in Florence.

Mr. and Mrs. George Megar, Spanish Oaks Court, and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Driskell and children, Ellen and Owen, of Palo Alto, Cal., spent the holidays with the Charles Hales in Montague, Tenn. The Driskells are now continuing their visit with Colonel and Mrs. Haley while Mrs. Owen Albright returned with the Megars to Florence to be a guest in their home.

Miss Annette Koonce will arrive Saturday from Dallas, Tex., where she accepted Summer employment, to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Koonce, until after her forthcoming wedding.

Coates is now in city jail, pending issuing of warrants by city police. Carter said that he would be charged with burglary, grand larceny and receiving and concealing stolen goods in some of the cases and with simple burglary in others.

Also jailed on charges of receiving and concealing stolen goods in connection with the three pistols stolen from Anderson's Hardware was Danny Ray Boyd, 16, also of Florence, who apparently was not involved in the entry of the building, but had knowledge that the weapons were stolen.

It was also reported by Carter that Kenneth Faulker, a 19-year-old Florentine, has been arrested on three charges of grand larceny. He was first picked up in connection with the theft of a check belonging to a nurse at the Florence Clinic and was later charged with stealing two cartons of cigarettes at Kroger's in Florence. The latest charge was in connection with taking $20 in cosmetics from Florence Walgreen Drug Store Saturday.

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER — STAYS TOGETHER"

Honeymoon Afternoon

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Psalms	145	7-12
Monday	Deuteronomy	32	7-12
Tuesday	Psalms	77	11-15
Wednesday	11 Timothy	1	8-7
Thursday	John	4	22-24
Friday	Revelation	22	14
Saturday	Psalms	95	6-7

Memories are precious things. I remember often the afternoon on our honeymoon when Jim and I visited these old cliff dwellings in Colorado. Later, we stopped at a mission church built of pink adobe. It was dark and cool inside, and you felt that many prayers had been said here, and many answered.

I thought of our own church back home — white frame, in a green New England valley. I was reared in that church, I was married in it, and you'll find Jim and me at worship in it each Sunday. It's a vital part of our life.

Unless you have a church that is vital to your life, you are missing something irreplaceable. Don't wait any longer. Select the Church of your choice — and start attending it this Sunday.

FARM FACTS

From FARM BUREAU

Farmers annually take six and a half million tons of finished steel in the form of tractors, trucks, cars, building materials, and many other essential items. This represents nearly half as much steel as the total automotive industry uses.

If the farm output of 1958 has been produced with 1939 farming methods, it would have cost about $7 billion more in land, labor, capital, and other resources.

Since the late 1930's, the number of people on farms has declined by one-third and actual number of farms by one-fourth. Yet the goods and services bought by farmers cost more than $40 billion, or about four times the
