Why Bother To Clean It Up?

Because state regulatory bodies have not seen fit to police the alleged sport of boxing the taxpayers are now paying to have Congress take time out to look into the matter of fixed fights and gangsterism. Some boxers have already admitted to throwing fights and of being owned body and soul by unsavory syndicates who not only fix fights but have absolute control of the boxer's purse strings.

Until recently there has been little talk because of the threat of bodily harm to witnesses if they squawked. Everybody knew the racket was tainted and corrupt from start to finish but until Jake LaMotta and a few other tough boys decided to bring it into the open, it had been hard to prove.

What can be done to clean up the racket remains to be seen but after all why clean up something that is already a sorry spectacle of a sport at best? Why not abolish it altogether? The idea of two men being matched to see who can injure the other the most is repugnant and about as unrefined as a so-called sport could be. Even most bullfights today have become a game of skill and seldom end with the bull being killed.

Many boxers have died from blows received in the ring and many more are blind or "punch drunk" from the heavy blows to the head over the years. Scarcely any boxer has escaped injury of one kind or another.

So, we repeat... why not abolish boxing and have done with the mobs that thrive on it?

Why Not Slow Down?

A very dramatic thing happened the other day... an electric shaver beat a razor in shaving a man's face by 40 seconds. This astounding fact was advertised on television and the man reading the commercial said the electric shaver's shave was even better than that achieved by the razor. Isn't that something? Forty whole seconds faster. Why all the hurrah over 40 seconds difference in shaving time? Why all the speed in doing something that should be one of man's most relaxing moments? Personally we can shave electrically in half the time it takes with the old-fashioned razor but our beard feels like it has been filed off and not shaved and if we don't shave again in the evening we have that five o'clock shadow.

Everything today emphasizes speed. In this age of hypertension, heart disease and cancer, we cry for more and more speed in everything we do from shaving to jet plane travel. Maybe we're doing more business in a shorter time but we are shortening our lives and our enjoyment of living by not taking time out for relaxation.

Oh, we relax alright. We jump in our cars or hop a plane and in a few short hours we are at the seashore or the mountains where we get burned to a crisp in getting a fast tan to show the folks back home. We've spent so much energy having a vacation and we've rushed so from place to place, it takes another week to rest up after we get back from our so-called vacation.

Speed, speed, speed. The National Safety Council's experts can now hit the number of highway fatalities on a given holiday period almost on the nose. This Fourth of July will be no exception because people have not learned to abate their speed and take it easy. Even the little foreign cars that have flooded the American market for the past couple of years are now stressing speed. The manufacturers and their advertising agencies know that speed is demanded and that speed is a selling point. Some of the little jobs with little more wheel-base than a go-cart advertise cruising speeds of 70 and 80 miles an hour. And they will do it but again we ask... why?

Where are we going that we have to risk our lives and the lives of others? Usually we could take twice or three times as long to get to our destination and still be there in plenty of time.

Why not slow down and live... longer?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WORLD WAR ONE VETERANS SEEK RECOGNITION

Editor: While the Veterans of World War I of the U.S.A. were gratified by the fact that at last the House Committee on Veterans Affairs had agreed to recognize the organization and permit its Representative to offer its views to the Committee, and while the Chairman of the Committee, Representative Olin E. Teague of Texas, was quite gracious in his reception of the men who represented this comparatively new group of Veterans of the First World War, and while the thought was offered by Chairman Teague that there might be some modification of the present pension law and the one which goes into effect on July of this year, he did state that he still believed in the "needs" provision as far as pensions for Veterans were concerned.

This "needs" clause has been discussed many times, and at great length. It has been shown how high ranking Officers of the Armed Service are permitted to quit their military jobs after a certain amount of service and go out into the civilian world and accept positions from private industry paying anywhere from $10,000 to $100,000 a year and still receive their retirement pay because of their military service.

It has even been suggested that many of these retired officers have never fired a shot in anger against an enemy of the United States, yet their length of service or their acquisition of some disability or other permits them to retire with pay and go on to secure lucrative employment in civil life. It has also been stated there was no objection to this because it was felt that many of these high ranking, retired Officers had particular qualifications which they had acquired during their service with the Government, which entitled them to go out and earn anything that civilian employers thought they were worth.

We have learned that the highest Social Security payment at this time is $119 a month. This amounts to $1428 a year and thus a single World War I Veteran can be deprived of this war I pension, no matter how badly handicapped he may be for the sum of $28.00. Certainly, there is no justice in such a provision of the pension law.

World War I Veterans can learn a great deal more of the proposed Legislation by attending the meetings held on the 4th Friday night of each month at The American Legion Home in Florence.

Gambling Casino Destroyed By Fire

Fire of undetermined origin Friday destroyed the casino-restaurant of the multi-million-dollar El Rancho Vegas Hotel on the Las Vegas Strip. The fire apparently started in a kitchen about 4:30 a.m. chasing 25 hotel and casino officials, show people and patrons out of the building. No one was injured, although a telephone switchboard operator became momentarily trapped when flames sealed off the telephone exchange office of the casino.

Population Rockets In U.S.

The Census Bureau has reported that a record of 28 million in the last decade has rocketed the United States population to 179½ million. The figure was released last Thursday and was based on actual count of 177,733,190 persons and on estimates of those still to be listed. Census officials credited the big increase during the last decade to a climbing birth rate and a continued low death rate.

Scottsboro Couple Rescued

A Scottsboro couple's car Sunday plunged into the Tennessee River near Decatur and a passenger in a Greyhound bus following the auto leaped from the bus and pulled the two people to safety. Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Brandon, of Rt. 1, Scottsboro, were enroute to Courtland when the right front tire blew out. Mrs. Brandon, driver of the car, lost control and the car ran off the embankment into the water and sank to the bottom, a witness reported. Ken Bueller, 24, of Broadview, Ill., passenger on the bus rushed forward and dived into the water, first pulling Mrs. Brandon to safety and then going back for Mr. Brandon.

An agent for the U.S. Civil Service Commission said Monday he has almost finished the Montgomery phase of his investigation involving Highway Director Sam Engelhardt. Investigator John W. Earman, Jr., is seeking to determine whether Engelhardt's other duties as state Democratic chairman violate the Hatch Act.

Gadsden Robbery Probed

The FBI, state and local police conducted a search through Gadsden Monday in an effort to find new evidence in the $16,000 holdup of the First National Bank. The robbery occurred during an afternoon rush hour last Friday but there were no witnesses other than Mrs. Peggy Sheffield, drive-in teller who handed over the cash. She reported that a middle-aged man walked to the front of her cage as she completed serving the last customer. He brandished a revolver and threatened her, she said.

Teen-Age Boys Rescued

Buddy Francis, 16 and Casey Kelly, 14, two tired and hungry teenage boys of Mobile, were rescued early Monday after they drifted helplessly in Mobile Bay for about five hours in their disabled 14-foot outboard. The boys were picked up by a Coast Guard Patrol Boat at a channel beacon which they had tied up to after a high wave overturned their gasoline tank. The boys left Dog River but rough water ruined their gasoline and they were unable to row to shore against the swift current.

Burglars Loot Dothan Bakery

Police searched without clues Monday for a gang of burglars who robbed the Colonial Baking Company in Dothan of $18,973. Police Chief Herbert Deal said the thieves entered the firm's office sometime Sunday night, broke open one safe and hauled off another. Colonial Sales Manager Max Hilson discovered the theft early Monday, one of the largest in the area in the past nine years.

MISS KATHERINE FORNEY

"The most wonderful contribution that Miss Forney is making to the lives of 'her children' is bringing them to the realization that their handicaps are merely something they will live with but, at the same time, are a challenge to their will for improvement. When these facts are realized, they immediately contribute their efforts to bringing about the goal set for them," is the remark made by a mother of a fine little boy who has been under the influence of this inspiring teacher.

Continuing, this mother said: "Just a year after my little boy was enrolled in Miss Forney's special class, he began to realize he possessed many abilities which could be steadily improved. Since then, life for all of us has been one of hope and promise. Our home today is a brighter and happier one because of Miss Forney's inspiration."

cause of Miss Forney's inspiration." Katherine Forney was born in Birmingham, the daughter of John C. and Anne Bonholzer Forney. She attended elementary and high school in Birmingham and was graduated from Florence State Normal College in 1921.

After graduation from the local college, Miss Forney taught school in the Montgomery County school system for a time and later attended Iowa State University, where she received her Bachelor and Masters degrees in home economics and nursery school instruction. She has done extensive graduate work at Wayne University, Detroit; Columbia University, New York and at Peabody College in Nashville.

Following the completion of her formal education, Miss Forney became Assistant State Supervisor of Home Economics for the state of Alabama, later being promoted to State Supervisor. Her work in Alabama was well recognized and she accepted a position with the U.S. Office of Education in Washington as a special instructor in home economics education. Later, Miss Forney became connected with the U.S. Department of Agriculture and during World War II served as a nutritionist with the Food Distribution Administration.

Miss Forney came back to Alabama on the school lunch program when it was created and was school lunch consultant for the State Department of Education of Alabama for a number of years.

Before assuming her present position as Supervising Teacher at Florence State, in 1953, Miss Forney was with the Charlanne School for Spastics in Birmingham. She has been at the Wood Avenue House the past six years where she has been teaching groups of special children. This special class, a part of Kilby Training School, is sponsored by the Muscle Shoals Service League and the college.

Miss Forney is a member of the Alabama and National Education Association and the Alabama Vocational Association, of which she is past president. She is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta social fraternity and of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary educational fraternity. She is an active member of the First Presbyterian Church and the Florence Current Events Club.

Though active as she is in her work and in the various organizations of which she is a member, Miss Forney is the author of "Up and Away," published in 1957 by Exposition Press, which has been widely acclaimed. She is presently engaged in writing another book based on her interesting work. It would be impossible to convey in type the love and affection lavished on Miss Forney by her little pupils. It is equally as hard to adequately express the gratitude of the parents who are so fortunate to be able to place their children in this unusual teacher's care.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Long and children, Martha Frances and Fred, of Birmingham were week end guests of Mrs. Long's sister, Mrs. Cephas Smith, and Mr. Smith at Bailey Springs.

Gail Wynne's Auten Weds in Church Scene

Married by an afternoon ceremony in the First Baptist Church of Tusculum, Miss Gail Wynne Auten exchanged nuptial vows with George Ernest Stovall, III, on Sunday, June fifth.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. LaMae Auten of Sherrod Avenue, Florence, and Louie E. Auten of Killen and Mr. and Mrs. George E. Stovall, Jr., also of Killen.

Arrangements of white gladioli were massed about the candle-lighted altar where the Reverend G. Norman Hay, minister of the church, read the four o'clock service.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Robert Trent, organist, and Mrs. Hay, vocalist.

Wearing a gown fashioned of lace and tulle, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Long sleeves tapered to hand points in the basque bodice and the very full skirt, detailed with a peplum of lace, was floor-length and worn over period hoops. A single strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom, was her only ornament. A pearl-encrusted cap held her veil of silk illusion and with her white Bible she carried a single white orchid.

Pink embossed taffeta with an illusion headdress of matching color was the attire of Miss Martha McCafferty, the bride's honor attendant, and pink and white lilies fashioned her bouquet. Pamela Taylor and Charlotte Redding, candlelighters, wore blue with bandeaux of nylon and net.

Harold Gene Peck, Killen, served as best man and ushers were David Stovall, the bridegroom's brother, Jesse Dison and W. J. Thurman.

Mrs. Auten, mother of the bride, wore a pink eyelet sheath and Mrs. Stovall chose a blue ensemble. A corsage of white carnations was pinned at the shoulder of each. Party Whirl Continues For Miss Jeanette Peery

An almost constant social round is filling the pre-nuptial days for Jeanette Peery whose marriage to Pete Hugh Smith will be an event of tomorrow.

Miss Mary Norris' courtesy to the bride-elect was a dessert-bridge at The Town Club to which she invited a dozen friends on Tuesday, June fourteenth.

Included were Miss Toby Delony, Mrs. Bruce Bobo, Mrs. Gene Harris, Miss Lois Lumpkin, Miss Brenda Sailors, Mrs. Dexter Freeman, Miss Janet Jensen, Miss Patricia Cunningham, Miss Carol Patton, Miss Jordan Hairston and Miss Marilyn McClure.

Hostess en absentia was Miss Suzanne Johnson, a student this Summer at Ole Miss., but whose name was nevertheless included with that of her mother, Mrs. Lloyd Johnson, in the teatime invitation to thirty-five members of the college set bid to the Johnson home on Riverview Drive last Thursday afternoon.

Miss Peery was again the feted guest and those assisting were Miss Carol Patton, Miss Susan Smith, Miss Mary Brown Hassell, Miss Janet Jensen and Miss Kristine Smith.

Refreshing dainties were served from a table covered with a pink satin cloth and centered with a silver bowl of pink roses.

Miss Vicki Hall Tells Wedding Plans

When Victoria Ann Hall becomes the bride of Herman Knox Longshore, Jr., in First Baptist Church on Thursday, June thirtieth, her brother, Max W. Hall, will give her in marriage and Claude Lewis, Church of Christ minister, will read the late afternoon vows.

The bride will be preceded down the aisle by Miss Letha Smith, maid of honor, and Mrs. Wayne Green of Tusculum, honor matron. Bridesmaids will include Mrs. Max W. Hall, Mrs. Carl Stewart, Mrs. Vernon Austin and Miss Susan Posey.

Mr. Longshore's attendants will be his father, Judge Herman Longshore, as best man and Dick Longshore of Atlanta, Dick Rhodes, Carl Stewart, Chip Posey and Wayne Green as ushers.

A wedding reception will immediately follow the five o'clock ceremony with Mrs. Dewey Washington Hall, mother of the bride, entertaining in the church parlors.

Mr. and Mrs. Thetus W. Sims have arrived from their home in Fort Thomas, Ky., for a month's vacation at their cottage on the lake. With them are their daughter, Mrs. Thomas McReynolds, Mr. McReynolds and children, Cathy and Mike of Lexington, Ky.

Here from their home in Pittsburgh, Pa., for a visit with Mrs. W. R. Killen are her daughter, Mrs. William B. Geise, Mr. Geise, and their children, Cindy, George and Billy.

Parties Continue For Bride-Elect Vicki Hall

Notable among the pre-nuptial fetes which are honoring Miss Vicki Hall, fiancée of Knox Longshore, was the "Neighborhood Party" of last Thursday morning when Mrs. Neil McRight, Mrs. Lewis Thompson, Mrs. Weaver Fuqua and Mrs. Buford Dailey entertained at the McRight home on Wildwood Avenue and included on their guest list a number of longtime friends of the bridegroom's family and future neighbors of the bride-elect.

Pink and white were the party colors, with roses reflected in the livingroom's mantel mirror and d stock and pompons in a pyramid arrangement on the refreshment table. Guests, welcomed by Mrs. Fuqua, were greeted informally by Miss Hall who wore a full-skirted frock of embroidered blue pima cotton, her mother, Mrs. D. W. Hall and her fiancée's sister, Mrs. Max Hall.

Gifts were displayed by Mrs. Thompson in the den, a recent addition to the McRight home, and Mrs. McRight and Mrs. Dailey presided at the party table.

About thirty guests called between the hours of ten and half past eleven.

A yellow and white motif was noted in the flowering background of Miss Lynn Gamble's party at the family home on Bluff Street when she honored Miss Hall recently with a bridal shower.

The hostess and honoree were joined in greeting guests by their mothers, Mrs. E. B. Gamble and Mrs. D. W. Hall.

Present were Mrs. Max Hall, Miss Susan Posey, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Nan Bayles, Miss Pat Cassimus, Miss Cathy Freeman, Miss Billie Faye Edwards, Miss Marilyn McClure, Miss Joy Richardson, Miss Lloyd Sherman, Miss Letha Smith, Miss Suzanne White, Miss Anelda White and Miss Joan Young.

At the Edwards home on Hermitage Drive, Miss Billie Faye Edwards and Miss Carolyn Beavers entertained recently with a linen shower in Miss Hall's honor.

Pink flowers were about the livingroom and pink carnations and lilies filled an epergne to center the party table.

Guests, greeted by the bride-elect who wore green linen with a cluster of white carnations at her shoulder, were Miss Edna Crow and Miss Elba Crow, Miss Nan Bayles, Miss Joan Young, Miss Joy Richardson, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Letha Smith, Miss Joanne Darby, Miss Susan Posey, Mrs. Max Hall, Mrs. Wayne Green, Mrs. Vernon Austin and the mother of the honoree, Mrs. Dewey Hall.

To Town Club Luncheon

Anticipated with pleasure are the luncheon events to which Mrs. Fred Knight periodically issues invitations, including in her courtessies varied and particularly congenial groups.

The Town Club was the setting of her most recent hospitality; last Friday noon the appointed hour. A profusion of Summertime blossoms lent added charm to the club rooms and a pyramid arrangement of roses and petunias and blue-blossomed vixen filled an oblong bowl to center the luncheon table. Places were marked for the hostess and her eighteen guests at a prettily appointed table in the Williamsburg Room.

Bible Comment:

Young Men

Rallied Around

When we speak of "The Twelve" it is always of the inner circle of disciples. Jesus gathered them to Himself and gave them the commission that was to transform them from fishermen and others of humble life into religious leaders and founders among the most notable men of all time.

We call them "The Twelve" even though one of them, Judas, turned out to be a traitor, and others lapsed into comparative obscurity. But all the 11 faithful were true followers of their Master.

One aspect of the apostles not commonly known is that, like Jesus, they were young men. John the Baptist, also, was a young man, though, for some reason, many think of him as a sort of patriarch.

One thing is certain, the early Christian movement was a youth movement. It was earnest and impassioned young men who rallied to Jesus.

What motivated them? The record does not make it clear. They were evidently drawn by the Master's personality and teaching; but it seems obvious that they anticipated His setting up an earthly kingdom in which they were to have a special part. How much their zeal was of youthful patriotism against Roman domination and how much of it was religious does not appear in the passages of the Bible.

However, the youthful Twelve soon became the leaders of the greatest revolution of all time, the revolution of an earthly kingdom, became transformed into the construction of the Kingdom not of this world.

That these youthful men, through Jesus, became the greatest founders of all time is the miracle of history.

TVA News Letter

From The Office Of Tennessee Valley Authority
Knoxville, Tenn.

TVA said today that an informal survey indicates 187 new industrial operations located in the Tennessee Valley region during calendar 1949 and that 233 existing plants announced plans for expansion.

The survey, made by TVA's Office of Power, is based on information in local and national publications, state and local development agency reports, and reports from various TVA units, but in most instances the data have not been verified by the companies involved.

Of the 420 new or expanded plants, investment of $209,594,000 was reported for 326 plants; this figure was adjusted for non-reporting to a figure of $223,277,000. Added to these investment estimates was the $199,692,000 in electric plant completed during the year by TVA and distributors of TVA power.

Reports on electric power requirements were available from 266 companies, or 63 percent, with demand totaling 168,000 kilowatts. Adjusting this figure for the plants not reporting, the estimated demands of the new or expanded plants comes to about 200,000 kilowatts.

The reported new employment amounted to 26,250 jobs; adding to this an estimate for the companies not reporting indicates a total increased employment of more than 27,000.

TVA said:

"New industrial plants in the TVA area during 1959 and expansions of existing plants reflected national economic trends. The year 1959 was a period of recovery. This recovery was especially pronounced for textiles and related products. While this area does not have the concentration of basic textiles that is characteristic of southern Atlantic coastal states, it did show up well in the finished textile products group. Apparel and finished fabric products led in the number of new plants with 25 and also expansions with 37.

"The rapid recovery in consumer durable goods was reflected in the fabricated metal products industry. The group was a second highest in number of new plants with 23 and well up among the leaders in expansion with 17. Other leaders in growth were furniture, lumber and wood products, and food.

"While these leading growth industries show a great deal of diversity, they are closely related to consumer markets and thus should provide more and more stability to the economy of this area. There was solid growth in the more basic industries during the year, but the over-all result is viewed as a contribution of the trend toward diverse activities in the high-value finished goods section."

TVA has received an Honorable Mention award in the judging of the annual Presidential Safety Award, it has been advised by the Secretary of Labor. Awards are given for the promotion of sound safety practices. Top safety awards this year went to the Department of the Army and the Atomic Energy Commission.

PIPELINERS OF ENERGY

Pipelining energy grows in importance

Demand is rising, constantly, for energy in every form... to power airplanes... run automobiles... cook meals... heat and light homes... and do the thousands of energy chores in an energy-hungry America.

Zooming during the past decade, demand for energy is expected to virtually double during the next twenty years. So far, pipelines have proved to be the most practical and economical means of transporting energy in the form of petroleum and natural gas, which now supply over half of the nation's energy requirements. Also, today, even coal is being transported by pipeline.

That's why Texas Eastern is planning far ahead as it diversifies its activities in the field of energy supply and enlarges its role as Pipeliner of Energy to the Nation.

Convict Jailed By Florence Officers

Robert Edwards, Negro convict serving a 50-year term for first degree burglary from Jefferson County, was captured last week in

THE FLORENCE HERALD, Florence, Alabama

Thursday, June 23, 1960—Page 7

Florence after having escaped from Kilby Prison on April 17.

Chief Noah Danley of the Florence Police Department reported that Edwards was picked up at the home of Catherine Jackson, 513 East Alabama Street, Florence, after the woman had given police information which led them to the arrest.

Mrs. Jackson, wife of a Negro man who was killed in an altercation at the Hollywood Inn a few months ago, was killed in an automobile accident in West Lauderdale the same evening that Edwards was found at her home.

Edwards was turned over to Chief of Police Robert Woodson of Uniontown and Sheriff W. M. Loftis of Perry Co. after his arrest.

Telephone Talk

FORREST W. BRICE
Your Telephone Manager

NOW THAT VACATION SEASON is in full swing, I think it's appropriate for us to salute one who has done much to help us maintain and preserve some of our finest and most scenic vacation spots. He's Smokey the Bear, the cartoon character who cautions us about carelessness with fire in our forests and woods. Smokey has probably impressed more people with the need for outdoor fire-safety than anyone else. Let's all take his good advice this summer.

P. S. While on the subject of safety, I'd like to remind you to be careful over the long Fourth of July weekend coming up soon. Watch the traffic and don't take chances if you go swimming or boating. Have a happy Fourth but a safe one.

THIS IS STATION C-O-W! I've never seen a talking cow, but recently I heard of one that almost does. It's a "broadcasting" cow used by University of Nebraska scientists to study the digestive processes in cattle. A tiny transistor radio in the cow's stomach transmits information which ultimately will be used to help improve cattle feeding. Transistors, developed by the Bell Laboratories, permitted construction of a radio small enough for the cow to swallow without injury. Research of the kind which produced transistors is continuous in the telephone industry and its benefits always come back to each of us—directly or indirectly.

Story Of Flag Adoption Is Told

The "Stars and Strips" was adopted as the national flag of the U. S. on June 14, 1777, by a resolution of the Second Continental Congress.

But why red, white and blue? World Book Encyclopedia says the Founding Fathers may have been influenced by the flag of the British East India Company, a group of merchants organized for exploration and trade. Their flag bore seven red and six white stripes.

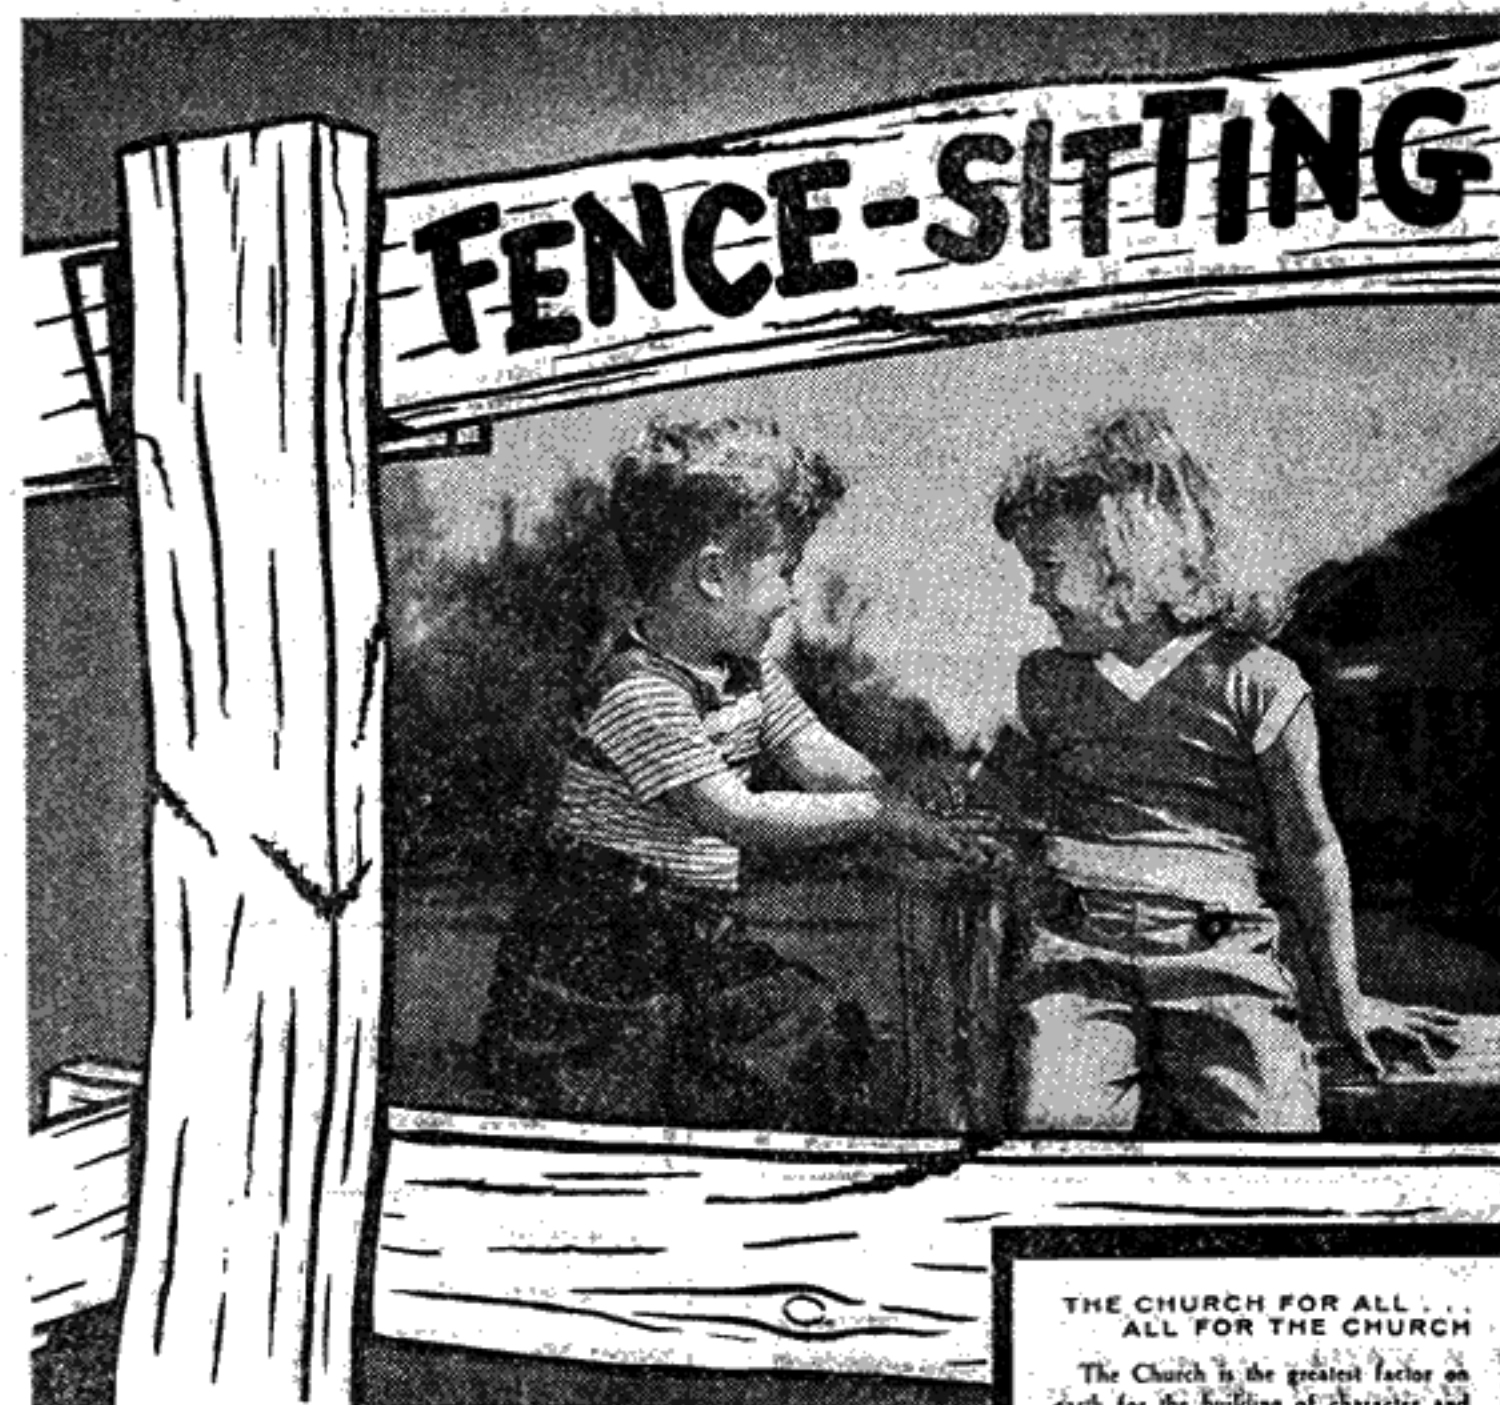

In 1782 the U.S. Department of State explained the colors this way: red stands for hardness and courage, white is a symbol of purity and innocence, and blue is the color of vigilance, perseverance and justice.

According to legend, however, George Washington gave us a more dramatic explanation when he reportedly said:

We take the stars and blue union from Heaven, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing we have separated from her, and the white stripes shall go down to posterity representing liberty.

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER — STAYS TOGETHER"

Fence-sitting isn't the safest occupation for the small fry, even if it is fun.

But fence-sitting for grown-ups is neither safe nor fun!

A man has to take a stand. He must let the world know his convictions. He must live them!

The principles in which we believe can perish while we dawdle uncommitted, uncertain or un-churched.

Behind the iron curtain men who are determined to overthrow freedom and faith hide neither their communism nor their atheism.

Here in America on a Sunday morning: no man can afford to sit on the fence IF he believes in God, and in the right to worship Him in the Church of his choice.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Extra Waterings More Vegetables

Vegetables are little bags of water with most of them running 90 percent or more.
And Extension Horticulturist John Bagby says the rule-of-thumb is that vegetable plants require about one inch of water every week. This means that it takes 27,000 gallons of water to cover an acre of land to a depth of one inch. And if there is not enough rainfall to furnish the amount of water needed, gardeners who have a water source available should add some to make this amount. They will find it pays off in more and better vegetables.
Bagby says too little water causes wilting, poor growth, blossom drop, and many other things. And early morning waterings are best because the leaves will be dry by night.

Abruzzi Rye Gives Early Fall Grazing

Alabama farmers are saying that you can't beat Abruzzi rye for early fall grazing.
And research conducted by our experiment stations bears them out, state's Extension Agronomist O. N. Andrews. Rye is an unusually hardy crop and furnishes grazing earlier than other small grains. The specialist adds that it will germinate with less moisture than other cereals and will make fair growth on land that is too thin for wheat or oats.

Andrews says that after rye starts to "boot" early in the spring, it makes poor grazing and is not good for hay or silage. So in order to lengthen the grazing season, some farmers overseed with 15 pounds of rye grass and 20 pounds of crimson clover per acre. Then the rye furnishes late fall and early winter grazing, and the rye grass and crimson clover give late winter and early spring grazing.
Another way farmers handle rye is by planting a small area for fall and early winter grazing until oats and other crops are ready. Then in late February or early March, they turn the crop and follow with another.

TAKE PRECAUTION WHEN USING ELECTRIC FAN

When putting your oscillating fan to use, remember the little folks around the house.
Auburn Extension Engineer Bill Cox says a fan can be set right on the floor for air circulation in the room. But he warns that there are safety precautions to be taken.
To eliminate the danger of children sticking their fingers into the fan and to keep them from hurting themselves while playing near it, cover the fan with one-half inch mesh hardware cloth. And as an added safety measure, check old cords to see that they are in good condition, adds Cox.

BARBECUE SAUCE GIVES MEAT SPECIAL TASTE

A good barbecue sauce is the special touch that makes barbecued meat what it is. Without the sauce the spice and glamour are gone, says Dorothy Overby, Extension consumer education specialist.
Miss Overby states that the sauce is used as a basting liquid and is applied with a pastry brush. And she gives this recipe which may be used on broiler chicken halves. Mix one-half cup cooking oil, one cup vinegar, two tablespoons salt, one and one-half teaspoons poultry seasoning, and one-half teaspoon white pepper. This recipe is enough for five chicken halves and will give a mild flavor to the meat.

FARM FACTS

From FARM BUREAU

Here are a few pertinent facts about food:

Today's homemaker no longer has to be concerned with "seasonal" food buying. Thanks to better farming and marketing, perishable fruits and vegetables are available from the nearest grocery store year-round.

Farmers supply about one billion servings of fruit and vegetable juices every week.

A factory worker can buy 45 per cent more food with an hour's pay today than he could in 1947.

The average retail price of a loaf of bread in 1958 was 19.3 cents. Of this, the retailer got 3.1 cents, the baker-wholesaler 11.2 cents, and the farmer 3 cents. The other 2 cents went to transportation, handling and processing.

Labor receives almost as much of the consumer's food dollar as the farmer. Of the $57.7 billion Americans spent for food in 1958, the farmer received $20.8 billion, labor got $17.5 billion, and the remainder went for processing, transportation, taxes and other costs.

To maintain our present high standard diet, U.S. farmers by 1975 must produce: 36 per cent more eggs; 61 per cent more broilers; 56 per cent more meat animals; 60 per cent more fruit and vegetables; 48 per cent more dairy products, and 26 per cent more grain and potatoes.

More Milk In Next Decade

Prosperity follows the dairy cow.

Enough milk is produced every year in America to fill a river 3,021 miles long, 40 feet wide and three feet deep, according to Extension Dairyman John Parrish. And if all of the milk produced last year had been put in square quart containers side by side, these containers would extend more than 132 times around the earth.

That is a lot of milk, but during the next decade it is predicted that dairy cows will produce even more milk than ever. Dairy farmers should see a 20 billion pound growth in the milk market, says the Auburn specialist. However, the use of this milk does not agree with the production. The per capita consumption for the year 1959 was 689 pounds compared to 692 pounds for the year 1958 and 741 pounds in 1950.

Layers In Cages Bring More Flies

Where there are chickens, there are usually flies.

When layers are in cages, fly control is a big problem. The accumulation of droppings under the cages makes breeding places for the flies. And it may not be practical to clean the cages everyday.

However, wise poultrymen are using long-residual phosphate sprays, according to Extension Poultryman J. R. Hubbard, Jr. These are applied with a sprinkling can or sprayer, and special care is taken not to get any spray or mist on the birds.

Adult flies are killed by lightly sprinkling dry bait containing the phosphate material on the walks between cages or on window sills or other flat surfaces.
And Hubbard adds that it is highly important that sprays be used according to all recommendations.

U. S. Savings Bonds, Series E for growth, Series H for income, now yield 3 1/2 per cent on all issued since June 1, 1959. Both principal and interest are guaranteed by the United States Treasury and they never fluctuate with the market.
