As we face the serious threat of a reduction of pay for our school teachers who continue underpaid although receiving a 15 percent increase in salaries for this school term, we marvel at the request of teacher Gertrude Risen, of Hillsdale, N. J., who addressed a request to the city board of education that her salary be cut $300. Miss Risen explained in her letter: "I am no longer doing the work to earn it." Her request was approved without debate by the astounded board members, we learn.

Spring arrives in exactly 12 days — would you believe it!

It was 84 years ago today that the telephone came into being. On March 10, 1876, Alexander Graham Bell's first words to be carried by wire traveled from one room to another in his Boston boarding house and were: "Mr. Watson, come here, I want you." There have been many times since—such as this morning about 2 o'clock when we groped our way to answer a wrong number call—that millions wished the blasted contraption had never been invented.

We note where a New York cop feeds his slightly overweight horse saccharine tablets instead of lumps of sugar. Now that's considerate of him.

The terrible weather we have been having throughout the South even affects politics. Mayor Haydon Burns of Jacksonville, Fla., who is a candidate for governor, invited everyone around to a ham supper. The day of the big event rain descended in torrents keeping away about two-thirds of the expected guests. Today, Mayor Burns is wondering what to do with more than a ton of ham.

We read where two moths met in a clothes closet. They found themselves in the section where hung several sack dresses, now out-moded and one of our pet peeves. "What do you think of these sack dresses?" asked one of the moths. "Please! Not while I'm eating," was the reaction of the other.

Non-Stop Senate Talks End; Vote On Cloture Set

Six-Day Marathon Is Hailed By Southern Bloc As Major Victory

The first major vote test on the 1960 civil rights battle is to come today as southern senators won the initial round with a decision Tuesday by leaders to call off around the clock session which has kept the Senate tied up through six night meetings.

The 18-senator team of filibusters demonstrated they could keep going handily in their marathon talk-fest against civil rights one of their number holding forth at 8:10 p.m. Tuesday when the Senate recessed. The signal for ending the non-stop session was the filing by 31 senators, 23 Democrats and 8 Republicans, of a petition to shut-off the filibuster by invoking a cloture rule. The vote on this may come today at 11 a.m. it was stated. There appeared no chance it would survive the required two-thirds needed to invoke the rule.

Both Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson and a Republican leader Everett Dirksen said the cloture move was premature and that they would vote against it. Johnson made it clear that he thought an adverse vote on cloture would merely encourage the southerners declaring such a result would only prolong the debate.

It was made plain however that both Johnson and Dirksen felt sure of the needed two-thirds at a later date. Neither was willing to discuss the strategy to be followed in stripping down the civil rights legislation where it could be voted on. Some senators indicated they believed the vehicle for a successful cloture would be the House Civil Rights bill when it arrives in the Senate, possibly next week. House debates opens today. The bill in the House is said to be less far-reaching than the Senate proposals.

The Senate resumed its debate on Civil Rights Wednesday after the Tuesday night action. Dirksen said he will vote for the Northern coalition's proposal allowing the attorney general to initiate court action for halting any alleged violation of an individual's civil rights.

Stock Dividend Of First National Is Given Approval

The First National Bank of Florence received notice on March 9 that the stock dividend recently declared by the bank has received final approval by the Comptroller of the Currency of the United States under whose supervision all national banks operate.

The 25% dividend which is payable out of accumulated earnings increases the bank's capital from $600,000 to $750,000. The approval from the Treasury Department completes the matter which has had the attention of bank shareholders, directors and management for some weeks. Declared by the Board of Directors on February 8, 1960, the dividend was ratified by a special shareholders meeting on February 29, which is the record date of the dividend.

In speaking of this action, Fred Long, Board Chairman of the local institution, stated that certificates evidencing the new stock will be mailed to shareholders in the immediate future and as promptly as all of the details attendant to the issue can be completed.

The First National Bank was organized in Florence in January 1889.

Negro Students Jailed By Montgomery Police

Integration Of Eating Places Main Cause Widespread Demonstrations

Police broke up a Negro protest demonstration at Alabama State College, Montgomery, Tuesday and placed 34 students and a faculty member in jail. The students were arrested as they massed on the college campus where some 1000 men and women had voted to boycott the school in a mass walkout starting Monday.

The faculty member was identified as Mrs. Jefferson Underwood of the college physical education department.

Meanwhile, bomb threats emptied a Negro school and church, but no bomb was found in either.

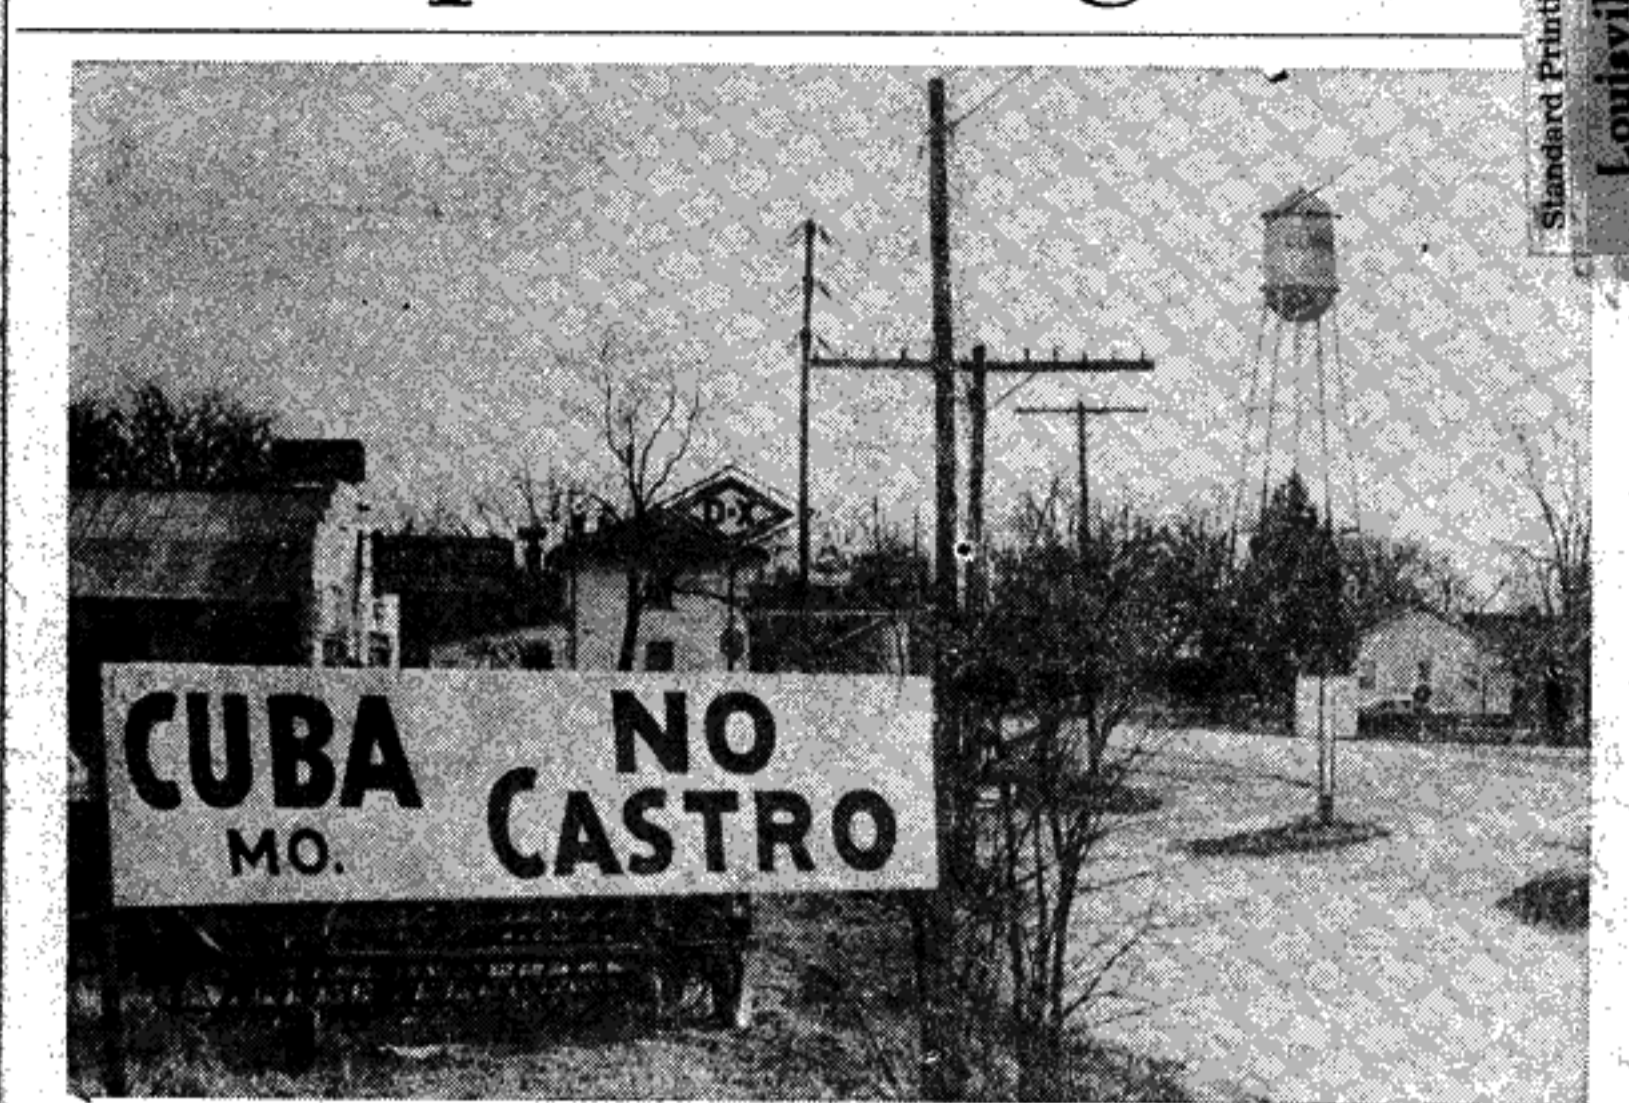

N. C. Victory Claimed

A victory was claimed Tuesday by Negro demonstrators in North Carolina as students seeking equal eating facilities at traditionally segregated lunch counters were served while seated in two cities in North Carolina Monday. This was apparently the first time this had happened in the state where the current wave of sitdowns started some six weeks ago, in Greensboro. It has since spread into seven other Southern states, South Carolina, Alabama, Florida, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia.

The first demonstration in West Virginia showed itself in the form of students parading at a motion picture theatre protesting segregated seating arrangements.

Vice President Nixon and Sen. John Kennedy (D., Mass.) swept to overwhelming victories Tuesday in New Hampshire's "first-in-the-nation" presidential primary. The victories came on a rising tide of votes which was said by observers, on the basis of early returns, to exceed those cast in the 1956 presidential primary in that state. There was a possibility that the total of votes might reach the previous record of 136,000 established in 1952.

FLORENCE STATE LIONS DROP OVERTIME THRILLER

The Pied Pipers of Hamline University Tuesday night defeated the Florence State Lions 88-83 in overtime in a first round game of the National Intercollegiate (NAIA) basketball tournament in Kansas City.

Leading by 10 points well into the second half, fifth-seeded Hamline lacked a field goal at the buzzer to send the game into overtime at 75-all. The Lions led 79-78 midway of the extra period. Dabbs Earnest of Florence State was the game's leading scorer with 28 points.

Governor Urged To Provide Funds For Full Terms

Alabama's school superintendents Tuesday asked Governor John Patterson to call a special legislative session to raise additional money to operate the state's schools but the Governor said he was "not in a position" to call it.

The county and city superintendents of education of Alabama agreed unanimously that the only solution to the financial plight in which schools have been placed by a 10 percent proration is for the Governor of Alabama to call a special session of the legislature to provide sufficient funds to prevent this proration.

The Governor was urged to develop a program to provide sufficient revenue to make funds available to pay appropriations in full for 1959-60 and 1960-61. The superintendents also pledged their support as individuals and as a group to the Governor in the development of such a program and in securing the support of members of the legislature and other lay citizens.

In addition to a practically 100 percent attendance by superintendents many board members, local school officials and officers of local teachers associations were present. It is believed that this meeting will set the background for constructive work toward the stabilization of school finances in Alabama.

Comments On Crisis

Rufus Hibbett, Superintendent of Florence City Schools said, it was his opinion that the superintendents were not too happy at the outcome of the meeting with the governor or the committee meeting.

"I don't think the superintendents as a whole are taking as firm a stand as they should with the Governor," Mr. Hibbett said. "None are willing for teachers to teach with a pay cut and there is every indication many systems will have a short term, others might be able to continue a full nine months."

It is a concerted action on the part of all the schools is needed although I am sure the public is not in favor of teachers having to absorb the 10 per cent proration," Mr. Hibbett said. He added however that he thought the public would be passive about a shorter school term if nothing is done about it. He explained that the local city Board of Education has been waiting to see the outcome of the situation before taking action.

He said it was his opinion that he present situation is "strictly the responsibility of the Governor — it was his staff that underestimated the income."

Statement By Thornton

County Superintendent of Education Allen Thornton in commenting on the Montgomery meeting said it was the "consensus of opinion that the people were going to have to work with the governor, the legislature and the school people for added money or close the schools." He stated the superintendents were vitally concerned and that there was a feeling if the system closed all should close. "There is also a feeling," he added, "that Alabama had a bona fide contract to furnish 9 months of school and should live up to it."

He said a further discussion of the crisis would take place at the scheduled AEA meeting.

A resolution was presented by the Alabama Association of School Administrators appealing for adequate support of public education in Alabama.

Why All The Waste?

It is deplorable that there should be useless waste in a time when spending for defense is paramount and the people are subject to burdensome taxation because of it.

A rundown of scores of audits and other investigations by the Comptroller General in his annual report to Congress, reveals profligate spending and waste in a number of areas, especially military foreign aid.

Certainly the Congress should investigate with its full powers, instances where materiel is shipped abroad to our Allies and other nations outside of NATO, in excess of needs. Items mentioned in the report included almost 800 aircraft engines costing some $68 million "procured in excess of the Navy's requirements."

Investigation revealed too much paid for spare plane parts, in one instance of $5 million too much, in another over $4 million too much. Other items listed included overpayment of leave, re-enlistment bonuses, mustering out pay, over payment of travel expenses, and so on.

If those in charge making these purchases are not aware of the proper pricing of this materiel or of the correct amounts to pay personnel for various services then they should be replaced. Ignorance should be no excuse.

If they do know and deliberately charge excess amounts then they should be fully investigated and made to explain why such overpayments were made.

The taxpayers are entitled to know the facts.

Are Gadgets Robbing Us?

First off this is not a tirade against the labor-saving innovations incorporated in the new cars for instance but it is an observation that perhaps in the general run of inventing gadgets to save labor we have gone overboard and have lost sight of the fact that a little effort may perhaps contribute to the development of our characters and keep awake our spirit of competition.

Just what sense of accomplishment now lies in learning to drive an automobile? The car does virtually everything except steer itself and the time may come when we can simply dial our destination and have a hand or two of bridge enroute. If this sounds exaggerated remember our scientists have orbited the moon with artificial satellites and space travel is just around the proverbial corner.

The car with automatic shift, power windows, power brakes and power steering is doubtless a better one but is the person who drives it better? He doesn't have the "feel" of a car because there is no challenge, no effort, no resistance. He doesn't have to know the amount of pressure to stop his high-speed juggernaut in a given distance or how to compensate his steering for a sudden turn or a rut in the road. In other words he hasn't really learned to drive but he is the guy you meet driving 100 miles an hour and who many times winds up in the morgue along with innocent victims of . . . not his carelessness . . . but his almost total ignorance of how to drive.

While we must certainly admire the vast technical improvements of the last couple of decades we cannot help but be troubled by an uneasy sense that each such improvement brings with it certain losses that none of the benefits can possibly overcome.

And not only automobiles . . . take the modern kitchen. The old-fashioned kitchen had plenty of defects but it was a challenge. What young housewife of today could cope with Mom's old nickel-plated Majestic and turn out those pies, cakes and biscuits that today are only fond memories? Today we buy them frozen, plop them in a high-speed electric oven and in two shakes they are ready for the table . . . and they are good to eat too. However the challenge is gone. There can be little sense of accomplishment in taking a mass-produced item of food that needs nothing more than the pressing of a button or the turning of a switch.

Of course nobody wants to return to the old spinning wheel era but it is a sad fact that the frantic inferno of machinery by which we are surrounded today does far more to develop our bridge game than it does our characters.

And what about the man of the house? When Dad drove to work in his old jalopy that required a good arm to steer and plenty of foot power to brake it, he returned home in the evening with a sense of wellbeing. Home from his office or store cooled in summer by a buzzing electric fan or heated by a pot-bellied stove, Dad had been challenged. There had been resistance to his efforts from the time he cranked the reluctant "Henry" in the morning until he drove into the garage that night. No, we definitely do not want to return to the old days but we can't help but wonder what the challenge is today in a world that seems willing to sacrifice its character building attributes for the line of least resistance. Are we not putting too great a distance between the performer and the performance?

The Sermon On The Mount had no modern radio and TV broadcast facilities yet it still enjoys the highest rating of all for one simple reason. The performer and the performance were together.

Negro Children Perish In Fire

James Williams, 15-month-old Negro infant and his four-month-old brother, Alvin Thomas Williams, perished in a fire Tuesday which destroyed their small frame house located at 916 West Mobile Street, Florence.

The Negro infants, two of 10 children who lived with their mother, Ruby Mae Williams in the house, were alone at the time the fire struck. The fire was first noticed by a small Negro child who was playing in the front of the house.

Chief Bob Lovelace of the Florence Fire Department reported that they were called around 11:30 a.m., but that they arrived too late to save the children. Defective wiring was the probable cause. The boys' mother is an employee at ECM Hospital.

Reward Offered For Slayer of Local Man

Gov. John Patterson last Friday offered a $1000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer of Charles Webster Vann, of Florence, whose body was found near Huntsville Feb. 3. Circuit Solicitor Macon L. Weaver, of Huntsville, said officers have been left without "a single lead." It was stated in Weaver's letter to Patterson, in which he asked the governor to post the reward, that Vann had taken out a $50,000 life insurance policy covering a 10-day trip.

Ship Blast Kills Scores In Havana

It was estimated by official quarters in Havana that some 75 to 100 persons were killed and 200 injured Friday when a French freighter delivering munitions from Belgium to Fidel Castro's Cuban army blew up alongside a Havana Harbor pier. The ship and pier were completely destroyed by the blast and fire. As the Castro government raised the suspicion of sabotage, Prime Minister Fidel Castro called an urgent cabinet meeting at which he ordered his military and police on a standby alert.

Earthquake Toll Heavy

The resort city of Agadir, Morocco, now lays deserted, a graveyard for thousands who perished Monday, Feb. 29, as twin earthquakes, tidal wave and fire swept over the city. Morocco's Crown Prince Moulay Hassan announced that 4,000 persons were known dead and at least 6,000 more presumed dead and added that the full toll of dead may have reached 12,000, a figure which is more than one-fourth of the city's 40,000 population. At dawn Saturday, U.S. Army engineers moved in the area with bulldozers to finish clearing pathways through the rubble.

Well Known Coach Dies

J. B. Whitworth, assistant Georgia football coach, was found dead in his home Monday. The body was found by a neighbor who had gone to the house to water Mrs. Whitworth's flowers. She was in New York visiting a sister. Whitworth was a former head football coach at Alabama. He was graduated from Alabama in 1932 after which he became an assistant coach for the Crimson Tide, remaining there until he took a similar position at Louisiana State in 1935. He moved to Georgia in 1940 and became line coach. Whitworth was once head coach at Oklahoma A & M and line coach for the Montreal Alouettes of the Professional Canadian Football League.

White House Picketed By Negroes

Howard University students Sunday picketed the White House to urge action on civil rights legislation and to support Southern Negroes protesting lunch counter segregation. Between 250 and 300 young men and women marched on Pennsylvania Avenue on the north side of the White House, with neither the President nor First Lady at home. The President was in Puerto Rico and Mrs. Eisenhower in Arizona.

Child May Lose Home

Alice Marie Combs, 4, of Old Budge, N. J., may lose the only home she has ever known because the state of New Jersey says that she is too intelligent for her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Combs. The State Board of Child Welfare placed the little girl with the Combs when she was an infant. It later became aware of her precocious development and filed custody papers to find other foster parents who, the board says, should be financially and intellectually better prepared to aid her. Alice Marie has an IQ of 138, only 12 points below the rating of "genius."

DEATH OF LEONARD WARREN AFFECTS LOCAL CITIZENS

Editor: Leonard Warren has passed on to immortality. He died as he probably would have wanted—on the stage of the Metropolitan Opera, singing one of his favorite roles.

The news came as a deep shock to the multitude of music lovers the world over who admired his art. The loss of this great performer is felt in the Tri-Cities where, not alone for his artistry—but also for his gracious personality, he was loved by the concertgoers who heard him.

Mr. Warren performed in the Tri-Cities more times than any other artist brought here by our Concert Series. He was invited to sing here year after year by popular demand. And understandably so, for here was a man whose talent was supreme in its quality—yet offered in a spirit of humility, geniality and friendliness which charmed all who saw and heard. A Warren recital was a warm experience.

What matter that he was the greatest baritone of his time. More important, he enjoyed giving of himself and his great talents. He shared his gifts with his listeners—to their as well as his pleasure. He leaves a warm, pleasurable memory with the countless thousands who heard him. It is a wonderful legacy.

ROGERSVILLE TEACHERS OPPOSE SALARY CUTS

EDITOR: Whereas, the teachers of the Rogersville Schools have been teaching with the understanding that they would be paid the full amount guaranteed in contracts, and whereas the amount of deduction at 10% would be the equivalent to 30% of one month's salary for the remaining three months, and whereas the present rate of teachers salaries is not considered to be in line with those of other professions, and whereas we feel that the general public cannot justifiably ask the teachers of the State of Alabama to take a sizable reduction in pay; therefore, be it resolved that the 32 members of the Rogersville Schools faculties unanimously go on record as being opposed to any reduction of salary and income at this time, and in the event that funds are not available that schools be closed until such time when funds will be made available to maintain our current salaries.

Personality Sketches

By FRANCES HALL

DR. E. W. GRAY

"Dr. Gray is one of the few remaining 'country' doctors who would answer the call of distress, whether an emergency or not, anywhere in the county without question or thought of remuneration. The esteem in which he is still held by his patients throughout the county is still shown by the many gifts from gardens and fields that continue to come into his home from those he served so conscientiously throughout the years," is the tribute paid by one who has known him throughout most of his lifetime.

It is refreshing to learn of the high esteem that borders on devotion in which this physician of more than half a century practice is held by the hundreds and hundreds of families to whom he has given of his medical skill for such a long period of time.

Dr. Edward Waters Gray was born at Bethel Grove, in Lauderdale County, the son of John Wesley and Caroline Young Gray. The family moved to Florence when he was six years old. He was enrolled in Brandon School and later attended State Normal College (FSC) for three years, after which he decided to stay out of school for a year and work. But he worked for 2 1/2 years before deciding to enter the medical profession.

He attended medical school at the University of Alabama, graduating with the class of April, 1909. Dr. Gray did his internship at Carroway Methodist Hospital in Birmingham and, after 22 months, entered private practice, remaining in Birmingham for nine years.

Dr. Gray was married to Miss Lucy Pearl Belser, of Sheffield, in February, 1913. One daughter was born to this union, Mrs. Lawrence (Caroline) Trabue, of Nashville. Mrs. Gray died in 1918.

On July 1, 1918, Dr. Gray came back to North Alabama to locate and to join his daughter who at that time was making her home with her grandmother.

He volunteered for service in World War I as a First Lieutenant in the Medical Corps in September of that year, but was not called to report for duty until November. Meanwhile, the Armistice was signed. Dr. Gray turned in his resignation to the Surgeon-General and was placed in the Army Reserve for a period of four years, never being called for active duty.

In April, 1924, Dr. Gray was married to Miss Louise Thomson, of Sheffield. They have two daughters, Mrs. James L. (Mary Bettie) Cox, of Birmingham, and Mrs. Robert W. (Virginia Young) Simpson, Jr., of Courtland. There are seven grandchildren.

Miss Mary Elise Cannon

Weds in Birmingham Church
Tall baskets of white stock and gladioli detailed the altar in Lakewood Baptist Church of Birmingham for the wedding on Saturday, February twentieth, of Mary Elise Cannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam B. Cannon of Cloverdale, Route one, and Jerry H. Olive, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Olive of Berry.

The choir rail was etched in English ivy and cathedral tapers burned in branched candelabra to complete the setting.

The Reverend Lewis Marlar, minister of the church, read the eight o'clock vows following nuptial selections presented by Mrs. Fern Wilker, organist, and James Jackson, vocalist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of lace and bridal satin distinguished by a fitted bodice with long, tapering sleeves and a full-gathered floor-length skirt.

Her shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a bandeau of sequins and pearls and with her white Bible she carried a bouquet of white orchids.

Sisters of the bride serving as honor attendants and bridesmaids included Mrs. W. H. Bevis, Mrs. Howard Rhodes, both of Florence, Miss Anne Cannon and Miss Jean Cannon of Cloverdale and Mrs. Wayne Brown of Birmingham.

Mrs. Bevis' frock was of white lace over red embossed satin and the 'maids wore red lace over white embossed satin. Matching head-dresses and red and white carnations bouquets completed their attire.

Don Olive was best man for his brother and ushers were Howard Rhodes of Florence, James Fowler of Fairfield, Joe Foster and Jimmy Smith of Birmingham.

Mrs. Cannon chose for her daughter's wedding a model of rose lace and Mrs. Olive, mother of the bridegroom, was in a blue ensemble. A white carnation corsage was pinned at the shoulder of each.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. Lacy Cannon, Mrs. J. Smith, Mrs. M. Williams, Miss Mary Brown and Miss Irene McClelland.

For travel, the bride changed to a fur-trimmed suit of beige wool, matching hat and shrimp accessories. The orchids from her bouquet fashioned her corsage.

Now returned from their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Olive are at home in Birmingham.

Miss Garace Virginia Gray

To Have Spring Wedding
Heralding a wedding of interest is the announcement which has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Simpson Gray of 417 North Wood Avenue, Florence, of the betrothal of their daughter, Garace Virginia, to Val G. Killen, Jr., of Arlington, Virginia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Val G. Killen of Kiowa, Colorado.

The bride-elect attended Florence State College before going to Arlington where she has made her home for a number of years. Her fiancé was a student at the University of Colorado in Boulder and is a former resident of Denver.

A late afternoon ceremony in Westminster Presbyterian Church of Alexandria will mark their April second vows.

Stewart-Gooch Vows

The bride is the daughter of the Reverend and Mrs. James E. Stewart of Waterloo who have made the announcement.

The Reverend O. L. Parker, minister of the church, read the vows at half past seven o'clock in the evening.

Morning Gala Fates

Spartanburg Visitor
Warmly welcomed during a recent Florence visit was Mrs. Walter Brice (the former Helen Ingram) who returned on Monday to her home in Spartanburg, S. C. after a few days' stay with her mother, Mrs. Nell Ingram, at Florence Hall, and her sister, Mrs. Vernon Brown, and Mr. Brown, at their home on North Wood Avenue.

A pretty compliment to her guest was Mrs. Brown's coffee of Saturday morning when longtime friends of the honoree were invited to call at half past ten o'clock.

Mrs. James E. Anderson, Jr., welcomed the guest who were received informally by the hostess, Mrs. Brice and Mrs. Ingram.

Defying the unseasonable weather, a flowering background of jonquils and Dutch iris, tulips and baby's breath presented a Spring-time setting throughout the gracious home and a mixed arrangement centered the silver-appointed coffee table where Mrs. Leo King presided.

Guests for the occasion numbered about fifty.

A guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Morley, 630 Wildwood Ave., is her mother, Mrs. Hugh D. Cameron of Montreal, Canada.

Mrs. W. J. Callaway returned Tuesday from a few days' stay with her son, Dr. James Callaway, Mrs. Callaway, and their family in Nashville.

Quoting largely from recorded speeches of Major William Meyer, U.S. Army, a psychiatrist who interviewed returning prisoners of war at Panmunjom, Mr. Adams presented facts to erase many preconceived ideas. "Prisoners," he said, "were subjected to a form of brainwashing which enveloped a sound educational program using the best principles of psychiatry, rather than one which dealt with physical breakdown."

"It is the responsibility of each of us," the speaker continued, "to instill in the youth of today such old-fashioned character traits as honesty, integrity, self-discipline and leadership and a system of values."

Guests from civic clubs included Mr. and Mrs. John Lord, AAUW; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wade, Florence Civitan; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Delano, Shoals Civitan; Mr. and Mrs. C. 1960—AN ANNIVERSARY YEAR for the telephone! 25 years ago the first round-the-world telephone call was made in New York over a 23,000-mile circuit of wire and radio channels.

45 years ago the first transatlantic radio-telephone transmission was completed between Arlington, Virginia and the Eiffel Tower in Paris.

90 years ago Alexander Graham Bell, who started it all, arrived in Canada from England.

DAD'S IN HIS DEN ... do not disturb! With newspaper, pipe, slippers and a handy extension phone right at his elbow, let him relax in style. Yep, Dad's sold! He's convinced that phones where you need them more than pay for themselves in convenience! That's why he got Mom that handy kitchen extension ... and Sis her very own pretty pink bedroom phone. All this for so little money, too! How about you? Care to enjoy real easy-chair comfort? Just give us a ring.

Calling someone Long Distance? Remember you save money when you call after 6 P.M. or on Sundays. It's cheaper, too, to call Station-to-Station.

THE SPILLWAY

WE ALWAYS SAY on Ground Hog Day
That we're not superstitious ...
"That little guy ... tho' he may try ...
Just CAN'T be so officious ..."

THAT'S WHAT WE'VE continued to hold with since we started watching "the little guy" in the mid-19's ... And now ... in the good year 1960 ... we capitulate ... With only six days of his six-week reign remaining ... we admit that he is our weather prophet par excellence ... and our plans will henceforth coincide with his predictions ...

NUMBERED "MONGST the "disregards" is Ellen (Moody) Redd ... who drove with (her lovely mom) Mapha Knowles to Atlanta last mid-week and was held at Cedar town by an alert Highway Patrol ... Ellen's (hubby) Moody was kept-in-touch by these Gents of the Open Road until communication lines were repaired ...

AND one of our town's favorite sister-duos ... Mildred Bennett and Gettie Crow ... also disappeared ... the weatherman to take off in the face of the storm for brotherly visit with ex-Florentine Doug Jackson and (his wife) Joise in Montgomery ... All are now safely back in our midst ...

W V A R ... ALL THINGS considered and the weather notwithstanding ... a remarkably even pace has continued "round about" ...

RELATANCE ... NOT a single one of the twelve expected guests fled to show at the beautifully planned lake-home luncheon of Tuesday (a week ago) hostessed by "Tegs and Olive McCrory" ...

IT was at the "Flags" Bailey (in a residence) ... AND arriving promptly at Marie Callaway's Walnut Street home on Friday to partake of a "delish" menu was the sixsome invited to enjoy Phyllis Morley and her captivated Mom who comes each year from Montreal, Canada, for a Winter visit ...

ALSO FOLLOWING THRU with previously-made plans ... Marguerite and Emerson Lucas were weekend guests of (her niece) Jane and the (Reverend) Homer Homer Carrier in Memphis and attended with them the Van Cliburn concert on Saturday evening ...

Old Home Week ensued when the foursome found their box seats ... T was a surprise to all that they were right alongside other Florentines ... Molly Nance and Ellen (Mitchell) Redd ...

TRAVELIN' TO B'HAM for the Ice Follies of the past week was a congenial group which included Flo and Jewell Archer and Genevieve and Fannah Beauchamp ...

Martha and Jim Gilbert and Flo and Dick Henderson ... and spied by them just prior to the Festival's opening number were Riverview Drive neighbors ... Helen and Jim McIntosh ...

CONTINUING OUR SONG of the "open road" ... Joy and (the Reverend) John Ebaugh are in Pensacola, Fla., where he is conducting Lenten services at Holy Trinity Church at nearby Myrtle Grove ... BETTY and (Doctor) Bill Bradley are combining business and pleasure in Jacksonville, Fla., where he is attending sessions of a medical meeting ... AND ditto-ing the business-and-pleasure combo are Ann and Fred Douglas ... who're expected to fly in tonight after a Los Angeles sojourn ...

LOOKING AHEAD ... "BJ" and (Doctor) Lyman Mitchell and chillun ... Melinda and Lyman and Wilson ... will hie themselves away to Panama City, Fla., during the up-coming AEA holiday ... to be guested by (Lyman's also-a-dentist brother) Whitman Mitchell ... Right on the heels of their visit ... they're expecting their fav'rite visitor ... (BJ's Mom) Leacie Wilson for Atlanta ...

AND IT's bon voyage et cet ... to Ethlyn and (Doctor) Harry Simpson as they depart from our midst today to embark upon a Caribbean cruise ... with their sights set directly on Jamaica ...

CONTINUED FROM LAST week ... and our mention of Francis Horsfield ... we bring a late news flash that this talented artist in whom we claim part interest has been elected president of the newly-formed Alabama Chapter of the American Institute of Decorators ...

A tip of Madam's Spring chapeau to the honored "gent" ...

HADJA HEARD ... that wedding bells are gonna ring ... The announcement (not yet made public) concerns a popular and very lovely UA co-ed whose family home is in the North Florence area ...

and a young and handsome med student down Tuscaloosa way ... A Summertime wedding is in the offing ...

SEEN DASHING AROUND town in a new sports car (a Jaguar ... we think) and looking every inch its dashing owner ... is Harold Barbour ...

You'll wanta watch ... OUR DEAREST WISHES are winging their way to Sara Holt ... recovering at home from a bone fracture and thoroughly enjoying visits with her many-

MANY friends who come a-calling ... AND TO (Doctor) Tom Cloyd ... also convalescing at home (on North Pine) after several tedious weeks ...

AND NOW ... CHEERIO and roody ... until more news comes through The Spillway ...

Attends National Credit Conference

Edward H. Smoot, Senior Vice President, The First National Bank of Florence, returned recently from Chicago where he attended the National Credit Conference of the American Bankers Association. More than 1,000 bankers from all sections of the United States were in attendance.

Educational in nature, the Conference is held each year to bring together men dealing in credits for an exchange of financial and economic information and for a study of the latest trends and developments in finance. The lending activities of the local bank are Mr. Smoot's primary responsibility. The economy of 1959 was reviewed and that of 1960 previewed. The consensus of the Conference was marked with optimism for the immediate future. Warnings of inflation were made and ways of avoiding the trend discussed. Lending policies as related to industry, business, farming, government and consumer credit were covered.

CHALK TALK...with a Southern accent!

This "chalk talk" is good news for all who live or work in the South. Each of the chalk marks you see above represents a sizable industrial development last year along the lines of the Southern Railway System. The total comes to 269—more than one for every working day.

What does this mean to the South—and to you? For one thing, it means an estimated 21,000 new job opportunities for men and women here. It means expanded home-town payrolls to stimulate and help sustain a community's economic growth and general well-being. And the investment of $369 million in these industrial projects represents, too, a solid vote of confidence in the modern South and its bright future.

Yes, this is the message our "chalk talk" brings to you. It is a record of steady, diversified growth today and a prophecy of still more wonderful things to come. All of us helped bring it about. All of us benefit.

String Quartet In Splendid Concert

By WALTER URBEN

In a rare display of music in its purest state, the Claremont String Quartet, with consummate taste and thrilling ensemble playing offered the Tri-Cities the finest in musical artistry in a formal program at Kirby Auditorium on Tuesday evening. Judging from the enthusiastic reception accorded these artists, their two programs in Florence could be called, in borrowed Broadway terminology, an unqualified "smash hit."

Marc Gottlieb, first violin, Vladimir Weisman, second violin, have similar New York backgrounds, whereas William Schoen, viola, and Irving Klein, violoncello, began their musical association in Cleveland. Pooling their respective talents as soloists has brought into the short space of seven years, places very favorably among the finest. This summer they will be in residence at Pennsylvania State University subsequently to making a world-wide tour.

Tickets On Sale For Lion Football

Kiwanis Sponsored F-Day Game Set For Wednesday, March 23

Tickets to the Florence State annual F-Day football game to be played at Coffee Stadium on Wednesday afternoon, March 23, are now on sale by members of the Florence Kiwanis Club or may be purchased at the office of the Florence Acceptance Company, on Mobile Street, ticket chairman Nick Nichols announced Sunday.

This inter-squad game is played each spring at the end of the FSC Lions practice sessions and the proceeds are used by the Florence Kiwanis Club for its free dental clinic and other charities. Club members also operate a concession stand, selling cold drinks, coffee, hot dogs, candy, etc.

Lion fans will have an opportunity on the above date to see how the college is shaping up football-wise since the game is always a very spirited affair with competition keen for the favored spots. Coaches Hal Self and George Weeks promise plenty of action on F-Day and the public is urged to support this Kiwanis-sponsored event.

In case inclement weather makes playing the game impossible on Wednesday the tickets will be good for the following Saturday afternoon, it was announced.

Alumni Meeting Planned March 18

The annual Florence State College alumni breakfast program will be held at the Tutwiler Hotel in Birmingham on Friday, March 18.

Alumni President Barr will preside at the program which will feature a "State of the Union" message by President Norton. It is expected that Dr. Norton will discuss, among other things, plans for future expansion at the college—the construction of a men's dormitory, a women's dormitory and a student union building, to begin at an early date. Other building plans call for later erection of an auditorium, a science building and a new Kirby School, as well as enlargement of Collier Library.

Breakfast guests of the alumni will be Misses Elta Majors, Auburn, and Lulu Palmer, Montgomery, Chairman and Secretary respectively of the State Advisory Committee on Children and Youth, and Florence State's two student delegates to the White House Conference late in March, Miss Janice Johnson, Flint, Michigan, junior, and Weldon Cole, senior from Addison.

In addition to Barr, other alumni officers are Miss Bernice Hester, Sheffield, Vice-President; Mrs. H. J. English, Florence, Secretary; and Miss Pearl Sparks, Florence, Executive Secretary.

Mrs. Weldon Cole, a college secretary, will be in charge of general arrangements for the breakfast program.

News Of GREENHILL

By Mrs. Mary McLaurine

The Rogers High School PTA will sponsor the "Wilson Minstrel Frolic" Saturday, March 12th, at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Friends of Mrs. Reba Pettus observed her birthday Tuesday with a spend-the-day party. Twenty-two women were present and five quilts were quilted during the day.

Mrs. Shirley Wilson of Florence was honored with a shower at the home of Mrs. Edward White Wednesday afternoon.

At nine year of age Dale won first place on her crocheting at the fair. Gale won second place.

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER — STAYS TOGETHER"

Your Annual CHECK UP

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	I Corinthians	6	19-20
Monday	Romans	12	3-8
Tuesday	Luke	12	22-30
Wednesday	Psalms	77	11-15
Thursday	Ecclesiastes	3	11-15
Friday	Mark	4	14-25
Saturday	I Corinthians	16	2-12

It's a good idea to have a check up every so often. And the idea ought to be extended to our spiritual as well as our physical health. For instance, how much are we thinking about the truths our churches teach us? Do we understand God... His love for men... the sacrifice of Christ for our sins... the way of Christian living?

And how much are we doing for God and our own souls? Are we worshipping every Sunday... rearing our children in the Faith... serving the Church and fellowmen according to our talents and physical strength?

And how much are we giving for God to use? Do we promise Him a fair proportion of our income... do we set it aside regularly as a sum that belongs to God and to those who need our help... do we have the courage and faith to strengthen our Church by more generous support?

Total supplies of feed grains and other concentrates has reached a new high of 265 million tons for the 1959-60 feeding year.

According to Auburn Extension Marketing Specialist A. W. Jones, these supplies have been on an upward trend for the past seven years. PLAN FOR CHEMICAL CONTROL EQUIPMENT

Start making plans now for chemical weed control equipment. Be sure that the equipment is designed and assembled properly for the job to be done, urges Auburn Engineer J. T. Gaillard. He adds that this should be done whether the equipment is used for pre-emergence, post-emergence, lay-by, or pasture treatment. The Extension specialist says that an operator's instruction manual and adjustment chart should come with all purchased spraying equipment.
