

The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

• Facing the possible loss of a great plant for our area is a frightening thing when it has been so long since we had the chance of welcoming a new industry into our local economy. It is certainly hoped that all wrinkles can soon be ironed out so that construction on the big Armour plant can get underway near Cherokee. It is unfortunate that this important requirement had not been settled before the announcement of the location of the plant was made as it will be hard to interest additional plants if this one falls through at this stage of negotiations. We are confident, however, that prior to the deadline of November 3, set by Armour, that everything will be satisfactorily settled for all concerned.

• The nicest thing about the future is that it comes one day at a time.

• With the big states swinging into line behind John Kennedy, the tight situation first seen in the presidential campaign seems to have loosened and Kennedy is shown taking the lead with the margin widening by the day. Even the gamblers are now offering odds up to 7 to 5 in favor of the Democratic candidate. This is a big change from the 8-5 and 9-5 odds offered on Nixon just after the conventions. If we were a gambling man, we would place a few iron men on the gentleman from Massachusetts. Many things seem to be contributing to this situation—the Great Debates, the questionable tactics practiced by Nixon over the years, which are now coming to light; the record of previous Republican administrations that is now being realized by the younger voters, who were not alive during those dark days; the chaos that has faced the present Republican administration during recent years, and the realization by these young voters that the Democratic party has been the party interested in the people in every walk of life and not just in the top echelon, as evident from the current trend of things.

• Sign on the bulletin board in front of St. Paul's Methodist Church, San Bernardino, Calif., when the mercury hit 104 degrees: "So you think it's hot here?"

• A truck driver walked into a roadside cafe several hundred miles away from home and near the end of his run and told the waitress: "Bring me two cold eggs fried so hard the edges are black, two slices of burnt toast and a cup of lukewarm coffee, then sit down and nag me. I'm homesick."

• Everybody's ambition, including ours, is to work less and get more.

• The minister had carefully prepared his sermon, having written it out completely. Reaching the end of the page, he read to the congregation: "... so Adam said to Eve." Glancing at the top of the next page, it was immediately apparent to the minister that the correct sentence didn't follow. Stalling for time, he rifled through the pages desperately hunting for the correct page, "... so Adam said to Eve." Then in an absent-minded voice "... There seems to be a leaf missing."

• The parent of any college student can tell you that higher education certainly is.

• We spend more money for athletics than we used to spend on our whole educational system. If all of the 40-odd thousand who crammed themselves into Legion Field, Birmingham, Saturday to see Auburn and Georgia Tech do battle, had been asked to contribute the same amount that they paid for their tickets to the state's educational fund to aid the schools in their deplorable financial condition, each would have looked at you as if you had gone stark, raving mad. You would have been a nut to make such a request—and we are a nut to even dare suggest it. What have the schools' budget for education got to do with football anyway! (And, boy, do we love football.)

• There's no more chilling experience than the sight of a motorcycle patrolman walking up to your car window pulling his gloves off one finger at a time.

• We are told that recently a teacher had her seventh grade students take an aptitude test to ascertain what they were best suited for. The results showed that they were best suited for the sixth grade.

Randolph Ouster Move Growing

More Counties Join In Effort To Change Bureau Leadership

The Alabama Farm Bureau ousted Randolph move continues to spread as plans are being completed to hold the annual conventions of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation and State Council of Home Demonstration Clubs November 13-16 with Mobile the host city for the first time.

In addition to the north Alabama District One group which organized its opposition to Farm Bureau President Walter Randolph on last Thursday night, are Butler, Hale and Montgomery counties, the latter spearheading the drive to nominate Montgomery County Dairyman John Garrett for the top bureau post.

Other areas also voting opposition to Randolph include Marshall County and Madison groups, indicating a rapid grass roots spread to the move to change leadership of this important farm organization.

In a resolution the Butler County bureau commented: "The executive leadership of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation for the past 10 years has been complacent in its leadership of farmers." The resolution charged that the leadership had discontinued working diligently for the farmers and farm problems and has centered its efforts on various secondary programs.

A spokesman for the Jackson County bureau declared it opposed Randolph because he is "not representing Alabama farmers." Randolph is also vice president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The ouster effort will come to the convention during the business sessions which begin Monday and are continued through Wednesday. Some 2,000 persons are expected to attend, the Admiral Semmes Hotel being headquarters and handling all registrations.

Principal convention speakers will be American Farm Bureau Pres. Charles B. Shuman, of Sullivan, Ill.; Dr. Alfred Haake, economist and General Motors consultant of Large, Fla.; J. Craig Smith, Sylacauga textile official and president of the National Cotton Council, and Patrick M. O'Leary, of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Foreign Agriculture Service.

KENNEDY, NIXON TO DEBATE FRIDAY NIGHT

The fourth and final debate between the two presidential candidates, Senator John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, will take place on Friday night over the major television networks. The one-hour debate before a panel of newsmen will begin at 9:00 CST.

Kennedy-Nixon In Third Debate Are Held About Even

Sampling Of Voters By Newspapers Shows Little Advantage By Either

After Thursday's debate, the third in a series of television appearances by Sen. John Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, sampling of voters in ten cities by news sources revealed little difference in estimates of the two candidates' influence. In all the survey covered 100 voters.

Asked which candidate had gained the most from the debates, 33 said Kennedy, 32 said Nixon and 35 said neither.

Vice President Nixon continued to support the Eisenhower administration's foreign and domestic policies and again stated his position on the islands of Quemoy and Matsu which he considered in the Formosa defense sphere and which this country was committed to protect. On this issue Senator Kennedy disagreed, that the islands were not worth the life of a single American soldier.

Kennedy expressed concern over the nation's economic condition and stated that the budget could be balanced and the nation run on a balanced budget. He advocated that the best defense is to be strong, referring to Theodore Roosevelt's famous saying, "Speak soft and carry a big stick."

Nixon again disagreed with the Senator charging that Kennedy's defenses need bolstering was damaging to United States prestige. Kennedy charged that U.S. prestige had been lost through mistakes of the Eisenhower Administration of which Vice President Nixon was a part.

Twelve Take Trip To Florence, Italy

Twelve persons left Muscle Shoals Airport, last Friday morning on the first leg of a Florence, Ala., to Florence, Italy, trip.

The group will spend 17 days in Italy—Rome, Florence, Venice, Milan—Lucerne, Switzerland, Paris and London before returning home.

Among the twelve people leaving on this trip were Miss Marcella Eckl, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rosenbaum, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jackson, Mrs. Clara Westmoreland, Mrs. Nella K. Williams, all of Florence.

Four days will be spent in Rome, two in Florence, two in Venice, two in Lucerne, three in Paris and one in London.

HAPPY INTERROGATOR—Mrs. I. F. Stephenson, of Alva, Okla., is beside herself with joy as President Eisenhower grasps her hand. The blissful moment came after a television program in which Mrs. Stephenson and other Republican women questioned the President about GOP policy.

State-Wide Group Plans March On Capitol Nov. 4

"Citizens For Education" To Call For Special Session Of Legislature

A state-wide organization has been formed for "an education march" on the State Capitol to call for a special session of the legislature.

Dr. G. F. Carraway of Moulton is head of the "Citizens for Education" group which was first formed in 16 Alabama cities and has now gone state-wide.

"We are going to march up to the Capitol, meet with the governor, tell him what we want, with confidence that he'll get it done for us," Dr. Carraway stated, adding that the group was going to ask for a special session ... that it would carry enough senators and representatives with it to get a special session.

Counties mentioned by Dr. Carraway were: Lawrence, Morgan, Limestone, Lauderdale, Colbert, Franklin, Winston, Marion, Choctaw, Walker, Chilton, Fayette, Escambia, Lamar and Madison. Each group has been asked to get its senators and representatives to join the march to Montgomery with each county being asked to bring a minimum of 500 on the trip.

Carraway said a lack of money was the major problem confronting Alabama schools today. When asked if his group favored new taxes or shifting of other state revenues, he replied "that's their little red wagon." He said that he thought it whatever it needs ... all it needs is the backing of the people. He said the tentative date for the "March on Montgomery" was Nov. 4. He said the governor would be approached about the meeting when organization was completed.

The 1960-61 appropriation for Alabama schools from the state, $155,324,000, was cut to $142,159,000 by a prororation order of 9.4 by Gov. Patterson on Oct. 1.

Charles Hamilton Held For Murder

John Grossheim Fatally Stabbed After Attempt To Help Injured Man

Charles Russell Hamilton, who "can't remember a thing" in connection with the slaying of a fellow cotton gin employee Sunday near Dewey Wright's gin on the Waterloo Road, has been charged with first degree murder by Lauderdale County Sheriff Roy Call.

Hamilton, a former Tennesseean, twice convicted of murder in that state, the second time being in connection with the shotgun slaying of his own wife in 1940, is being held in Lauderdale County jail after reportedly stabbing John Garrett Grossheim to death in the latter's house, around 6 p.m. Sunday.

According to reports Hamilton had evidently been beaten during

Shoals To Send Motorcade

Truman Will Speak At Huge Democratic Rally

Approximately 1,000 cars from the Tri-Cities are expected to comprise a giant motorcade to the big Democratic rally in Decatur on Friday afternoon at which time former president Harry S. Truman will be the guest speaker.

The motorcade for both Colbert and Lauderdale counties will form at the Florence fairgrounds at 9:30 a.m. Friday, it was announced, by D. H. Patterson, Lauderdale county chairman.

Mr. Truman will speak following an old fashioned political meeting-barbecue beginning at 1 o'clock which is expected to attract thousands from throughout North Alabama. The speech is scheduled for about 3 p.m. at Delano Park.

The former president will be met with bands, motorcades, officials and dignitaries from throughout the area and shortly after this official reception a mass parade will be formed to move through Decatur and to Delano Park.

Along with Tennessee's Buford Ellington will be other Southern governors, Senators Lister Hill and John Sparkman and Eighth District Representative Robert E. (Bob) Jones. The rally is being sponsored by Democrats of the Eighth Congressional District, A. B. Hollis, Chairman.

Former President Truman is expected to spend the night at Decatur after his speech at the rally. At Independence, Mo., Mr. Truman's office said he planned to discuss TVA in his talk and point to the rapid development of the Tennessee Valley which has come about because of the river improvements.

Motorcades from as far away as Tuscaloosa, Birmingham and Anniston are to converge on Decatur for the Truman rally.

Gov. John Patterson, just back from the American Legion's national convention in Miami, will present the former President at the gathering.

TVA Ends Fiscal Year With $51.1 Million Net

TVA's operations—other than power—were carried on at a net expense of $12.3 million during the fiscal year 1960, according to TVA's financial statements released Wednesday.

TVA's power operations produced operating revenues of $24.2 million and a net income of $51.1 million, the financial statements show. (Because of unusual public interest in the forthcoming sale of power bonds, financial details of the TVA power operations have been announced separately.)

The nonpower programs—navigation, flood control, fertilizer, forestry, tributary watersheds, and mapping—are carried out to conserve and develop the natural resources of the Tennessee Valley region. Most of the cost of the fertilizer program is financed by revenues from fertilizer sales, which totaled $15.5 million. Remaining expenses of these programs are financed by congressional appropriations, in common with similar services provided by the Government through other agencies all over the country.

Navigation and flood control operations together cost $6.2 million. All but about $600,000 of this total represents the navigation and flood control share of the cost of operating the system, and generate electric power. The remaining $600,000 was spent on engineering studies and investigations designed to further the use of the navigable channel, increase the effectiveness of the flood prevention provided by the system, and help state and local governments with local flood problems.

The net expense of fertilizer, agricultural, and munitions development was $4.9 million, including $1.9 million for research on products and processes, $900,000 for farm test-demonstrations, $400,000 for basic agronomic research, and $200,000 for other agricultural development activities. The output of the fertilizer manufacturing plant at Muscle Shoals was 264,000 tons, of which 250,000 tons were sold. The remaining 14,000 tons were used in farm test-demonstrations and other TVA programs.

The report shows expenses of $1 million for watershed protection and improvement. Forestry projects, carried out to increase production, protection, and utilization of the region's forest resource, account for $600,000 of this total. The remaining $400,000 was spent in the conduct of intensive resource development work within small areas.

The report also shows an increase in nonpower plant of over $30 million. This represents almost entirely the new navigation lock at Wilson Dam which was placed in service last fall.

Armour & Company, one of the nation's largest manufacturers and distributors of fertilizers last week announced a $60 million expansion program that includes a nitrogen

BULLETIN

While all details of the Armour & Company's plant planned for West Colbert County have apparently been completed, the problem of a gas supplier still remains to be solved. In the first round of hearings before the Alabama Public Service Commission on Monday arguments were heard on behalf of the Tennessee River Gas Company, a subsidiary of Muscle Shoals Natural Gas Corp., which has a franchise covering the area involved but was at the time of the hearing unable to make a commitment to supply the gas.

Petersville Gas, Inc., of Florence, which operates under franchise north of the Tennessee River in Lauderdale County, has the gas supply required by Armour but no franchise for the area in question. The APSC will hear arguments in support of the Petersville petition on Friday, Oct. 28. Petersville's supplier is Texas Eastern. It is also understood that the Tennessee River Gas Company is still working on the matter and expects to be in a position to supply an adequate amount of gas.

Robert L. James, vice president and general manager of Armour Agricultural Chemical Company has announced that unless an adequate supply of firm gas at a fair price is in hand by Nov. 3, that the plant will be moved elsewhere.

plant to be built near Cherokee in West Colbert County. A phosphate plant also included in the program will be built in Polk County, Florida.

The announcement made by William W. Prince, president of Armour & Company stated that the Cherokee plant would employ 200 to 250 persons with a large payroll during the construction period, completion of the plant due in 1962 with production starting that year.

This plant will produce ammonia, nitric acid, urea, nitrogen solutions, ammonium nitrate and other ammonia chemicals.

Mr. Prince indicated that the areas served by Armour were due to expand in the next five years some three or four times the population growth giving impetus to the company's greater diversification in the fertilizer field, both in higher chemical concentrations and in straight fertilizers. It was also pointed out that Armour's investments in its expanding chemical industries, such as agricultural chemicals, industrial chemicals, pharmaceuticals, soaps and detergents, would exceed its investments in the meat processing field.

General offices of the Armour Agricultural Chemical Company are in Atlanta, Georgia. The Cherokee plant will manufacture the nitrogen elements of the principal plant foods which are nitrogen, phosphate and potash. The company has another nitrogen plant at Crystal City, Mo. The materials from the Cherokee plant will go to a large number of fertilizer mixing plants in the United States and Puerto Rico. A large portion of the nitrates are made from air and natural gas, the natural gas providing the hydrogen to make ammonia. The nitric acid also made in nitrate plants reacts with ammonia to make ammonium nitrate, an important fertilizer adjunct.

The Newspaper—Freedom's Guardian

We print below an editorial by J. Barry Wall, editor and publisher of the Farmville (Va.) Herald which won honorable mention for NNW promotion for weekly newspapers. We think it sets out an important phase of the printed word and its influence on the people throughout the past several centuries.

Moveable type had the greatest influence on civilization of any invention in history. Prior to 1456, the common man was held in bondage through ignorance, there being no vehicle through which information could be preserved or disseminated. Philosophers and teachers produced a fine civilization in ancient Athens and Rome by teaching a relatively few students by word of mouth, but the general public remained in ignorance and in bondage. Providentially the first book printed from moveable type was the Bible and for the first time in history the masses were able to read, to discuss and to interpret for themselves the Word of God. The truth made them free.

History, philosophies, customs, science and teachings of the ages were made available to the people through the medium of printing. Today, a vast storehouse of knowledge is to be found in every village, town and city in the many libraries.

Great universities have been established; science has developed; inventions to ease the hardships of life have been made; the common man has been provided the tools by which his freedom is perpetuated. Thus the printed word is the basis of all knowledge—it disseminates and perpetuates knowledge.

Newspapers followed quickly the invention of moveable type. In the intervening years newspapers have led the parade of progress in all fields by keeping the masses of people informed of daily events, and through interpretation of those events. With the advent of other media, first radio, and then television, newspaper circulations have expanded phenomenally. The printed word is the basis of mass information, and mass selling; therefore mass production.

Newspapers have a prime responsibility, namely to publish accurate, impartial information and details of news. Editors have a responsibility to interpret the news. Just as moveable type brought freedom to the masses the newspapers of the United States, free and unfettered have the vast responsibility of guarding this freedom.

Dictators first muzzle the press. Government's initial move toward usurping the people's freedom is to withhold public information. Dedicated and responsible newspapermen dig out the news, and alert editors interpret it. Freedom of speech, freedom of lawful assembly, freedom to worship are basic in a free nation. The printed word will remain supreme. Your newspaper is freedom's guardian.

It Could Be Close

A number of experienced political prognosticators, Marquis Childs for one, predict a close election, with California's and New York's total of 77 electoral votes, possibly spelling the difference between victory and defeat.

The last close election was in 1916 when Charles Evans Hughes, on the basis of almost complete returns, believed he had won, but awoke the next day to find that his Democratic opponent, Woodrow Wilson had carried California. This was enough to put Wilson in the White House.

Subsequent elections have been won by wide margins but many now think 1960 may well be a parallel to the 1916 pattern. The polls indicate that such might be the case since the candidates are apparently running neck and neck. Kennedy and Nixon have areas in which they are strong but they average up at the present time with only a few percentage points difference.

Almost everywhere at the grass-roots a big effort is being made to get out the vote and this will definitely have its effect when the votes are counted after November 8.

In their TV debates, which is something entirely new in the way of political campaigning, the people are given a first hand view of each candidate in action and thus will be in a better position to judge their candidate's capabilities and what he stands for. It has put both men on a spot . . . a spot where they must pinpoint their answers and not deal in too many generalities. In fact these debates via television some think, may actually be destroying party lines since they bring the man and not the party to the forefront of public thinking. This may not be politically healthy for the parties but it may be good for the country.

Legion In Annual Convention

America's grandest peacetime military spectacle, the American Legion parade, kicked off the Legion's annual convention Monday at Miami, Fla. All the color and noise of previous processions was there as the Legion rolled out its bands, banners and marching men for a six hour show. Overhead, the Air Force's fastest and mightiest jet fighter planes roared over the parade route to add to the din from the drums, bugles and horns below. When the legionnaires settled down to business Tuesday morning, they heard a mixture of talk on preparedness, economic problems of veterans and plain politics.

Ike Celebrates 70th Birthday

President Eisenhower celebrated his 70th birthday last Saturday, Oct. 15, by setting a record, going to a huge party, confiding that approaching retirement terrifies him, and by taking a dig at Nikita Khrushchev. He is the first man to reach the age of 70 while serving as president of the United States.

Cuban Delegate Denounces Castro

Last Saturday the United States denounced Prime Minister Fidel Castro before the United Nations as a liar and tyrant openly welcoming Communist intervention in Cuba's affairs. Miss Teresa Casuso, ambassador to the United Nations for Cuba, described Castro as a "man of war" and said if free elections were held in Cuba he would lose.

Cubans Execute Two Americans

A Cuban Army firing squad executed two Americans Monday after their speedy trial and conviction on charges of joining an armed revolt against Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime. The two condemned men were Dale Thompson, 36, Queen City Texas, and Robert O. Fuller, 25, whose father operated a plantation in Eastern Cuba until Castro's government confiscated the property. A five-man summary tribunal found them guilty and condemned them to die. Their appeals to a higher court were rejected in 15 minutes.

Three Thousand Die In Storm

Winds of more than 150 miles an hour and a tremendous tidal wave killed more than 3,000 people along the coast of East Pakistan. Approximately 80 per cent of the surviving population in the area was left homeless by destruction of 30,000 homes. A complete total of those killed may never be possible as hundreds of bodies were believed washed out to sea when the tidal wave receded.

Candidates "Almost Even"

Democrat John F. Kennedy apparently has pulled almost even with Republican Richard M. Nixon as they sprint toward the finish in their hectic race for the presidency. The latest AP checkover of the political situation in all 50 states gave some evidence that Sen. Kennedy might be gaining an edge in some of the big doubtful states, like New York, Pennsylvania, California, and Michigan.

Newspaper Week Observed By Elks

Florence Lodge Honors Local Press For Its Service To Freedom

William F. Baker, Exalted Ruler of the Florence Elks Lodge, announced this week that the local lodge is among 1,940 lodges of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks honoring America's free press during this National Newspaper Week's 21st observance. The theme for the event is "Your Newspaper—Freedom's Guardian."

Mr. Baker said, "In recent months we have seen, right in our own back yard, how vital a free press is to the survival of a free people. When the Communists moved in on Cuba, their very first step was to seize the press, thereby cutting off the people from access to the truth."

The Elks' leader urged every Florence citizen who values his heritage of freedom to "join with us during this week in a tribute to one of its staunchest defenders—the American free press."

Chairman of the local observance by the Elks Lodge is Adin Batson, Grand Tiler. Other committeemen are: Gray L. Lovelace, chairman of the board of trustees, and John E. Marshall, secretary.

The use of mechanical power and machinery on American farms has increased 57 per cent in the last ten years.

Rogersville Man Drowns In Lake

Body Of Johnny Gooch Recovered Near Scene Of Accident Wednesday

The body of Johnny Gooch, 36-year-old Lauderdale County native and resident of Rt. 2 Rogersville, was recovered Wednesday afternoon from the waters of Lake Wilson near the mouth of Blue Water Creek. Gooch is said to have tumbled from his small fishing boat and drowned about 5 a.m. when the craft struck a log, according to reports radioed in by the Highway Patrol at 10:30 a.m.

Dragging operations were begun by 7:30 a.m. it was reported, a Florence Fire Department crew with rescue equipment being dispatched to the scene along with the Coast Guard and others. A commercial fisherman is said to have located the body near the scene of the drowning. The coroner was then notified and the body brought to Morrison-Elkins Funeral Home.

The drowning was the first in the area in several months. Gooch is married and the father of two children. Funeral arrangements had not been made at press time.

Man-hours devoted to American agriculture have been reduced by 40 per cent since the early '30's, and production per man-hour has almost tripled.

EMERSON CARTER LUCAS

"With his love of children an impelling force during his entire life and the constant desire to be helpful to everyone, both young and old, Mr. Lucas has endeared himself to the entire community which has long appreciated his unselfish and considerate actions in many fields of endeavor," was the remark made by one who has long known of Mr. Lucas' varied activities.

"Emerson Lucas, since making his home in Florence, has entered into every worthwhile activity for the betterment and advancement of the community. He has given of himself and his means generously and never has he turned down a call for his services no matter by whom or for whom, as long as he felt that he might make a worthwhile contribution to the cause," this friend continued.

Mr. Emerson Carter Lucas was born in Rogersville, Ohio, December 27, 1886, the son of John Henry and Viola Carter Lucas. At a very early age, the family moved to Ironton, Ohio, where his grandfather, one of the builders of this community, made his home.

Mr. Lucas' education has been most unusual. As a boy of six, he attended Griffin's Preparatory School in Old Lyme, Conn., then The Hill School at Pottstown, Pa., and later, Ohio University at Marietta, Ohio.

Apparently tiring of formal education, Emerson Lucas began his travels at the age of 18, which took him every continent on the globe, except Africa. "Travel and books have been my teachers," Mr. Lucas said.

Spending much time in far off places, has certainly contributed to his love of people and the appreciation of their qualities. As a very young man, Emerson Lucas took to the high roads which led him into countries that are now in the public eye. At one time, he worked his way on a cattle boat in order to satisfy his desire to visit new and distant places. In most of his travel, however, he was fortunate enough to be financially able to pay for his passage.

As a young man, he held many responsible positions with the railroads and traveled over this country in his work. He was associated with some of the leaders in this field, and his contacts proved of inestimable value in the years that followed.

On May 20, 1914, Mr. Lucas was married to Marguerite May Jurey of Pee Wee Valley, Ky., and they have one daughter, Mrs. Lee R. (Nancy) Kirk of Summit, N. J. There was one son, Lt. Carter "Sonny" Lucas of the U.S. Air Force who lost his life in combat in the China-Burma-India theatre in World War II.

While making his home in Nashville, Mr. Lucas was active in the building and opening of the YWCA there, and served on several of its more important committees. Along with several others, he organized the first Nashville Aquatic Club, featuring swimming and staging competitive meets.

He has always been actively interested in athletics, but swimming and basketball have been his chief interests in this field. At Nashville, he won the state "Plunge for Distance" award.

Upon coming to Florence in January, 1922, he immediately identified himself with civic and church organizations. As a member of the Rotary Club, he and an interested group joined with members of the Exchange Club to establish Camp Rotex, which was located in Wildwood Park. Any number of our present business and professional men attended this camp when young.

Through this same group of men, the first Boy Scout council, the Andrew Jackson Council, was formed. Under the direction of this group, the larger Boy Scout council was organized, emanating from the first troop started here by Dr. D. W. Hollingsworth. Mr. Lucas served as commissioner for a number of years. Also, for several years he was AAU Commissioner for North Alabama and supervised amateur and Golden Gloves boxing.

When he came to Florence, he, with Hugh Jolly, organized the Jolly & Lucas Co., brokers, but later he bought the interest of Mr. Jolly, thereafter operating the business under the name of Emerson Lucas Co. He retired from active business a few years ago.

Mr. Lucas has been most active in the affairs of Trinity Episcopal Church, having served for several years on its Vestry. He has been a lay reader there for many years. At present, he is a Trustee of Trinity Corporation, and chairman of its Memorial Committee.

During World War I, he was railroad administrator at Camp Greene, Charlotte, N. C. In World War II, he served with the Red Cross as Field Director, spending eighteen months in India. He is a member of the Sons of the American Revolution. He also serves as a member of the Red Cross Executive Committee of the local chapter.

His interest in children and young people has led him, down many paths. Many years ago he conceived the idea of having a conversation with them, and speaking as though he was Old Santa, himself. These children are now grown, but they nor their parents will never forget the thrill of looking forward each year, at Christmas-time to that call from Santa, not to mention the satisfaction Mr. Lucas derived from it.

Late News

Sen. John F. Kennedy speaking before the American Legion's annual convention in Miami Tuesday said Cuba has been lost to the Communists under the administration of which Vice President Richard M. Nixon is a part. Nixon also addressing the convention came back with a proposal to "quarantine the Castro regime as an intolerable cancer." Each of the presidential candidates wore his blue and gold Legion cap.

Federal attorneys Tuesday tried in vain to have a state court injunction set aside so they could proceed as scheduled with Highway Director Sam Englehardt's Hatch Act hearing. U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson, Jr., took jurisdiction of the legal dispute growing out of charges of improper political activity, but refused to set aside the injunction without a hearing. He left the state court order in force pending a hearing in Federal Court on Nov. 16. The state injunction was issued by Judge Walter B. Jones Monday.

The United States acted Wednesday to place tight curbs on American business dealings with Cuba. All exports to Cuba except for medicines, certain medical supplies and food produced without federal subsidy. Simultaneously the Maritime Administration made it illegal for American-owned ships to be sold, transferred or chartered to Cuban interests unless the agency approves.

Three million dollars worth of jewelry and stocks was taken Monday night from the home of retired broker Raoul Fernandez, 50, of West Hollywood. He is the widower of Catherine Johnson Chandler Fernandez, whom officers described as an heiress to the Coca-Cola fortune. The burglary took place while Fernandez, who lives alone, was out to dinner.

KEEP BIGOTRY OUT OF CAMPAIGN IS PLEA

Editor In a few short weeks Americans will go to the polls to elect a President, in addition, we will elect Senators, Congressmen and Governors. The candidates for these political posts will vary in religious and ethnic backgrounds, but no matter what their backgrounds may be, all are entitled to fair play—to a campaign free of prejudice or bigotry.

No religious group and no ethnic group can claim a monopoly on patriotism or devotion to the nation's welfare. This is a virtue which all loyal Americans share—a fact that underlines our past history, growth and progress, as a democratic nation.

To preserve this tradition we cannot allow the religiously prejudiced to distort the issues or to defile our democratic election procedures. Any appeal for or against any candidate based on religion is contrary to American principles.

In the 1928 presidential campaign appeals to religious bigotry marred the democratic process. In that election many citizens were urged to cast their ballots to select the highest officer of the Republic on grounds no fair-minded person could defend.

Since then, a new generation of Americans has grown up, a generation which has shown signs of understanding the deep relation between religious tolerance and true democracy. Their understanding of religious freedom will be put to a critical test during the 1960 presidential campaign. This time, the entire world will be watching to see whether we Americans now fully subscribe to George Washington's proposition that we give "to bigotry no sanction."

HALTON ASKS SUPPORT RANDOLPH CO. AMENDMENT

Editor: In the general election on November 8 the people of Alabama will be called upon to consider the ratification of a constitutional amendment pertaining to Randolph County which would enable the citizens of that county to decide if they want to impose an additional 5 mill property tax.

This 5 mill tax applicable only to Randolph County in the Roanoke School District would be used to retire a bond issue previously made and the resulting funds would be used to construct a new high school. Their present high school was condemned several years ago by state inspectors and the people of that district are very much desirous of obtaining a new school building.

Our friends in Randolph County are asking us to help them secure a favorable state-wide vote on this contemplated constitutional amendment. If the Randolph County amendment is approved on a state-wide basis, the voters in Randolph County will then have an opportunity to vote on a special election on the same proposition.

I respectfully urge the voters of Lauderdale County to vote favorably on this constitutional amendment applicable only to Roanoke County.

Medical Aid For

Aged Step Nearer

Alabama is moving fast to take advantage of more federal funds available under the new medical care for the aged program.

Beginning this month, payments to the nearly 1,700 pensioners confined to nursing homes will go directly to the nursing home administrators. In this way, Alabama can claim federal funds for 80 per cent of the cost instead of the 65 per cent as previously.

Gov. John Patterson said this should result in a "saving" in state funds of some $300,000 during this fiscal year.

"This alone could give us a medical care program of about $1½ million since the new law matches four federal dollars for every state dollar," the governor said. "We plan to put a medical care plan for all needy old people into effect just as soon as possible."

Annexation plans include taking in a half mile to the east of the city and a half mile to the west. Mayor Hudson indicated it would be left to a vote of the people. He said the town is operating comfortably within a budget of $18,000.

Newspapers Have

Important Role

President Says Reporters

Keep "Open Society"

By Accurate Reporting

In his annual message to the newspapers of the nation on the occasion of National Newspaper Week, President Eisenhower cited newspaper reporters for helping keep an "open society" by reporting the news accurately and promptly.

The President said that the 1960 NNW theme, "Your Newspapers—Freedom's Guardian," is a timely theme in a year of national elections and a year of great decisions in lands around the world.

"In our newspapers, we expect to find accurate, responsible and lively source of public information," the President wrote.

"We live in an 'open society' and by reporting the news accurately and promptly to us, our reporters help to keep it open. At the same time, we live in a threatening world where news can be distorted and exploited by the enemies of freedom. So for freedom's sake our newspapers, too, must be zealously guarded by the sentinels of truth and vigilance."

National Newspaper Week, now in its 21st year was initiated and is sponsored by Newspaper Association Managers, Inc., an organization of executive heads of national, regional and state newspaper publishers and press associations.

Newspapers promote National Newspaper Week, not from selfish reasons but to emphasize our basic and vital freedoms, the partnership of press and people and the need for everyone dedication and diligence in the eternal effort to preserve these freedoms.

This year's slogan... "Your Newspaper, Freedom's Guardian."

THE SPILLWAY

New friends as silver; old friends, gold,
As we travel the road to life's end...
But don't forget that we are told
The DOG is "Man's best friend!"

LISTENING IN ON dog lovers' conversation the other day we learned something... that the French poodle, a comparatively new breed of dogs, is "catching on" in our fair city... the R. B. Colemans should lead the list with their Pierrette, which has just presented her owners with five puppies that will be up for all kinds of pedigrees... that puts the Colemans even with the Elton Darbys who have six poodles—one for each child... then Aline Mullen has Mopsy, a "native" of England's Poodledom... the "Buster" Arnetts own Beau-Jaques, a handsome silver-miniature... the Charles Phillips have Fifi... now wouldn't all these poodles make a nice dog show? Maybe that's next!

SUCH EXCITEMENT WAS IN THE AIR over the Saturday wedding of Otto Perriett and Clara Smith, of Nashville... if you remember, this is a match that Madame Spillway wanted to expedite several weeks ago, and we're very happy over it all... Hear that the bridal couple were very accommodating... the hour of the wedding, 9 a.m. was set so to make it possible for brother-to-the-groom Fuzzy (and Noel) to make the Auburn-Tech game in Birmingham.

BROAD BEAMING SMILES must've been on the faces of Edna Earle and Thomas Smith, and of Billie and Frank Hassell, as they met their daughters, Susan and Mary Brown, in Knoxville for the Alabama-Tennessee game Saturday... Susan from Hollins College and Mary Brown from Sullins College... hear both girls are already doing their hometown proud in their respective colleges... there for the same game were the (Dr.) Fred McCollums and the Bevil Kilgore... wonder if they weren't all proud to see our young Florentine Gary Simpson, who, we hear, is in Alabama's Million Dollar Band.

Also bringing fame to her hometown is Virginia Hastings, daughter of Alice and Atherton... having graduated from Oberlin College, she is now planning to enter Dartmouth to work on her doctorate in Anthropology... she spent some time in Alaska studying the life of the natives of the Arctic region... we just know that we can expect big things from this young lady!

ADDING COLOR to the recent house warming for Dr. Bill and Winnie Butler in Hickory Hills and... WE DO MEAN COLOR... was a live tame Mallard duck presented by Lake and Doodles Tate... others sharing this lively affair were Dr. John and Evelyn Carter, Dr. Quint and Ann Langstaff, John and Frances Doolittle, Dr. Bobby and Jim Zickler and Sarah and Al Phillips.

A NICE ASSIGNMENT FOR SOME READER of this column, many of whom have expressed an interest in the theater trains we hear talked about from other cities... remember Louise Paxton joined one from Louisville several years ago?... anyway, couldn't some enterprising reader get up a Florence train? Hear that one is leaving from Decatur soon... we should keep up!

A CHARMING AND POPULAR VISITOR, with every minute filled by friends wishing to compliment and entertain, is Agnes Preston, from Charleston, S. C. She is here for a week's visit with her cousin, Mary (Hollingsworth) Hatfield and family... she is particularly enjoying cute little Agnes Kemper, the two-year-old Hatfield, who is her namesake.

SPEAKING OF the Palisades Drive-Sorrento Road neighborhood... we'd like to say that it seems to be the gayest section of town... since mid-summer there has been a neighborhood party every Saturday night for the nine-to-fifteen-year-olds—which they say enlists around 35 members... Hear that Amelia Mitchell turned down an exciting ball-game week end with her family in Birmingham just so that she wouldn't miss one of these Saturday night affairs.

KNOW YOU WILL BE PLEASED TO KNOW what we have just heard... that Hazel Breland, former popular Florentine and Florence State English teacher will be here in her present professional capacity—American Red Cross worker—some time in November. Hope she will make these visits more frequent from now on.

DID YOU HEAR, as many did, the lovely organ concert presented by our local chapter of the American Guild of Organists Sunday? Mr. Kenneth Turvey, of Huntsville gave us a real treat, and we want to congratulate this fine, comparatively new organization, for its contribution to the cultural life of our community.

SO INTERESTED in watching the beautiful home of the Otto Spagakes go up... hear that the inside is going to be "out of this world," and from what we can see, the outside will be equally lovely... also showing lots of promise is the Milburn Zeff home, making good "headway" out on Palisades Drive, and close to this is the just-beginning-homes of the Max Levinsons and of Charlotte Olim, on adjoining lots.

For now, GOOD-BYE UNTIL MORE NEWS COMES THROUGH THE SPILLWAY.

Let The Herald Print It!

Veterans' Column

State Dept. of Veterans' Affairs

Governor Bert Combs has signed a bill which extends Kentucky's veterans bonus to ALL the state's veterans, including those residing in other states. It's estimated that about 100-thousand out-of-state Kentuckians could be affected. They would receive up to $300 for stateside and $500 for foreign service participation in the Spanish-American War, World War I and II or Korea.

The bonus was approved by the voters of Kentucky last November, but the Legislature eliminated veterans who did not live in Kentucky at that time. After a clamor by out-of-state veterans, the Governor called the Legislature into special session and the bonus bill was revised.

But no veteran has received a penny so far. Three court challenges have prevented the state from floating a bond issue to raise the payment money. At the present time, officials are guessing that payments will start going out before Christmas.

Out-of-state Kentucky veterans can get bonus applications by writing the Veterans Division, Department of Military Affairs, Frankfort.

State To Benefit When Tax Reduced

The scheduled one-cent reduction in the federal gasoline tax next June 30 will bring an increase of more than $225 million a year in funds available for the nation's interstate highway construction program, the Alabama Petroleum Council noted today.

"Highway construction will benefit, not suffer, with expiration of the temporary gasoline levy," James J. Britton, Director, pointed out.

"Congress has provided that when the federal tax drops back to three cents, some $802 million a year in automotive excise taxes that now go into the general fund of the U.S. Treasury will then be earmarked for roadbuilding. This is well over $225 million more than now comes from the temporary one-cent gasoline levy, according to House Report 1120 presented in the last session of Congress," he noted.

Under terms of that legislation, Britton said, $690 million from the excise tax on new cars and $112 million from taxes on automobile parts will go to the highway fund instead of the General Fund as of July 1.

Temper Tantrums Call For Patience

A temper tantrum by a two-year-old child is upsetting to both child and parent.

But Elta Majors, Auburn University Extension family life specialist, says with proper handling, he will come through this stage without ill effects. Since the small child's world is growing rapidly, he wants to explore it and make a few decisions of his own. But now that he can walk and talk, he suddenly is expected to obey "stop signs," and he naturally reacts to them with anger and resistance.

What can be done about these bursts of temper? Preventing them is better than having to cure them. Hunger and tiredness make them more likely to happen, so the wise parent sees to it that his child has enough sleep and gets his meals on time. And since he especially needs proof that the parent loves him, Miss Majors says a show of affection will often prevent the insecure feeling from which temper spells stem.

A prune is a variety of plum which can be dried without fermenting when the pit is left in.

Tele-Course Aid Literacy Project

FSC Conducts Research; Four Other Colleges Enlisted In Program

Four higher learning institutions today have been named as research participants in the Alabama Literacy Project. The Project seeks to educate the 70,000 adults in Alabama who cannot read nor write. It is being conducted by Florence State College in cooperation with the Alabama Educational TV network.

Officially notifying Project head Dr. E. B. Norton of their willingness to assist in the effectiveness of teaching these adults to read and write have been the Presidents of Birmingham-Southern, Jacksonville State, Stillman and Talladega Colleges. In addition, of course, will Florence State. Meanwhile the telecourses have started on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights at 8:30, however, Project Director Nell Pearson states rural home viewers who cannot attend a training center can still enroll for the course at home. She notes that a relative or friend could visit the home to assist the student in gaining the most benefit from the TV lessons. The needed books, pads, etc. can be obtained from Literacy, Florence State College.

Football Roundup

The Walker County Vikings are next on the agenda for the unbeaten Coffee Yellow Jackets after the Florence entry recorded victory number 5 last Friday night with a 32-6 triumph over the invading Athens Golden Eagles in the homecoming contest at Coffee Stadium. Walker offers a major problem for Coach Joe Gram's entry as Coffee has never been able to triumph, the nearest to a win being a 13-13 deadlock in 1956.

Lexington reached the high point of their gridiron comeback Friday night with a solid 12-6 thumping of previously unbeaten Tanner, rated one of the top aggregations in the state in their class. It wasn't an easy victory, and after several mediocre seasons, the Lexington Golden Bears have at last arrived at a football school to be reckoned with.

The Central Wildcats slipped by the Hazlewood Golden Bears last Friday night, 13-6. According to Central Coach "Hot" Linville, they were lucky to win and were going to have to cut down on those penalties.

Florence State drew first blood last Saturday night, but could not contain a powerful Southeastern Louisiana team and went down to a 32-6 defeat. FSC dominated play in the first half and led by a 6-0 margin until the last 35 seconds before the half when Southeastern scored and took the lead by 7-6, never losing the lead thereafter. FSC will play their homecoming game this Saturday when they meet Troy State.

Jesse Stewart's Rogers Pirates rolled up a touchdown in each of the first two periods here last Thursday night in handling Rogersville, a 13-0 defeat before an overwhelming homecoming crowd. The victory gave the Pirates a 2-4 record for the season. Rogersville's record is now 1-6.

Long runs proved the downfall last Thursday night for the Hatton Hornets, as the Falkville Blue Devils moved to a 25-14 victory. The Hornets, after tying the contest in the first quarter, saw Falkville return a kickoff 90 yards to go ahead and stay there the rest of the night.

Farm records can point to profits.

PIRATES DEFEAT YANKEES IN 1960 WORLD SERIES

The Pittsburgh Pirates proved that impressive records do not win a World Series, when they soundly trounced Casey Stengel's vaunted Yankees 10 to 9 Thursday in the last and one of the most thrilling games in series history.

Although the Yankees chalked up 55 runs from their 91 hits, an all-time record, the Pirates took the series with less than half as many runs and less than two-thirds as many hits. Scores of the seven games follow: First game—Pittsburgh 6-4; Second game—New York 16-3; Third game—New York 10-6; Fourth game—Pittsburgh 3-2; Fifth game—Pittsburgh 5-2; Sixth game—New York 12-0; Seventh game—Pittsburgh 10-9.

State Observes Credit Union Day

Proclamation Honors
CUNA; 8000 Members
In Tri-Cities Area

Today International Credit Union Day and for more than 4,000 members of 29 credit unions in the Tri-Cities area, it is a day of celebration and thanksgiving for the credit union way to personal financial security. Local credit unions are joining with more than 24,500 credit unions in North America and many more around the world in observance of this day.

In Alabama where there are 290 credit unions with over 150,000 members, the observance today was officially launched by a proclamation from Governor John Patterson who urged the people to give fitting recognition at this time to the many benefits brought to them through credit unions. "On this occasion, I extend to the leaders and members of the credit unions of Alabama my greetings, congratulations, and sincere wishes for continued success in serving their fellowmen."

The Credit Union National Association (CUNA) is an independent, nonprofit organization working for the advancement of economic democracy through credit unions. It is entirely supported by the dues of its member credit unions. CUNA voted in May, 1958 to extend its membership to include credit unions around the world.

Alabama is presently divided into six credit union districts. There are seven credit union chapters in the state. These chapters provide a medium for credit union fellowship and an exchange of knowledge between credit unions in a certain geographical area.

The Alabama Credit Union League, located in Birmingham, is the state association for credit unions. More than 90% of the Alabama credit unions belong to the League.

Alabama's Rural Library Fund Over $200,000

State To Match Amount
As Hill Act Extended
For Another Five Years

Senator Lister Hill has announced that Alabama's share of federal matching funds for rural library services during fiscal 1961 will be more than $200,000. The funds are available through the Hill Library Services Act of 1956. This Act recently was extended for an additional five years. The extension bill was sponsored and guided to passage in the Senate by the Senior Alabama Senator.

Under the "Hill formula," which provides higher federal participation to the relatively lower income states, Alabama must put up a minimum matching requirement of 34%, or approximately $107,000, in order to be eligible during fiscal 1961 for federal funds totaling $207,576.

The Library Services Act was designed to extend public library services to all areas of Alabama and the other states. In Alabama an estimated three-quarters of a million persons have benefited through new or improved bookmobile and other library services since the inception of the Act in 1956.

FSC Enrollment Reaches 1,845

Registration shows that 1,845 undergraduates are enrolled at Florence State College for the fall semester. This is an increase of more than 100 students as compared to last year.

Twenty-three post graduates bring the total to 1,868, 18 more than was predicted by college officials.

The freshman class is the largest with 890 students. Sophomores rank next with 416. There are 304 juniors and 180 seniors. Thirty-five special students and 14 part-time students complete the list.

Under the stimulus of the Hill Act, Alabama, as of 1960, increased its own participation in programs for library services by more than fifty per cent.

Commenting on the latest allocation of funds for Alabama, Senator Hill said: "I am delighted that our Library Services program in Alabama continues to go forward toward our goal of bringing these services within the reach of every man, woman and child in our State."

Soil Test Drive Sets Goal Of 2000 Samples

Plants have appetites just as you and farm animals do. But, unfortunately, County Agent L. T. Wagnon said today, plants can't vary their available foods at will to match their appetites for a balanced diet.

This is where an alert farmer can enter the picture. No need to wait until crops show ring-streaked, speckled, spotted signs and blotchy discoloration. A farmer can get help beforehand by having a soil test made to detect nutrient deficiencies even before planting.

Mr. Wagnon said that a soil test will help each farmer to determine how much and what kind of each fertilizer element he should add to produce a heavy, healthy yield of any crop.

"We are putting on a drive to get 2000 soil samples delivered to the County Agent's office, Florence, Alabama, on or before 5:00 P.M., October 31. A truck, furnished by Farm Service and Supply Company, will deliver all samples to the Soil Testing Laboratory, Auburn, Alabama, free of charge, soon after October 31," Mr. Wagnon said.

Samples may be taken after October 31, but, in that case, they will have to be mailed to the laboratory. Cost of shipment by mail runs from 35c to 50c per sample. Urge the people to get in on the free truck deal to the laboratory.

People who send samples on this truck will receive fertilizer recommendations within three weeks after the samples reach the laboratory.

Sample boxes, shipping cartons, and instructions on how to take and package samples are available at the County Agent's office and at all five vocational agriculture schools in the county. The containers and instructions are free. Samples may be taken from fields that will be planted to corn, cotton, feed, and hay crops next spring, and from pastures and perennial crops that are already planted. All people should take samples from gardens, lawns, flowerbeds, and around shrubbery. This applies to city dwellers as well as farm people. City dwellers should be urged to take advantage of this program.

The cost of analysis for each sample is $1.00.

Mr. Wagnon suggests that all people visit the county agent's office, vocational agriculture teachers, or other agricultural workers for information and instructions on how to take samples properly.

Four Injured In Two-Car Wreck

Four persons were taken to Eliza Coffee Memorial Hospital last Sunday night after a two-car crash at the intersection of Florence Boulevard and Georgia Avenue in Florence. The two cars involved were driven by Harold Smith of Marietta, Miss., and Paul Butler of North Crown Street, Florence.

Injured were Doris Butler, 12, Florence; Pauline Butler, 33, Florence; Debra Butler, 10 months, Florence; and Covell Phillips, 61, Cherry Hill Homes.

The Butler auto was demolished and the Smith auto was estimated at $300 damage.

Cattle need a balanced diet, too. This year's turkey crop may set a record since producers intend to increase their crop six per cent over last year.

PIPELINERS OF ENERGY

Satellite Power Units Cut Pipelining Costs

Demand for natural gas changes radically during the year. Frigid winter storms skyrocket demand for this clean-burning, high-energy fuel.

Moving peak demand volumes requires extra horsepower. To make extra horsepower available at minimum expense, Texas Eastern has developed "satellite" compressor stations that operate during the heating season. The remotely controlled stations, powered by the world's largest gas turbines for pipelines, can be put in action instantly by throwing a switch at the controlling station 30 miles away.

Savings in operating costs by use of satellite stations enable Texas Eastern to meet peak demands economically. As Pipeliner of Energy to the Nation, Texas Eastern is constantly alert to new ideas and ways to increase efficiency and economy of pipeline transportation.

FREEDOM

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK

Exalted Ruler William F. Baker announced today that Florence Alabama Elks Lodge will honor members of the Florence, Alabama, press during National Newspaper Week, October 15-21, "for their patriotic service to the community and nation in upholding freedom of the press, one of our most precious rights."

Mr. Baker said that Florence, Alabama, Lodge would be among 1,940 Lodges of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks honoring America's free press during the 21st annual National Newspaper Week observance. The theme for the event is "YOUR NEWSPAPER—FREEDOM'S GUARDIAN."

"In recent months we have seen, right in our own back yard, how vital a free press is to the survival of a free people," Mr. Baker declared. "When the Communists moved in on Cuba, their very first step was to seize the press, thereby cutting off the people from access to the truth."

The Elks leader urged every Florence resident who values his heritage of freedom to "join with us during the week of October 15-21 in a tribute to one of its staunchest defenders—the American free press."

Exalted Ruler Baker named Adin Batson, Grand Tiler, Chairman of Florence Lodge's National Newspaper Week Committee to plan the local observance. Other Committeemen named were Gray L. Lovelace, Chairman of Board of Trustees and John E. Marshall, Secretary.

Mr. Baker said that participation in the annual salute to the nation's press has been one of the Elk's major patriotic activities since 1949.

Due to better farming and marketing practices, perishable fruits and vegetables can be obtained from the grocery store the year around.

Dairying is the greatest single source of farm income in America. And one of every five dollars in cash receipts from farm products is a dairy dollar.

Foods of the Future

SCHOOLS OF FISH IN CARS!

Since channel dredging and oyster tonging change conditions on the ocean floor, fish are faced with unfamiliar scenes that affect their hatching habits, feeding and general welfare.

Alabama seafood experts tried sinking junked jalopy cars to provide the protection and shade that fish need to flourish. Fish liked this "housing project" so well that conservationists also are sinking discarded dry docks as fish shelters, which prove to be as popular with the fish as the cars are!

New production methods may mean more of many better foods for your table, to be enjoyed with tried-and-tested BEER and ALE. These wholesome beverages will go well with "Foods of the Future" just as they do with foods of today!

Come to Church for Services

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER — STAYS TOGETHER"

The gong sounded! I dashed from the office into the crowded street, and hurried on into the fading sunlight. The bell in the familiar old church tower was striking five. I had made it again! I would reach the commuters' train and be in my suburban home at the usual hour.

As I rushed past the church, chimes sounded melodiously over the busy, struggling mass of humanity. Suddenly, I stopped in the midst of it. Why this mad rush day after day? Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow would be the same. But today the chimes recalled to me a sense of peace and purpose, a satisfaction once experienced in the fellowship of worship and friendship.

The commuters' train was forgotten as I entered the vast, semi-lighted church. From far up at the marble altar came the words of a prayer: "O God, our Heavenly Father . . . the endless tide of business, toil, and care moves on around us. Go with us and bless us who have stopped within this holy place of prayer for one brief moment to be refreshed by thy love, and quieted by thy peace." The organ took up the response and the "Amen" soared upward as I knelt in grateful prayer. "Never again," I resolved, "shall I deprive myself of the security and satisfaction of regular church attendance and worship. My place in the little suburban church shall be filled on each Lord's Day."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Farm Review and Forecast

Eggs Important And Nutritious

Change the name of October to Eggtober on your calendar. Egg producers are reminding us this month eggs are "tops" as a food to develop and maintain healthy bodies.

Eggs contain proteins, carbohydrates, and fats necessary for good health, says Jim Hubbard, Auburn Extension poultry specialist. And as an added attraction they also contain all the essential amino acids, vitamins A, D, E, K, and the B complexes.

Besides being so nutritious, weight-watchers will be glad to know that they are also low in calories as compared with most foods.

When pinning a corsage on a dress, push a small eraser over the lead pencil over the end of the pin to keep it from sticking you.

Farm Loan Law Recently Revised

Farmers With Regular Off-Farm Employment Eligible Under Ruling

Farmers who have regular off-farm employment, if otherwise eligible, may obtain farm operating and development loans from the Farmers Home Administration, under the recently revised regulations of the agency.

Lecil C. Mixon is Farmers Home Administration county supervisor for Lauderdale County. The new regulation became effective October 1. Previously, except in rural development counties, a farmer had to spend most of his time farming in order to qualify for a loan.

The regulation, which had previously limited credit assistance to farmers who spend most of their time farming, prevented some from obtaining the maximum income from their farms and from taking advantage of opportunities for industrial and other off-farm employment.

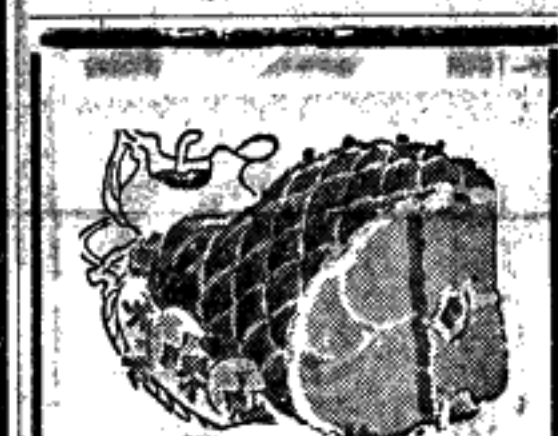

Other eligibility requirements remain unchanged. Applicants must have sufficient farm experience to carry on sound farm operations, must need credit, and be unable to obtain financial assistance from other sources. As in the past, credit will be extended only to operators of farms that are family-type size or smaller.

The Farmers Home Administration office serving Lauderdale county is located at 605 South Seminary Street. The agency also supplies credit for farm housing and soil and water conservation.

Carpets Ruined By High Heels

If your carpeting is showing signs of premature wear, it may be due to the latest fashion in women's spiked shoes, stiletto heels.

Rabbit Hunters Beware Tularemia

Rabbit season is in, and here's a word of caution for rabbit hunters from Earl E. Kennamer, Auburn Extension wildlife specialist.

Although the chance is probably less than one in 10,000 in this warm weather, there is a danger of contracting tularemia or "rabbit fever" from infected animals. Rabbits with this disease are sluggish. If you shoot one that didn't run fast, don't handle the carcass.

After shooting a rabbit, cut him open and inspect the liver. If the liver is well speckled with white, there is a possibility the animal is infected; however, one or two white spots on a normal-colored liver need not cause alarm. A good protective measure while handling or skinning the carcass is to wear gloves.

After the first sharp freeze, these sick rabbits usually die. And the danger of infection is lessened. Although tularemia is no longer considered a fatal disease, it is still a serious malady.

Extension Service home furnishings specialist And shoes with these heels usually have spear-pointed toes; also, when the heels and toes wear down, they leave a ragged and razor-sharp edge that dig into carpeting. They not only cause sprouts, snags and loops, but they can also cut the pile, puncture the carpet backing, and scuff and bruise the yarn.

There seems to be no way right now to coordinate the fashion in women's shoes and care for the carpeting at the same time, says Miss Peavy. However, changing your shoes when you enter the house will help some.

Profit More By Good Planning

The farm manager who does the best job of analyzing and planning the farm business will most likely make the most profit. And this is especially true during these years of declining net farm income and a continuous cost-price squeeze.

After harvesting this year's crop, farmers will spend valuable time planning methods to insure greater profits for the future. Charles Maddox, Auburn Extension Farm Management Specialist, says that one way to develop an effective farm plan is to study and analyze crop and livestock records from the past few years.

The most important item to look for is net profit. Some of the key factors are yields per acre, number of pigs marketed per brood sow, pounds of milk produced per cow, and output per man.

As a result of a keen analysis, Maddox says that strong and weak points can be identified. Strong points can be used to an advantage while weak points suggest the possibility of eliminating enterprises or making needed adjustments to insure more profit.

Take Care Of That Idle Gin

With cotton ginning almost finished, gin owners are busy preparing gins for the idle months. Some of the important things that they are doing include cleaning machinery, removing flat belts, rustproofing gin saws and ribs, and hanging up brushes from cleaners, extractors, and gin stands. Locking the door is the last important thing. Fire occur more frequently in unlocked gins, reminds Lawrence Ennis, Auburn Extension engineer. And open doors are invitations to borrowers and thieves.

Waterloo Chapter Has Good Start

The Waterloo vocational agriculture and FFA program is off to a good start this year. There are a total of 51 boys enrolled in the three classes. All committees were appointed at the last chapter meeting and are now in the process of getting down to work. Activities for the chapter seem to be off to a successful year as it won first place and $100 in cash for an exhibit at the North Alabama State Fair. The chapter plans to use the money won to purchase new shop equipment.

During the month of October members of the Waterloo chapter will be taking part in a soil testing program with a cash prize being given for the most samples.

APPLICATIONS TAKEN FOR TREE SEEDLINGS

The Alabama Department of Conservation's Division of Forestry has announced that applications for tree seedlings would continue to be accepted as long as the supply lasts.

All applications for seedlings should be sent to the State Forester, Alabama Department of Conservation, Division of Forestry, 64 North Union Street, Montgomery, Alabama.

This year's shipping season starts Dec. 1, two weeks later than last year.

GARDEN RESIDUE BREEDS INSECTS

Next year's garden will be safer from insect and disease damage if you start working now.

Fall is the time to get rid of old stalks and other plant residue which is a good breeding and feeding place for harmful insects and diseases, says Troy Keeble, Auburn Extension horticulturist.

Stalks and plant debris are used for organic matter, but Keeble says that if insects and diseases have been prevalent, it is better to remove and burn this material than to turn it under.

Prevention is the best cure for most crop diseases.

ALABAMA FARMERS DENIED FEDERAL 'DISASTER AID'

The Federal government has ruled that Alabama farmers are not eligible for a disaster designation and an emergency feed grain program at this time.

Following a mid-summer drought, Gov. John Patterson had asked Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson to declare a number of hard-hit counties as disaster areas.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture said recent rains have improved pastures and that corn is now being harvested. The government made his request in early August during a long dry spell.

The tallow that the calf furnishes is essential for lubricating jet aircraft.

IT IS REQUIRED THAT YOU SEE PSYCHO FROM THE VERY BEGINNING—

Surely you do not have your meat course after your dessert at dinner. You will therefore understand why we are so insistent that you enjoy PSYCHO from start to finish, exactly as we intended that it be served.

We won't allow you to cheat yourself. Every theatre manager, everywhere, has been instructed to admit no one after the start of each performance of PSYCHO. We said no one—not even the manager's brother, the President of the United States or the Queen of England (God bless her).

To help you cooperate with this extraordinary policy, we are listing the starting times below. Treasure them with your life—or better yet, read them and act accordingly.
