

The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

Rivers Wiggins tells us that he has about lost faith in Santa Claus. "Why last year," he said, "Santa brought me a fine repeating shotgun, a case of shells, a hunting coat and a red cap—but not a single quail or squirrel for me to shoot at."

If you have a cold, the season's the reason.

Speaking of Santa Claus, we understand that two youngsters were discussing a visit they had paid to a certain St. Nick employed by a store to entertain small fry. One of the little guys insisted that Santa Claus had come direct from the North Pole. This was questioned by the other, who asked: "How do you know?" "I know he came from up in that cold country because you could smell the anti-freeze when you got close to him."

Time is like money. Just having it is not half as important as having it when you need it.

SENATOR BERT HALTOM
Lt. Gov. Candidate?

The demand that Lauderdale's Senator Bert Haltom enter the race for Lieutenant Governor grows louder and louder and we are anxiously awaiting his decision. From all we hear he would stand No. 1 in the race as of now... and now, of course, is the time to make that long awaited announcement. It has been many moons since this county has had a candidate for a state-wide office and we are most fortunate today that we have a potential candidate that is recognized throughout the state as the best in the field for Alabama's second highest office. From some rumblings we have heard, we feel that an announcement will be forthcoming shortly. We hope this is true so that all of us can get behind our candidate and assure his election. By so doing, we can bring honor to our county and a distinct service to our state. Governor Haltom sounds mighty good to us.

Harboring resentment brings unhappiness for both parties. A handshake often brings forgetfulness along with forgiveness.

An old timer was shopping with his wife the other night when they chanced on one of the numerous Santa Clauses. As he looked the old boy over, he remarked to his wife: "Santa used to seem old to me—now we're about the same age."

We read where a man sold his car after failing his driver's test for the 21st time.

A recent survey shows that there are 22 million snorers in the United States. These are divided into wheezers, gurglers, whistlers, hissers, sighers, buzzers, rasps and snorters. Now what division does your husband come under? Of course wives never snore.

There comes a time in life when a ramp seems as steep as a step ladder. And we know what we're talking about.

I'm sorry the president of the company is not in," explained his secretary. "May I call in a vice-president?" "No," snapped the visitor, "I never deal with underlings. I'll wait for the president." The visitor took a chair—and the day wore on. Shortly before 5 o'clock, the visitor approached the secretary and asked: "When will the president be in?" "In about two weeks," the secretary replied. "He left yesterday on his vacation."

At the nation's capitol, you hear a lot of talk about a Congressman throwing his weight around. Someone went to the trouble of adding it up. There are 39 tons of Congressmen in the House and nine tons in the Senate.

County Has 29,774 Acres

Cotton Growers To Vote On Quotas December 12

The cotton quota vote coming up on Dec. 12 will mark the ninth consecutive year in which growers have voted on marketing quotas for their upland cotton crop. A. J. Darby, Jr., Chairman, Lauderdale County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today.

"Beginning with the referendum on marketing quotas for the 1954 crop, growers have approved quotas for each year's cotton crop," he stated. In the vote last year, on quotas for the 1961 upland cotton crop, 96.6 percent of the growers voting approved the quotas.

By law, quotas must be proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture in years when the cotton supply exceeds normal. The estimated 1961-1962 supply of upland cotton exceeds the estimated normal supply by 2.5 million bales.

For 1962, the Chairman explained, Lauderdale County has a total of 29,774 acres available for allotment to growers on which to grow their upland cotton crop. This represents the County's share of the national allotment acreage of 18,101,718 acres, which includes 100,000 acres from the national acreage reserve to take care of minimum farm allotments.

Individual farm allotments will be available to producers in advance of the Dec. 12 referendum.

If at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum approve quotas for the 1962 upland cotton crop, price supports will be available to growers who comply with their farm allotments at the full effective level, and marketing quota penalties will apply to any "excess" cotton produced on a farm.

If more than one-third of the voters oppose quotas for the 1962 crop, the allotment program will remain in effect, and price support will be available to cooperators at 50 percent of parity, as provided by law.

All farmers who engage in the production of upland cotton in 1961 are eligible to vote in the Dec. 12 referendum.

Fire Guts Dixie Tire Company

Dixie Tire Company of Florence was gutted by flames Friday morning at 8:15, a major portion of which was destroyed despite efforts of Florence firemen. The roof over the office area and wash and grease racks caved in to increase the damage.

Fire Chief Bob Lovelace said a possible cause of the blaze was that some big hot water tanks may have overheated causing fire to break out. He said about four hundred truck tires were stored upstairs and had caught on fire. The blaze was contained and did not damage nearby buildings. No one was injured.

ACP Designed To Help Farmers To Conserve Land

Lauderdale County's Agricultural Conservation Program for 1962 is now underway in Lauderdale, according to A. J. Darby, Jr., Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. He points out that the 1962 ACP will be substantially the same as the 1961 program. County and Community ASC committees will administer the ACP as in past years.

The training meeting at which community committees were instructed in the details of the program was held on November 29 in Florence at the municipal auditorium.

The Agricultural Conservation Program is designed to help farmers establish needed conservation practices on their land. Farmers who have a conservation problem which they are not able to solve with their own resources are encouraged to visit the ASCS County Office to talk it over.

Lauderdale County received an allocation of $127,178.00 for the 1962 Agricultural Conservation Program.

A drive is being made to increase participation in the program. The community committees will be instrumental in getting this job done.

Farmers who plan to carry out approved practices during the spring of 1962 are urged to file their application between December 1 and December 27, which is the initial sign-up period.

Phone Numbers To Be Changed Sunday, Dec. 17

C. C. Earnest, Southern Bell Telephone Manager, has announced all telephone numbers in the Tri-Cities will have seven numerals rather than a name and five numerals as they now have and will get the latest system of numbers when all numbers are changed on Sunday, December 17.

The numerals "764" rather than the office name ATwater 2, and the numerals "766" rather than EMpire 3 will be used at the beginning of numbers in Florence.

In Sheffield, the Evergreen 3 will be changed to the numerals "383" and Evergreen 1 will be changed to "381".

Telephone numbers in Leighton will be changed from Gilbert 6 to the numerals "446".

In Rogersville, CHapel 4 will be changed to "244".

In Lexington, telephone numbers will begin with "226" rather than Canal 6.

The last four digits will remain the same in all exchanges.

The new numbering system will make it possible for many more telephone number combinations, therefore, aiding future growth. The system is easier and faster in dialing calls because there is no need to switch your attention back and forth between letters and numbers on the dial.

All-number calling will eliminate confusion between letters and numbers on the dial. For example, the letter "O" and figure "zero" are often confused by dialers in a hurry, and wrong numbers result. It happens with the letter "I" and the figure "1", too.

Earnest explained that the new system also avoids difficulties in spelling and pronouncing telephone central office names. There just aren't any names to cause errors with this system.

College Choir To Present Concert

The Florence State College Choir will present its 29th annual Christmas Concert Sunday afternoon at 3:30 at Coffee High School auditorium. Mrs. Hugh G. Porter will conduct the 62-voice choir. A 28-voice ladies chorus will join the choir singing the processional, "O Come All Ye Faithful."

Music in the first part of the program will range from the 8th Century Gregorian chant, "O Come, O Come Emmanuel" to "Glory to God in the Highest" by the contemporary Randall Thompson.

It will include the four compositions sung by the Concert Choir in the Thanksgiving Festival of Sacred Music in Birmingham.

Clarence Dickinson's "The Shepherd's Story" will feature James Bulman, Florence, tenor; Noah Strygle, Decatur, bass; and Betty Lynne Miller, Florence soprano, as soloists.

The second part of the program will consist of excerpts from the ever-popular "The Messiah" by George Frederick Handel, closing with the Hallelujah Chorus.

Soloists will be Roy Isbell, a Florence State graduate, tenor; Noah Strygle, bass; and Virginia McGee, Tusculumbia and Margaret Boyles, Mt. Hope, sopranos, with Judy Havelly, Morristown, Tenn., as pianist.

DAY OF INFAMY—Twenty years ago on December 7, the United States Pacific fleet was badly crippled by a sneak attack from the Japanese air force and submarines as the ships rode peacefully at anchor in beautiful Pearl Harbor. Caught on the ground or at their moorings were some 300 airplanes and almost 100 ships. Aircraft destroyed numbered about 140 in addition to another 80 damaged. Of the eight U. S. battleships at Pearl Harbor, five were sent to the bottom, one severely damaged and two others hit. Two destroyers and nine other ships were sunk or put out of commission. Casualties among military personnel numbered over 3,000, including 2,300 killed. Dec. 8, this nation's declaration of war on Japan and the beginning of U. S. participation in World War Two.

D. O. Dugger Will Retire On Dec. 31 As TVA Manager

D. O. Dugger, manager of the Southern Branch of TVA's Division of Reservoir Properties, with offices in the Administration Building on Wilson Reservation, will retire on December 31 after twenty-seven years of service with TVA, all of which has been in the Muscle Shoals area.

His retirement is pursuant to TVA's general policy of retiring its employees upon their attainment of the normal TVA retirement age of 65 years.

Dugger came to this area in January, 1935, as assistant to the then manager of TVA's Muscle Shoals Plants, John L. Neely, Jr., after serving a few months in Knoxville, Tenn., with the Department of the Interior on certain joint TVA-Department of Interior resource development projects then being conducted in the Tennessee Valley.

In March 1940, he succeeded Neely as manager of TVA's Muscle Shoals Properties in the newly created TVA Division of Reservoir Properties. In this capacity Dugger was responsible for the management of TVA's real properties in the area along the Tennessee River extending from and including Wheeler Dam to and including Pickwick Dam and the present Wilson Reservation and the former Nitrate Plant No. 1 Reservation near Sheffield.

Sparkman Wins 4-H Alumni Award

Alabama's delegation to the National 4-H Congress which ended in Chicago, Saturday, set a pace that few other states could match. Senator John Sparkman was the winner of the 4-H Alumni Association Award for Alabama. He is a former member of the Corn Club, forerunner of 4-H.

The National project winners from Alabama are Sylvia Little-taylor, Baldwin County; Robert Kilgore, Tuscaloosa; Robert Samples, Etowah, and Rebecca Phillips, Tallapoosa. Each received a $400 scholarship to the college of his choice.

Miss Little-taylor received the national honor for her accomplishments in breads; Kilgore's keen understanding of electricity won him the top prize in the 4-H electricity project; Samples' knowledge of field crops won him the national honor, and Miss Phillips won the national home economics honor.

These four members and twenty-eight others in the Alabama delegation returned home Saturday.

Norwood, Joy-Lan Sold To Martin

Dan Davis, owner of the Norwood and Joy-Lan Theatres, has announced he has signed an agreement to sell the theatres to Martin Theaters, the sale to transpire within thirty days.

Martin Theaters took over the operation of the two movie houses Friday. They also operate the Shoals, Colbert, Tusculumbia, Cinema and Marbro Theatres.

Davis plans to devote his time to other business interests.

Congressman Carl Elliott U.S. Representative from Alabama's seventh congressional district, told the members of the Florence Exchange Club and Florence Citizens Club in a joint luncheon session at Hotel Reeder, Tuesday, "I don't believe Alabama can afford not to have the very best schools."

He said the greatest local need is to provide Alabama children with the opportunity for an outstanding education. "If we in Alabama really want to go forward in our industrial development, we must be able to truthfully advertise that we have the best school system in the entire southeast," he claimed. "In this way we will have more industry than any of our other programs have brought us," he said.

Judge John D. Petree of Florence introduced Representative Elliott and described him as "Mr. Education" of the United States Congress. He spoke of Elliott as a great supporter of TVA and of the Tennessee Valley in general, even though the area is outside the congressional district which he represents.

Speaking on the National Defense Education Act which he authored and sponsored in the House of Representatives, Representative Elliott said that more than 300,000 boys and girls have been able to go to college as a result of this act, more than 3,500 of which have been in Alabama alone.

He reported that more than a half billion dollars worth of scientific equipment have been put into high schools all over the United States as a part of the program and pointed out that this averages about $15,000 worth of equipment per high school. Among the students making use of the federal funds, about 60 per cent have entered into scientific fields of study, he said.

The representative told of a student from Utah who mailed a check repaying a National Defense Education Act loan directly to his office rather than to the treasurer of the United States. In the letter, the Utah student praised the loan and explained that he was returning it in full with interest at eight per cent instead of the required three per cent, claiming that with— (Continued on Page Two)

ASSESS PROPERTY BEFORE JANUARY

B. P. Lovelace, Jr., Lauderdale County tax assessor, has urged all property owners who have either sold, bought or added to their property within the past year to come to his office and make the assessment prior to January 1, 1962 in order to comply with the law.

Any taxpayer who is now paying taxes on property not assessed in his name should also come in and have his property properly assessed. "This is important for their protection," he said.

Statewide voting on Tuesday on forty-five proposed amendments to the constitution resulted in passage of the 21 school tax amendments but saw apparent defeat for Amendment No. 1 which would have provided a $10,000,000 bond issue for overhauling the state's prison system. With some 2,126 boxes of the state's 3,000, the unofficial vote late Wednesday was 60,990 against the amendment and 59,175 for it. Most of the uncounted returns were from small rural areas where the prison proposal was trailing. More populous areas where the vote was more favorable were already in.

Also trailing in the statewide totals on Wednesday was Amendment No. 5 which would require the state to stand liable for "consequential damage to a man's business when his property is not actually taken in land condemnation cases for highway construction." The unofficial vote from two-thirds of the state's boxes was 47,737 for and 49,429 against.

Local Vote

In Lauderdale County the school tax amendment carried by a vote of 1,778 to 900 and in Florence a similar amendment was carried by a vote of 1,540 to 683. Both amendments subject to a local referendum provide a 5-mill property tax increase for local public schools.

The Lauderdale Vote on Amendments 1 through 7, follows: Amendment No. 1, 1,393 for, 1,666 against; Amendment No. 2, 2,293 for and 736 against; Amendment No. 3, 1,938 for and 865 against; Amendment No. 4, 1,864 for and 812 against; Amendment No. 5, 1,427 for and 1,190 against; Amendment No. 6, 1,793 for and 809 against; Amendment No. 7, 1,689 for and 884 against.

Amendments 8 through 28 were for school tax increases and all were approved by local voters by substantial margins. Local voters also passed the remainder of the amendments which for the most part were to be submitted to local vote.

Colbert County

Colbert County voters, balloting in extremely tight numbers, rejected pay raises for the chairman and members of the Board of Revenue and voted 13 of the 45 state constitutional amendments Tuesday in a negative approach to tax matters.

The turnout of some 2,350 voters, represented only about 20 per cent of those eligible to cast ballots in the amendment election.

In Franklin County voters rejected all but one of the 45 amendments voting "no" to every one except Amendment No. 2 which would provide a University of Alabama Research Center for Huntsville.

Florence Straw Ballot

In a tight vote throughout the city Tuesday, Florence voters indicated a preference for an additional two cents a pack on cigarettes as a means of raising the revenue demanded by the city for its 1962 operating budget.

A total of 833 votes were cast on a choice of five preferences as follows:

For one cent a bottle on soft drinks, 127.
For additional two cents per pack on cigarettes, 276.
For half-cent per bottle on soft drinks and additional cent on cigarettes, 82.
For an additional one-half of one per cent gross receipts tax, 152.
For an additional 50 cents per month garbage tax, 196.
A number wrote "no more taxes" across the ballots and such improper ballots were thrown out, it was stated.

To Make Further Study

Mayor E. F. Martin and commissioners, Alvah E. Hall and L. L. Whitten said that inasmuch as the balloting was practically worthless as a guide, the matter would have to be given further study.

Edward B. Summerhill is here from Eldorado, Ark., for a two-weeks' visit with his sister, Mrs. W. A. Alexander, and other family members.

A Day We Cannot Forget

The first Sunday in December twenty years ago saw a sneak attack by the Japanese air force at Honolulu destroy most of this nation's Pacific fleet and pave the way for the fall of the Philippine Islands. December 7, 1941 and the lesson it taught should never be forgotten because it may well happen again if we are not more alert than we were then.

Perhaps there was a complacency mixed with our lack of alertness that allowed the disaster at Pearl Harbor. At any rate when it did happen the whole nation was stunned. Even though relations had become strained there had been manifestations of peace only the day before when Japanese leaders met with President Roosevelt.

Like Germany, Japan failed to realize the resiliency of the United States' productive power and therefore failed to follow up that first big punch. She believed she could take her time and overrun the Pacific with this nation's Pacific fleet knocked out and in time even invade the United States. Her war lords even boasted that they would dictate the peace terms in Washington, so little was their conception of America's vast size and power.

And so it may be that Pearl Harbor will prove a blessing in disguise in that we can no longer ignore the danger of such an attack. Next time it will be against our own mainland by nuclear missiles launched from orbiting space craft and pinpointed on any target the enemy chooses to destroy.

Right now both the Soviets and the United States possess devastating weapons, capable of destruction beyond human comprehension, but both admit their almost total inadequacy of defense against such weapons. Lack of defense power is one of the facts relating to the cold war that many experts say has kept it from erupting into a hot war.

As we work for peace we should not forget Pearl Harbor for we shall likely have little or no warning when the next war comes.

Who Is Really Boss?

A short time ago the city fathers of a Michigan town of 31,000 turned down the request of an oil company to construct two service stations, the reason given was that the city already had sufficient service stations to meet the needs of its motoring public.

This was a unique precedent, which if applied down the line, could produce some remarkable results. Entirely aside from the dubious legality of the council's decision, if municipal officials are to decide how many service stations a community could have, they must also be entitled to decide the number of retail stores, insurance agencies, newspapers, doctors, lawyers, and so on ad infinitum.

The point is simply this: Should bureaucrats determine the extent of the goods and services available . . . or should business people and their customers. Putting it another way, who's boss . . . public servants or the public?

He also discussed the Rural Library Services Act which required six years of effort to get through Congress. He said that this act had been designed to stimulate interest in rural library service, and since 1955, the library interest in Alabama has increased more than 100 per cent as a result of this act.

Speaking of the extending of the National Defense Education Act for another two years "without a dissenting vote," he described this as "the greatest tribute to any bill" since he had been in Congress.

Representative Elliott gave an optimistic view of the affairs of the nation and pointed to several congressional accomplishments thus far under the new administration which indicate increased prosperity in the future.

Veterans' Column

State Dept. of Veterans' Affairs

The direct home loan program to assist veterans is being reduced by almost 50%, the Veterans' Housing Act of 1961 authorized the Veterans Administration to lend about 500 million dollars in the present fiscal year before the economy drive got underway.

It was planned that all of this money would be used for loan purposes. Now, however, it has been learned that the present administration would like to see the program reduced so that only about 250 million dollars would be authorized for direct loans. It is estimated that this sum would provide money for about 24 thousand loan applications.

During the months of July, August and September, about 6 thousand loans were made. Some 40 thousand applications could be approved if the entire amount authorized under the Housing Act were made available. On a nation-wide basis, there is a backlog of applications now totalling about 14 thousand, however, you can never tell what will happen—direct loans tell what will happen—direct loan funds could be restored just as quickly as they were withdrawn.

Of course, to get on the waiting list, all you have to do is to take your original discharge to the nearest County Service Officer of your Alabama Department of Veterans Affairs and he will guide you from there.

DeGraffenreid To Be Guest Speaker

Senator Ryan DeGraffenreid will address a joint meeting of the Civitan and Exchange Clubs at Starkeys, Tuesday noon.

Senator DeGraffenreid is a potential candidate for governor of Alabama and has proven a very effective legislator in the recent sessions of the state legislature.

It is expected a capacity attendance will hear the Tuscaloosa lawyer.

U.S. space scientists went back to work Thursday as if determined to hurl a man around the world by this year's end, however it was not officially known whether the flight would be this year or early 1962.

U.S. Population Now 185 Million

The population of the United States, as measured on the "census clock" in the Commerce Department lobby in Washington, reached 185 million Thursday of last week. Dinah Shore announced Saturday she would seek a divorce from George Montgomery after eighteen years of marriage. Only a few close friends knew that divorce had been on her mind for a year. As soon as the Friday night television show was over, Miss Shore and their children, Melissa and Jody left town. She will file for divorce on very general grounds with no specific acts to be alleged.

"Freedom Rides" Ordered Stopped

The Congress of Racial Equality Sunday was ordered by a Federal judge to stop "freedom rides" into the strife-torn McComb, Miss. The restraining order is designed to prevent rides until an injunction against more rides can be acted upon. Six riders and as many newsmen have been attacked in McComb since the rider campaign began Wednesday of last week.

Approximately six-hundred high school journalists from all over Alabama are expected at the University to participate in the Friday and Saturday clinical sessions sponsored by the Alabama High School Press Association and the Alabama Association of Journalism Directors.

Clinics will be held on photography, yearbook writing and layout, and newspaper writing and layout. Awards will be presented to those schools whose work in these fields during the past twelve months has been outstanding.

Coffee High School is expected to be represented by twenty-four students from the staffs of the "Coffee Pot," Coffee High's yearbook, and the "Stimulator," the student body newspaper.

Personality Sketches

By ANN SULLIVAN

DR. HENRY LEE STUTTS

What a joy it is to interview a man who has meant so much to the people of the area in which he has lived all his life. To learn first hand of the true meaning of a "Country Doctor" adds to the high regard in which Dr. Stutts is held by all who know him and the hundreds upon hundreds who knock, and excitedly said: "Doc, you are the first one that ever came by my dog!"

Frequently receiving nothing in payment for his services, Dr. Stutts never failed to answer a call. One night a Negro woman sent for Dr. Stutts when she was ill and after treatment offered him three eggs in payment for his services because that's all she had. He refused the eggs as she needed them more than he did.

In 1910, Dr. Stutts dismantled his old family log-home and on that same site, built his present home. He used the lumber from his own land and did much of the construction work himself. The beautiful walnut paneling adds true beauty to the home. That same year, he had a telephone installed in his home.

On February 4, 1922, Dr. Stutts was married to Clara Sims of Lawrenceburg, Tenn. Mrs. Stutts has taught in the Lauderdale County Schools for the past thirty-seven years. She often accompanied Dr. Stutts on his visits to his patients and assisted him occasionally during operations.

Dr. Stutts was elected Probate Judge of Lauderdale County in 1929, and served one six-year term. During his term of office, his prime objective was to construct concrete and steel bridges across the creeks of the county and map out major highways including farm to market roads, to improve transportation. The Huntsville Road and Jackson Highway were put under construction during his term.

Dr. and Mrs. Stutts have aided many children in their efforts to obtain an education. They took care of them as if they were their own.

Always interested in farming, Dr. Stutts was the chief instigator of community fairs in the county, which later culminated in the county fair and then the North Alabama State Fair. Dr. Stutts once won a $500 award for a farm exhibit at the Southeastern Fair in Atlanta. He also placed first in his Berkshire hogs and Jersey cattle consistently in the local fairs.

A lover of flowers, Dr. Stutts has raised many beautiful varieties and placed first with his dahlias at the Southeastern Fair as well as at the Alabama State Fair and local fairs.

An annual affair which was looked forward to by hundreds, was a picnic held at Crystal Springs each fall. At one of these gatherings, which marked his seventy-ninth birthday, his friends showered Dr. Stutts with numerous gifts. At this occasion, he was presented a watch, two reclining chairs and several other gifts by the people in appreciation for his long and loving services as their one and only country doctor.

Dr. Stutts suffered injuries in an auto accident some months ago, but is almost completely recovered. "In a short time," he said, "I'll be ready to resume my practice on a larger scale."

Dr. Stutts, who loves animals, has made his home a haven for them. There are eleven beautiful peacocks, several chickens and geese, and, of course, a few dogs.

Banks Authorized Pay 4 Per Cent On Savings Accounts

Local bankers expressed surprise at the Federal Reserve System's announcement of a 4 per cent ceiling on interest on bank savings effective January 1.

W. H. Mitchell, president of the First National Bank, Florence, said, the announcement came without any warning and "we have not had the opportunity to study it and determine what is the thing for us to do."

A similar statement was issued by L. C. Johnson, vice president of the State National Bank who said a statement would be out of order since he had not had time to discuss the matter with the bank's board of directors.

Both pointed out that the regulations had not been discussed and that the official ruling would have to be received and studied, and that "careful consideration would be given the matter."

Announced reasons for the move given by the Federal Reserve officials was that the 4 per cent rate would permit commercial banks to compete more effectively for savings deposits. They will now be in a position to match, in some cases, the statement continued, the generally higher interest rate that have been offered by savings and loan associations and in addition be able to "complete more vigorously to retain foreign deposits that might otherwise move abroad in search of higher returns, etc."

The U. S. Treasury issued a statement applauding the higher rate saying it will accomplish in part the Kennedy Administration's objective to attract and retain foreign funds.

Under the new interest rate schedule:

For funds on deposit for a period of less than six months there will be no change in the 3 per cent rate.

For money on deposit for from six to 12 months, a maximum rate of 3 1/2 per cent will be allowable.

For funds on deposit for one year or more, the permissible maximum interest rate goes to 4 per cent.

LAW REGULATES HOLIDAY JOBS FOR TEEN-AGERS

"Teen-agers who soon start their annual hunt for holiday jobs are not concerned with legal aspects, but each employer must know what work he can assign to the youngsters," an official of the U.S. Department of Labor, in Birmingham, said this week.

Employers and parents of working children are invited to obtain further information on the law from the Wage-Hour Division's field office at Room 204, McCauley Building, 1917 Fifth Avenue South, Birmingham, Ala., or to call Field Office Supervisor Hansel J. Hunter at FAirfax 3-4646 for additional details.

Rep. Robert E. (Bob) Jones' record of service to the people of the Eighth Congressional District has been graphically outlined in a 51-page brochure being distributed among Alabama newspapers, radio and television media, libraries and other channels of information in the state and elsewhere.

Author of the interesting brochure is William Wray Eckel, Florence, a third year law student at the University of Virginia, who conducted his research during the summer of 1960 while employed at the House of Representatives in Washington.

An excerpt from a speech by the late Speaker Sam Rayburn is the foreword of the booklet. Rayburn said, "Bob Jones, in my opinion, is the most dedicated, conscientious and useful public servant I have ever had the opportunity to serve with."

Jones, The Man

Bob Jones, the man, is well described in the brochure, tracing his career from a modest beginning in his birthplace of Scottsboro, the county seat of Jackson County, where shortly after his graduation from the University of Alabama law school, he became Jackson County's first county judge, leaving that position to serve in the Navy for 26 months as an ensign, the last seven months being attached to General McArthur's general staff.

On his return to civilian life he was re-elected judge and together with his wife and son, lived on a small farm near Scottsboro until Rep. John Sparkman announced his candidacy for the Senate seat left vacant by the death of Sen. John Bankhead. Jones, urged by his many friends and acquaintances to make the race for the House vacancy left by Sparkman, announced his candidacy and won handily over Jim Smith of Tusculum in a run-off election October 22, 1946.

Legislative Record

Bob Jones record is one of the most impressive in the entire Congress, especially where it has affected the South and the TVA. He entered the Congress under the handicap of the House being under the control of and organized by the Republicans. But despite these handicaps he has "carved a definite niche among his colleagues, and has been singled out for special comment by outside, disinterested sources."

His own statement is typical of Bob Jones, the congressman: "I shall vigorously oppose all measures which would affect the way of life in the South. I mean the FEPC and anti-poll tax proposals, and especially any measures which would impose on the people of Alabama any dictation from the federal government on how to carry on their normal way of life."

His work with and for TVA has been most outstanding, Jones fighting for the very survival of the Agency when the power lobbies sought to reduce needed appropriations for expansion of TVA power facilities and other development programs in the Valley. He fought unceasingly to bring the unsavory Dixon-Yates deal out into the open.

During the fight for TVA, climaxed by President Eisenhower's recommendation for a $100 million cut in TVA's operating program, Jones was made chairman of the sub-committee on Public Buildings and Grounds of the Public Works Committee and served on the important Government Operations Committee.

Jones constantly worked for the Farmers of the South and the nation by opposing programs that would throttle farm income as proposed by President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson. He figured prominently in the fight for REA, the Housing program, navigation and water resources development, and most important to the South, his bills for increasing cotton acreage allotments and stabilizing cotton prices.

One of Bob Jones' greatest achievements was his successful fight for the TVA self-financing bill, authorizing TVA to issue revenue bonds in place of waiting on appropriations from Congress. The legislative history of this hard fought battle against almost overwhelming odds at times, attests to ability and dogged determination to get a job done.

Aluminum Panels Used In Building

Completion of what is believed to be the first prefabricated service station using all-aluminum panels for roof and load-bearing walls was announced by Reynolds Metals Company.

Located on the outskirts of Richmond, the station was built for the Virginia-West Virginia Area, Esso Standard region, Humble Oil and Refining Company.

Pre-finished Reynocore panels, versatile structural components which combine great strength with pleasing appearance, make up the entire exterior and interior surfaces of the building except for bonding embossed aluminum sheets to a core of deltashaped aluminum sheet. Design of the station follows the typical architectural lines of other Esso stations.

Miss Bevis, Mr. Swicegood Wed In Double-Ring Ceremony

At high noon on Saturday, November twenty-fifth, Shirley Ann Bevis and Thomas Gerald Swicegood exchanged marriage vows in the presence of family members and a few close friends, with Norman Hargett of Sheffield, minister of the Macedonia Church of Christ, the officiating clergyman.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Bevis Savannah Road, Florence; the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Swicegood of Knoxville, Tennessee.

The wedding took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swicegood on Huntsville Road where white flowers and lighted tapers marked the improvised altar. Susie Hanback, niece of the bride, was candlelighter.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of satin and lace featuring a round-neckline and long, tapering sleeves fastened with tiny, self-covered buttons. A small pearl-encrusted crown held her shoulder-length veil and she carried a bouquet of gardenias encircled with white carnations.

Mrs. Elaine Hill, sister of the bride and her attendant, wore a frock of pink wool complemented by a corsage of pink carnations; Miss Hanback was in pink velvet and she, too, wore pink carnations.

Charles Swicegood served his brother as best man.

Mrs. Bevis chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of blue crepe with which she wore white gardenias.

For traveling, the bride was costumed in orchid wool, pinning blossoms from her bouquet at her shoulder.

Mr. Swicegood and his bride, a Central High School graduate and a former student at Florence State College, will be at home at 1559 Bessemer Road, Birmingham.

Morning Vows Unite Miss Ory, Mr. Whorton

In St. Michael's Catholic Church

of St. Florian, Anna Loretta Ory exchanged nuptial vows with Jerry Arnold Whorton, of Florence and Gadsden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Stanley Whorton, Sr., of Gadsden, in a ten o'clock morning ceremony on Saturday, November twenty-fifth. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felician Warren Ory of 400 Beech Street, Florence.

Altar vases of white gladioli and chrysanthemums fashioned the setting in which Father Damian Gusmus, O.S.B., officiated.

Mr. Ory gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a jacketed sheath dress of beige lace and crepe with a small matching hat, shirred and rhinestone-trimmed. Her only ornament was a diamond pendant, gift of the bridegroom, and her flowers were white carnations encircling a white orchid.

Mrs. Jerry Homan, wearing a mint green frock and carrying cymbidium orchids, attended the bride; Donald Ayers of Florence and Attalla was Mr. Whorton's attendant.

Mrs. Ory chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of violet velvet and a corsage of pink orchids; Mrs. Whorton, mother of the bridegroom, was in black and white orchids were her flowers.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bride's parents were hosts to a wedding breakfast in The Patio Room at Holiday Inn, Included among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Whorton of Gadsden, parents of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. David Royal and Karen, and Mrs. Guy Woodliff of Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Whorton of Florence entertained after the rehearsal of wedding plans on Friday evening, confining their invitations to the wedding party, out-of-town guests and a few close friends. The Whorton home on Arlington Boulevard in Hickory Hills was the party setting.

Mr. Mrs. Whitten Honored With Golden Wedding Fete

Arriving in groups both small and large, longtime friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse M. Whitten called at the Central Heights home of their daughter, Mrs. John V. Butler, and Mr. Butler on Sunday afternoon to honor the couple on the occasion of their Golden Wedding anniversary. Misses Linda and Glenda Butler were cohostesses with their parents.

Golden yellow mums filled bowls and vases throughout the rooms where Mr. and Mrs. Whitten were joined in receiving and reminiscing with friends at their sisters, Mrs. Edna Koonce, Mrs. J. T. Thrasher and Mrs. Parker McFall all of Florence, and Mr. and Mrs. John McFall of Knoxville.

Miss Jean Seaton, a great niece of the honor guests, was at the guest register; and, at the serving table where an arrangement of yellow mums garlanded with greenery were lighted by tall yellow tapers, other great nieces served. These included Kathy and Dinah Broadfoot and Susan and Sheila Darby. Gifts were received and displayed by Mrs. J. T. Fulmer, Mrs. J. I. Broadfoot and Mrs. Robert Darby, nieces of the "bride and groom."

One hundred twenty-five guests called between the hours of two and four.

Native Philippine Dancers

To Be Seen Tomorrow Evening

Concert-goers throughout the district, a bit weary from the pre-Christmas rush and anticipation of more-of-the-same to come, are looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to certain time tomorrow (Friday) evening when they will relax in Coffee High Auditorium as the Muscle Shoals Concert Association presents in its second performance of the season the Bayanihan Philippine Company. On the program are fifty native dancers and musicians.

Adding interest for the groups who will gather for this presentation is the knowledge that two of the twinkle-toed artists are not entirely unknown here. Leni and Sandy (probably NOT their professional names, should you fail to find them on the program) Alano are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Julio Alano whose marriage in 1939 was solemnized in St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Manila by the Reverend Edward Mullen, resident there with his family at that time.

And in answer to questions, Mrs. Mullen reveals that a guest in their home on Pine Street has on more than one occasion been Mrs. Dolores Laconico of Zamboanga in the Philippines, an aunt of the afore-mentioned dancers and pleasantly remembered by many who will be in the concert audience.

And remember . . . the time is 8:15 tomorrow evening . . . the place, Coffee High Auditorium. The girls will probably give their most exceptional performances, knowing that the warm welcome of family friends awaits them.

In Richmond, Va., last week, Mrs. Madding King visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Byrd (the former Martha Paxton of Florence) and was among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding of their daughter, Linda, to Carleton Powell of Spartanburg.

THE SPILLWAY

Better get to that list
Of the friends, aunts and cousins . . .
The "shopping days 'til Christmas"
Are a couple' dozens!

IF YOU'VE NOT finished the list, or about it, maybe you should be reminded that time is running out! And NOT TO BE CAUGHT in the last minute rush is "Fuzzy" Russell, who is busily building a swing for his young Archer grandchildren. (Somehow, we didn't know he was so talented.) We didn't find out whether the swing is to be set up at Ann's and Joe's home in Columbus, or at the Russell home on Sherrod Avenue, but we'll vote for the latter . . . OTHER GRANDPARENTS who fit into this same pattern (labeled Proud and Adoring) are Virginia and Bryson Sloan. After Bryson, Jr., and Mary Ann's recent visit here with young "Trey," Virginia and Bryson have been walking on the beaming-grandparent-cloud. And from the quick glimpse we had of young "Trey" (short for Bryson-the-third) we'll agree that he's something to talk about!

FROM ALL REPORTS, the dedicatory service at Richards School last week was a very excellent and impressive one. But it also had its lighter moments. Seems that "Parson" Hollingsworth, the main speaker of the evening, was asked to stand behind a card table to speak. And he (who's NEVER been known to be without appropriate words) opened his speech by saying "I'm used to speaking across a pulpit, and here they have me talking across a card table!" . . . And we don't know whether this was told there or not, but we want to pass it on too. One youngster, who like many of them CLAIMS to hate school, went to Grady and told him that he was much too nice a man to have his name on a SCHOOL BUILDING!

WE UNDERSTAND that in our previous mentions of the new dance craze we have left out the real "twist" enthusiasts . . . Come down a few decades and the really "hep" crowd is made up of such members as Bess Cox and her contemporaries! (Even then, we wonder if daddy-Bob isn't the teacher behind the act!)

CORRECTION PLEASE (Due to a typographical error, to which we hope we are occasionally entitled) . . . The lakeside home of the Hassells we mentioned last week is not in Hickory Hills. The H. H. lot we meant to have mentioned belongs to Gwen and O. B. Kiester, and (naturally) they are the ones building a home there . . . but not beside a lake. Hickory Hills has about everything (and we hear that even a Fallout Shelter is being planned) but we didn't mean to give the location a lake! (Understand that we caused much excitement for which we ask your forbearance.)

JUNE MAY BE THE MONTH for weddings, but it was not entirely so some half a century ago. Seems there're to be several tregal golden and near-golden wedding anniversaries celebrated this coming month by several outstanding couples . . . some to be at our new Turtle Point Club, which we understand is but-fast becoming THE social center . . . And while we're here, we'll add: we HOPE to see you at the large tea at said club tomorrow afternoon hosted by a charming Hatcher-Peery-Foote threesome.

IT'S AN ILL WIND in some respects, but there's good in it too . . . While Bill Robbins is spending twelve duty months with his Uncle Sam in Korea, Catherine is here with the four little Robbinses, who're a handsome sight to anyone who sees them, but especially to their Robbins kin in Florence and the Fields kin in Sheffield, where they have an apartment.

JUST HEARD the good news that Amelia (O'Neal) Neussle will be here for the Christmas holidays with mama-Julia, and this makes us happy, as we know it does Julia—since Amelia is one of the visitors we really NEVER see enough of.

UNTIL MORE NEWS COMES THROUGH THE SPILLWAY, IT'S GOODBYE FOR NOW!

Teenagers, Adults Need Each Other

Youth can learn by talking, planning and working with adults. Elta Majors, Auburn Extension Service child care and family life specialist, says that as adults, we are sometimes guilty of "nagging" about what may seem to be trivial matters to young people.

But, she also says, there can be a difference of opinion as to what is "little." And a good way to find out is to talk about it.

This is where joint family discussion and planning fits into the picture, Miss Majors notes. It is really very important, and carries with it a lot of responsibility.

In considering this idea we must think of the whole family. What are Dad's responsibilities? What are Mom's? What are the teenagers' where do they overlap?

Today's family may seem more like a corporation with Dad as chairman of the board, Mom as vice chairman and the children as stockholders.

Miss Majors adds that talking and planning with parents and other adults can be a very valuable learning experience. In this way children and youth can grow in decision making and toward becoming the responsible, independent adults we want them to be.

Moths come out on warm days, so air your woollens on cold, sunny days to discourage the pests.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

HALTOM URGES VOTERS TO PAY POLL TAX NOW

State Senator Bert Haltom, urging voters to pay their poll tax, issued a reminder that the tax may be paid by mail.

Poll taxes must be paid by February 1, 1962, if a voter is to vote in 1962, Haltom said.

"Few people realize that they can pay their poll tax by mail, but it is permissible for them to do so. However, if a voter chooses to follow this procedure, he should enclose a note advising where he votes."

A check for $1.50 in payment of the poll tax should be made out to the tax collector of the county in which the voter resides and mailed to that county official in the courthouse.

If the poll tax was not paid in 1961, a check for $3.00 should be enclosed.

Haltom reminded voters that payment of the poll tax, however, does not satisfy the requirement of voter registration for those citizens who have never registered to vote in the county in which they now live.

The board of registrars meets every first and third Monday in the courthouse for the purpose of examining new voter applicants. Persons desiring to register to vote should contact their Probate Judge for further information.

E. B. Haltom, Jr.,
Senator, First District

NATIVE DANCERS—Presented on Friday night at Coffee High School Auditorium by the Muscle Shoals Concert Association, will be the famous Banyanban Philippine Company with fifty native dancers and musicians. This is the second performance of the season to be presented by the Association. Curtain time will be 8:15.

Shoals Concert Group To Present Second Of Series

The Banyanban Philippine Company, the second of the season's series to be presented by the Muscle Shoals Concert Association, will be presented Friday evening at Coffee Auditorium at 8:15.

The Bayan Company, consisting of 50 dancers and musicians playing native instruments, is considered one of the most exciting concert presentations now touring America.

The program consists of 26 separate dances, two of which fire is used on the stage.

The Dugso, a fascinating ritualistic dance, requires the use of a large brass bowl in which a flame is burning. This dance has been approved by the appropriate authorities in all the major cities of the world.

During the course of this dance, 15 heavy unbreakable glass jars, with the appearance of translucent vigil lights, are carried by ten dancers. Each jar is filled approximately half with water with a thin layer of cooking oil on top of the water. Across the top of the jar is a small wire rack suspended from which is a thin cloth wick which is lighted.

The water in the jar tends to keep the jar cool during the performance, about four minutes, 15 seconds, in which the female dancers balance one jar on the back of each hand and one on the head.

The water also serves as a safety device for in the event that a jar were tilted or should fall, the water would instantly extinguish the small flame, which is about the size of a candle flame.

At the conclusion of the dance, several additional members of the company walk on stage balancing lighted lamps of the same type and they hold a pose for the grand finale.

The dance cannot be performed without genuine lighted oil lamps, which, aside from artistic considerations also have religious significance.

William Lile Harris, president of the Muscle Shoals Concert Association, said the auditorium is completely sold out.

Clubs To Sponsor Cancer Education

The Home Demonstration Council of Lauderdale County has accepted responsibility for the American Cancer Society educational program in Lauderdale for the coming year.

Mrs. Samuel B. Wright of Florence is representing the group as chairman of this work.

Announcement of the organizational setup for this area was made by Mrs. Lillian G. Meade, Birmingham, executive director of the Alabama Division. She explained that a year 'round educational program is a major phase of the society's fight against cancer, along with scientific research and service to medically indigent cancer patients.

"At present rates one out of three cancer patients is being saved by early diagnosis and treatment," Mrs. Meade said. "Actually, doctors could save two out of three if patients went for an examination in time. To save additional lives is the purpose of the educational program."

A one day workshop meeting for educational chairmen over the state will be held at the Tutwiler Hotel in Birmingham on December 9, Mrs. Meade announced.

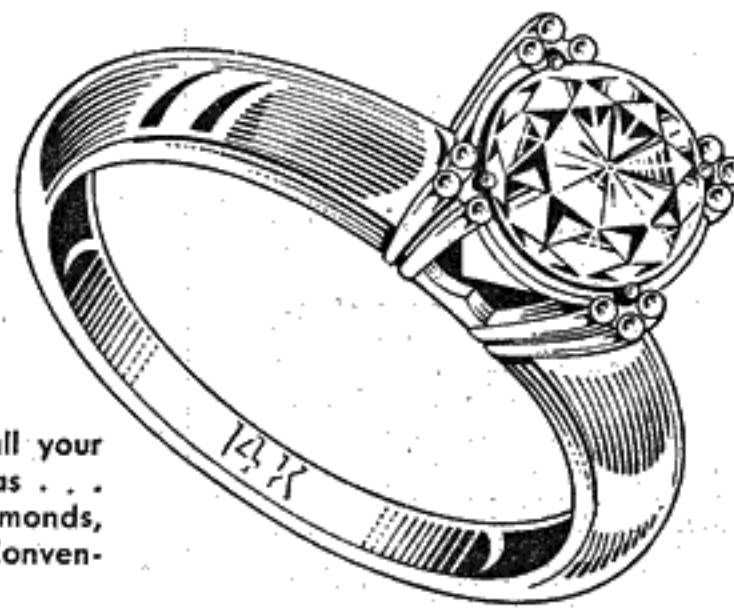

Mrs. Wright attended Sheffield High School and Larimore Business College. She is a member of the North Florence Home Demonstration Club, the VFW Auxiliary, and the Church of Christ.

Trumpet Soloist To Appear With Coffee High Band

Don Jacoby, rated among the top trumpet artists in the country, will be soloist with the Coffee High School band Tuesday night at 7:30 at Coffee Auditorium.

He has for the past four years, devoted his free time to giving concerts and clinics with young bands throughout the country. The trumpet artists' early training was of the traditional type—careful study of the classic disciplines of wind instruments. While still a child, he was singled out as a brilliant solo performer by various Eastern bands.

DON JACOBY
... Famous Trumpet Soloist

Jacoby has played with Les Brown and later Benny Goodman, but found that the frequent tours left him little time with his family in Illinois. Studio work in Chicago seemed the solution so he joined the American Broadcasting System. Since then, he has appeared on a number of programs as musical director as well as conductor and trumpet soloist, going to CBS in 1957.

His virtuosity has made him a favorite with leading composers of band music, several of whom have written trumpet works especially for his performance.

Jones Seeks More Tourist Business

Congressman Bob Jones, (D-Ala.), a high-ranking member of the Roads Committee of the House Public Works Committee, seeks more tourist business for Alabama and works closely with the new U. S. Travel Service. The bureau now has a campaign underway to attract more tourists from around the world to the United States. It also promotes more interstate travel by Americans.

Jones said ten Alabama sights were selected for world-wide publicity from scores of suggestions made by Chambers of Commerce in Alabama. They are: The State Capitol and the first White House of the Confederacy in Montgomery; Ft. Gaines in Dauphin Island; the Sturdevant House in Selma; The Gorgas House in Tuscaloosa; the Arlington House in Birmingham; Little River Canyon, near Ft. Payne; Mound State Park at Moundsville; Ft. Morgan; and Magolia Grove in Greensboro.

"The tourist industry in Alabama now ranks closely to cotton and steel as our best sources of income," Jones commented. "We are making efforts to increase tourism in our state and we should be grateful for the help given us by federal funds. We are now getting advertising and skills of experts which we could hardly afford for a world-wide campaign to boost Alabama and its business."

L. N. Thompson Attends Workshop

L. N. Thompson, manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Florence and the Federal Land Bank appraiser from this area attended a one-day workshop meeting in Birmingham last week.

Taking part in the group session were association managers, Federal Land Bank appraisers and apprentices, and officials of the Federal Land Bank of New Orleans. General operating problems and procedures were discussed in round-table fashion.

"The real purpose of our meeting," said Thompson, was to exchange ideas and methods so we can give better and faster service on loans to our patrons. After all, the member-borrowers are the owners of the association, so we have to keep up with new developments in agriculture and financing."

Moderating this meeting, which gave special attention to long-term loan needs of farmers, was J. L. Dailey, Federal Land Bank regional manager.

Care In Mailing Is Important

With Thanksgiving a recent memory, Postmaster Don Holt said today, "It's Christmas every day in the Post Office from now on."

He offered these helpful hints on how to mail your Christmas cards and gifts to insure prompt and safe delivery before December 25th. Use 4c postage on your Christmas cards. Sent by First Class mail, they are sorted and delivered first, and if you include your return address on each envelope, they will be forwarded in the event of a change of address, or if they are undeliverable, they will be returned to you. Also, you can write a personal message on the Christmas cards sent by First Class mail; whereas, only your signature is authorized on cards sent at the 3c, unsealed Third Class rate.

Avoid careless packing of your gifts. Use strong cartons, wrap in heavy paper, and tie with sturdy cord. Mark packages containing breakable gifts, "Fragile"—"Handle With Care." Put an extra label carrying the recipients and senders name and address inside every package.

If you tear a wool sweater or stole and the darn is noticeable, use single flowers cut from felt in matching or contrasting colors to hide the mending. A border of small felt flowers on an embroidered vine can trail over the darn if it is at the waistline.

"100 Years Ago"

One hundred years ago, the Confederacy was suffering because of the lack of railroads. It had few materials to use in constructing new lines or in repairing old ones. And by November 1861, Union "sympathizers" were destroying railroads in the South.

Realizing the need for a railway line, Confederate President Jefferson Davis asked that a 40 mile gap be completed between Danville, Virginia and Greensboro, North Carolina. Congress appropriated money for this work on February 1862, but because of the lack of materials the project was not finished until 1864—and then only after other lines were taken up to get materials.

Most disheartening to the South was the burning of five railway bridges in Tennessee in November, 1861. This cut off transportation between strategic points and caused much disorder. On November 21 Confederate Colonel S. A. M. Wood wrote Secretary of War Judah P. Benjamin about conditions near Chattanooga, Tennessee. He said, "The Pro-Unionist are now quiet, but not convinced. Executions needed."

Besides the destruction of railroads, the South received another set-back at Pensacola, Florida. Attacks made by Union forces at Forts McRee and Barrances continued. From November 22 to November 25, 1861 Federal guns at Fort Pickens aided by USS Niagara and USS Richmond bombarded 14 Confederate Batteries. Both Warrenton and Woolsey, near the navy yards, were affected by burning buildings.

On the sea however, CSS Sumter experienced success with its raids. At the French Island Martinique, on November 23, 1861, the Sumter escaped through the Federal Blockade and evaded the USS Iroquois.

Good Citizenship Girl For 1961-62

The Central High School faculty has chosen as DAR Good Citizenship Girl for 1961-62, Sandra Carolyn Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Smith of Florence, Route 6.

During her Senior year Miss Smith is serving as president of the Beta Club, honorary scholastic organization, Co-editor of the "Wildcat," the Central Annual; and is a member of the Math club, Library club, and the Central High Newspaper staff.

She has also been a member of the FHA, the Science Club, and was elected to the Junior Class Who's Who as the girl Most Likely to Succeed.

Miss Smith is a member of the Evergreen Baptist Church where she is church pianist and teaches the Junior Sunday School class.

If it hadn't been for a strong wind the Pilgrims might have celebrated Thanksgiving in New York. They probably expected to settle somewhere near the Hudson River. The wind and the shoals off Cape Cod forced them to turn north.

Jasper Mines And Caves Could Be Used For Fallout

Jasper, Alabama has a sufficient number of underground shelters to protect a large portion of the state's population from nuclear fallout, Congressman Carl Elliott pointed out in a message to the President today.

Elliott also stated that these same underground shelters were sufficient to store food for the entire Southeast. He said, "Alabama has 200 worked out or abandoned coal mines, and 450 explored caves. Most of these are accessible or can readily be made accessible."

Many of the abandoned coal mines are on water routes. Some still have rail connections.

Between 40 and 60 per cent of a dairyman's labor is spent milking cows. The variation depends on how long it takes to milk each animal. Most cows can be trained to milk out in three or four minutes. By reducing milking time only one minute a cow, 10 hours can be saved annually for each cow.

Last year farm accidents cost $6.4 billion.

Madison Who Bought Lots Not U.S. President

By OSCAR D. LEWIS

A large number of articles, this writer's included, and not a few historical records of Florence, state that James Madison, former president of the United States, was one of the first to own land in the city of Florence. Listed also as a buyer in the first land sales was Andrew Jackson, said to have been influential in choosing the site for the location of a town.

Since facts and not fiction are the constituents of history this story of James Madison should be corrected. There was indeed a James Madison who bought considerable property in Florence but it was definitely not James Madison, fourth president of the United States.

This writer has corresponded with authoritative researchers and presidential biographers and positively no record has ever come to light showing former president James Madison had ever been in Florence or owned property in the Muscle Shoals area. The James Madison who did own property in Florence lived in Prince Edward County, Virginia and his agent was Dabney Morris, one of the trustees of the Cypress Land Company, original owners of the town site. James Madison, president, was a resident of King George County, Virginia and like all men in public life, had few if any secrets not subject to public scrutiny or public record.

The James Madison in question could well have been a relative of the former president but this too is only conjecture. He never visited Florence, to anyone's knowledge, all of his transactions having been signed by the above-mentioned Dabney Morris, also from Virginia, and are contained in the deed books of the early 1800's in the Lauderdale County Court House.

The Jackson name figured prominently in the first sale of lots in Florence but it was James and not Andrew, James being one of the trustees of the Cypress Land Company who bought the original site from the government.

However Andrew Jackson did own considerable property in Lauderdale and Colbert County which he acquired through dealing with the U. S. Land Office, among his holdings being a large plantation said to have extended from the bluffs across the Tennessee from Florence to the present site of Tusculum.

There is little doubt but that Andrew Jackson was influential in the founding of Florence since he had encamped his army on the high plateau above the river and is said to have sojourned with his staff in the old Pope's Tavern, built in 1811, (The Lambeth house) at the corner of Seminary and Hermitage Drive, when enroute to New Orleans in the winter of 1815.

Jackson also liked the site of Sheffield and when president had Congress appropriate $9,000 for engineers to survey the location as a possible site for the capital of the United States. Old Hickory felt that Washington, located on the Potomac River, was vulnerable to enemy attack. He also felt that the climate was not healthful since he had suffered from both asthma and rheumatism while in the capital.

Food Ads Help Buying Public

Do you get the most out of food ads in the newspaper?

Dorothy Overbey, Auburn University Extension Service consumer education specialist, says that food ads are meant to be sources of information. They announce what foods are on the market, where and at what price.

Does this mean that everything listed in the food ad is on special sale? "Of course not," says Miss Overbey. "They remind you of stable items you need to buy and of when a particular food is of especially high quality."

Food ads give you meal planning ideas and alert you to new food products on the market. They are meant to give you a truthful description of the food. These descriptions are written in terms of sizes, weights, varieties and grades.

It may take a bit of practice, but it doesn't take long to learn that size 100 oranges are larger than size 150 oranges or that grated tuna fish is a lower grade than chunk style.

When you understand the language, food ads are neither mysterious nor confusing—they are informative and fun.

IF YOU'D SAVE A PART OF YOUR CHECK YOU'D HAVE MONEY AT CHRISTMAS-TIME

The best way to stop an argument is long before it starts and this argument over Christmas spending money could have been nipped in the bud back in January . . . if both Mr. and Mrs. had opened a Savings Account with us and added to it each and every payday. It is as simple as that . . . just decide on the amount you want to save regularly . . . deposit it faithfully each week . . . and, with our generous interest rate, you will enjoy watching it grow.

Then . . . at Christmas-time the question of budget . . . or over-spending . . . is met fully and completely long before the need is here.

Use pieces of clear plastic bags instead of glue or paste to mount clippings in a scrapbook. Put the plastic between the page and clipping and press clipping in place with iron set at "wool."

Put sandpaper under pleats when you press them. The sandpaper keeps the material from slipping and pressing and is easier and faster.
If shoes get real wet on the inside, stuff them solidly with paper to help dry them out and help hold shape until shoe trees can be inserted.

Come to Church for Services

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER — STAYS TOGETHER"

KEYS TO UNDERSTANDING

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

| Day       | Book          | Chapter Verses |
|-----------|---------------|----------------|
| Sunday    | Job           | 36 5-12        |
| Monday    | Job           | 42 1-6         |
| Tuesday   | Matthew       | 6 25-34        |
| Wednesday | I Corinthians | 13 1-13        |
| Thursday  | Galatians     | 3 6-14         |
| Friday    | Matthew       | 8 5-13         |
| Saturday  | I Corinthians | 2 1-10         |

Suppose you were given keys that would unlock the mysteries of the universe. With them, you could answer the "whys" that plague all of us. You'd know what was going to happen to you and those around you tomorrow—next month—next year.

Would you use them? Of course, you say! Think again. And, once you've thought, you might shake your head, hand them back, and say, "No thank you."

Common sense tells us that man was not meant to understand every mystery. The reasons "why" remain as they are because our Creator in His wisdom thoroughly knows just how much man can both stand and understand.

God has a greater gift for you than these, or any other keys . . . the gift of Faith. You will find it by going to church regularly.
