

The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

● She was a remarkable woman. This is the phrase used most frequently by her friends to describe Mrs. J. B. Bailes, who died suddenly Monday morning although she had been ill for the past three months. Mrs. Bailes was a distinguished newspaperwoman. For 25 years she edited the social pages of this newspaper and prior to that was connected with our local dailies. Her retirement, only after she had reached her three score and ten years, took from our staff a store of knowledge and the ability of being "on top of the news" at all times. She never forgot her love for newspaper work and continually contributed to our columns. With the unusual knack of making each of her friends feel that he or she was her favorite, she drew about her a great host of admirers who will not forget the love and affection that she lavished on each and which was returned by each in equal measure. Yes, Mrs. Bailes was a remarkable woman who carved a special niche for herself in our community and in the hearts of all who loved and admired her throughout the years.

● Try to be prompt and forthright is always good advice to any man or woman.

● Our memory goes back to the oldtime country store when as soon as the old potbelly stove was lit in the early fall, it was the center of a colorful group that found time to settle all questions of the day. It is a shame that the cracker barrel philosopher is practically extinct. It's rather hard to vision such a gathering or such discussion in today's super markets.

● Why is it that the wrong number of a telephone is never busy when you dial?

● Railroad crossing sign near Colorado Springs, Colo.: "The average time it takes a train to pass this crossing is 14 seconds - whether your car is on it or not."

● Some women are more adept at cooking up things over a telephone than over a stove.

● The newest innovation, if such it be, is the germ-free bank note that has been introduced in France. We are certain this will prevent the spread of disease but if something could be done to prevent inflation of said bank-notes, we are certain that this, too, would be appreciated. (In this country, too.)

● Folks used to make their own clothes on spinning wheels - now they lose their shirts on them.

● Since World War II, the United States has spent 75 billion dollars on foreign aid. In these years the prestige of our country has steadily dropped and we need not tell you what a fix we are in at this moment. We just wonder if these billions had been spent on our military strength, on the development of our educational facilities and on our health and welfare if, by chance, our position in world appraisal might be higher. Just a thought that is bothering us as we study the world situation.

● Nothing makes people go in debt like trying to keep up with people who are.

● A local minister tells of the businessman who was having trouble getting enough sleep. He said that no matter when he went to bed, he tossed and tossed and by morning he was thoroughly worn out. "Have you tried counting sheep?" asked his friend. "Why I've counted every sheep in the state time after time with no resulting sleep," he replied. "Have you tried taking a hot bath or drinking warm milk just before you retire?" was the next question. To this query, he replied in the affirmative. "Why not try reading yourself to sleep?" the friend continued in his exploration. "It's no good—I can't even encourage a yawn," was the reply. "Have you tried twilight sleep, it's good for labor," was the next question. "No," was the reply, and then he asked: "Haven't they got something just as good for management?"

● The weatherman is the highest paid fiction writer in the country.

● Plastic surgeons can do almost anything with a nose - except keep it out of other people's business.

● A husband is a man who has lost liberty in the pursuit of happiness.

● Horrified to see a customer tuck a napkin into his shirt collar, the head waiter approached him and asked pointedly, "Shave or a haircut, sir?"

KENNEDY WARNS THAT U.S. HAS ITS LIMITS—President John F. Kennedy delivers a sharp warning that the United States "will not hesitate" to intervene in Cuba against the threat of "outside Communist penetration." He said America would not be lectured on intervention "by those whose character was stamped for all time on the bloody streets of Budapest." In addressing American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington, Kennedy said U.S. restraint "is not inexhaustible."

May Be Prelude To Conference

Rebels Stop Shooting As Laos Cease-Fire Okayed

The pro-Communist rebel command ordered its troops to stop shooting, Wednesday, in Vientiane, Laos, but a battalion of its troops reportedly launched an attack against forces of the Western-backed government in southern Laos. Despite the attacks, most observers felt a cease-fire would be worked out.

It was also felt that the cease-fire agreement might well be the prelude to a 14-nation conference scheduled to start May 12 in Geneva to work out a permanent peace for Laos. The United States and Britain have said they would not attend unless the cease-fire becomes a reality.

A three-nation truce committee composed of members from India, Canada and Poland, are due in Laos later this week to supervise the cease-fire. The Boun Oum regime and the Pathet Laos still have to work out a coalition government to represent Laos at Geneva, it was announced.

Despite the continued rebel attacks observers felt that a cease-fire agreement would be worked out, the tendency in Vientiane being to attribute the failure of the order to poor communications and the usual Laotian confusion.

The Pathet Lao Rebel radio broadcast a general cease-fire order effective at 8 a.m. Wednesday and called on the western-backed government to join promptly in negotiations. Boun Oum's foreign minister said his government's envoy, Lt. Col. Siho Lamholinthakhou, had been ordered to avoid political issues and negotiate for a quick cease-fire and a time and place for further meetings of representatives from both sides.

Commenting on the Laos situation, W. Averell Harriman, President Kennedy's roving ambassador told reporters, "It is our hope that a basis can be established for a completely neutral government in Laos and a cease-fire may come soon there."

There can be no real cease fire until all sectors stop fighting, Harriman said.

Channel 31 Will Be On Part-Time Basis TV Cable

Nashville Stations
To Be Microwaved To
Shoals In Near Future

John A. Sullivan, general manager of Muscle Shoals TV Cable Company, stated Thursday, the company will pipe Channel 31, Huntsville, on a temporary basis until Nashville reception can be implemented with microwave equipment. Channel 31 will be placed on Cable—Channel 4 with Channel 8 to be placed on a part-time basis on the unused portion of educational television when it is not in operation.

In effect, the area will have five channels while the company is securing locations for microwave equipment, federal licenses and signal surveys to determine the most feasible route to bring in Nashville stations.

Final tabulations of the postcard survey on viewers preferences of three plans were not conclusive since less than 50 per cent of the firm's more than 7,000 viewers registered a preference, however, one thing seemed certain and that was that subscribers like the Nashville stations. For that reason, the company will implement Nashville reception with microwave equipment on a "two hop" basis which will take considerable time and a large expenditure of funds.

After the microwave equipment is installed, Plan No. 2 will go into effect. The plan is composed of Channel 5, CBS, Nashville; Channel 13, NBC, Birmingham; Channel 8, ABC, Nashville; Channel 10, ETV, Birmingham; Channel 15, composite, Florence.

Housing Loan Funds Available

Farmers Home Administration county supervisor, Cecil C. Mixon, said today that owners of farms who need to replace or repair houses and other essential farm service buildings are showing a great deal of interest in the agency's farm housing loan program.

These loans are available to qualified owners of all sizes of farms provided the farm will produce at least $400 worth of commodities for sale or home use each year, based on 1944 prices. Additional loan funds have recently been made available for this type of credit.

The man-in-space-shot contemplated for some months by the United States, was publicized in recent days with the disclosure that a shot would be attempted, possibly Friday, weather and other conditions permitting. The first attempt was to have been on Tuesday but weather conditions were not favorable.

The astronaut, Alan B. Shepard, 37-year-old Navy commander, is to be the first American in space, it was announced.

Jack King, spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said the firing of the Mercury Capsule from Cape Canaveral, Fla., had been postponed specifically because of weather conditions over the cape and at the down range stations. At that time King said no new time had been set other than at least a 48-hour wait was necessary.

Shepard is prepared for flight and is being held in the pilot's preparation area and will remain in the crew quarters of the NASA Mercury hangar at Cape Canaveral. The "back-up" astronaut for the space flight is 39-year-old Marine lieutenant-colonel John H. Glenn, Jr., from Concord, Ohio.

Tuesday the countdown had progressed to within 140 minutes of launching time of the Redstone booster which was to boost Shepard 115 miles into space and then drop his space capsule 290 miles down-range 15 minutes later. A week ago the launching of an Atlas Mercury capsule similar to the astronaut capsule that will carry Shepard failed in a test.

The feat of launching a man into space and safely returning him was successfully accomplished by the Russians on April 12 when Yuri Gagarin was the first human to be so launched and returned alive. Gagarin was made a national hero. The Russian flight and the one planned by the United States are said to be preludes to actually orbiting a man in space.

Lauderdale Probate
Judge Will Serve For
Period Of Three Years

Estes R. Flynt, Judge of Probate, Lauderdale County, was unanimously nominated to membership on the State Board of the Alabama Association for Mental Health by the nominating committee of the Association at a meeting held in Birmingham last Thursday, John K. Williams, Executive Director of the Association, announced Tuesday.

Judge Flynt was elected to serve three years, beginning with the annual meeting to be held in Montgomery, May 25 and 26. The State Board of Directors ordinarily meet twice each year, once in connection with the annual meeting usually held in April or May, and the second meeting during the fall, usually held the latter part of November.

BULLETIN

With a promise to veto any tax increase legislation, Governor John Patterson Tuesday refused to go along with school leaders' demands for a $65 million increase next year. The Governor served notice that current taxes will not provide for an increase. However there was some hope for a considerable boost in school allocations from the proposed budget he submitted though it was admitted that sum would fall short of school department estimates. Income from taxes will provide about $138 million next year, it was stated which is far below the $152 million this year's net school budget. The Governor said school tax revenue for fiscal 1962-63 would produce $148-million.

Addressing the State Legislature this week, Gov. John Patterson hit hard for reapportionment and also called for an expanded program of medical care for the aged.

The Legislature convened at noon Tuesday in regular biennial session.

In his message, Gov. Patterson reported on progress and achievements of state departments in the last two years. "I believe the state government to be in excellent condition and moving forward," he said.

The governor praised the Legislature for "many notable accomplishments" in its 1959 sessions, singing out the increase in education appropriations, the $100 million school-building program and the $60 million highway bond issue. "This Legislature is one of the most outstanding in all our history," Gov. Patterson told the lawmakers.

Meeting twice each week, they will be in session for 36 legislative days.

In calling for reapportionment, the governor urged approval of the proposed 40 - senator, 120 - representative bill. "The continuous failure of the Legislature to reapportion itself now makes it possible for about 28 percent of the people to elect a majority of the Legislature," he said.

Haltom Loses Skirmish
In an opening day skirmish Lauderdale Senator E. B. Bert Haltom failed in an attempt to bypass the rule that all measures must go to committee. Lt. Gov. Albert Boutwell overruled Haltom and his prospective constitutional amendment went to the Constitution Committee.

Haltom's measure like the governor's, would increase the House membership from 106 to 120 and the Senate from 35 to 40. It would give larger counties more representation however than the Administration bill.

Recommending a stepped-up medical care program, Gov. Patterson outlined plans to enlarge the present hospitalization program to include all elderly persons in need—whether or not they are on the old age pension rolls. A limited program for old age pensioners began April 1.

Gov. Patterson also recommended that the Legislature:

Tighten competitive bid laws to include contracts for public improvements, such as highway resurfacing.

Place state colleges under separate boards of education to slow attacks by race agitators seeking integration.

Push for development of a canal linking the Alabama river system with the great Tennessee River.

Approve any necessary legislation to increase the local support of education, asserting the state was shouldering too much of the burden.

Authorize the investment of state surplus funds to earn interest.

Earmark tax from gasoline bought for use in boats for the State Conservation Department's new water safety division.

Step up our tourist promotion program.

The Civil War Is History

Many people have asked WHY the Civil War Centennial... why bring up a dead issue... why open old wounds... and so on. Actually the Civil War is American history and to not commemorate it would be to deny all of the tradition and all of the heritage left us from the great struggle that united the nation for the first time.

The Revolution was not the history of America as we know it. It was an event that culminated a struggle of people to be free and independent of oppression and tyranny. It did not create a nation... It created a spirit of intense devotion to causes with freedom the common goal. These causes were divergent and bitter strife arose among many factions that continued from Washington's time to Lincoln's and even Lincoln was the victim of this strife... Lincoln's death brought a sobering revelation that nothing could erase... that this was and must be forever... a nation united. Lincoln proved stronger in death than living. People began to recall the log-splitter's simple but immortal words pronounced at Gettysburg... "That this nation under God shall have a new birth of freedom and that government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from this earth."

And so we might well close our museums, burn our history books and proclaim that we, like the Congo, have no heritage, as to forget the million men of both sides who died to give us a nation united economically, socially and politically into a free society enjoying a vast productivity, unmatched wealth, and a standard of living far beyond the rosiest dreams of our forefathers.

The Civil War laid the foundation for the great nation that America is today. It gave every American a sense of destiny. We can look with pride on the results... national unity, an end to slavery, political harmony and a diminished complacency.

Let's Stop The Slaughter

Almost every newspaper we pick up contains the gruesome details of another highway fatality. Nearly fifty thousand people, almost the entire population of the Tri-Cities, are wiped out each year because of careless or reckless driving.

Experts are still searching for a solution to at least materially reduce highway fatalities but they still shy away from reaching some conclusions that might prove unpopular. One is the habitual drinker should be deprived of a driver's license and the same for the habitually reckless driver. If such people had their license to drive permanently revoked the highways would be made infinitely safer.

The next unpopular move would be to have every motorist undergo a physical test, eyes, reflexes, hearing and so on and then be graded on his ability to drive and on his attitude toward other drivers. Many handicapped persons are excellent drivers and many perfectly healthy specimens are poor drivers. Both attitude and aptitude are important factors.

What do we mean about attitude? Floyd H. Mann, Alabama's director of Public Safety asks this question which points directly to the question of attitude: "How is it possible for civilized people who get along well with their neighbors and families to become case-hardened individuals who adapt the attitude of a pagan when they get under the steering wheel of an automobile?"

From Friday April 21 at 6 p.m. until 12 midnight Sunday, April 23, there were 10 lives lost in 8 accidents in Alabama... a traffic death every 5 hours and 24 minutes during the 54-hour period. This is ridiculous to think of but figures don't lie. Mann relates how they occurred:

One driver driving under the influence of alcohol at a high rate of speed ran off a roadway and killed 2 passengers. Another driver ran into the side of a train and killed 2 passengers. The third fatal accident was caused by a driver driving on the wrong side of the road. The other five fatal accidents were one-vehicle accidents which must be blamed on the five drivers who were at the wheel. All five accidents were caused by some violation. Most of them were caused by excessive speed.

Director Mann said today, "These weekend accidents are typical of those that occur almost every day of the week."

He said these accident patterns point out that we have many drivers that don't know right from wrong or just don't know how to drive a motor vehicle.

He stated that, "A close examination of the majority of fatal accident investigations reflect one or more of these conditions; The drivers have no sense of legal or moral responsibility or don't see or feel any danger can come to them while driving and that accidents always happen to the other fellow."

Mr. Mann said, "Some morality is necessary if we are to do what is right. It is just as important that we are honest with our neighbor when driving a car as when making change in a business transaction."

This condition will continue until civilized people accept their legal and moral responsibility for the traffic problem.

And we might add, until the punishment is made to fit the crime.

Government To Force School Re-opening

The federal government, in the history-making role of co-plaintiff, has moved to force the reopening of Prince Edward County's integration-closed public schools at Richmond, Va. U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy asked the court to prohibit state support of any public school in Virginia until Prince Edward schools are reopened on a desegregated basis. The county closed its public schools in 1959 in the face of a federal court desegregation order.

Telescope Fired Into Orbit

A 76-foot rocket, Juno II, was fired at Cape Canaveral, Thursday, carrying a 95-pound satellite into an orbit ranging from 300 to 750 miles above the earth. The "space telescope" would probe radiation mysteries of the universe, relaying the data to earth to be recorded in photographs of wavy lines on an oscilloscope with each 98-minute orbit producing 36 feet of 35 mm film for study.

Third Body Recovered From Lake

The body of Harold Hunnicutt, the last of a trio missing on the Tennessee River in Guntersville since April 9, was found Monday near an island off the main river channel. The bodies of the other two, Jack Jacques, 30, of Arab and Granville Coffee, 20, of Huntsville, were found Thursday. The three disappeared while on the water in search of two missing men who later turned up unharmed.

McPhearson Faces Third Trial

John Lewis McPhearson faces a third trial on charges he shot to death his wife, Irma Lee, January 29, 1959 at Butler. Twelve Choctaw County men couldn't decide his innocence or guilt on a charge of first degree murder, although they tried for 11 hours and 44 minutes. He had received a verdict of life imprisonment at his first trial, but it had been reversed by the Alabama Supreme Court, allowing him a second chance.

Late News

Two bills were introduced in the Alabama legislature Tuesday on congressional redistricting. One was by Rep. E. A. Grouby of Autauga County which would put Congressmen George Grant of Troy and George Andrews of Union Springs in a new Second District. Grant represents the present Second District and Andrews the Third. A second bill by Rep. Arthur Louis Ferguson of Tuscaloosa would throw Congressmen Kenneth Roberts and Albert Rains of Gadsden in the same district. Grouby's plan would put 15 counties in the new Second District. The Seventh, Eighth and Ninth would remain unchanged, and the Fifth would be the same except for the addition of Lee County.

An aerial pirate, armed with a steak knife and pistol and flaunting the name of an old-time buccaner, "El Pirata Cofresi" hijacked a two-engine National Airlines plane over Florida, Monday, and forced the pilot to fly to Cuba where it landed in Havana. Seven passengers were aboard. He told the pilot that Rafael Trujillo had offered him $100,000 blood money to assassinate Fidel Castro, but he had no intention of carrying out the mission because Castro was a "good boy."

Police and volunteer searchers found the bodies of Carol Gee, 11, and Margaret Chambers, 12, two schoolgirls missing since Saturday in Holland, Mich., but declined to confirm reports that the girls had been shot to death pending arrival of a medical examiner. A neighbor boy, James S. Stephens, 16, a Boy Scout patrol leader, was being sought for investigation in the case.

OTTO DENSON SPEAKE

"Warned against locating in Florence because of its reputation as a city in which it was hard to make friends, I have found that there is no foundation for this opinion as nowhere are the people more friendly than in Florence and nowhere do they open their homes and their hearts to welcome newcomers as they do here," said Mr. Speake when questioned as to his selection of Florence as his home.

"I came to Florence with the firm belief that no place offered as much for the future as did this section and subsequent years have proven my decision as correct. Since locating here I have enjoyed some of the most satisfying years of my life—thanks to our reception by the good people of the community and the healthy growth of the district," Mr. Speake continued.

Otto Denson Speake was born in Speake, Lawrence County, June 28, 1911, the son of Frederick Marshall and Vera Watters Speake. When he was eight-years-old, the family moved to Hartselle where he attended Hartselle Elementary School and was graduated from Morgan County High School in 1930. While in high school, he was a member of the football team for three years, a member of the Morco High staff, the school's yearbook and a member of the Glee Club.

Following his graduation from high school, Mr. Speake went to Atlanta where he was employed for one year by Anderson-Clayton and Company, cotton factors. In 1931, he entered Athens College, attending for one year during which time he was a member of the football team. In 1932, he accepted a position with his uncle, Russell Speake, in his clothing store in Decatur. Mr. Speake continued in that position until 1939 when he located in Leighton where he was engaged in farming and the mercantile business. He remained in Leighton for eleven years.

Les Silhouettes D' Ete Presented By Local AAUW

For the artistry of its setting and the perfection of its every detail, the American Association of University Women's presentation of "Les Silhouettes D' Ete" on Thursday evening is being applauded by those who witnessed the performance which included a Fashion Show and a Water Ballet.

The scene was the poolside at Holiday Inn. Framed by hurricane lamps, the pool was encircled on three sides by small cabaret-style tables; water lilies floated on the pool surface and soft strains from Virginia Robbins' orchestra could be heard as Mrs. John Lord, president of Florence Chapter, AAUW, explained to spectators the organization's International Scholarship Fund which would benefit from the evening's proceeds.

Presently, silhouettes of local models displaying Shirley's Fashions and Marshall's Hair Styling were reflected against a giant screen at the pool and before they stepped into a circle of light to promenade among the tables. Marshall Pless was commentator.

Modeling for Shirley's were Dorothy Naughton, Mildred Mauldin, Reba Blouin, Lou Wakefield, Becky Robbins, Ann Prithard, Bonnie Bradley, Hollis Bower, Alice Roberts, Dorothy Carmichael, Beverly Copeland, Mary Eliza Southall and Rebecca Pless; for Marshall's, Cynthia Nesmith, Joyce Donaldson and Margaret Robertson.

The Water Ballet was by Florence State College students Sallie Folden, Judy Kunkle, Linda Herling and Twink Sanders.

A Centennial portrait, posed by Mary Eliza Southall and little Nelson Holder, was an admired feature.

Mrs. Alan Lindstrom was general chairman of the project.

THE SPILLWAY

There is no town like our home town.
None of its "virtues" are slack . . .
And whenever anyone visits us
They always wanta come back!

SURE YOU'VE NOTICED THE SAME THING, which pleases us local inhabitants who KNOW what a nice place we live in . . . and like to discover that "outsiders" appreciate Our Town . . .

AND WE'VE HAD OUR SHARE OF 'SPECIALLY attractive visitors of late . . . Carol Swett, here from New Jersey is a favorite with many of us — but we don't see nearly enough of her on her visits, since her main interest here is in spending time with her father, (Dr.) Henry Cheney—and Nell. And we can't say that we blame her . . . And Charles Poellnitz's "Auntie" Ott, here for a much too brief visit last week, is another of our favorites . . . Frances (Craig) Wiggins spent a few days in our midst — mostly, we understand, for the purpose of helping Mama-Emma purchase a home with high enough ceilings for her lovely antiques — but Frances is a good organizer of time, and we hear that the get-togethers gotten up in her honor were filling the social calendar all week.

AND MENTION SHOULD BE MADE, while we're on the subject of visitors, of the brief sojourn here (for study with the TVA) of Messrs. Taha and Kachachi, from Baghdad . . . understand that they charm all who've had the privilege of meeting them — that there've been several get-togethers for this purpose at the home of Harry (the Doc) and Patty Brown.

VISITORS WELCOMED AN ROYALLY ENTERTAINED were the long-time-no-see friends of Ethel and George Green's who came in from San Antonio. And even though the first day they were here, the sight-seeing visit to the Dam and Power House sent Ethel home with a broken arm, the activities of this foursome were not slowed down.

REMEMBER WHEN our local Chamber of Commerce sponsored a Hometown Movie? We understand that John Weaver and Bill Flynn have "gone into the business" and have just toured Mississippi making the pictures for these sketches.

HASNT IT BEEN NICE, having all the first-hand info on one of our favorite families . . . and this time we're speaking of Nell (William) and Earnest Deal, who now live out Dallas-way. When Karl Tyree found out that he was to go out that way for business reasons, Clyde hopped in too . . . and got in a nice visit with Sister-Nell . . . whose home was headquarters for family members to come in to get a look-see at their Florence kin. And we're glad for this up-to-date report on them all — Earnest Jr. is now a bank executive in Houston, where he and Mary Louise live with their small fry . . . Mary and hubby-John live nearby and brought their cute young son by to see his relatives . . . Sara (and Bud) Chennoweth live 'way out Arizona way . . . and William (it's hard for us to realize) is in college.

BATCHING IT WHILE mama-Betty traveled over Georgia-way to visit family members recently . . . were Jack Severin and the two teen-age sons. And according to reports, they proved themselves very efficient at housekeeping . . . but we still bet they were mighty glad to see mama return to take over.

PLANS FOR TRAVEL . . . "summer is cumen in" and plans for trips are filling the conversational atmosphere . . . We THINK that it's the eleventh wedding anniversary that Ed and Cheri Shipper are celebratin' by a trip to sunny California, which is about the nicest way to celebrate that we could think of . . . The Ken Darbys and the Karl Tyrees are combining pleasure with business when Ken and Karl attend a housing meeting in Virginia in June—taking along Hallie and Kathy (Darby) and Will and Clyde (Tyree) . . . to make a real vacation trip to include Williamsburg, Washington etc.

ONE OF THE VERY NICEST BIRTHDAY PARTIES possible was a surprise to Sara Ingram, when daughter-Lucy and Joe (Ware) invited a dozen of their good friends in for their usual after-church gathering for dinner, and this time the "meeting" was held in Lucy and Joe's lovely tree-shaded home in Tusculumbia, which they recently bought (and known as the Carmichael place).

A WONDERFUL BIRTHDAY GIFT is a year's study abroad for Mary Lynn McGough who is a student at Rosary College near Chicago . . . parents Lynn and Tom have just visited with their daughter who has been presented with her junior college year in Switzerland . . . and our congratulations are extended.

AND ANOTHER STORY we have to tell you, of this makes-you-feel-good - to-hear - it variety . . . When Dr. Al Jackson went down to Tusculumbia last week to receive his 50 Year pin at the Alabama Medical Association meeting, he was unaware of the fact that that very night he was receiving the Outstanding Citizenship award given each year by the Florence Civitan Club to one of our outstanding citizens . . . and since he couldn't be in two places at once, daughter-Celista (Winn) received the local award for her distinguished father. Makes two bows we'll extend to this Outstanding Citizen.

UNTIL MORE NEWS COMES THROUGH THE SPILLWAY, IT'S GOODBYE FOR NOW!

Decatur Clinic To Extend Services

Problem Drinkers May Be Treated Wednesdays
At Health Department

Since its establishment, the Alabama Commission on Alcoholism Clinic in Decatur has recognized that many people have difficulty in arranging transportation to Decatur. In spite of this, there has been a significant use of the clinic by the Tri-City area.

To facilitate its servicing the Tri-Cities area, the Clinic is extending itself beginning May 3, 1961. On that day and each Wednesday thereafter, Clinic personnel will be at the Lauderdale County Health Department in the Mental Health Center. The Clinic itself will remain in Decatur. The problem drinker who wants to avail himself of Clinic treatment will still have his problems evaluated in Decatur before the treatment begins. Generally this will require two visits to Decatur and at least a third visit in Florence. Thereafter, ordinarily, the treatment can continue in Florence.

This Decatur Commission on Alcoholism Clinic service will have four purposes.

(1) To reduce the amount of time the problem drinker needs to spend in getting treatment and to simplify his receiving that treatment by providing it, after the initial evaluation in Decatur, in the Tri-Cities area.

(2) To acquaint the problem drinker with the Clinic program without his having to travel to Decatur to decide whether Clinic treatment would be appropriate for himself.

(3) To consult with the relatives or friends of the problem drinker whether the latter seeks treatment or not and help them better to understand the problem of alcoholism and more effectively to cope with it.

(4) To provide consultative services to any other individuals, groups, or agencies relative to the matter of alcoholism.

These services are provided by the Decatur Commission on Alcoholism Clinic with the generous assistance of the Lauderdale County Health Department which will make available space in Florence each Wednesday from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Anyone desiring information is invited to contact the Commission on Alcoholism in Decatur, 1121 Somerville Road, S.E., Elgin 3-8135, or to telephone the Clinic personnel in Florence on Wednesday at the Mental Health Center, Lauderdale County Health Department, ATwater 2-3431.

From the looks of most of the tire advertising we've seen, it seems as though price is pretty important . . . it also appears to us that a lot of the prices we've seen are pretty attractive . . . we wonder if some of them are realistic in view of the "low-levels" — many add-ons — conditions — obsolete sizes used — constructions, etc.

Jones Has Praise For U. S. Efforts

Believes This Nation Can Compete In Space Race With Russians

"The Russians once again have demonstrated to the world that they are first in space exploration," was the comment of Rep. Robert E. (Bob) Jones last week. "They showed this first in November, 1957, when they launched their first sputnik and have continued to out-pace us."

"How are we to catch up and close this missile gap—so damaging to our defense and our international reputation? My answer in the past and always will be—Huntsville."

"Hearings were held before the House Science and Astronautics Committee and all attention was on Russia's recent exploit of putting a man into orbit and what we are doing to achieve something as spectacular," Congressman Jones said.

Dozens of questions were asked by Members of Congress about every phase of the Redstone operations, Jones pointed out. After three intense hours, Congress had it on record that Huntsville has done exceedingly well with the money, facilities and the staff given it. There was high praise for Dr. Werner von Braun and his corps of scientists, engineers and Redstone workers. That Huntsville can meet any challenge given it by Congress and the Administration seems to have been agreed.

"Experts testified that Russia had a four-year start on us in the space race. Our policy of not trying to compete with Russia on a feat-by-feat basis probably will change, if the hearings this week reflect general Congressional thinking," Jones continued, adding that "the feeling appears to be growing that we can have a solid, scientific program and still compete with Russia in spectacular feats of great propaganda value."

"I intend to bend every effort in urging Congress to help Redstone close the missile gap. My legislation established the Redstone Arsenal, and I consider it my baby. I do not intend to neglect it. The Russian man-in-orbit feat undoubtedly will have a very stimulating effect on North Alabama industry and people," the Congressman concluded.

DAVID S. NICHOLS TO ATTEND FLORIDA COLLEGE

David S. Nichols of Florence has been accepted as a member of Florida Presbyterian College's second freshman class, beginning in September 1961.

Nichols is now a senior at Coffee High School. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Julian B. Nichols, Sr. of 241 Bayless Ave.

J. Rogers Moore Exchange Speaker

J. Rogers Moore, guidance counselor at Coffee High School, gave an interesting discussion of the program in the city schools under his supervision. Barksdale Jordan had charge of program arrangements and presented the speaker.

Mr. Moore pointed to the need of more of the type of work he is doing and said that there should be one counselor for each 300 students if the best results are to be obtained. He showed how it was almost impossible for one person to know the capabilities and needs of 1150 students as is his charge but stated that splendid progress was being made nevertheless.

"Lack of good study habits are the biggest problem in our schools," Mr. Moore said, and he urged that the parents demand more of their children as far as their education is concerned in order that the best results might be obtained.

S. Paul Lewis, who with President Earle Darby attended the recent state convention in Birmingham, reported on that interesting event and announced that Mr. Darby had been elected a member of the State Board of Control, the group that guides the activities of the State Affiliated Exchange Clubs.

John Hader, of Atlanta, was the guest of Karl T. Tyree, Jr.

Florence Banker Receives Citation

Mrs. L. M. Dzial Among Number Honored For Outstanding Service

Mrs. L. M. Dzial, of the First National Bank of Florence, was among a number of state bankers who received citations for leadership and dedication in contributing to the constructive growth of consumer installment credit in commercial banks, at the 68th Annual Convention of the Alabama Bankers Association last week in Montgomery. Others receiving similar citations were Curtis Kendall, Birmingham; Marshall Dugger, Tusculum; W. M. Feeney, Mobile; J. L. Patterson, Montgomery; T. J. Shell, Dothan; S. Logan Taylor, Oxford; J. P. Willis, Jr., Gunter; H. J. Barton, Jasper; Guy H. Caffey, Jr., George D. Meriwether, Tusculum; and Julian E. Walker, York.

A Birmingham banker, W. T. Cothran took office as president of ABA Friday as the biggest ABA convention ever held came to a close.

Cothran, a graduate of the Wharton School of Business of the University of Pennsylvania, heads the Bank for Savings & Trusts. His father was president of the Georgia Bankers group in the late thirties.

R. M. Clinkler, Childersburg, moves up to first vice presidency of the Association which now encompasses 10 per cent of Alabama's banks and John H. Neill, Jr., Montgomery, was elected to the coveted post of second vice president. He is president of the Union Bank & Trust Company. Clinkler heads the First National Bank.

American farmers in 1960 brought in the biggest harvest in any nation's history on the smallest average they have planted in nearly half a century.

Rapid Increase Of Industries Is Predicted In State

Rapid acceleration in industrial development for Alabama in the 1960's was predicted here by president of the Alabama Bankers Association, T. A. West, Jr., of Dothan.

At the first general session of the 68th annual convention of the ABA in Montgomery, he underscored the unusual growth of banks in Alabama over the past 10 years, matching economic progress in the State at many levels.

He pointed to the following: per capita income is up 70 per cent; a 50 per cent increase in value of all manufacturing products; a 35,000 increase in employment.

There is a 100 per cent membership among Alabama's 238 banks in the association noted Mr. West who then outlined banking growth in the State and called for a modern installment loan law.

The installment loan law-matching those of other states in the Union and providing uniformity of practice—is overdue, he concluded.

Sheffield Plans New Annexation

The Sheffield City Commission through Henry Brooks, commissioner of public safety, announced Tuesday night plans for legislation in the present Legislature to annex 1,638 acres of land now bounding Sheffield on the West. The property, which will be accessible via the Spring Creek bridge and will be set up as R-1 residential zone, is bounded on the north by the Tennessee River, on the east by Sheffield, on the west by Little Bear Creek and on the south by U.S. Highway 72.

Annexation of the added land will give Sheffield some seven miles of total waterfront on the Tennessee River and Little Bear Creek.

Centennial Will Feature Parade

Week-Long Event To Commemorate Civil War In Shoals Area

One of the major events of the Colbert - Lauderdale Civil War Centennial Commemoration will be the "Salute to the Confederacy" parade on Wednesday, May 17.

R. B. Coleman, Parade Marshal, states that the "Salute to the Confederacy" parade promises to be one of the most colorful and exciting parades ever staged in the Tri-Cities area. Among the entries that have been received thus far will be a marching unit from the Florence State College ROTC, dressed in authentic Confederate uniforms. Civic groups of Leighton have entered a float "Farewell to Shiloh." It will depict the cadets of La Grange Military College leaving for the Battle of Shiloh. La Grange Military College was located at Leighton and it was the first chartered college in the state of Alabama.

All of the school bands in Colbert and Lauderdale counties have been invited to participate. Entries have been received from Coffee High School, Burrell-Slater High School and Colbert County High School and it is expected that many others will participate.

All persons or organizations who are interested in entering a float or providing carriages or horses are urged to contact one of the members of the parade committee. The members of this committee are: R. B. Coleman, chairman, Dick Biddle, Joe Gamble, Henry Rand, Gresham Hale, Harold May, Oscar Lewis and Mrs. Charles Martin.

Bell Company Is Liberal Spender

More than $23 million was paid to Alabama suppliers by the Bell Telephone System for purchases during 1960, Southern Bell officials disclosed today. More than $2 million was paid by the operating companies and Western Electric Company to 24 North Alabama firms in 10 localities in the Tennessee River Valley area, according to F. W. Brice, local Southern Bell Manager. The Huntsville area led the list with 10 firms furnishing more than $1 1/4 million in supplies. The largest single supplier Reynolds Metals Company at Listerhill with almost $3/4 million in aluminum products, Mr. Brice said.

Chihuahua Asthma Cure

Q. I have heard that a person with asthma can be cured by getting a Chihuahua dog. True or false?

A. False. "The belief that the acquisition of a Chihuahua dog by a person with asthma will bring relief of his symptoms is a myth." So states a prominent child specialist. One of the severest cases of asthma ever seen by the doctor involved a child who had a Chihuahua as a pet. Many allergists say that children who have allergic tendencies should not have hairy pets of any kind. If they are not allergic to the pet at first, they may become so later on.

Table Food For Tots

Q. Is it all right to give young babies seasoned pureed food from the table?

A. Most authorities frown on giving young babies table food. When the time comes to offer table food (which generally means that pureed foods are no longer required or preferred), there seems to be no reason for not using foods which are moderately or normally spiced. The child may or may not like the foods seasoned to the taste of the rest of the family. If he doesn't he will solve the problem very nicely by simply refusing to eat such foods.

Bloating

Q. What causes bloating?
A. Almost all digestive tract gas is swallowed air. Very little is produced in the intestines. In some cases there is unconscious relaxation of the muscular valve of the esophagus (tube leading to stomach). Suction is created and considerable air enters the stomach. Some people can perform this act voluntarily. Because bloating is seldom due to gases produced in the digestive tract, taking pills won't help.

Come to Church for Services

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER—STAYS TOGETHER"

a child's gift

A child's gift is especially sweet. I wish that I could give this little girl something that would mean as much to her as her flowers mean to me. But I know that just now, I can't. For she won't recognize my gift until much, much later.

Then, I hope she'll look back on her memories of me and say, "The first time I ever went to church, I went with my Grandma. You know, I don't think she ever missed a Sunday at church in her life..."

Though I have missed a Sunday now and then when I was sick, or had to stay home with my young ones, I never have missed going to church if there was a way to get there. And this habit—a wonderful habit—is something that I've passed along to my son, and that I've seen him pass along to his daughter.

This is a priceless heritage. For having a regular place for the Church in one's life, from childhood on, gives one a faith that endures forever.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Farm Review and Forecast

Clover Weevils Cause Of Worry

Clover head weevils in crimson clover are causing farmers in some parts of the state a lot of worry this year.

Auburn Extension Service Entomologist Walter Grimes says that the weevil feeds in the blooms of the plant and destroys the seed, causing considerable reduction in seed yields each year if control measures are not carried out.

"Research has shown that seed yields can be increased by as much as 200 to 300 pounds per acre with one application of a recommended insecticide," says the specialist. For controlling the insect, Grimes recommends one-half pound technical heptachlor, parathion, or endrin, or one pound technical DDT per acre in a dust or spray formulation. For specific information on the rates of different materials to use per acre, he suggests that farmers contact the county agent.

"The materials should be applied to the clover sometime between the 50 per cent stage to the full bloom stage. Usually, only one application is necessary," he adds.

"Do not graze lactating dairy animals or animals being finished for slaughter on clover that has been treated with DDT, endrin, or heptachlor," Grimes warns. "And wait 15 days after the last application to allow animals to graze crops treated with parathion."

The Auburn entomologist adds that farmers can help save bees by applying the insecticides either in the early morning or in the late afternoon.

"Tell-Tale" Gray Can Be Whited

There may be 8 or 10 different reasons why your "used-to-white" clothes are now "tell-tale" gray or yellow.

Discoloration can result from water temperatures that are too low, using too much or too little soap or detergent, hard water (without water conditioner), an overloaded washer, heavily soiled spots that have not been pretreated, switching from one brand of washing compound to another, and not sorting clothes according to types of fabric, color-fastness, and degree of soil.

Fabric grayness can result from a build-up of material not rinsed from the clothes, says Auburn Extension Clothing Specialist Jeanne Priester. Often hardness minerals in the rinse water will combine with lift-in suds to form a washing film in the fabric, making the clothes gray. Then the heat of the dryer and the iron speed up the yellowing process.

To prevent this, add water conditioner to the first or deep rinse to wash away this gray film.

If it's too late for prevention—that is, you already have gray clothes—don't be too alarmed. The clothes can be reconditioned to some extent, Miss Priester says. Try removing the discoloration by putting the "clean" clothes in a washer with one cup of water conditioner and one-half cup of sudless household ammonia in place of the usual washing compound.

The water conditioner helps to free the soap, detergent, and dirt by pulling the hardness minerals away from the washing film. The released washing compound will burst into active suds that can be rinsed away taking with it some of the unwanted color and grayness.

Four Rules For Growing Hay

There are four simple rules for producing top quality coastal bermuda hay — fertilize it well, cut it often, cure it quickly, and store it properly, says Auburn Extension Service Agronomist O. N. Andrews. Coastal bermuda is one of the highest yielding hay crops, often producing as much as four to six tons per acre. But the agronomist adds that coastal bermuda often makes poor quality hay chiefly because it is too old when cut, or it is not fertilized properly. And quality can also be reduced if the hay is rained on in the swath or windrow, says the specialist.

Andrews recommends the following steps to produce top quality coastal bermuda hay.

1. Test soil for lime and fertilizer needs, and follow laboratory recommendations. Or fertilize with at least 200 pounds nitrogen and 500 pounds 0-10-20 of its equivalent per acre each year. Apply 0-10-20 and one-third nitrogen now and the rest of the nitrogen or fertilizer after second and third cutting.
2. Make first cutting when tops of leaves pulled to maximum height measure 18 inches above soil.
3. Make next three cuttings at monthly intervals. The last cutting in the summer may be delayed five to six weeks because of lower growth rate.
4. Leave hay in swath until dry enough to bale. Hay cures faster this way than in the windrow, and rain damage will be less.

Seedmen Should Apply For ACIA

"Farmers who want to produce certified seed this year should apply now for membership in the Alabama Crop Improvement Association," says Melvin Moor, Auburn Extension Service seed marketing specialist.

Membership in the association is handled on a yearly basis, Moor says. And the deadline for receiving field inspection applications for this year on crimson clover, white clover, oats, wheat, rye, barley, vetch, and meadow fescue is April 15.

Proof of seed used in establishing acreage on which field inspection is requested and membership and field inspection fees should be sent to the ACIA in Auburn along with the application. The schedule of fees is printed on the application blank, the seedman says.

Application blanks can be picked up at the county agent's office.

Final Decision On Calf Sales

The final decision on an organized series of feeder calf sales which have been under consideration in Alabama for some time was announced today by Otis Russell, Auburn Extension Service livestock marketing specialist.

"Early last year a study committee was formed to see if organized sales would be practical. As a result of the study, the committee recommended recently that the sales not be attempted now," Russell said.

"However," he added, "the information collected during the study will be made available to local sale groups upon request. Since no attempt will be made to develop uniformity among these sales, each group can adopt the suggestions from the report which suit its needs."

Buy Family-Size To Save Money

If family size frozen fruits and vegetables are too small for your needs, and the institutional pack too large, then the family economy size may be just right, says Dorothy Overbey, Auburn Extension Service consumer education specialist. Packed in see-through bags, the fruits and vegetables are frozen individually rather than in the conventional block form.

Not only are these economy packs less expensive, they are more convenient, too. For example, individually frozen corn kernels or peas make it possible to use as little of one package as you wish. No defrosting, sawing, or chopping is necessary to divide the pack. And what you don't use can be returned to the freezer.

IS FARM DRIVEWAY SAFE? HERE'S EASY WAY TO SEE

Do trees or undergrowth block a clear view of your farm driveway to highway traffic?

Too often such obstructions prevent drivers on a main highway from seeing farm vehicles entering the road, says Lawrence Ennis, Auburn Extension Service engineer.

A fairly easy way to see if the driveway entrance is safe is to place safety markers about 700 feet from the drive in both directions along the highway. If you can see the markers in both directions, you have a reasonably safe approach to the highway, says Ennis.

Damp woolen socks sometimes stiffen when they dry out. But if you soak them for a few minutes at night in a baking soda solution, they'll be comfortably soft in the morning.

High Cost Farm Land Problem

"Record-high prices of farmland have created financing problems for both buyers and sellers," says Sidney Bell, Auburn Extension Service farm management specialist. "The proportion of credit-financed sales has not changed—it's still about two-thirds of all transfers. But potential buyers are having a harder time meeting equity requirements for conventional mortgage financing."

Bell says that most institutional lenders make mortgage loans on the basis of an equity of about one-half or more on the purchase price of farm real estate. Sellers, he adds, are providing more and more credit to buyers either by taking a high debt-ratio mortgage or by selling on an installment sales contract.

"More than two-fifths of farm real estate sales involving credit in the year ending March 1, 1960, were financed by the seller. And the average down payment on these sales was 29 per cent," says Bell.

Weed Control Major Problem

The problem of weed and grass control is becoming more acute each year because of a dwindling labor supply. Auburn Extension Service Peanut Specialist Dean Bond says that Alabama peanut growers are now spending about $4.50 per acre for hand weeding. And this figure will rise as the labor supply decreases.

One answer to the problem is a chemical weed control program, says the specialist. In one test the use of herbicides combined with careful cultivation practices and some hand-hoeing cut weed infestation in the drill 74 per cent and reduced hoeing 46 per cent compared to the usual practices with no herbicides.

The specialist recommends Dinitro, Sesone, and Falone for weed control in peanuts. But he says that any farmer using a weed control program should apply these materials and prepare his land correctly. For more detailed information, Bond suggests that farmers contact their county agent.

Bridal Shower:

Pat Favors, whose marriage to Rayburn Clark of Decatur was an event of Friday evening at 7, at the Anderson Primitive Baptist Church, was complimented with a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Junior Ritter on Wednesday evening.

For the occasion Pat, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Favors, wore navy cotton with beige accessories and greeted the fifty-five guests who called with her mother and the bridegroom-elect's mother, Mrs. Altie Clark, of Decatur.

On the dining room table Mrs. Ritter used an arrangement of yellow tulips and lavender irises, in the living room white narcissus with purple irises and on the mantle yellow roses.

Mrs. Clellan Gautney and Miss Judy Dollar assisted in serving punch, assorted tiny sandwiches and cookies to the guests.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Bruce Clark and Mrs. W. R. Duncan of Decatur.

Preceding the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association on Thursday evening at the pancake supper in the school cafeteria Rev. Gerald Harris presented tentative plans for the summer recreation program for Rogersville which would necessitate certain sums for paying a recreational director and purchasing equipment.

Serving on the committee which was elected at a citizen's meeting in March to serve until satisfactory permanent plans are made and a board elected are Bill Jones, John Roberson, Luther Johnson, Noble Tipper and Rev. Gerald Harris, who also is serving as secretary and treasurer.

Plans are for a daytime program for younger boys and girls with soft ball teams and for games in the evening for older boys and

Youngster Gets Birthday Gift Of Citizenship

Harry Solomon, adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman George Solomon, 117 South Franklin Street, Florence, celebrated his six-year-old birthday, Monday, eagerly looking forward to receiving his birthday gifts, however, he first had a ceremony in which to participate.

The public function in the Federal Court of Judge Seybourn H. Lynne in Birmingham provided the youngster with one of his most lasting birthday presents of all, his United States Citizenship, though Henry is much too young to realize it.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon, selected Henry from 167 children in an orphanage at Munich, Germany when Mr. Solomon was stationed there with the Air Force. Henry was 19 months old at that time. "We knew he was the one we wanted as soon as they brought him down," Mrs. Solomon said. "He had long, golden curls and looked like a girl."

Henry, now with a crew-cut, is all boy and looking forward to starting school this Fall.

At the P.T.A. meeting which followed Hubert Greene introduced Bro. Tom Estes, minister of the Church of Christ, who gave the devotional.

Chairman of the nominating committee, Frank Crumbley presented the following officers for the coming year: president Hubert Greene; vice-president, Connie Pennington; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Johnnie Grisham.

Birthday Party:

Immediately after school on Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Louis Mason entertained at her home for her daughter, Ann, who was celebrating her twelfth birthday.

The group played games before being served the traditional cake and ice cream.
