

The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

● We'll wager a thin dime that there are a lot of little goblins and spooks who roamed the streets Tuesday night playing "Trick or Treat" who awoke Wednesday morning with more than a little tummy ache.

● In 1961 we have found that the weather man is the best paid writer of American fiction.

● The line seems to be forming rapidly as more aspirants for the two posts from Lauderdale County in the next session of the Legislature give voice to their plans. Hugh L. Robinson is certainly in the race and W. C. Hannah is giving serious consideration to entering the campaign. Others, we hear, but who have not expressed themselves to us, are readying an announcement. We can remember, and it hasn't been too long ago, that it was necessary to beg someone to offer for one of these posts. Now, we are happy to note, they are being sought. That's a good sign.

● A sage points out that middle age is when your narrow waist and broad mind begin to change places.

● A few days ago a man saw a friend of his coming down the street toward him and he appeared in a battered condition, wearing a black eye, scratches and a torn shirt. Alarmed, he rushed to his friend and said: "Bill, you look terrible. I'm going to take you straight home." "No you don't," declared Bill. "I just came from there."

● It's hard to explain to kids why a nation that spends billions on nuclear bombs is trying to outlaw firecrackers.

● Skin diving became the one and only pleasure of a wealthy man who found little to amuse him. He invested in much equipment: Rubber suit, depth gauge, waterproof watch and other items of convenience. On his first day under water, as he was swimming along, thinking well of himself, he came upon a man at the same depth dressed only in swim trunks. The wealthy one became outraged and wrote on a small blackboard with his underwater chalk: "I have hundreds of dollars worth of equipment and you have only a $3 swim suit. What gives?" The other man took the chalk and wrote on the blackboard: "For you, this is a sport. Me, I'm drowning."

● The Yanks and the Reds have played two world series this year—one in America and the other in Berlin.

● The poor fellow was worried about his son—his actions were a bit unusual. He decided to ask a psychiatrist for advice. "Doctor," he said, "my son sits around all day making mud pies." "Why worry about that?" asked the psychiatrist. "It's perfectly normal for a boy to make mud pies." "That's what I thought, too," said the father, "but his wife is complaining about it."

● "See (correct spelling) Sick-ness" comes from watching too much television.

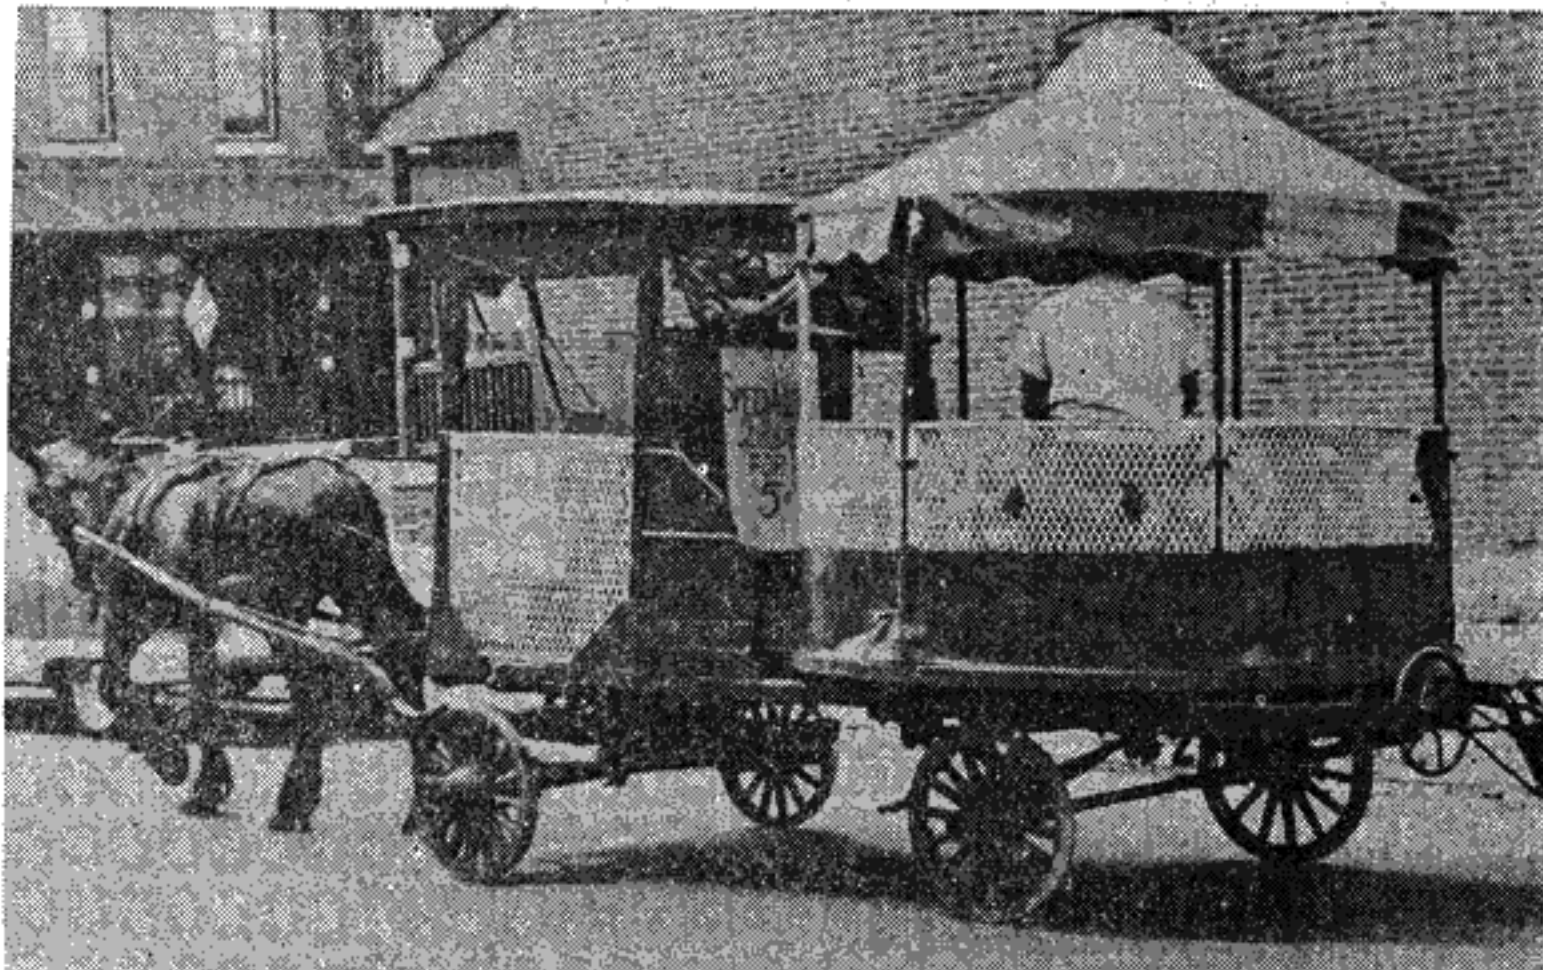

● All slicked up in his bib and tucker, the young man went to call on his girl friend. He was disappointed, upon his arrival at her home, to find that the family had been called away suddenly but the young lady had thoughtfully left a note fastened to the front door, which read: "Hi, Handsome. Have gone away for the week-end. Will be back Monday afternoon." And to this was added: "P.S. Don't tear up this note. You're not the only one."

● Some folks are no good at counting calories. They (and we) have the figures to prove it.

● The Michigan Senate recently voted to keep down at least the first cost of matrimony. They rejected a bill that would increase the marriage license fee from two to three dollars.

● There was a time when "aid to education" meant only that dad helped the kids with the homework.

● The following ad appeared in the job wanted column of a certain newspaper: "Particularly un-distinguished man seeks untire-some job. Absolutely no experience whatsoever, unlikely to be useful to anyone. Age 36. Will not travel. Speak five languages, mostly useless." He received two job offers a few hours after the paper hit the streets. One possible employer said that he likes to deal with truthful men.

TURN OF THE CENTURY—This horse-drawn merry-go-round is still spinning its happy way through the streets of Philadelphia, Pa. The more than 50-year-old carousel is owned by Tobia Cuozzo, who gives children two rides for a nickel and supplies them with music from a 90-year-old hand organ. He's been in the business for 35 years.

Schools, Prison Program Among Issues

Electorate Facing Vital Decisions December 5

On December 5 the voters of Alabama will decide the fate of 45 Constitutional Amendments, two of which will apply locally, Proposed Amendment No. 23—Lauderdale County: Special property tax of one-half of one per cent (5 mills) for educational purposes, and Proposed Amendment No. 24—City of Florence: Special property tax of one-half of one per cent (5 mills) for public schools. Both of these proposed amendments if approved are to be submitted to the voters in local elections early in January. Their passage will insure the operation of schools and the payment of full teacher contracts for full nine-month terms, school officials point out.

Aside from the vital 5-mill tax increases for the county and city other amendments of vital importance are Nos. 1 and 2.

No. 1 would permit the issuance of a $10,000,000 bond issue for a state prison construction and overhaul, providing for the separation of youthful first offenders from the influence of hardened criminals, and further providing for their schooling and vocational training.

No. 2 would provide a $3 million bond issue to construct a University of Ala., Research Institute at Huntsville, badly needed in connection with the vital defense work program at Redstone Arsenal. This amendment has wide endorsement including that of rocket expert, Dr. Werner Von Braun.

Neither of the first two amendments will mean any additional taxes, it was pointed out and both will be decided in the state election on Dec. 5.

A brief run-down on the other proposed amendments follows:

No. 4—Would provide for the continuity of the Legislature in case of an attack by an enemy of the U. S.

No. 5—Amends Sec. 235 Constitution by giving state of Alabama same rights and imposes same obligations conferred on municipal and other corporations in eminent domain proceedings.

No. 6—Would allow state institutions of learning to use revenues derived from the operation of existing buildings for other building purposes.

No. 7—Provides board of trustees at Auburn to remain at 12 despite loss of congressional representation and prohibits employees of university from serving on board.

No. 8—Baldwin County: 5-mill tax for schools subject to approval of local voters.

No. 9—Bullock County: additional license tax for schools, subject to approval of voters in the county.

No. 10—Tuscaloosa County: ½ of 1 per cent for schools, subject to local vote.

No. 11—Calhoun County: authorizing certain school tax funds to be used for general school purposes.

No. 12—Chilton County: Two (Continued on Page Two)

Faye Emerson To Appear In Person On November 16

Local devotees of the theater will be afforded a rare opportunity to see an outstanding production on November 16 when Faye Emerson of television and Broadway fame, will appear in "Mary Stuart."

The show, booked independently by William Lile Harris, president of the Muscle Shoals Concert Association, is not one of the series sponsored by the Association. It will be presented on the above date at Coffee High School auditorium, curtain time 8:15 p.m.

"Mary Stuart" is the story of the fight for the throne by two British queens, Eva Gallienne, famed star of the American stage, portraying the part of Queen Elizabeth, and Faye Emerson, co-starring as the beautiful but tragic Mary, Queen of Scots, London-born Scott Forbes, known to television audiences as "Jim Bowie" and husband of the former Jean Moody of Cherokee, heads the distinguished company. Miss Emerson will be remembered as moderator of "Author Meets Critics," and as a member of the panel of Gary Moore's TV show, "I've Got A Secret." She has also starred in a number of movies as well as Broadway plays.

Eva Gallienne achieved stardom in the first American production of "Lillom and The Swan." She is considered one of this country's greatest dramatic actresses.

Others in the company include Frederic Worlock, who toured last year in the role of Mr. Fuzz in the Pulitzer prize-winner, "J.B.," Sidney Walker, Paul Ballantyne, Claude Horton, Gedde Smith, Dalton Dearborn and Dee Vixtor.

Streeter Moves To New Location

Streeter Appliances and Furniture announces the store's removal to the Donaldson Building, 612 East Tennessee Street, where the new and larger quarters will permit greatly enlarged and improved lines of both furniture and appliances.

Streeter will continue to handle the famous GE appliances in addition to all types of home furnishings and invites the firm's friends and patrons as well as the general public to visit the store's new location.

A date of the store's open house will be announced in the near future, Sam Streeter, owner and manager, stated.

Senator Sparkman Is Convinced

"There Will Be No War Over Berlin Situation"

"I do not believe there will be any war over Berlin," Senator John Sparkman told members of the Methodist Men's Club of the First Methodist Church, Florence, Thursday. "Khrushchev is well aware of our determination to hold our position there, and he knows that we will go to war over any attempt to close our access route to that beleaguered city."

Senator Sparkman, who was introduced by Circuit Judge Robert M. Hill, said that it was his belief that Communism will fail and that eventually "the ideology of free expression, self determination, and free enterprise will prevail."

Senator Sparkman, who is serving as vice chairman of the important Senate Foreign Relations Committee, outlined in detail this

Bryant Trial In Third Day; Rape Attempt Claimed

The first degree murder trial of Dr. Herbert Bryant entered its third day Wednesday in Lauderdale Circuit Court as the wife of the defendant stated to the court that the fatal shot fired by her husband on August 7, had followed on attempt on the part of the late Joe Moore of Sheffield, to forcibly rape her.

Appearing very distraught, the optometrist's wife said she had just come from the bathroom when Moore grabbed her. It was at this time she stated she saw the barrel of the shotgun, apparently used in the fatal shooting pushed through the door.

She said there was a struggle between her husband and Moore and that she left the bedroom and went to her children in another room. She reported hearing a shot and testified that she then told the telephone operator that someone had been shot at Shoals Creek.

The defense, sought to confirm a plea of insanity in the case of Dr. Bryant who has been charged with first degree murder, establishing that Dr. Bryant was discharged from the U. S. Army in September, 1943, with an adjudicated 50% disability for reasons of psychiatric symptoms, since readjudicated in August, 1946, to a reduced 10 per cent. Since that time, it was stated, Dr. Bryant has received a 10 per cent disability compensation because of a psycho-neurosis.

Among the witnesses testifying was Dr. Lester Norvell whose testimony for the defense indicated the finding of several bruises about the neck and shoulders of Dr. Bryant which Dr. Norvell testified Bryant told him had been administered by the hands of Joe Moore.

Another witness caller was Herman Parker operator of Lakeview Trailer Court, who said that Moore had leased the trailer (where the killing occurred) for a year in advance.

The prosecution had earlier presented its case with the introduction of testimony by Lewis Eugene Moore, son of the deceased, who stated that Dr. Bryant in two telephone conversations with him had told him he was going to kill his father. Mrs. Irma Moore also testified to the same thing indicating that she had also received telephone calls. Lewis Moore stated that Dr. Bryant "sounded drunk."

TRAFFIC LIGHT REQUESTED ON MITCHELL BOULEVARD

A traffic light on Mitchell Boulevard has been requested of the Florence City Commission to aid access to business located on the east side of the four-lane strip. Owners of the businesses affected requested that the light be placed some 1,200 feet from the north end of O'Neal bridge.

Proration May Not Be Required

Proration of school money may not be needed, according to Revenue Commissioner Guy Sparks, who said income from state taxes earmarked for education totaled $12,841,043 in October, first month of the 1961-62 fiscal year.

The sum was $590,101 more than the October revenue estimate of $12,250,942 which the Legislature used in arriving at its appropriation of school funds for fiscal 1961-62, it was pointed out.

"This means there will be no proration of school money as long as tax returns continue coming in at that rate, Sparks said. He added that "we are running way ahead of the game."

State school funds were prorated more than 12 per cent last year with lesser cutbacks for the four previous years, when income from levies for education was short of legislative appropriations.

School revenues in October this year amounted to 4.5 per cent more than last October's proceeds of $12,889,592, which, it was shown, failed to meet income estimates for that month in fiscal 1960-61.

Sparks indicated that he was encouraged with the start since "the first month is very crucial." If you start off with more revenue than income estimates the chances are it will stay that way, he explained. He also said the sharp increase was due to raises in the state income tax, sales tax and use tax. The only tax that showed a drop was the tobacco levy which fell $189,695.75 during the month.

He also credited his crackdown on income tax returns for aiding the increase.

Shelter Planned At Hickory Hills

Hickory Hills Community Fall-out Shelter, Inc., held its first meeting Monday last week at St. Bartholomew Episcopal Mission on Darby Drive. Approximately seventy families were represented at the meet.

The organization is a nonprofit corporation being formed for the purpose of building and maintaining a community fallout shelter for the protection from radioactive fallout for the residents of Hickory Hills, Holiday Homes and Green-brier Sections.

The cost for a three person family is estimated to be $600 with an increase of $200 for each additional person. The cost is based on the minimum space requirement as recommended by the United States Office of Civil Defense and Mobilization.

The shelter will be a minimum of six feet below the ground's surface and will have incorporated the additional features recommended by the Office of Defense and Mobilization.

The plans as they are now set up will provide for ninety families which the members of the temporary board of directors anticipate will be signed up very soon.

Members of the board are Dr. William G. Butler, Jr.; Rawson B. Coleman; O. Phil Herm, treasurer; B. J. Kilgore; Gene W. Noce; Gordon W. Rudd and Kenneth Williams. Karl Tyree, Jr., is counsel for the corporation.

WATERSHED DISTRICT SETS MEETING FOR TUESDAY

Members of The Cypress Creek Watershed Conservancy District have scheduled an information meeting for next Tuesday night, Nov. 7, it was announced by Douglas Austin, president. The meeting will be held in Cloverdale School. A film on watersheds will be shown entitled "From the Ridge To The River."

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Carter have returned from a two-weeks' vacation in Florida and North Carolina.

Local Delegates Named To Farm Bureau Meeting

Programs of interest to every farmer, whether his specialty is livestock or crops, have been arranged for the 40th annual Alabama Farm Bureau convention at Biloxi, Miss., Nov. 5-8, Walter L. Randolph, Federation president, announced this week.

Delegates who will attend from Lauderdale County are: Walker Brown, President of the Lauderdale Farm Bureau; A. J. Darby, Jr., vice president; Hiram Holden, L. L. Whitten, J. L. Springer, D. S. Belew, Oliver Wright, Bruce Ellis, Jr. and Arthur Melton.

It has been the custom in the past for the local bureau to send a boy or girl from one of the county high schools on the trip and this year there will be two, Kathy Tidwell, from Lexington High School, who will be a candidate for Farm Bureau "Queen," and Barbara Quillen from Rogers High School. Each county Bureau is allowed to enter only one contestant for queen, it was announced. On the trip both Kathy and Barbara will be able to see how the convention is conducted and to mix with the other young people from throughout the state who are guests of their county organizations.

Experts in many fields have accepted invitations to address or lead discussions at group conferences on dairying, hogs, beef cattle and sheep; forestry, fish and wildlife; poultry, field crops, and fruits and vegetables.

Group Meetings Scheduled

These group meetings will be held on Monday, Nov. 5, following the formal opening of the convention Sunday night with vesper service conducted by officers of the Alabama Council of Home Demonstration Clubs. Mrs. Hodges Dial, of Sumter County, is president of the Council, which will be holding its 35th annual meeting.

Such general problems as taxes, education, the cost-price squeeze, state and national legislation will occupy the delegates at general sessions. Principal speakers will be Roger Fleming, secretary-treasurer and director of the Washington office, American Farm Bureau; Tom Anderson, publisher of Farm and Ranch Magazine, and Dr. M. K. Horne, chief economist, National Cotton Council.

Heads of state 4-H, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers also will make talks.

Randolph To Retire

Randolph, now rounding out his 21 years as president, has announced that he will not seek reelection. Candidates for the post already announced are J. D. Hays, Madison County farmer who has served 14 years as first vice president, and State Sen. Robert G. Kendall, Conecuh County cotton dealer, and farmer.

The condition of Mrs. M. P. Curran, a patient at ECM Hospital, is said to be improved.

A faculty-student committee is polishing final plans for Florence State College's biggest Homecoming on Saturday.

The college's alumni are expected back in droves for the full day of renewing friendships, fun, and football. But work already has been going on for six weeks to perfect arrangements for the day.

Activities on the campus will hit full speed at the pep rally tonight. President E. B. Norton, student leaders, coaches and football team captains all are expected to appear before the cheering student body as a giant bonfire lights up the sky.

The Florence State Lion Band in handsome new uniforms and now numbering 74 instrumentalists, will be in the center of all the week-end activities as their new sound fills the air. The band will play at the pep rally, march in the parade, and appear in full glory at the game.

Tri-Cities parade fanciers say the college's annual Homecoming parade Saturday at 11 a.m. through downtown Florence will be the best of the year. The student-built floats will be interspersed with gaily decorated autos, six high school bands, Florence's band, Pershing Rifles drill team, the Lionette 48 member girls drill squad, and Jacksonville State College's band and Marching Balerinas.

A barbecue luncheon for alumni and friends will begin at noon on the grounds of historic Rogers Hall, affording more time for conversation, along with good food.

Then at 2 p.m. comes the day's highlight, the traditionally hard-fought game with the Gamecocks of Jacksonville State. Drill teams and bands will perform on the field as fans fill Coffee Stadium. Then at half-time Homecoming Queen Mary Settle Wright will be crowned, with the Florence and Jacksonville bands providing music and color for the ceremony.

The Homecoming Dance from 8 p.m. until midnight, first ever held in the Great Hall of the Student Union, will be a fitting finish for the busy day.

Bands marching in the parade will be: Hatton High of Town Creek, Richmond Hogan, director; Colbert County of Leighton, Doug Weathers, director; Hazelwood High of Town Creek, Elwyn R. Irby, director; Lawrence County of Moulton, Newton Sims, director; Sheffield High, Gene Gooch, director; Cherokee Vocational, George Ingleright, director. They will be joined at the game by the Deshler High band under Ray Morris.

Where Will It Stop?

When our forefathers settled this country they had many problems not the least of which was the hostility of the Indians, who when they once discovered the white man really meant to take over, fought tenaciously and graced their wigwams with many paleface scalps. Ultimately the white man's superior weapons turned the tide. With the country conquered the once free Indians were herded into reservations, their lands gone forever.

With all its cruelty however, war in the old days pitted man against man and the best man won. At least the man who lost had a fighting chance and in risking his life, and even in losing it, there was dignity and the respect of the enemy. In the old days there were many things more cruel than war—tyranny and oppression and slavery. War brought relief from these things.

But today man has suddenly deprived himself of the dignity of winning anything in a fair fight. He can no longer stand up and fight hand-to-hand with the enemy with a near-even chance of survival. He has invented weapons too devastating to describe, weapons that may be triggered a thousand or more miles away and minutes later scream out of the sky to shivel and burn a whole city in one horrible moment.

Man has no chance in a nuclear war, a war of his own invention. He has embarked upon an arms race in which there appears to be no end. This nation bearing the burden of the arms race now pays, we are told, one third of the administrative cost of all the United Nations agencies and most of the funds for all UN aid and lending programs. Our treasury has been virtually open to all under-developed nations and there are those who would open the gates still wider to foreign spending. Some of the countries we have helped have been within the Communist bloc in Europe, Asia, Africa and in our own hemisphere. Given enough time the Communists could strip America's economy almost as effectively as if their armies were swarming over our land.

If the UN was intended as an instrument for peace it lost much of its effectiveness in November, 1950, when the General Assembly passed a resolution that took away the police power of the Security Council where the United States has a veto and placed this power in its own hands. The almost total lack of respect for a UN police force has been in evidence since that time, beginning in Africa when Nasser took over the Suez and more recently in the Congo.

There is one thing the Communists worship and that is power. The danger is that it will use that power with so little discretion that war will finally be inevitable. With this nation so fanatically devoted to peace we have been running up one blind alley after another in the hope it would lead to a solution of our problems. President Kennedy's positive stand on Berlin no doubt shocked the Soviets as much as it brought relief to Americans. Where we will go now is anybody's guess but we have stopped running. And that is something.

What is more Mr. Kennedy and the Congress are now taking a look at some of the non-military goods we have been shipping to Poland, Yugoslavia and other Communist bloc nations, because, as one protesting Senator said, these very goods may not be of military value but they enable the Reds to turn more manpower to the production of military goods that just might be used against us in case of a shooting war.

We commend the Administration's stand but cannot help but wonder why somebody hadn't discovered this obvious fact a long time ago. It is getting later than we think.

Legislature "Passes Buck"

Alabama's solution to the dilemma created by the legislature's failure to act on a congressional redistricting plan has the dubious distinction of being novel, if undesirable.

Under the 1960 census, the state's delegation was cut from nine to eight. When the regular session was unable to agree on a redistricting plan, a hurriedly-called summer special session came up with what has been dubbed the "9-8" plan.

The nine old districts, in a preliminary primary, will nominate candidates. Then, in a runoff primary next May, the nine nominees will run at large, with the low man being eliminated.

The most charitable evaluation of the plan finds little to recommend it. It does, to a slight degree, lessen the utter confusion that would result from requiring the incumbents to run at large in the first primary. Such campaigns compel incumbents, known and well established in their districts, to run as relatively unknowns elsewhere in the state, and compete on almost even terms with political opportunists taking advantage of the prevailing confusion.

The "9-8" plan does offer some protection against such a chaotic result. But it does not relieve the nine nominees from the expense and trouble of statewide campaigning.

An even stronger indictment of the plan is its demonstration of political cowardice by the state legislature. By thus compromising its constitutional duty, the legislature simply passed the buck to the voters to do its job.

Hellard Elected To National Post

Wallace Hellard of the Clark-Hellard Agency was elected to the board of directors of the National Association of Mutual Insurance Agents at the group's 30th annual convention at Detroit recently.

Hellard was one of eleven agents elected to fill vacancies in the 53-man board. His term of office is for three years. During that time, he will represent the Alabama Association of Mutual Insurance Agents of which he is also a member, in deciding policy matters affecting more than 10,000 independent mutual insurance agents across the country who are members of the national association.

In The Week's News

Soviets Explode Biggest Bomb

The White House, Monday, announced Russia had exploded a nuclear device on the order of 50 megatons and, in effect, accused the Soviets of nuclear blackmail. The formal statement said Russia had deliberately gone against the hopes of the world in order to spread such fear across the universe that "peace-loving men will accept any Soviet demand."

Stalin's Body Ordered Removed

Five thousand cheering delegates and officials at the Soviet Communist party congress voted Monday to remove the body of Joseph Stalin from its place beside Lenin in the big tomb on Red Square. The congress action came in the wake of speeches by Premier Khrushchev and others denouncing the long-time Soviet dictator as a murderer and instigator of mass repression against Communist and army leaders.

Third Child Born To Crosbys

A son was born Sunday night to singer Bing Crosby's actress wife, Kathy Grant. The baby weighed 9 pounds and is the third born to the couple. The couple's other children are Harry Lillis, Jr., 3, and Mary Frances, 2. Crosby is 57 and Miss Grant is 27. Crosby said he and his wife would call their new son Nathaniel Patrick.

Kennedy Proclaims Thanksgiving

President Kennedy, Saturday, called upon all citizens to observe Thanksgiving Day, November 23, in a manner "not only to preserve our blessings, but also to extend them to the four corners of the earth." "Let us by our example, as well as by our material aid, assist all peoples of all nations who are striving to achieve a better life in freedom," Kennedy said in his formal proclamation.

Saturn Test Is "Perfect"

The Saturn rocket thundered through a perfect maiden flight Friday and the United States now has the firepower needed to race Russia to the moon. The booster rode 1.3 million pounds of thrust to an altitude of 95 miles then dived back as planned to sink to the bottom of the Atlantic 200 miles down range. It is hoped that in three years, the Saturn will be ready to hurl a three-man Apollo spacecraft into orbit around the earth.

Late News

● Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn returned to his home in Bonham, Tex., Tuesday, where he will be treated by his personal physician, Dr. Jose Risser. The decision to return home was because of the speaker's often expressed desire to end his days among, in his words, "those friends and neighbors who for so long have given me a love and a loyalty unsurpassed in any annals." It is not known if Rayburn knows of the seriousness of his condition.

● The Justice Department filed a suit Tuesday to prevent Mississippi officials from enforcing state segregation laws in conflict with new Federal regulations barring racial discrimination in bus travel. Interstate Commerce Commission rules prohibiting segregation in buses and bus terminal facilities went into effect Wednesday.

● Russia exploded two surprise nuclear bombs Tuesday even as the fallout cloud from its giant 50-megaton blast drifted across Siberia toward North America. The 50-megaton bomb, which Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev had said would end the current Russian test series, was obviously not the final shot.

● A Brazilian Airliner crashed on Wednesday at Recife, Brazil, when coming in for a landing. The disaster was one of the worst in that country, 48 of the 85 aboard perishing when the plane caught fire. No U. S. citizens were aboard.

● The United Auto Workers Union set a strike deadline of Thursday midnight against the Chrysler Corporation, if no contract is in hand by that time.

● Members of the Muscle Shoals Aeronautics Authority, and the Muscle Shoals and Florence Chambers of Commerce this week joined in a request that Eastern Airlines restore its former commuter flight service to the area, between Muscle Shoals, Birmingham and Montgomery. J. F. Dishongh, Jr., Birmingham, Eastern's district sales manager, said he had recommended that the service be reinstated and that he would do everything possible to expedite it.

Inferior Court Opens Saturday

The regular monthly session of the Lauderdale County Inferior Court will open Saturday morning, November 4, 1961 at 9:00 a.m. in the Lauderdale County Courtroom with Judge John R. Barnes presiding. He will be assisted by Lavern Tate, Deputy Solicitor.

All persons who have cases are reminded to be in court promptly at 9:00 a.m. so that they can answer when their cases are called. Warrants will be issued for those persons who fail to appear unless they have made definite arrangements to get their cases continued. On Friday November 10, 1961, beginning at 9:00 a.m. the Court will hear charges of Violating Prohibition Law, Non-Support and Felony Cases on Preliminary hearing.

Reynolds Metals Leases Can Plant

Reynolds Metals Company last week began moving machinery into the can manufacturing plant it has leased in Orlando, Florida.

Everts P. Burlew, manager of the firm's newly-created Can Division, announced that the plant will be in full production by December 1, manufacturing aluminum cans for frozen citrus juice concentrates. He said the plant will employ about 40 persons.

"We consider this an ideal location," Mr. Burlew said. "It's located in the heart of the citrus juice packing area, so we'll be able to give our customers rapid service. Transportation facilities are excellent. We'll be producing and shipping cans in time for the start-up of the frozen juice packing season in mid-December."

The plant's three can-assembly lines already have been set up and fully tested by The Barker Company in Tampa, he said, and will be ready for production as soon as they are installed. Auxiliary equipment for palletizing the cans and loading them onto trucks and rail cars now is being purchased.

The facility includes a 29,000 square foot plant and 3,000 square foot office building. It is served by the Seaboard Air Line Railroad and also will use trucks for delivery.

WATER MAKES A DIFFERENCE IN KEEPING CLOTHES WHITE

Are your white clothes white? Elizabeth Bryan, Auburn University Extension home management specialist, says that recent studies revealed that items washed in naturally soft or chemically softened water turn out whiter than those washed in hard water.

Studies also showed that average whiteness is higher if the washing water is hot—up to 127 degrees. This is especially true if laundering is done in hard water.

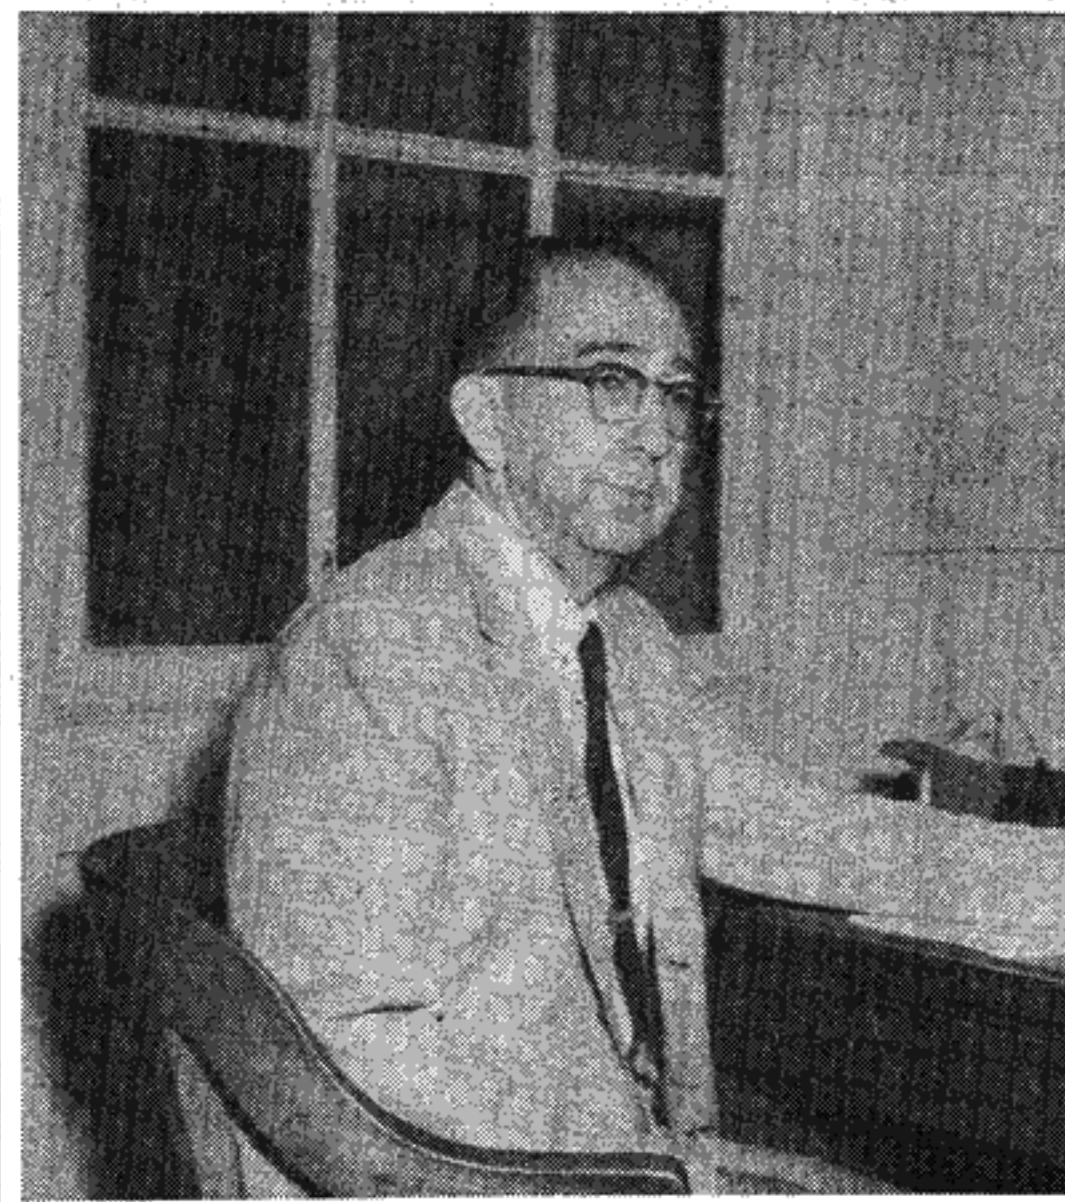

Miss Bryan adds that clothes dried outdoors are usually whiter than those dried indoors. This is because of the bleaching effect of sunshine.

WILLIAM ARTHUR GRAHAM

"A truly dedicated teacher in elementary education, Mr. Graham has had as much influence on the lives of the young people of Florence, who have come under his guidance during the past thirty-odd years, as any man I know," is the observation made by one who has worked with him in this field during this period.

"Mr. Graham has the touch, the know-how and the ability to impress those in his charge of the right things that make for good citizens and as he has gone about handling the problems of youth as well as supervising the instructional programs of the classrooms, he has contributed so much to the future of these students that it can be said of him that a considerable portion of the happy conditions under which we live here can be attributed directly to him," it was added in a deserved tribute, to this man who has given the greater part of his life to elementary education and its improvement.

William Arthur Graham was born in Iuka, Miss., September 12, 1905, the son of John Lawrence and Eugenia Bonds Graham. While still an infant, the family moved to Bradenton, Fla.

He attended elementary school in Bradenton and in 1917, following the completion of his elementary schooling, the family returned to Iuka. Mr. Graham was graduated from Iuka High School in 1922, serving as vice-president of his graduating class.

After his graduation from high school, Mr. Graham took the Mississippi state teachers' examination. Passing the tests with high grades, he began his teaching career in the Tishomingo County school system and taught there for the next two years. He then accepted the position of principal of a school in Burnsville, Miss., and remained there three years.

During the summer months while at Burnsville, Mr. Graham attended Florence State Normal School and in 1927, he entered the local school for a full year term. Mr. Graham was a member and served as vice-president of Florida Literary Club as well as the International Relations Club. He was graduated from the two-year college course in 1929.

In the fall of 1928, Mr. Graham accepted the position of principal of Brandon School, Florence, continuing in that position until 1956. He continued his studies at Florence State Teachers College during the summer sessions and was graduated in 1934 with a B.S. degree in Elementary Education.

Following his graduation from Florence State, he attended the University of Alabama summer terms and in August, 1940, received his Masters degree in Elementary Education. While attending the University, he was a member of Phi Delta Kappa and Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education fraternities.

Since receiving his Masters degree, Mr. Graham has done further graduate work in the elementary education field. He has taken work at the University of Alabama, Auburn University and Peabody College in Nashville.

In the summers of 1941, 1942, and 1947, Mr. Graham was supervising teacher of the sixth grade at the University of Alabama. He also taught two summer sessions at Waterloo and taught mathematics during the summer at Coffee High School.

In 1944, while serving as principal at Brandon School, Mr. Graham was also named principal of Patton School and served in that dual capacity until 1956, when he joined the staff at Florence State College as Director of Kilby Training School. He taught mathematics during the summer session prior to assuming his duties at Kilby. Mr. Graham is a charter member of Kappa Mu Epsilon, honorary mathematics fraternity, at Florence State.

On June 6, 1944, Mr. Graham was married to Rachel McLeod of Geneva, whom he met while at the University of Alabama. They have one daughter, Mary Eugenia, 13, an eighth grader at Appleby Junior High School. Mr. Graham was appointed guardian for Richard Coffee, a great nephew of

FSC Lions Ready For Gamecocks

The Florence State Lions and the Jacksonville Gamecocks meet head-on Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. in Coffee Stadium.

As an extra treat for Florence's homecoming alumni, the Alabama Collegiate Conference championship will be at stake.

Both teams are undefeated in conference action. This will be the second consecutive year that the two teams have battled it out for the ACC championship. Last year in Jacksonville the Lions won a hard fought 14-7 victory to bring home the championship trophy.

Florence State has never lost all Alabama Collegiate Conference game. The last time the Lions lost to an Alabama state college team was way back in 1951 when Jacksonville defeated them 13-6. The Lions have eleven consecutive wins over Troy and Livingston and six straight over Jacksonville. The two teams did not meet between 1956 and 1960.

Coach Don Salls of Jacksonville has a fine, well balanced team capable of beating any team it faces. In Ray Gentes and Arland Carter, the Gamecocks have two boys who can do everything and do it well.

Coach Hal Self of Florence State still has not found a consistent offensive punch. The Lions moved the ball well between the 25 yard stripes last Saturday against Middle Tennessee but couldn't dent the double stripe. One touchdown was called on a penalty.

The Lions record now stands at 4-3 overall and 2-0 in conference play. Kickoff in Saturday's Homecoming game will be at 2 p.m.

Miss Marks, Mr. Williams
Wed In Quiet Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Marks have announced the marriage of their daughter, Peggy Joy, to John Dale Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Williams, all of Florence, on Saturday, October twenty-first.

Vows were said in York Terrace Baptist Church at eight o'clock in the evening, with members of the two families in attendance. The Reverend Henry Atcheson was the officiating clergyman.

The bride was graduated from Coffee High School, attended Florence State College and is presently on the staff at Florence Clinic. Mr. Williams is a member of the senior class at Florence State.

The couple is at home at 429 Poplar Street, Florence.

Birmingham Engagement
Claims Local Interest

Dr. and Mrs. Richard Edwin Branscomb, onetime Florentines during his pastorate at First Methodist Church, and now of Birmingham, have announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, Dianne, to Thomas Earle Bowen, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Earle Bowen of Birmingham.

The bride-to-be was graduated from Coffee High School, attended Vanderbilt University in Nashville and, at Birmingham-Southern College where she was graduated magna cum laude, she was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary fraternity. She has joined the teaching profession, with a position in Fairfield.

Her fiancé, a Ramsay High School and Birmingham-Southern graduate, is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity and, at the University of Alabama School of Medical Technology where he recently completed a year of graduate work, he was named Outstanding Student in his class. He is now with the University Hospital in Birmingham.

Ensley Highlands Methodist Church will be the scene of the December twenty-third nuptials.

Miss Nell Curbow's
Engagement Announced

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Butler, Rogersville, Route One, of the engagement and approaching marriage of Nell Curbow to Lester Collier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Burdes Collier of Killen, Route One.

The bride-elect was graduated in June from Rogersville High School and her fiancé from Lexington High in 1959.

The wedding is scheduled for Friday, November tenth.

Miss Linda Joyce Comer
To Be December Bride

Mrs. Oscar Lee Johnson of Florence, Route One, has announced the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Linda Joyce Comer, to John D. Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake J. Black of Killen.

The bride-elect, daughter of the late John D. Comer, and her fiancé have chosen December twenty-second as their wedding date.

Lakeside Gardeners
Meet With Mrs. McKee

At her home on Skypark Road, Mrs. James McKee was hostess on Monday evening to members of Lakeside Garden Club and one guest, Mrs. Robert Simmons.

Traditional Halloween decorations were about the rooms where Mrs. Roy Taylor and Mrs. James Penn displayed the know-how of fashioning arrangements of garden flowers, particularly pleasing their onlookers with crescent- and triangular-shaped bouquets.

Refreshments, served from a harvest table, carried out the party theme.

Informal Courtesies
Welcome Mrs. McNeely

The return of Autumn means a return of delightful interest in group-gatherings here and there and particularly in Florence where longtime friends look eagerly forward each October to the arrival from Texas of Mrs. John H. McNeely whose presence in her native hometown adds a special charm to the Winter season.

Among the small welcoming courtesies were the luncheons on consecutive days last mid-week (Tuesday and Wednesday) to which Mrs. W. F. McFarland and Mrs. Richard Smith bade congenial groups of twelve each to The Town Club.

Pink napery and bouquets of pink chrysanthemums appointed the tables around which guests were seated in the Southern Room.

Numerous other small courtesies are planned for the days ahead.

Mrs. Tate Hostess To Alamance Chapter, DAR

On Friday afternoon at three o'clock, members of Alamance Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, assembled at the L. E. Tate home on West Tennessee Street, with Mrs. Tate and Mrs. Baxter Wilson serving as co-hostesses.

Mrs. W. H. Baker, vice-regent, presided and presented to Mrs. A. J. Darby a book, "American Genealogy" by Frederick Adams Birkus, which will be placed in her honor in Florence-Lauderdale Library.

For the program, Mrs. Wilson gave a report on her visit to the DAR-sponsored Kate Duncan Smith School on Gunter's Mountain. Mrs. Fred Long read a letter from DAR's President General, Mrs. Earle Darby gave a report received from National Defense Headquarters and Mrs. J. W. Powell, program chairman, read interesting data from the records of a quaint old church in rural New Digging, Wis.

Attending with Chapter members were Mrs. Duncan Gray, Mrs. Dewey Mitchell, Sr., and Mrs. J. D. LaRoche.

Dinner Meeting Marks
Pilot's 40th Anniversary

On Monday evening of the past week, members of the Pilot Club of Florence marked the 40th Anniversary of Pilot International with a dinner meeting at The Town Club. Miss Pauline Gravelle presided.

In charge of the Founders Day program was Miss Burchell Campbell, chairman of membership and Pilot information committee. The organization of Pilot International was discussed by Miss Gravelle; Mrs. R. W. Sharp reported on activities of the organization; Miss Lillie Mitchell and Miss Marcella Eckel told of the local club and of overseas clubs, respectively.

Dr. E. B. Norton, Florence State College president, was the guest speaker. Introduced by Miss Gravelle, he used as his topic the Pilot International theme for 1961-62—"Principles of Freedom—Our Trust."

Present in addition to members were Mrs. Norton, Mrs. Inell Knight, Miss Mamie Kennard, Miss Emma Gray, Miss Evelyn Vickery, Mrs. Eunice Dale, Miss Susan Hughes, Mrs. C. J. Cornelison, Miss Ailene Cook, Miss Winnie Bowman, all of Florence and Mrs. W. B. Plyler of Winston-Salem, N.C.

Mrs. Frank Irvine is a patient at Riverside Hospital, Boonton, N. J., suffering from injuries received in a fall. The accident occurred at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Fowler of Boonton, soon after her arrival there for a Winter visit.

Mrs. T. T. Hackworth was a recent visitor in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Donald Rhodes, and Mr. Rhodes, who are now "settled in" Glen Ferris, W. Va., after a number of years in Portland, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ledbetter and son, Robby, of Eaugallie, Fla., arrived last week for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ledbetter, Howell St., Florence.

Miss Adrienne Arnett, now a stewardess with Pan-American Airways, was a weekend guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Gerber on North Wood Ave. Mr. and Mrs. Louis McCullough were among the spectators at the Vandy-Ole Miss game in Oxford on Saturday.

At home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Tomlinson in Hickory Hills, is Miss Harriet Tomlinson who returned a few days ago from two months in Europe.

Mrs. Sue Cochran was a guest last week of her daughter, Mrs. Joe Douglas, Lt. Douglas, and their small Melissa in Fort Dix, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble Arnett accompanied her mother, Mrs. W. A. Pace who has been their guest, on her return to Herrin, Ill., and visited briefly with their son, Don Snyder, and his family in St. Louis last week.

In Talladega last mid-week for the annual North Alabama Presbyterial meet were Mrs. James Fall, Jr., Mrs. Sledge Canon, Mrs. James Hicks, Jr., Mrs. Lawson Miller, Mrs. Philip Arello, Mrs. Wilford Doss, Mrs. R. M. Penay, Jr., and Mrs. Floyd McCoy.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodloe Pride, Jr., have named their first child, born at ECM hospital on October 25, Goodloe, III. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Harris of Cherokee and Mr. and Mrs. Goodloe Pride of Sheffield are the grandparents; Mrs. Rose Jacobway of Florence, his great grandmother.

Journeying to Auburn for the Homecoming Weekend were Mr. and Mrs. James McIntosh who were guests of his brother, John McIntosh, and Mrs. McIntosh; Mr. and Mrs. James H. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kosack and Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Marsh.

Mrs. T. Ed Campbell left Saturday for a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Donald Wellford, Mr. Wellford and their family in Memphis.

In Florida to join Mr. and Mrs. Otho Perriett, Jr. for the annual Boat-A-Cade is Don Freeman of Florence.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomas attended Auburn Homecoming during the weekend as guests of their daughter, Linda Thomas, an AU student.

Mrs. D. R. Williams was in Birmingham last week for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Howard J. Thomas.

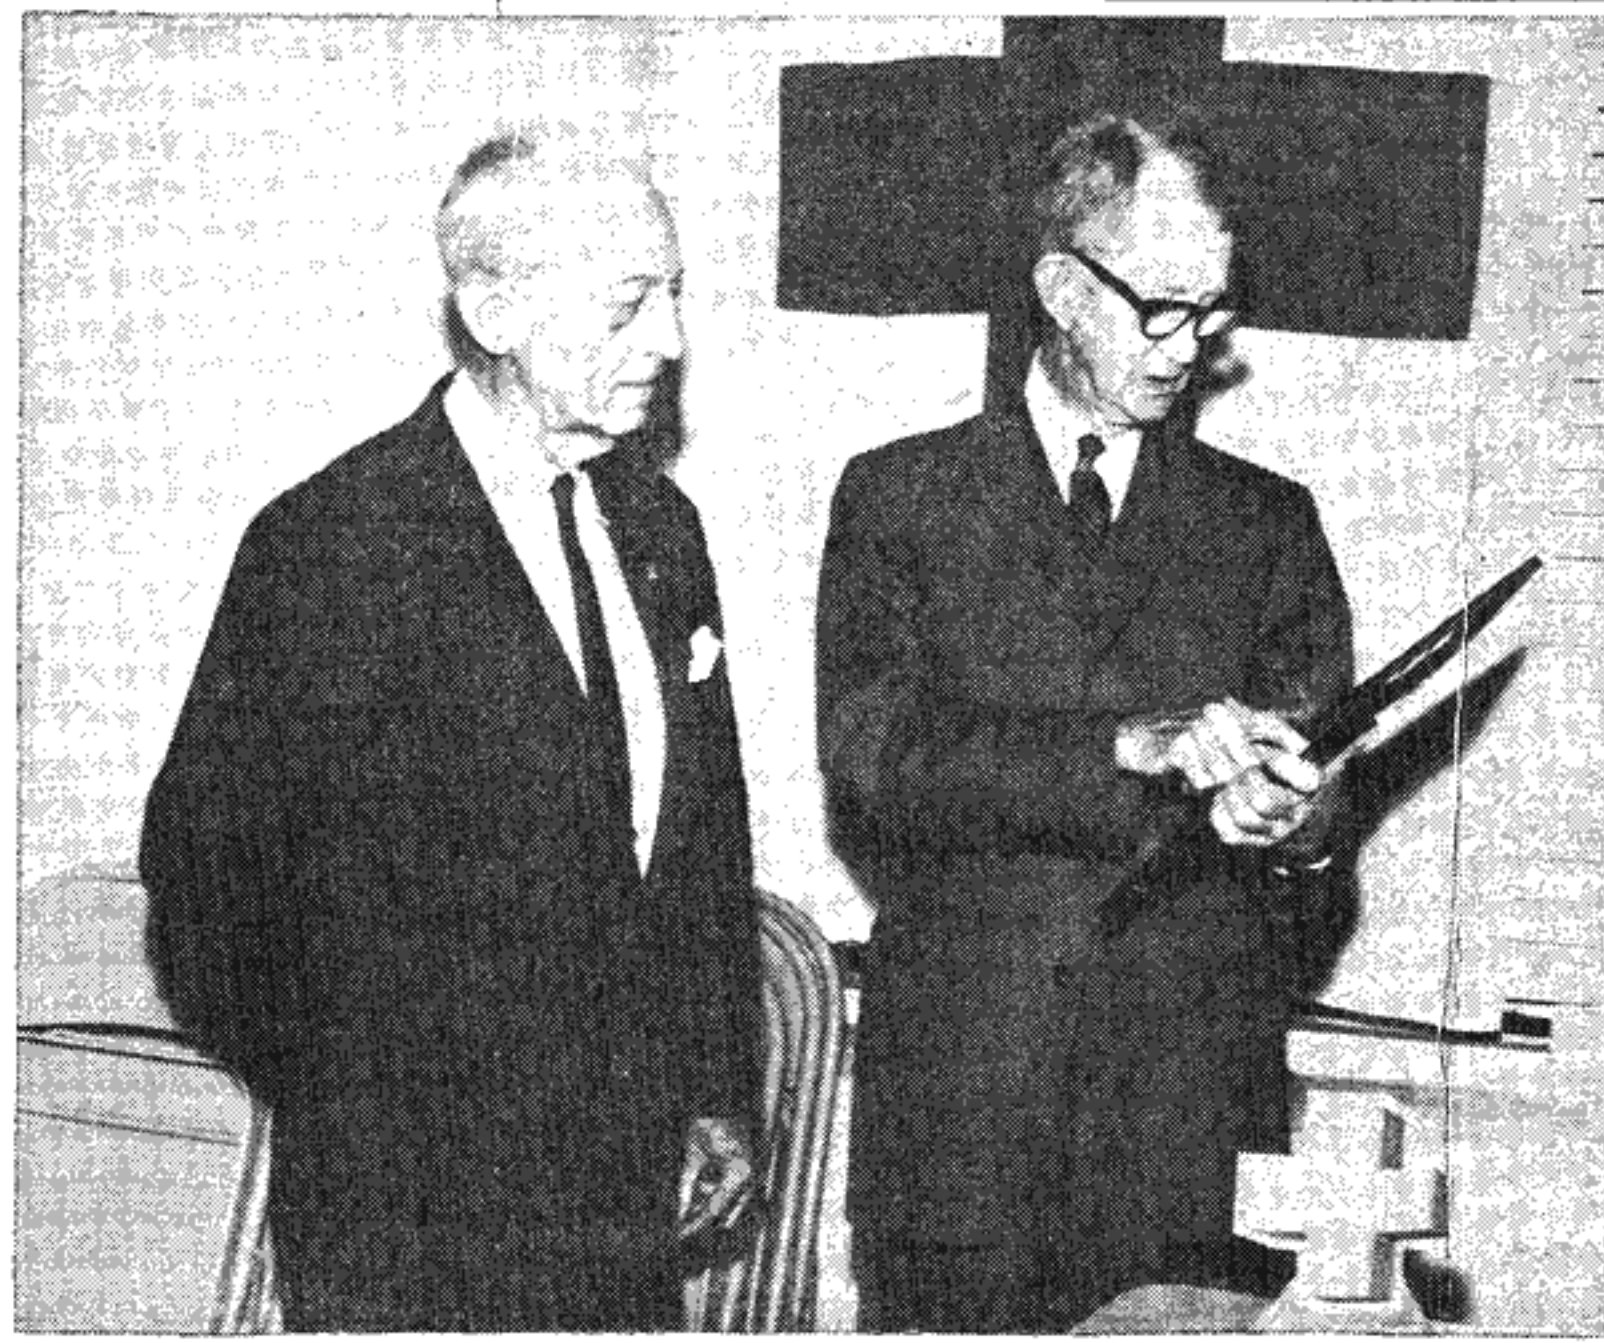

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Martin, until recently of Kendrick St., have moved into their new home on Lauderdale Beach.

Clarence B. Collier is expected from Knoxville this weekend for a visit with his mother, Mrs. C. B. Collier, Sherrod Ave.

Dr. and Mrs. John B. Rice attended the reunion of his class at the Medical College of Tulane University, New Orleans, returning to Florence on Sunday.

Here for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McIntyre have been his sisters and brothers-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Brinkley and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pettit of Asheville, N. C., and Mrs. McIntyre's daughter, Miss JoAnn Fowler of Huntsville. The gathering was a "welcome-home-from-Coffee Hospital" to Mr. McIntyre.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Rivers Wiggins returned Tuesday to their home on Wildwood Ave, after a month with her sister, Mrs. Alva B. Stewart, in Long Beach, Calif.

LONG-TIME RED CROSS SUPPORTERS—These two Florence leaders, Emerson Lucas, left, and Dr. D. W. Hollingsworth, have given strong support to the Red Cross program for approximately 75 years, combined. Mr. Lucas served both in the United States and in India. Dr. Hollingsworth, pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian Church, Florence, is a former Lauderdale Chapter chairman.

Total Of 75 Years

Florentines Give Long
Service To Red Cross

Two of Lauderdale County's best loved men are also two of the most loyal and enthusiastic supporters of the Lauderdale County Red Cross program.

Dr. D. W. Hollingsworth, Pastor Emeritus of the Florence First Presbyterian Church, and Emerson Lucas, retired broker, are both long-time leaders of Red Cross.

Dr. Hollingsworth's work with the Lauderdale County Chapter began in 1918, the year he came to Florence. That was also the year in which the Chapter was chartered. Mr. Lucas became active in the service of Red Cross soon after coming to Florence in 1922.

The third chairman of the local Chapter, Dr. Hollingsworth served in that capacity for fifteen years. Mrs. Charles E. Nance, Executive Secretary, said, "We can say that Dr. Hollingsworth has been interested in Red Cross since the beginning of the Chapter as he and the late Judge J. J. Mitchell, the Chapter's first chairman, were such good friends. He would have helped Judge Mitchell with any community undertaking."

Admiral R. H. Jackson was the Chapter's second chairman. Mr. Lucas held official positions with American National Red Cross. He served as Home Service representative, and also as Field Director in the States and in India. He has for many years been an active member of the Lauderdale Chapter's Board of Directors.

Asked to comment upon his Red Cross experience, Mr. Lucas said, "As I have told many friends, I feel that the most satisfying work that I have ever done was the personnel work with troops at our camps in the States and in India—the rewards being a job well done, or as good as my capabilities permitted."

Both men have retained an active interest in the program throughout the years and are currently honorary members of the Board of Directors.

Aaron Lynch, present chairman, said that the impact that these two men have had upon Red Cross work will be felt for a long time. "We are glad to have them on our Board," he added.

Jan Sharon Snell
Elected To College
Student Board

Jan Sharon Snell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Snell, Route 1, Florence, has been elected a member of the Student Board at David Lipscomb College, Nashville.

The Student Board is made up of elected representatives, class officers, and editors of publications. Miss Snell will represent upper-class women boarding students in Fanning Hall. She is a junior business administration major and a graduate of Mars Hill Bible School where her father is president.

Lipscomb is a church-related college, operated, staffed and supported by members of churches of Christ. It opened the fall term in September with a record-breaking enrollment of 2103 in college, high school, and elementary school divisions.

BE ON SAFE SIDE
BOIL CANNED FOOD

Started eating those home canned foods yet?

Isabelle Downey, Auburn University Extension Service food preservation specialist, says to never taste home canned vegetables or meats before reheating. She recommends boiling all foods, except tomatoes, 15 minutes in an open vessel before using. Boiling will destroy any toxins that may be present.

Miss Downey adds that all foods that do not smell or look right should be burned. This will keep pets, stock or poultry from eating the spoilage.

THE SPILLWAY

Poets can tell of the glories of fall,
But we, the overworked, must rake them all!

HOWEVER, THIS IS NOT a complaint, since we're enjoying the beautiful colors around us as much as anyone. Seems to be another fall when everyone is saying "The leaves never have turned so colorfully" . . . and it's also being said that if you really want to believe it, just drive up the Natchez Trace—well worth the trip, if you like yellows, oranges, browns and still some greens thrown together as only Mother Nature can do it.

WE HASTEN to send, over the miles, our best hurry-and-get-well wishes to Mae Irvine in Boonton, N. J. . . . recuperating from a fall she recently received while visiting daughter—Mae Erskine (Fowler). With Mae Erskine to help, and knowing Mae's happy determination, we hope and expect to hear good reports soon. (We always knew Mae Erskine to be a good housekeeper—maybe she had polished those floors just a mite TOO much)

ANYONE FOR THE "TWIST"? . . . If you don't know what we mean, you're not "on the ball, or "hep", or "solid" (you got off light) . . . Understand that if you want to learn this newest of dances, you might look in on some of the high school sock-hops, or the college cotillions . . . BUT, if you really want to see it all the way it was meant to be, just look into the sessions of the gayest crowd in town—the young professionals! You'll think that you are in New York's Peppermint Lounge, where "it all started" . . . At this point, we refer you to "Binky" Matthews, Alan Flowers, "Tinker" Cheney, or Uhlund Redd . . . Hear that there was a BIG session last Saturday night, where out-of-town guests included Carter

Brown, on leave from the Marines, and Adrienne Arnett, on a stop-over, probably between trans-Atlantic flights. Also welcomed-back for the affair was Harriet Tomlinson, from a recent trip abroad. And others . . . adding up to MANY.

FOR A Milder (that is, compared to the just-mentioned sport-form of relaxing recreation, you might just try the new morning Duplicate-bridge sessions, being held every 'n Friday morning at Holiday Inn . . . reported to be a "just-grab-your-partner-and-come" affair—no other reservations necessary—and it's 'special' for the novices like us!

JOINING IN THE FUN—Don Freeman says he couldn't hear any more of the pleasures of the Florida Boat-A-Cade without going along for the ride—joined the junior-Otho Peritts on their trip. Don't know whether Don's going made it a foursome or just a three-some, but, since we haven't heard of any cute blonde's being missed at this point, we assume the latter.

FAVORITE VISITORS . . . We must report a real disappointment that Isabel Williams didn't make sister-Mildred (Banker) stay longer. We hardly knew Mildred was here, before she was on her way homeward—to Port Arthur, Texas. . . . Neither did we even get a glimpse at Mabel Harper's two children before they were off again—Harlett (now Mrs. Vawter) back to Birmingham as a school marm, and John back to Atlanta.

FAVORITE FOURSOME . . . We remember mentioning, about this time last year, an interesting trip being taken by this foursome . . . Understand there was a "repeat" this past week-end—still following Ole Miss—this time to Oxford to see their favorite team meet Vanderbilt. For the mystery couple in this foursome, we might add that, since things "never stand still" can we assume that year has meant any more than, (to borrow from Mr. P. B. Shelley) now that October is nearly over, can Thanksgiving be far behind?

UNDERSAND that Pat Cunningham is just before "taking off" for an interview with TWA airlines—hoping to be a stewardess, with a preference for overseas assignments. If she'll promise to come back often, we'll wish her luck in her interviews!

JUST HEARD A RUMOR that one of our favorite business men is "opening shop" across the river. We'll keep our fingers crossed that this does NOT mean moving his family over too, 'cause we couldn't give them up, since they're ALL favorites!

YOU WON'T BELIEVE your eyes if you drive south—up "Steam Plant Hill" (to us old-timers) . . . Just try it, and see!

UNTIL MORE NEWS COMES THROUGH THE SPILLWAY, IT'S GOODBYE FOR NOW

Sportsmen Spend Millions Annually

Alabama hunters and fishermen spent in the neighborhood of $57 million last year to make this big business in the state.

Earl Kennamer, Auburn Extension Service fish and wildlife specialist, calculated this figure from brief data received for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. This agency completed the second survey of the nation's outdoorsmen to determine what they spent hunting and fishing in 1960.

Kennamer explains that there may be a 10 per cent variation in above figures because complete information is not yet available. He hopes to publish more exacting figures next month.

The first national fish and wildlife census was made in 1955, and from those figures, Kennamer determined that Alabamians spent almost $50 million for hunting and fishing that year. This figure was later verified by a statewide survey.

"People simply do not want to believe that this much money is spent afield and on the water, but the survey is statistically sound and is the best gauge we have," adds Kennamer.

The nationwide survey brought out two astounding facts. Twenty-five million Americans hunted and/or fished in 1955. In 1960, this figure increased to 50 million.

Another shocking fact is that the nation's population increased 11 per cent in five years. But the number of new hunters and fishermen more than doubled this figure.

The next survey of this type is scheduled for 1970.

Kennamer says that other people are beginning to do what he has done all his life—hunt and fish.

Egg Production Doubled Since '40

The farmer is no longer his own best customer.

As recently as 1940, about one out of every five eggs was consumed right on the farm that produced it. One-third of all poultry meat was used by the farmer and his family.

Today poultry farmers consume only about one egg out of 15, says Allen Brown, Auburn Extension Poultry marketing specialist. And they only use a fraction of one per cent of the meat they produce.

The 1940 hen laid about 140 eggs. Her owner and his family used about 30 of these. Hens in the 1960's are laying 210 to 240 eggs each. Because the remaining farmers are keeping so many more hens, they are able to use only 14 to 16 of each bird's total production.

Brown says this means each hen contributes 200 to 215 eggs to market sales, instead of 110. It also means that of the 60 billion eggs produced annually 56 billion get to market, whereas only 48 billion would if farmers could still use one-fifth at home.

Thirty years ago, the average hen in the United States laid 121 eggs per year; today she's laying 206 eggs. Our best flocks average 250 eggs or more per hen.

TEETH FOR TOOTH—Kenneth Cone, 10, holds a rare molar of a large mammal known as the Desmostylus Hesperus, which lived 30 million years ago. The tooth was found in a rocky bank in the Seattle, Wash., area.

DIMES POSTER CHILD—Appealing little Debbie Sue Brown of Clarkston, Wash., is the 1962 March of Dimes Poster Child. Debbie Sue, who won out over hundreds of small children afflicted with birth defects, arthritis or polio, will also appear on a TV show in January, "The Scene Stealers." Born with the birth defect of an open spine, she has been successfully treated and serious crippling has been averted.

Navy's High School Training Program Open To Graduates

The Navy's High School Graduate Training Program is open to young men who have completed high school. For a capable high school graduate, this program offers an excellent opportunity to obtain instruction in a Navy Service School.

Training is available in 8 career fields and over 60 different schools. The Nuclear and Polaris Field categories may be of particular interest to the qualified graduate. Other fields are open in Aviation, Electronics, Hospital and Seaman categories.

Young men interested in these programs may receive further information by visiting or calling Chief Douglass at the Florence Navy Recruiting Station in the Post Office Building. The office hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. and the telephone number is AT-water 2-4901.

SPORTS

Decatur 20 — Coffee 7

Joe Grant's Coffee Yellow Jackets fell 20-7 to the undefeated Decatur Red Raiders before some 8,500 cheering fans at Coffee Stadium, Friday night. The triumph clinched the TVC crown for veteran Shorty Ogle's eleven regardless of the outcome of Friday night's clash with the Dresher Tigers and also was the 205th victory for the Raider's headman during his 29 year career at Decatur.

Grant singled out the play of Halfbacks Stan Smith and Fullback George Gresham, the key men in the touchdown march, along with his interior linemen headed by Guards Larry Jeffers and Bill Belew.

Loretto 21 — Lexington 0

The Loretto Mustangs triumphed over the Lexington Golden Bears Friday night at Lexington with a score of 21 to 0. The Golden Bears were no pushovers and showed fight and power themselves, preventing the Mustangs from completing a single pass. But they couldn't stand up to the consistent tearing plunges of Jerry O'Connor, Allen Walters, Mack White and James Dishough, nor could they get past the brick wall of defense.

Lexington managed 61 yards on the ground and 28 via the pass route in 11 attempts. While the Mustangs punted only once, the Bears used shoe leather six times for an average of 24 yards.

Red Bay 19 — Rogers 14

The Red Bay Tigers grew strong in the fading minutes of the game Friday night, with Rogers and downed the Pirates 19-14. The bout carried with it pass interceptions and bad cases of fumbleitis for each team.

Rogers managed two interceptions, while the Tigers could only snag one. As for the fumbles, Red Bay had seven, and lost four. In the meantime, Rogers was running a close race in this division, as they chalked up five fumbles and lost three.

The victory left the Tigers of Red Bay with a 4-3 for the 1961 season thus far. This was loss number five for the Rogers Pirates against three wins.

Waynesboro 13 — Central 7

Central's homecoming was spoiled Friday night when the Waynesboro Wildcats scored with 7:20 remaining in the third canto to take the lead 13-7. Central's lone touchdown came in the second quarter as did Waynesboro's first.

The Florence State Lionettes performed at the halftime in which Miss Sue Darby was crowned Homecoming Queen.

Central, whose record now stands at 1-6-1, plays host to undefeated Cherokee Friday night.

Leighton 20 — Rogersville 6

The Colbert County Indians from Leighton dealt the Lauderdale County Tigers a 20-6 defeat Thursday night at Leighton.

Rogersville, playing without two first-string backs, Roger Hamner and Butch Watson, got its only score of the evening on a 55-yard jaunt by Doug McKee near the end of the contest.

The Tigers top runner was James Waddell, who played halfback and not at his usual quarterback post, on bruising thrusts through the line and around the flanks, fighting for nearly every yard he gained and standing up under heavy punishment.

Middle Tennessee 13 — FSC 3

Middle Tennessee downed the stubborn Florence State Lions 13-3 at Coffee Stadium Saturday night. Trailing 3-0 going into the waning stages of the third period, thanks to Bob Jackson's third field goal of the year for the Lions, a 42-yarder in the second quarter, the Blue Raiders struck for a go-ahead touchdown on the final play of the canto, and pushed home an insurance tally again in the last quarter.

Again it was the story of a lack of a sustained Florence State offense for the home standers, as the Lions had several chances to blow open the game during the first half and again in the later stages.

Farm fire losses in 1960 cost about $165,000,000. Eight hundred and fifty lost their lives from farm fires.

OLD-TIMERS REMEMBER THIS—Florentines once enjoyed the luxury of a horsedrawn streetcar. Hill. Driver Will Defoe is seen reclining at the reins as the horses take a breather.

Advantages Offered By Florence In 1890 Told

By OSCAR D. LEWIS

We are greatly indebted to Henry Morgan Gilbert for the loan of a booklet on Florence, dated 1890, containing many items and pictures of historical interest not found in other publications. The booklet is somewhat in the nature of a brochure advertising a "Grand Auction Sale of Lots, commencing November 19, 1890, by the Florence Land Sale Company, Hon. J. J. Mitchell, president, J. B. White, secretary and treasurer."

The brochure contained only one page advertising the sale, the rest being devoted to a description of the town and its advantages that would do justice to the best efforts of any chamber of commerce today.

The ad states:

"The Land and Development Companies and the citizens of Florence, offer to the world an unequalled opportunity for investment."

"The Land and Development Companies guarantee to devote 80 per cent of the proceeds of the sales of their lands to the location of industries at Florence, and the remaining 20 per cent to purposes of development—thus pledging their total receipts for the benefit of investors.

"What inducements has Florence to offer for the investment of capital, and upon what valid grounds is that sale based . . . READ THE FOLLOWING PAGES AND SEE."

Florence, Alabama

"Florence is located in Lauderdale, the extreme northernmost county of Alabama. It occupies a high and healthy site immediately upon the Tennessee River, about one hundred and fifty feet above the water. In the immediate vicinity there are no large cities to absorb trade and enter into competition, the nearest—Memphis, Nashville, Chattanooga and Birmingham—being each over a hundred miles distant. It is within easy reach of all sections of the country, being on the Louisville and Nashville, the Memphis and Charleston, and the Birmingham, Sheffield and Tennessee River Railroads, and having, in addition, water communication by the Tennessee River with all the cities on the Cumberland, the Ohio and Mississippi River and its tributaries.

"Florence is an old place, having been laid out in 1819 by Andrew Jackson and a number of other distinguished men. Owing to its position, at the head of navigation on the river it enjoyed, in early times, a very large wholesale trade, being the distributing point for North Alabama and Eastern Tennessee. The building of railroads checked its progress for years by giving other outlets. It was not until about 1887 that it awoke from its sleep; since which time its progress and growth have been unexampled.

"With inexhaustible supplies of coal, iron, limestone, timber, and clays; in the center of the cotton producing region; with a location high, beautiful and healthful; with natural drainage, abundant water and grand water powers; with a climate mild, temperature free from extremes of heat and cold; and last but not least, with a great natural waterway to keep transportation rates in check, Florence has laid the foundations broad and deep for a prosperous city on the Tennessee."

Interesting Figures

According to the booklet Florence had a population (1880 census) of 1,365. In 1887 the population had diminished to 1,250. Three short years later the population (1890 Census) had boomed to 6,974. In 1887 the taxable values were assessed at $800,000, in 1890 taxable values were assessed at $3,275,000.

In 1887 city revenues from all sources was $2,800. In 1890 city revenues exceeded $32,000. In 1890 Florence placed $100,000 of 6 per cent city bonds at $1.04, for the construction of a sewerage system, public schools, and city hall now building. There is no other debt, it states.

On August 1, 1890, the amount being spent in the construction of furnaces, factories, public buildings, stores private dwellings, improvements, etc., within the corporate limits of Florence, at that time, was computed to be in excess of $1,500,000.

The city at that time also granted ten years tax free to industries.

Cultural Aspects

Florence at that time had not one but three colleges, the State Normal College, the Synodical Female College (Presbyterian), and the Baptist University, completed Oct. 1, 1890, (burned in March 1911). There were also a number of public and private schools (Patton School being erected at that time by the city at an expenditure of $15,000.)

Among the church denominations represented in Florence in 1890 were: Episcopal, Methodist, Presbyterian, Catholic, Christian, Congregational, Baptist and Cumberland Presbyterian churches.

The booklet lists the Florence Cotton Mills as "the largest spinning mill in the South and one of the largest in the United States," with 53,500 spindles, now being built and to be ready for operation by January, 1891.

The Florence Blast Furnace had a daily capacity of 100 tons with a coke furnace being built to supply 200 tons daily and to be the

A. Frank Lee Gives Shocking Picture Of Prison System

A. Frank Lee, director of the Department of Corrections of the State of Alabama, told the members of the Exchange and Civitan Clubs in joint session at Hotel Reeder Tuesday noon that Alabama has the 12th largest prison population, 5,700, of any state in the nation, plus the fact that the state has the largest per capita number of prisoners of any state other than Georgia and Washington, D. C.

Judge Robert M. Hill had charge of program arrangements and presented the speaker.

Mr. Lee, a recognized authority on prison reforms, said that 179 out of each 100,000 population in the state are now in prison and of the 5,700 prisoners in state institutions, 1040 are under 20 years of age. He said that 60 per cent of the total prison population is colored and 40 per cent white. Mr. Lee said that under present laws boys of 12 years and over can be placed in prison along with the hardened criminals which is truly a crime against the state.

It was pointed out that the guards at the state prisons receive pay of only $222 per month with the top pay after five years of service of $295 per month. This, he said, makes it impossible to get the best of men.

Mr. Lee said that it now requires an expenditure of $165,000 per year to keep Kilby prison alone in repair and further that the prisons earn 72 per cent of all the money spent on the system each year thus costing the taxpayers on 62 cents each a year for the upkeep of the penal system.

The speaker called on the members of the clubs to support Amendment No. 2 which, he showed, would not cost the taxpayers a cent more than they are now paying. He outlined the plans for the various buildings scheduled to be constructed in Montgomery and Elmore counties and showed how the $10,000,000 sought would be spent.

Cancer Crusade Is Second Largest In State's History

The Alabama Division of the American Cancer Society, Inc., has announced allocation of $91,958 in research and medical aid funds from 1961 crusade proceeds totaling $312,634.

The amount allocated includes $83,158 for cancer research, according to Mrs. Lillian G. Meade, Birmingham, executive director, Alabama Division.

"The generous response of the people of Alabama, making this year's crusade returns the second largest for any year in history, made it possible to designate more than usual for research," Mrs. Meade said.

She explained that the first 25 cents out of each dollar raised are set aside automatically for research, meaning $78,158 out of the $312,634 raised this year. Because of unusual success in 1961, however, the Alabama Division allocated an additional $5,000 to research.

Sixty cents of each dollar raised are used to support local aid to medically indigent cancer patients and a continuing program of education to save lives from cancer. Ten cents are used for administration, funds raising, and purchase of educational materials.

largest and most complete furnace south of Baltimore.

In addition to cotton and iron, the booklet lists the following industries: a spoke and handle factory, steam flour mills, The Cypress Cotton Mill, woodworking plant, F. H. Foster Co., the only manufacturer of builder's hardware in the South, a stove and architectural foundry, two large saw and planing mills, six brick plants, an ice factory, gas plant, drug and chemical works, a shoe factory, cotton bagging factory, tapestry mill, a pump works, bucket factory, iron railing factory, the agricultural works of the Curry Cotton Cultivator Company, The Florence Wagon Works, turning out 10,000 wagons per annum, and a street car line (horse-drawn running from Baptist University to the depot in East Florence).

Importance of River

Pointing to the importance of the Tennessee River, the Booklet says in part:

"The importance of the Tennessee River cannot be overestimated. It affords the cheapest means of handling heavy freights. In the competition of coming years, when the South shall have attained its full growth as a mining and manufacturing region, the Tennessee River will insure to Florence an advantage that cannot be overcome by other places not on a navigable stream.

During the spring of 1890, the furnaces at Sheffield, directly across the river, saved some $12,000 freight on a single shipment by river, to Pittsburgh of 5,000 tons of iron."

So it can be readily seen that men of vision, even before the turn of the century, knew the potentialities of the area and particularly the Tennessee River, now being put to use, not only as a great medium of transportation but in the development of low cost electric power for a diversification of industrial enterprise.

Governor Blasts Rights Groups For Highway Protest

Gov. John Patterson's determined opposition apparently has caused the White House to back down in its reported demand that a section of Interstate highway No. 85 in Montgomery be re-routed for political reasons.

The White House intervened after several Negroes living in the path of the new highway contacted Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the late president.

After keeping official silence for two days, Presidential Press Secretary Pierre Salinger denied the White House attempted to re-route the road.

The Birmingham Post-Herald, which broke the story, stuck by its guns. Washington Reporter Gene Workmen insisted the White House did, in fact, order the high-priced section of highway to be rerouted.

"The White House was even more insistent on changing the route than Gov. Patterson revealed in his press conference," the Post-Herald said.

White House Backs Off
In the face of the governor's bitter attack, the White House apparently backed off. This week state highway crews were at work on the disputed route, buying property and making final plans for construction of the four-lane road.

The section in question runs through a residential area on Montgomery's southside. It is the extreme western section of Interstate Route 85, which runs from Atlanta through Opelika, terminating in Montgomery at its junction with Interstate 65, which runs from Birmingham to Mobile.

Discrimination Charged
At the Washington meeting, Civil Rights Commission Spokesman Taylor said the South route would "disturb some of the most able and educated people of the Negro race" important to the North as well as the South. (Several Alabama State College for Negroes faculty members live along the "south line" route.) This position, Gov. Patterson said, "discriminates against the poor Negroes living on the North route in favor of the rich Negroes, a favored few, on the South route."

Outstanding Man Sought By Jaycees

A program to recognize the "Outstanding Young Man" of Florence whose achievements have been significant to his profession and the general welfare, is being sponsored by the Florence Jaycees.

The purpose of the program is to focus attention on the outstanding accomplishments of Florence young men and to illustrate the unparalleled opportunities available to all young men through our free enterprise system.

Any individual, civic organization, industrial or professional group may enter one or more nominees by following these rules:

1. Any young man, 21 through 35, who has not reached his 36th birthday during 1961 may be placed in nomination.
2. Nominees will be judged on answers to two primary questions:
(a) What outstanding contribution has the nominee made in his work, business or profession?
(b) What outstanding contribution has the nominee made to the general welfare of the people?
3. Nomination forms may be obtained by calling EV 3-1441, Extension 41.
4. The committee of judges will be composed of prominent business and professional leaders who reside in Florence. Judges will be 36 years of age or older.
5. Nominations are to be mailed to: Florence Jaycees, Box 31 — no later than November 20th, 1961.

Phone Pioneers Celebrate Group's 50th Anniversary

A 50th anniversary celebration is being held by the Telephone Pioneers Council of North Alabama today. The Telephone Pioneers of America, an organization of long service telephone people, was founded on November 2, 1911 by Alexander Graham Bell and 246 others in Boston, Mass.

Celebrating the anniversary in Sheffield will be telephone company employees and retired employees on the Tri-Cities area. The meeting will be held at the Southland Restaurant at 6:30 P.M.

A telephone network will link the Sheffield meeting with Birmingham and other locations throughout Alabama and Mr. Frank Sanford, Sr., a director of

CSS Sumter Raids "100 Years Ago"

The CSS Sumter, the first cruiser armed for use of the Confederacy, captured 18 Federal vessels during its six months of operation in the Civil War.

Its mission outlined by Confederate Secretary of Navy Stephen Mallory was "to do the enemy's commerce the greatest injury in Southern Bell Telephone Company will address the gatherings. Mr. Sanford is the Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Liberty National Insurance Company of Birmingham.

the shortest time." The orders were sent to Sumter's Commander Raphael Semmes while he was equipping the vessel at New Orleans.

Formerly the Habanna and built in Philadelphia, the Sumter was given its name by the South when bought in New Orleans April, 1861. For two months it remained in the port being equipped for the sea. Then on June 30, 1861 the vessel escaped through the blockade at New Orleans.

On the sea route the Sumter could carry only enough coal for eight days of sailing. Touching at ports in the West Indies, French islands and the coast of Spain for fuel and food, during its six months' expedition, it disposed of its captured vessels along the way. Eight ships were burned, nine were sold and one released only to be recaptured.

By January 19, 1862 needing fuel, repairs and supplies, the

Sheriff Call Is Kiwanis Speaker

Lauderdale County Sheriff Roy Call, speaking to the members of the downtown Florence Kiwanis Club on Friday noon at the Hotel Reeder, told the story of Boys' Ranch, a project sponsored by the Alabama Sheriffs' Association.

Recognizing the extreme disadvantage faced by boys from broken homes, delinquent parents, Sumter entered the port of Gibraltar. No repairs were available and three Federal vessels anchored nearby to "set watch" so that fuel could not be secured to sail to England or France for repairs.

Thus stranded, Semmes sold the Sumter to the British, sent his crew to London and later went to Liverpool to become commander of the CSS Alabama.

and boys orphaned by the death of their parents, the Sheriffs' Association established this haven for homeless boys on a 400 acre farm in Dallas County, near Selma.

The boys who are accepted by the Ranch, age 6 to 12, are given varied activities and training and enjoy all the normal comforts and advantages of home life and associations.

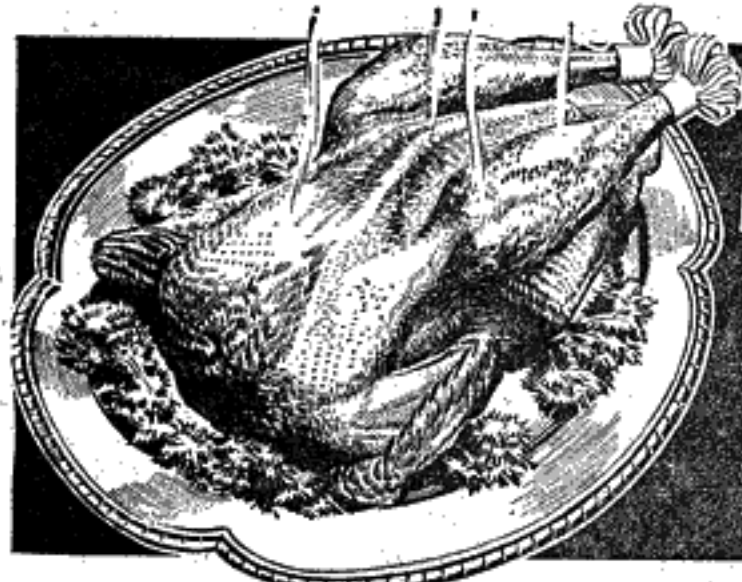

"We do not accept boys with criminal records," Sheriff Call explained. We feel that we are building good citizens from boys who otherwise might well become juvenile delinquents."

He explained that the candidates are furnished by welfare departments from all over the state.

A film showing a similar operation in Florida to the Alabama Boys Ranch in Alabama was shown.

Florence and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Herston of Anderson, visited Mr. and Mrs. Silas Thompson at their home Sunday afternoon.

Personals:

Rev. W. V. McDougal, pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church, who recently suffered a serious heart attack wishes to take this opportunity to thank everyone for the kindness shown to him and his family. He asked that everyone be thanked for their prayers, thoughts, visits and cards (which numbered almost two hundred). To the doctors and nurses and to those who helped to gather the cotton goes another special thank you.

Mrs. Mattie Hooie of Florence and her son James Hooie of Birmingham were in this community on business. Mrs. Hooie returned to Florence to her home and her son motored back to Birmingham.

Little Millicent Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carter Thompson has been sick at her home this week. We hope she is feeling better now.

Mrs. L. C. McConnell is home from the Jackson's hospital at Lester where she has been for some time. She suffered from a fall and her leg got infected. She is much better now.

Those who visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Phillips Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hanson of Detroit, Robert Lynn also of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Phillips and children, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Eady and boys and Andrew Starks of Athens.

Mrs. Inas Goode who has been visiting her daughter in the Carolinas has returned to her home here. She said that she had a very enjoyable trip.

Mrs. Doris Cosby and children and Mrs. Beverly Davis and daughter all of Rogersville visited the home of Mrs. Inas Goode Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cline and Shariet of Athens visited in the home of Earnest Bailey Sunday.

Frank Nunley celebrated his sixty-sixth birthday Sunday with dinner at his home. Those who were present to enjoy the occasion with him were: Doug Nunley of Indianapolis, Ind., Hop Nunley, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Nunley and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Cates and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hulen Burbanks and family, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Cocks and family, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Nunley and family. We want to wish him many, many more happy birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. Eroy Williams and Jimmy and Mitzi of Birmingham visited relatives in this community and in surrounding communities. They along with Mrs. Mae Pedigo and Frances enjoyed dinner in the home of Mrs. Louella Williams Sunday.

Here's the Answer

Mrs. Steeles mother, Mrs. J. T. Steward returned home with them for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nesmith of Elgin spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Litterell.

Mrs. James O. LeMaster, Jr., and Mrs. Nettie Carman have returned from a business trip in Memphis.

Mrs. E. T. Bevis and children of Florence were Sunday visitors in the J. H. Miles home.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bretherick and family visited her mother, Mrs. Walker Freeman in Russellville Sunday.

Mrs. Mable Joiner of White Hall, Ark. and her daughter, Mrs. Eva Dean of Little Rock, Ark. were week end visitors in the B. J. Lyles home.

A bridal shower was given Mrs. Bruce Gist (Maudie Pettus) last Thursday. She received many nice presents.

The Killen School basketball team won the B game with the Anderson school on Thursday night of last week. Anderson won the A game. Both games were well played.

The largest crowd ever to attend one of our basketball games occurred last Thursday night at the game with Anderson. Thanks to all our loyal supporters. We also appreciate the large number of patrons and teachers from Anderson.

Our county superintendent of Education, Mr. Thornton, gave a very helpful talk on the tax situation at the Monday night's PTA meeting.

Mr. Muse's class won the attendance prize at the basketball game. Mrs. Stutts' room was second. Each room received a nice box of chocolates.

Our attendance is excellent, interest is good.

Mrs. Heath's group presented a nice chapel program on Tuesday morning.

Old Age Pensions Hit New Record

Many thousands of old age pensioners will receive an increase of several dollars a month beginning with their November checks.

Gov. John Patterson, in announcing the pension increase this week, said the over-all average old age pension payment in November would probably top the $60-mark, an all-time record. During the last few months, pensions have averaged between $56 and $57 monthly.

Another $3 or $4 monthly raise is expected in the pension checks shortly after the first of the year, the governor said.

Beginning in November, pension payments will be based on 94 per cent of need up to certain maximums instead of 88 per cent as at present.

Gov. Patterson, whose goal is $75-a-month pensions, said those pensioners already receiving the $75 maximum would not receive raises and neither would those pensioners whose payment plus outside income now totals as much as $75. Under present regulations, only pensioners requiring nursing care can draw more than $75.

Another factor having a bearing on payments will be changes in federal social security payments, which were raised recently from a minimum of $33 monthly to $40 monthly. About one-fourth of all pensioners also receive social security benefits.

Demonstrations On Fertilizer Use Held Over State

Special fertilizer demonstrations, under way in 32 Alabama counties, are part of the big drive to raise Alabama's farm income to $1 billion a year.

J. C. Lowery, Auburn Extension Service agronomist, says that most of the demonstrations are with pastures and grasses. But demonstrations are also conducted on corn, grain sorghum and cotton. Some of the plants used are Coastal bermuda, common bermuda, bahia grass, Starr millet and Johnson grass.

"It now takes about 35 bushels to pay the cost of producing an acre of corn," says Lowery. "Higher acre yields are necessary for cutting costs. These demonstrations will show the value of fertilizer and lime in increasing yields of forage and cash crops."

Thousands of people are seeing and studying these projects, marked by attractive signs, notes the specialist.

The demonstrations are conducted by the Auburn Extension Service. Cooperating in the program are the Natural Plant Food Institute and the Alabama Soil Fertility Society.

Has Harrison Y. Kahlendorf, 43, found God? Some observers say yes. Mr. Kahlendorf says no. The circumstances are these: Four months ago Mr. Kahlendorf was indifferent to religion. He was also weary of worry, and hungry for hope. One Sunday he "just happened" to go to Church.

The Christian Truth came to Harrison Y. Kahlendorf as good news . . . and it began to change his life.

Today there is new happiness in his home, new warmth in his friendships, new challenge in his job. And every day he is discovering adventure, opportunity and blessing he never dreamed of before.

Does all this mean that Harrison Y. Kahlendorf has found God? Some observers say yes. Taking issue with them, Mr. Kahlendorf told our reporter:

"It was I who had been hiding . . . God found ME!"

Mr. Kahlendorf, a native of Illinois, is a successful businessman and a member of the Church for All.

He is a man of many talents and a man of many friends. He is a man who has found the answer to his problems in the Church for All.

He is a man who has found the answer to his problems in the Church for All. He is a man who has found the answer to his problems in the Church for All.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Winter Legumes Are Profitable

Seeding winter legumes can add money to the pockets of Alabama farmers, says J. C. Lowery, Auburn Extension Service agronomist. Hairy, Willamett and Warrior vetch, crimson clover, and Austrian peas are good winter legumes for the state, he explains. Hairy vetch has been successfully used in this state for nearly 50 years. And Warrior vetch, a new type developed by Dr. Ed Donnelly of the Auburn Experiment Station, is a heavy seed producer adapted to the Southern two-thirds of the state. All these legumes will furnish lots of grazing and will improve the land.

"It is a known fact," states the agronomist, "that farmers who consistently use winter legumes in their cropping system make higher yields."

"Farmers who have land retired in the Feed Grain Program," continues Lowery, "have an unusual opportunity to grow soil improving winter legume cover crops. Since there are no crops on the land, it can be limed, fertilized, prepared and seeded on time."

Alabama farmers grossed $85 million from cattle sales and $38 million from hog sales last year.

Farm Facts

The 1959 Census of Agriculture reported that there were 3,704,000 farms in the United States. This is the smallest number (for the 48 states) of any census since 1870.

There were 1,079,000 fewer farms in 1959 than in 1954. About 232,000 were no longer counted as farms because of a change in census definitions.

To be considered a farm, a place must have a minimum of 10 acres of productive land as compared with a minimum of 3 acres under the old definition. If it has less than 10 acres, sales of agricultural products must add up to at least $250 annually.

Even without a change in the definition of a farm, changes in farm size and number were great between 1954 and 1959. Total farm acreage dropped from 1,158 million in 1954 to 1,120 million in 1959. The average size of farms increased from 242 to 302 acres.

Results of the 1959 census are evidence of a further concentration and specialization of agriculture in the United States.

There was a 36% drop in the U.S. farms are fewer but larger.

A Word About Cotton

In contrast to a lean cotton crop in South Alabama and over other sections of the state that has brought the average yield for Alabama down to 365 pounds to the acre, North Alabama's crop appeared in excellent shape even though the crop had been hurt by a cold, wet spring.

In the Tennessee Valley the weather finally turned favorable and this together with consistent poisoning of boll weevil and other pests, brought out the cotton and many growers can make a bale or more to the acre, it was reported. It is figured that normally Alabama growers spend $100 an acre to produce a bale of cotton which with the seed will sell for around $180. The profit therefore should be around $80 per acre. However when the average yield is only 365 pounds this means $140 worth of cotton with seed. However the $100 cost remains constant and this still must come out of the $140. Farmers who had to spend up to $30 an acre for weeding and fighting boll weevil, had little or nothing left but callouses on their hands and nothing to put in the bank.

Some farmers have lower costs than the $100 but many have even higher costs so the average is used to demonstrate how a year of lower yield can deal disaster to many growers. Those who did not experience the worst conditions and who followed the production and pest control practices outlined by their county agent, came out the best.

Meat Improved By Food Experts

Agricultural researchers—the unsung food heroes whose behind-the-scenes work means a better meal on your dinner table—have chalked up improvements in nearly every step along the production and marketing line.

Take a beef roast, for example. Research has improved almost everything from the way a roast is packaged and displayed to the grasses eaten by the cattle.

Ray Cavender, Auburn University Extension Service meats marketing specialist, points out that research also gives housewives many new guidelines for buying and cooking beef.

Advances in livestock feeding, management, and animal health make it possible to produce increasing numbers of healthy, high-quality cattle.

Who are these researchers that concern themselves with putting a tender, flavorful beef roast on your table? They're a team of experts.

Biochemists seek better understanding of the role of fat particles in the cells and the relationship between tenderness, size and elasticity of different muscle fibers.

The task of breeding new lines of cattle that provide beef of superior flavor and tenderness falls to geneticists.

Histologists make microscopic studies of animal tissues to serve as a basis for selection for breeding programs.

Livestock nutritionists study relationships between rations, composition of beef, rate of growth and tenderness. Animal pathologists and parasitologists work toward healthier stock.

Botanists, soil physicists and chemists all work to improve forage crops and soils. Economists look for ways to cut production and marketing costs.

Each contributes; the result is a better beef roast for consumers.

To remove tiny bits of animal hairs and lint from clothing, wrap a piece of cellophane tape around your hand with the sticky side out. Carry a small roll of tape in your bag in case of an emergency, or for a quick brush.

Pigs And People Show Similarity

Don't make fun of the pig. He's a lot like you.

Behavior studies of barnyard pigs show that some of their activities closely parallel those of people.

G. B. Phillips, Auburn University Extension pork production specialist, says that research in the corn belt region showed that pigs—like people—enjoy togetherness, have leaders and become irritable.

In one experiment, researchers discovered that pigs practiced togetherness by preferring to eat in groups rather than alone. "Are your meals not more enjoyable when you eat with someone rather than by yourself?" asks the specialist.

In another test, it was discovered that one pig in each pen emerged as a leader. And he wasn't necessarily the largest pig; in one pen he was the smallest. Look back into history. One of the world's greatest leaders, Napoleon, was a little fellow, points out Phillips.

And then again, pigs—like people—get edgy and irritable. As soon as confinement feeding of hogs became popular, many farmers were faced with the problem of tail biting in the pig parlor. At first, states the specialist, deficient diets were blamed. But some farmers, not satisfied with this explanation, experimented on their own.

One farmer gave his hogs a toy—an old tire hung above the feed floor. They played with the tire and forgot all about tail biting. Pigs are like children in this respect, explains Phillips. Put a bunch of them in a room, and after they've explored every nook and cranny they become bored and start fighting.

"The truth is that nobody really knows what causes tail biting or how to prevent it," adds the specialist. "But a Houston County grower has a sure cure; he de-tails the pigs when they are only a few days old."

Move heavy furniture over waxed floors by sliding it on an old rug, face down. It will slide easily and leave no marks or scuffs.

Twenty years ago only 112,000 tons of plant nutrients—nitrogen, potassium, and potash—were used in Alabama. By 1960 this figure had climbed to 272,000 tons.

Look for strawberries with their caps on. Berries without caps may be over-ripe and mushy. Bright berries with solid red color have better flavor.

YOGA and the HEART

Q. Some Yogis claim to be able to stop their heart beating for a short period at will. Is this possible?

A. No. Three Yogis were examined scientifically during this feat. They were able to suppress both the pulse and heart sounds by exerting powerful expiration while "holding the breath." However, the heart continued to beat as proved by x-ray and heart tracings.

Hearing Centers

Q. Our 6-year-old has a serious hearing defect. Is there a special clinic or hospital where he could be treated?—Alabama reader.

A. As relayed to you by letter, there are three established hearing centers in your state. Note to other readers: Those of you with hearing or speech problems may secure the name of treatment centers located in your state by writing to Science Editors, P. O. Box 1174, Louisville, Kentucky.

Luminous Toys

Q. Our 3-year-old received a soft toy with luminous eyes for her birthday. Would the eyes give off radiation and would this be harmful?

Better Health Through Knowledge
Send questions to Science Editors, P. O. Box 1174, Louisville 1, Ky.

A. It is probably unlikely that a radioactive material would be used in a toy, as there are harmless substances available to produce luminosity. However, a simple test can be applied to reassure you of the toy's harmlessness: keep the toy in complete darkness for 5 to 6 hours and then examine it, still in the dark. If the eyes still shine, the source of the luminosity is probably radioactive material. If the eyes no longer shine the activating material is not radioactive and therefore harmless.

Snapping Joints

Q. What causes "popping" in the upper leg joints?

A. Audible snapping in joints, especially the knees, is not common. The cause is usually one of the following: thickening of the lining of the membrane or folds of the lining membrane or presence of loose bodies in the joint. "Popping" may occur in young adults as well as in older persons.
