TVA Says Census Shows Change In Tennessee Valley

Rural Counties Loss In Population Shows How Area Has Industrialized

The rate of the Tennessee Valley's gradual change from a farmcentered society to an industrial one is indicated by preliminary 1960 census figures, TVA said Wednesday.

The new figures show a marked shift, since the last census 10 years ago, in the distribution of the region's population. Generally there have been gains in and around cities, losses in rural areas.

The Valley region (including all 200 counties which are wholly or partly in either the Tennessee Basin or TVA power service area) now has 51/2 million people, a gain of nearly 100,000 since 1950. The rural counties lost population during this period—a loss of nearly 273,000 in 136 of these counties. Eight had losses of 5,000 or more each.

But these rural losses were more than offset by population increases in urban-industrial areas. The to-

Democratic Senators, both North and South, closed ranks quickly on Tuesday and smothered the two-point civil rights bill advocated by President Eisenhower. The upper house killed the chances of controversial measure at this session by a vote of 54-28 to table it.

Following his message to Congress on Monday, President Eisenhower summoned GOP leaders to the White House where they were expected to approve Republican strategy designed to demonstrate that the Democrats are divided for and against their party's platform plank on civil rights.

It was revealed that the GOP planned to offer a bill including the two civil rights proposals made by the President: (1) Action to give statutory authority to a committee new headed by Nixon for fair employment practices on government contracts; and, (2) Authorization for federal payments to school districts which encounter extra costs in integrating their

Senator Richard Russell of Georgia and one of the South's foremost opponents of integration, said Southerners would fight the administration's civil rights bill including the filibuster which was used so effectively earlier. It was admitted the Republicans could to the defense of Sam Engelhardt, force a vote on a move to shelve the bill and thus put the blame for shelving it on the Democrats. Westerns Distort The Facts

"The stink of evil hangs over Movie and TV westerns' says the current issue of American Heritage, leading history magazine. The article shows, after more than a year of painstaking research on the part of the author, that what is so often labeled by TV as "based on actual events," is in reality based on myth and besides being inaccurate, is almost totally perverted.

'The moral," says American Heritage, "is that crime, when commercially exploited, does pay, and the more sadistic the better." The article cites the "walkdowns" as an example of the distortions indulged in by TV writers.

Most of the real shooting was done in the back to unarmed men, the article points out . . . the heroines, almost without exception being prostitutes in real life, "including Calamity Jane and Belle Star." In the list were Billy the Kid, who killed from ambush, Wyatt Earp and Bat Masterson who were professional gamblers and killers and Wild Bill Hickok, who was said to have killed 36 men.

Admitting the above to be entirely true, the Westerns dramatizing the old West on TV present a new approach to something that has been going on for many years. Before TV the "dime novels" that Dad read behind the barn, depicted the old Western roustabouts and thugs as real heroes and those books sold like the proverbial hot cakes . . . just as today's TV Westerns have captured the imagination of millions. And the audience is not all kids either.

The Westerns are big business.

Castro's Unhappy Cuba

It would be useless to review our bungling of the Cuban problem since what is done is done and we must set about to make the best of a situation that is now the Western Hemisphere's biggest headache.

Castro bellows long and loud that the U.S. economic blockade of Cuba will not hurt the islands' economy. His forces have gone ahead with their seizure of American oil Livestock Reporting Service as catching up with financial needs, and sugar interests and with this bit of international thievery he has deprived Cuba most of all of the lucrative American ton crop since 1955. Prospective of any additional taxes added to tourist business.

Picture, if you will, Russian tourists spending millions in Cuba each year. Picture Russian tourists spending anything anywhere . . . in fact, picture Russian tourists.

Tourists trade has been the life-blood of Cuba's prosperity and without it the nation faces economic collapse. By the same token industrial Cuba deprived of American wages in her oil fields and sugar refineries also faces economic ruin.

Sooner or later Castro's regime will face the wrath of his hotblooded people who cannot possibly be happy with the economic aid promised by the Soviet Union.

Why Not Good English?

What is wrong with using good English? Some people by the record high yield of 478 what is wrong with using good English. Some people work of the speak properly though it is far pounds produced in 1955. Only in lature in special session during January 1935, at which time they altered us review a few we hear every day.

How many times have we heard people say . . . "he thew the ball" or "thow the ball here?" These same people would not leave the letter "r" out in writing either word but they speak carelessly from sheer bad habit.

The word "don't" for instance is tossed around with reckless abandon as for instance we hear people say, "he don't tion. Cotton on Sand Mountain know what he's talking about." They do not stop to think was planted late and has received that the word "don't" means "do not," and that proper English insufficient moisture. Consequentis "doesn't". . . or better still, "does not." It is not good written English to use don't, doesn't, won't, wouldn't or shouldn't. Rather they should be written: do not, does not, will not, would not, or should not.

The word "come" is another badly misused word and in our carelessness we use it in the past tense, as: "Bill was tired when he come in last night," or "What day was it when Henry A fair volume of ginnings is ex- identification card authorized by come home on furlough.

Kefauver In Landslide Victory

Sen. Estes Kefauver, the 1956 Democratic vice-presidential candidate, won a third term with a landslide victory in last Thursday's Tennessee Democratic primary, in which civil rights was the overriding issue. The race turned into the 57-year-old senator's greatest triumph as the state's voters made it clear they preferred his liberal philosophy to that of Judge Andrew T. Taylor, a strong advocate of segregation and civil rights. With tabulations from 2381 of the state's 2635 precincts, the vote was: Kefauver 433,096, Taylor 218,981.

Negroes Attacked By White Youths

A shotgun attack on a young Negro couple by two white youths was reported to Chattanooga police Saturday, who said that Ezell Tibbs, Jr., 20, was wounded in the left shoulder and Rosalyn Reed, 16, was wounded in the left hip, though neither were hurt seriously. The incident occurred not far from a ridge where a 17-year-old white girl was reportedly raped by four Negroes Thursday night. According to the wounded couple, the white youths approached the car and one wearing a mask leveled a shotgun and opened fire as the girl pleaded with him to spare her.

Ford Is Sponsor Of Motion Picture Depicting Politics

Film Describing How Parties Pick Candidates

The film "Where Were You?," 28-minute motion picture describing how political parties choose candidates, nominate through primaries and campaign for elections is available without charge for showing to all local groups by contacting H. G. McMurry, manager of Ford Motor Company's Sheffield plant.

The movie, sponsored by Ford's office of Civic and Governmental Affairs was shown to forty-seven and during said conflict served civic, business, industrial and political leaders of the Muscle Shoals area who were guests of Ford Motor Company at a luncheon at the Holiday Inn, Florence, on Tuesday, August 2.

Mr. McMurry, speaking as chairman of the Tri-Cities Community Relations Committee of the company, presided and introduced the program. In explaining the purpose of the committee, which is to encourage and build good relations between the community and Ford Motor Company, Mr. Mc-Murry said, "Our job is to see that the company is a good citizen and good neighbor. It is a pleasure, therefore, for us to have you as guest at this special showing."

"Our program today is particularly significant in that it reveals one aspect of our company's effort to promote a greater interest among its employees and among

Remember the Wheeler Rifles? "This leading military company," says an old newspaper article of 1903, which adopted the name of that celebrated Alabama hero, General Joe Wheeler, of both Confederate and Union fame, was organized in 1888. Its first officers were Julian Fields, captain; Hartwell Hawthorne, first lieutenant; and Major Fleming, second lieu-Available To All Groups tenant. Since its organization at that time nearly every citizen of Florence under forty years of age has served his time as a member of that company.

"The Wheeler Rifles as a military company, has been called out seven times by the Governor of the State of Alabama, for active service, and has always responded promptly. The Wheeler Rifles was the first militia company in the state to volunteer for active service in the Spanish American War, six months in the First Alabama Regiment

"At present," the article continues, "the Wheeler Rifles has a membership of sixty of the best representative young men of Florence. In personnel of drill and discipline they rank second to none in the State of Alabama and always stand ready to defend the State's

"The officers at present (1903) of this flourishing company, destined in all probability as its name would imply, to 'illustrate Alabama' are, J. E. Gullette, captain; James Moore, first lieutenant; and George William Young, second lieutenant.

Mrs. Watts, Mrs. Reed Compliment Bride-Elect

First in a series of prenuptials planned in honor of Jane Harris, bride-elect of Goodloe Pride, Jr., of Sheffield, was the luncheon event which took place at Barton Hall, the Wilder Watts home in Cherokee. Cohosting with Mrs. Watts was Mrs. Elbert Reed.

Yellow blossoms predominated in the flowering background and small bouquets centered each table-for-four around which guests were seated. Tiny wedding bells and greenery complemented the arrangement which marked the bride's table.

Miss Harris wore a sleeveless sheath of white linen and pastel accessories.

Ease the Financial Burden Of a College Education

For some parents, off to college means four years of financial strain, digging deeply into each payday to give their children the education they will need to compete in the business world.

Parents who plan ahead accumulate the money in a State National Savings Account, aided by liberal interest compounded semi-annually. The expense is spread over many years instead of being crowded into four, Look ahead - start a State National Educational Savings Fund for your children now

The Florence recreation department has shown tremendous growth since 1947, at which appropriations were obtained and the department became a full-time operation used by an estimated 36,000 persons per month.

The recreation department is run by a staff under the guidance of a park and recreation board. Board members include Chester Stewart, Lee Cathey, Harold Ham- Pastor's Association: mond, Edward Smoot, Ralph Young, Kenneth Williams, and of the Presbyterian Church, Mrs. J. W. Young.

The present budget is $52,000, to the East Lauderdale Pastor's as compared with a budget of $5,000 the first year.

The first full-time superintendent of recreation was Miss Gila Belcher, who held the position until 1950. She was followed by Louis Calhoun, who stayed one year. Jim Spain has held the position since 1951. In addition to Mr. Spain, eight persons are employed full-time, with approximately 30 part-time workers.

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER - STAYS TOGETHER"

When you are eight years old, it is not difficult to transform yourself suddenly into an Indian scout and to see a procession of chiefs, with their brightly colored feathered headdresses, galloping across the horizon astride magnificent stallions.

Children are fired with imagination, just as they are filled with faith. The faith of a child is something so simple and so beautiful that many an adult, viewing it, finds himself crying a little, deep down inside, for his own lost childhood and the touching innocence that was once his.

Yet before God, all men are children, His children, and Faith is there to be accepted, if men will but take it as a gift. The Church has the answer, showing you how to live like a man, while still possessing the heart of a child . . . helping you to get the very most out of life. If you haven't been to church lately . . . why not go this Sunday?

Those Who Have Income Amounting To $400 Or More Must Pay Tax

Many farmers in this area be-King Temple, District Manager of the Social Security Administration. Social security affects farmers of all ages. Besides retirement protection, the younger farmers bread, and pancakes. And the right also secure disability and survivors protection. This additional security that the young farmer receives for his family in the event of his death is a valuable asset.

> Farmers of all ages must pay farm self-employment tax if they have net earnings or profits of $400.00 or more in a year. Some have the mistaken idea that it is an optional law, but that is not true. This is a compulsory provision, and it applies to all farmers, regardless of age.

> A farmer, whose net earnings or profit is $400.00 or more in a year, should file Schedule F and 1040 with the Internal Revenue Service at the end of each year. A farmer, who does not net $400.00, but whose gross sales from his farm are over $600.00, may compute his profit on an optional plan and still pay social security tax, if he wishes to.

> A special pamphlet on this subject is available, and it is free for the taking. Just write to the Social Security Administration, 204 Annapolis Avenue, Sheffield, Alabama, and ask for the pomphlet on farmers. If you prefer, you may contact a field representative at your county seat.

Homemakers Tell Ideas On Eggs

American homemakers have ot of ideas about eggs.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture recently made a study of the homemakers' uses and opinions of eggs, according to Extension Poultryman J. R. Hubbard. And since eggs are one of the foods for good health, the USDA wanted to get ideas on why their per capita consumption is continually dropping.

Some of the facts that came out of the survey are: (1) Although eggs are used mainly as a breakfast food, two out of five do not eat them for breakfast; (2) A relatively large proportion of those who do not eat eggs regularly simply do not like them; (3) Homemakers view eggs primarily as a food which is related to health needs; (4) The size of the breakfast was related to whether or not eggs were served and how many; (5) Cereals do compete with eggs, but many people usually eat both; (6) Many find that the morning rush interferes with eating eggs for breakfast; and (7) Most homemakers say that eggs are no trouble to fix for any meal.

A picture does not add beauty or give pleasure when it hangs on the wall unnoticed, states Alice Peavy, Extension specialist in home furnishings. The person who buys a picture is wise to become acquainted with it before he takes it into his home, continues the specialist. And he will choose those which he understands and enjoys.

Miss Peavy remarks that a large picture may be used as a center of interest in a room and that the whole color scheme may be built around it. Smaller pictures may also be used as the source of a room's color scheme but not as the main center of interest.

Smith points out that this low production should mean an excellent return from the sale of potatoes if farmers do a good job of harvesting, handling, and marketing their crop. He adds that nation's petroleum products. now is the time farmers will have to decide whether to dig sweet potatoes while they are green or wait until later to dig, cure, and store the crop.

Dr. Culver Ellis, Lauderdale County Rabies Inspector, announces the schedule for the annual Rabies clinics for Florence and Lauderdale County to begin Thursday, August 11th.

The State Law reads that all dogs three months of age or older are subject to inoculation. Don't risk the danger of this dread disease simply because this county has been free of rabies. It can spread fast and no person should take a chance. Inoculation of all dogs is the only way to prevent it so have your dogs inoculated immediately.

NOTE: All persons owning dogs are asked to have them inoculated in cooperation with this program. Fee is $1.00 at any scheduled stop in compliance with state law. The price at any veterinary hospital in the Tri-Cities area will remain at $2.00.

After completion of this schedule, Dr. Ellis will be at Ellis and Mussleman Animal Hospital 7:30 A.M. to 6:00 P.M. An assistant will be at the Animal Hospital on Chisholm Road to inoculate dogs while the above schedule is going on. All other animal hospitals will be open at approximately the same hours for rabies vaccinations. (Repeat: Regular animal hospital fee is $2.)

Dr. Ellis has worked in close cooperation with the Lauderdale County Health Department and the Lauderdale County Humane Society in the eradication and control of rabies in the county. Complete control is possible only when every dog of three months of age or older is inoculated. The cooperation of every dog owner is needed to give full protection to human beings and livestock throughout the county.

Overloaded Wires Electricity Waste

Some home wiring systems are as out of date as a Model-A Ford Extension Engineer Bill Cox says figures show that only one home out of 20 is adequately wired for efficient use of modern electrical equipment. And overloaded wiring can cost a lot of money, the engineer continues.

Wires that heat above 140 degrees are overloaded, and the electricity used in producing this heat is wasted. Therefore, to insure adequate wire capacity, cautious home owners will limit the total load on a number 12 wire household circuit to 1800 watts. And the load on a number 14 wire won't exceed 1350 watts, adds Cox.

HAVE YOU EVER THOUGHT how easily we can cover space down here on earth? An ordinary Long Distance call, for example, can send your voice practically anywhere in an instant and at the same time bring you the voices you want to hear. Long Distance -it's really a Space Age miracle, yet it's an everyday service available to us anytime we feel like picking up the phone. How about right now? The cost is little, but there's always big pleasure in a Long Distance call.

PHONE FACTS: In the U.S. and Canada about 17,000 telephones are added every working day to those already in service—which adds up to over 4 million new phones a year.

• FOR THE HOME • FOR THE CHURCH FOR THE CHAPEL

Organ music is the most relaxing of all music, psychologists maintain. And now, busy professional people who have never played music before are amazed to find they can enjoy themselves at the Hammond Organ.

The Hammond Organ is the most popular and most widely used of any organ in the church and the chapel . . . and the price is so attractive.

Popular, religious, even classical music is played beautifully on the Hammond . . . and it is so easy to learn. Ask us about our Free lesson program.

OUR RENTAL PLAN

Yes . . . just pennies a day will place a new Hammond Organ in your home, your church or your school. You learn to play as you pay so very little each month . . . then, if you decide to buy, every penny you have paid in rent will be applied to the purchase price. No such plan has ever been offered on the beautiful Hammond Organ.
