The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

From an advertisement of Warner & Swasey, machinery manufacturers of Cleveland, this paragraph is lifted: "If all this country wants is more and more pay for less and less work, we're setting ourselves up as easy victims for more work at less pay - and pay in rubles."

Conscience is a playback of the small voice that told you not to do it in the first place.

As we look over the catalog of a certain institution of higher learning, we feel that any freshman who can understand fully a college catalog is already bright enough to be graduated.

"Look at the price on this suit," exclaimed one burglar to his buddy as they ransacked the clothing store. "Downright robbery, if you ask me!"

Reader's Digest of August, quoting from Family Weekly, reports that when a government agency sent to all cities a request for information on what was being done to protect the communities against H-bomb attack, one angry young mayor wired this reply: "Re atomic protection request, not worried here. We have a chamber of commerce which has repelled everything new in past 50 years."

It has been pointed out that if medical science doesn't stop making us live longer, our grandchildren will be telling us to pay off all this national debt ourselves.

Split level homes are nothing new although they seem to be the rage at the present time. It's just that now people don't mind admitting that they live above a garage.

Behind every successful man there stands a devoted wife—and a surprised mother-in-law.

Someone has come up with an idea that would, he said, solve the coffee break mania. From his figures, which show 30 minutes wasted each day on coffee breaks and multiplying this time by 22 working days means 11 hours each month or 132 hours annually, he suggests that an additional week's vacation with pay be given thus saving 92 working hours each year (or nearly 2½ weeks) that are proving a costly drain on the budget.

Taste makes waist. Ask one who knows.

In Jackson, Miss., a local man, invariably questioned when any type of crime was committed, showed up at the scene of a $9,500 bank robbery. He told police: "I just thought I'd come up here and be checked out."

With school days just around the corner, we give you this safety slogan: "Look out for school children—especially if they are driving cars!"

Did you read about the private detective down in Bay Minette who was called as a witness in a divorce case? While testifying he explained that he obtained most of his information by peering through windows. The judge, hardly believing his ears, interrupted the proceedings long enough to have charges filed against the so-called detective for violating the Alabama Peeping Tom Law.

Pre-School Conference Ends Today At Central

The Pre-School Conference of the Lauderdale County Teachers Association and In-Service Education Program began Tuesday, Aug. 23, at Central School and will continue through today.

The conference was opened Tuesday at 9 a.m. with a general assembly, presided over by Mrs. Rose Buettner, president of the Lauderdale County Teachers Association. Invocation was given by Rev. Arthur S. Finch, minister, Pleasant Valley Methodist Church, followed by musical selections by Mrs. Emerson Van Cleave, Supervisor of Music Education, and Bill Myrick, accompanied by Miss Sylvia Beckman. A panel discussion on "Highlights of A.E.A. and N.E.A." was featured on the program.

Presiding over the general session Wednesday was Miss Belle Walker, chairman of the Planning Committee, with Brother Floyd Parker, minister of the Glendale Church of Christ giving the invocation, followed by solo selections by Herbert Simms. "Effective Use of State Test Results in Pupil Guidance" was the theme of the address by Fred Williamson, supervisor of Guidance and Testing, State Department of Education.

This morning, W. C. Hannah, vice president of the Lauderdale County Teachers' Association presided over the general session. Invocation was by Brother Frank Martin, minister, Central Baptist Church, with group singing being directed by James Robert Smith, music teacher at Lexington School. Dr. C. P. Nelson, Executive Secretary of A.E.A., will give the address, using as his subject, "State and Federal Legislation for Public Education." A period of questions and discussion is scheduled to follow this meeting.

Following all general meetings, special interest and association Standing Committee group meetings were held. The county-wide objective of the Pre-School Conference is to develop local school-community and system-wide programs which meet the fundamental needs and potentials of today's children and youth, with emphasis on the following objectives: to determine the basic information teachers need and to use it effectively in understanding and guiding those whom they teach; to provide a physical and social environment conducive to wholesome school-community relations and to interpret the school program as it relates to the needs of boys and girls, and to seek adequate and stabilizing public school support, among other worthwhile objectives.

Traffic Accident Injures Two

Following a traffic accident occurring at 6:48 p.m. Sunday at Florence Boulevard's intersection with the Cherry Hill Road, Mrs. Helen Adkins Stewart, of 409 Sweetwater Ave., Florence, and Betty Joyce Higgins, a passenger in her car, both were treated at ECM Hospital and later released.

Mrs. Adkins was driving an automobile traveling north on the Cherry Hill Road when her vehicle collided with a car being driven east on Florence Boulevard and being driven by Bobby Ray Michael, of 1214 St. Charles Street.

ADDITIONAL SUMS ALLOTTED SCHOOLS OF COUNTY, CITY

Following the token payment some weeks ago to the city and county schools, as well as Florence State College, from the $100,000,000 bond issue voted by the State Legislature, 70 per cent of which has been sold, O. P. Richardson, assistant director, state division of administration and finance, has advised Superintendent Rufus G. Hibbert of the city system, that additional distributions will be made as of August 30th. The sale of the additional 30 per cent of the bonds will not be made for a number of months, it was stated, possibly a year.

Under the distribution to be made next week, Lauderdale County's school system will receive $367,322 from one calculation and an additional $107,269 from another. Previously received was $28,315 making a total of $474,591 from the 70 per cent sale.

The Florence city system, which had also received a token payment of approximately $26,000, an additional $191,728 will be made from one calculation and a total of $217,728 from another.

Each county and each city in the state will share in this distribution, it was noted.

Dr. Norton Reviews Program

College Splendid Financial Asset To Area

Dr. E. B. Norton, president of Florence State College told the members of the Florence Exchange Club at Hotel Reeder Tuesday noon that the graduates of the local college during the past twelve months will earn more in their lifetime—more than a like number of high school graduates, that is—than the State of Alabama has put into the college in all the years since it was taken over by the state in 1872.

Dr. Norton was the featured speaker at the special "Maid of Cotton" meeting of the Exchange Club when the 21 contestants in Friday night's event were guests of the club. Morris Kilbanoff had charge of program arrangements and presented the speaker.

Building Program Before bringing to the attention of the Exchange members the great financial asset Florence State is to the local community, Dr. Norton told briefly of the great building program now in progress on the campus and the planned construction program of the next two years when $1,960,000 will be made available to college from the $100,000,000 bond issue voted by the last session of the Legislature.

James A. Patterson Wilson Principal

Succeeds Alvin Parker Who Resigned To Accept Muscle Shoals City Post

James A. Patterson, who has been a member of the faculty at Wilson School, Chisholm Highway, for the past five years, has been elected principal of that school by the Lauderdale County Board of Education to succeed Principal Alvin Parker, who has resigned to accept a like position with the Muscle Shoals City School, Superintendent Allen Thornton announced. Mr. Parker had been principal at Wilson School for the past eight years.

Mr. Patterson, 31-years-old and a native of Lauderdale county, received his Masters degree at Florence State this summer. He has assisted Mr. Parker in the administration of Wilson School for the past several years and is well qualified to assume the principalship at this time, Mr. Thornton pointed out.

Wilson School is one of the newer schools of the rural school system and also one of the fastest growing schools in the county. Teaching through the eighth grade at this time, the ninth grade, bringing it to full junior high status, will be made shortly, it was stated. At present two new classrooms are being constructed as well as the remodeling and extension of its heating system. Situated on a 25-acre campus, the school has ample room to grow in both physical aspect and influence, it was shown.

FORESTERS TO MEET AT CAPITAL THIS WEEK END

U. S. And Soviets Vie In Dramatic Space Probes

Man's first aerial snatch of a capsule ejected from its orbiting satellite was performed by the U. S. Air Force Friday, a feat that scientists hold brings man's conquest of space a step closer.

The 85 pound capsule was snatched from the skies by a dangling trapeze-like device 8,500 feet over the Pacific Ocean. The successful catch was made by the crew of a C-119 Flying Boxcar near Honolulu after the capsule's ejection from Discoverer XIV over Alaska. The capsule was packed with important instruments designed to speed development of this nation's space and missile warning satellites.

When asked will an animal make the next trip and then man? Maj. Gen. O. J. Ritland, head of the Air Force Ballistic Missile Division, replied it was not expected in the instant future. "But," he added, "we are working toward that goal."

Guided by radar signal the plane made two unsuccessful tries missing by inches. The third try was successful. The feat was called one of scientific importance.

Russia Orbits Animals

Hardly had the thrill of America's dramatic capsule catch died down when Soviet Russia electrified the world with a report of the return of its 9000 pound dog carrying space ship on Saturday.

The Soviets announced their feat as the historical first in which living creatures were sent orbiting into space and returned alive.

They hailed it as a forerunner of man's flight into space.

The two dogs, named Arrow and Squirrel, were about the size of fox terriers. They were whirled about the earth at a height of 198.8 miles at a rate of 227 miles a minute, circling the globe 18 times, according to the Russ News Agency Tass, before being brought down.

Moscow said the space ship also carried rats, mice, flies, plants, fungi, microscopic water plants and seeds besides television cameras and scientific instruments.

Both Senator John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard Nixon were handed rebut Tuesday when the Senate passed a bill increasing federal grants for medical bills of the needy aged. It rejected both Democratic and Republican efforts to broaden aid to nearly all old persons.

It was an especially heavy blow to Kennedy, Democratic presidential aspirant, who had staked in an all-out fight to have a medical care program included in the nation's Social Security system. The Kennedy-endorsed proposal was defeated by a vote of 51-44.

Kennedy said he would take his Social Security plan to the people in his campaign this fall.

Likewise defeated was the Republican plan for health insurance for the elderly and strongly backed by Republican presidential candidate Richard Nixon. This proposal lost by a vote of 67-28.

The basic bill passed by the Senate 89-2 was for medical aid to the aged and would boost federal grants to the states to help pay medical bills for those on relief rolls. Aid also would be available under the measure for persons with incomes high enough to keep them off relief but too low to enable them to pay medical bills.

The estimated federal cost of the bill passed by the Senate was $200 million a year as it came from the committee. It had been accepted by the Eisenhower Administration although the President had previously frowned on boosts to federal grants under the public assistance program.

The Senate voted Tuesday night to widen the scope of this provision by including expenses of the mentally ill and victims of TB. However Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.) said this might cause a veto since the change added about $120 million to the foregoing amount.

The Senate's defeat of the Kennedy measure was considered a sharp reversal for the Democrats but it was felt it would be made a major issue in the presidential campaign.

Local Motorcade To Greet Nixon

Lauderdale, Colbert To Join State-Wide Rally At Birmingham Friday

There will be a Republican motorcade from Lauderdale and Colbert counties to greet Vice President Richard Nixon when he appears in Birmingham on Friday.

The motorcade will assemble on the parking lot next door to the Corner Drug Company on North Seminary Street in Florence on Friday at 6:30 a.m. at which time signs will be placed on the cars. The motorcade will leave for Birmingham promptly at 7 o'clock and proceed to the airport where it will meet Mr. Nixon's plane, and join in a conference to be held prior to the Vice President's speech at 12:30 p.m. on the steps of the Birmingham City Hall.

Charles T. Finney and A. R. (Bob) Tomlinson who are in charge of the motorcade invite all who are interested in greeting the Republican candidate for president to be on hand and ready to move out promptly at 7 o'clock on Friday morning. A two-way radio contact will be maintained with the Colbert County group, it was stated.

Sparkman Calls On Democrats To Support Ticket

Senator Pledges Fight Against Civil Rights Plank In Platform

The Democrats have nominated a ticket of exceptional ability. Both Senator Kennedy and Senator Johnson are men of wide experience and high integrity.

I will support their election with full vigor. I urge the voters of Alabama to join in efforts to elect them and to get the Republicans out of the White House.

Like other Alabamians, I will oppose the so-called civil rights plank of the Democratic and the Republican platforms. Certainly we can take no comfort from the Republican platform. And we know that we can expect no consideration from Vice President Nixon as evidenced by his anti-South rulings as presiding officer of the Senate; his advice that the President send troops to Little Rock; and his insistence on the strongest civil rights plank possible at the Republican Convention.

Under a Democratic President and Vice President and with our Southern Congressman and Senators working together as members of the Democratic Party, Alabama and the South will fare better not only as regards so-called civil rights but in river development, farming, education, low-cost electric power, housing, lowered interest rates and other things crucial to Alabama and the South.

It Can Be Done

The country will soon hear the presidential candidates of both major parties launch an all-out campaign for votes. Mr. Nixon invades the Southland tomorrow as he speaks in Birmingham. Mr. Kennedy is also pledged to visit all 50 states and has already been to Hawaii. Both men are young, vigorous and out to win and it goes without saying the people will listen to what both have to say.

Many people in the South feel that they haven't much choice since both are committed to a strong implementation of civil rights and while the thinking people of the South know the pitfalls of splinter parties and other forms of political breakaways, there is a growing feeling that a strong national party might succeed in bringing about a restoration of conservatism needed by both the Democrats and Republicans. Naturally it could not be a Southern party and succeed.

Conservatism should not be construed as right wing radicalism but a return to political sanity. On the Republican side the late Senator Taft was a striking example of conservatism, actually a militant type. Bricker of Ohio, though weaker than Taft, is a man of conservative leanings and there are many others; Democrats count Byrd of Virginia as top man on their party's totem pole though there are many good Democrats who deplore the whole mess and long sincerely for a party that will represent the people.

General Albert Wedemeyer put the matter bluntly when he said: "We criticize Russia for being a one-party nation. Well, what about us? I don't want to see a third party in the United States, I just want to see a second party." . . . Wedemeyer's contention being there is no longer any essential difference in the two major parties except two factions jockeying for the same jobs.

We still subscribe that there are some differences between the two though we must admit those differences are fast disappearing.

The people can restore and protect the institutions of democracy only when they demand of their public servants that they be restored and protected. The people can do this once they realize how wrong it is to turn over to the federal government all of the functions of government.

The way will be hard but the cure is not impossible. It can be done at the polls.

Where Are The Salesmen?

Certainly no occupation, avocation or profession . . . call it what you will . . . has undergone as drastic a change as salesmanship. Most of us recall the old days when salesmen were salesmen. Some even remember when salesmen were "drummers." Those were the days when men had a line of goods to sell and they sold it, mostly without benefit of anything except their own ingenuity and persistence.

There are exceptions, of course, but most of today's so-called salesmen are order takers. This isn't because they lack ability, potentially they may have even more salesmanship than the old timer. But they have so many sales aids they don't have to "sell" and hence they have developed little or no selling "sense."

At the old time sales meeting usually held in the boss' office on Monday morning salesmen were reminded of the prime requisites of making a sale . . . the big thing being how to "close" a sale. Good salesmen developed an instinct in this respect and they also were able to pretty well judge their customers' sales resistance. The old time rules of selling applied to the old time salesman and his application of those basic principles determined his success or failure.

Today, with brief case, order book and a brochure of his company's latest newspaper, magazine and television campaign, the salesman is either handed a want list or is at liberty to check the merchant's shelves and write his own order. As we said above there are exceptions.

Today in many fields the big chains dominate and have their own buying agencies. This is true in hardware, appliances, food, clothing, and other lines. Merchants send their buyers to markets where they are able to see what they are buying and also see forecasts of "tomorrow's" market. Consumer needs are anticipated for the merchant. Like the salesman a lot of his thinking is done for him. He likes this because as a rule the element of risk in buying a new article is reduced.

Advertising has definitely changed the selling picture and that is the big reason advertising today is as important to the consumer as the news columns. New things and improvements in a multitude of fields are brought daily to the public's attention through newspapers, magazines, billboards, radio and television, making possible through mass production, better living for millions of Americans.

Advertising is important for still another reason. The goods that are advertised are usually reliable. Manufacturers long ago came to realize that unless a product will repeat and satisfy the consumer it was not worth advertising.

Today the customer usually gets what he pays for.

REVIVAL AT FORD CITY MISSIONARY BAPTIST

Homecoming at the Ford City Missionary Baptist Church, located four miles east of the Union Carbide Plant on the River Road, will be observed Sunday, August 28th, at which time a revival will begin.

Conducting the revival will be Rev. David Smith, evangelist, assisted by Rev. Bill Williams and Rev. Howard Zills, evangelist singers.

Lunch will be served at the church at noon Sunday, followed by a group singing in the afternoon. Services will begin each night at the church at 7 o'clock.

With advanced applications coming in at a record clip, Athens College is expecting a substantial enrollment increase this Fall.

COLORTOUR TO VISIT FLORENCE IN FALL

Florence has again been included as an overnight stop for the 1960 ColorTour, being sponsored by the Alabama Travel Council.

Malcolm Smith and the Tourist Committee are making plans for the groups comfort and entertainment while in Florence.

Miss Ellen Moore and Miss Martha Griffin have returned from a vacation trip which included points of interest in Wisconsin, the Dakotas and Nebraska.

U.S. Accuses Cuba of Training Red Agents

The United States Monday accused Cuba of training Red agents and guerilla fighters "to spread Communist revolution throughout Latin America." The accusations said that Cuba had imported more than 200 recruits for its "work brigade," most of them from Iron Curtain countries.

Personality Sketches

By FRANCES HALL

CHARLES PORTER McMEANS

"Having been engaged in the banking business in East Lauderdale County for the past 42 years, my greatest pleasure has come from observing the growth and development of our agricultural and livestock interests throughout the years and there is a degree of satisfaction to me to realize that I had a small part in the program that brought this about," was the comment of Mr. McMeans when asked to review his long service to his community and the surrounding area.

"Certainly, and not in a secondary position, is my interest in the great strides we have made in the advancement of education in our county. To recall our facilities of 40 years ago and what we have today brings an appreciation of the wonderful work of so many who have supported our schools and given aid both financially and with their efforts to reach that goal of having all our five county high schools on the accredited list of the Southern Association, a situation existing in only two other counties in the state. What little contribution I may have made in this regard is of deep satisfaction to me," Mr. McMeans added.

Charles Porter McMeans was born in Rogersville on January 18, 1899, the son of Milledge F. and Ella Romine McMeans. He attended the elementary school in Rogersville and was graduated from Lauderdale County High School in 1918.

Immediately after graduation, he began his banking experience in the Bank of Rogersville, now the East Lauderdale Banking Company, continuing there until 1923 when he accepted the position of cashier of the Bank of Lexington, moving to that community at that time where he has made his home since.

Mr. McMeans was married to the former Pauline Cox of Limestone County in 1920 and they have two sons, Charles Royce, of Cullman and Wilbur Eugene, of Florence; one daughter, Mrs. Mary Vreuls, of Huntsville, and eight grandchildren, five boys and three girls.

A member of the Lexington Church of Christ, in which he is very active and a regular attendant, he has served as an elder of the church for the past 20 years.

His many services in the progress of Lauderdale County have received the commendation of those with whom he has worked and no county-wide effort has been inaugurated in recent years without his advice and assistance.

Hope Haven Will Open On Monday

Playground Activity Added To School For Mentally Retarded

The R. C. Burns Hope Haven School for Special Children, located in the Valdosta community in Tuscumbia, will mark its third full school term Monday, Sept. 12, as it opens its doors to children who are to severely retarded mentally to attend the public schools.

The project was begun in February of 1958, with a class of 10 children known as the "trainable class," with classes held in a house owned by the First Baptist Church in Sheffield. The first teacher was Mrs. William S. Wells, who got the class off to a good start through her invaluable services.

As the response in community interest and support grew, a second class of 10 children was begun in September of 1959, with a third class to be enrolled this year, making a total of 30 pupils.

This fall, playground activity will be added to the daily program for these children, many of whom are unable to take part in the outdoor play of normal children. Making this possible is the Shoals Civitan Club, who donated equipment for the playground. The club has also purchased a large quantity of outdoor educational material for classroom use.

Through the efforts of the Muscle Shoals Shrine Club, which maintains the building and grounds, the school property will present an improved appearance this year. Grading and paving will be done by the Colbert County Board of Revenue, and a fence will be installed around the school property.

Hope Haven, a private non-profit school operated as a community service by the Muscle Shoals Association for Retarded Children, is supported entirely by contributions from the people of the Muscle Shoals area. There is no tuition charge to parents of pupils who come from both Colbert and Lauderdale counties, and from Sheffield, Florence, Tuscumbia and Muscle Shoals City.

Teachers are Mrs. Louise Pitts and Mrs. Mamie Jones; assistants are Mrs. Ophelia Wylie, Mrs. Kathryn Russell, Mrs. Uria Rae Parton and Mrs. Reba Talley.

A Parents Work Day has been set for Saturday, Sept. 3, at which time the fathers and mothers of Hope Haven pupils will gather at the school to put the building in order for the approaching school year and to install the playground equipment. A staff meeting has been scheduled for the following week.

4-H Club Work Is Basis Of Our Farm Economy Of Today

Every one of the 2,300,000 4-H Club members in the U. S. pledges his "head to clearer thinking, heart to greater loyalty, hands to larger service, health to better living for club, community and country." The initial "H" of these four key words is used to form the familiar green and white clover emblem proudly displayed by 94,000 clubs in all 50 states and Puerto Rico.

Responsibility for 4-H work rests with the Cooperative Extension Service of the USDA and the land-grant colleges and universities. Additional support comes from the National 4-H Service Committee, the National 4-H Foundation and 400,000 volunteer leaders.

Like many other successful ventures, 4-H resulted from a need. The need was to find a way to show farmers at the turn of the century how to improve crops, livestock and home life. A dozen or so far-sighted men in different parts of the country got the same idea at the same time: Teach the children and they will convey their new-found knowledge to the parents. And the system worked. What's more the 4-H philosophy has reached out to more than 60 foreign countries.

The 4-H method is to "learn by doing." In the carefully planned and supervised projects covering science, agriculture, home economics, safety and health, one of the hard-gained goals is achievement.

Most 4-Hers have several projects going at one time. They are encouraged to enter into competitive activities, demonstrate knowledge, participate in school, church, civic and social events to round out the full 4-H experience.

At the end of club year their project records are reviewed and evaluated for incentive awards given at the local, state and national levels. This tangible recognition for superior achievement comes from private sources that have unshakable faith in the youth of today.

Today's 4-H Club members are tomorrow's parents. They are the teachers, doctors, lawmakers, inventors, researchers, farmers and homemakers who must keep our country great. In their hands we entrust the future.

Martha Ellen Brooks
Bride Of Edwin Mitchell, Jr.

Marked with more than usual sentiment was the mid-afternoon ceremony of Sunday, August twenty-first, when Martha Ellen Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cleere Brooks of 2256 Maple Avenue, Florence, became the bride of Edwin Neil Mitchell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Neil Mitchell of 504 Imperial Drive, Florence, in Pleasant Hill Methodist Church.

White gladioli and tuberose mingled with greenery to decorate the altar and tall tapers in branched candelabra cast a soft glow upon the setting. The Reverend Arthur G. Finch, minister of the church, read the three-o'clock vows following nuptial selections presented by a trio of family members which included the bride's aunt, Mrs. A. F. Landers, and her father, vocalists, and her cousin, Mrs. Lon Harbin, organist.

Mr. Brooks escorted his daughter and gave her in marriage. Her gown of satin and bridal lace, previously worn by her bridegroom's sister, Anne, when she became Mrs. Julian E. Smith, features a molded bodice with portrait neckline of scalloped lace re-embroidered with seed pearls and long, tapering sleeves. Floor-length, the skirt's great fullness sweeps toward the back. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion cascaded from a jeweled headpiece and she carried a colonial bouquet of tuberose and fleurs d'amour.

Mrs. H. A. Richards of Huntsville was her sister's honor attendant and bridesmaids included Miss Carolyn Wright and Miss Judy Headrick. Their street-length frocks of satin featured over-dresses of matching organza. Mrs. Richards in moss green and the 'maids in a shade of gold. They wore headresses of satin with brief illusion veils and their bouquets were of golden-tinted pompons.

Mr. Mitchell was best man for his son and ushers were James Lyon and Charles Richardson. White carnation corsages enhanced the aqua costume and matching hat worn by Mrs. Brooks, mother of the bride, and the moss green ensemble and accessories in which Mrs. Mitchell, the bridegroom's mother, was attired.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bride's parents were reception hosts in the church parlors. To cut the tiered and decorated wedding cake the bride couple used a family heirloom, the knife used by Mrs. Mitchell's maternal great grandmother at her own wedding.

Assisting were Mrs. T. E. McGee, Miss Linda Lewis, Miss Janice Noles, Miss Jane Barr, Miss Janice Shipman and Mrs. Landers.

For travel, the bride wore a dark green tailored dress, black accessories and small white feathered hat.

After September first, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will be at home on Maple Avenue.

Twilight-Hour Vows Mark
Musgrove-Gober Ceremony

Solemnized in historic old First Methodist Church, Iuka, Mississippi, on Saturday, August twentieth, was the marriage of Brynda Sue Gober, daughter of Mrs. Curtis Arlo Gober and the late Mr. Gober of Iuka, and William Thomas Musgrove, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas Musgrove of Florence.

The Reverend James T. McCafferty read the six o'clock vows following nuptial selections presented by Miss Faye Carmichael, organist, and William Brinkley, vocalist.

Against a background of Woodwardia ferns, an arch entwined with greenery marked the altar center and arrangements of white chrysanthemums and lighted cathedral tapers detailed the altar space. Tapers nestled 'midst greenery to mark the window recesses.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, R. J. Gober of Memphis. Her wedding gown of hand-clipped Chantilly lace over taffeta was distinguished by a molded bodice with sweetheart neckline and long sleeves which tapered at the wrists, and a floor length skirt of lace tiers, the fullness sweeping into a short train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a jeweled crown and she carried a crescent of gardenias.

Miss Karen Gober was her sister's honor attendant and the bridegroom's sister, Martha Jordan Musgrove, wearing white organza and white flowers in her hair, was flower girl. Bridesmaids were Ann Nixon, Marcia McRee, and Elizabeth Wiggins, the latter of Red Bay. They and the honor maid wore street-length frocks of mauve organza detailed with lace inserts at the waistline and floating panels at the back of the skirts. Dior bows of matching taffeta were their headresses and they carried clusters of purple cymbidium orchids.

The bridegroom's father was his best man and his two brothers, Foster and John, served as ushers and candlelighters, respectively. Donald Gober of Oxford, cousin of the bride, was also a candlelighter and other ushers were James Edward Tesse, Pete Hugh Smith, Roy Jones Roberts, Daniel Russell Hightower, James Reed Allen, Jr., all of Florence; Jesse Hill Ford, Humboldt; and Robert L. Musgrove of Nashville.

Mrs. Gober, mother of the bride, wore for the wedding and the reception which followed in her home a sheath dress of green crepe and a small hat of green-tipped white feathers. Green cymbidium orchids fashioned her corsage. Mrs. Musgrove, the bridegroom's mother, chose for the occasion a gown of blue chiffon with matching hat and her flowers were white orchids.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Bremer Simpson, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Mark Hamlin, Jackson, Tenn.; Miss Janette Clark, Miss Sue King, Mrs. Bill Moore, Miss Marie Taylor, all of Iuka; Miss Lesa Gober, Grenada, Miss; Miss Nelda Gober, Oxford, Miss.

Before leaving for their Florida honeymoon, the bride changed to a beige costume suit and small hat of beige velvet ribbon, pinning blossoms from her bouquet at her shoulder.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Musgrove will be at home on East Irvine Avenue, Florence.

Holden-Collier Vows Said In Church Setting

Wearing lace and tulle over bridal satin, Carolyn Faye Holden exchanged nuptial vows with Philip Wayne Collier on Friday, August fifth, in Center Star Church of Christ, with Gilbert Kretzer, minister of Lee Hi Church, reading the service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Holden of Rogersville and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Collier of Athens.

Floor standards of pink gladioli and greenery detailed the altar before which the tableau formed and preceding the bride down the aisle were her sisters, Mrs. Thomas Sharp as honor attendant and Miss Stella Holden. Also included in the wedding party were Miss Jean Simmons, Miss Judy Butler and Mrs. Norman Smitty. Mrs. Sharp was attired in pink and the 'maids in blue, with tiny matching veils as headresses and pink daisies for their bouquets.

Given in marriage by her cousin, Bill Ray Canaday, the bride's floor-length gown was distinguished by a basque bodice with V neckline and long sleeves which petal-pointed over the hands, and the full-length skirt of tulle over ruffles of lace extended to form a chapel train.

Mr. Collier was best man for his son and usher-groomsmen were Wayne Parker and Norman Smitty. Both Mrs. Holden, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Collier, the bridegroom's mother, were gowned in blue with corsages of white carnations.

The couple is now at home in Athens.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lem Hollis of Iron City, Tennessee, have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jo Anne, to Roy Eugene McBees, son of Mrs. T. A. McBees and the late Mr. McBees of Berrien Springs, Michigan.

The bride-to-be was graduated from the University of Tennessee where she received her BS in home economics, and has served as assistant dietician at ECM Hospital this summer.

Her fiancé was graduated from Florence State College with a major in physical education. He was a member of the FSC baseball team for four years. He will be enrolled this Autumn as a graduate student at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo, where he and his bride will be at home.

Highland Baptist Church, Florence, will be the scene of the September third nuptials.

Prenuptials Honor
Elsie Jean Longshore

Among the numerous courtesies which are filling bride-elect Elsie Jean Longshore's days is the miscellaneous shower of last week which was hosted by Mrs. J. L. Byrd, Mrs. Alton Fike and Mrs. Thomas Crowe who entertained in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Lewis E. Kelley on Norwood Boulevard.

Red and white, the bride's choice of wedding colors, prevailed in the flowering background. Red carnations and matching satin ribbons decorated the testable and a corsage of the same blossoms was worn at the shoulder of the honoree's white pique frock.

Assisting the hostesses in serving the forty-five guests were their daughters, Misses Edna and Elba Crowe, Miss Mary Byrd and Mrs. Festus Roberson (Barbara Ann Fike).

Mrs. R. L. Wood used late Summer flowers about her home on Ridge Avenue when she courted to Miss Longshore on Friday, the nineteenth, including bridal games and contests as a feature of the party hours.

The honoree, pretty in a touseau frock of pink eyelet, received personal gifts from the guests who called.

A cloth of white satin covered the refreshment table and pink blossoms and greenery fashioned the centerpiece.

Present were mothers of the bride- and bridegroom-elect, Mrs. W. H. Longshore and Mrs. J. Edgar Johnson, Mrs. Ralph Sturges, Mrs. Jewell Wray, Mrs. Festus Roberson, Miss Madeline Hillman, Miss Virginia Crews, Miss Carolyn Beavers, Miss Annie Ruth Rhodes, Miss Fay Vines, Miss Joan Young, Miss Mary Byrd, Miss Martha Byrd, Miss Connie Dailey, Miss Betty Allison, Miss Sandra Whitely, and the bridegroom's sister and niece, Mrs. Charles Mullins and Susan Mullins.

Mr. Mrs. Watson Feted On Golden Wedding Anniversary

Open House at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Carter honored the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Watson of 218 South Eclipse Street on August fourteenth, the occasion being the fiftieth anniversary of the honorees' wedding.

Native Florentines, Mr. and Mrs. Watson have spent all except fourteen of their married years here. Great lovers of flowers, the gardens of their home abound in blossoming beds and beautiful shrubs.

Roses were used throughout the Carter home, 115 Marietta Street, for the party decorations and crystal appointed the refreshment table where the tiered cake, topped by the numerals '50', was served.

Assisting was another daughter, Mrs. A. E. Goodwin, and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. R. H. Watson. Among the forty guests were Mrs. J. T. Davis (also a Watson daughter) and Mr. Davis of Baton Rouge, La., and Miss JoAnn Malone of Jackson, Miss.

Missed by the family group were a daughter and son, Mrs. C. E. Darby and John Watson, both of Jacksonville, Fla., who were unable to attend.

"Back Home" Visitors
Feted By Mrs. Frith

Among the delightful, informal courtesies which welcomed Mrs. John Matthews of Corpus Christi, Texas, during her recent Summer visit was the morning gala of Tuesday, the sixteenth, when Mrs. Thomas Frith entertained at her home on Mattilou Street.

Chums from childhood, the hostess and honoree are native Florentines who have made their homes in other sections for the past several years; Mrs. Frith returning with her family to Florence last mid-winter to "pick up loose ends" and Mrs. Matthews coming "back home" each Summer for a visit with family members and friends.

Other guests were those of the close-knit group who "grew up" together including Mrs. Lake Tate, Jr., Mrs. John Brabson, Mrs. John Wilke, Mrs. Malcolm Marsh, Mrs. John Hutchinson, Mrs. E. B. Halton, Mrs. Ben Craig, Jr., and those who "married-into" it, Mrs. Karl Tyree, Jr., Mrs. Thomas Ashcraft, and Mrs. Howard Boorem.

Garden flowers were used about the livingroom and on the coffee table.

Mrs. Batson, Mrs. Ellis
Hostesses At Country Club

Highlighting the social calendar of the past few days was the morning coffee of Wednesday, the seventeenth, to which more than two hundred young matrons of the Tri-Cities were invited by Mrs. Culver Ellis and Mrs. William E. Batson, hostesses at Florence Golf and Country Club.

A profusion of yellow and white blossoms decorated the lounge and sun parlor; a fan-shaped arrangement of gladioli and pompons on the mantel was echoed in smaller bouquets on consoles and lamp tables and similar blossoms filled a silver bowl to center the coffee table.

Assisting were Mrs. Glenn Blouin, Mrs. Hal Self, Mrs. Dewey Mitchell, Jr., Mrs. B. F. O'Steen, Jr., and Mrs. Kenneth Williams.

To speak of many things . . .
Of trips . . . houses . . . maybe even minks . . .
And who cares if pigs have wings?

HEARD ABOUT ELLEN MOORE'S wonderful trip out west . . . She and Martha Griffin joined friends from Chattanooga . . . Stopped in Spearfish (bet there's a story behind that name) to see the famous Passion Play . . . On the way home from their two week trip . . . through Iowa and Nebraska . . . they made a stop to see Boys' Town . . . "It was a wonderful trip . . . We enjoyed it thoroughly" reminisces Ellen . . .

A WONDERFUL TIME is in store for those who will be leaving for Florence, Italy with the Florence to Florence tour . . . Guess you know all about the invitations received by our Chamber of Commerce and Mayor . . . sent (of course) by theirs . . . 'Mong those already signed up are the Stanley Rosenbaums . . . IT'S GETTING TO BE A HABIT with the Slatons . . . running off from their plane tickets, that is . . . Cara and Bill were all the way to Philadelphia before Bill realized that he had left their plane tickets for their jaunt through Europe in the bureau drawer . . . a hurried call to Johnnie, the faithful maid, upon their arrival in New York last Sunday produced the elusive tickets . . . which were air-mailed pronto . . . but this recalled that at the start of last year's trip to Mexico . . . Cara and Bill were near Huntsville, enroute to their plane, that tickets were missing . . . necessitating a hurried trip home for the elusive pasteboards . . .

SAW THE PERKIEST little scottie the other day . . . while dining in the charming dining room of one of Florence's newest "inns" . . . ## Lund, Keeton To Attend Meeting Tractor Dealers

Vego Lund and Dudley Keeton will fly to Dallas Monday, August 29, to take part in the largest sales meeting of its type ever held.

Lund and Keeton who owns and operates the Lund & Keeton Implement Co., will fly to Dallas from Florence along with other

John Deere retail dealers from this area. At the sales meeting, they will see for the first time the new line of John Deere Tractors which will be put on the market in late September.

In all, some 4,500 independent businessmen in the United States and Canada who sell and service John Deere products will attend the meeting. It will be the first time any manufacturer will utilize as many airplanes, reserve as many accommodations, and arrange for as many meals for a single group at one time. Sixteen United States and Canadian airlines will airlift the dealers, plus 1,500 other persons, into Dallas for next Tuesday's meeting. Due to the size of the group, facilities such as the Dallas Memorial Auditorium, the Texas State Fairgrounds, and the Cotton Bowl will be needed to accommodate everyone.

Patterson Favors State Medical Care For Elderly

Tentative Date Set For Starting Program If Congress Fails To Act

Alabama is considering its own medical care plan for the elderly. Gov. John Patterson will ask the next State Legislature to set up such a program on the state level—if Congress has not authorized a Federal plan for health insurance by that time.

"Our program might be small to begin with but at least it would be a start," Gov. Patterson said. "There is no doubt that our old people need help with their medical expenses, and I hope that we will be able to make their golden years a bit healthier and happier."

Such a state program is still in the planning stage. A tentative target date for the start of a state medical care plan is October, 1961. Several bills are pending in Congress at the present time to provide old folks with health insurance, and the Democratic leadership hopes to push through one of the bills before Congress adjourns next month.

In that event, participation by the state would still be required but it would not be necessary to set up a plan to administer the program.

In the absence of a Federal plan, the state is still eligible to draw Federal matching funds for setting up its own medical care program. Alabama would have to put up 35 per cent and the Federal government 65 per cent—almost a two-to-one matching arrangement.

The plan would have limitations as to the amount payable, but it should take care of most of the average patient's medical expenses.

Gov. Patterson said the plan would be worked out and presented to the 1961 Legislature, meeting next May. He said the Legislature would be asked to contribute "from $500,000 to $1 million" to the plan initially.

With Federal matching funds, this would give the state plan a fund amounting to as much as almost $3 million the first year.

"I feel that the need is vital and I hope we can help fill that need if the Federal government has not acted by that time," the governor said.

The only difference in frankfurters and weiners is that franks are about one inch in diameter and four inches long, while weiners are about three-fourths of an inch in diameter and from four to five and one-half inches long.

Premiums May Be Waived On Vet Insurance

Veterans of World War II and Korea who became totally disabled between the date of their application for National Service Life Insurance and the subsequent effective date may now file application for premium waiver.

The Veterans Administration, in calling attention of veterans and their kin to this new law, explained that the total disability must have been incurred in line of duty between October 8, 1940, and July 31, 1946, of between June 27, 1950, and April 30, 1951. The insured must have remained continuously so disabled until his death or until June 8, 1960, whichever was earlier. Application for waiver of premiums must be filed by the insured, or if dead, by the beneficiary within two years after June 8, 1960. Applications will also be accepted from persons representing mentally incompetent veterans.

Because of the time limit placed upon applications, the VA urges eligible veterans or their beneficiaries to apply promptly for the waiver of premiums.

DAVE BRATCHER

Union Carbide Metals Company, according to C. E. Green, Superintendent. He said the two men had worked for the past three months in training and as Shift Foremen in the Mix Department.

"Both men adapted themselves readily to our operations and in a brief period were functioning like old timers," was the comment of R. E. Dewese, Assistant Superintendent in charge of Furnace operations. He added, "This experience should prove of value to them in their teaching profession, and it certainly helped us with temporary employment in supplying vacation replacement for foremen."

Grant, Head Football Coach at the High School said, "I didn't know what to think of industry when I came here because I had no experience in a plant situation. I'm definitely leaving with a favorable impression," he concluded. Grant pointed out that "some of the boys in school talk to me about what field to major in college or what type of employment to seek as a career. I've got a lot better understanding of what industry is all about now," he stated, "and I can talk about it in the form of informal guidance to them."

In describing his experiences, Bratcher, Line Coach for Grant, said, "All the people, both hourly and salary, were extremely helpful and cooperative in helping me get started." He described his summer job as "new, interesting and varied."

FARM RESIDENTS STILL CONSUME THE MOST MILK

People who live on the farm still drink more milk than nonfarm residents.

Extension Marketing Specialist A. W. Jones says that last year's farm consumption of milk and cream accounted for only 14 percent of the annual total. "However," he continues "the per capita consumption by farm folks of 416 pounds was well above the average nonfarm figure of 336 pounds."

pounds."

"In 1950," Jones adds, "farm consumption was considerably higher and accounted for 21 percent of the fluid milk and cream total. And the per capita farm consumption in that year was 452 pounds."

Last year, vending machines in four Utah schools increased the amount of milk used by students almost eight percent per school day.

Alabama Ranks Third In Nation In Timber

During the 1959-60 planting season in Colbert and Lauderdale Counties combined a total of 5,433,400 tree seedlings were planted. Of this, 4,528,500 were planted in Colbert with 904,900 seedlings planted in Lauderdale. The majority of these were loblolly pine and although a variety of spacings were used, it is estimated that 7,343 idle acres were adequately reforested or put back into production. According to the records of the Alabama Department of Conservation, Division of Forestry, last year's planting represents the greatest quantity planted during any one season in the county.

Up until this year seedlings for Colbert and Lauderdale Counties and other Valley counties in Alabama, as well as for other States in the Tennessee Valley, have been grown by the Tennessee Valley Authority at their Wilson Dam Nursery. After purchasing the seedlings, State Division of Forestry trucks have been hauling them to a centrally located place in the county where applicants were notified to pick them up. For the past couple of years there has been a charge of $4.00 per thousand; no charges were made for transporting them.

This year the TVA Nursery at Wilson Dam will be closed and all State seedlings will be supplied directly by the three State Nurseries, the nearest of which is Miller Nursery located at Autaugaville. The seedlings will be sold to landowners in orders of 500 or more at $4.00 per thousand f.o.b. nurseries for all species except Arizona cypress which will sell for $5.50 per thousand f.o.b. nursery. As indicated, there will be a charge for hauling the seedlings; however, applicants can obtain them either by hauling them themselves, having them shipped by railroad express, or by getting someone else to transport them. In Colbert and Lauderdale and in the majority of the other Valley counties arrangements will be made to haul the seedlings by State Division of Forestry trucks to the county seat for 50 cents per thousand, provided of course, that the combined requested orders amount to as much as a load on a particular date. Seedlings will be available from December 1 through February 15; however, landowners wanting seedlings should file an application for them at an earlier date. In order to process the application, September 1 has been set as the deadline for applying. However, if the supply hasn't been exhausted at that time applications will continue to be accepted. Application forms can be obtained either at the Division of Forestry office, the County Agent's office, or through the Soil Conservation Service. A deposit covering one-half the cost of the seedlings should accompany all applications.

COUNTRY PLAYERS

LES CARROLL

Most of today's top songs have a brief period of popularity when we hear them everywhere. Then they fade and are soon forgotten. However religious songs never lose their freshness and time seems to enhance their appeal. "Greater Than You and I..." by Ralph Carmichael and his choir (Coral) is an album of such songs, so beautifully sung that you will enjoy them for years to come. Ferlin Husky has a good inspirational single, "Wings of a Dove," (Capitol) and "When I Stand With God" by the Blackwood Brothers (RCA) makes very pleasant listening.

The LP, "Glenn Yarbrough," is a fine collection of traditional and "semiraditional" folk songs, and the exceptionally appealing voice and stylings of Glenn Yarbrough make this an outstanding album.

A VERY UNUSUAL LP is "Badmen, Heroes and Pirate Songs" by Ed McCurdy, Jack Elliott, Oscar Brand and Dick Wilder. Somehow in songs about them, "baddies" gain virtues they never possessed in life, and you will find this a very entertaining addition to your collection (Both Elektra).

Cisco Houston's "Cisco Sings"

is a collection of favorite American Folk Songs and his intriguing interpretation of them make it easy to understand his great popularity as a folk-singer. And "We've Got Some Singing to Do" is a highly interesting album of songs from around the world, sung by the Folksmiths, eight talented students from Oberlin College (Both Folkways).

FOR HAWAIIAN music, you will enjoy "The Magic Islands" by Alfred Newman and the Ken Darby Singers (Decca) and "Tahiti" by the Surfers (HIFI-Record).

In the country field several top girl artists have come up with big numbers, notably "Carmel by the Sea" by Kitty Wells (Decca); "I'm Falling Too" by Skeeter Davis (RCA); "Cold, Cold Heart" by Marjorie and The Jacks (Columbia) and "There He Goes" by Patsy Cline (Decca).

OTHER FINE singles are "That's All I Can Remember" (Lefty Frizzell, Columbia); "There's Not Any Like You Left" (Faron Young, Capitol); "Far Far Away" (Don Gibson, RCA); "All I Need Is You" (Webb Pierce, Decca); "I thought I'd Never See the Day" (Johnny Humbird, Columbia); "An Old Log Cabin for Sale" (Porter Wagoner, RCA); "Daybreak in Dixie" (Stanley Bros., King); "Heartaches, Heartaches" (Paris Bros., Coral); "Make Room for the Blues" (Dick Miller, Mercury) and "Mine Again" (Lacie Moore, King).

TWO FISH PONDS HAVE MULTIPLE VALUE

Some Alabama farmers are building two fish ponds on their land.

Extension Fish and Wildlife Specialist Earl Kennamer says the chief advantage of having two ponds is that one can provide family fishing while the other is being drained and restocked. Also, two ponds will supply more irrigation water for extra farm land.

According to Kennamer, the upper end of a pond that gets fresh spring water can be dug out and lined with sand for a swimming pool. And pond water is used for household purposes as well as for livestock.

PIPELINERS OF ENERGY

Economy of Pipeline Transportation

Pipelines in the United States are delivering natural gas, crude oil and refined oil products over long distances at surprisingly low costs.

As an example: one gallon of gasoline can be transported by Texas Eastern's Little Big Inch products pipeline from Houston to Chicago — a distance of 1125 miles — for one cent.

The economy of pipeline transportation is one of the major reasons why natural gas and petroleum products are now supplying over half of the country's energy requirements, and why demand for this form of energy is expected almost to double during the next 20 years.

Texas Eastern's role as a pipeline of energy is constantly being enlarged through the expansion of its 2000-mile Little Big Inch products pipeline system and its 6300-mile natural gas pipeline system.

Come to Church for Services

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER — STAYS TOGETHER"

Wisdom

One of our old teachers used to say, "I can lead you to knowledge, but only God can give you wisdom."

And how right he was. A string of diplomas and degrees does not make a man wise. Many of the wisest never had a formal education.

For knowledge is the accumulation of facts. But wisdom is the ability to apply a few facts — perhaps only one — to a life-situation.

We know a distinguished scholar who has written volumes on ecclesiastical architecture. And we know an elderly widow who told her grandchildren, "Churches ain't made to look at!"

And the scholar — earnest Christian that he is — humbly bows to the wisdom of the widow!

For whether it be a cathedral or chapel, the Church cannot enrich our lives until reverently we enter its portals to worship and serve God. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Alabama Second In Cotton Forecast

Alabama ranks second in cotton production in the Southeast. As reflected by conditions on August 1, the U. S. Department of Agriculture expects production to total 4,155,000 bales in six southeastern states, compared to last year's 4,206,000 bales. And the USDA forecast points out that since Alabama cotton has made considerable recovery from early season handicaps, good yields are expected.

Leading the six states is Mississippi with production forecast at 1,500,000 bales. Following is Alabama with 780,000 bales. Other states, in order of their production, are Georgia and Tennessee with equal amounts, South Carolina, and North Carolina.

MILK PRODUCTION DOWN SLIGHTLY

July milk production in Alabama was placed at 99 million pounds by the Alabama Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Production was unchanged from the previous month, but down 3 percent from July 1959.

Dry weather adversely affected pastures during July.

Wholesale price for milk sold in July averaged $5.35 per cwt. This was a dime higher than both the previous month and the July 1959 price.

Prices paid for mixed dairy feeds at mid-July were down slightly from a month earlier and a year ago.

Packaging Brings Profit In Produce

The American homemaker is buying more packages of higher quality produce today than ever before.

And the producer and retailer are having to change marketing methods to meet the demand, says Melvin Smith, Extension specialist in fruit and vegetable marketing. Every time the shopper goes to the grocery store, she will see something new in the produce department. It may vary from a new type of package to a new variety of potatoes. And Smith says the emphasis has been placed at the retailing level for more and better merchandising methods.

The specialist says that Alabama producers can meet the challenge of shifts and changes in demand if they are willing to grow new crops or new varieties of old crops by following the very best cultural practices. Too, the marketing firms can grade, sort, and package the produce to encourage its sale.

Vitamins Grow In Fall Gardens

The days grow short in September.

And the short days, bringing less sunshine, require Alabamians to get their vitamins and minerals through food, according to John Bagby, Extension horticulturist. He says a good fall garden will not only provide these necessary body-builders, but will also save on the family food bill.

The fall gardener begins in September by putting out onion sets for green onions, planting seed of turnips, kale, mustard, radishes, beets, lettuce, and kohlrabi, and transplanting cabbage and broccoli.

Two to three weeks before planting, the land is thoroughly prepared and four quarts of 8-8-8 fertilizer per 100 feet of row are applied. The plants are side-dressed with one pint of nitrate of soda when they are about two inches high and again four weeks later.

Net Income Per Farm Decreases

Alabama Third From Bottom With $1,490 Average For Year 1959

Realized net income per farm in Alabama is placed at $1,490 for 1959, down 9 percent from a year earlier. This figure is the amount farmers have to spend from farm income for family living or investment after they have paid production expenses. Only West Virginia, Virginia, South Carolina, and Tennessee show a smaller net income per farm than Alabama. The National average for 1959 was $2,437 with Arizona's $9,568 average the leader.

In Alabama, receipts from farm marketing at $512.1 million were the highest of record. Government payments at $10.3 million were down sharply from a year earlier to more than offset this increase. Combined receipts from farm marketing and Government payments at $522.4 million were off 1.5 percent from a year earlier.

Marketing of livestock and livestock products accounted for 55.8 percent of cash receipts by Alabama farmers with crops contributing 44.2 percent. Cotton returned as the leading source of cash receipts, after being replaced by cattle and calves in 1958. Beef cattle ranked second, contributing $1.00 for each $5.00 received from farm marketing last year. Broilers again were in third position with receipts at $78.9 million amounting to 15.4 percent of the State total.

Tractor Projects Help Cut Cost Of Farming In Nation

More tractors are operated by fewer farmers today than at any time in the history of American agriculture. In the last 20 years tractor ownership has tripled to around five million, while farm population has decreased about eight million to 21 million.

"Efficient tractor operation has become a vital factor in maintaining a stable farm economy," points out Leon M. McNair of the National 4-H Service Committee, "and in an effort to get maximum performance at minimum cost, 4-H farm youth are taught proper care and maintenance, together with sound safety and driving habits."

The large-scale instruction project is made possible through the 4-H tractor program conducted nationally by the Cooperative Extension Service with the assistance of technicians from industry, local implement dealers, volunteer 4-H leaders and other qualified persons.

"Since 1945 more than 800,000 club members and 3,000 adult leaders have received training," Mr. McNair said. "Specially prepared literature, visual aids, demonstrations and driving contests are used to help improve skills and know-how."

"More than 100 million gallons of fuel could be saved annually by proper equipment care," he stated. "A tractor now uses between $300 and $400 worth of fuel per year. Repairs alone cost our farmers $400 million every year."

The 4-H tractor program has a tremendous impact on modern farm operation, according to members' reports. Youth participating in the project not only put into practice what they learn, but also influence parents and neighbors to adopt new techniques recommended by the Extension Service.

Awards for 1960 include 12 scholarships, trips to regional tractor driving contests, and all-expense trips to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, November 27 through December 1. Tractor award winners from 48 states are expected to attend the congress along with 1300 other 4-H delegates.

Motor Boating A Family Sport

Motor boating is a family recreation and fun project—fishing, cruising, water sports, or just relaxation. And J. T. Gaillard, Auburn University Extension engineer, says operating an outboard motor can be a real pleasure—if it is done properly and safely.

According to Gaillard, the smart operator studies his manual and is not a know-it-all-Sam. After learning all he can about it, the boat enthusiast follows instructions in mixing his gasoline and oil.

Then he attaches the motor firmly to the center of the stern of the boat in a vertical position and tightens the screws by hand.

Gaillard stresses safety measures and says the time for high speeds is not when other boats, fishermen, or swimmers are nearby. And he adds that an Alabama law requires all boats to carry an approved life-saving device for each person on board.

Quick Meals For The Summer Chef

The summer chef enjoys meals more if they are easy to prepare. And food stores are filled with items that are perfect for quick and easy meals, reports Dorothy Overbey, Extension specialist in consumer education.

Such items as melons, cantaloupes, and peaches are good for hurry-up fruit salads. And lettuce, cucumbers, tomatoes, peppers, carrots, and onions are all in good supply for vegetable salads.

Store specials on meat are usually good buys, and forequarter beef cuts are likely candidates for weekend sales. Supplies of fresh fish and poultry are large, and eggs, along with dairy foods, should not be neglected in summer meal planning.

For safety's sake, place life-saving devices—ring buoys, ropes, and long poles—around the swimming areas of farm ponds.

HOW MANY TIMES have you been the "star" of this little play? It's night time, and you're in bed. Suddenly: RINGG! You leap up, can't find the light, stub your toe, finally get to the phone—and they've hung up. Irritating, isn't it? You can ring down the curtain on this little play once and for all, though. All you need is a handy bedside extension phone to take or make night calls. Convenient, inexpensive . . . and mighty attractive, too, when you pick one in color. Why not call our Business Office soon and ask about extension phone for your home, or ask any insaller-repairman you see.

I DON'T KNOW HOW MANY of you remember the story in this newspaper back in May about the amount of materials our manufacturing unit, the Western Electric Company, purchased from our Reynolds Plant here. Bob Holloway, Reynolds Public Relations Manager here, told me the other day I should say something about it. I must defer to Bob, he's one of the best in the Public Relations Business. The Western Electric Company purchased some $1,190,000 worth of supplies and materials from Reynolds. This is the largest cumulative purchase from any firm in Alabama. We like to do business with Reynolds. They're good people and our purchases may have helped create or maintain some jobs for some of our customers in the area.

P.S. We're gonna have a real surprise for you good people on October 3, 1960. I'll give you some more hints later, but for now "It's lovely, it's little, it lights!"??
