The Passing Parade

By HAROLD S. MAY

Another fine industrial plant lost! With the announcement that the Electric Auto-Lite Co., of Toledo, Ohio has designated Decatur as the site for its new $6,000,000 plant, which will employ between 400 and 500 persons with an annual payroll of more than a million dollars, it is revealed today that the company had originally selected Florence in which to locate its new facility. Representatives of the company came to Florence on at least two occasions followed by much correspondence and negotiations in an effort to locate their plant here—but negotiations collapsed, we are told, when their demands, said to have been just, were not met until it was too late and Decatur was awarded this fine plant. Another worthwhile plant, now seeking a location in the valley and whose officials have given Florence full consideration, appears to be headed for Decatur, too. What's the trouble with us? Where are we not measuring up? What should be done? A close look at our shortcomings is necessary immediately if we are to stem the tide. And if there is something standing in our way and hamstringing our progress, let the facts be made public—as the public is entitled to know.

The hotel clerk opened the telegram and read: "Do you have accommodations where I can put up with my wife?" It was a hard telegram to answer, correctly.

Every year it seems to take less time to fly across the ocean and more time to drive to work.

We have just learned of an incident that happened a few days ago. A resident of our acquaintance collapsed and appeared to have stopped breathing. A neighbor, who had received some instructions in the new mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration method, took over and revived him sufficiently for him to be rushed to the hospital, where he again collapsed into semi-consciousness. Faintly, he could hear the doctor giving instructions to the two nurses in the room. "Now is the time," the doctor said, "for you to learn more about the new rescue-breathing technique." At this point, the patient raised a shaky finger and pointed to one of the nurses—a pretty blonde. "Teach her first, Doc," he said.

Drunks never spill drinks on other drunks, we are told. What kind of poetic justice is this?

We can't see how anything will ever diminish the popularity of Elvis Presley—if making him an Army sergeant didn't do the trick. You old soldiers will understand what we mean.

Many marriages wouldn't crack if people didn't take off on them so fast.

There are occasions when firemen receive the right cooperation when called to put out a fire—and then again, they are hindered in their work. But firefighters in Newport Beach, Calif., had an easy job when they answered a certain call early this week. The fire broke out in a plastic wastebasket. The heat melted the plastic, then spread to a nearby sink, melting the plumbing gasket. Water gushed forth and put out the fire. It was a burnt run.

"See the world now—before it's too late," is the slogan of a travel firm.

Look what I got for my wife," exclaimed the very pleased businessman to a friend as he pointed to a brand new convertible parked at the curb. "You lucky dog," his friend said in envy. "Where did you make a trade like that?"

A great many have gotten into debt by trying to keep up with others who already were.

"Some people are funny," mused a curbside philosopher. "I know a man who hasn't kissed his wife for 10 years—then shot a fellow who did."

Said the kind old lady to the Internal Revenue clerk: "I hope you'll give my money to some nice country."

We understand that a new toothpaste containing food particles will soon be introduced—for people who can't eat between brushings.

Wife to husband sick in bed: "It's a sympathy card from your secretary to me."

The divorce rate might go down if instead of marrying for better or worse, young people would try to marry for good.

The cost of a college education has doubled in the last 15 years. By 1970, experts estimate a college degree may cost as much as $20,000. Such a figure is certainly disconcerting to every parent who wants his son or daughter to have the advantage of a college education. And if there are numerous youngsters in the family—the problem is staggering, as many of you know.

Contract Awarded For ECM Annex Expansion

Work On Initial Unit Expected Begin Within Next Two Weeks

Construction Engineers of Jasper were successful bidders for construction of a new 15-bed unit at ECM's Mitchell Hollingsworth Annex, it was announced Wednesday. The bid for construction of the first unit of a 60-bed facility was let Tuesday to the above firm whose low bid was $135,177.

The total cost of the unit including equipment will be $158,547.90. An additional $10,000 in Federal funds was also allocated at the same time bringing total federal participation in the project to $92,000. The state will pay $20,000, the remaining $46,547.90 to come from local funds, it was explained.

Present at the opening of the bids was Clay H. Dean, director of the Hospital Planning Division, State Department of Public Health. He also allocated the additional $10,000 in Federal funds.

According to R. C. Barnes, administrator of Eliza Coffee Memorial Hospital and Mitchell-Hollingsworth Annex, work on the new addition should begin within the next two weeks with completion expected in approximately five-and-a-half months.

The initial unit will give the annex 15 additional beds, the entire project being planned in three stages with a total of 60 beds to add to the old facility. Thirty to forty names are currently on the waiting list at the annex, Mr. Barnes stated.

The bid accepted is a base bid, it was stated, with an alternate covering paving.

Other bids submitted follows: Craig Construction Company, Florence, $149,270; W. L. Couse Company, Birmingham, $144,862; G. W. Hallmark, and Sons, Birmingham, $146,505; Thomas V. Lloyd Construction Company, Sheffield, $145,950; Massey Construction Company, Florence, $141,449.

Mistrial Motion Upheld By Judge

Jury Discharged After Juror Is Fined For Contempt Of Court

After a day and a half of testimony in the rape trial of Charles Clifford Sharp, of Lauderdale County, a State motion for mistrial and discharging of the jury was granted by Circuit Judge Robert M. Hill Wednesday.

The motion was presented in connection with a conversation involving a juror, W. C. Holt, Florence, and a Decatur meat salesman held during noon hour Tuesday at a grocery store located at 801 East Limestone Street.

John Robert Sherrod, store manager who worked for Holt, quoted the juror as saying, "This is the awfulest trial I have ever heard," and further, "A doctor testified in the case and Frank Potts (attorney for the defense) made a fool out of him."

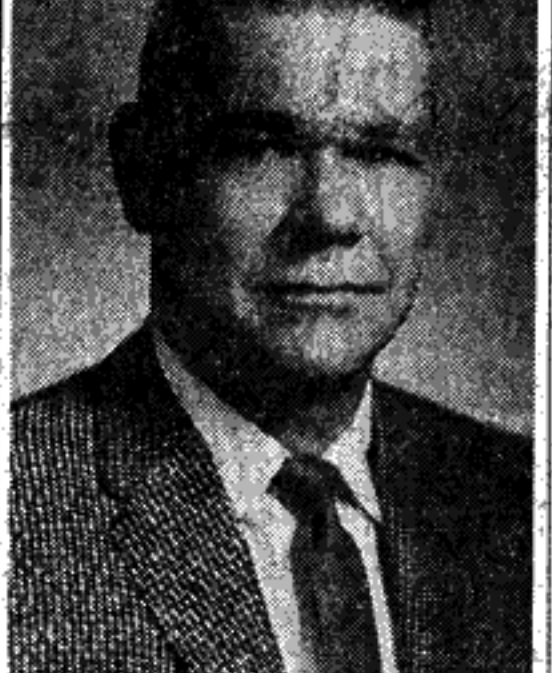

The State contended that through this conversation Holt had shown a fixed opinion in the case and that a fair and impartial trial could not be had.

O'Neal Memorial Fund Subscribed

Announcement is made today by Frederick Moore and Harold May, co-chairmen of the Edward A. O'Neal Memorial Fund to the Agriculture Hall of Fame, that the quota assigned to Lauderdale County has been oversubscribed and the drive has been declared most successful.

Mr. Moore pointed out that the cooperation given by L. T. Waggon, county agent, and Vocational Agriculture Teachers W. B. Hagood, A. A. Thorne, James Hankins, C. J. Pennington and Norman Spillers put the rural area quota over the top and that given by Bill Wiggins and Fuzzy Peritt aided in placing the city's contribution on the right side of the ledger.

Mr. Moore and Mr. May expressed their appreciation to all contributors to this worthy project that will see the leaders in agriculture memorialized as well as bringing about the erection of a national headquarters for all the leading farm agencies.

The Agriculture Coliseum and Hall of Fame, to be erected in Kansas, will be another in the tourist shrines that annually attract visitors from over the nation and well as visitors from foreign lands, it was pointed out by the local chairman.

Ike Welcomed By 1,500,000 in Philippines

By 1,500,000 Welcoming Natives; Will Go To Japan As Scheduled

GETS BIG WELCOME—President Eisenhower Tuesday was welcomed by a million-and-a-half cheering Filipinos as he arrived in Manila from Alaska. The chief executive will fly to Japan Sunday despite continued rioting by Japanese mobs who smashed into the Parliament grounds Wednesday led by the extreme-left Zenkaku Student Federation.

President Eisenhower, with his trip to Japan still on his agenda despite widespread protests marked by rioting, stopped briefly in Alaska Monday before taking off for a three-day visit to the Philippines where he was greeted Tuesday by a joyous, singing mass of humanity that at times surged out of control along their flag-bedecked welcome route. The President rode beside Philippine President Carlos F. Garcia in the humid 85-degree heat for ten miles, the distance from the airport to the official mansion. The crowd, rivaling that in India was estimated at a million-and-a-half. As a young officer Eisenhower had been stationed in the Philippines.

Garcia, sometimes under political pressure unfriendly to America, said, "the Philippines is and will ever be the staunch friend and ally of the United States." He praised Eisenhower for his quest for a "permanent and just world peace."

Referring to dispute over war claims and trade relations, the President said nothing could ever "tear apart" the bonds of friendship between the two countries. In a personal note Mr. Eisenhower also conveyed the personal good wishes of General Douglas MacArthur, who led American forces back to the islands during World War Two. Eisenhower served under MacArthur when the latter was military advisor.

Japan Alerted

The Japanese army will back up police and security officials when Mr. Eisenhower visits there Sunday. A Defense Board spokesman said a regiment of 2000 men had been placed on alert and a division of 15,000 stationed in Tokyo could be used if the situation warranted.

The spokesman stressed however, that responsibility for the American president's safety rested with a 25,000 man police force to be mobilized against leftist demonstrators expected when the President arrives.

Violence accompanied police raids on students and student headquarters when Friday's Communist-sparked demonstrations got out of hand during White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty's visit. Hagerty and his party were rescued by helicopter after the car in which they were riding was somewhat battered by the rioters. No one was injured however.

Meanwhile it was reported that some Communist organizations had abandoned plans for demonstrations when Mr. Eisenhower arrives at the airport although it was reported they would demonstrate elsewhere.

Mr. Eisenhower decided on keeping his appointment to visit Japan despite strong protests from some quarters who felt that he would be in danger.

Cotton Situation Said Improving

National Council Cites Changes For Better, Predicts Bright Future

There has been a remarkable change for the better in the cotton situation in the past three years. This was emphasized in an address to the Southeastern Cotton-seed Crushers' Association convention recently by Clifton Kirkpatrick, Memphis, field service director, National Cotton Council.

He said the carry-over of cotton on August 1 is expected to be at its lowest level since 1953. Just a few years ago, he said, the carry-over was 14.5 million bales.

He contrasted the 1960 situation with the outlook just prior to 1957. "Thousands of acres were in the Soil Bank, and the industry was faced with an additional cut in acreage. Domestic consumption was declining, our export market had all but disappeared, and foreign cotton production was climbing at an alarming rate."

The National Cotton Council, he pointed out, spearheaded and unified the cotton industry behind producer organizations to effect passage of the 1958 farm program and enactment of a competitive export program. He noted that the Council is continuing to wage an active and effective campaign for import controls on cotton textiles.

"The tide has turned," Mr. Kirkpatrick emphasized.

"This is best evidenced by the fact that while production increased some 3 million bales last year, the carry-over was reduced an additional 1.1 million bales.

Domestic consumption of cotton, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates, is expected to total about 9 million bales for the season ending July 31, he said. This is 300,000 bales more than that of last season.

From 1948 to 1958, cotton achieved a net increase of 1,185,000 bales in the highly competitive apparel market. This increase—coupled with a rise of 161,000 bales in household uses—just about offset losses in tires, bags, and losses due to textile imports, he added.

"Of special significance," he added, "is the fact that cotton's losses in tires and bags happened seven or eight years ago while gains in the all-important clothing market have been steady and should continue."

State Injunction Moved To U.S. District Court

Justice Department Moves Quickly As Agents Barred From Voter Files

The Justice Department Saturday acted quickly to move a state court injunction against Federal inspection of voter records to U.S. District Court where a hearing on the matter has been set for July 13.

The injunction which bars Federal agents from checking voter registration files for evidence of Negro discrimination, was issued by Circuit Judge Walter B. Jones last week at the request of Attorney General MacDonald Gallion. The injunction will remain in force pending a ruling from U. S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson, Jr.

If the U.S. judge refuses to move the legal battle back to the state court then the state could not appeal that point until a final decision was given on that as well as other points. The injunction prevents Federal inspection of voter records in all 67 counties of Alabama, it was stated.

When the case was transferred to the U.S. District Court the Justice Department then asked to have the injunction set aside, asking further that Johnson in a separate motion order the Montgomery County Registration Board to make its records available.

In Washington a spokesman for the Justice Department said he thought it was the first time such a court order had been sought because the Department was not usually faced with such issues.

Some Federal authorities hinted they wanted a hearing on the matter sooner than the July 13 date set by Judge Johnson. The inference came because the petition pointed out that on May 23 the Montgomery board was given 15 days to produce the records and the time had expired.

The step taken by Alabama's attorney general was to test the 1960 Civil Rights Act. Gallion said a counter motion would be filed asking the case be returned to state courts.

On The Subject Of Advertising

One might not think of advertising as news but it is... definitely. Even if it isn't an entirely new product it may tell a new story about an old product... some improvement made by the manufacturer or some new use. Actually when one looks at the advertising picture there are not too many brand new items... mostly they are old items made over.

Autos, truck, radios, TV sets, refrigerators, ranges, air-conditioners... none of them particularly new but look at the improvements the past few years have brought... how much better they look and perform, and in many cases cost less.

And what about these items? They can't just remain in the customers shelves or on his floor. They must be advertised to sell and that is where advertising becomes news... important news. The manufacturer, the distributor and the merchant, each has a story to tell that is of vital importance to the buyer.

Pick up a tire ad for instance. Many times the seller will have as many as three grades to sell. He tells the story of each grade with a brief description that includes the guarantee and the price. There is usually a wide difference in the quality between the lowest and the highest grade as well as a substantial difference in the price and the guarantee.

Guarantees, like insurance policies, usually state what will be done in case the item fails to deliver its specified mileage or time limit. It pays to read the guarantee carefully. In many cases the best guarantee of an item is the firm that sells it. Most merchants, whether selling tires, furniture or appliances, are reliable and stand ready to back their merchandise. If the customer is reasonable in his demands the chances are good he will receive fair treatment.

And so... read the ads. Be informed through advertising just as you are through reading the rest of your newspaper.

Caution Pays Off

A number of tragic drownings bring to our attention the great need for caution when taking our vacation or outings near or in the water. Swimming is one of our most healthful sports but it can be turned swiftly into tragedy by our not observing a few simple rules.

The National Safety Council looking at the picture objectively says:

1. Remember, it's not only swimmers who drown. Persons walking near the water, and persons playing or working in or by the water, also are frequent victims of drowning.
2. Know how to swim and do not swim alone.
3. Practice moderation in swimming... do not try to swim all the way across a lake or river.
4. Do not indulge in horseplay in the water.
5. In case of an upset hold to the boat. Most boats will float even though filled with water.
6. Observe safety rules and wear a life preserver when boating or be sure the boat is equipped with approved preservers for each passenger.
7. Be courteous with a motor boat and do not steer it near swimmers or other boats.

Drownings claimed 178 lives last July 4. Be sure you and your family are safe this Fourth by observing the simple rules above.

Caution always pays off.

DEAN TURNER W. ALLEN

When asked why he chose Florence State College and Florence as the place to cast his lot, after being given other attractive offers, Dr. Turner Allen said that the reason he and Mrs. Allen made this selection was because of the challenge offered by a progressive college and a growing community.

Dr. Allen said that he found that for decades the college had had such a tremendous cultural impact on the people that he knew it was the place in which to raise his family. Also, the challenge offered by a rapidly growing and expanding community, such as Florence, was then and continues to be most intriguing. Since making his home here, he said, he has found nothing that would cause him to change his mind and that he feels himself most fortunate to be a part of such a splendid community.

Dr. Turner W. Allen was born in Greensboro, Ala., October 4, 1918, the son of Charles E. and Jessie Wharton Allen. However, he grew up in Danville, Kentucky where the elder Mr. Allen was a professor at Centre College. He attended schools in Danville, was graduated from Centre in 1940, and later received his Masters degree in history from Indiana University, Bloomington.

Dr. Allen was married to the former Betty Brewer, of Frankfort, Ky., in 1941. They have two daughters, Betsy, 14, a student at Coffee High School and Tolly, 12, who will enter Florence Junior High in the fall.

Upon completion of his early college work, Dr. Allen became connected with the U. S. Tobacco Company as a sales representative in Florida. He remained in this capacity until 1942 when he enlisted in the U. S. Air Force, serving in the European theatre as a Technical Sergeant until 1945.

After his discharge, he returned to the U. S. Tobacco Company and remained with them until the latter part of 1946 when he became a graduate instructor at the University of Kentucky. Here he also did work for two years on his doctorate in history. It was at this time that he began his research studies in French history.

Dr. Allen is on the Vestry and is Senior Warden and a Lay Reader.

Constantly in demand as a speaker before education and civic groups, Dr. Allen is kept busy throughout the year giving of his wealth of information on both educational and historical subjects. His ease of presentation and interesting sidelight comments hold his audiences who find in him one of the outstanding speakers of this section of the South. In addition, Dr. Allen is repeatedly called upon by various church denominations where, again, he scores brilliantly.

Approval Given On ECM Hospital Urban Renewal

It was revealed Friday by Karl T. Tyree, executive director of the Florence Housing Authority that the federal government has given final approval on the $275,556 Urban renewal project in the ECM Hospital-Burrell area.

A capital grant of $174,315 has been approved to be applied on the project. This amount constitutes two thirds of the estimated cost of the entire project. Local cost, which will be approximately $85,856, will be split between the city and the county, a portion coming from appropriations already made to the school board.

It is expected that the Housing Authority will begin purchasing land about the latter part of July. Approximately two years will be required for acquiring the land, relocating families, demolishing the house and clearing the land for resale, according to Tyree.

The land, some 12 acres, will be used by ECM Hospital, where a big construction program is underway, and by the new Burrell-Slater school now under construction.

GO TO CHURCH SOMEWHERE NEXT SUNDAY.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

RECALLS CLYDE ANDERSON AT START OF HIS CAREER

Editor: I first became acquainted with Clyde W. Anderson when he was a lad of 15.

Clyde sold his newspapers from a box-like cubicle at the southeast corner of Court and Tennessee street, said cubicle being at the sidewalk curb.

I often talked with Clyde. He sold the Birmingham News, and I was the News' Florence correspondent. He said I was a good booster and writer. I said he was a good self-made business man.

Your story states that he received many honors over the years, which he so richly deserves.

Sincerely,
Ralph E. Whitaker

Tax Payment By TVA Amounts To Over 16 Million

Alabama's Increase Is Up $173,983 Over Last Year, Shown

More than $16,200,000 will be paid in taxes or in lieu of taxes by TVA and distributors of TVA power to states, counties, and municipalities during the fiscal year which ends on June 30, A. J. Wagner, TVA General Manager, announced today. This is an increase of about $1,400,000 over such payments in the previous fiscal year.

TVA will make in lieu of tax payments of $6,312,781 to 7 states and 137 counties, an increase of $412,390 over last year. Power distributors' payments are estimated at $9,900,000, an increase of about $1,000,000.

Mr. Wagner said that this year's payments are almost three times as great as were those only 10 years ago.

The TVA payments of $6,312,781 are $4,996,197 more than the minimum payments required by the property tax replacement provision of the TVA Act.

State governments will receive $5,209,594 of the 1960 TVA payments, and county governments will receive $1,103,187. The county payments represent the amount equal to the average annual ad valorem county and district property taxes paid for the two tax years immediately preceding acquisition on power property purchased and operated by TVA as of the end of fiscal year 1959, and on that portion of land acquired for reservoir purposes and allocated or estimated to be allocable to power.

Alabama's payment from TVA is up $173,983 over last year. The report disclosed. The total payment to Alabama for this year is $1,195,721.

Electrical Equipment To Be Produced; Annual Payroll Over $1,000,000

Robert H. Davies, president of the Electric Auto-Lite Company of Toledo, O., has announced that the company will build a plant in Decatur for producing light automotive and industrial equipment. He described the plant as a multi-million dollar operation.

Davies announced that the plant will employ between 400 and 500 persons with an annual payroll of more than a million dollars.

A site on the west side of the city has been purchased, Davies said.

"The total investment of $6 or $7 million for land, building and equipment will enable us to obtain a greater share of the electrical equipment business," Davies said. "These production facilities will be transferred from Toledo to enable the company to continue to make these products on a competitive basis."

He said the plant would produce regulators, distributors, solenoid switches, relays, governors, condensers, etc. Starters and generators will continue to be produced at the Toledo plant.

Rescue Markers Now Available

Fire Chief L. D. Lovelace of the Florence Fire Department announces that Rescue Markers are now available to be placed on the homes of the aged, blind, bedridden and handicapped in our community.

Chief Lovelace pointed out that these markers would prove most valuable when fire equipment rolled up to a home where such an emblem was displayed. Faster rescues will be possible when our firemen spot these attractive emblems that are made of fluorescent velva-glo red and black colors so that they may be seen at night when a spotlight is turned on them.

Any resident interested in obtaining the rescue markers for themselves or any member of the family, should contact Fire Headquarters. A fire officer will then call at your home and place the emblems on the entrance and rear doors, and on the door and window of the handicapped person's room. There is no charge for this service.

Pontiac's Extra Measure: Better Control

The reason is this: The track (not the body) is wider than any other car. The result is astonishing. You corner more securely, cruise with more confidence, hold a truer course in traffic. New Hope Church Scene

England-Handley Vows
A twilight ceremony in New Hope Church of Christ marked the exchange of vows on Saturday, June eleventh, of Martha Louise England, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn England of Burcham Valley Road, Florence, and James Henry Handley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Handley of Mishawaka, Indiana.

The half past six o'clock vows were read by James H. Beck, minister, following nuptial selections by a mixed chorus.

White flowers and greenery decorated the candlelight altar and an ivy-entwined arch formed the background for the wedding tableau.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose for her wedding occasion a gown of white lace over tulle with basque bodice detailed with long, fitted sleeves which pointed over the hands, and a V-shaped neckline. The full-gathered skirt was patio length and her chapel-length veil cascaded from a tiara of pearls. She carried a white Bible marked with a yellow-throated white orchid.

Miss Linda Sewell was the bride's honor attendant and bridesmaid. Miss Peggy Smith and Miss Brenda Bevis. Their organza frocks, fashioned identical to the bride's, were complemented by bouquets of matching blossoms; Miss Sewell's of yellow and the bridesmaid's of blue. Sherry White of Trenton, Kentucky, and Ricky Weems, cousins of the bride, were flower girl and ring bearer.

Jerry Handley served his brother as best man. Ushers were Milton Sewell and Leslie Rickard. Mothers of the bridal couple chose white carnations for their corsages. Mrs. England's gown was of dusty rose and Mrs. Handley wore blue.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bride's parents were reception hosts at the family home. Assisting were Mrs. Euell White, Mrs. Linville Hanback, Mrs. Edward Liles, Mrs. H. C. Weems, Mrs. Ralph England, Miss Alleen Handley, Miss Rachel Canerdy and Miss Nancy Balentine.

Upon leaving for their wedding trip, the bride wore a beige ensemble with brown accessories and, at her shoulder, the orchid from her bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Handley will make their home in South Bend, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. White Return Today From Honeymoon

Following their Saturday evening nuptials in Pleasant Hill Methodist Church and a honeymoon to points of interest in Tennessee and Kentucky, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wayne White are returning to Florence today.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denver Pope Rhodes of Florence, Route Six, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. White of Florence.

Against a background of greenery, the altar of the church was decorated with an ivy-entwined center arch flanked by standards filled with pale yellow and white gladioli. Branched candelabra of wedding tapers were spaced at intervals in the setting and lighting the candles before the tableau formed were Myra Perkins and Carolyn Huff.

The Reverend Arthur Finch, minister of the church, read the eight o'clock vows after the presentation of a musical program by Mrs. Lon Harbin, organist, and Mrs. William Turner Phillips, vocalist.

Mr. Rhodes gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle was designed with a molded bodice and voluminous, floor-length skirt. Scallops of lace outlined the sweetheart neckline and long sleeves tapered to points over the hands. Three graduated rows of lace dipped to a V at the skirt front and extended to form a back peplum, and she wore a fingertip veil of silk.

Mothers of the bride and groom chose white carnations for their corsages. Mrs. England's gown was of dusty rose and Mrs. Handley wore blue.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bride's parents were reception hosts at the family home. Assisting were Mrs. Euell White, Mrs. Linville Hanback, Mrs. Edward Liles, Mrs. H. C. Weems, Mrs. Ralph England, Miss Alleen Handley, Miss Rachel Canerdy and Miss Nancy Balentine.

Robbins Workers Turn Down Union

Employees of Robbins Floor Products Company, Inc., on May 26 chose not to become affiliated with a labor union as they voted 459 against the union and 171 for being represented by organized labor. This was the fifth time in nine years the employees expressed themselves by voting against the union.

The voting, held throughout the day, was conducted by James P. Swann, an attorney for the National Labor Relations Board. The workers were voting on the question of whether or not they would be represented by United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America.

Poncet Davis, Jr., president of Robbins, in commenting upon the election stated that he considered this vote of confidence in management and showed a fair and progressive relationship of the Robbins company with its employees.

VACATION TIME IS here again...
There's much-MUCH talk of travel...
And vis'tin' back and forth 'mongst kin
As Summer plans unravel...

VISITING 'MONGST KIN... and (ofttimes) just TRAVEL...

REPORTS REACHING our eager ears include Margaret Ashcraft's recent visit in Fort Worth, Texas... when she was guested in royal fashion by her onetime co-owner of a popular Florence ladies' apparel shop... Lucy (Bradberry) James... Arriving at her destination in almost nothing flat (she "jetted" out)... our delightful localite was whisked from brunches to garden parties... from Country Club windings to circle theatre presentations (like... frinstance... fabulous Casa Mannana... where "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" was the "piece de resistance"...) 'Twas actually a Texas-all-the-way sojourn... and we've ever-so proud to've been represented by Lone Star Staters in traditional Alabama style... and by charming Margaret.

OF MUCH MORE THAN passing interest is news which comes from Auburn, Kentucky... native birth of its (and presently... PSC's and our) Julia Neal... Returning to her hometown for a recent vacation visit... educator-and-author-of... "By These Roots" Julia was speaker of the occasion when the Shaker Museum (of Auburn) was dedicated... Photographed along with seven others (all wearing Shaker costumes) for Auburn newspapers... Julia is standing alongside an heirloom spinning wheel which she has presented to the museum... (And we bet our best plugged nickel... she's gonna wonder just HOW we EVER heard)

A BUZZ OF PLEASANT excitement preceded last Saturday's arrival at 637 North Cherry Street of (Lieutenant) James David Hooper... as (his mom) Jean and Rufus Hibbert made ready for their very special guest... Graduated previously from USNA in Annapolis, Maryland... David won his master's degree at the Navy's Graduate School in Monterey, Cal., a few days ago and is presently on a hello-and-bye-now visit to the home town... Upon leaving Florence... he'll be on his way to Honolulu, Hawaii... and his next tour of duty... while island natives are on their way to glimpsing a young... dark and TRULY handsome native Florentine...

REPLACING "DARK" with "blond"... but otherwise in the same category... are Carter Brown and Binky Matthews... who'll depart our midst on the 22nd to spend a couple days in the Big Town before sailing for a Summer in Europe... A detailed report (and no cheating... boys) is hereby requested by the Madam for come-Fall listenin'...

AND CONTINUING to continue... our little bird whispers that (Captain) Tommy Ashcraft will be Professor Ashcraft when school days roll round gain... having joined the Coffee faculty in the Math Department...

NAMES AND PICTURES in the news... Glancing through our Sunday's B'ham papers... we stopped to take a second (then... a third) look at our lovely Ann Pritchard... photographed with (her B'ham hostess) Ann Granger and other party-goers as they entered the Magic City's The Club... AND GRACING the Women's Pages front page... with other this-season Birmingham debbs... was pretty-as-a-picture Alice McSpadden whom... only moments earlier... we'd glimpsed parked with Tinker Cheney in the driveway of the family home on North Court... Up from Birmingham... she was guested for the week end by the Cheneys... ALSO... from the printed page of a recent evening... came the smiling countenance of delightful Aenid Howard (division first VP of Alabama's AAUW)... one of the leaders at the recent workshop held at the Capstone... AND PAGE-WIDE... half-inch tall headline in Monday's B'ham News proclaimed "Native of Florence as Interesting Life as Paris Resident"... with accompanying picture and captivating story of our own Mary Lee Broyles...

OUR CONGRATS AND dearest wishes go to Annie and O. C. Parnell of 462 North Court... whose Golden Wedding anniversary was celebrated on Friday, June 10th, at the Riverview Drive-home of (their daughter) Glad McIntyre... Cohostesses for the occasion were (the honorees' other daughters) Ruth Hubbard of Chattanooga and Audie Mae Koonce of Birmingham... and included amongst the guests were (their grandchild) Jo Ann Fowler of Huntsville and Bob Hubbard, Jr., of Chattanooga... A simply-sumptuous dinner was served to family members and longtime friends... with a tremendous decorated cake and other traditional "et cets" among the features...

ONE 'N' ALL are looking forward to Amelia Nussle's visit to (her mom) Julia O'Neal... and to Julia Walker's Saturday soiree party for her tomorrow... See you there...

AND NOW... CHEERIO and goodby... until more news comes through The Spillway...

PS... CIRCLE June 20th on your calendar... and just WAIT... it's a heart-throb date of which we're not yet privileged to speak... but don't say we didn't start you thinkin'...

Red Cross Calls For Aid To Chile

Help Of Many Kinds Needed By People Of South American Nation

The American Red Cross is calling for aid to relieve victims of Chilean earthquakes, which the Chilean Ambassador calls "the most terrible tragedy in our nation's whole history."

Otis L. Peacock, Chairman of Lauderdale County's Chapter, said that funds are now being accepted here for the earthquake victims. He said that donations can be sent to the Red Cross Headquarters at the Elks Building in Florence. All donations will be mailed immediately to Area Red Cross Headquarters in Atlanta, from where they will be sent to Washington for forwarding to the stricken areas.

A series of severe earthquakes in the South American country of Chile was immediately followed by enormous tidal waves that brought death and destruction to such far-away places as California, Hawaii, Alaska, British Columbia, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, Okinawa, Samoa, and the Philippines, as well as to Chile itself.

Some 5,000 persons are dead or missing and more than 2,000,000 left homeless in Chile. Full extent of the casualties and property loss will not be known for considerable time—if ever.

"The need for financial help for Chile is great and urgent," Peacock said. "Your Lauderdale County Red Cross, through its Executive Committee, in a meeting on Friday urged all who can contribute to send their donations as early as possible to the Red Cross office here in Florence."

Opening Of Bids On Bridge Steel Due On June 27

C. H. Buchanan, division engineer, U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, Natchez Trace Parkway, announced Friday that bids for construction of the steel superstructure on the $6,000,000 Natchez Trace Parkway bridge across Pickwick Lake, west of the Tri-Cities, will be opened on Monday, June 27, at 10 a.m.

This second contract calls for erection of the bridge's entire structure, which involves 6,450,000 pounds of structural steel for the 4,955 foot bridge.

The structural steel contract represents the second phase of the project that will connect West Lauderdale County and West Colbert County by bridge across the river.

The first phase involving piers and two abutments was recently awarded to Traylor Brothers, Evansville, Ind. Work is now under way.

Old Glory Was World Traveler

The original "Old Glory" was a world traveler, a refugee from the Confederacy, and a souvenir of the Smithsonian Institution.

A young sea captain named William Driver introduced the nickname in 1831, when he was given command of the brig "Charles Doggett." A group of citizens of Salem, Mass., presented him with a U.S. flag and he hailed it as "Old Glory."

Driver traveled twice around the world with the flag, according to World Book Encyclopedia. When he retired in 1837, he took the flag with him to Nashville, Tenn., where the name "Old Glory" spread.

During the Civil War the flag was sewed inside a bed quilt to hide it from Confederate troops. When Union soldiers took Nashville in 1862, Driver brought out the flag and it was raised over the state Capitol.

In 1922, "Old Glory" retired to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.

Florence Of Long Ago

By OSCAR D. LEWIS

This newspaper is indebted to D. C. O'Steen of Florence for saving a portion of an old Florence Wave, dated March 10, 1888, in which a number of interesting items appeared, among these being the county political slate for sheriff, tax assessor and tax collector.

Announcing for sheriff were: Robert T. Killen, James F. Young, A. D. Carson and George W. Porter.

Announcing for tax collector was W. T. Mitchell, and for tax assessor was W. B. McClure. In a county election held that year there were 1963 votes cast in 15 beats including Florence. Most of the beats are the same with the exception of Raw Hide and one or two others. There were only 258 votes cast in Florence, the next three highest being Stutts with 203, Rogersville 164 and Lexington 151.

Chairman of the Lauderdale County Democrats was A. D. Coffee. His committee consisted of E. B. Thompson, S. C. Brown and Frank Jackson.

The following news item in the old paper shows that Florence citizens were beginning to enjoy "running water" in their homes and buildings.

"The Cypress Water Works Company continues to connect with their mains. Day by day new customers are added to their list as the people see the convenience of taking water into their buildings."

No less interesting were some of the advertisements of the day remembered by many Florence citizens.

Joseph Milner, still in its original location on Court Street, advertised prescriptions, drugs, paints, chemicals, tobaccos, books and stationery. Next door Andrew Brown's jewelry and watchmaking establishment advertised watch and clock repairing and sewing machines.

Another ad was that of Z. P. Morrison undertaker and casket-maker, who featured, gloves, stockings and burial shoes and a complete line of burial robes for male and female. "My son Iago is authorized to conduct my business in my absence," the ad stated.

Waterloo Lions Invite Industry

Brochures Set Forth Advantages Of West Lauderdale Community

The Community Betterment Committee of the Waterloo Lions Club held a luncheon meeting in the Waterloo School cafeteria on Wednesday, June 1.

Harry Shaddix of the Alabama Planning and Industry Development Board was present to deliver the brochures the committee had printed inviting industry to the Waterloo community.

Also present at this meeting were Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Wilson, Mr. Wilson being chairman of the committee; Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Ray, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. William B. Haggood, Jack Eppes, Berl Harrison, president of Waterloo Lions Club; Jimmy Lee Sullivan; D. C. Jones; Miss Lady Maud Jones; Mrs. Thomas Glasgow and Mrs. Eva Dendy.

The committee was enthusiastic over the brochures and discussed with Mr. Shaddix the possibility of gaining an industry for the town. The latter suggested a likely prospect and the committee voted to get in contact with the management of the suggested company.

The Waterloo Lions Club has been very active in community affairs since its organization about a year ago.

"Navy In Space" Exchange Program

Officials Of Training Command Discuss Science Progress

"The Navy In Space" was the title of the illustrated report by officials of the Memphis Naval Air Training Command before the Florence Exchange Club at Hotel Reeder recently. Capt. Thomas Ashcraft was in charge of the program and presented Captain Fred Dally, chief of staff and Lt. Commr. Jerry Novak, public relations officer.

Captain Dally stated the purpose of the program and presented Commander Novak who, with the aid of color slides, gave a clear insight to the progress made by the Navy in space explorations and study under way.

Tracing the development of rockets from ancient China through the era of the German V-2's, when the space age began, Commander Novak traced the progress made in many lands as spurred on by military needs.

Showing that in the U.S. universities, industry, the armed forces and other government agencies are combining their efforts in the national space program, Commander Novak proceeded to trace the developments of the past 15 years in which data and information of various kinds concerning the earth and the upper atmosphere have been learned.

Illustrating the progress that has been and is being made in meeting the needs of the age by the Navy scientists, the speaker touched on every phase of the steady development of the missiles and satellites that are today probing outer space and sending back invaluable information for scientific advancement as well as military defense.

Decrying the claim that Russia is ahead of the U.S. in the space race, Commander Novak said that he did not agree and proceeded to show the true facts:

"Your Health" is presented by the physician as a health service of the Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

X-RAY

Sixty-five years ago the x-ray was unknown. This year, more than 70 million persons in the United States will be x-rayed. Additionally there are the millions of dental x-ray examinations and the approximately 20 million chest x-rays made annually by health survey units.

Doctors agree that the x-ray or radiological examination by a qualified radiologist is one of the most serviceable tools in the present-day preservation of health. The energy from x-rays traces a shadow image of body structure on film or fluoroscopic screen. The radiologist, a physician specializing in x-rays, can detect from image on film or fluoroscope, any abnormality or disease. The treatment of disease is also in the field of the radiologist using x-ray.

Radiation is one of the three effective medical weapons (with surgery and chemical therapy) against cancer. Radiologic examination can probe nearly any area of the body from head to foot. The leading cancer killer is now lung cancer, and one of the earliest possible ways to detect it is through the chest x-ray. Since x-ray records only the difference in density of bone and tissue, hollow structures are pre-filled with substances called contrast media that let x-rays through, in order standpoint but their satellites are apparently yielding less information than ours," Commander Novak concluded.

Guests of the club included Judge John D. Petree, Dr. Turner Allen, Commr. Ted Zickos, Ralph Young, Jr., and Ralph Lebkuecher.

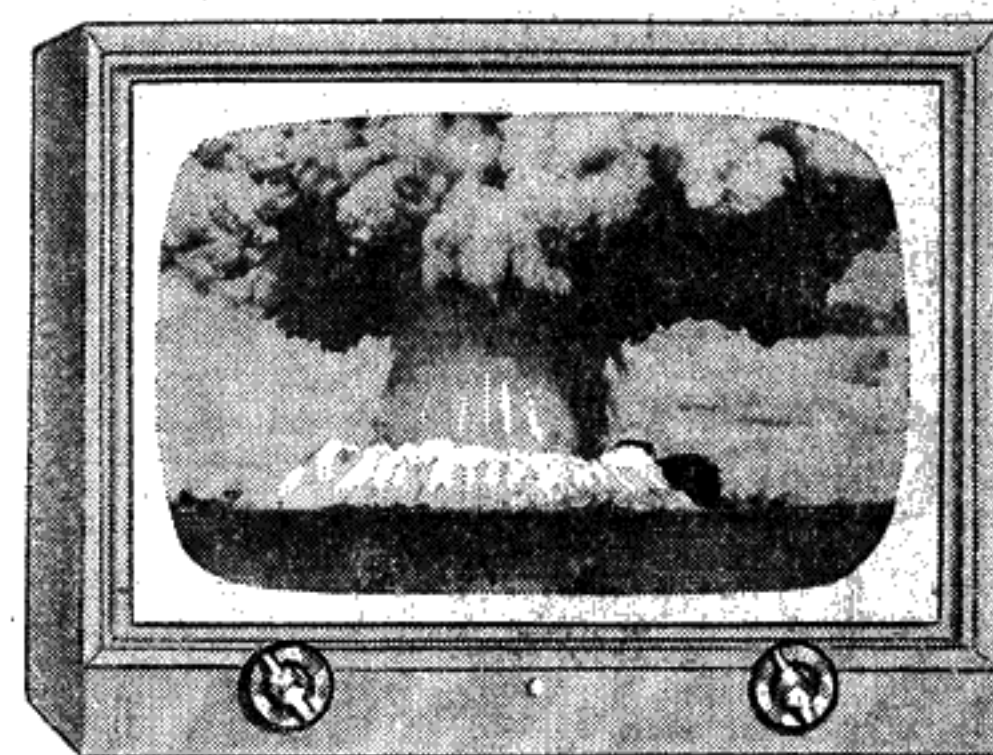

to outline the part under study. The esophagus, stomach, small intestines, colon, windpipe, bronchial tubes, blood vessels, and even the heart can be filled with a contrast medium.

Emergency x-ray examination is usually indispensable in treatment following an accident as it shows the location and extent of injuries which often spell the difference between life and death. The mysterious x-ray was first discovered in 1895 by Wilhelm Conrad Roentgen. Today, the x-ray is saving countless lives.

Around 85 million acres that formerly were used to produce horse and mule feed are now used to produce food for human consumption.

"A FAMILY THAT WORSHIPS TOGETHER — STAYS TOGETHER"

sufficient unto the day

Are you a worry expert?

Some people gather up all the worries of the past and combine them with the anxieties of the future. These they add to the burdens of the present — a huge bundle indeed.

What a difference it would make in their peace and happiness if they could take each day as it comes.

Jesus said, "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." He not only taught but He lived this lesson. Toil and misunderstanding filled the days of His ministry. Yet He met each one with calm assurance. Forgetting the past, He faced each tomorrow with inward peace.

This peace He willed to His followers through all the ages. Come to church and learn how to make this heritage your own.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Vacation Bible Schools:

For the past two weeks the churches have been engaged in daily vacation Bible schools.

On Saturday before the schools began on Monday there was a parade led by the local police and fire truck which created interest.

Mrs. Hubert Bedingfield was director of the Cumberland Presbyterian school, Mrs. Dave Scott the Methodist, Rev. Gerald Harris the Church of God and Mrs. Scott Bagwell the Baptist.

All schools closed with picnics and commencement exercises.

Personals:

Rev. and Mrs. Bill Kaylor, who have been in Louisville, Ky., where he was a student at the seminary, have moved to their home on the lake for the summer. Mr. Kaylor is the pastor of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A.

Raymond Wylie has returned to his home after undergoing major surgery in Birmingham. A guest in the Wylie home is Mrs. Mittie Wylie of Booneville, Miss.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Rex Roberson last week were Mrs. Hugh Nash and daughters of Oneonta.

Students enrolled at Florence State this summer are Jimmie Waddell, Sidney White, Sammy Ezell, Butchie Cooper, Linda Ezell, Buster Warren and Gene Downs. Jimmie Dorris Dison is enrolled in Larimore's Business College.

Mrs. O. C. Parke is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Dave Scott, and Mrs. Scott, having arrived on Sunday from Hartselle. Other guests on Sunday in the Scott home were Mrs. Albert Clemmons and Mrs. Dike Clemmons of Hartselle.

Mrs. Robert Clemmons and son, Dickie, of Hartselle are guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Barnes.

Mrs. R. W. Cobbs and Richard arrived on Thursday in the Dr. J. R. Waddell home from Blackstone, Va., where they will visit for several weeks before being joined by Mr. Cobbs.

Size Reduction Makes Possible Packing Of Parts

More than 700,000 electronic parts of a missile can now be packed into a single cubic foot space due to industrial progress in miniaturization, a weapon expert has told students at the Army Ordnance Guided Missile School here.

Lt. Col. Lester H. LeVine, chief of the Redstone Arsenal Control Office, says that "electronics will progress beyond the bounds of our imagination in the very near future."

"The Explorer VII satellite now in orbit carries a radio to transmit to earth the data accumulated in its passage through space—but the transmitter is smaller than a household radio set although it contains more parts than ten ordinary television receivers," he states.

But even with this advance, he says, "the age of guided missiles is just beginning."

FREEZE STRAWBERRIES NOW—PRESERVE LATER

The garden needs working, the flowers need tending, English peas need freezing, and the strawberries need preserving.

Are you in a dither trying to get all of these things done? Extension Food Preservationist Jeanne Priester suggests a solution to the problem of preserving strawberries. She says the wise homemaker will freeze fresh strawberries and make the preserves when there is time.

The strawberries are washed and stems and caps are taken off first. Then they are put into plastic bags, placed in boxes or freezer package cartons, and put into the freezer. Later the berries may be used for preserves like garden fresh strawberries.

THOMAS RISNER HURT IN ACCIDENT

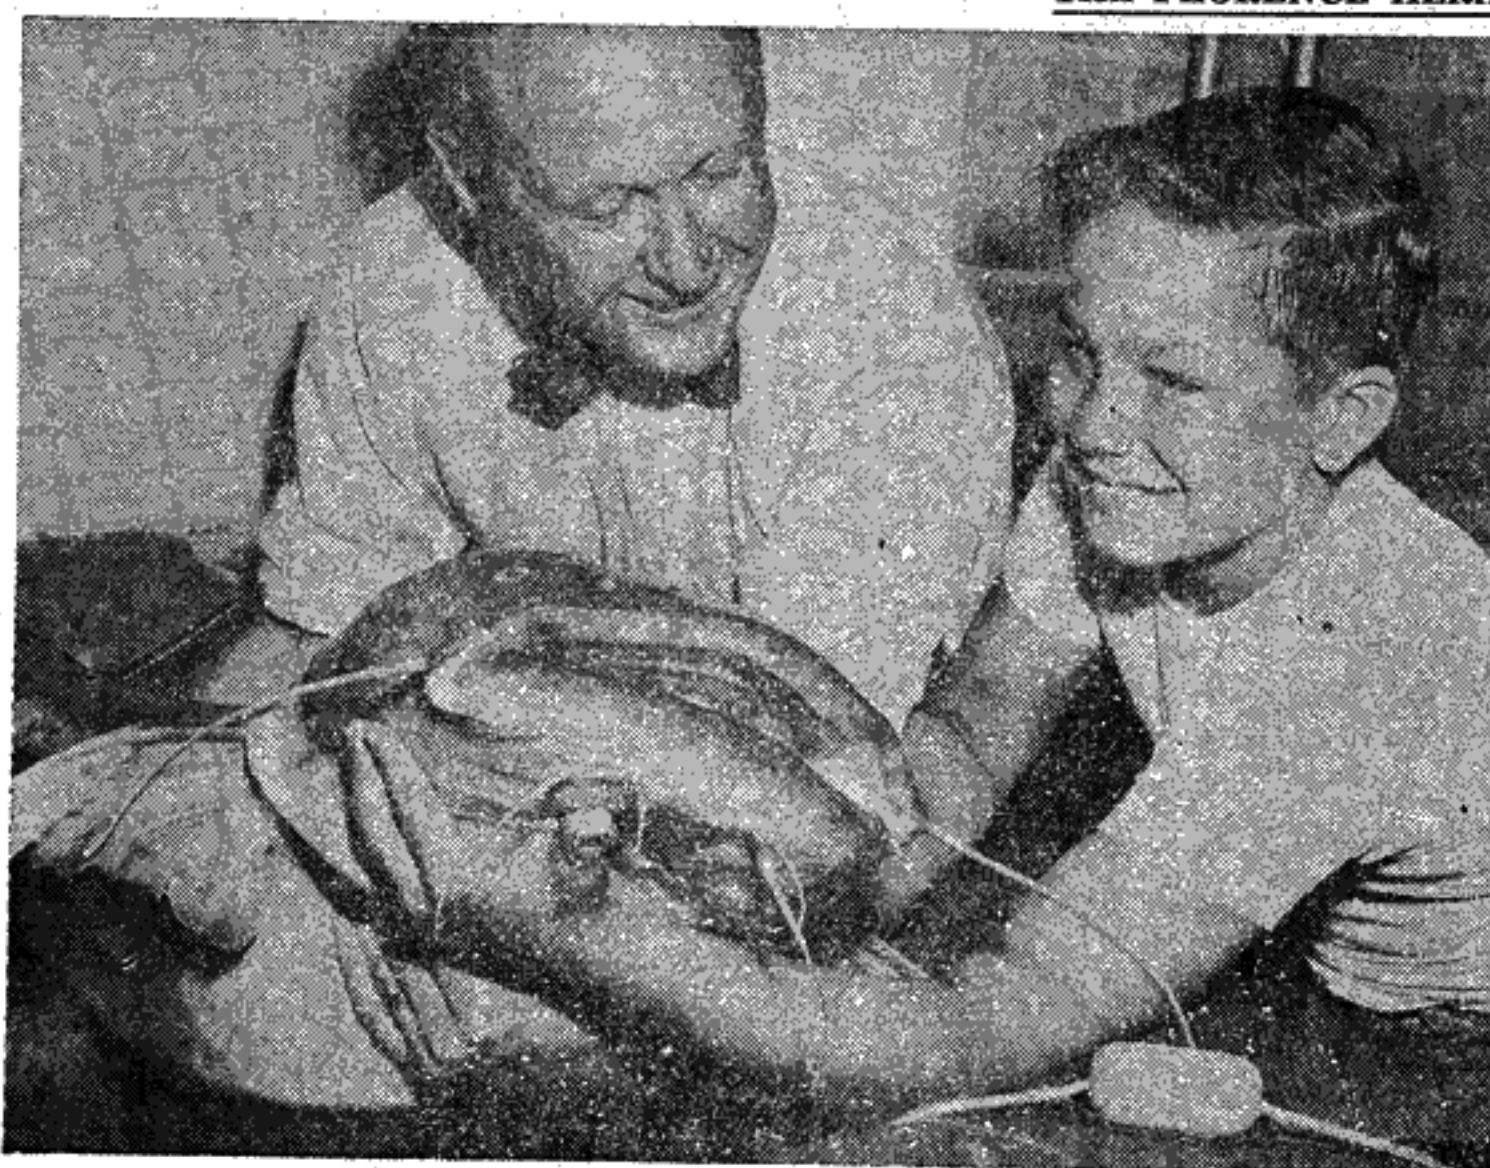

Thomas Risner, 17, of Route 2, Florence, was treated at ECM Hospital Friday after having suffered bruises to the body when he was thrown from a truck one-tenth of a mile from Florence on the Waterloo Road.

According to a passenger in the truck, they were traveling west when another vehicle traveling east forced them off the road into a ditch. Risner was thrown from the pick-up.

Keep a pair of scissors handy in the kitchen to use for trimming bread for sandwiches, cutting dates, nuts, lettuce, and other foods.

DEADLY DISPLAY—Deputy Warden Sherman Crouse, surveys a display of weapons confiscated through the years from inmates of the Kansas State Penitentiary.

TEXAS MINNOW PERHAPS?—That's 75 pounds of live yellow catfish squirming in the arms of 10-year-old Bobby Koncak and Dallas, Tex., aquarium supervisor Jeff Moore. Bobby and his father hooked the fish and turned it over to the aquarium for display.

Urges Soil Test For Every Crop

By HERMAN H. MARKS
Assistant County Agent

How do you know if you are using the proper kind and amount of fertilizer on your lawn, cotton, corn or pastures? You can know by taking a sample of your soil and sending it to Auburn to be tested.

A truck will be leaving Florence on June 22, for Auburn with soil samples to be tested. Your lawn, pasture, or alfalfa needs to be tested and delivered to the county agent's office in Florence before June 22 and get the postage free to Auburn. You can mail the sample direct to Auburn if you wish, but before you take the sample, get supplies and information from the county agent's office.

Join the hundreds of others in Lauderdale County who have had their soil tested to determine the fertilizer and lime needs.

Remember the date, June 22!

Milk Products Build Bones, Teeth

Does your child get enough milk and milk products to build strong bones and teeth?

June, National Dairy Month, is a good time to check to see that your family is getting the required amount. Nutritionists say that three to four glasses of milk are needed every day by children, two glasses by adults.

According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the following dairy products contain about the same amount of calcium as one glass of milk: one and one-fourth ounces of American cheese; 12 ounces of cottage cheese; one and one-fourth cups of light cream; and one and one-half cups of ice cream.

If you are sewing cotton knits, use zigzag stitching to get a firmer and smoother finish especially under the arms and at other points of strain.

Grow Mums To Rival Florists

Chrysanthemums will bring cheers at next fall's football games. And flower growers are finding that they can rival the florists' mums in their own gardens.

Extension Ornamental Horticulturist Troy Keeble says that gardeners are fertilizing, watering, controlling insects and diseases, and pinching growing tips in order to bring color to their garden next fall.

Chrysanthemums need an application of a complete fertilizer every two to three weeks at the rate of one to two pounds per 100 square feet of bed space. And this needs to be watered into the soil to avoid damaging the roots.

Keeble adds that in order to produce a mass of color for a border in a bed of mums, gardeners will induce multiple branching and keep the plants low and compact. This is done by removing the ends of each shoot as soon as the plants reach a four- to six-inch height and is continued until late July.

Make Vacation Driving Safe

When crossing the international date line on the ocean, one day of time is lost. But when crossing a line on the highway at the wrong time, a life may be lost.

Vacation time is here again, and that should mean a time of rest, fun, freedom from worry—and freedom from traffic accidents.

And Extension Engineer J. T. Gaillard says wise vacationers will follow a number of rules to make their vacation driving safe. The first consideration is the condition of the car. Then the trip itself has to be planned—the places to go and the routes to be traveled.

When packing the car, be sure not to obstruct the driver's view with too many unnecessary items. And those children are the most important possessions in the car, so see that the doors can't be opened while the car is moving.

And if driving at night, adds Gaillard, a wise motorist will pull off the road and take a nap when he gets sleepy.

Pests Take Toll Fruits, Vegetables

Insects and diseases take a tremendous toll of fruits and vegetables in Alabama each year.

FARM FACTS

From FARM BUREAU

The young calf that races across the field, and the engines of the powerful jet airliner that races across the sky, may have something in common. The fact is, the tallow that the calf or cattle can furnish is essential in lubricating jet aircraft.

Man-hours devoted to American agriculture have been reduced by 40 per cent since the early '30's, and production per man-hour has been almost tripled.

Since the end of World War II, cotton farmers reduced the amount of labor per bale from 170 hours to a record low of 79 hours in 1958. This savings is equal to more than 600,000 people, each working a full year of 52 weeks, 40 hours per week.

A farmer with a modern tractor can cultivate as much corn in two hours as he could with a team of horses or mules in an entire day.

One dairyman alone today can milk 50 cows and produce 500,000 pounds of milk a year; one hog raiser can handle 1,000 hogs a year, and one broiler raiser 160,000 broilers.

At the beginning of 1960, the rural Electrification Administration had approved loans of more than four billion dollars for rural electric facilities.

just the spray outlets to the proper height, which is above the top of cotton plants and never low enough to drag through them.

Grimes adds that applying plenty of insecticide is important. And if weevils get out of hand, one or two applications at double the normal rate of dust or spray will help to regain control. Even if cotton growers get discouraged, they won't stop poisoning if they want their state to pick a million-bales in 1960.

July Showers Bring Weevils

Alabama cotton farmers who keep dusting or spraying in July and August are the ones who will keep going to the gin in the fall.

Extension Entomologist Walter Grimes says the most important job on any cotton farm during these months is controlling cotton insects. And poisons stored in the barn will not kill weevils in the field.

Frequent late afternoon sprayings are best during the rainy weather that usually comes in July and August. The Auburn University specialist says the kind of insecticide doesn't make much difference. But the wise farmer ad-

FREEZE STRAWBERRY JUICE FOR JELLY

Strawberry jelly always tastes good on hot, buttered biscuits. But some homemakers don't have time to make jelly while fresh strawberries are in season. According to Extension Food Preservationist Jeanne Priestler, wise homemakers are freezing the juice from their berries now and will make jelly later.

In order to freeze strawberry juice, the berries are sorted, washed, and the stems and caps are taken off. Then they are crushed and the juice is extracted and placed in rectangular polyethylene cartons or waxed lined tubes, and these are sealed and placed in the freezer for future jelly making.

BOLL WEEVIL

Auburn University says:

1. Control of cotton insects calls for good judgment. You want to use ample insecticides at the right time and in the right way to protect the foliage, squares, and, more important, the bolls.

2. Examine each field of cotton once a week. When pests are numerous enough to cause damage, apply an insecticide at once.

3. When 10 percent of the squares are punctured by boll weevils, start poisoning. Treat fields every 5 days when necessary. To protect bolls during weevil migration, dust or spray every fourth day.

Do not stop treating fields until top bolls are about grown. Boll weevils often destroy more cotton during the last 2 or 3 weeks before harvest than at any other time during the season.

4. Bollworms may be a problem throughout the growing season. Good coverage of all parts of the plant is necessary to control this pest. Don't miss the top of cotton plants—that's where bollworms start.

5. Spider mites are hardest to control because they feed on the underside of leaves. Thorough treatment is essential for good control.

County agents have details on how to fight cotton insects.

Bible Comment:

Two Aspect Of Jesus Appear In the Gospel

Many people are familiar with the hymn for little children: "Gentle Jesus, meek and mild; Look upon a little child."

It is an aspect of the Christ in the Gospels, and we are not sure whether it is not the dominant aspect in the world's portrait of the Man from Galilee. It is Jesus blessing the little children; it is the sympathetic Savior weeping with Mary and Martha at the death of Lazarus.

It is the Good Shepherd leading the sheep to green pastures; but in a sterner, less pastoral scene, seeking the lost sheep "far on the mountain cold and drear," and willing even to give His life for His sheep. We would not be true to the Gospels if we did not know and love that gentle Christ.

But there are other aspects of the Master, far from gentle, and as firmly set in the Gospel records. We are familiar with the angry Christ driving the money-changers from the temple; there is the courageous, dominant Christ, confident of the truth of His words and deeds, daring to assert His own authority against those who asked Him: "By what authority doest thou these things?" and to pursue His mission in spite of those who harried Him to His death.

ANATOMY OF POLITICS—Can you recognize the potential presidential candidates from their personal characteristics? Clockwise from Adlai Stevenson's famous shoe are Stuart Symington, Nelson Rockefeller, John Kennedy, Lyndon Johnson. In center is Richard Nixon.

If the farmer gave away the cotton for a $4 shirt, the shirt would still cost you $3.70. If the farmer donated the corn for a 17 cent can, you would still pay 15 cents for it.

If U.S. farmers were no more efficient and productive than those of India or China, three out of every four workers in the nation would be out in the field working for their first essential—food.

Foods of the Future

OYSTERS ON THE EGG SHELL!

For years poultrymen have fed ground oyster shell to hens for the minerals to make sturdy egg shells, but now it's the chicken's turn to help the oyster.

Seafood men found that baby oysters, called spat, need something to cling to until they mature. Usually it's old oyster shells, but in bare spots on the ocean floor, Alabama conservationists tried dipping egg crate fillers in thin cement and sinking them as oyster incubators—and the spat like these new oyster beds!

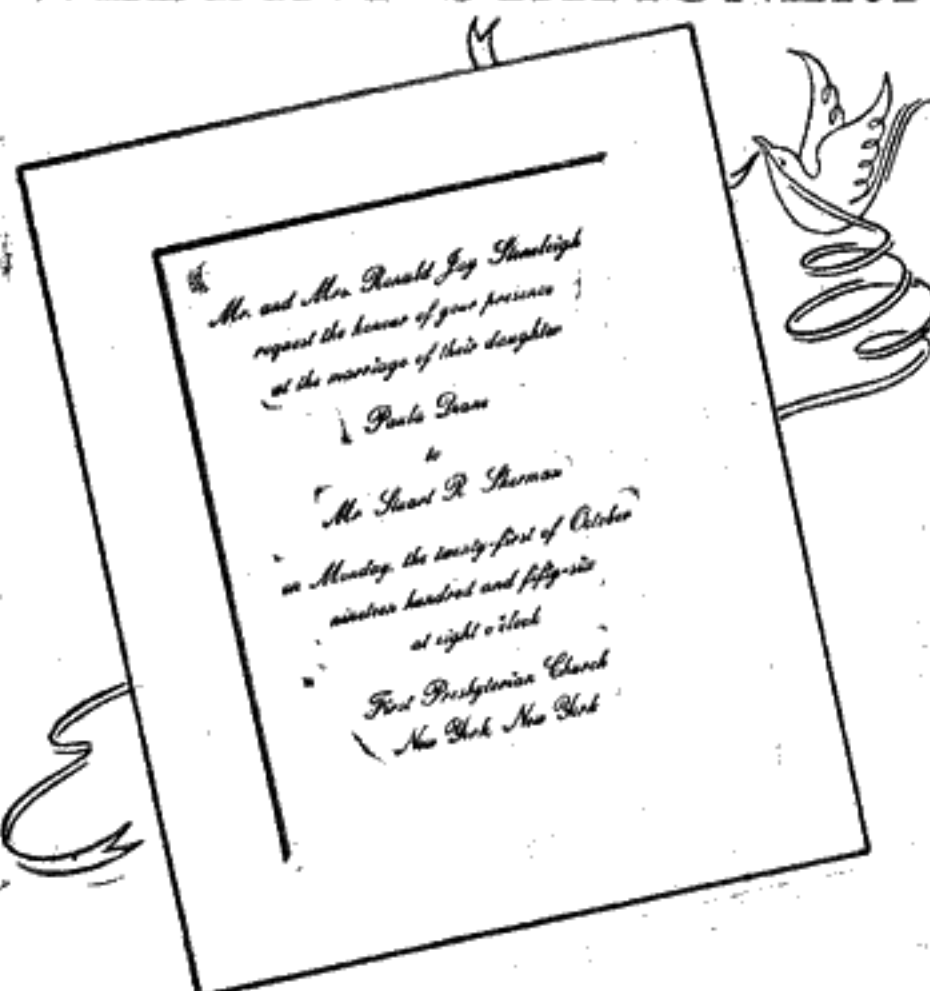

New production methods may mean more of many better foods for your table, to be enjoyed with tried-and-tested BEER and ALE. These wholesome beverages will go well with "Foods of the Future" just as they do with foods of today!

New 3³/₄% interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new 3³/₄% interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to 2¹/₂% for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra ¹/₂% from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic ¹/₂% increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.
